The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, JANUARY 1, 1932. No. 1343

CONSULAR INFORMATION.

A letter from Dr. A. Lašar, Consul for Czechoslovakia, informs the Council that during his absence on leave from December 23, Mr. K. Malinovsky will be in charge of the Czechoslovak Consulate.

BUBBLING WELL BASKET FAIR.

Negotiations are taking place between the Municipal Council and the Abbot of the Bubbling Well Temple with a view to limiting the area occupied by the annual Bubbling Well Basket Fair. It is proposed that the Fair shall in future continue for seven days instead of nine, and that the stalls be restricted to the sidewalks, while there shall be adequate access to residences, shops and other premises abutting on the roads affected.

REVENUE OFFICE STAFF.

In connection with the amalgamation of the Finance Department and the Revenue Office, which takes effect from to-day, the Council has decided to retain the services of Mr. E. L. Allen in an advisory capacity until the end of 1932. During the absence of Mr. V. H. Bourne, Assistant Treasurer, on sick leave, Mr. R. Middleton will be in charge of the Revenue Office.

MUNICIPAL STAFF.

Order Book Extracts, Dec. 19-26.

Police Force.

Mr. J. O'Toole, Honorary Assistant Commissioner, retires on March 31, 1932.

Public Health Department.

The appointment of Dr. J. Z. U. Foong, temporary Chinese Assistant Medical Officer, is confirmed from December 1.

Public Works Department.

The resignation of Mr. A. A. G. Toone, Assistant Building Surveyor, is accepted with effect from May 8, 1932.

By order,
J. M. McKee,
Acting Secretary.

VOLUNTEER CORPS.

Armoured Car Company.

2nd Lieut. F. J. W. Focken to be Lieutenant with effect from December 28

Russian Detachment.

Lieut. N. N. Kusnetzov, Medical Officer, is promoted Captain with effect from December 19.

FOOTWAY OBSTRUCTIONS.

Regulations to be Enforced from January 1.

In accordance with notice given more than two months ago, the Municipal Council from January 1 will take action against residents who obstruct the footways either with fixtures or movable articles. The Police and Public Works Departments have long endeavoured to persuade shopkeepers and others not to obstruct the footways, but in spite of these efforts the nuisance persists and is the cause of public complaint. Consequently, it has been decided, after giving ample warning, to enforce the following orders under the powers vested in the Council by Bye-law XXIII:—

(1) No sunblind or part thereof shall be fixed or permitted to be at a level of less than 7 feet 6 inches above the footpath or 15 feet above the roadway.

(2) No fitting or fixture, stall, table, or other movable article shall be placed or permitted to be in front of any building in such a manner as to project into the footpath or roadway.

Bye-law XXIII is as follows:—

The Council may give notice to the occupier of any house or building to remove or alter any porch, verandah, shed, projecting window, step, cellar, cellar-door, or window, sign, sign-post, sign-iron, show-board, window-shutter, wall, gate, or fence, or any other obstruction or projection erected or placed against or in front of any house or building within such limits, and which is an obstruction to the safe and convenient passage along any street; and such occupier shall, within fourteen days after the service of such notice upon him, remove such obstruction or alter the same in such manner as shall have been directed by the Council, and in default thereof shall be liable to a penalty or fine not exceeding ten dollars, and the Council in such case may remove such obstruction or projection, and the expense of such removal shall be paid by the occupier so making default, and shall be recoverable as damages. Provided always, that in the case in which such obstructions or projections were made or put up by the owner, the occupier shall be entitled to deduct the expense of removing the same from the rent payable by him to the owner of the house or building.

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION

No. 4167.

THE Municipal Offices will be closed to public business on Friday, January 1, 1932.

By order,
J. M. McKee,
Acting Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, December 31, 1931.

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION

No. 4165.

RENEWAL OF BICYCLE LICENCES.

BICYCLE owners are reminded that licences for the year 1931 expired on December 31, 1931.

Application for renewal should be made forthwith to the Revenue Office, Administration Building, 209 Kiangse Road, accompanied by the fee, $3 for the year ending December 31, 1932.

As a convenience to the public, bicycle licences may also be obtained from the Ricsha Inspection Depôt, Point Road, and the Public Health Branch Office, 28 Markham Road, until January 15 inclusive.

By order,
J. M. McKee,
Acting Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, December 31, 1931.

ONE-WAY TRAFFIC ON KIANGSE ROAD.

Permanent Regulation Follows Successful Experiment.

The regulation which introduced one-way traffic (north to south) on Kiangse Road, between Soochow and Peking roads, after a three months' experiment has been made permanent on the recommendation of the Commissioner of Police. From the point of view of the police and of traffic conditions generally, the one-way rule has been an undoubted success. Some opposition is always expected when privileges of long standing have to give way to progress, but experience proves that difficulties rapidly disappear when the public becomes accustomed to one-way traffic.

In strongly recommending that the temporary regulation for Kiangse Road be made a permanent one, the Officer in Command of Traffic says that the system has resulted in a greatly improved and safe movement of traffic within the section affected. He adds:

If it is decided to withdraw the regulation on expiry of the experimental period, it will then become necessary to prohibit all ranking or parking in this section at present affected by the one-way system. Such an alternative would, it is believed, work a greater hardship on those objecting to the one-way system, and would also in some cases be impossible of enforcement without causing serious interference with the legitimate business of those requiring to load or unload merchandise or materials at godowns, etc., situated in this section.

The one-way system on Kiangse Road entails a short detour, or the leaving of one's vehicle and walking a short distance. There is ample parking accommodation in the near vicinity on Soochow Road, where drivers unable to find ranking space on the west side of Kiangse Road can park their vehicles within an easy distance. The one-way system, like the "No right-hand turn," may cause a certain amount of inconvenience to those having business interests within the sections affected, but with increased vehicular traffic and business activities on narrow roadways and street intersections, such regulations become necessary for the safer and better movement of traffic, to the benefit of the large majority.

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI.

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, THURSDAY, JANUARY 7, 1932. No. 1344

REPORT OF NICHOLAS S. HILL, JR., C.E.

TO THE

SHANGHAI MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

Re THE SHANGHAI WATERWORKS COMPANY, LTD.

Dated October 10, 1931.

This report is made in accordance with the terms of reference recommended by the Public Utilities Committee with the approval of the Municipal Council,—

1. To ascertain whether the operation of the Water Company is efficient and economical and whether present operating and maintenance expenses are justified.
2. To ascertain whether the present schedule of rates is unjust or discriminatory as between the different classes of consumers.
3. To ascertain whether the present cost of water to the consumer is just and equitable.
4. To state whether earnings in the past are germane to present revenue required.
5. To ascertain reasonable future capital requirements to insure an adequate supply of pure and wholesome water.
6. To ascertain whether it is feasible and economical to change from the present method of charges and sell all water through meters.

HISTORICAL.

Shanghai, which is located on the Whangpoo River, has a population of 3,156,141, and includes not only the International Settlement but the French Concession and the Municipality of Greater Shanghai (Chinese) as well. This population is subdivided as follows:

	Foreign	Chinese
International Settlement	36,471	971,397
French Concession ..	12,932	421,885
Municipality of Greater Shanghai ..	9,882	1,703,574

These subdivisions are administered by independent governments. They are contiguous and it is difficult for the stranger to realize when he is passing from one to another. In addition, the Whangpoo River is controlled by the Chinese Government through the Customs Service, the authority immediately responsible being a Conservancy Board with foreign engineers and a Harbour Office also under foreign control. The division of authority thus engendered does not tend to lessen the burdens of either the Council or Water Company.

The International Settlement (old English and American Settlements) covers an area of 8⅝ square miles and is controlled by a Municipal Council elected by the ratepayers under land regulations and which is subservient only to a Court of the Consuls of Foreign Powers.

The business section of the Settlement is not unlike that of many cities on the American and European Continents, and compares very favourably with them in the class and character of buildings. The residential areas are of two types. Those occupied by foreigners resemble western cities. The areas inhabited by Chinese consist of closely and compactly built blocks of two and three storey houses.

The International Settlement is densely settled with a population of 180 per acre, but the Chinese City is much congested with narrow squalid streets. Sanitary conditions in the Chinese sections are not good, which makes the sanitary protection of the Settlement more difficult than it otherwise would be, and complicates a comparison of death rates from diseases which may or may not be water borne.

The foreign population represents 50 nationalities, of which 50% is Japanese. Representatives of 25 of the 28 Provinces of the Republic of China are found among the Chinese population.

Opposite the city on the east side of the river is Pootung where there is a fringe of wharves and factories, each of which is self-contained in its own compound and at the back of which is a squalid area with a few narrow, unpaved and unlighted roads.

Shanghai and the surrounding country are flat and only 2-ft to 6-ft. above high water level. This, of course, makes subsurface work more difficult and expensive than it would be in dry soil.

The Shanghai Waterworks Company, Ltd., was incorporated in England in 1880 to carry on the business of a waterworks company in and near Shanghai and with the object of supplying the English, American and French Settlements and the Native City and neighbourhood, as well as shipping in the harbour, with water. It was the first waterworks plant constructed in China.

As a matter of fact, it supplies only the inhabitants of the International Settlement and properties located on suburban roads constructed by the Municipal Council, known as "Intra-Agreement Consumers," and some residing beyond the Settlement limits and not paying rates to the Shanghai Municipal Council, known as "Extra-Agreement Consumers" amounting to but 4.23% of the total consumers supplied. The Company also furnishes water to vessels in nearby waters known as "Shipping Consumers."

The three districts of Shanghai referred to are supplied with water by four separate water companies:

1. The International Settlement by The Shanghai Waterworks Company, Ltd.
2. The French Concession by the Compagnie Française de Tramways et d'Eclairage Electriques de Shanghai.
3. Greater Shanghai,—
   (a) The Chinese City and Suburbs by The Shanghai Inland Waterworks Company.
   (b) The Chapei area by The Chapei Electricity & Waterworks Company, Ltd.

For twenty years previous to the commencement of the waterworks the necessity for an efficient water service was realized and the matter was brought to the notice of the municipality on several occasions. In 1880, John William Hart, Esq., Member of the Institute of Civil Engineers in Great Britain, was invited to investigate the question and prepare plans and estimates. These were submitted to the Settlement with an application for a concession to construct the works. This application was granted almost unanimously by a fully attended meeting of the ratepayers.

The works were opened in July, 1883, by the then Viceroy, His Excellency Li Hung Chang.

Until 1887 the control of the Company was in London, but since that date the Head Office and Board of Directors have been in Shanghai, although an office is maintained in London which is administered by a Committee. The Board consists of six Directors, two of whom are nominated by the Shanghai Municipal Council.

In 1875 the Anglo-American Settlement had a population of 97,338 (95,662 natives and 1,676 foreigners), as compared with a present population of 1,007,868. This represents an unusual average annual increase in population of 18%. Such rapid growth naturally imposed many serious problems upon both the Municipal Council and the Waterworks Company.

The Shanghai Waterworks Company was incorporated with an original capital of £100,000, whereas the present issue of paid-up capital is £1,163,225, and in addition debentures in the sum of Tls. 4,000,000 have been issued.

At the time the plant was installed there was much diversity of opinion regarding the most suitable site for the intake works and the advantages of other sources of supply were brought to the notice of the public. All of the other sources were located outside the limits of the International Settlement. The gravest objection to them was that the waterworks and supply main for the greater part of its length would be outside of the English and American Settlements and hence outside of their jurisdiction. The main could only be laid by permission of the Chinese authorities and this involved almost insurmountable difficulties. It may truthfully be said that political rather than sanitary reasons controlled the selection of the present site within the limits of the International Settlement on the banks of the Whangpoo River at Yangtszepoo.

The wisdom of this selection has apparently been justified as China has in the interim passed through periods of unrest and insurrection and it is probable that the waterworks would have suffered from interference and possibly damage at the hands of military and other authorities temporarily in power had they been located outside the Settlement.

It is unfortunate that political considerations had to prevail in the selection of the plant-site, as the water of the Whangpoo River at the intake has an average turbidity of 223 parts per 100,000 parts and an average bacterial content at blood temperature of 50,072 per cubic centimeter, which indicates a highly turbid and one of the most polluted sources of water supply in the world. This not only entails cost to effect the high degree of purification required for the protection of public health in the International Settlement, but untiring vigilance on the part of the Water Company and the Health Department in order to secure a water of proper quality at all times.

MANAGEMENT.

The aim of any public utility should be to furnish the quantity and quality of service required by its consumers at the lowest possible cost. The service of electric, gas or tramway utilities may suffer interruption, probably with inconvenience to their patrons, but without endangering public health or private life. Not so with water utilities. A potable and safe supply of water must be furnished every moment of the 24 hours and for the 365 days of the year. No excuse will palliate failure to maintain continuity and safety of supply except catastrophes such as earthquakes, conflagrations, or other acts of nature, which are beyond human control. In other words, with water utilities good economics must take into consideration continuity and safety of service to a greater degree than with other utilities. False economy has in many places resulted in epidemics involving loss of life and conflagrations involving loss of property. One epidemic or one conflagration may cost a community more than the entire water plant, to say nothing of the personal grief and suffering entailed.

The Company's policy in this regard is admirable and it is only fair to state that its officials are fully alive to their duty to maintain an adequate and pure supply of water. In order to secure continuity of supply, the minimum reserve in purification works and pumping machinery which the Company maintains is one unit during the anticipated peak, or a reserve of about 20% above the maximum hourly requirements, which is not great when it is remembered that the topography of Shanghai renders storage on a large scale at sufficient elevation economically unsound. The capacity of the works, therefore, must be sufficient to supply the hourly demands, which vary from hour to hour and day to day. The accompanying diagrams, Nos. 1 and 2, typify the hourly and daily variations in water pumped at the Yangtszepoo Station in 1929 and 1930.

It is true that the variation in demand which is common to all waterworks necessitates keeping a large proportion of the plant in idleness for appreciable periods, but this is one of the concomitant expenses which a water company is required to sustain.

It is also true that the rapid increase in consumption has required a rapid development of the waterworks plant and, therefore, the Company has been left with older and less economical units than those recently installed. These units, however, may be employed intermittently to carry the peak loads or when the newer units are out of service for repairs. Their efficiency is not of the same moment, therefore, as that of the newer units which are in substantially continuous operation because the load factor with intermittent operation is so low as to mitigate the economy of high efficiency machines. The policy of retaining those older machines as standby units until such time as conditions warrant their replacement, rather than scrapping them for the sake of theoretical efficiency, is sound in principle. Judgment has been exercised in the purchase of new machinery and plant, because these purchases followed studies of the cost of various methods of effecting improvements and by balancing interest cost, depreciation, running and repair cost and the effect of storage on any given purchase.

Forecasts.

The Company is foresighted and prepares estimates of the cost of needed enlargements to maintain proper service in advance. An analysis of these forecasts shows that the construction programme is and has been conservative and provides only for reasonable future growth. The attached diagram, No. 3, demonstrates the coincidence of past yearly capital outlay and increase of water consumption.

Repairs and Renewals.

Repairs in general are made at the Company's workshop except where the work is too large, in which event it is given to local machine works. The use of their own shops to the maximum is found to be economical by the management.

All plant and machinery is overhauled periodically, the economic need for overhauling at a particular time being determined by tests and trials to ascertain its condition and efficiency. This is good practice, and better than hit or miss judgment unfounded on facts.

The lack of storage facilities and the small reserve capacity necessitates keeping the plant in good physical condition, and an inspection proves that it is excellent at all the works.

Cost Accounting.

A costing system was introduced in 1926. This enables the management closely to watch production costs and to check unusual or unnecessary expenses. The operating cost sheets are scrutinized monthly so that operating expenses may be maintained at a minimum.

Competitive Purchasing.

Annual contracts are made after receiving competitive tenders for stores and materials which are required in large and known quantities, deliveries made as required, and stock maintained as low as is consistent with safety. This policy enables the Company not only to purchase economically but to minimize the amount of capital in stores. It should be recalled, however, that owing to distant markets it would be unsafe to keep inventories in Shanghai as low as at places close to their markets.

Tenders are also called for quarterly for materials and supplies which may be procured locally. Materials and supplies required in small quantities which are not covered by contract are bought after bids have been received.

Coal contracts are made only after tests have been made by the Company's technical staff under working conditions in order to secure a grade of coal which it is economical to burn.

Chemicals for the filtration plant have to comply with the Company's specifications and other materials are required to conform with standard samples. Frequent tests of samples are made to insure compliance with specified standards.

These stores are delivered only upon requisition from department heads, who are responsible to the Chief Engineer and General Manager for the economical operation of their several departments.

Labour.

The Company employs local Chinese labour working under trained European foremen who are, in turn, supervised by qualified engineers and chemists.

An investigation of the rates of pay of foreign employees indicates that, while salaries are in a few cases higher than those paid to similarly qualified employees of the Municipal Council and in many cases higher than those paid by other concerns, they cannot be considered excessive when the responsibility, skill and experience called for by the waterworks service is considered. The layout of the staff organisation is possibly large but it is exceptionally good and should secure reasonable and efficient operation.

The wages paid to the Chinese are reasonable and justifiable.

The employment of an average of about 1,000 Chinese is far greater than would be required in European and American practice. The value of this criticism is affected by the different conditions prevailing here and abroad as well as by the small output of the Chinese labourer compared with labour in the United States. The management feels that the present number of Chinese labourers is warranted under the circumstances and, after all, the Company should be allowed some latitude in the exercise of judgment in regard to methods of operation. In any event, the saving in cost to the individual consumer by reason of a reduction in the amount of labour would not be material—certainly not sufficient to warrant placing the waterworks plant in jeopardy.

Summary of Conclusions on Management.

Speaking generally, the policies of the management are modern, prudent and economical, except possibly a tendency to overman the plant. This may be due in part to a proper sense of responsibility, and possibly to some extent to established custom. In any event, no harm would come from a study of the possibility of reducing force account without sacrificing efficiency.

Having said so much, it is but fair to commend the Water Company for the excellent administrative methods it has developed to meet unique and difficult conditions of operation.

ENGINEERING.

The Company not only maintains a staff under the direction of the Engineer-in-Chief and Manager which is thoroughly competent to handle all technical questions, but from time to time submits its plans for proposed improvements and methods of operation to the scrutiny of outside experts for the purpose of securing the benefit of their advice and suggestions.

The policy of permitting its technical staff to visit other countries and to study waterworks practice and methods therein keeps them abreast of the state of the art, with the result that the present works follow good European and American engineering design and practice.

Curve Showing Coincidence of Capital Expense and Consumption. (Prepared by Shanghai Waterworks Co.) 20/3/31.

(COURTESY OF THE SHANGHAI WATERWORKS CO. LTD.)

Location of Waterworks.

Reference has been made to the present site of the intake on the Whangpoo River. The Yangtszepoo plant was originally designed to draw water from the river at flood tide only, with the idea that water uncontaminated by the drainage of Shanghai would thus be secured.

Samples collected at frequent intervals show that the pollution of the river is the greatest at low tide, so that the original idea of filling the tanks at flood tide only had much to recommend it.

On account of the rapid growth in consumption and restricted land area, however, it has become necessary to take water from the river continuously throughout the twenty-four hours and, therefore, the water taken in by the waterworks receives more pollution from Shanghai than formerly.

Because of this pollution alternate sites for the waterworks have been considered :

1. On the Whangpoo, upstream from Shanghai, at a distance from Shanghai greater than the upward movement of the water during flood tide.
   Presumably under these conditions no drainage from Shanghai would reach the intake, but the water at this site receives the pollution from the Chinese method of fertilizing the soil and from other sources. Bacteriological analyses of the water indicate that the pollution is nearly as great as at the present site.
   One advantage of the Whangpoo site would be its freedom from dilution by sea water which occurs at intervals of a few years at the present intake. The amount of chlorides observed at Yangtszepoo, however, has no pathological significance but only affects the palatability of the water for short periods.
2. Tai Hu Lake, some 70 miles inland from Shanghai, with an area of approximately 600 square miles and an average depth of about 10-ft., has been investigated as a source of supply.
   The water at this source is subject to less pollution but is open to the same serious objection as No. 1, viz., that the source of water supply and the pipe lines conveying it would be outside of the Settlement and could not, therefore, be securely safeguarded in times of disturbance.
3. Many artesian wells have been sunk in the alluvial strata underlying Shanghai in recent years, the majority of which yield a potable water but a water which is hard and in some cases unattractive. The chemical analyses of the underground water vary materially, which is to be expected.
   These wells may be very useful for small supplies, but to date none has been developed which indicates that water in a quantity sufficient to meet the requirements of Shanghai could be obtained from underground sources and, even so, that the supply would be permanent and of a satisfactory quality for potable uses. The Company, however, has put down wells at Kiaochow Road in the western part of the city and is watching their operation.

All of these projects would involve large capital outlay, scrapping of valuable plant and the location of the intakes, works and pipe lines of the surface sources outside the Settlement would lessen insurance against uninterrupted service.

The Company has rightly decided, upon the advice of its engineers, to continue to draw from the Whangpoo at the present site so long as known methods of treatment are adequate to rectify the water and make it safe for distribution.

This course is not only in favour of continuity of service, which is of prime importance, but of economy and hence of reasonable rates, but it does impose the absolute necessity of providing every safeguard at the treatment works to prevent water borne disease.

Treatment Works.

The original treatment plant was designed for intermittent settlement and slow sand filtration. As the demand increased the plant was added to on the same general lines, but filling the settling tanks by gravity was abandoned, the walls of the tanks raised 4-ft. and pumping resorted to in 1899.

It was soon realized that with the heavy pollution in the Whangpoo River this method of treatment was impractical and the use of a coagulant on the slow sand beds was added in order to secure a more rapid rate of filtration and at the same time obtain a clearer and better effluent. In 1925 some of the slow sand filter beds were replaced by a battery of rapid sand filters, a newer process developed in the United States subsequent to the construction of the original filters. Rapid sand filtration is better adapted to local conditions at Shanghai than are the slow sand filters because much higher rates of filtration may be secured and hence they occupy less ground area. They are also capable of more flexible operation. Rapid sand filters have been subsequently added as the demands required.

In addition to filtration all of the water is now sterilized once, and that leaving the rapid sand filters both before and after filtration. The purification works are well designed, operated and maintained, and the results secured, considering the character of water to be treated, are excellent. The methods employed at the works accord with modern practice in the United States.

However, owing to the fact that little or no storage to care for peak demands is provided, the filters are subject to rapid fluctuations in load, which cause variations in their efficiency. Conditions in this respect would be bettered by the construction of a large clear water basin which would receive the clarified water from the filters and equalize the load on them. By the construction of such a basin it would also be possible to resort to superchlorination which would greatly diminish the possibility of delivering water of an unsafe quality to the consumer. In view of the character of the source of supply it is false economy to delay the construction of this basin on account of the cost, which is incommensurate with the cost of an outbreak of water borne disease.

Superchlorination followed by dechlorination will produce other benefits. It is quite important when water is sterilized with chlorine that a careful record be kept of the occurrence of disagreeable tastes and odours in the treated water, because no water treatment plant is entirely satisfactory when water of an unpleasant physical nature is produced even though it is of a safe sanitary quality. Unpleasant water is eschewed by the consumer and he naturally reverts to the purchase of more pleasant water from other sources, which may or may not be pure.

Tastes in chlorinated water are usually due to one of three causes :

1. The presence of excessive amounts of residual chlorine which it is sometimes difficult to prevent without storage subsequent to chlorination.
2. The reaction of phenol compounds with chlorine added to the water.
3. The reaction of chlorine with organic matter or with oils liberated by micro-organisms or with the decomposition products of such organisms.

The Yangtszepoo plant is so situated that tastes and odours might occur from any of these causes with the use of chlorine. With superchlorination and subsequent storage and dechlorination, the liability of the occurrence of tastes and odours would be very much lessened.

Pumping Plant.

The pumping plant, like the rest, is well maintained and efficiently operated, and has an overall capacity only sufficient for present needs. New pumps will be needed to meet immediate future demands.

The selection of the type of machinery has been made after careful study and it is suited to its work. The multiplication of units, however, is very striking and no doubt is a contributory cause for the large engine room force. The explanation for this multiplication is probably threefold :

1. The policy of the Company to provide only for short future periods and save in immediate capital outlay.
2. Its policy to add to rather than replace useful units.
3. The rapid and varying fluctuations in hourly demand which in the absence of water storage necessitates frequent and varying changes in pumping capacity.

With the addition of new and larger units which will be required from time to time this multiplication will be gradually eliminated without incurring the immediate expense of scrapping the smaller units now installed and, therefore, a reduction in number will automatically be attained.

Distribution System.

The distribution system is well planned and is sufficient, with extensions now in process of construction or to be constructed in the near future, to maintain adequate fire protection and satisfactory pressures for industrial and domestic purposes.

The pressures in the International Settlement, while not so high as those maintained on the average system in the United States, correspond very closely with good English practice, and it may be said that American practice probably imposes unnecessary burdens on the water purveyor and extra cost on the average consumer who does not require such high pressures.

The Company has approximately 170 miles of mains and 2,038 hydrants. Unless otherwise agreed upon, hydrants are erected on the average about 250 feet apart. The size and spacing of the Company's hydrants are in accordance with the best English methods and somewhat better than American practice. The English Waterworks Clauses Act of 1847, which is still in force, provides for spacing between hydrants of not less than 100 yards or 300 feet unless otherwise prescribed by a private Act.

Water Waste Detection.

The Company spends about Tls. 55,000 per annum on waste detection, a large proportion of which would be saved by metering.

The plan of waste detection is well devised and carried out. The Settlement has been divided into 54 districts, which may be isolated and the water flowing thereto measured by meters placed on the main or mains supplying them. Each district is surveyed at least once a month for the purpose of detecting waste. In addition to meter measurements, coolie gangs are engaged in examining all drains for the purpose of detecting underground leakage, and it is said that a large number of the major leaks are discovered in this way.

If the leakage in any given district is found to be above a norm established by experience, the district is still further subdivided for the purpose of isolating the leakage. When detected, the leakage is stopped and the whole district remeasured. After the consumption has been brought down to within the norm the work on a particular district ceases until the next inspection.

House inspections are also made but, under the conditions existing in the Settlement, have not been found very effective in preventing household waste.

The Company considers that further expenditure for waste detection would not be attended with a commensurate saving in the cost of water wasted, and after reviewing the situation this view appears to be correct.

Meters.

At the present time water for industrial, municipal and shipping purposes is sold by meter and represents 27% of the total water pumped.

The Engineer-in-Chief and Manager of the Water Company estimates that leakage through mains and under-registration of meters accounts for 4% of total water pumped and that 69% is used for domestic purposes and paid for at a percentage of the rental of the premises supplied.

Four (4%) per cent. for leakage and water unaccounted for is low. In fact, the Engineer-in-Chief supplies data in his " Appreciation of General Metering " which show that the Water Company supplying the wholly metered French Concession accounts for but 87% of its total pumpage. It is extremely difficult and expensive to maintain mains, service pipes and meters so that more than 85% of the water supplied may be accounted for, so that it will be safer to estimate that of the water pumped for distribution 27% is sold through meters, 60% is sold on the rental basis, and 13% is unaccounted for.

However this may be, the domestic per capita consumption in the International Settlement has increased from 10 to 33 gallons per day in the last twenty-five years. This is equivalent to an increase of 9% per annum. One expects a normal increase in per capita consumption as population grows, even where every premise is metered. At least, this is common experience in the United States. One would not expect so great an increase in legitimate use in Shanghai.

The large increase in per capita consumption has developed notwithstanding the Company maintains a well planned and systematic waste detection system and despite the fact that the Company has the right to discontinue a supply and to install a meter at premises where waste occurs.

It would appear, therefore, that while waste detection, within economical limits, may have prevented waste from mounting even higher, it is not sufficient of itself to reduce it to proper proportions. The Engineer-in-Chief estimates that general metering will reduce the domestic per capita consumption from 33 to 20 gallons per day. His familiarity with local conditions and his long service with the Water Company should enable him to speak with greater authority than an outsider. Moreover, his estimate appears reasonable.

A saving of 13 gallons per capita per day means a reduction in daily pumpage of 13 million gallons, which is approximately 33% of the average daily pumpage in 1930.

Estimates prepared by the Company indicate that general metering will effect an actual immediate saving in annual cost, but immediate saving in annual cost is not controlling.

Selling water by measurement is the only logical and fair way of conducting a water plant. It prevents gross inequalities and discrimination between takers.

Metering water is the only method of effectively and economically restricting household waste.

Even though reduction in annual cost be not immediately attained, saving in future capital outlay for additional works will, in the long run, pay handsomely for meters.

Experience in checking waste by universal metering has been generally satisfactory and has fully justified the expense and trouble of its introduction. Quarterly bills for volume consumed are effective reminders of the need of tight plumbing. People cease to be oblivious to the continual flow of small quantities which, like the little drops of water and little grains of sand, mount to huge proportions. Even plumbers learn in time and the standards of plumbing are higher in metered than unmetered places.

The meter permits the freedom of the taker to draw the water he needs with a control on the part of the works which is constant and sure. The taker pays for nothing he does not get and the works furnish nothing for which they are not paid.

A perusal of Schedule C of the existing agreement between the Council and the Company will show how complicated the present system of charging is, and the Company has found that of 14,000 agreements made with its consumers over 3,000 have necessitated special and lengthy investigations to insure the Company against being defrauded. Continuous checking of the rent returns by responsible members of the staff is necessary and other detailed work is required to secure the revenue to which it is entitled, all of which is costly and would not be required if metering were adopted. For further details see Appendix No. III.

Meters per se will not eliminate discrimination. Meter rates, as with other rates, must be established which are fair and equitable. This is feasible. Not infrequently rates may be unbalanced in deference to local custom or habits, or to procure satisfaction in the community served. Under such circumstances the incidence of the rates may favour some takers more than others and yet, by and far, they may be fair for all classes of consumers. For example, it is not uncommon to give large wholesale consumers lower rates than a correctly balanced rate schedule would warrant, upon the theory that cheap water is attractive to industries and that a slight increase in domestic rates would be far more than offset by the increase in rateables and increased circulation of money in the community.

It may and probably will be necessary to unbalance meter rates in Shanghai in order that the total revenue derived from small Chinese domestic consumers, who are favoured by the present flat rates, will not be unduly increased. This may be accomplished without increasing and probably after lessening the discrimination against larger domestic and industrial consumers under present rates.

According to the Water Company, the degree of discrimination under present rates is as follows :—

Foreign houses

Class	I pay	80% too much
,,	II ,,	25% too much
,,	III ,,	20% too little

Chinese houses

Class	I pay	115% too much
,,	II ,,	about right
,,	III ,,	25% too little
,,	IV ,,	40% too little
,,	V ,,	60% too little

The higher rates paid by the better class of consumers, in order that the masses may benefit by an adequate and wholesome supply of water, may be regarded as a premium paid for insurance against disease. It may be assumed that if water rates for the poorer classes were too high they might use impure water for drinking purposes. Lack of personal hygiene and sanitation in the home might result from refusal to subscribe to the public water supply. This no doubt would increase the liability of epidemics from communicable diseases, but more especially water borne diseases.

A further discussion of rates will be found under "Rates," See also Appendix No. IV.

PRODUCTION COSTS.

It is not proposed to go into a detailed analysis of costs in the main body of this report because this has already been done by the Auditors appointed by the Chinese Ratepayers Association. Their report, dated November 21, 1930, has been carefully considered.

Messrs. Thomson & Company, Chartered Accountants, also made a report to the Shanghai Municipal Council, dated June 30, 1931, and which is embodied in this report as Appendix No. I. The Thomson report has been subjected to study not only by myself but with the assistance of and elucidation by E. S. Wilkinson, Esq., A.C.A. of Thomson & Company, who prepared it.

In addition to these reports many other data were cheerfully furnished by the Water Company which enabled me, in conjunction with an inspection of the property and a study of operating methods, to form a very accurate judgment of the skill and efficiency with which the waterworks plant is handled.

Effect of Reduction in Cost.

Before discussing production costs it will be well to visualize the effect of a reduction in the cost per million gallons of water upon the small domestic consumer. For this purpose the effect of a reduction of Tls. 10 per million gallons on a domestic service connection supplying one premise with ten persons has been chosen. It has also been assumed that the per capita consumption will be 33 gallons per day, a total of 330 gallons per day, which is an average and probably more than the poorer premises consume.

On this basis a saving of Tls. 10 per million gallons supplied reduces the daily cost of water for such a connection by Tls. 33/10,000 per day, or Tls. 1.2 per year. The per capita saving would be Tls. 33/100,000 per day, or Tls. 0.11 per year.

The above computation is based upon the assumption that small and poorer class properties pay at the same rate as all other consumers, whereas the table given below shows that the small consumers pay less than the average for all consumers, so that the result of a change of Tls. 10 per million gallons would be less than indicated.

This example is merely illustrative, but it does show that the cost of water per million gallons at the tap may vary appreciably without materially affecting the economic status of the poor and small consumer. In other words, it shows that saving in cost at the expense of service and quality is not beneficial to the poorer classes, but, rather, that it may subject them to discomfort and sickness without compensation commensurate to pay the cost of such. It also emphasizes the fact that the value of the service may be greater than the cost of water.

Reasons for Recent Increase of Return on Capital.

Reference to Table No. 1, see next page, giving the cost to The Shanghai Waterworks Company of producing one million gallons from 1926 to 1930 inclusive shows that dividends on share capital increased in that interim by Tls. 59.094 and operating expenses by Tls. 27.011, a total of Tls. 86.105, whereas interest on debentures decreased Tls. 7.128, making a net increase in the cost of production from 1926 to 1930 of Tls. 78.977 per million gallons. It also appears (see Appendix No. 1), that while share capital has increased but 50% between 1926 and 1931, dividends payable thereon in taels trebled.

Interest on debentures has remained stable since 1926, so that with increased pumpage the cost of debenture interest per million has decreased.

The increase in share capital has been substantially commensurate with the increase in pumpage. The increase of Tls. 59.094 per million gallons in the cost of dividends on share capital may be said, therefore, to be mainly due to the fact that the Company receives its income in silver and has a sterling share capital on which dividends are guaranteed under the "Tariff Agreement" in sterling, with the result that when the silver slump began the cost of dividends in taels greatly increased. The following table shows the adjusted cost of dividends as prepared by Messrs. Thomson and Company and verifies this statement:

	Dividend in £	Cost in Taels	Cost per M.G.

The increase in the cost of dividends represents 58% of the total increase in the cost of water delivered during the period mentioned and is the chief contributory factor to the enhanced cost of production.

SILVER vs. GOLD CAPITAL.

As Messrs. Thomson & Company state, the price of water to the consumer will be largely dependent upon the price of silver so long as the present agreement remains in force and the situation may be modified only insofar as new capital required may be raised in local currency instead of in sterling. If this were done, it is obvious that as the proportion of silver capital to the whole capital increases the percentage increase of cost due to falling silver would be reduced.

The Company is about to execute a new trust deed which provides for the issue of debentures up to a limit of 50% of the value of the Company's assets as fixed periodically by valuation. These debentures will be subject to the existing debentures until they are redeemed. Notice has already been given of the intention to redeem Tls. 2,000,000 of 8% debentures on December 31, 1931, which is the earliest possible date. Other issues may be redeemed when due.

The ability to issue debentures up to 50% of the value of the Company's assets will not only increase the tael capital and thereby reduce the effect of fluctuations in exchange, but will also enable the Company to secure a large proportion of its capital at lower cost than if shares were issued, as debenture bonds offer greater security of investment and certainty of income than do the shares.

The retirement of Tls. 2,000,000 of 8% debentures on December 31, 1931, will also probably reduce interest requirements, as the Company has been successful in issuing subsequent debentures at as low a rate as 6% interest.

The Company has also put forward a plan to form a local registered company to be called The Shanghai Waterworks Securities, Ltd., the shares of which are to be paid for in taels and are to be entitled to a fixed dividend payable out of profits of the Waterworks Company by agreement with the Municipal Council and are to be preferred as to dividend but not as to distribution of assets in the event of liquidation of the Waterworks Company. The proceeds of the share issue are to be invested in the Waterworks Company as a deposit on the terms above stated. This proposition was put before the Board of Directors in December, 1930. The scheme has been approved by the Company's Counsel in London and its adoption will be considered by the Board at an early date.

It appears, therefore, that The Shanghai Waterworks Company is sympathetic to the idea of securing capital in a form which will stabilize rates and which will tend to a reduction in production cost, more especially when the exchange value of silver is low. The willingness of the Company to capitalize in the same medium as that in which its revenue is received will greatly diminish fluctuations and reduce costs.

REASONS FOR INCREASE OF OPERATING COSTS.

Reference to Schedule IV, of Appendix No. I, shows that the increase of operating cost from 1926 to 1930 of Tls. 27,011 is primarily due to increases in salaries and wages, maintenance and repairs of structures and machinery, laboratory expenses, waste detection and expenses of the London office.

The increase in the tael cost in the London office is obviously due to the low exchange. The increase in the cost of waste detection is justified as it more than pays for itself in lower pumping, filtering and distributing costs. The enhanced expense for the laboratory is also justified on account of the close supervision and care which should be exercised in protecting the health of a community where the source of supply is badly polluted. A larger expenditure for laboratory service was definitely recommended by Mr. George W. Fuller, one of the leading sanitary engineers in the United States, who was called to Shanghai to advise the Water Company with respect to its water purification methods.

The higher cost of maintenance and repairs is due in part to increases in salaries and wages. It may be due in part to maintaining the works at higher efficiency than formerly. At any rate, where other costs have increased, the cost per million gallons for fuel and power has been reduced from Tls. 21,024 in 1926 to Tls. 14,489 in 1930. This reduction may be due in part to the lower cost of electric power and increased pumpage, but it has taken place notwithstanding the cost per ton of coal and the cost of oil have increased and is primarily due to increased efficiency. (See Schedule II, Appendix No. I.)

Mention has heretofore been made of a tendency to over-man the plant. The increase in the cost of wages may be in part due to this, but it is more particularly due to increases in wages paid to Chinese, as the following table will show :

AVERAGE MONTHLY WAGES (CHINESE)

Grade	1926	1930	Increase
(1)	(2) Tls.	(3) Tls.	(4) %
Skilled	39.05	44.74	14.58%
Semi-skilled ..	23.85	27.79	16.52%
Unskilled ..	13.46	19.53	45.09%

(See also Schedule III, Appendix No. I.)

These increases are reasonable and fair when increased cost of living is considered.

The increase in 1930 of management salaries from Tls. 337, 635 to Tls. 456,201, which is the largest single increase in salaries, is almost entirely due to the Company agreeing, on account of the fall of exchange in 1930, to pay the permanent staff an increase of approximately 43.75% on net salaries exclusive of allowances. Similar adjustments were made by the Municipal Council, the difference being that the adjustment was applied to one-third of the tael salary only while the Company applied it to one-half the tael salary. The permanence of the effect of this change is entirely dependent upon how soon the rate of exchange goes back to normal. (See Appendix No. I.)

An examination of the salaries paid to the foreign staff does not indicate that they are high for the character of the service demanded to enable the Company efficiently to fulfill its obligation of maintaining a continuous supply of pure and wholesome water. It must be recalled that The Shanghai Waterworks is a long way from the centres where seasoned technical advice may be had and, therefore, it behooves the Company to maintain a local staff of higher skill than a company which could call in an adviser at short notice. There can be no question of the soundness of the policy of paying adequate salaries to secure suitable technical supervision, more especially under local conditions.

It has been suggested that the gradual introduction of properly qualified Chinese engineers to replace foreigners might produce economies, but this is not practical at this time and under present conditions. Probably when governmental and labour conditions stabilize in China it will be possible to effect some economies in this way.

Conclusions as to Production Costs.

Whereas some saving may be effected by the reduction in the number of labourers, the net effect on the rates would not be material and, as stated before, the Company should have some latitude in the management of its property.

From my observations, it may be possible by the exercise of stricter economy to make some saving, but, broadly speaking, as stated already, the policies of the management are modern, prudent and economical and it would be captious to find fault with the operations of the plant. For further analysis of operating conditions, reference is made to Appendix No. I.

Laying aside subordinate issues the supreme test of management is the cost of production, and whatever may be the difference of viewpoint on the details of operation, the Water Company succeeds in producing cheap water even at the present higher rates. This statement is made with due regard for the difference in price levels of labour and material and other conditions prevailing in Shanghai and other places, including rate of exchange.

Of course, it is difficult to make comparisons of cost in different places, even between two cities in the United States, because in no two instances are conditions identical. For example, it would be impossible to compare the cost of water in Chicago and New York. Chicago abuts Lake Michigan, secures an inexhaustible supply therefrom and pumps it unfiltered directly into the distribution mains. New York City has had to expend enormous sums for large and costly dams, reservoirs and aqueducts, one of which is over seventy miles long and required tunnelling for most of its length, sometimes at great depth and through a rugged mountainous country. Water costs what it costs to produce locally.

However this may be, as a general average, U. S. $100 per million U. S. gallons would be looked upon as cheap water. One Imperial gallon, which is the measure in Shanghai, is equal to 1.2 U.S. gallons. Therefore, U. S. $120 per million Imperial gallons would be cheap. The corresponding cost in taels, not at the present low rate of exchange but assuming U. S. $100 = Tls. 200, would be 120 × 2 = Tls 240, which is Tls. 72.72 higher than the average cost of water in Shanghai from 1926 to 1930.

PAST EARNINGS.

Before testing the fairness of the rates for water it will simplify the discussion to pass upon the statement of the Chinese Ratepayers Association that the dividends paid by the Water Company have been too lucrative in the past. It is the opinion of your expert that past earnings are not germane to an inquiry into fair present rates.

It has been held in a number of cases by the Courts, including the Supreme Court of the United States, that past losses are not to be considered in determining if present rates are just and reasonable. In passing on this question and with the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court in hand, the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of the State of New York in a case before it stated:

"It would seem to follow as a necessary corollary that if past losses may not be considered in fixing a rate base, neither should past profits be so considered, nor what would have been past profits or larger net earnings by a readjustment of operating expenses."

Certainly the ratepayers would not desire to recoup past losses. By the same token they may not recoup past profits. (See also Appendix No. I, Part III.)

WATERWORKS FITTINGS COMPANY, LTD.

Even though the Waterworks Fittings Company may be owned by the shareholders of the Water Company and officered by employees of the Water Company, the Fittings Company has a separate entity and the earnings received from this source by shareholders of the Water Company have no bearing whatsoever on the rates of the latter unless it can be shown that expenses of the Fittings Company are improperly charged against the Water Company. It could be argued with equal force that because shareholders of the Water Company were also shareholders of the Shanghai Power Company, the earnings of the former should be reduced by the amount of dividends received from the latter.

As a matter of fact, all Directors' fees, salaries and wages from the Manager down are paid direct by the Fittings Company and in addition they pay the Waterworks Company a management fee and rental for offices occupied by them. They also pay the London Office of the Waterworks Company a commission of 2.5% and freight on all material purchased through it.

The moneys so received from the Fittings Company are included in the revenues of the Waterworks and, therefore, reduce the revenue required from water consumers by so much. Any changes or adjustments in the present method of handling the Fittings Company which might be suggested would be so trivial that it does not warrant the effort.

MISCELLANEOUS REVENUES.

It may also be well at this time to point out specifically that all revenues received by the Water Company including the management fee from the Fittings Company, revenue from Extra-Agreement and Shipping Consumers, or from other sources have been included in the gross revenue required to pay a fair return and have then been deducted to ascertain the proportion of gross revenue which Intra-Agreement Consumers should pay to earn this fair return.

FAIR VALUE AS BASIS FOR EARNINGS.

The Courts of the United States have in numberless cases reiterated in different form the rule that the basis of all calculations as to the reasonableness of rates should be predicated upon a fair return on the fair value of the property dedicated to the use and convenience of the public, or, to put it in another way, a public utility is entitled to earn a fair return on the fair value of its property used and useful for the public service. This principle has been affirmed on more than one occasion by the Supreme Court of the United States and may, therefore, be said to be the law of the land.

In the circumstances, I have felt I could follow no better precedent than the rule laid down by the Supreme Court of the United States, formulated after hearing the arguments of a large number of the ablest attorneys in the States and after weighing the composite judgment of many able jurists; a rule which has been gradually developed through many years as a result of numberless rate cases which have been heard by the Courts of the United States due to the passage of laws regulating public utilities. It is at once apparent after reading this rule that its use involves ascertaining two major facts,—

1. The fair value of the property, and
2. The fair return.

Many opinions have been rendered by various Courts and by the Supreme Court with regard to the methods to be observed in ascertaining the fair value. Ascertaining the fair return is not so difficult.

In making my appraisal of the property the rules now recognized in the United States will be followed as closely as possible under local conditions.

Fair Value How Determined.

The first and most important issue to be determined is—What is the value of the water plant? In considering this question it must be definitely settled in the beginning as of what date the value is to be found. Is the present value to be found, or is the original cost to be ascertained, or is the cost to the present owners to be found? Or, yet, is there a normal value which is neither the present reproduction cost new nor the historical cost, but one which is found by combining both reproduction cost new and historical cost, and thereby fixing a value which is sometimes higher and sometimes lower than the historical cost, but which must be different from one or both of these, unless the reproduction cost and the historical cost are the same, and if by chance the two should be the same, should the fluctuation in prices at intervening dates, when no property of the company was purchased, be given any weight? When they differ what weight should be given the one as against the other? Shall present reproduction cost, which may be higher than historical cost be given more weight, or vice versa, or should the period of time during which the property was being acquired be considered?

If a new plant had, for some reason, to be built, it will scarcely be denied that the present value of the new plant would be the value to be used in fixing present rates. How long should these rates be required to remain in force? If not for such a time as the utility efficiently performs the public service which it contracts to furnish, then what is the reason for changing the rates? The reason is this: There is a tacit understanding between the public and those who invest their money in a public utility that the public will pay such rates for service as will give the investor at least the prevailing rate of interest upon the value of the property used for the public service, such value to be as of the time the service is rendered. It does not agree to pay him income upon money which is improvidently or unwisely spent in building up the utility plant. It does not guarantee him against loss from bad management or from mistakes in establishing the plant or from loss or destruction of property accruing prior to the time the service was being rendered. It does not guarantee him the same rate of income throughout the life of the property as that prevailing at the time the plant was constructed. Nor does it guarantee him that the value of his property will always be the same when measured in pounds, taels, dollars, or other currency, even where it does not depreciate from use. It does not, except by explicit agreement, guarantee him against losses due to fluctuations in exchange. Those are the hazards which the investor must bear himself. If he makes a mistake in planning his plant, if more is paid for its construction than should have been paid, or if, for any other reason, the money which he has invested in the utility is not represented by property actually being used for the public service at the time of the inquiry, then he is not entitled to a return upon it. In other words, the public is required to pay an income only upon the present value of the property which is being used for its benefit. To adopt a different rule would be to put a premium upon inefficiency or corrupt management. Certainly, neither principle nor reason can be found to support a rule which does not protect the public against inefficiency and corruption in the management of public utilities, and yet one must be adopted which will properly reward an honest and efficient management of public utilities.

Difficulty of Arriving at Value.

The difficulty arises in arriving at the true and correct value of the property of public utilities. This class of property cannot be valued as the property of other businesses is valued. It has no market value aside from the value which the rate fixed for it to charge gives it. The rate which public utilities are permitted to charge determines the market value of their stocks and, for that reason, in determining the value for rate making purposes, there can be no market value.

The value of a private enterprise is fixed by its earning power. Sometimes a small investment is worth upon the market many times the original cost, because, for some reason, the business is earning a high rate of return. Such properties have a market value which is largely dependent upon the rate of return which can be earned. The value, many times, does not depend upon the original cost nor upon the cost of reproduction new, but upon some other circumstance which gives it a large patronage and a large income. There are companies which, we know, have a market value much above the par value of their stocks, because their incomes pay the usual rate of return upon such market value. This is not true with reference to public utilities, whose rates are subject to regulation by the State, by contract, or otherwise. Their incomes are limited. There can be no market value for their stock which can be said to fix the value of the property of such utilities. Some other method of finding value must be found.

Average Prices.

Historic or original cost is material only insofar as it may enable us to arrive at the present value of the property. There can be no such thing as normal value except that, as rates are expected to extend over a term of years, the normal value for the term may be used, which would differ from the present value as the evidence might tend to prove present prices of labour and material or rate of exchange to be higher or lower than for the term for which the rates are fixed. In some cases, at the peak of war time prices, the Courts took the view that prevailing prices were abnormally high and would decline, and for that reason fixed the value lower than present value.

Although no exact and satisfactory method or formula has been devised by the Courts, and the judgment of the appraiser must and always will enter into the ascertainment of value, nevertheless some methods have been denounced and forbidden by the Courts. For example, original cost or value several years ago cannot be accepted per se. The present value of the property at the time it is used in serving the public must be ascertained. Nor can value be measured by a monetary standard that does not prevail at the time the valuation is made. This proscription does not, however, deny the right to take cognizance of temporary conditions which, by failure to observe, might lead to an unduly inflated or unduly low valuation of but temporary value. For this reason, average prices over a reasonable period of recent years have been recognized as giving more stable values, particularly in times of over-inflation or great depression or of wide fluctuations in money values and commodity prices. It has also been held that cost may assist in the determination of value, but it has never been held that the cost of a thing is the test of its value.

Normal cost of reproduction is at the present time given more weight than any other yard-stick.

If this term has any meaning, it certainly means no more than the cost of reproduction measured by the average prices which have prevailed within a recent period, or which may be expected or prophesied to prevail for the period during which the rates are to be effective. In the case of Shanghai, rate of exchange must be treated in the same way.

The yard-stick for measuring the value of a property changes or varies as the purchasing power of money changes. By this it is not meant to suggest that the value of a public utility varies with each temporary fluctuation in commodity prices or exchange, but, rather, that their value follows the great cycles of price range and that adjustments must be made from time to time as circumstances may demand. This is why the Courts in the United States place so much weight upon the present reproduction cost new less depreciation of the properties of public utilities as the yard-stick for measuring the value upon which a utility is entitled to earn the prevailing rate of income. As prices go higher, the purchasing power of money grows less, so in order to make the income from a certain piece of property of equal value to the owner at all times, either the rate of income must be higher or the value of the property must be increased.

It may be said that value and rate of return are inseparable and must be considered together. The same result might be obtained by increasing both the rate of income and value of the property. Experience has taught us that the last method is the one which generally results. It, to some extent, preserves the parity between the man whose capital is in money and the one whose capital is invested in some other form of property. These are the reasons why the present value of the property and the present rate of income to be allowed must be considered in determining what are proper rates for service. If you simply increase the value of the property, it gives the owner of property an advantage over the owner of money. As the purchasing power of money goes down, the value of acquired property goes up, so that the income derived from it will be worth as much to its owner as before. A just and correct system would require an increased value and a higher rate of income on money, but our economic system is not so arranged as to act in this way, but, in cases like this one, a just rule requires us to fix the fair present value of the property and to fix such rates for water as give the prevailing rate of return on that value. In this way, even if economic law does fail to bring about a correct and just result as between the owner of money and the owner of property, the rule does no injustice to the owner of a public utility. It gives him the same purchasing power from the income from his property in times of high prices as he had when prices were low by increasing the value of his property and giving him a proper rate of income on that increased value. To make the value of his property fixed would be to make him the victim of an economic law which fails to respond promptly to changed conditions. The purchasing power of his capital invested in the utility is stabilized by allowing him the prevailing rate of income on the present value of his property.

It is to be hoped that my Committee will not feel that their expert has been unduly verbose in explaining the principles which have governed him in finding the value of the property of The Shanghai Waterworks Company, Ltd., for the purpose of ascertaining the fairness of the rates. These principles have been stressed so that all who read may know that they are based on justice and founded on experience. They have been drawn largely from a very admirable discussion by the Master in the matter of Arkansaw Water Company vs. the City of Little Rock.

RATE OF RETURN.

Before ascertaining fair value it will be well to dispose of the fair rate of return.

A rate of return to be fair must be sufficient to insure the Company a credit which will enable it to secure the new capital required for improvements on favourable terms in the open market. Cost of money depends chiefly upon whether or not the securities issued therefor possess the following qualifications:

1. Security of principal.
2. Stability of income.
3. Marketability.
4. Value as collateral.
5. Exemption from care.

All of these factors have been considered.

Well secured mortgage bonds possess all of these qualities in a more marked degree than does capital stock, and money may be obtained through the issuance of such bonds at a lower rate than through the sale of stock.

In order to command a low rate on its bonds the net earnings of a corporation should be free from marked fluctuations and at least equal to twice the bond interest requirements. If rates are allowed which will provide a sufficient margin to establish sound credit, The Shanghai Waterworks Company, Ltd., should at this time be able to dispose of 6% debenture bonds up to 50% of its value and 9% stock to cover the balance of its capital requirements.

If we are to estimate fair return upon the theory that the Company should bear the hazard of exchange, which has been done, then a proper allowance must be made for surplus sufficient to maintain a proper reserve for equalization of dividends as well as to care for other reserves and for minor fluctuations in production cost depending upon variations in cost of labour and materials. The rates should, therefore, provide for an annual surplus at least of 2% on the capital stock properly to maintain its reserves. The average rate of return under these circumstances will be:

6% Debenture interest on 50% of capitalization=average on full capitalization of	3.0%
9% Dividends on 50% of capitalization=average on full capitalization of	4.5%
2% For surplus on 50% of capitalization=average on full capitalization of	1.0%
Total	8.5%

In fixing fair return we should take into account:

1. That when the "B" shares were restricted to 7% by the "Tariff Agreement" and 167,650 of these were offered only 108,505 were purchased.
2. That when additional capital was required and the "C" shares were issued, which did not participate in any bonus from Extra-Agreement or Shipping profits, the Municipal Council agreed to a rate of interest of 8% in lieu of 7% as provided by the "Tariff Agreement."
3. That all miscellaneous revenue, including that from Extra-Agreement and Shipping Accounts, is included in the estimated gross revenue required; and that bonuses (or extra dividends) are to be covered by the "fair return" of 8.5%.
4. That it is assumed that the per cent. of capitalization in shares will not exceed fifty and, therefore, the combined yield on bonds and shares is but 3 + 4.5 = 7.5%.

Due weight has been given to the return on waterworks undertakings in the United States when fixing the return on this property. In the Eastern States, which is the section of stable communities and cheap money, from 7% to 7.5% has been allowed. In many of the Western and Southern States 7.5% to 8% and even higher has been allowed. Certainly, then, taking into account security of investment, certainty of income and marketability, the return in Shanghai should be higher, more especially if the risks of exchange on capital value are borne by the Company, though these risks may be mitigated by a tael capitalization as indicated in this discussion.

The legal rate for money is higher in Shanghai than in most parts of the United States and this has a bearing on rate of return.

All things considered, therefore, 8.5% will be fair, though not liberal.

It is well to repeat at this time that rate of return and value are interdependent and a return of 8.5% has been fixed with due regard for the value subsequently allowed.

ELEMENTS OF VALUE.

Generally speaking, the value in a public utility is of two kinds, tangible and intangible. The tangible or physical property may be divided into two parts:

1. Structural property including buildings, machinery, pipe lines, reservoirs, meters and the like, and
2. Real estate.

Cost of Physical Property.

The cost of the physical property divides itself into two elements, the base cost or the cost paid for the thing, and overhead cost.

Base Cost.

In the case of structural property base cost includes:

1. The actual cost of the materials and labour going into the work. This cost includes the rate per day or per hour for different classes of labour and the cost of material delivered f.o.b. cars or steamer at the nearest point of delivery for the work.
2. The cost of unloading, handling and hauling materials must be added to the unit costs above described, and when the point of delivery is distant from the site of the work this item may be expensive.
3. Where work is done by contract, contractors' profit and expense must be added to the cost of labour and materials delivered at the site of the work. If the work is done by force account similar expenses must be incurred by the owner with the exception of contractors' profit and a few other minor items.

Base cost, therefore, includes the cost of labour, cost of materials delivered at the site of the work and contractors' profit and expense.

Contractors' Expense.

Under "Contractors' Expense" are grouped all of those general costs to which every contractor is subject, for example, the cost of preparing estimates, general superintendence during construction, replacement of work destroyed by accidents, time keeping and cost accounting, office expenses including lost time of salaried employees, permits, compensation, liability and fire insurance, premium on performance bonds and interest and depreciation on plant and equipment employed in the construction. All of these expenses must be included in his bid price if he is to earn a profit.

Base Cost of Land.

Base cost of land is the net cost excluding fees, commissions or expenses incurred in the purchase of the land.

Overheads.

The amounts so far described represent base costs. To these costs all overhead expenses must be added to obtain the total cost of the work. For example, money must be borrowed during the construction of a plant upon which interest must be paid prior to the time when the plant is placed in service. This is called "Interest during Construction."

It is also necessary during the construction period to pay taxes out of borrowed capital. Insurance of different kinds must also be carried during this period. These are termed "Taxes and Insurance during Construction."

Some form of organization must be formed to execute the work and this involves administrative and general expenses including the salaries of executives and clerical employees. This is termed "General and Administrative Expenses during Construction."

Engineers, draftsmen and superintendents must be employed on the work and these expenses are included under the caption "Engineering and Superintendence."

The extras which so often appear in the final estimates of contractors are an apt illustration of the contingencies and errors which form a part of the cost of all construction work. Seldom, if ever, is a large undertaking executed without changes in plans which involve extras and expenses which could not be foreseen. These expenses are termed "Errors, Omissions and Contingencies."

Total of Overhead.

From my experience in a large number of appraisements, overheads range on the average between 15% and 22.5% of the base cost. On some large undertakings the overheads amount to even more.

The actual overheads allowed in this case are discussed later in the Report.

Total Cost of Physical Property.

The total cost of physical property is the sum of the base cost and overheads as above described.

Intangibles.

The cost of upbuilding a utility may be roughly divided into three parts:

1. Preliminary and organization costs which have to do with the conception of the enterprise and the planning, financing and securing of rights to do business.
2. Construction costs which have to do with building of the physical plant including the cost of real estate and materials and labour entering into the plant as well as the overhead expenses.
3. Costs which have to do with the building of a business structure or of attaching the business to the property, which include the payment from capital of early deficits until the time when income is sufficient to meet outgo, the cost of replacements due to mistakes in construction and necessary to tune the plant up to efficient operating condition and the cost of effecting an efficient and economical personnel.

The total investment in a business property never is represented by the cost of physical plant plus working capital alone. Universal experience has demonstrated that the acquisition of an income costs an appreciable amount and that the cost of building up the business is as unavoidable as the cost of building up the physical plant.

Preliminary and Organization Expenses.

Preliminary and organization expenses include all fees paid to governments for the privilege of incorporation and all fees and other expenses incident to organizing an enterprise and putting it in readiness to do business. It may include the cost of preparing and distributing prospectuses, cost of soliciting subscriptions for stock, cash fees paid to promoters for services in organizing the enterprise, counsel fees, cost of preparing and issuing certificates of stock and cost of procuring certificates of necessity from public authorities, and other like costs.

Franchise Cost.

Franchise cost includes the amount actually paid to any civil body as the consideration of such franchise.

Going Cost.

Going cost is a substantial element of the cost of the property of a utility corporation. It is the value of the property and business above all expenditures for constructing the physical plant or, to put it another way, it is the value which imbues in a plant with an established business as distinguished from one which has yet to establish its business.

In other wods, going cost includes that element of value which is possessed by an assembled and established plant which has many connections with customers using water that is not possessed by a completed waterworks system without a single customer.

As capital outlays are pre-requisite to building up and perfecting the business organization and in acquiring a paying business, a fair allowance for going or development cost has been included in the valuation of this property.

In a large number of decisions in the United States the awards for going cost have ranged from 3% to as much as 30% depending upon conditions. The weighted average allowance in fifty rate cases was 10.312% of the total cost of reproduction of the physical property.

Current Assets.

The value so far found includes all of the presently owned fixed capital assets of the Company. It does not include current assets. Specifically, it does not include cash necessarily maintained on hand or in bank nor the cash invested in materials and supplies necessary to the conduct of the business. These two items may be grouped under the general heading of "Working Capital" as they represent capital unproductively employed in the business. It is just as necessary that the Company be allowed to earn a fair return on the capital invested in those items as on the capital invested in land and structures.

ACCRUED DEPRECIATION.

The experience of generations has demonstrated that no physical property lasts for ever and is free from deterioration of some kind or other as time goes on.

Many units of a utility are necessarily short lived and wear out. Others become inadequate or break down, or become obsolete and must be replaced before they wear out.

The history of every public utility reveals elements of plant which have worn out and been scrapped; other units which have been outgrown and replaced by larger units; still others which became obsolete and were superseded by more modern or economical equipment, and, not infrequently, units which had to be replaced through accidents, injury by the elements, or other reasons.

Normal wear occurs in spite of the most elaborate maintenance and all honest efforts to prevent it until the equipment wears out or is replaced for other reasons. Normal wear in a properly maintained plant is not conspicuous. In most cases it is not even superficially noticeable for the major part of its normal life. Yet the lessening of worth due to wear and tear is an omnipresent, inexorable reality, which is going on constantly until the inevitable end is reached.

As a matter of fact, there is a commercial limitation on the life of many elements of a utility property. Few elements ever wear out completely. After a certain amount of wear, a point is reached where such elements may be further used, but only at the cost of economy or safety. After a given number of years the expense of maintenance on almost any piece of property becomes so large that it is economical to abandon it.

Inadequacy and obsolescence may also necessitate the abandonment of property long before it is worn out, so that any theory of depreciation in the plant of a public utility which confines depreciation solely to the actual and physical depreciation, which can be seen by the eye and measured by the hand, must of necessity ignore that other species of deterioration which experience demonstrates occurs in every plant.

On the other hand, every normally operated and well maintained utility has a perpetual service life. By constant repairs and renewals and periodic replacements it is at all times maintained in a serviceable condition. The service life of a utility, disregarding changes in the arts which may substitute another form of service for the service which it is rendering, is perpetual, and the repairs, replacements and renewals made to it eliminate a large part of the deterioration which is constantly accruing and thereby limit the liability to replacement.

It is clear that a utility properly maintained and with the right to provide against impairment from earnings cannot seriously depreciate in value under normal conditions. While it is true, therefore, that no property is in one hundred per cent. condition, it is also true that in a well maintained property like the one under appraisement one usually finds that the used and useful property is in a condition per cent. varying from eighty to ninety, and it is maintained in such condition throughout its service life.

With these observations in mind and after broadly viewing the plant and equipment of The Shanghai Water Works Company, accrued depreciation equal to 15% of the reproduction cost of the depreciable property has been deducted to ascertain present depreciated value.

BASES USED IN DETERMINING EARNINGS REQUIRED.

Effect of Exchange.

In arriving at an appraisement of the value of property and plant of The Shanghai Waterworks Company for the purpose of ascertaining fair value, one local problem arises which is not met with in the United States. This is the question of local exchange value.

If costs as of a given year are ascertained in taels and the total cost is expressed in taels, and pound value as of present date is wanted, the pound value will depend upon the instant rate of exchange. On the other hand, if costs are ascertained in pounds and tael value as of present date is wanted, tael value will depend upon the rate of exchange. This causes violent fluctuations in pound value if taels are used and vice versa. For example:

Tael Cost	Instant Ratio of Exchange	Pound Value
Tls. 100,000	16	£6,250
Tls. 100,000	3.33	£30,030
Pound Cost		Tael Value
£100,000	16	Tls.1,600,000
£100,000	3.33	Tls. 333,000

Rate of exchange has fluctuated between 6/1 7/16 (1920) and 1/3 (1931) in the last eleven years, which is somewhat greater than the spread in the above examples. The average rate of exchange from 1890 to 1931 has been 3/1 5/16 and for the past ten years 2/8⅜. (See Table No. 2, below.) The rate of exchange in 1931 has been lower than at any other time in the history of the Company.

It appears to me, therefore, that when exchange enters into fair value a fair average rate of exchange must be used if a stable rate base is to be ascertained. This is in accord with the rule of evaluation whereby average prices and not the instant spot prices of labour and material are used in abnormal times or at periods of great fluctuation in prices.

It is also clear that when revenues are paid in silver, value should be ascertained in silver. This statement is better appreciated when we consider that in each year the capital outlay for betterments and extensions was entered upon the books in taels. This tael outlay not only included material and labour purchased locally in taels but material and labour purchased in sterling and converted into taels at the actual rate of exchange paid for the gold required. The tael cost, therefore, not only represents property and plant paid for in taels but in gold as well.

It also appears to be a basic fact that where the local standard of currency is the tael, where the rates are paid in silver, the books are kept in taels and all capital expenditures are recorded in taels as of the year the capital was expended, and, therefore, include the cost of gold purchased in that year, the rise or fall of silver currency is intrinsically a speculative element, the risk of profit or loss on which should not be borne by the consumers.

I make this statement as a basic principle for the determination of the fair value upon which a fair return should be earned and quite apart from the terms of the existing "Tariff Agreement."

The element of exchange, however, does affect the fair return to which the Company is entitled and as value and return are interdependent, as previously outlined, value may also be affected by the rate of exchange. To what extent this should be allowed for is a matter for careful consideration. It should be remembered, however, that the purpose of my appraisal is to ascertain the gross income required to yield a fair return on the fair value of the property and is not for the purpose of fixing a price for bartering the existing plant for units of depreciated currency.

In calculating compensation it must be remembered that the value of a plant does not really change with fluctuations in prices or exchange. It is the monetary unit in which the asset is expressed which changes owing to scarcity of gold or silver or the law of supply and demand, or other changing factors in the money market for the time being. It is, therefore, possible to adjust fair income either by changing the fair value expressed in money, or the rate of return, or both.

Methods of Appraisement.

Several methods may be considered for arriving at a fair appraisement upon which The Shanghai Waterworks Company is entitled to earn a fair return:

(1) An estimate of reproduction cost at current prices of labour and material including the increases due to depreciated currency existing at this time but without reference to the mutability of exchange.

(2) An estimate based on actual cost subject to the same adjustments as in (3) but with an allowance for depreciated currency, this allowance to be fixed with due regard to the mutability of exchange at this time.

(3) An estimate based on actual cost in local currency as determined from the books, subject to an adjustment of the prices of labour and material to obtain present reproduction cost but excluding present increased values due to depreciation of local currency, provision being made for the mutability of current exchange rates by increasing the rate of return.

(4) An estimate of the capitalized value of the net income derived from the gross income necessary to meet present fiscal requirements,—that is to say, the capitalized value of the net income necessary to pay interest and dividends deducted from the gross income necessary not only to pay the return stipulated under the "Tariff Agreement" but also production cost, taxes, a proper annual reserve for depreciation, equalization of dividends and other legitimate expenses.

The first or reproduction method under existing conditions is eminently unfair to the consumers since it permits of speculative bias as regards the value of silver. On this question one man's guess is as good as another's. It produces illogical, even though theoretically correct, results due to the vagaries of exchange. For one example, by strict adherence to the rule, motor cars having a "replacement value" as of to-day at Ex. 1/3 of Tls. 120,000 and depreciated on the basis of a five year life to the extent of Tls. 32,046 have a residual present value of Tls. 87,954, appreciably in excess of the original cost of Tls. 65,000.

This method involves riding a hobby over a precipice in pursuit of a theory.

The second method is to a degree open to the same objections as both the first and the third. It also introduces two variables in lieu of one, an increment in the rate base and an increment in return to adjust for the mutability of exchange. It involves a rate base which changes with fluctuations in exchange, which is economically unsound because, as stated, the rise and fall of value because of the rise and fall of silver as related to other currencies is a speculative element which should not be borne by the consumer whose only guarantee is that the Company shall earn a fair return upon fair value. Changing rate of return will fulfil the consumers' guarantee of fair return without speculation in values.

The third method may at first sight seem unfair to the Company, but if it is conceded that for the purpose of ascertaining income in taels, value must be expressed in taels, then the book cost plus proper allowance for overheads and intangibles and proper adjustment for current prices represents sound value under average conditions more closely than any other method, and income will be sufficient if rate of return sufficient to compose reasonable fluctuations in exchange is provided.

While anticipating subsequent matter somewhat, an understanding of this discussion will be facilitated by stating that after adjusting the book costs as outlined in Method (3) and converting the silver cost of assets at the average rate for the period of acquirement, I find the present appraisement, expressed in gold and silver currencies, is:

Pounds Sterling:	£2,936,955
Shanghai Tls.	Tls. 26,249,810

The above ratio produces an average exchange of 2/3 per tael, while the current rate has fluctuated recently between 1/3 and 1/6 per tael.

CAPITALIZED EARNING VALUE.

While the fourth method, based on capitalizing the return required to pay dividends and interest on the present capitalization, may be useful in determining market value under the terms of the "Tariff Agreement," it may or may not reflect true value, depending upon the current rate of exchange so long as revenues are in taels and share dividends are in sterling. Then too capitalization may be far greater or far less than value, depending upon the past financial policies invoked. A policy of exploitation would lead to over capitalization; one of ultra conservatism to under capitalization. It may be said, however, of the case in hand that there is no indication of excessive capitalization, even including the bonus shares referred to in the Report of the Delegates of the Chinese Ratepayers Association. Rather the contrary. The capitalization may serve as a check upon the fairness of existing rates and that is the reason for including it here.

Reproduction Estimates.

Knowing that the cost involved and the time consumed in making a complete new inventory of the property of The Shanghai Waterworks Company would not be warranted under the conditions above outlined, an effort was made to secure a prompt estimate of reproduction cost, new, less depreciation at current prices of labour and material, including the increases due to depreciated currency. Knowing that the Company had prepared an inventory of property a few years ago, they were requested to bring this up to date and to price it at current prices and current rates of exchange. This the Company kindly did. This inventory has been checked by me for the purpose of ascertaining methods used as well as the fairness of the prices and other charges made. The result is shown in Table No. 3, as follows:—

As a check against this estimate of reproduction cost, an estimate based on actual cost expressed in local currency as determined from the books, subject to an adjustment of the prices of labour and material to obtain present reproduction cost, but excluding present increased value due to depreciation of local currency, was made. E. S. Wilkinson, Esq., A.C.A., was requested to go over the books of the Company and ascertain the total capital outlay in taels made prior to January 1, 1914, and from that date to the present time ascertain the yearly capital outlay in taels. Table No. 4, herewith, gives the yearly capital outlay, without correction for current prices for labour and material, as of the years shown expressed in taels and pounds at the rate of exchange prevailing in the year the expenditures were made.

The rate of exchange used for the capital outlays made in years prior to 1914 was the average rate of exchange before then.

It was not considered necessary for the purpose of this appraisement to attempt to secure the capital outlay by years prior to 1914 because of the stability of price levels for many years before that date. It was believed that such data would have little or no effect upon the accuracy of my findings.

The results of this appraisement are given in Table No. 5.

A corrective factor of Tls. 3,578,545 was applied to convert the base book cost of structural property of Tls. 11,505,442 shown on Table No. 4, into the current cost of Tls. 15,083,987. Such a correction was not required in ascertaining the base reproduction cost new in Table No. 3, as the cost new of units of property was converted into present costs prior to ascertaining the total cost.

To the base cost of the structural elements obtained by Methods (1) and (3) was added an allowance for miscellaneous construction costs, or overheads, which include, as outlined heretofore, administrative, legal and general expense, engineering and supervision, and taxes, interest and insurance during construction, together with omissions and contingencies.

The allowance of 10% for overheads is somewhat lower than would be allowed, as previously indicated, in estimating for new work because certain overheads have been absorbed in the yearly capital outlay shown by the books.

To the total cost of structural elements thus obtained was added the appraised present value of land as determined by local appraisers, somewhat modified under Method (3).

This gives the cost of reproduction of physical plant under Method (3) of Tls. 25,592,385.

A deduction for accrued depreciation on depreciable property was then made, which gives the depreciated value of physical or tangible property, Method (3), of Tls. 23,103,528.

Intangibles, including franchise cost, preliminary and organization expenses, going or development cost, were added and finally a proper amount for working capital, including cash on hand and in bank, materials and supplies and tools and equipment.

The total value arrived at is explained as follows :

Method (1) Tls.

Depreciated Reproduction Cost New at current prices and exchange 34,010,310

Method (3).

Depreciated Book Cost translated into current prices and using average rate of exchange.. 26,249,810

Method (4).

Capitalized earning value determined by capitalizing net revenues which should be secured under the terms of the "Tariff Agreement" at 8.5% .. 22,950,204

VALUE FOUND.

The depreciated reproduction cost of Tls. 34,010,310 has been discarded for the reasons already given.

The capitalized earning value but indicates that if a willing purchaser were willing to accept 8.5% return on his investment then the value to him would be Tls. 22,950,204. In general, then, it may be said to represent current market value under the terms and conditions of the "Tariff Agreement." Capitalizing earnings, however, invokes a vicious cycle, for if earnings are too high value will be too high, and vice versa.

Under all the conditions and circumstances surrounding this appraisement as outlined heretofore in meticulous detail, I am constrained to place a value on the property of The Shanghai Waterworks Company, Ltd. of Tls. 26,249,810 as derived by Method (3), which is Tls. 3,299,606 higher than capitalized earning value under rates which should be secured under the terms of the "Tariff Agreement." As a matter of fact, the present rates, including the surcharge of 25% do not produce the revenue to which they are entitled under that agreement. This is the first evidence adduced that current rates are not unreasonable. For the sake of ease of remembrance let us say, Fair Value=Tls. 26,250,000.

GROSS REVENUE REQUIRED TO EARN A FAIR RETURN ON FAIR VALUE.

The gross revenue required by a water company is made up of the four following elements :

1. Fair Return.
2. Normal Operating Expenses.
3. Rates, Taxes and Charges.
4. Annual Reserve for Depreciation.

Fair Return.

A fair return of 8.5% on Tls. 26,250,000 amounts to Tls. 2,231,250.

Normal Operating Expenses.

Normal operating expenses for Intra-Agreement Consumers have, after due consideration, been taken at Tls. 1,676,191. This is somewhat higher than 1930 expenses but will be somewhat lower than 1932 and, therefore, represents fair current operating cost for 1931. To this add Tls 68,000 for working expenses of Extra-Agreement and Shipping Consumers, which gives a total of Tls.1,744,191.

Rates, Taxes and Charges.

These have been taken from the books of the Company and amount to Tls. 64,000+4,404=Tls. 68,404.

Annual Reserve for Depreciation.

After testing the fairness of the amount set aside annually by the Company for depreciation, their figure of Tls. 266,133 for 1931 has been allowed.

In the case of Knoxville, Tenn., U.S.A. vs. The Knoxville Water Company, the Court said :

> "A water plant with all its additions begins to depreciate in value from the moment of its use. Before coming to the question of profit at all the company is entitled to earn a sufficient sum annually to provide not only for current repairs, but for making good the depreciation and replacing the parts of the property when they come to the end of their life. The company is not bound to see its property gradually waste, without making provision out of earnings for its replacement. It is entitled to see that from earnings the value of the property invested is kept undiminished, so that at the end of any given number of years the original investment remains as it was at the beginning. It is not only the right of the company to make such a provision, but it is its duty to its bond and stockholders and, in the case of a public service corporation at least, its plain duty to the public."

Gross Revenue Required in 1931.

	Tls.	Tls.
Fair Return on Tls. 26,250,000 ..		2,231,250
Operating Expenses		1,744,191
Rates, Taxes and Charges		68,404
Depreciation Reserve		266,133
		Tls. 4,309,978

The gross revenue of Tls. 4,309,978 to pay a fair return on the fair value of the property of The Shanghai Waterworks Company is Tls. 61,223 more than the Tls. 4,248,755 necessary to meet the fiscal requirements in 1931, as shown on Table No. 6. This clearly shows that the gross revenue which the Company should earn under the terms of the "Tariff Agreement" is not in excess of a fair return on the fair value of the property.

As already stated, however, the revenues in 1931, including the 25% increase which was effective September 1, 1930, will be somewhat below the revenue which should be earned under the terms of the "Tariff Agreement." There is no ground, therefore, for assuming that the existing rates and charges of the Water Company are excessive.

FISCAL REQUIREMENTS UNDER "TARIFF AGREEMENT."

The Company's revenue may be divided into three main headings :—

1. Water supplied to Intra-Agreement Consumers, and paid for,—
   (a) By a percentage on property rental.
   (b) By meter.
2. Water supplied to Extra-Agreement Consumers by meter as per scale, on which half the net revenue only is available for payment on the fixed dividends (the other half of such Revenue being available for payment of Bonus to "A" and "B" Class shareholders).
3. Water supplied to Shipping, none of the net revenue on which is available for payment of the fixed dividends (all such net revenue being available for payment of Bonus to "A" and "B" Class shareholders).

In addition, of course, there are certain other revenues including revenue which may accrue from rents of property, interest from investments or other sources, dividend revenues if any, and other miscellaneous non-operating revenues.

It is also to be noted that in ascertaining fiscal requirements both Extra-Agreement Consumers and Shipping Consumers, considered as separate departments, are first charged with the whole cost of water supplied to them, so that any bonuses out of profits from this source do not directly affect the main issue of the whole cost of producing water, but, rather, that these Miscellaneous Revenues tend to decrease the cost of water to Intra-Agreement Consumers, as will be seen later in the Report when the subdivision of gross revenue required is outlined.

Scale of Charges.

The scale of charges is governed by the following documents :

The Tariff Agreement of March 17, 1928, which provided inter alia:—

1. (a) That the whole of the net profits from Shipping Consumers and half the net profits from Extra-Agreement Consumers should be available for payment of an extra dividend or Bonus to Shareholders.
   (b) That the tariff of charges for Intra-Agreement Consumers should be sufficient to cover :—
      (i) Dividends, at Tariff Exchange (to be fixed periodically) on "A" and "B" shares at 9% and 7% per annum respectively and on any further shares issued after the date of the Agreement at a rate not exceeding 7% p.a., except with the consent of the Council.
      (ii) The setting aside as a Reserve for the Equalization of Dividends of a sum not exceeding 2% p.a. on "A" Class capital (converted at Tariff Exchange) ; but such Reserve not to exceed 9% on the "A" Class Capital.
   (c) That any balance of net profits, after providing the above, shall be set aside in "Tariff Revision Suspense Account" and invested in the business of the Company.
   (d) That on each periodical revision of Tariff, 1/5th of any balance at the credit of Tariff Revision Suspense Account shall be transferred to the credit of General Reserve Account (but this Reserve is never to exceed 5% of the fixed assets of the Company taken at cost).
2. That the Tariff should be revised on July 1, 1929, and thereafter quinquennially (or at lesser periods) when balances at the credit of "Tariff Revision" and "Dividend Equalization" Reserves would be taken into consideration.

(For further details, see Appendix No. I.)

Capitalization.

Share Capital.

The Company now has issued share capital as follows :

40,236 "A" Shares of £20 each . . . . . paying a cumulative dividend restricted to 9% p.a. plus any Bonus available out of profits derived from : (a) All Shipping Department profits. (b) Half profits on Extra-Agreement Consumers Account.	£804,720
108,505 "B" Shares of £1 each paying a cumulative dividend restricted to 7% p.a., plus any Bonus available out of profits on Shipping, etc., as above, such profits being shared in the ratio of 1 : 20 with "A" Shares.	£108,505
250,000 "C" Shares of £1 each paying a cumulative dividend restricted to 8% p.a. with no Bonus rights.	£250,000
Total Share Capital Issued and Fully Paid . .	£1,163,225
There remain, unissued, 775 shares of £1 each	775
Making the Total Authorized Capital	£1,164,000

Debentures.

The following Debentures have been issued in accordance with the terms of a Deed of Trust, dated June 16, 1921, the period of each being for 10 to 30 years from date of issue, subject to six months' notice of redemption :

Issue at	Tls	Earliest Date for Repayment
1921 8%	2,000,000	Dec. 31, 1931
1922 8%	500,000	June 30, 1932
1922 7%	1,000,000	June 30, 1933
1925 6%	500,000	Dec. 31, 1935
	Tls.4,000,000

The Deed of Trust securing the above gives a first specific charge upon the land and premises then owned by the Company and a floating charge "upon the undertaking of the Company and all its property both at the time of the issue of the said Debentures or any of them and to be acquired in future . . . "

Interest and Dividends.

The total interest and dividend requirements on the above capitalization is as stated on Table No. 6, giving the fiscal requirements for 1931.

This shows that to provide dividends payable in gold at a rate of exchange of 1/3 on the capital shares will require Tls. 1,600,322, and to pay interest on the Tls. 4,000,000 existing Debentures and other interest payable on capital required in 1931 will require Tls. 312,195. The total of interest and dividends is, therefore, Tls. 1,912,517.

Provision has been made at an exchange rate of 1/3 for Tls. 257,510 for Equalization of Dividends as per "Tariff Agreement." Adding this to interest and dividends we have a total of Tls. 2,170,027.

Operating Expenses.

Normal operating expenses have been taken as before at Tls. 1,676,191, as already explained.

Taxes.

Rates, taxes and charges will require Tls. 64,000.

Interest and Dividends . .		1,912,517
Reserve		257,510
		Tls. 2,170,027

Interest and dividends of Tls. 1,912,517 will yield a return of 7.28% on the fair value of the property of Tls. 26,250,000. This allows no margin for contingencies, except upon the theory that the rate of exchange will improve, and so it will be more prudent to include in the Fiscal Requirements the Reserve for Equalization of Dividends permitted by the present franchise, so long as this can be covered by the "fair return" ascertained. This return taken at the agreed rate of 8.5% on fair value of Tls. 26,250,000 amounts to Tls. 2,231, 250 and it will be noted that this is more than sufficient to cover the total fiscal requirements of Tls. 2,170,027 which include the Reserve appropriation of Tls. 257,510 permitted by the terms of the "Tariff Agreement."

EXTRA-AGREEMENT AND SHIPPING CONSUMERS ACCOUNTS.

The operation of these accounts, in accordance with the terms of the "Tariff Agreement," introduces a further complication which must be considered in connection with the fair return. While the Company takes half the ascertained profit on the Extra-Agreement account into its general Profit and Loss Account, it is entitled to segregate the other half of such profit, together with the whole profit on the Shipping Department and to distribute these in the form of extra dividends to shareholders. When considering the return yielded by the Company's plant under the terms of the "Tariff Agreement," it is logical to include these extra dividends as part of the return, since the valuation of the Company's assets includes all the plant used by the departments concerned (it being impossible to segregate much of it for physical reasons).

Making this adjustment, the following result is arrived at :

	Tls.
Fiscal requirements for Dividends, Interest and Reserve (as above) ..	2,170,027
Add : Estimated Profits available for extra dividends (1931)	67,408
Total Return to be made ..	2,237,435
As compared to ascertained "fair return" of	2,231,250

Whereas the total return under the "Tariff Agreement" includes the reserve and the extra dividends, it is seen that such return is approximately the same as the ascertained fair return on the fair value of the property. It must, however, be remembered that the extra dividends are neither cumulative nor certain and that they are, by their nature, to a great extent outside the main issue.

Therefore, as regards estimates of revenue required in the future it will give more concise and clear results if these are based entirely on the requirements of the Intra-Agreement Working Accounts, excluding all expenses and revenue from these extraneous accounts (excepting only the share of net profits received from the Extra-Agreement Working).

"Extra dividends" should only be considered when it is desired to make comparisons with the "fair return" based on the fair value of the whole plant.

ESTIMATED REVENUE REQUIREMENTS.

The following statements of the fiscal requirements for the years 1931 and 1932 exclude all income and expense of the Extra-Agreement and Shipping Departments as stated above :

Year 1931 (Intra-Agreement only)

	Tls.	Tls.
Interest, Dividends and Reserve (as per Table No. 6.)		2,170,027
Add :	Tls.
Operating Expenses (including taxes, etc.) ..	1,614,580*
Expenses of Capital Issue ..	4,404
Annual Reserve for Depreciation	246,133*
		1,865,121
	Tls.	4,035,148

Year 1932 (Intra-Agreement only)

	Tls.	Tls.
Interest, Dividends and Reserve (as above with interest adjusted)		2,237,283
Add :	Tls.
Operating expenses (including taxes, etc.) ..	1,781,982*
Expenses of Capital Issue ..	7,563
Annual Reserve for Depreciation	319,478*
		2,109,023
	Tls.	4,346,306

*Excluding Charge to Extra-Agreement.

Applying the above to estimates of revenue, the following results are obtained :

1931 Estimates of Intra-Agreement Working

	Tls.
To Fiscal Requirements as per above Table	4,035,148
By Gross Revenue from Intra-Agreement Water Rate ..	3,530,062
By Half Profit on Extra-Agreement Working	20,875
By Deficit on Intra-Agreement Income	484,211
	Tls. 4,035,148

The above deficit will be made up of :

Net deficit on estimated working	226,701
Appropriation for Reserve, not available	257,510
Tls.	484,211

Assuming that the Company could be permitted to collect the revenue shown above, including the deficit, the total return would amount to Tls. 2,237,435, as shown previously, which is very slightly in excess of the fair return. It is, however, to be noted that as revenue for the current year cannot now be adjusted, there will be no appropriation available for Reserve and the total actual return will be considerably less than the "fair return."

In order to compare results of a year which is capable of adjustment, the estimates for 1932 will next be examined :

1932 Estimates of Intra-Agreement Working

	Tls.
To Fiscal Requirements as per Table	4,346,306
By Gross Revenue from Intra-Agreement Water Rate ..	3,682,499
By Half Profit on Extra-Agreement Working	18,299
By Deficit on Intra-Agreement Income	645,508
Tls.	4,346,306

The above deficit will be made up of :

Net deficit on estimated Working	387,998
Appropriation for Reserve, not available	257,510
Tls.	645,508

Assuming that the Company is permitted to collect the above revenue, including the deficit, the total return would be :

	Tls.
Interest and Dividends ..	1,979,773
Reserve	257,510
Extra Dividend on Shipping, etc.	59,091
TOTAL RETURN	2,296,374
As compared to ascertained "fair return" of	2,392,273

In order to arrive at the fair return for the year 1932 it is necessary to adjust the fair valuation of the whole plant in the following manner :

We may assume that the whole of the 1931 additions have been completed and that the cost of half the 1932 additions will affect the fiscal requirements of that year. The additional capital invested will then be :

	Tls.
All 1931 additions	2,264,356
Half 1932 additions	711,941
	2,976,297
Less : Part of 1931 additions already included in capital account	1,081,713
Net Additional Value ..	1,894,584

The total capital value will then be Tls 26,249,810 plus Tls. 1,894,584 = Tls. 28,144,394 on which the fair return at 8.5% will be Tls. 2,392,273.

PROPOSED TARIFF ADJUSTMENT.

In considering the tariff adjustment to provide for 1932 deficit, I do not think it necessary to provide also for the 1931 deficit since any shortage of dividend can be provided out of the Reserve to be made for that purpose, as stated above. Assuming that increase in the tariff is to be permitted so as to make good the deficits on the Intra-Agreement water service it is first necessary to consider the incidence of the rates on the various classes of consumers.

INCIDENCE OF THE RATES.

We now come to the question of discrimination in existing rates which no doubt exists, as previously tabulated.

The discrimination in favour of the poor and small consumers is an economic necessity under the conditions existing in Shanghai and the wisdom of placing a greater burden upon this class of consumers may be questioned.

There is, however, a very serious discrimination, which is not apparent from the present rate structure, and that is the proportion of the rates paid by the municipality in return for fire protection. Under the existing rates and charges the Municipal Council pays the Water Company a sum which is equivalent to the interest on the cost of hydrants installed plus the cost of repairs and maintenance. This by no means represents a proper return on the capital invested for fire protection. Adequate fire service requires not only the installation of hydrants but a readiness to serve these hydrants. That is to say, the pumping plant, filtration plant and mains would be smaller if no fire service were rendered, and the Municipal Council does not pay its share of the revenue required to carry this additional plant.

Analysis of waterworks systems in various municipalities in the United States indicates that the proportion of plant chargeable to fire service varies to some extent in inverse proportion to population. The general limits of the cost of fire protection service vary:

From 60% to 80% of the entire cost of physical property in the case of communities having less than 10,000 population.

From 30% to 40% in communities of about 50,000.

From 20% to 30% in communities of about 100,000.

From 10% to 20% in the case of the larger cities.

It is conservative, therefore, to say that 10% of the revenue received from Intra-Agreement service should be paid as a fire service charge and the revenue therefor raised by taxes. This is equitable because fire protection is a property benefit and the property owners should pay for this benefit in the same way that they would for other benefits provided by the municipality.

It is not my purpose to attempt the preparation of a new rate schedule under the flat rate system, nor even attempt the preparation of a rate schedule for meter rates, as the terms of the Reference do not call for this. Besides, the preparation of such a schedule would involve far more time than has been allotted to me by the Municipal Council for the preparation of my report. It may be pertinent and helpful, however, to outline the initial steps which are requisite for the proper apportionment of income in order to secure an equitable meter scale.

As seen from Table No. 6, the fiscal requirements for 1931 require a revenue of Tls. 4,248,755, and this is a starting point for rate making so long as the present "Tariff Agreement" continues.

Miscellaneous Receipts.

Miscellaneous receipts include revenue derived from all other sources except from service rendered to Intra-Agreement Consumers. It includes revenue derived from Extra-Agreement and Shipping Consumers.

Fire Service Revenue.

The fire service revenue represents 10% of the revenue required from Intra-Agreement service.

Total Intra-Service Revenue.

The total Intra Service revenue to be derived from the sale of water in 1931 is, therefore, Tls. 4,009,995, and this should be divided between fire service and general water service in about the proportions shown.

Total General Water Service Revenue.

The total general water service revenue which should be obtained from the sale of water to Intra-Agreement Consumers is, as shown by STEP C, Tls. 3,608,995. This should be divided in about the proportion that the present revenue from poor and small consumers is to the total revenue from Intra-Agreement Consumers in order to secure the balance chargeable to other consumers.

Subdivision Between Large and Small Consumers.

The above subdivision as between "Small and Poor Consumers" and "Other Consumers" is based roughly on the assumption that CLASS III of Foreign and CLASSES III, IV and V of Chinese consumers, as shown previously, represent the former, while all other classes represent the latter. Such division must, of course, be the subject of an accurate calculation based on the experience of the Company.

This subdivision outlines the principle only.

It is further recommended that a sum which approximates the amount collected annually from small consumers be collected by making a monthly minimum charge for which a fixed amount of water may be obtained without further payment. The amount of water thus fixed should be the equivalent of the normal and reasonable per capita requirements for domestic use, and if the small consumer in any month consumes in excess of the minimum, then he should be required to pay a volumetric charge for the excess volume, as measured by meter. This charge will be that established by the new rate schedule. By this method the small consumer continuing to pay a fixed charge per month, which is the established custom at present, will not be disturbed unless he is wasteful, in which event he will be required to pay a proportional charge for the excess.

The remainder of the required revenue should be collected from the better class of domestic and the wholesale, industrial and manufacturing consumers at rates established for this purpose, preferably on a sliding scale rate.

By this method there will be little or no change in the incidence of the burden of the rates as the proportionate revenue collected from the better and poorer classes of consumers will remain approximately the same.

INCREASE IN TARIFF REQUIRED TO PROVIDE REVENUE INDICATED ABOVE.

In considering the effect of collecting fire service revenue as indicated above, it must be remembered that actual net cost of hydrants is already paid by the Council, and that neither cost nor revenue appear in any of the above figures. The net cost so paid by the Council amounts to about Tls. 30,000 per annum, so that this sum must be deducted from the other figures to arrive at the net relief to the General Water Rates, thus :—

	Tls.
1931 Fire Service Cost which should be collected	401,000
Less : Sum already paid by Council (say)	30,000
Net Relief to Water Service	371,000
1932 Fire Service Cost which should be collected	432,373
Less : Sum due by Council (say)	30,000
Net Relief to Water Service	402,373
Therefore, if the net estimated deficit in 1931 is	484,211
and the net relief given by the fire service charge would be..	371,000
The net extra charge required for Water Service would be..	113,211
and in 1932 Tls. 645,508— Tls. 402,373 .. =	243,135

CONCLUSION RE TARIFF INCREASE.

As already stated, it does not appear necessary to make provision for recouping the estimated deficit of 1931, since any shortage of dividend can be taken from Reserve.

As regards the 1932 deficit, it appears that if the correct amount is separately collected from Fire Service, the net extra sum to be collected from Intra-Agreement consumers would amount to Tls. 243,135 only, which should not cause any burdensome increase in the tariff payable.

FUTURE CAPITAL OUTLAY.

The matter of needed additions and extensions is somewhat complicated by the question of whether meters are to be installed or not. The figures used previously however, are reasonable. Forecasts have been made by the Company of the capital outlay required up to December 31, 1935. These make no provision for the construction of a clear water basin, which should be done in the immediate future, as already outlined.

The Company's estimates are reasonable and whereas no exact figures may be given under present conditions, it is my opinion that the programme of development is sound and that it should be assumed that upwards of Tls. 3,000,000 should be spent between now and December 31, 1935.

Respectfully submitted,

APPENDIX No. 1.

Report of Messrs. Thomson & Company, Chartered Accountants, to the Shanghai Municipal Council Re the Shanghai Waterworks Company, Limited, Dated June 20, 1931.

SHANGHAI, June 20, 1931.

THE SECRETARY,
SHANGHAI MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

SIR,

Re The Shanghai Waterworks Company, Limited.

We have the honour to present our Report prepared in accordance with the instructions contained in your letter dated February 9, 1931.

These instructions made it necessary to approach the problem from two different points of view :—

(1) To enable us to give an opinion as to how economies, if any, could be effected.

(2) To enable us to prepare a statement of facts which might facilitate the investigation of a visiting expert in its financial aspect.

To deal with these two aspects of the problem as briefly as possible, we have found it advisable to deal with the facts first and the statement of opinion second. Part V of our Report thus becomes a Summary of our conclusions and recommendations, while Parts I to IV are mainly statements of fact, with the addition of such opinions concerning matters of detail as seemed advisable to make the facts more clearly understandable.

We particularly desire to draw your attention to the fact that we have felt the interests both of the Council and of the visiting expert can better be served by reducing the volume of this Report to a minimum, and we have, therefore, refrained from making lengthy extracts from the large number of published accounts, statistical statements and technical reports which it has been our duty to consider.

A number of the more important documents concerned have been referred to and if the Council should desire us to assist the expert, on his arrival, in the detailed examination of these, we shall be glad to hold our services at his disposal.

We have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servants,

THOMSON & CO.,
Chartered Accountants.

PART I.—GENERAL.

REFERENCE.—This report is submitted in accordance with a letter received from the Shanghai Municipal Council, dated February 9, 1931, in which the following objectives are indicated :—

(1) To assist a commission consisting of the Public Utilities Committee, together with an expert from abroad . . . in particular, in finding out whether the cost of water to consumers can be reduced.

(2) To enable the Council on the arrival of the expert . . . to provide him with all necessary financial details . . . for facilitating his investigation in its financial aspect.

Since the present financial position is so definitely connected with the events of past years, we consider it advisable to commence our report with a short history of the Company's financial operations and arrangements since its inception.

HISTORY OF THE COMPANY.

(1) The Company was incorporated in England in 1880 with a Capital of £100,000 divided into 5,000 shares of £20 each. It was at that time considered an advantage to have both the London and Shanghai markets available for the subscription of capital, and although it is now impossible to state the exact origin of all existing capital, the present total (including Bonus share issues) is registered for dividend purposes as follows :—

Shanghai Register	...	£721,559
London Register	...	441,666
Total Issued Capital		£1,163,225

(2) The first franchise agreement of 1881 fixed the Tariff of Charges for supply to foreign houses and to the Municipal Council, but not for Chinese houses or for meters: it also provided that if profits earned and dividends paid should exceed 8% of the capital expended, a rebate should be given in respect of water rates paid. In 1902 this question was raised by the Council, and, as the result of an investigation, a report was issued in February, 1903, which stated that during the 18 years since the Company had been on a profit-earning basis, the average available returns on capital expended had been 4.68%. No rebate or reduction of rates was ever made under this franchise which was replaced by the 1905 agreement.

(3) The 1905 agreement fixed all rates, but removed any restriction on dividends. This agreement continued in force until replaced by the Preliminary Agreement of 1926, which was finally implemented and replaced by the 1928 agreement. Until the end of 1926 it may be said that the Company took all risk of exchange in paying its Sterling Dividends. The average return to shareholders from 1906 to 1927 was about 11½%, which was undoubtedly high, when considered in Sterling. The 1919 dividend amounted to 17½%, but with the high exchange then ruling (5s. 4d. to 7s.) the actual return to shareholders who had purchased shares on a Tael basis at lower rates of exchange was not abnormal.

(4) The 1926 and 1928 agreements, which were effective as from the beginning of 1927, restricted dividends as hereafter mentioned but fixed these in Sterling, thus transferring the risk of exchange to the consumers. The Reserves of the Company, so far as they represented transfers from profits or Premia on Shares (but not accretions to the value of Capital Assets) were converted into Bonus Shares. The Fittings Department was segregated and transferred to a separate Company. The 1928 agreement was made for a period of 20 years dating from January 1, 1927, at the end of which (or at the end of any successive period of ten years) the Municipal Council is to have the right of purchase on having given two years' previous notice of its intention to do so.

(5) Concurrently with and subsequent to the 1926/1928 agreements, further capital issues were made, making the total issued capital of the Company as stated below.

CAPITAL.

(a) SHARE CAPITAL.—The Company now has issued share capital as follows :—

40,236 "A" Shares of £20 each ... ... paying a cumulative dividend restricted to 9% p.a. plus any Bonus available out of profits derived from :—	£804,720
(a) All Shipping Department profits.
(b) Half profits on Extra Agreement Consumers' Account.
108,505 "B" Shares of £1 each ... ... paying a cumulative dividend restricted to 7% p.a., plus any Bonus available out of profits on Shipping, etc., as above, such profits being shared in the ratio of 1 : 20 with "A" Shares.	108,505
250,000 "C" Shares of £1 each ... ... paying a cumulative dividend restricted to 8% p.a., with no Bonus rights.	250,000
Total Share Capital issued and fully paid	£1,163,225
There remain, unissued, 775 Shares of £1 each	£775
Making the total Authorised Capital ...	£1,164,000

(b) DEBENTURES.—The following Debentures have been issued in accordance with the terms of a Deed of Trust, dated June 16, 1921, the period in each being for 10 to 30 years from date of issue, subject to six months' notice of redemption :—

	Issue at	Tls.	Earliest date for Repayment
1921	8%	2,000,000	Dec. 31, 1931
1922	8%	500,000	June 30, 1932
1922	7%	1,060,000	June 30, 1933
1926	6%	500,000	Dec. 31, 1935
		Tls. 4,000,000

The Deed of Trust securing the above gives a first specific charge upon the land and premises then owned by the Company and a floating charge "upon the undertaking of the Company and all its property both at the time of the issue of the said Debentures or any of them and to be acquired in future ... ..."

PART II.—REVENUE AND TARIFF OF CHARGES.

The Company's Revenue can be divided into three main headings:—

(1) Water supplied to Intra-Agreement Consumers, and paid for :—
  (a) by a percentage on property rental
  (b) by meter as per scale.
(2) Water supplied to Extra-Agreement Consumers by meter as per scale, on which half the net revenue only is available for payment of the fixed dividends (the other half of such Revenue being available for payment of Bonus to "A" and "B" Class shareholders).
(3) Water supplied to Shipping, none of the net revenue on which is available for payment of the fixed dividends (all such net Revenue being available for payment of Bonus to "A" and "B" Class shareholders).

It is to be noted that both "Extra-Agreement Consumers" and "Shipping" considered as separate departments, are first charged with the whole cost of water supplied to them, so that any Bonuses paid in Taels out of their profits do not directly affect the main issue of the whole cost of producing water. On the other hand it may be said that, regarding them as separate consumers paying their share of the whole cost of production, they tend to decrease the whole cost of water to Intra-Agreement Consumers.

The Scale of Charges is governed by the following documents :—

(1) THE TARIFF AGREEMENT OF MARCH 17, 1928, which provided inter alia :—
  (a) That the whole of the net profits from Shipping Consumers and half the net profits from Extra-Agreement Consumers should be available for payment of an extra dividend or Bonus to Shareholders.
  (b) That the tariff of charges for Intra-Agreement Consumers should be sufficient to cover :—
    (i) Dividends at Tariff Exchange (to be fixed periodically) on "A" and "B" Shares at 9% and 7% per annum respectively and on any further shares issued after the date of the agreement at a rate not exceeding 7% p.a., except with consent of the Council.
    (ii) The setting aside as a Reserve for the Equalisation of Dividends of a sum not exceeding 2% p.a. on "A" Class capital (converted at Tariff exchange) ; but such Reserve not to exceed 9% on the "A" Class capital.
  (c) That any balance of net profits, after providing the above shall be set aside in "Tariff Revision Suspense Account" and invested in the business of the Company.
  (d) That on each periodical revision of Tariff, 1/5th of any balance at the credit of Tariff Revision Suspense Account shall be transferred to the credit of General Reserve Account (but this Reserve is never to exceed 5% of the fixed assets of the Company taken at cost).
  (e) That the Tariff should be revised on July 1, 1929, and thereafter quinquennially (or at lesser periods) when balances at the credit of "Tariff Revision" and "Dividend Equalization" Reserves would be taken into consideration.
  NOTE :—(The following documents are annexed to an Indenture dated June 19, 1929.)
(2) SCHEDULE "A" TO THE 1928 AGREEMENT, defined all charges, etc., for ascertaining the cost of water supplied to Shipping Consumers.
(3) SCHEDULE "B" TO THE 1928 AGREEMENT, defined all charges, etc., to be debited to "Extra Agreement Consumers' Account."
(4) SCHEDULE "C" TO THE 1928 AGREEMENT (as revised in 1929) defined the tariff of charges for water supplied to Intra-Agreement Consumers and for Municipal purposes, providing inter alia :—
  (a) FOR MUNICIPAL PURPOSES. Water supplied by meter to be charged at Tls. 0.30 per 1,000 Gallons. Water not supplied by meter to be charged at the same rate and the quantity ascertained as per Memorandum attached to the Schedule.
  (b) FOR DOMESTIC PURPOSES. Water supplied by meter to be charged as per Scales (See Clause 2). Water not supplied by meter to be charged at 6% on the Rent actually paid (or as assessed by the Council for taxation if premises owned by the consumer) up to a rental of Tls. 200 per month or moon ; and if such renta exceeds Tls. 200 then at 2% on the excess of Tls. 200 pe month or moon.
  (c) FOR NON-DOMESTIC PURPOSES.
  By meter as per scale (Clause 3) ranging from $0.30 per 1,000 Gallons for an excess of 1,000,000 Gallons to $0.50 per 1,000 Gallons for a supply up to 200,000 Gallons, with a minimum charge of $5 per meter.

NOTE re EXTRA-AGREEMENT CONSUMERS.

(It is to be noted that neither the above nor any other document governs the charges to be made to Extra-Agreement Consumers. The rates actually charged (by meter) are:—
$0.45 per 1,000 Gallons above 200,000 Gallons
$0.50 per 1,000 Gallons up to 200,000 Gallons
With a minimum of $5.00 per meter.

(5) AGREEMENT WITH THE COUNCIL, DATED FEBRUARY 28, 1930.

This Agreement substituted new conditions and charges for supply of water to a consumer using a private Well boring (Clause 4*b* of Tariff Agreement) and altered Clause 6 of Schedule "C" re cost of Hydrants.

(6) SURCHARGE AGREEMENT, DATED DECEMBER 11, 1930.

This document referred to Schedule "C" (see No. 4 above); it extended the existing Tariff period to December 31, 1931, and provided for a surcharge of 25% on all accounts rendered (as from September, 1930) for water supplied:—

(i) For Municipal Purposes.
(ii) To Intra-Agreement Consumers
(iii) On fees and charges mentioned in Clause 4*b* of the 1928 Tariff Agreement.

Such surcharge to be reconsidered as on January 1, 1932, or in the event of the Sterling value of the Shanghai Tael appreciating to two shillings (2/-) prior to that date.

NOTE re SURCHARGE TO EXTRA-AGREEMENT CONSUMERS.

(The Company also applied the surcharge to all Extra-Agreement Consumers, excepting these in the area North of the Settlement, this exception being due to negotiations then pending for supply to that area by the Chapei Company.)

The Revenue collected in accordance with the above arrangements (and for one year prior thereto) has been as follows:—

PART III.

Prior to the Surcharge Agreement of December, 1930, no objection of any importance to the Tariff Charges was made either by Chinese or foreign consumers. The surcharge was accepted without any considerable comment by foreign consumers but definite objections were raised by the Chinese Ratepayers' Association, who were finally invited to send delegates for the inspection and consideration of the facts and figures on which the Surcharge was based. Before dealing with the results of our own investigations, it may, therefore, be advisable to deal shortly with the Report of the Chinese delegates, since we have as far as possible taken this into consideration before arriving at our conclusions.

REPORT BY DELEGATES OF THE CHINESE RATEPAYERS ASSOCIATION (DATED NOVEMBER 21, 1930).

(1) Figures relative to cost of supply.—It appears to us that the delegates considered the figures placed before them without having regard to the fact that different methods of charging out expenditure were used during the years concerned. If these differences are adjusted as in Schedule I attached, the main increases will be found to be as stated later in our report (See Part IV, Pages 11-13). Also, in order to arrive at the net cost of production under the main headings of Supply, Distribution and Management, we consider that further adjustments should be made as shown in Schedule 5 attached to our Report. The conclusions we have arrived at in dealing with these Schedules therefore differ considerably from those of the Chinese delegates.

(2) Bonus Shares.—The issues of Bonus Shares criticized by the Chinese delegates were as follows:—

(a) 1921 issue of 30,048 shares of £20 each (i.e., 1 share in 10 on all existing shares).

This was an issue out of part of the Reserves derived from Premium on Shares. Having regard to the origin of the capital concerned and the high rate of exchange then ruling (which reduced the return to Shareholders receiving dividends in Taels)we cannot see any objection to the course then taken by the Company to which no objection was raised by the Council.

(b) 1926 issue of 6,706 shares of £20 each (i.e., 1 share in 5 on all existing shares).

When the principle of fixed cumulative dividends was accepted for the purposes of the 1926 "Preliminary Agreement" the Council agreed that existing Reserves which had been created out of Profits (and not from accretions in value of Capital Assets) should be considered as part of the Capital of the Company and converted into Bonus Shares accordingly. Having regard to the fact that, had these profits been paid out in dividends, the Capital of the Company would have had to be increased by public subscription, we consider that the arrangement arrived at between the Council and the Company was fair and reasonable.

We must, however, add that in our opinion the lack of Reserves since 1927 has probably to some extent prejudiced the Company's finances.

(3) Rates of Interest paid and payable on Share Capital.—We do not consider that any particular importance need be attached to the rates of interest paid to shareholders in years prior to 1926: these were to a great extent off-set by high exchange, and, being paid on profits made from a comparatively low Tariff of Charges were not then objected to either by the Council or by consumers.

The fixed cumulative dividend on "A" Shares of 9% on a Sterling basis obviously appears high under existing conditions but at the time of the 1926 Preliminary Agreement it was considered reasonable, having regard to past returns and the rates of interest then ruling, and the question of compensation for the future restriction of dividends. It is to be noted that "B" Shares were restricted to 7% and that when 167,650 of these were offered for subscription only 108,505 were taken up. Having regard to this, it is not surprising that when further capital had to be raised by the issue of "C" Shares, which would not share in any Bonus from Shipping Profits, etc., the Council consented to the rate of interest being increased to 8% (instead of 7% as proposed in the Tariff Agreement).

Speaking generally, the return on capital allowed by the Council has in every case been reasonable, having regard to all circumstances at the time of the arrangement, and the cost of these dividends has only thrown an unfair burden on the Company and the consumers owing to exchange conditions which have since arisen.

(4) The Waterworks Fittings Company.—The transfer of the Fittings Department to a separate Company prior to giving effect to the arrangement for fixed and cumulative dividends appears to us to have been a fair and logical step to take. The continuance of this organization as a Department of the Waterworks Company would have laid the Council open to the charge of subsidizing a competitive trade and a warning to this effect was actually received from members of the trade. The total capital of the Company was in effect reduced by the transfer of the Department and as no contribution of any sort to the Fittings Company comes out of the water rates we can see no objection to the arrangement made.

(5) Costs and Charges stated to be excessive.—In place of criticizing the opinions expressed by the delegates in detail, we will next consider the revised Schedule of Costs (for the reasons stated in Paragraph (1) above) stating our opinion concerning the increases referred to.

PART IV.—EXPENDITURE.

The increased scale of charges appears to us to have been made necessary to cover the following :—

(1) Increased cost of water supply generally, due to many varied factors of which the depreciated value of silver is one.

(2) Increased cost of providing the fixed and cumulative dividends on Sterling Share Capital in which the prevailing factor is the depreciated value of silver.

(1) Increased Cost of Water Supply.

Schedule I attached shows the gross cost of water pumped over a period of five years from 1926 to 1930 inclusive. For purposes of comparison with the conclusions arrived at in the Report of the Chinese Delegates, we have accepted the totals considered by them, merely arranging the details in a uniform manner and advancing the period covered by one year to include the 1930 accounts which were completed since their investigation.

To allow for increases due to expansions of the service, we have prepared statistics based on the annual pumpage in Millions of Gallons. While it must be admitted that such statistics have little practical value when regarded as a costing basis we submit that they have some value for comparative purposes if regard is had to the fact that all costs in the nature of stable overheads should normally show a decreasing cost on an increasing supply.

It must also be remembered that, as only about 27% of the whole output is metered, the Company is to a great extent selling "water service" and not "quantity of water" so that the quantity pumped rather than the quantity metered bears a closer relation to the charges involved than would otherwise be the case.

Before considering the results shown by Schedule I in detail, it is further necessary to note, that while the totals from 1927 onwards will be found to agree with the published accounts, those for 1926 can only be submitted subject to several adjustments owing to the different manner in which the published accounts were then prepared.

The main items in this Schedule showing exceptional increases or decreases are as follows :—

Supply Costs.

(1) Fuel and Power.—The actual cost per ton of Fuel (Coal and Oil) has increased as shown in Schedule II attached, while the cost of Electricity has been reduced. The whole outlay on Fuel and Power (apart from the cost per M. G.) has been reduced since 1926, owing to the use of more economical units. The decreased cost per M. G. notwithstanding the increased cost per ton, shown in 1930 may, therefore, be said to be due to :—

(a) Use of more economical units.
(b) Decrease in cost of Electric Power.
(c) Economy due to increased pumpage.

(2) Maintenance Charges.—The abnormal increase in the 1930 cost is mainly due to exceptional charges such as the abandonment of an outshore intake (owing to difficulties caused to navigation) and the repairs necessary to paths owing to damage done by new works. Having regard to increased costs of labour and material we do not consider the total cost of Tls. 5.097 per M. G. to be unreasonable.

(3) Salaries and Wages.—The greatest increase appears in the year 1930 when the fall in exchange caused an all-round increase in the cost of Salaries, as explained later under the main heading of Management.

(4) Laboratory Expenses.—Considerably greater expenditure has been entered into owing to the increased pollution of the source of supply and the consequent necessity for the instalment of a Laboratory staffed with qualified technicians. Research work was commenced on an augmented scale in 1930 under advice from an outside expert. Additional expense on research work has also been considered advisable with a view to meeting in advance problems other than the pollution of the River.

(5) Strike Emergency Charges.—The vital importance of the water service makes it advisable to employ Russian foremen and a skeleton staff of foreign assistants capable of carrying on in the event of a strike. Expenditure of this nature is to a great extent not within the control of the Management, and it is to be noted that effective strikes on a large scale are a modern innovation, particularly following the political troubles of 1927.

Distribution Costs.

General.—Items under this heading do not appear to call for any particular comment not already included in the above remarks. Cost of Hydrant maintenance is now paid in full by the Municipal Council.

Cost of Waste Detection has been deducted in total from Distribution costs and is dealt with later in a separate note.

Management.

(1) Salaries and Wages.—It is to be noted that all figures under this heading in Schedule I include cost of Superannuation, Passage and all benefits as per contracts.

The increases here appear normal with the following exceptions :—

(a) Increase in 1927 from Tls. 207,863 to Tls. 285,704.

The main increases were :

	Tls.
Additional Staff charged to Management	21,640
Increase in Benefits	8,113
Increase in Passages	20,655
Consulting Engineer's fee (Special)	3,643
	Tls. 54,051
Balance of increase due to normal causes	23,790
Total Increase	Tls. 77,841

It is to be noted that the heavy increase in Passages was mainly fortuitous owing to the large number of employees falling due for long leave in 1927.

(b) Increase in 1930 from Tls. 337,635 to Tls. 456,201.

Owing to the fall in exchange in 1930, the Company agreed to pay the salaries of the permanent staff on the basis that half the Tael Salary is valued at 2*s.* 6*d.* per Tael and reconverted into local currency at market rate or at 1*s.* 4*d.* per Tael whichever may be the higher, a similar practice having also been adopted by the Municipal Council, as well as by other Utility Companies and commercial concerns. Presuming that current market rate is 1*s.* 4*d.* per Tael, this means an all-round increase of 43.75% in net salaries, but the same adjustment does not apply to all other benefits.

In this connection it is to be noted that the similar adjustment made by the Municipal Council is applied to one-third of the Tael Salary only, and this will be referred to later in our recommendations.

We have examined a full list of all Salaries and Allowances paid to foreign members of the permanent staff as at March 31, 1931 (exchange allowance excluded). While the salaries are in many cases higher than those paid in mercantile firms and other services (though in few cases higher than those paid to similarly qualified employees of the Municipal Council) they cannot, in our opinion, in any case be considered excessive, having regard to the responsibility, skill and experience called for by the exigencies of this service.

Schedule III gives an indication of the increased payments made to the Chinese staff, summarized in Taels, in which currency they are entered in the books, while the following table shows the increased average cost of Chinese wages, calculated in local Dollars, this being the currency in which they are actually paid :—

TABLE OF AVERAGE MONTHLY WAGES (Chinese).

Grade	1926	1930	Increase
Skilled ..	$39.05	$44.74	14.58%
Semi-skilled	23.85	27.79	16.52%
Unskilled ..	13.46	19.53	45.09%

It is interesting to compare the above increases with the following figures quoted by the General Manager of the Bank of China in his report for the year 1930. He states that the cost of living for wage earners has increased in the following manner :—

Year 1926, basic cost 100
" 1930, " " 121.4

It is also to be noted that the incidence of the increased costs falls more heavily on the lowest wage earners owing to the higher proportion of rent and other standing charges in their total expenditure. It would, therefore, appear that the increased wages paid to Chinese by the Company are reasonable and justifiable.

(2) London Office Expenses.—These expenses being incurred in Sterling, the fall in exchange accounts for the abnormal increase in 1930.

WASTE DETECTION.

General.—Cost of Waste Inspection has been segregated for separate consideration, since this form of expenditure could be increased or decreased at will. It tends to increase as the service expands and is only limited by the sum which the Engineer-in-Chief considers should be spent, having due regard to the probable resulting economy.

ADJUSTED STATISTICS re COST OF WATER SUPPLY.

We have stated above our reasons for basing our criticisms on the figures for gross expenditure (as supplied to the Chinese Ratepayers' Association delegates) but we consider that summarized results can better be considered if these figures are further adjusted.

Schedule IV attached shows total figures which have been adjusted in the following manner :—

(1) Expenditure subsequently transferred to Capital has been deducted.

(2) Profit and Loss items of a recurring nature such as Directors' and Auditors' Fees have been deducted.

(3) Payments subsequently recovered (and included in Revenue) have been adjusted.

(4) Appropriate transfers of Salaries as between Supply, Distribution and Management have been made.

The total cost of water service may then be summarized for comparative purposes as follows :—

	Average years 1926-1928 Per M.G.	Year 1930 Per M.G.	Estimated for year 1931 Per M.G.
Supply ..	43.607	45.086	48.822
Distribution	7.626	8.454	10.771
Waste Detection	2.158	3.117	3.630
Management ..	17.051	26.217	34.240
Taels	70.452	82.874	97.463
			56.062
			11.849
			4.349
			37.683
			109.943

As we have noted above, the heaviest increase appears under the heading of "Salaries and Wages" and consequently causes the most apparent increase in Cost of Management where the exchange factor has the most direct effect.

On the other hand, the actual cost of Management may be said to have increased from about 25% of the whole cost of supply in 1926 to about 35% of the whole cost in 1930 and 35% of the estimated cost for 1931, which appears to be a reasonable increase having regard to the following table of average exchange rates ruling :—

Year	Average rate of Exchange
1926	2/9.542
1927	2/6.302
1928	2/7.420
1929	2/4.530
1930	1/8.393
1931	1/3 (estimated average)

(2) INCREASED COST OF PROVIDING DIVIDENDS.

Schedule V attached shows all dividends paid for the period from January 1, 1926, to December 31, 1930. The figures, however, require some adjustment since the following matters affect the main issue :—

(a) Bonuses paid from Shipping and Extra Agreement profits do not directly affect the whole cost of water supplied, and may, therefore, be eliminated.

(b) Dividends short-paid out of any year's profits are better adjusted to show the actual cost of dividend for each year.

(c) Transfers to and from Equalization of Dividends Account may be eliminated since this account was entirely exhausted at December 31, 1930.

The following table shows the Profits earned (excluding Shipping, etc.), and the disposal thereof in dividends for the period 1926-1930. (Note :—Final Dividend for 1930, paid in 1931, is included to agree the final balance as shown in the published Report for the year 1930).

TABLE SHOWING SUMMARY OF PROFITS AND THEIR DISPOSAL.

	Net Profits Earned Tls.	Cost of Dividends Paid Tls.
1926 ..	614,246.45	518,684.34
1927 ..	576,848.50	576,191.73
1928 ..	976,217.20	692,223.65
1929 ..	925,461.36	860,226.85
1930 ..	1,065,002.16	1,444,196.14
	4,157,775.67	4,061,522.71

Omitting all transfers to and from Equalization of Dividends Account, the above may be summarized and agreed with the Report for 1930 as follows :—

	Tls.
Balance forward from 1925 account	35,377.04
Net Profits earned 1926-1930	4,157,775.67
	Tls. 4,193,152.71
Deduct :—
Transfer from 1926 Profits to "Reserves Appropriation Account" for the purposes of Clause 5 of the Preliminary Agreement with the Council (28/9/26)	130,939.15
Profits available for Distribution	4,062,213.56
Cost of Dividends distributed	4,061,522.71
Balance as per Report for 1930 .. .. ..Tls.	690.85

It will thus be seen that practically all Profits have been distributed, and all dividends paid as per agreement, excepting only the amount of £0.025% on the "A" Share dividend for 1930 (estimated cost at Ex. 1/3 = £201. 3. 7*d.* = Tls. 3,218.87) which is adjusted in the next table.

TABLE SHOWING ADJUSTED COST OF DIVIDENDS.

If we assume that each fixed Dividend were paid as and when payable and charged to the working account of the Company as part of the "Cost of Supply" under the heading of "Interest" we should find the following results :—

	Dividend in £ £	Cost in Taels Tls.	Cost per M. G. Tls.
1926	67,060.00	518,684.34	41.982
1927	79,342.00	619,756.99	51.055
1928	80,220.15	618,658.39	48.598
1929	90,853.98	860,226.85	65.426
1930	100,020.15	1,447,415.01	101.076
1931 (est.) (at Ex. 1/3)	100,020.15	1,600,322.40	101.607

From the above we find that while the actual Share Capital involved has increased by about 50% since 1926 the cost of interest payable thereon in 1931 is trebled.

Cost of Interest on Debentures, Etc.

General.—Interest on Debenture capital has remained entirely stable during the period under review, but the interest charge on capital in local currency has varied according to the sum of interest earned or paid on current cash in hand (or overdraft).

The actual net figures may be summarized as follows :—

Table Showing Cost of Interest (Net) on Tael Capital Involved.

	Cost in Taels Tls.	Cost per M. G. Tls.
1926 ..	294,933.29	23.871
1927 ..	310,713.03	25.596
1928 ..	302,168.09	23.736
1929 ..	247,885.41	18.853
1930 ..	229,755.49	16.743

The reduction in cost per Million Gallons pumped naturally follows the increased pumpage, since the capital involved is practically stable and the above figures are therefore only of service when considered in conjunction with the combined figures including, Cost of Supply, Cost of Sterling Capital and Cost of Local Capital, which will next be given.

Part V.—Conclusions and Recommendations.

On examining the last Table in Part IV hereof, we find only two abnormal increases in cost which in our opinion require particular comment, having regard to all circumstances previously indicated. These are the increases in cost of Management and Dividends on Share Capital.

(1) Management.—The somewhat abnormal rise in cost of Management in 1927 has already been dealt with, and following this the increase may be regarded as normal in view of the decreasing value of silver and the gradual introduction of a more highly qualified, and consequently more highly paid, technical staff to deal with the increasing difficulties and problems caused by purely local conditions. Among such conditions may be mentioned, the recurrence of strikes; increased pollution; increased efficiency and economy called for by the rising cost of supplies and the necessity to deal with a growing demand without involving additional expenditure on land for filter beds, etc. The abnormal increase in 1930 appears to us to be entirely due to the sudden drop in exchange (as previously explained), and, if this had not occurred, it appears probable that an actual economy in costs might have been effected. In this connection it is important to note that Chinese Salaries and Wages have increased owing to the present higher cost of living, though in a lesser degree, since the foreign employee is more directly affected by a fall in exchange.

Having regard, therefore, to all known circumstances, we conclude that the increased cost of Management, while being abnormal, is entirely explicable on the lines mentioned above, and may, therefore, be considered as reasonable.

(2) Cost of Dividends on Share Capital.—The increased cost due to (a) increase in Capital required and (b) the fluctuation in value of silver, appears fairly normal until the year 1930 when the silver slump began, although the average rate for 1930 was 1/8.393, it must be remembered that the final dividends for the year could not be paid until the Tael rate had further receded to 1/3¾, thus making the difference between the dividends paid for 1930 and those estimated for 1931 less than might be anticipated.

The whole crux of the matter would appear to be in this question; that the Company has a Sterling capital on which dividends are guaranteed under the Tariff Agreement in Sterling, while the fluctuation of the Silver market is an unknown quantity.

We can, therefore, only conclude that so long as the present agreement remains in force, the price of water to the consumer will be largely dependent upon the price of silver. This state of affairs can only be remedied in part, in so far as any new capital required to meet a growing demand can be raised in local currency instead of in Sterling. Presuming this can be done, it is obvious that as the proportion of Silver Capital to the whole Capital involved increases, the dead-weight of the loss on Sterling capital under the existing Tariff Agreement will be decreased accordingly. The present effect of the incidence of exchange is clearly indicated when we note that the total increase in all costs for 1930 (over the cost for 1929) was Tls. 45.673 per M. G. of which Tls. 35.650 was due to extra cost of Dividends (Note: Increase in capital being theoretically off-set by increase in pumpage).

Finally, with the total cost of production in 1930 increased by 26.92% over the 1929 cost it is obvious that the 25% surcharge was justified under existing circumstances.

Note :—Re Estimates for 1931.—These are based on estimates given by the Company while the estimated pumpage is taken at 5% above that for 1930 with a further allowance of 5% for Extraordinary Demand as suggested by the Engineer-in-Chief. It is particularly to be noted that no allowance has been made for interest or dividends on additional Capital required, so that the total estimated cost per Million Gallons must be regarded as a rough guide only.

Recommendations.

(1) Supply.—Referring to the first of the objects of this Report (see Page 3), we note the words "..... in particular in finding out whether the cost of water to consumers can be reduced."

We have already inferred above that in our opinion the cost of Supply is regulated as economically as possible having regard to the necessity for efficiency and to the difficulties due to local conditions. The remainder of this part of the problem, therefore, appears to us to be purely an engineering question, and we can only recommend that the policy already adopted by the Engineer-in-Chief who has introduced the system of rapid filtration, the use of more economical units and other general improvements, should as far as possible be implemented under outside expert advice.

(2) Distribution and Waste Detection.—We recommend the careful consideration of the Engineer-in-Chief's report dated October 8, 1930, on the subject of General Metering, particularly having regard to its bearing on the very costly waste of water by certain sections of the consumers, and the consequent increased cost of supply to all consumers. The scheme therein adumbrated estimates a minimum annual (gross) saving of Tls.288,000 from which must be deducted the net annual cost (including deprociation and interest) Tls.115,000, leaving a net annual saving of Tls.173,000. Of this sum Tls.40,000 p.a. would be in respect of Waste Detection and the balance would be a relief to the general cost of supply.

(3) MANAGEMENT.—(a) Personnel.—We have already stated that the increased cost of management is not abnormal having regard to the highly-qualified European technicians employed to obtain the highest possible efficiency, and the incidence of the Silver slump on their salaries. The only possible innovation to counteract this increasing cost would be the gradual introduction of properly qualified Chinese engineers and technicians who could (if obtainable) be employed more economically owing to their cost of living not being so directly affected by exchange, and their not requiring Home leave, provision of passages, superannuation, medical attendance, etc. We hesitate, however, to make this recommendation at the present time in view of the following circumstances :—

(i) At the present time it would appear almost impossible to obtain Chinese engineers and technicians with the required experience of Waterworks management.

(ii) The political situation is such that while the Waterworks Company remains under foreign ownership and management, Chinese officials could hardly be depended upon in the event of a general strike or serious political trouble, since they might at any time be forced to cease work even against their own desire.

We would recommend, therefore that no change be made in the general personnel of the management until such time as China may have settled down to conditions approximating those which exist to-day in Europe and America.

(b) Salary Scales and Allowances. —While we have stated that salaries now paid cannot be regarded as excessive, we consider that an adjustment of the exchange allowance to the same basis as that applied by the Municipal Council should in due course be effected. The system of grading all staff agreements under the main headings of "Local" and "Abroad" as adopted by the Municipal Council also appears to be fair and reasonable, and we would recommend the adoption of similar methods by the Company, as regards future engagements of foreign employees, with a view to ultimate economy in staff emoluments. (See Municipal Council's "General Terms and Conditions of Service, Foreign Employees," dated December 18, 1930.)

(4) CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS.—The Engineer-in-Chief's estimates of capital required for the next three years are as follows :—

1931 £84,271 (at 1/3) Tls.
and Tls. 911,520 . . =2,264,356
1932 £34,677 (at 1/3)
and Tls. 907,400
(less credit for scrap).=1,423,882
1933 £28,940 (at 1/3)
(less credit for scrap).=1,165,220

It will be noted from the above estimates that both Silver and Sterling funds are required, the latter for the purchase of plant in Europe, and if stable exchange conditions could be depended upon it would not matter in which currency these funds were raised. Having regard to the possibility of a further fall in silver values, and the fact that the Company's revenue is entirely on a silver basis, it would appear to be obviously the safest course to raise capital in the same currency. The possible methods of doing this would appear to be :

(a) By a local issue of Tael Debentures, at a cost of 5½% to 6% per annum (plus cost of service).

(b) By increasing the Company's share capital in Taels if this should prove to be legally possible.

(c) By forming a subsidiary financing company with a Tael capital to lend money to the parent company, at a rate approximating the current rate for Debentures.

(a) Debenture Issues.—The Company is to some extent handicapped in the issue of new Debentures by the existing Trust Deed giving a floating charge on all assets ; the net (depreciated) value of fixed assets to-day is about Tls. 14,700,000 against debenture issues totalling Tls. 4,000,000, of which Tls. 2,500,000 are at 8%, Tls. 1,000,000 at 7% and Tls. 500,000 at 6%. We, therefore, recommend that all these debentures be paid off at the earliest possible date and that any new Trust Deed should as far as possible permit the issue of succeeding Debentures to rank pari passu with all former issues subject to a reasonable margin on a revaluation of assets.

(b) Increase of Capital in Taels.—There appears to be some legal difficulty in connection with the increase of capital on a Silver basis and, if the expense of overcoming this should prove considerable, we recommend that the raising of Capital through a subsidiary Company should be substituted.

(c) Subsidiary Company.—The formation of a subsidiary Company to finance the parent Company in Silver currency might prove a considerable advantage, but it would appear that some arrangement would be necessary to guarantee payment of interest if this is to be lower than the guaranteed dividend on Sterling share capital and consequently more commensurate with the rate now ruling for debentures. Such interest would be cumulative and should be made payable in preference to dividends on Sterling capital. The main advantage of such a deposit of capital would be its permanence and consequent freedom from redemption charges, the deposit being repayable only in the event of liquidation, when it should, in our opinion, have priority over existing share Capital.

(d) Sterling Short Term Notes.—Since we arrived at the conclusions summarized above, we have been informed that an offer has been received from the Company's bankers to advance sums up to £200,000 at 6½% p.a., against short term notes repayable after 5 and within 10 years, and that the Directors have decided to accept this offer up to £100,000 for the current year. One possible advantage of this arrangement is that, in the event of exchange rising, the notes could be redeemed at a profit by an issue of Tael Debentures. We also realize that if large sums have to be raised there is some advantage in having both Silver and Sterling indebtedness so as to average theoretical profits or losses in the event of either a rise or a fall in Silver values. Having carefully considered this method of finance, we may now summarize our views as stated in the following paragraph (e).

(e) General (re Capital).—Our general conclusion is that where a Company such as this has its Revenue in Silver, its Capital should as far as possible also be in Silver ; reference to the files of the Finance Department of the Municipal Council show that this opinion has also been expressed on several occasions by the Treasurer and Controller. The most economical method of raising such capital by the various means indicated above, must depend on market conditions from time to time.

The raising of a limited amount of Capital by Sterling short term notes (as now proposed by the Company) appears reasonable in view of the present financial position, provided that the Company's option to repay is so arranged as to place it in the best possible position to take advantage of future exchange fluctuations. In the absence of a favourable repayment option, we adhere to our recommendation that all new capital should be raised in Silver.

In concluding this Report we wish to express our appreciation of the unvarying courtesy and assistance extended to us by the Engineer-in-Chief and Manager, and The Secretary and Deputy Manager, and their respective Staffs, during the course of our enquiries.

APPENDIX No. II.

Report of the Auditors Appointed by the Shanghai Chinese Ratepayers Association and the Shanghai Realty Owners Association on the Financial Records of the Shanghai Waterworks Company, Limited. Dated November 21, 1930.

(Translation.)

I.—ORIGIN OF THE AUDIT.

The examination of the financial records of the Shanghai Waterworks Co. Ltd. by a delegation of the Chinese Organizations had its inception at the end of September of the current year when the proposal of the Company to impose a surcharge of 25% on the existing water rate beginning from September, 1930, met with stern opposition on the part of the residents of the International Settlement of Shanghai. The undersigned, being members of the delegation appointed concurrently by the Shanghai Chinese Ratepayers Association and the Shanghai Realty Owners Association to conduct the said inspection, have from the end of September allotted more than a month's time in carrying out an investigation into the financial records and relative papers of the Company from 1915 to 1929. The examination is now completed after an intermission of about three weeks which time was taken by the Company to prepare and finish their audited Balance Sheet and Working Account for the first half year of 1930 for the examination of the delegation in compliance with the latter's request. The report of the delegation is hereby submitted to the members of the Associations for their candid consideration. (The Balance Sheets and Profit and Loss Statements of the Company for the past 15 years are attached hereto.)

II.—THE COMPANY'S REASON FOR THE SURCHARGE.

The reason for the surcharge as advanced by the Company is that as a result of exchange depreciation, the Company's payment of dividends on their shares which are issued in terms of gold will experience an unexpected increase, and a portion of their expenditure has for the same reason grown with unusual acceleration. The net profit of the Company is not sufficient to meet both their dividend payment and expenditure and the deficiency can be made up by no other way than the imposition of a surcharge on the water rates.

The issued capital of the Company is £1,163,225, and the fixed dividends on their shares per annum amount to £100,020.15, which at exchange 1s 6d is equivalent to Tls. 1,333,602. The income of the Company for the current year is estimated to be Tls. 2,600,000, and the net profit Tls. 689,029 which, plus Tls. 379,884 standing to the credit of Equalization of Dividends Account still leaves a deficit of Tls. 264,689 after dividend payment. This deficit, if allowed to be carried forward to 1931, will, plus the fixed dividends for that year (also at exchange 1s 6d), reach a total of Tls. 1,598,291. The income estimated for 1931 is Tls. 2,780,000 which, after deducting the necessary expenditure, will leave a net profit of only Tls. 542,000. This net profit cannot meet the above mentioned requirement of Tls. 1,598,291 by Tls. 1,056,291. To meet this shortage a surcharge of 30.80% is needed to be effective from October, 1930, to the end of 1931. This is the reason advanced by the Company for the imposition of water surcharge as based on the Company's estimate calculated at the exchange rate of 1s 6d to a tael, the imposition being looked upon as a necessary step toward the increase of the income of the Company for alleviation of the deficit in the Company's budget. (The Shanghai Municipal Council in sanctioning the 25% surcharge to be effective from September, 1930, to December, 1931, has made it a condition that the whole question will be reconsidered in the event of the sterling tael exchange appreciating to 2/-.)

III.—THE RESULTS OF THE EXAMINATION.

The examination reveals :

A. That the dividends paid by the Company to their "A" shareholders were in the past too lucrative ;

B. That the rate of cumulative dividend at present payable on the Company's "A" shares is sanctioned and fixed by the Shanghai Municipal Council, and in point of reality the dividends received by the shareholders are in no way less than before but have distinct protection ; and

C. That the increase of the expenditure of the Company is startling in certain respects.

The following facts will substantiate Statement A :

1. The average dividend on the "A" shares of the Company for the past 15 years was more than 10%.

The following table gives the dividend rates on the Company's "A" shares for the past 15 years :

Year	Dividends	Bonus	Extra-Agreement Dividend	Total
	%	%	%	%
1915 ..	12.00	.50		12.50
1916 ..	12.00	1.125		13.125
1917 ..	12.00	2.50		14.50
1918 ..	12.00	0.625		12.625
1919 ..	12.50	5.00		17.50
1920 ..	12.50	0.50		13.00
1921 ..	10.00			10.00
1922 ..	7.50			7.50
1923 ..	5.00			5.00
1924 ..	10.00			10.00
1925 ..	10.00	1.25		11.25
1926 ..	10.00			10.00
1927 ..	8.30		1.56	9.86
1928 ..	9.70		1.56	11.26
1929 ..	9.00		1.29	10.29

The average rate of dividends for the past 15 years is 11.23% ; for the past ten years, 9.82% ; and for the past five years, 10.53%, which percentages represent dividends and bonuses formally paid.

2. The Company have made two issues of bonus shares :

The Company issued bonus shares in 1921 and 1926 which aggregate 9754 shares of a total of £194,080 and constitute upwards of 24% of the Company's "A" shares (3048 bonus shares in 1921 at £20 each totalling £60,960 ; and 6706 bonus shares in 1926 at £20 each totalling £134,120). These bonus shares were issued against Reserves and were allotted to the "A" shareholders in proportion to the shares they respectively held. A large portion of the Reserves was derived from premiums of the new shares issued and sold above par from time to time while the other portion was from net profits accumulated with years. That the investors were willing to buy the Company's new shares above par was due to (1) good credit of the Company (2) security of investment in public utility enterprise and (3) high dividends paid annually. The premiums thus received by the Company were placed to reserve account and constitute a portion of the Reserves. While the premiums were paid by new shareholders, the allocation of the bonus shares was made to the old and new shareholders alike. The issue of the bonus shares is therefore tantamount to the distribution of the Reserves and cannot be interpreted as a return of premium to those shareholders who actually paid it at the time of subscription. In addition to fixed dividends the holders of the Company's "A" shares receive annually dividend payments on these two issues of bonus shares. In 1929, the return on the "A" shares and the bonus "A" shares respectively consisted of a fixed dividend of 9% and a bonus of 1.29% making a total of 10.29%. If there were no such bonus shares, the dividend on the original "A" shares alone would have amounted to 13.50%, a very remunerative return on any investment.

3. The "A" shareholders of the Company are simultaneously holders of the shares of the Shanghai Waterworks Fittings Co., Ltd.

Before 1926, the Company had attached to it a Fittings Department. In compliance with an agreement between the Council and the Company to make the Department an independent organisation, the assets of the Department amounting to Tls. 201,180 were set apart to form the Shanghai Waterworks Fittings Co. Ltd., and 201,180 shares of Tls. 1 each in the Fittings Company to which the Waterworks Company was entitled in consequence of the sale of the Fittings Department were set free for distribution as an accretion of capital among the holders of the Company's "A" shares. As the business of the Fittings Company proves to be prosperous in recent years, the return on their shares has been remunerative and constitutes again an extra income to the "A" shareholders of the Waterworks Company.

The following facts will substantiate Statement B :

1. The fixed dividends are sanctioned by the Council :

The paid up capital of the Company is at present £1,163,225 which is divided into "A" shares, "B" shares and "C" shares. There are 40,236 "A" shares of £20 each which constitute some 70% of the entire capital and enjoy the best return at present. There are 108,505 "B" shares of £1 each which were issued since 1926 and constitute now less than 10% of the entire capital. The 250,000 "C" shares of £1 each were issued in 1929 which constitute now more than 20% of the entire capital. In the agreement of March 17, 1928, between the Council and the Company which is to run for 20 years, the dividends on the "A" shares are fixed at 9% with bonus benefits, those on the "B" shares at 7% with the same benefits and those on the "C" shares at 8% without such benefits.

2. The payment of bonus is permitted by the Council :

The agreement provides that the tariff of water charges in force in the Settlement should be sanctioned by the Council but charges for water supplied to extra-Settlement and shipping consumers are left at the discretion of the Company. The net profits derived by the Company from sales to such consumers are allotted to the holders of the above mentioned "A" and "B" shares as bonus. Such bonus was 1.56% in 1928 and 1.29% in 1929. The actual return on "A" shares therefore exceeds the fixed 9% while that on the "B" shares, the fixed 7%.

The following table shows the rates of actual dividends paid on the "A" shares in the past two years :

Year	Dividends from Fixed Extra-Agreement and Shipping Consumers' Account		Total dividends
1928	9.00%	1.56%	10.56%
1929	9.00%	1.29%	10.29%

(NOTE :—Besides, there was an additional 7% dividend to make up the shortage in 1927.)

Although the above rates show slight difference between these and the average dividend rate of 10.67% for the ten year period beginning 1918 and ending 1927, increase is perceivable if they are compared with the average dividend rate of 9.22% for the five year period from 1923 to 1927. In former days, the dividends of the Company were left unprotected, but after the agreement of March, 1928, came into force they are practically guaranteed to the shareholders by the municipal authorities.

3. Dividends on the shares of the Shanghai Waterworks Fittings Company are permitted by the Council :

In (3) above, it has been pointed out that the shares of the Fittings Company were allotted to the "A" shareholders of the Waterworks Company. The net profits of the Fittings Company are thus regularly distributed to them with the permission of the Council.

The following facts will substantiate Statement C :

The total supply of water by the Company in 1925 was 10,809,519,328 gallons and in 1929 13,147,724,477 gallons. The rate of increase of production for the past five years is therefore approximately 22%. But the increase in the working cost of the Company is much greater as shown in the following table :

Year	"Supply" Tls.	"Distribution" Tls.	"Management" Tls.	Total Tls.
1925	490,563.03	102,986.31	270,362.69	863,912.03
1926	535,409.62	114,879.99	316,686.89	966,975.51
1927	571,415.44	114,952.23	432,055.06	1,118,422.73
1928	501,466.21	134,363.34	464,807.44	1,100,636.99
1929	565,598.78	156,460.89	513,450.00	1,235,479.67
Rate of Increase between 1925 and 1929 ..	15%	52%	90%	43%

According to the above table, the rate of increase of the various groups of expenditure except "Supply" exceeds that of production by a wide margin. If the detailed items of expenditure are closely scrutinized the rate of increase of some of them is found to be startling. For instance, "Salaries and Wages" under "Management" from 1925 to 1930 is as follows :

1925	Tls. 150,333.85
1926	185,046.58
1927	234,147.78
1928	256,693.88
1929	283,636.60
1930 1st half ..	187,181.97
1930 2nd half ..	224,617.28

The rate of increase between 1925 and 1929 is 89% and that between the first half of the current year and the corresponding period of 1929 is 32%. In the estimate for the latter half of 1930 the Company is prepared to grant a new increase of 20% over the scale prevailing in the first half year of 1930. If this estimate is carried out, "Salaries and Wages" under "Management" for the second half of 1930 will be three times as much as those in force in the corresponding period of 1925. Although the salaries of some of the high officers of the Company are on a gold basis and there will naturally be an increase following the silver slump, the increase in salary payment in recent years should in no way be so startling. The following shows the increase of Maintenance and Repairs Expenditure under "Supply".

1925	Tls. 11,094.83
1926	10,876.95
1927	83,966.03
1928	83,260.76
1929	98,960.11

The expenditure under this item in 1929 is 9 times as much as that in 1925, notwithstanding the fact that in the same period fixed assets, such as buildings, engines, boilers and mains (land excepted), of the Company experienced an increase of only 14% and the production of water an increase of only 22%. Nor can this increase be attributed to depreciated exchange, for the average exchange rate for 1925 was 3/1½ per tael and that for 1929 2/4 19/32 per tael, which means that the rate of depreciation was only 31%. Besides this item, the passage money for foreign employees and General Charges and Office Expenses under "Management" have experienced considerable increase in the same period. These facts give us grave doubt as to whether the Company has practised as much economy as possible in their administration.

IV.—Opinions After Examination.

1. According to what has been dealt with above at length the dividends on the "A" shares of the Company (constituting 70% of the capital) either in the past or at the present are as a whole lucrative. Besides dividend on the shares of the Fittings Company and the bonus shares, the fixed dividend and bonus alone received by holders of "A" shares already exceed 10% per annum. Such a remunerative return on investment in a public utility enterprise enjoying monopoly is seldom seen elsewhere. The fact that the "A" shares (Bonus shares are the same) were in the first half of this year sold at the neighbourhood of £25 each on the London market (25% above par) shows that the investors regard the investment to be quite remunerative.

2. Operators of a public utility should see to it that the expenditure of their concern is reduced to the lowest possible level, for any reduction of their expenditure eventually means the lessening of the burden of the consumers. It is a matter for regret that in recent years the Company have not applied serious effort in the direction of curtailing their expenditure but instead have only endeavoured to enhance the Company's income by increasing the burden of the public.

3. The gross income estimated by the Company for the current year is Tls. 2,600,000 and the fixed dividends payable to the shareholders amount to Tls. 1,333,602 or over 50% of the total gross income. The impression of the public will be that more than half of the water rates paid by the residents are insufficient even to meet the dividend payment of the Company to their shareholders. At the present, the capital and dividend of the Company are calculated in terms of gold. The fluctuation of exchange will mean the instability of the Company's water charges and likewise the financial burden of the consumers. For a utility company which has the merit of stability it is indeed regrettable that the making of their estimates will have to follow the oscillation of the exchange market. In all future capitalization of the Company, a better basis should be worked out to put an end to this undesirable state of affairs.

APPENDIX No. III.

Difficulties in Assessing the Rates to be Enforced Under the Present System.

(Prepared by The Shanghai Waterworks Company, Ltd.)

The major difficulties encountered are in connection with Chinese houses and are largely due to :—

(a) Difficulty in Proving Separate Tenancy.—It is often found that the Council have given one number to two or more Chinese houses which were designed as separate houses and may at any time become separate tenancies.

In the case of those houses with a rental of Tls. 150 each, we are entitled to charge 6% on each or Tls. 27 for the three houses. If, however, they are treated as one house we can only charge 6% on Tls. 200 and 2% on Tls. 250, or Tls. 17.

(b) Difficulty in Drawing the Line between the Various Types of Buildings in the Central District.—A Building used solely as an office, i.e., without a shop or living quarters, is entitled to be charged by meter.

A Building used as a shop has no option and must pay 6% on the rental etc.

A Building occupied by one tenant with office or shop and living quarters must pay 6% on the rental.

A Building containing a number of offices or flats, and for which we require the landlord to sign, must be charged by meter.

(c) Difficulty in Dealing With "Returns."—Few Chinese landlords can be relied upon to furnish correct returns. False returns are often sent in and are supported by fictitious rent books and false rent receipts. The small staff at present employed in checking returns is not sufficient to deal with this form of dishonesty effectively.

Returns are often sent in late and, consequently, the revenue for a month has to be estimated. This brings endless adjustments in the books.

(d) Difficulty With 6% Contracts.—Few consumers can be relied upon to notify the Company as soon as their rent has been altered, and some give false information in their contracts. Contracts have to be constantly checked with the Municipal Assessments.

(e) Difficulty in Collecting Water Rates for "Extras."—Many hot water shops, chow shops, etc., are situated in blocks in which the landlord pays the water rates. If the owner of a shop fails to pay his water bills it is almost impossible to ensure collection, the water cannot be shut off as the landlord pays for the domestic supply, the only available remedy being to remove the water fittings.

REDUCTION IN EXPENDITURE WHICH WOULD BE EFFECTED IF GENERAL METERING WAS NOW INTRODUCED.

Total Expenditure in 1929

	Not Affected By General Metering	Affected By General Metering

Management	513,450	—
Interest	247,885	—
Depreciation	226,403	—
Incidentals	25,126	—

Distribution	111,460	45,000
Extra-Agreement Working Expenses	29,000	29,204
Dividend	860,226	—
Tls.	2,013,550	639,772

(A total of Tls. 2,653,322)

From the above figures it will be seen that the expenditure affected by the introduction of general metering is 24% of the total. Since the figures are based on an exchange of over 2/- per tael and the estimated cost of general metering, as given below, is based on an exchange of 1/8d per tael, it is necessary to take the estimated total expenditure for 1930, or Tls. 3,600,000, so that a true comparison of figures can be made.

Assuming the ratio of the expenditure affected by general metering to the total expenditure remains constant in spite of fluctuations of exchange, then the saving in expenditure brought about by general metering will be 33⅓% of 24% of Tls. 3,600,000, or Tls. 288,000 per annum.

Although with the decreased consumption the cost per million might be expected to increase it is expected that improvements in the plant and methods will enable us to produce the gradually decreasing demand at a constant cost per million.

The cost of meters for all consumers is estimated at Tls. 920,000 including installation and testing plant. Interest on this at 7%, depreciation at 20 years life, and additional working expenses in testing, repairing and reading meters will mean an increase in expenditure of Tls. 155,000 per annum, from which must be deducted the saving in waste detection cost or Tls. 40,000 per annum, making a total increase in expenditure of Tls. 115,000 per annum.

The annual saving which would be effected if general metering was introduced at the present moment, would, therefore, be Tls. 173,000 per annum and, as our per capita consumption is increasing, the annual saving would, in future, be considerably greater.

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, JANUARY 8, 1932. No. 1345

CONSULAR INFORMATION.

A letter from Mr. Ove Lunn, Consul-General for Denmark, informs the Council that, having returned to Shanghai, he has resumed charge of the Royal Danish Consulate-General.

NEW APPOINTMENT FOR DR. Y. J. CIEH.

To Take Charge of New S.M.C. Hospital.

Dr. Y. J. Cieh, who at different times has been in charge of Municipal isolation hospitals, and has recently been part-time Assistant Medical Officer at the V. D. Clinic, Visiting Medical Officer for remanded prisoners, and lecturer in first aid to the Police and Fire Brigade, will take up a full time appointment on the permanent staff of the Health Department on April 1. His appointment as Medical Officer in charge of the new Police and Gaol Hospitals, on their completion in the Spring, is proposed. He will continue his work at the V. D. Clinic.

Dr. Cieh is a graduate of St. Thomas's Hospital and King's College, London, and is a registered general practitioner in Great Britain, M.R.C.S. England, L.R.C.P. London, 1914. He was Senior Resident Medical Officer to St. Mary's Hospital for Women and Children, Plaistow, London, in the early part of 1915, and from the latter year to 1919 was Senior Medical Officer to St. Mary's Infirmary, Highgate, London. From 1922 to 1924 he was Doctor-in-charge of the Chinese Isolation Hospital of the S.M.C., since 1924 he has been Visiting Surgeon to Lester Chinese Hospital, and concurrently Surgeon-in-charge of Special Clinic, Lester Chinese Hospital. Dr. Cieh has been Assistant Physician to the S.M.C. at the V. D. Clinic, General Hospital, and was Chief Medical Officer of the Shanghai-Nanking Railway and Shanghai-Hangchow-Ningpo Railway for two years. Since May, 1930, he has been Doctor-in-charge of the Chinese Public Isolation Hospital.

The numeration of houses on Yu Yuen Road will be altered from April 1 next.

The recommendation of the Commissioner of Public Works, that the 1932 contract for the supply of household coal at $18 per metric ton and dust coal at Tls. 10.75 per metric ton be placed with Messrs. The Kailan Mining Administration, has been approved.

FINANCIAL SITUATION.

Budget 1932.

The Municipal Council is carefully considering its economic position. Some months ago it was realized that there would be an adverse balance at the end of the financial year, the Treasurer and Controller in September forecasting that this would probably amount to Tls. 600,000. The recommendations of the Economy Committee were already in force, nevertheless all departments were called upon further to reduce expenditure, while steps were simultaneously taken definitely to curtail the normal development programme. On December 22, at a meeting of the Finance Committee, which had before it the accounts for nine months, the Treasurer stated that, in view of the improved silver exchange situation and certain other factors, notably retrenchment in departmental expenditure, it was possible that the anticipated deficit would be reduced to Tls. 200,000, and perhaps even less.

In looking forward to the budget for the fiscal year 1932, however, there is not only this deficit to carry forward, but a sum of approximately Tls. 2,300,000 to make up in the next budget, this being the amount brought forward as surplus from 1930 to the credit of the 1931 budget, which latter, as shown, is expected to produce a deficit instead of any sum to augment 1932 revenue. Further, the sum of approximately Tls. 500,000, representing non-required accumulated funds relating to discount, reserves, etc., was available to help balance the 1931 budget.

It is estimated that there will be a net increase in ordinary income in 1932 of some Tls. 400,000, this being computed after taking into account a reduction in the amount hitherto received from Wharfage Dues. On the other hand, there is the fact that, although all departments are doing their utmost to restrict current expenditure, there is work in hand which must be proceeded with, though it may be advanced at a slower rate.

Departmental Estimates.

The departmental estimates of expenditure for 1932 have only recently been drawn up, so that it cannot be stated at present to what extent it may be possible to reduce the figures submitted. The Treasurer reported to the Finance Committee that the estimates for the Public Works Department stood at practically the same figures as for 1931, but it had only been possible to achieve this by transferring approximately Tls. 200,000 to the budget of extraordinary expenditure in respect of certain charges which could properly be classified as capital expenditure. The Health Department estimates as at present framed would be approximately Tls. 150,000 in excess of the figure for this year.

Educational Projects.

With regard to educational projects, a programme which it has been suggested should be excluded from the scheme of retrenchment, the Treasurer agreed that at this early stage it might be difficult to restrict this unduly. He proposed, however, to compile a separate budget showing clearly the expenditure which would be incurred in 1932 and which it might be anticipated would be incurred in future years if the educational scheme, which had been approved in principle, was proceeded with. So far as his information went at date, it might be anticipated that Tls. 1,500,000 would be expended on education in 1932, a sum which was equivalent to a General Municipal Rate of approximately two per cent.

The 1932 Budget.

In reference to the balancing of the 1932 budget the Treasurer submitted that, with all possible retrenchment in departmental expenditure, this would be impossible on the basis of a 14 per cent. General Municipal Rate. The Council might have been justified at the last annual meeting in seeking the approval of the ratepayers to an increase in taxation; that the Council was able to refrain from such action was solely due to the large sums already referred to which it was possible to include in the current estimates of revenue. The Council's sterling commitments constituted an important factor so far as concerned the balancing of its budget. To illustrate this, he stated that if a two shilling rate obtained during 1932 a saving of approximately Tls. 1,100,000 could be effected in comparison with the 1931 budget. In view of the impossibility of being able, at the time the budget was framed to forecast the exchange situation for the forthcoming twelve months, in his opinion it was desirable to settle a certain sum in advance at a reasonable rate in order to insure the budget to some extent against collapse in the event of serious fluctuations in exchange. In this connection he stated that during the current year he found it necessary to transfer certain sterling funds from London at a favourable exchange which subsequently were settled to meet commitments at a rate to the Council's benefit.

As to the necessity of a reversion to the former rate of taxation of 16 per cent, the Treasurer said that even if it were found possible to adopt some arrangement partially to secure the Council's sterling commitments, it would be impossible in existing circumstances to balance the 1932 budget on the basis of the existing General Municipal Rate.

Extraordinary Expenditure.

The preliminary estimates of extraordinary expenditure amounted to approximately Tls. 9,000,000, in which was included some Tls. 4,000,000 representing projects to which the Council was already committed. It might be anticipated that a further Tls. 2,000,000 would be asked for to finance road widenings; the balance, therefore, represented provision for new works. The amount available in 1932, for capital expenditure apart from the proceeds from sales of land, etc., was Tls. 6,000,000.

Interest payments which during the past few years had accrued from the sale of the Electricity Department might be said to represent at least a 4 per cent General Municipal Rate and it was only due to this additional income that it had been possible to maintain for the benefit of the ratepayers the existing low rate of taxation during that period. With the payment of annual capital sums by the Power Company the interest from this source became reduced each year; this was yet another factor adversely affecting the balancing of the forthcoming budget.

Classifying Expenditure.

In the discussion in Committee which followed the Treasurer's statement it was sought to explore the possibility of avoiding an increase in taxation at the present time because of the depression in local trade conditions, although the necessity for an increase was recognized if the Council was to carry out its programme. One member submitted that the municipal expenditure should be classified under two headings, viz., essential and non-essential. In the first of these categories, which would embrace what might be termed legitimate municipal enterprises, he would place expenditure on police, road works, etc., while the latter might include expenditure incurred on education, parks, and the Municipal Orchestra. He therefore proposed that the Treasurer be authorized to effect drastic retrenchment in expenditure on all projects which were not vital to the fulfillment by the Council of its normal functions.

Increases In Cost.

The Treasurer, in support of his contention that a reversion to the former rate of taxation was equitable, stated that since 1927, when the General Municipal Rate was raised to 16 per cent., the increase in the cost of certain departments was as follows:—Police Department 113 per cent, Education Department 91 per cent, Volunteer Corps 174 per cent. It might be possible by reason of an improvement in the exchange situation and through re-assessment of land values, to balance the budget on the basis of a 16 per cent General Municipal Rate for some years to come. Compared with Western cities a 16 per cent General Municipal Rate was extremely low. He urged that he should be authorized to proceed with the compilation of the 1932 budget on the basis of a 16 per cent General Municipal Rate, subject to this question being reviewed in, say, two months' time if during that period any unforeseen factors should arise which would enable the budget to be balanced on the basis of the existing rate.

Further Economies.

In reply to further discussion, the Treasurer stated that, following the Committee's meeting in September, an order was issued to heads of departments requiring all possible steps to be taken to curtail departmental expenditure during the remainder of the year and in particular so far as the 1932 budget was concerned, and he was satisfied that the departmental heads were doing all within their power to keep expenditure during the forthcoming year down to a minimum.

A member stated that he adhered to the opinion that, in addition to such action as might have been taken by departmental heads, the Council should itself slow down on any projects which had not been advanced to such a stage as to render their abandonment impossible. In respect of the education programme, he suggested that, to offset the heavy charges involved, the scales of fees at the various schools should be increased in order that the general municipal funds might be relieved of a charge which under the existing policy must inevitably become a heavier burden each year.

Another member stated that, allowing for the large number of low paid residents, he regarded a total General Municipal Rate of 16 per cent as extremely small as compared with other large and progressive cities. On this ground he concurred with the Treasurer that the community could have no legitimate complaint against the proposal to increase the rate of taxation to this figure.

Members of the Finance Committee adopted the Treasurer's proposal that the decision to revert to the former rate of taxation be adhered to, subject to the financial situation being again reviewed prior to the compilation of the 1932 budget in its final form.

Debate By Council.

During the debate by the full Council on January 6, it was stated by the Treasurer that, allowing for an increase in revenue of Tls. 1,200,000 which would accrue from an increase of 2 per cent in the General Rate over a period of nine months, it might be anticipated that there would still be a budget deficit, which would have to be met by cuts in departmental expenditure and a readjustment of certain items between the budgets of ordinary and extraordinary expenditure. The Treasurer declared that it would be quite impossible to balance the current budget on the basis of the existing General Municipal Rate of 14 per cent.

It was suggested by a member that the Council should take into consideration the ability of the ratepayers, to bear the burden of additional rates. This led to discussion of the financial position of the different sections of the community, reference being made to the present business prospects. In reply, the Treasurer stated that if essential services were to be maintained it was quite impracticable to effect budget excisions to the extent of an estimated deficit of some Tls. 2,000,000. For some years credits resulting from the sale of the Electricity Department had been available for inclusion in the ordinary estimates of revenue. Moreover, the ordinary budget had been relieved of loan service charges by reason of the fact that since 1929 various sums for capital expenditure had been provided from the moneys accruing from the same source. Any postponement of an increase in the General Municipal Rate would merely accentuate the difficulties with which the Council was faced during the current year.

Relatively Low Rate.

One member, while regretting the necessity for an increase in the rate felt that a rate on the basis of 16 per cent was just and reasonable for a progressive city of the magnitude of Shanghai. He, therefore, proposed that the budget should be compiled on the basis of a 16 per cent General Municipal Rate and that the reasons necessitating this increase should be clearly explained to the community. He was unable to support the suggestion that the estimated deficit could be made good solely by retrenchment in departmental expenditure since, in his opinion, adoption of this proposal was quite impracticable.

In concurring in this view another member pointed out that Shanghai had been less badly hit by the prevailing world-wide economic depression than many other large cities whose rates of taxation were greatly in excess of those obtaining here. From a preliminary perusal of the Health Department estimates he had reached the conclusion that these as drawn had been curtailed to such an extent as to invite the criticism that insufficient provision was made to maintain a service which in all modern municipalities was regarded as of vital importance. In his opinion, having regard to the programmes upon which the Council had embarked, notably in respect of education, a General Municipal Rate of 16 per cent. was eminently reasonable and much below the basis adopted by other modern cities.

Ultimately it was decided to defer decision of this question to a later meeting. In the meantime the Chinese members were invited to furnish their views on the subject.

MUNICIPAL GAZETTE.

Chinese Edition.

At the request of the Shanghai Chinese Ratepayers Association, the Council has agreed to increase the supply of the Chinese Edition of the "Municipal Gazette" for distribution by the Association among Chinese Ratepayers from 3,600 copies to 4,000 copies weekly.

INSTITUTION OF THE HOLY FAMILY.

Yearly Statement of Accounts.—1931.

Shanghai, January 7, 1932.

DEAR SIR,—I beg to enclose the Financial Statement of our Institution for the year 1931.

May I avail myself of this opportunity to thank the Shanghai Municipal Council most sincerely for the help so kindly given to our works in the past.

The enclosed statement will prove, I trust, that in order to continue our work for the benefit of residents in the Settlement, we need the assistance of the Council more than ever now, on account of the high cost of living and of the ever increasing demands for help.

We hope, therefore, that the Council will kindly consider the continuation of our grant for the next year.

With the renewed assurance of our gratitude.

Believe me,
Dear Sir,
Yours faithfully,
M. DE ST. MARCIEN,
Sup. Su.

J. R. JONES, Esq.,
Secretary,
Municipal Council.

MUNICIPAL PROPERTIES.

Point Road—Surplus Land.

An area of 0.082 of surplus land from B. C. Lot 12183, Cadastral Lot 6339, (West of Tinghai Road) has been sold to the South-eastern Architectural & Engineering Co. for a sum of Tls. 820.

EASEMENTS.

The following easements were granted during December 1931:—

The Texas Company (China), Ltd., to erect a free air standard on the Municipal footpath fronting the Ferry Garage, 1157/8 Ferry Road.

The Texas Company (China), Ltd., to install a gasoline pump and storage tank in the Municipal footpath fronting the Ferry Garage, 1157 Ferry Road.

The Texas Company (China), Ltd., to install a gasoline pump and storage tank in the Municipal footpath fronting the Ferry Garage, 1158 Ferry Road.

The China General Omnibus Company, Ltd., to erect an extra kiosk at the entrance to Hongkew Park.

Wong Yong Chong to erect a canopy over the Municipal footpath fronting 1303 North Szechuen Road, Cadastral Lots 735A and B, Northern District.

Wang Yue Tai to erect a canopy over the Municipal footpath fronting 1305 North Szechuen Road, Cadastral Lots 735A and B, Northern District.

The long leave of Inspection Officer R. Alley, Fire Brigade, has been accelerated at the request of Sir John Hope Simpson, Director-General of the Chinese National Flood Relief Commission, in order to enable him to spend seven weeks assisting in the inspection of flood relief works along the Yangtze and Hwai rivers. Sir John Hope Simpson stated that if the Council could see its way to advance Mr. Alley's leave so as to make him available for flood relief purposes for nearly two months, it would contribute a very valuable service to the work of the Commission.

PUBLIC HEALTH REPORT FOR DECEMBER.

The Commissioner of Public Health in his December report states:—

Vital Statistics.—The Foreign death rate for the month was 18.66 and that of the Chinese 18.11 per 1,000.

There were 59 deaths amongst Foreign residents and 1,494 deaths amongst Chinese residents. The Chinese death rate was slightly higher than usual.

Communicable Diseases.—There were 22 cases of Smallpox amongst resident foreigners with eight deaths, whilst 46 Chinese resident cases were notified with 30 deaths.

Typhoid and Para-Typhoid Fevers.—There were 18 Foreign cases with four deaths and 27 Chinese cases, 23 deaths are also recorded.

Bacillary and Amoebic Dysenteries accounted for seven Foreign and 19 Chinese cases, but there were no deaths. 10 cases were notified relating to non-residents receiving treatment in the International Settlement.

Cerebrospinal Fever.—No Foreign cases or deaths were recorded but there were four Chinese cases with two deaths.

Tuberculosis produced a high quota of disease and deaths amongst residents, there being 10 Foreign and 54 Chinese deaths from all forms.

Measles.—There were 31 Foreign cases notified with one death and 57 Chinese with 64 recorded deaths.

Malaria.—Four new cases were notified amongst the foreign residents—all from the British Army. In addition there were four cases of "Relapse" from the same source. Five Chinese cases were reported.

Leprosy.—There was one early case of Leprosy which is being treated in the Chinese Isolation Hospital.

Schistosomiasis.—One foreign case was notified.

Diphtheria, Scarlet Fever and Influenza accounted for 15 Foreign cases with one death (from Scarlet Fever), and 44 Chinese cases with 13 deaths.

SUMMARY.

From the above statistics it will be seen that Smallpox is relatively prevalent. Whilst this disease cannot be said to have reached epidemic proportions, nevertheless it has caused the Department considerable anxiety.

The two mobile units engaged in Smallpox Vaccination performed 6,657 vaccinations, whilst at the Branch Health Offices the Sanitation Division performed 4,067 vaccinations.

During the month the entire Chinese and Indian Police Force were vaccinated.

The decided reduction in the number of vaccinations carried out by the mobile units is due to the fact that a large number of factories and schools were dealt with earlier in the year and also to the fact that the present month is not popular among the Chinese for vaccination of their infants.

Though Measles is decidedly prevalent and entailed the closure of certain schools, the mortality seems to be less serious.

Malaria seems to continue despite the lateness of the year and would now appear to be more or less endemic in this town to an extent which was not the case in past years.

Ambulance Service. — Arrangements have been completed for the transfer of this service to the Fire Brigade.

Anart from the question of economy it was felt by this Department that two separate services created unnecessary confusion in the minds of the general public and that co-operation with the Fire Brigade would remove this and provide a consolidated and efficient service for accidents and the sick of all descriptions.

Laboratories. Public Health Examinations.—Milk—45 samples of milk from various dairies were received for routine examination. Six specimens were examined for tubercle bacilli. In each case two guinea pigs were inoculated—neither showed evidence of Tuberculosis.

Pasteur Treatment—54 persons bitten or licked by dogs (including six from Outports) called for advice, cauterization and/or treatment. There were no fatalities.

Water Supply—On the 23rd December marked turbidity was noted for a short time in the water supply of the Central District. Tests made showed that a certain amount of contamination had occurred though not of a very serious nature. Prompt action immediately taken by the Waterworks Company resulted in the purity of the water being rapidly reinstated. Enquiry elicited the fact that the contamination was due to main flushing and that the efficient filtration and purification at the works had been maintained throughout the period.

Hospitals Division.—There were 81 cases admitted to the Municipal Isolation Hospital of which 28 were cases of Smallpox. Of the 15 deaths eight were due to Smallpox, six to Tuberculosis and one to Scarlet Fever.

The Chinese Isolation Hospital admitted a very large number of Smallpox cases of a very severe type. The death rate was very high due largely to the fact that the Chinese will persist in bringing in patients too late for medical aid.

The Mental Hospital was obliged to refuse three cases. It is unfortunate that this Institution is now overfull of chronic cases of a type which cannot be transferred or discharged.

The health of the patients in the T. B. Sanatorium continues to be fair, whilst the T. B. Clinic continues to be overtaxed, there being a very large preponderance of males over females. Many of these patients require admission to hospital but cannot be accommodated.

Dairies and Milk Supply.—The outbreak of Pleuro-pneumonia spread to four more dairies.

54 animals were disposed of from the various Dairies, 26 for Rinderpest, 12 for Pneumonia and one for Anthrax, and the other 15 from various causes, but owing to the prompt measures of isolation and inoculation the animal death rate in Dairies remained relatively small.

The average daily milk production was 20,410 lbs. against 20,500 lbs. during November.

Examination of Milk.—101 specimens of milk were sent for analysis including four special samples and two buffalo milks. Of the 95 ordinary samples five were deficient in fat, six of poor quality and seven suggestive of Buffalo milk. 25 specimens of milk were taken for bacteriological examination, 23 being pasteurized and two raw milks. They were all within the standard.

Pig Slaughterhouses. — The majority of pigs slaughtered for Chinese consumption are now being dealt with by improved methods.

It is also of note that the removal of rejected carcases and parts to the new Municipal Disposal plant has resulted in considerable improvement in the quality of pigs sent up for slaughter, with the result that rejections are very much fewer. At the outset this scheme caused some objection amongst Butchers who stated that the compensation paid was too low. A slight increase has since been authorized and it would seem that all difficulties have now been removed. The Disposal Plant has been operating satisfactorily.

Municipal Slaughterhouse and Cattle Sheds.—The kill at the Slaughterhouse was slightly lower.

The new stamps seem to be giving satisfaction and no complaints have been received from Butchers though one case was recorded concerning discoloration of meat stated to be due to stamping.

Sanitation Division. — Fly-prevention work was discontinued as far as boraxing of the dumps is concerned owing to the fact that the temperature fell to freezing point. However, the day before the cold spell set in a warm period brought out flies in great numbers necessitating immediate action. Kerosene emulsion was used.

206 notices were served on dirty licensed food shops calling for linewashing of premises. In nearly all cases the notice was promptly complied with.

Here follows Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases and of the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Sanitation Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics, and Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

*Hardness determinations are by acid and alkali: not by soap method.

Chlorine in chloride figures have varied between 1.2 and 2.0 parts per 100,000. Nitrites have been absent whilst the saline ammonia figure shows the usual seasonal increase. Free chlorine has ranged from 0.05 to .030 parts per million in samples taken in the laboratory and from zero to 0.30 parts per million in samples taken at other points. The water has been normally clear throughout the month, except on the morning of December 23rd when a pronounced turbidity was present for two or three hours.

Bacteriological Examination. — Five samples from the hydrant and 21 from taps were examined during the month. All five samples from the hydrant and 17 of the tap samples were found to contain no coliform organisms in 120 cc quantities. The remaining four showed 45, 200, 600 and 3,000 coliform organisms, per litre respectively. Organisms of the B. Coli Group were found in two samples only, 63 and 550 per litre being present.

Report on Analysis.—Results of analysis show continued purity in the Mains, but there was local contamination in four instances, in one case the local contamination being somewhat high.

Purity on the whole has been maintained with the exception of one occasion—December 23, when a contamination occurred which, however, was immediately rectified.

The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, JANUARY 22, 1932. No. 1347

PUBLIC LIBRARY MATTERS.

The Library Committee at its meeting on January 7 gave consideration to several matters of general interest.

Estimates.—The draft estimates for 1932 were endorsed, subject to adjustment as usual by the Treasurer and Controller.

New Catalogue.—In order to provide assistance for the librarian in the preparation of a new catalogue of all books in the library, the Committee recommended that an appropriation of Tls. 100 be inserted under the heading Temporary Assistance.

New Books.—It was recommended that the appropriation for new books be increased from Tls. 1,500 to Tls. 1,800.

Papers and Magazines.—The appropriation under this heading of Tls. 1,000 remains the same as that for last year. The list of periodicals for 1932 submitted by the Librarian was approved, subject to minor alterations suggested by members. For the benefit of Chinese subscribers, the Librarian was also authorized to include in this list the "Shun Pao" and the "Eastern Miscellany."

Penalty for books overdue.—In connection with Bye-law No. 3 under which a penalty of half a dollar a day is exacted for books overdue, the Librarian reported that this Bye-law had never been given effect. She accordingly recommended that as the existing fine was somewhat heavy it be changed to $0.10 a day which should be regularly collected and accounted for, thus increasing the revenue of the Library.

Members were of the opinion that the provisions of this Bye-law should be strictly observed. The Librarian was accordingly directed to exhibit a notice in a conspicuous position in the Library warning subscribers that the existing Bye-law will be strictly enforced as from February 1 next.

Reduced rate for service men and students.—The Librarian recommended that a reduced subscription rate of $5 per annum be applicable to service men. This proposal was unanimously endorsed.

A member suggested that this privilege should also be extended to pupils of approved schools. After discussion, members endorsed this suggestion provided pupils of reputable schools furnished a written statement signed by the Head of the School certifying that they were bona fide pupils and a ratepayer's guarantee, and provided also that the books issued were confined to non-fiction; it being left to the discretion of the Librarian to issue certain of the classics to these school pupils.

Periodicals.—The Librarian recommended that stiff covers be provided to protect periodicals which were retained in the Library and those which were taken out by subscribers.

With regard to the latter, members concurred with the Chairman that it might be advisable to auction these at the beginning of each year to permit the purchaser to take them over as soon as they were withdrawn from the reading rooms and from circulation instead of retaining them for the whole year as under the existing system. In this case, the provision of covers for periodicals borrowed by subscribers was regarded as unnecessary.

With regard to the provision of covers for periodicals retained in the reading rooms, the Librarian was requested to give further consideration to the most suitable type for this purpose and to ascertain and report as to the cost involved by this provision.

Purchase of Works of Fiction and Non-Fiction.—In connection with the purchase of new volumes, members recorded the view that the proportion of works of non-fiction to those of fiction had recently been too high. The Librarian was accordingly required when submitting lists for purchase to observe generally a ratio of three volumes of fiction to one of non-fiction.

PARKS REPORT FOR DECEMBER.

The Superintendent of Parks and Open Spaces, in his December report, states:—

Flower Gardens.—A total of 14,700 bulbs were planted in the various parks during the month, the distribution being as follows:—

Jessfield Park	10,200
Hongkew Park	1,900
Wayside Park	2,600

The planting of hardy annuals was commenced but deferred on the approach of unfavourable weather conditions.

Hongkew Park Extensions.—Work of a preliminary nature was carried out on the area acquired for park extension; this work consisted chiefly of consolidating recently raised land.

Jessfield Park Greenhouses.—Despite the lack of adequate accommodation which necessitated overcrowding of plants, an attractive display of flowering plants was on view, noteworthy subjects being Iris tingitana, Euphorbia pulcherrima, Moschosma riparium and Solanum capsicastrum.

Duty at Places of Amusement amounted to 10,598 hours.

The only fire of importance during the month occurred on the 25th at 5.28 p.m., when a call was received to the Shanghai-Hongkew West Wharf at Pootung.

Sections from Central Station turned out on the Brigade Fire Float and a detachment from Hongkew manned the Customs Float, while Officers and men from Yangtszepoo crossed the river on a private tug.

The fire had evidently been burning for some time before being reported by the look-out man in the Watchtower on Sassoon Building, after which it was necessary to ascertain the exact location before the Brigade turned out, and when the first float arrived a one-storeyed corrugated iron godown, measuring approximately 250 ft. by 100 ft., was well alight throughout its entire length. Squads of men were at work with lines of hose from the ships' installations on s.s. "Forthbank" and a tug owned by Messrs. Jardine, Matheson, lying alongside the wharf, these being closed down soon after the floats were got to work.

The cargo in the godown was composed principally of American press-packed cotton, of which there were 5,674 bales, and the heat was so great that it was almost impossible for the blaze to be tackled at close range. Jets were got to work on all sides and, as soon as possible, openings were made in the side of the godown, through which nozzles were worked on to the burning cargo.

The Brigade gained control of the outbreak after about 3¼ hours' work, and confined it to the godown in which it originated.

Emergency Ambulance Service.—One hundred and ten calls were received during the month, this being a record since the inauguration of the service last January.

The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, JANUARY 29, 1932. No. 1348

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMME.

Chinese Primary Schools.

In a letter submitted to the Council at its meeting on January 20, the suggestion was made that the appropriation for grants to Chinese private schools which was not expended during 1931 be applied to giving effect to the Education Board's proposal to lease the premises No. 138 Ward Road as an additional Chinese Primary School.

Replying to the Chairman, the Treasurer stated that, while he had no strong views on this proposal, on principle funds which had been unexpended in any one year should not be diverted for other purpose during the succeeding year without the specific authority of the ratepayers. In view of the general financial situation he questioned the advisability of authorizing expenditure on new projects until more information was available as to the prospects of balancing the current budget.

A member supported the proposal, particularly so as adoption thereof might enable the Council to discontinue the existing school in the near vicinity of Wayside Road and release this building for other municipal purposes if it transpired that financial considerations did not permit the functioning of both schools. The premises No. 138 Ward Road were larger and more suitable as a school building than the other premises referred to: for this reason he was of opinion that the Education Board would urge that a lease be entered into.

Another member favoured the leasing of this house provided a reduction corresponding to the amount involved was effected to the funds allocated for the acquisition of school buildings.

After general discussion it was decided to authorize a lease of this house being entered into; decision as to the retention or otherwise of the premises in Wayside being left in abeyance until the Council had fuller information in respect of its income and expenditure during the current year.

VOLUNTEER CORPS.

Headquarters.

Captain H. Berents to be promoted Major with effect from January 22, and to be appointed Engineer Technical Adviser.

Shanghai Field Co.

Lieut. H. E. Denny to be Captain with effect from January 22 and to command the Shanghai Field Company.

SINO-JAPANESE DISTURBANCE.

Relative to the incident which occurred on January 20 between Japanese civilians and Chinese Municipal police in the vicinity of Ward Road, as a result of which one police officer and one Japanese civilian were killed and several combatants on either side were wounded, the Chairman of Council informed the Municipal Council at its meeting on January 20 that the Japanese Consul General had called on him that afternoon and expressed his deepest regret at this occurrence. He stated that he would consult with the Chairman further on the matter of the issue of a compassionate grant in respect of the police official killed and those injured in this affray. He also informed the Chairman of Council that the necessary action would be taken to punish the perpetrators of this assault.

Mr. Fukushima also voiced regret at the occurrence of this incident and assured the Council that the responsible section of the Japanese community had no sympathy with the activities of the Japanese Young Men's Comrades Association, which was responsible for provoking this incident.

CHAIRMAN OF RUSSIAN EMIGRANTS COMMITTEE.

The suggestion put forward by certain Russian organizations that the Shanghai Municipal Council should appoint a successor to the late Mr. V. Grosse, who was Chairman of the Russian Emigrants Committee, was discussed by the Council at its meeting on January 20. The Council definitely decided that it would appoint no individual Russian resident as Mr. Grosse's successor, but that any recommendation which may be made to the Council by an organization which is recognized as the official head of the Russian community will receive consideration at a later date.

AGREEMENT BETWEEN SHANGHAI WATER-WORKS CO., LTD. AND THE COUNCIL.

The following agreement between the Shanghai Waterworks Company, Ltd., and the Municipal Council is published for general information:—

THIS INDENTURE made at Shanghai this Twenty-fourth day of December One thousand nine hundred and thirty-one BETWEEN THE SHANGHAI WATERWORKS COMPANY LIMITED (hereinafter referred to as "the Company" which expression shall include its successors and assigns) of the one part and THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN COMMUNITY OF SHANGHAI NORTH OF THE YANG KING PANG (hereinafter referred to as "the Council" which expression shall include its successors in office) of the other part WHEREAS by an Indenture dated the Eleventh day of December One thousand nine hundred and thirty and made between the parties hereto it was agreed that the Company should in all accounts rendered by the Company for the month of September One thousand nine hundred and thirty and all subsequent months be entitled to charge for all water supplied for Municipal Purposes and to Intra-Agreement Consumers during such months at the rates set forth in Schedule C annexed to an Indenture dated the Nineteenth day of June One thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine and made between the parties hereto as amended by an indenture dated the Twenty-eighth day of February One thousand nine hundred and thirty and made between the parties hereto with an addition to such rates by way of surcharge of twenty-five per centum provided that in the event of the sterling value of the Shanghai Tael at any time appreciating to Two shillings the levying of such addition might be reconsidered by the Council AND WHEREAS by the first hereinbefore recited Indenture it was also agreed that the Company should similarly be entitled to add such surcharge to the fees and charges mentioned in Clause 4 (b) of the Indenture therein referred to as and hereinafter called "the Principal Indenture" as amended as therein mentioned which said clause as so amended as aforesaid is hereinafter referred to as and is Clause 2 of the hereinbefore recited Indenture dated the Twenty-eighth day of February One thousand nine hundred and thirty and further that the Tariff of Charges including all matters incidental thereto (excepting only the limitation of the Company's annual dividends as provided in the Principal Indenture as amended as aforesaid) should be subject to revision on the First day of January One thousand nine hundred and thirty-two and thereafter quinquennially (or at such lesser periods as might be from time to time agreed upon by the parties thereto) in accordance with the provisions of the Principal Indenture as amended as aforesaid AND WHEREAS it has been agreed by the parties hereto that the existing Tariff of Charges (including the aforesaid surcharge) shall continue for the time being subject to certain modifications and that steps shall be taken by the Company to introduce general metering forthwith AND WHEREAS it has also been agreed by the parties hereto that the provisions of Clause 2 of the hereinbefore recited Indenture dated the Twenty-eighth day of February One thousand nine hundred and thirty shall not be enforced in certain cases as hereinafter provided.

Now this Indenture Witnesseth that the parties hereto do hereby mutually agree as follows:—

1. The Company shall in all accounts rendered by the Company for the month of January One thousand nine hundred and thirty-two and all subsequent months be entitled to charge for all water supplied for Municipal Purposes and to Intra-Agreement Consumers during such months at the rates set forth in Schedule C annexed hereto (which rates include the aforesaid surcharge) instead of at the present existing rates. The fees and charges mentioned in Clause 2 of the hereinbefore recited Indenture dated the Twenty-eighth day of February One thousand nine hundred and thirty shall be equivalent to be charge for a standby supply at the rate set forth in Clause 4 of Schedule C annexed hereto which said rate also includes the aforesaid surcharge.

2. The Tariff of Charges including all matters incidental thereto (excepting only the limitation of the Company's annual dividends as provided in the Principal Indenture as amended as aforesaid) shall be subject to revision whenever it is agreed by the parties hereto that for justifiable causes it is desirable so to do and in the event of the sterling value of the Shanghai Tael at any time appreciating to Two shillings the levying of the aforesaid surcharge may be reconsidered by the Council.

3. The Company shall proceed forthwith to introduce a system of general metering throughout the whole area of supply (hereinafter called "the Supply Area") and for such purpose shall divide the Supply Area into suitable smaller areas which said smaller areas shall as far as is conveniently possible be grouped in pairs one in which rents are in general high and one in which rents are in general low and every such pair of smaller areas when such system of general metering shall have been completed therein shall be "metered areas" as referred to in Schedule C annexed hereto.

4. The provisions of Clause 2 of the hereinbefore recited Indenture dated the Twenty-eighth day of February One thousand nine hundred and thirty shall not be enforced in the case of a consumer of water for purely manufacturing purposes that is to say a supply of water by the Company shall be permitted for purely manufacturing purposes in cases where the consumer also obtains a supply from a private well boring provided that the consumer proves to the satisfaction of the Company that a supply both from the Company and from the private well boring is essential for the purpose of the consumer's business and provided further that the consumer shall pay to the Company for all water used from the Company's mains at the rates set forth in Clause 2 of Schedule C annexed hereto for supplies by meter and in addition thereto a monthly fee based upon the size of the connection to the main such fee to be the same as the fee for a standby supply as set forth in Clause 4 of Schedule C annexed hereto PROVIDED ALWAYS that the provisions of this clause shall only apply in the case of a private well boring constructed since the date of the Principal Indenture and further that the Company shall have the right at any time to decline to enter into any further contracts for such supplies if it is found that loss of revenue is resulting to the Company therefrom or if for any other reason to permit such supplies is considered by the Company to be undesirable upon giving reasonable notice to the Council of its intention so to do.

5. Schedule C to the aforesaid Indenture dated the Nineteenth day of June One thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine and Clauses 3 and 4 of the Indenture dated the Twenty-eighth day of February One thousand nine hundred and thirty are cancelled.

IN WITNESS whereof the said parties hereto have executed these presents the day and the year first above written.

Acting Secretary.

SCHEDULE C.

Schedule of Charges to be made by the Company (until otherwise agreed) for all water supplied for Municipal Purposes and to Intra-Agreement Consumers as from January 1 1932 referred to in Clause 1 hereof.

1.—MUNICIPAL PURPOSES:

To the Council for all water supplied for Municipal purposes at the rate of Four annas (Taels 0.40) for 1,000 gallons but inasmuch as supplies of water for certain Municipal purposes are not measured by meter a memorandum is annexed hereto setting forth the method which shall be observed in calculating such supplies which memorandum shall be adjusted from time to time by consent of both parties hereto.

2.—DOMESTIC PURPOSES:

(a) To Intra-Agreement Consumers (for domestic purposes) in non-metered areas whether the premises be residential or otherwise at the rate of 7½ per cent on the actual rent payable by the occupier as it may be from time to time and without any deduction whatsoever (provided that in the event of a landlord entering into a contract for a block of houses pursuant to Clause (e) hereof the rent of such block of houses shall be calculated as follows:—

or where the occupier is the owner of the premises at the rate of 7½ per cent on the rent assessed by the Council for the purposes of taxation as it may be from time to time without any deduction whatsoever and in both such cases the rent shall be the rent for the whole of the premises occupied including any garden or other land forming part thereof PROVIDED THAT in the event of the actual rent or assessed rent for any one house being in excess of Taels Two hundred per calendar month the rate on such excess shall be 2½ per cent PROVIDED FURTHER that in the event of the actual rent or the rent as assessed by the Council being on account of special circumstances lower than the rent would have been but for such special circumstances the said rate may be charged on what in the opinion of the Council the rent would have been but for such special circumstances.

The Council shall from time to time furnish the Company with all such information as the Company may require in regard to the assessment of rentals.

(b) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained the Company shall in the case of any building situated in a metered area or any building completed after 1st January 1932 or any building containing a number of offices or flats or a number of different consumers where the Company requires the landlord to accept a service or supply and enter into a contract therefor pursuant to Clause (e) hereof or in the case of any single building occupied and used solely as one office (which expression shall not include a shop whether wholesale or retail or any premises in which any person or persons shall reside being situate in a non-metered area) where the consumer demands a service or supply by meter and at its option (which shall be exercised only in a non-metered area) may in the case of a block of buildings occupied as staff quarters and in the case of any consumer in a non-metered area found supplying water to a non-consumer or in the case of any consumer in a non-metered area found to be wasting water charge for water supplied for domestic purposes as measured by meter at the following rates:—

$6.25 per meter for any quantity used where the monthly consumption does not exceed 10,000 gallons provided that in any case where in the opinion of the Company the circumstances justify a reduction in this minimum monthly rate such minimum monthly rate shall be in accordance with the following scale:—

2" meter $3.125 per month for any quantity used not exceeding 5,000 gallons.

1½" meter $1.875 per month for any quantity used not exceeding 3,000 gallons.

1" to 1¼" meter $1.25 per month for any quantity used not exceeding 2,000 gallons.

$0.625 per 1,000 gallons where the monthly consumption does not exceed 200,000 gallons.

$0.5625 per 1,000 gallons for any additional monthly consumption on the same premises above 200,000 gallons and not exceeding 500,000 gallons.

$0.50 per 1,000 gallons for any additional monthly consumption on the same premises above 500,000 gallons and not exceeding 700,000 gallons.

$0.4375 per 1,000 gallons for any additional monthly consumption on the same premises above 700,000 gallons and not exceeding 1,000,000 gallons.

$0.375 per 1,000 gallons for any additional monthly consumption on the same premises above 1,000,000 gallons and not exceeding 2,000,000 gallons.

$0.35 per 1,000 gallons for any additional monthly consumption on the same premises above 2,000,000 gallons and not exceeding 5,000,000 gallons.

$0.30 per 1,000 gallons for any additional monthly consumption on the same premises above 5,000,000 gallons.

(c) Except where the supply is measured by meter the rate for a supply of water for water closets shall be as follows:—

$1.25 per month for one or two water closets.

$0.50 per month for each water closet in excess of two.

(d) Except where the supply is measured by meter the rate for the supply for automatic urinal flush tanks shall be as follows:—

For each tank designed to flush .85 gallons $1.75 p.m.

For each tank designed to flush 1 gallon $2.05 p.m.

For each tank designed to flush 1.15 gallons $2.35 p.m.

For each tank designed to flush 2 gallons $4.25 p.m.

For each tank designed to flush 3 gallons $6.25 p.m.

The rate for tanks designed to flush other quantities shall be determined by the Company from the estimated quantity of water that will be consumed calculated at the rate of $0.62½ per 1,000 gallons.

(e) In the case of any building containing a number of offices or flats or a number of different consumers or in the case of any block of buildings the Company shall be entitled to require the landlord of such building or block to accept a service or supply for the whole of such building or block as if such landlord were so far as the Company is concerned the sole consumer in respect of the whole supply or service to such building or block PROVIDED THAT in the case of a building containing a number of offices or flats or a number of different consumers the Company shall be entitled to require the landlord thereof to accept such service or supply and enter into a contract therefor only if the Company shall charge for such service or supply to meter but this proviso shall not apply to any building which in the opinion of the Company is not expressly designed for occupation by a number of different consumers, and PROVIDED FURTHER that in the case of a block of buildings in a metered area or a block of buildings completed after 1st January 1932 the landlord of such block may require the Company to enter into contracts in respect of the individual houses of such block with the occupiers thereof but only if the landlord of such block shall pay for any necessary alterations in the piping and also pay a cash deposit to the Company of sufficient magnitude to cover the total cost of the meters which cash deposit shall be refundable on transfer of the block of buildings to another landlord or removal of the meters.

Except where the service or supply is by meter the Company shall also be entitled to require such a landlord to furnish to the Company at the end of each month a statement in writing of the rent payable by each tenant of such building or block.

PROVIDED FURTHER that in any case whatsoever where the landlord of any premises shall pay the water rate the Company shall not be bound at the request of such landlord to discontinue the supply of water to such premises or any part thereof so long as the same shall remain occupied but nevertheless such landlord shall not be relieved of his obligations to pay the whole of such water rate.

3.—NON-DOMESTIC PURPOSES:

(a) For all supplies of water to Intra-Agreement consumers for other than domestic purposes as measured by meter at the rates set forth in Clause 2 (b) hereof.

PROVIDED THAT where in a non-metered area the supply is to a garden forming part of premises in respect of which the rate for domestic purposes is payable the monthly consumption in excess of 2,000 gallons only shall be charged for.

(b) PROVIDED ALWAYS that where in a non-metered area the supply is for both domestic and non-domestic purposes in lieu of charging by meter the Company may charge for a supply of water for other than domestic purposes a rate (exclusive of any charge made in respect of water closets or automatic urinal flush tanks) in addition to the charge for water supplied for ordinary domestic purposes as hereinbefore provided. Such additional rate in the case of Purveyors of hot water shall not exceed $11.25 per calendar month and in the case of bean curd shops shall not exceed $7.50 per calendar month and in all other cases shall not exceed $6.25 per calendar month.

The charge for water supplied for domestic purposes may be payable by the landlord and the additional rate by the occupier and the existence of a contract with the landlord shall not in any way prevent the Company from exercising its right under a contract with the occupier or vice versa.

4.—STANDBY SUPPLIES AND DUAL SUPPLIES:

Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained the charges which the Company is entitled to make for standby supplies to intra-agreement consumers shall be as follows:—

(a) A monthly rate varying with the size of the connection to the Company's main as follows:—

Size of Connection.	Minimum Monthly Rate.
6"	$231.25
4"	97.50
3"	56.25
2"	25.00
1½"	15.00
1"	6.25

The monthly rate for a 1" connection being $6.25, the monthly rate for sizes of connection other than these mentioned in the above table to the Company's main shall be in the proportion which the discharge of water under a head of 75' through the connection bears to a discharge under the same head through a 1" connection PROVIDED THAT in no case shall the monthly rate be less than $6.25.

(b) If the consumer notifies the Company and uses water from the standby supply, the consumer shall in addition to such monthly rate as aforesaid pay for such water as measured by meter at double the rates hereinbefore laid down for supplies as measured by meter but in such case the consumer shall pay for water used only in excess of the quantity the charge for which at double the aforementioned rates is equivalent to the monthly rate payable in respect of the standby supply.

(c) In the event of water being used from the standby supply without the Company having been previously notified by the consumer the consumer shall pay for all such water as measured by meter at double the rates hereinbefore laid down for supplies as measured by meter in addition to the monthly rate payable in respect of the standby supply.

The Company shall not be held responsible for either pressure or quantity in the event of the incidence of standby demand synchronizing with that of the maximum hourly demand.

(d) Where the Company is satisfied that a supply both from the Company and from a private well boring is essential for the purpose of a consumer's business and a supply of water by the Company is permitted the consumer shall pay to the Company for all water used from the Company at the rates hereinbefore laid down for supplies as measured by meter and in addition thereto a monthly fee based upon the size of the connection to the Company's main such fee to be the same as the rate for a standby supply as set forth in sub-Clause (a) of this Clause PROVIDED ALWAYS that the provisions of this clause shall only apply in the case of a well boring constructed since the date of the principal indenture and provided also that save as aforesaid nothing in this clause shall affect the Company's right to refuse a supply under Clause 2 of the Indenture dated the Twenty-eighth day of February One thousand nine hundred and thirty.

5.—SUPPLIES FROM RUBICON ROAD WORKS:

Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained the Company shall be entitled to charge Intra-Agreement consumers for all supplies of water from its works at Rubicon Road for whatever purposes as regulated by meter at the rate of $0.75 per 1,000 gallons PROVIDED THAT the Company shall be entitled to charge for each meter a minimum rate of $7.50 per calendar month which minimum rate shall entitle such consumer to a supply during such month not exceeding 10,000 gallons free of any additional charge.

6. — PRIVATE FIRE HYDRANTS, SPRINKLER AND DRENCHER SYSTEMS:

The Company shall make no charge for the supply of water for the purpose of the extinction drawn off from a private fire hydrant sprinkler or drencher system PROVIDED THAT such fire hydrant sprinkler or drencher system be supplied by a separate service pipe connected with the Company's main and that the consumer enters into a contract with the Company as to such supply and to comply with the reasonable regulations of the Company and to pay an annual fee in the case of private fire hydrants of $6.25 per hydrant irrespective of size but not exceeding in any case a total of $125.00 and in the case of a sprinkler or drencher system of $0.125 per sprinkler or drencher head supplied by one connection to the Company's main but not exceeding in any case $125.00 which said annual fee shall in all cases be payable by equal quarterly instalments in advance. The Company shall be entitled to seal every private fire hydrant after the same shall have passed the initial test following its installation. Any seal broken subsequently by the fire brigade for testing purposes or otherwise shall be replaced by a brigade seal. In the event of any seal being broken and water used for any purpose other than fire extinction the Council shall in every way assist the Company to recover compensation from the consumer or other party concerned. The Company shall be entitled to charge a consumer for every sealing by the Company of a fire hydrant a fee of One Tael two mace five candareens or such other sum as may be agreed upon between the parties hereto.

MEMORANDUM.

LAND COMMISSION.

CASE No. 225.

Scheduled widening of Szechuen Road, heard in the Council Chamber on Thursday, December 17, 1931.

PROCEEDINGS.

Mr. Reader Harris, of Messrs. Platt, White-Cooper & Co., appears for the beneficial owners. The Council is represented by Mr. R. Winter.

Opening his case, Mr. Reader Harris says that it concerns the surrender of a strip of land mow 0.389 in area from Cadastral Lot 118 on Szechuen Road, and arises over a dispute in the amount to be paid as compensation for the surrender. He summarizes the letter dated June 5, 1931, addressed by his firm to the Council and its reply of June 11, quotes the second paragraph of a further letter (dated July 10) from his firm to the Council, and reads in full the following additional correspondence:

Council's reply of August 11, 1931,

Letter dated August 24 from Platt, White-Cooper & Co.,

Council's reply of September 4,

Letter dated October 12 from Platt, White-Cooper & Co.,

Council's reply of October 19.

This correspondence is reproduced in the "Municipal Gazette" of October 30, 1931.

Continuing, Mr. Reader Harris calls upon Mr. Brooke (who is present) to give his opinion regarding the valuation of the land in question and to furnish figures concerning the cost of the buildings, rent revenue and amounts for upkeep, etc.

Responding, Mr. Brooke says that last July his firm (Davies and Brooke) valued the land referred to at Tls. 255,000 per mow. Since that time he had seen records of the actual rents received and the cost of the new building which had been erected. The net rents after allowing for all charges are Tls. 83,443.00 per annum, which represents a return of 7 per cent on a total outlay of:— Tls. 1,192,000.00
Deducting the actual cost of the building namely:—Tls. 550,000.00
would show the value of the land to be:— Tls. 642,000.00

The area of the land is mow 2.582. Deducting the area of the land .389 mow which is required for the road widening will have an area of Mow 2.193 which divided into the sum of Tls. 642,000.00 will give a sum of Tls. 292,749. On this basis therefore the land is worth Tls. 292,749.00 per mow. Continuing Mr. Brooke remarks that it may be said the owner obtains the mentioned return given by the new building only because of the Council's action in widening the road to a width of 70-ft. but in this connection the owner had already pointed out that in this particular case the widening of the road had not given him any special benefit. If he had built up to the road line on a road only 50-ft. in width, he could although restricted to six stories have had a building with height of 75-ft. in front, and could have obtained very good rentals for offices in that front portion. This would have meant a much lower outlay and of course he would not have been called upon to surrender a portion of his land. With such a hypothetical building and using the same method of calculation as he had just presented, the value of the land would work out at Tls. 237,000.00.

Mr. Brooke says that the Acting Secretary, in his letter of September 4, claims a good deal of credit to the Council for the enhanced value of this property owing to the Council's action in widening Szechuen Road from an original width of under 30 ft. to its present width of 70-ft.

Mr. Winter challenges this statement and Mr. Brooke refers him to the general term of the letter mentioned and in particular to paragraph three thereof. Continuing Mr. Brooke says there is a very different, and he thinks, more correct way of looking at this question. The value of land does not depend, as a rule, on the width of the streets and a good example of this is found in the city of London where many of the most valuable sites in the world are on very narrow streets. Wide streets do not make high land values. The value of land is created by the enterprise of merchants and property owners in developing business and attracting it by providing adequate buildings, and it is the duty of the Shanghai Municipal Council to provide suitable roads for the traffic which is thereby produced.

Instead of anticipating the needs of this district, the Council for a long time was satisfied with very inadequate street widths although they collected higher and higher land taxes as the value rose. They then imposed an artificial restriction on the height of buildings depending upon the width of the streets, which should not have been necessary if the need for adequate roads had been foreseen, as it should have been. The restriction is now used as a lever to force property owners to pay in the form of betterment for the privilege of erecting their buildings to a suitable height.

In fact, the failure of the Council to provide adequate roads has imposed a hardship on property owners, who have had to pay high land taxes without receiving corresponding benefit in the form of adequate roads.

Mr. Winter submits that Mr. Brooke is not entitled as a witness for the claimant to make these criticisms, but the Commissioners rule that Mr. Brooke may proceed.

Continuing, Mr. Brooke says he is unable to quote actual sales of adjoint land to support his valuation of the site in question but he did know that the lot next but one on the south-east corner of Avenue Edward VII where the "Evening Post" is situated is now "held" for at least Tls. 300,000 per mow. Last summer an offer was made to the Socony for Cadastral Lot 62, opposite the one just mentioned at the equivalent in gold dollars of Tls. 300,000 per mow, which offer was not accepted.

With regard to a further lot on the South side of the road belonging to the Shanghai Land Investment Co. he (Mr. Brooke) feels he would have no difficulty in finding a buyer at Tls. 300,000 per mow if the company is willing to sell.

Cross-examining, Mr. Winter enquires whether Mr. Brooke agrees that for the purpose of arriving at compensation, betterment accruing to the land over a period of years should not be deducted from the value of the remaining area of the land. Mr. Brooke replies that he does not agree there is any betterment shown in this case.

Mr. Winter quotes the award in Land Commission Case No. 190 (Cadastral Lot 897A North Szechuen Road) as supporting the principle that betterment which has accrued over a period of years should be deducted from the value of the remaining area of land.

Mr. Brooke remarks that if betterment is proved to be the result of road-widening then some portion of it of course should be paid for by the owner.

Mr. Winter asks how a building of the same description as the one now erected but built to the limitation of height allowed by a 65-ft. road would compare in point of rentals with the present building. Mr. Brooke replies that the present building would yield higher rentals. Mr. Winter thereupon remarks that Mr. Brooke must therefore admit betterment.

To this comment Mr. Brooke repeats his former statement that the Council arbitrarily had imposed restrictions on the height of buildings which restrictions were based on inadequate street width and the Council was using the restriction as a lever to enforce a contribution from owners on the score of betterment.

Mr. Winter states the Land Regulations indicate that the Council is entitled to make a deduction for betterment provided such a deduction is awarded by the Land Commissioners. Mr. Brooke answers that betterment must be proved.

Mr. Winter asks what Mr. Brooke meant when he said that land situate at the south-east corner of Avenue Edward VII was being "held" for at least Tls. 300,000 per mow. Mr. Brooke replies that he meant that nothing less than Tls. 300,000 per mow would be considered.

Mr. Winter enquires if it is not true that land sales had fallen off recently. Mr. Brooke replies in the affirmative but adds that there is no signs of prices relaxing. Mr. Reader Harris offers to submit statements showing details of rents received but Mr. Winter replies that he is prepared to accept the correctness of the figures mentioned.

Continuing his general answer to the claimant Mr. Winter reminds the Commissioners that the claimants themselves suggested a de duction for betterment and therefore must have admitted in their own minds that there is betterment.

The owners' original claim was at the rate of Tls. 255,000 per mow but when the Council would not agree to pay this extravagant claim they agreed to accept the reasonable valuation of Tls. 172,500 per mow provided no betterment was deducted. He failed to see how the owners could maintain an argument that an agreed reduction from a fictitious to a reasonable value should necessitate the Council foregoing any claim for betterment.

He wishes to emphasize that the owners in arriving at their valuation of the land used as a basis the improved value resulting from the widening of the road to 70-ft. whereby they have been permitted to build up to a height of 105-ft. They were not entitled to do this as for the purpose of assessing compensation the value of the land is that existing before the scheduled improvement is effected. He reads the following opening words in the award given in Land Commission Case No. 190 as evidence that the Council had a right to claim for betterment accruing over a term of years, viz:

"The Commissioners consider that undoubted betterment has accrued to the property over a period of years through the Council's efforts in making the North Szechuen Road a 60-ft. main artery.... "

Continuing Mr. Winter says that in 1922 the road in this section varied in width from 23 feet to 30 feet. In 1923 the Council increased the width making it from 49 feet to 54 feet by taking a surrender of land from the opposite side of the road.

Therefore the present claimants had enjoyed the facilities of a widened road from 1923 to the present without contributing anything towards the increased width. It was now proposed to increase the width to 70 feet and the owners had anticipated the advantages of this increase by erecting a new building to a height of 105 feet. He submits there is thus a clear case for deduction on the score of accrued betterment.

Mr. Winter refers to the letter of October 12, written on behalf of claimants, and says in relation to paragraph one that he agrees road widening is primarily for the benefit of the public and not for the special benefit of the adjacent property owners. He adds that of course the Council has no power to widen roads for the special benefit of property owners, although the Council is entitled to take into consideration any benefit which may accrue for such road widening. As regards the statements made in paragraph two of the letter, he would content himself with remarking that the owners had taken full advantage of the proposed widening of the road to a width of 70 feet.

He agrees with the statements made in paragraph three that the increase in land values is not entirely due to road widening; if it were so, there would be an irrefutable case for a free surrender of the land required.

Mr. Winter refers to the award in Land Commission Case No. 205, respecting a surrender from Cadastral Lot 425 on Foochow Road, situated approximately 230 feet further away from the centre of the city than the lot now under consideration. Betterment was allowed in that case at the rate of Tls. 10,000 per mow whereas in the present case the Council was demanding for betterment at the rate of only Tls. 9,180 per mow, or the equivalent of 30 per cent which was suggested by the owners in the first place.

Concluding his remarks, Mr. Winter refers to the letter of August 24, paragraph 2, which shows that the owners had adopted the wrong principle in that they have taken the value of the land after improvement, before deducting betterment. If they had followed the correct method of deducting betterment from the value before improvement, the case would not have come before the Land Commission.

Responding Mr. Reader Harris says it is true the owners themselves suggested in the first place that a deduction should be made for betterment, but they were not experts in these matters and not familiar with the arguments usually advanced in these cases. He states that owing to the demand for office accommodation in that section of the city, the owners by erecting a building to the limit of height allowed by a 40 foot road, could have obtained a return in rentals commensurately higher than that received from the present building. He maintains that the value of the land does not necessarily depend on the widening of the road, and cites the instances mentioned by Mr. Brooke respecting sites in the city of London which were extremely valuable although situated on narrow roads. Therefore no reduction for betterment should be made because of the road widening. He submits in conclusion that the increase in land values is mainly due to the enterprise of merchants and land owners in developing trade and property.

In answer to the Commissioners, Mr. Reader Harris says that the building on the lot under discussion is fully occupied.

The Commissioners announce that the award will be given in due course.

CASE NO. 226.

Scheduled widening of North Kiangse and Tiendong Roads, Cadastral Lot 611, heard in the Council Chamber on Thursday, January 7, 1932.

PROCEEDINGS.

Colonel Logan, of Messrs. Palmer and Turner, appears for the registered owners, Messrs. E. D. Sassoon & Co., Ltd. The Council is represented by Mr. R. Winter.

Opening the proceedings, Col. Logan says he proposes to deal with his case in two aspects, namely:

(1) the condition of the lot before surrender and afterwards, and

(2) the true value of the land.

As regards (1) he refers the Commissioners to the plan before them which will show the lot before surrender to have been a compact rectangular lot with two frontages, namely, one of 214.5-ft. plus 10.2-ft. on Tiendong Road and another 105.4-ft. on North Kiangse Road. With the surrender, Tiendong Road had been driven diagonally through the lot thus reducing the area to less than half of what it was. It had been severed in two and been reduced to "mangled remains."

With regard to (2) he assumes that in all cases of adjudicating on compensation for land surrenders it was axiomatic to take the market value as a basis and not purely theoretical values. It was sometimes difficult to determine the market value, but in this case he can produce direct evidence serving to support his contention concerning the market value of lot 611. He then presents signed letters dated January 4, 1932, from E. D. Sassoon & Co., Ltd., from which it appears that Cadastral Lot 609, Northern, which is adjacent, was sold by that company on April 27, 1931, at the rate of Tls. 80,000 per mow, and that Cadastral lot 625, Northern, also adjacent, was sold by the same company, on May 11, 1931, at the rate of Tls. 76,000 per mow. He was credibly informed that since these sales had been effected, these lots had been resold at even higher figures, and points out that lot 609 did not enjoy the same frontage facilities as lot 611 had possessed.

Continuing, Col. Logan says he fails to see where any betterment has accrued to lot 611 through road widening. The surrender had not merely reduced the size of the lot but had converted it into a shape which offered the greatest difficulty in developing it. In this connection he emphasizes the reduced frontage, the wedge shaped piece in one corner and the small arc at another corner which made it more expensive to develop. He thinks it really is a case of worsement and that the owners should be entitled on this account to a compensation of Tls. 4,000, seeing that the property had been so deformed as to render it impossible to get the most profitable development out of it.

Replying, Mr. Winter says that Col. Logan apparently had based his claim of Tls. 80,000 per mow on the market value of lots 609 and 625 but he wishes to point out that the frontages to North Szechuen Road enjoyed by these lots gives them a much higher market value than lot 611. The Council had based its offer of Tls. 60,000 per mow on two recent surrenders in this district, namely, one from lot 614, from which a portion of land was acquired, by mutual arrangement, in August last when the land boom was at its highest point, at the rate of Tls. 67,000 per mow, the assessed value being Tls. 42,000 per mow; another from lot 600, also by mutual arrangement, at the rate of Tls. 70,000 per mow, the assessed value being Tls. 42,000 per mow. This was in November, 1931. Property along the North Honan Road, into which these lots abutted, was more valuable than lot 611, because of the North Honan Road Bridge. He also refers to the award given in February, 1931, in Land Commission Case No 213 regarding a surrender from Cadastral Lot 689 on North Honan Road. This award was at the rate of Tls. 50,000 per mow, the assessed value being Tls. 35,000 per mow.

Continuing, Mr. Winter refers to Col. Logan's statement that he fails to discern any betterment to the property from the road widening, an attitude which he presumes is summed up in the second paragraph of Messrs. Palmer & Turner's letter of November 27, to the Council. From a casual glance at the plan it might seem that the attitude mentioned was well-taken, but he wishes to emphasize that the plan also reveals that two valuable frontages will be created to what will undoubtedly be one of the main arterial roads north of the Soochow Creek, and the owners had taken full advantage of this improvement by erecting on the corner site a five story building with shops underneath. The Council had offered to acquire the remaining piece of land, (which was undeveloped) on the south side of the road; but the owners had rejected the offer without any discussion as to price. No doubt they realized its potential value. He submits that if one takes the former value of this piece of land, adds to it the value of the corner site now created and the value conferred by a frontage to a 60 feet road, the aggregate must show that betterment has accrued. He believes he is correct in saying that the site under discussion was formerly covered by two storey Chinese hongs, so that if the road widening had not taken place, the owner would not have re-developed the property because of insufficient access to the site; old Tiendong and North Kiangse Roads, to which this lot formerly had frontages, were only 30-ft. roads.

The Council was claiming deductions for betterment at the rate of Tls. 8,000 per mow for the remaining portion on the north side, and at the rate of Tls. 4,000 per mow for the portion on the south side. These rates also are based on recent land surrenders in the vicinity in which connection he cites:

Cadastral Lot 614, on which betterment was allowed, for the north side at the rate Tls. 10,000 per mow on an area of 1.160 mow, and for the south side, at the rate of Tls. 5,000 per mow on an area of 1.991 mow.

In his submission these were both better shaped lots.

Again, on Cadastral Lot 600 on North Honan Road betterment was allowed at the rate of Tls. 7,000 per mow on an area of 1.200 mow. In Land Commission Case No. 213, which concerned Cadastral Lot 689, betterment awarded was at the rate of Tls. 5,000 per mow on an area of mow 0.303.

Concluding, Mr. Winter says that, weighing the various statements he has made, he has no hesitation in insisting that the improvements from the road widening had been of definite advantage to the owners. Other improvements made by the Council in the surrounding district had enhanced the compensation which would be paid to the owners who, he repeated, had gained two valuable frontages to main thoroughfares.

With regard to Col. Logan's statement that Cadastral Lots 611 and 609 were approximately of the same value, he wishes to mention that the last assessment of Lot 609 is Tls. 48,000 whilst Lot 611 is assessed at only Tls. 38,000—a difference of Tls. 10,000 in Tls. 48,000.

Responding Col. Logan remarks that it was hardly a fair parallel to compare the frontage on Lot 609, which was a very large lot, with the frontage on Lot 611. Mr. Winter interjected that he had not compared Lots 609 and 611 but that Col. Logan had first done so. Continuing, Col. Logan says this latter site was a more compact lot and had already possessed road access on two sides. With regard to Lot 614, it is true that a surrender had been made, but not in the same large ratio to the remaining portion as obtained in the present case. These cases were not in the same category being in comparison two regular shaped lots against two irregular shaped sections of a lot which would entail considerable wastage and expense in development.

The Commissioners announce that the award will be given in due course.

AWARD.

That compensation be paid to the registered owner for the scheduled area of mow 1.689, at the rate of Tls. 60,000 per mow, or a nett payment of Tls 101,340.00

Total	1,805	1,582	1,467

There was a total increase of 223 cases as compared with the figures recorded last month and an increase of 338 cases over those for the corresponding period last year. 1,642 persons were arrested for crimes committed during the month, 112 for offences committed previously and 51 for other authorities, a total increase of 198 as compared with the number apprehended last month. A large number of arrests were made in all divisions of members of criminal gangs, responsible for numerous armed robberies, burglaries and shoplifting committed in the Settlement. Two arrested in "A" Division were charged with being concerned in ten armed robberies. Twenty-four persons arrested in "B" Division were concerned in four armed robberies and a case of armed kidnapping in Chinese controlled territory. Thirteen further arrests were made in this division in connection with cases of murder and armed robbery committed in the Sinza, Louza and other districts. Sixteen persons, wanted in connection with armed robberies perpetrated in Wayside, Yangtzepoo and Gordon Road districts were also arrested in "C" Division and 10 similar arrests were effected in "D" Division. A number of pistols and a quantity of ammunition were seized in connection with the above cases. A man wanted in connection with numerous thefts of gas piping committed in the Settlement and surrounding districts was arrested in "C" Division. Twenty-two charges were preferred against him and he was sentenced to a long term of imprisonment.

Murder.—Four cases were reported, one of which occurred in "A" Division and three in "D" Division. In one case the dead body of an Indian watchman was found in a hut in the compound of godowns situated between Soochow and Hongkong Roads on December 22. In the second case three Chinese residing at a house in East Seward Road were found murdered. The murderer, who proved to be a relative of the victims, was apprehended at Wusieh. In the third case a Russian murdered his paramour in Wayside Road and surrendered himself to the Police, and in the fourth a wheelbarrow coolie was found dead having been strangled, on a piece of vacant ground off Kwenming Road in Yangtszepoo District.

Attempted Murder.—Of the three cases reported one occurred in Sinza district in which a Chinese was stabbed as the result of a quarrel over money matters. Two arrests were made. The second occurred in Hongkew district when a Korean shot and wounded a Chinese servant employed in a Japanese house. He was arrested and charged. In the third instance two Chinese police constables attached to Yangtszepoo Station were fired upon by two Chinese suspects whom they tried to stop and search.

Armed Kidnapping.—One case only was reported in which a Cantonese was kidnapped in his own motor-car on Quinsan Road whilst leaving a Cantonese Club. He returned home on December 19.

Abduction.—Of the seven cases of simple abduction one was found on investigation not to be a criminal case. Five arrests were made. There is a considerable decrease in this class of crime probably due to the large number of arrests made by the Municipal Police and Public Safety Bureau during the past two months.

Armed Robberies. — Fifty-four were reported, four more than last month, but there is a decrease of 16 as compared with the corresponding period last year. "B" Division records an increase of seven, six of which occurred in Sinza district, and "C" Division an increase of one, whilst there is a decrease of two cases each in "A" and "D" Divisions respectively. Nine arrests were effected in connection with these cases.

Other Robberies.—There is a decrease of two as compared with last month and of the total of ten, investigations proved that two were false reports. Ten arrests were made in connection with this class of offence.

Members of a Criminal Gang.—Nine gangs were arrested during the month and 68 arrests were made.

House, Office and Shop-breaking.—As compared with last month there is a decrease of six cases and a decrease of 23 on the figures for December, 1930. "B" Division records an increase of one and "D" Division three cases. There is a decrease of two cases in "A" Division and of eight in "C" Division. 18 arrests were effected.

Burglary.—An increase of 20 is recorded, there being 77 cases as compared with 57 in November. "A" Division reports an increase of three cases, "B" Division two, "C" Division ten and "D" Division five. 33 arrests were made in connection with these cases. Nine cases of "breaking" occurred on extra-Settlement roads in the Western district and householders are warned to give attention to windows and doors at the rear of houses abutting on open country or adjoining Chinese country houses and small villages.

Thefts.—There was an increase of 164 cases as compared with the figures recorded last month and 258 cases more than for the corresponding period of 1930. Four false reports were received, nine were found after investigation not to be criminal cases and 28 were refused investigation. 450 arrests were made in connection with this class of crime. 71 cases of pocket-picking occurred in all divisions and 33 arrests were made. "A" Division records 41 such cases and 21 arrests. 45 bicycles were stolen, one of which was recovered, and 13 arrests made. Two motor-cars were also stolen and one recovered.

Receiving Stolen Property.—17 cases were reported and ten arrests were made resulting in two convictions. A Chinese who was convicted of receiving stolen gas piping was found guilty and sentenced to four months' imprisonment.

Snatching.—There was an increase of one case as compared with last month. 44 occurred in "A" Division, 11 in "B" Division, 18 in "C" Division and eight in "D" Division. 51 arrests were made including 27 in "A" Division.

Opium.—147 reports were recorded as the result of police action, in which 472 arrests took place. The Headquarters Narcotic Section made 16 raids and arrested 79 persons of which number 21 had been previously convicted for opium and other offences. 81 ounces of opium, red pills and morphine and 41 pipes, five syringes and the usual paraphernalia were seized and confiscated.

Gambling.—91 cases were recorded during the month, an increase of 15 over last month. 178 arrests were made. Most of the cases were of a petty nature consisting of Hua Hui gambling. Ten criminal cases and one suicide are recorded as a result of losses sustained in gambling.

Other Crimes.—294 cases occurred, five more than last month and an increase of 27 over the figures for December, 1930. Cases under this heading are of a very miscellaneous nature and comprise Misappropriation, Embezzlement, Forgery, Assault, Fraud and Shoplifting. 20 arrests were made for the latter offence including three Russians.

Notable work in "A" Division included (1) the arrest on December 17 of two members of a gang of robbers, one of whom was in possession of a loaded pistol, and who were found to have been concerned in ten armed robberies from shops in the Division; (2), the arrest of six burglars who were found to have been concerned in eight cases of burglary and two of shopbreaking. Notable work in "B" Division included (1) the arrest of a large gang of criminals and the seizure of one loaded pistol and a quantity of ammunition. Nine were convicted of armed robbery and armed kidnapping. Notable work by Headquarters Crime Branch included assistance to Chinese Authorities when information was received on December 29, 1931, to the effect that notes of $5 denomination were being printed at No. 7 Zau Ka Garden, Zau Ka Zah, Tai Yang Miao, Chapei. The Public Safety Bureau at the 4th Division Central Police Station , Chapei, were informed on same date by the Headquarters Crime Branch Staff. Assistance was given to the aforementioned Chinese Authorities and a raid was carried out at the abovementioned address at 9 p.m. on December 29, 1931, when five male and two female Chinese were arrested and the following counterfeiting paraphernalia was seized:—

2 Printing Machines,
6 Printing plates for $5 notes,
2 Printing plates for 20 cents notes,

Several thousands of unfinished counterfeit notes, printing ink and paper used for the manufacture of forged notes. The prisoners and paraphernalia seized were left in the custody of the Chinese Authorities.

Forty criminal cases occurred on extra Settlement roads or in buildings abutting thereon, a decrease of one case as compared with those recorded last month.

The Headquarters Special Detective Squad conducted investigation into 21 special cases including counterfeiting and effected the arrest of nine persons. In addition enquiries were continued in seven serious cases previously reported.

Stolen Property.—Property to the value of $315,556.68 was alleged to have been stolen during the month, an increase of $170,548.99 as compared with last month. Property valued at $68,297.63 was recovered.

Finger Print Bureau.—The total number of records dealt with was 2,232. As compared with the figures recorded for last month there is an increase of 104 and an increase of 545 compared with the figure for December 1930. Investigations were made into 43 cases and latent prints were secured in ten instances. Of 25 dead bodies (Chinese) fingerprinted and photographed at the Mortuary two were identified by fingerprints. 39 records of foreigners were received and 13 identified as having previous convictions. In addition 15 records of foreigners were received from the French Police of which number identifications were recorded in eight cases.

Studio.—367 photographs were taken and 1,288 copies printed during the month.

Boarding House Section.—During the month the staff of this Section visited 494 boarding houses, 24 bars, restaurants, cafes, taverns and theatres. 13 new applications were dealt with.

Suicides.—One foreigner and 12 Chinese were reported as having committed suicide during the month and two foreigners attempted to do so.

Anti-Japanese Activities. — In their efforts to further the anti-Japanese movement the National Salvation Committee, the local branches of the Kuomintang and other bodies, in addition to holding no less than 98 meetings, circulated in the Settlement and Chinese controlled territory anti-Japanese cartoons, handbills and posters which were affixed to hoardings and shop windows.

Two different varieties of cartoons, four different kinds of posters and 32 varieties of handbills, which had not been previously seen, were obtained during the month. The literary propaganda was supplemented in Chinese controlled territory by street lectures, the performance of anti-Japanese plays and the public exhibition of Japanese manufactured goods which had been seized.

Pickets in the employment of the Detection Department of the National Salvation Committee to Resist Japan, who have recently been receiving considerable assistance from the S.-H.-N.R. Employees National Salvation Committee to Resist Japan, seized 17 so-called traitorous merchants during the month. They captured two of these in the Settlement, and kept three for periods ranging from a few hours to several days in the Temple of the Queen of Heaven, North Honan Road, which is within the Settlement but outside the jurisdiction of the Municipal Council. They finally released six of the captives including one who turned out to be a Japanese, unconditionally, set eight others at liberty after they had produced shop security, compelled one to pay a fine of $500 and had the remaining two still in custody at the end of the month.

Previous to being released, the alleged "traitorous" merchants were held in captivity for periods ranging from a few hours to nine days, Places at which they were incarcerated included the Temple of the Queen of Heaven, North Honan Road, the South Railway Station and the Anti-Japanese Boycott Detection Offices maintained in Chapei and Nantao respectively. The unconditional release of one of the alleged traitors, a rice shop employee, resulted from an agitation among the members of the trade in question who sent a protest to the Chinese Authorities and threatened to declare a strike if they did not obtain satisfaction.

Seven alleged traitors who were seized in October and November were restored to liberty during December after having been in captivity for periods ranging from seven days to thirty-six days. Previous to being released five of these had to furnish shop security and one had to pay a fine of $500.

Seizure of goods alleged to be of Japanese manufacture. — The pickets of the Inspection Department of the National Salvation Committee to Resist Japan, who were assisted in their activities by members of other bodies, are reported to have seized goods valued at $13,100 during the month. The pickets made the bulk of the seizures in Chinese territory, but they also visited the Settlement on a few occasions.

Difficulties of suppressing illegal anti-Japanese activities. — Efforts by the Municipal Police to suppress illegal activities on the part of pickets enforcing the anti-Japanese boycott were hampered during the month by the attitude of the local Chinese officials. An appeal made by the Police against the decision rendered in a case of three Chinese who were fined $3 each for participating in anti-Japanese demonstrations resulted in no change being made in the punishment inflicted on two of the accused while the fine in the case of the third man was cancelled and a decision of "not guilty" returned.

Communism.—Activities of local Communists during the month included the creation of a Federation of Labour Unions, a secret association through which they are endeavouring to increase their influence among industrial workers, the organization under the "Red" banner of various groups of the unemployed, the distribution of Communist literature and the staging of demonstrations. Special efforts to further the "Red" cause were made on December 11, the 4th anniversary of the Soviet uprising in the Settlement, one in the French Concession and one in Chapei. Further demonstrations took place on December 13 and December 17 in connection with political meetings which were held in Chinese territory. On the occasion of each demonstration communist handbills were distributed and communist slogans shouted. The manifestations in French Concession on December 11 and in Chinese territory on December 13 were further marked by the smashing of windows of trams and buses. The handbills distributed called for support for Soviet Russia, the overthrow of the Kuomintang and Imperialism, the execution of Chiang Kai-shek and the boycott of several leading Chinese banks. Apart from the handbills picked up on the streets, the Municipal Police discovered considerable quantities of "Red" propaganda in the course of searches at five different Communist bases. In all 1,050 copies of Communist literature, including 127 varieties of handbills which had not been previously seen, were obtained by the Police during the month. The bulk of the handbills dealt with the Canton Uprising while others which came out at Christmas were of the anti-God variety and contained denunciations of Christianity.

The raids on Communist addresses and other police measures to restrict "Red" activities resulted in the arrest of ten persons. Of these seven were extradited to the Chinese Authorities, one was released and two were remanded sine die. Four of the prisoners were identified. The 1st and 2nd of these were students of the Yien Dai Middle School, 47 Markham Road, who both had previous convictions for similar activities. The third was a member of the Kiangsu Provincial Committee of the Communist Party and the 4th a committeeman of the Federation of Labour Unions. The last two have been sent to Nanking for trial.

Of Communist offenders whose cases were on remand at the end of November, one was sentenced to imprisonment during December and two are still on remand.

Strikes. — During the month under review there were three strikes in the Settlement affecting a total of 2,095 workers in five different concerns and resulting in a loss of 6,650 working days. The strikers comprised 205 printers, 1,640 silk filature workers and 250 bus conductors. The firms affected were the Dah Tung Printing Press (Chinese), Tung Wei, Yu Ching and Yichong Silk Filatures (Chinese) and the China General Omnibus Company (British).

Six strikes occurred in Chinese controlled territory affecting 14,290 workers and resulting in a loss of 133,925 working days. The employees affected comprised 200 workers of the Dah Wha Neck Tie Factory, off Ferry Road, 2,700 workers of the Commercial Press Factory, Chapei, 11,000 workers of the Wing On Cotton Mill, No. 2 Woosung, 300 workers of the Japan-China Cotton Mill, Pootung, 70 workers of the Pootung B.A.T. Factory and 20 workers of the Japan-China (Nikka) Cotton Mill No. 1, 62 Robison Road, O.O.L.

The statistics for the month under review are as follows:—

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION

No. 4173.

HOSPITALS—TEMPORARY ARRANGEMENTS.

DURING the State of Emergency and until further notice a Central Municipal Hospital has been established at the Ben Building (corner Rue Montauban & Avenue Edward VII). This building is now in use as Chinese Isolation Hospital and Indian Police Hospital. Accommodation is also available for urgent Foreign Infectious cases. Certain limited accommodation has been allocated for major Infectious Diseases (through the courtesy of the French Municipal Authorities) in the French Infectious Diseases Hospital—St. Marie's Hospital (corner of Rue Massenet and Rue Stanislas Chevalier).

Telephone Numbers:

Ben Building (all floors) 82102
82103
82104
Chinese Isolation Cases = 82546
St. Marie's Hospital
(Isolation Department) = 71985

In addition a District Nursing Service is now available for home nursing of such infectious diseases as cannot be accommodated in hospital.

A Nurse can be sent round for daily visiting and instruction in carrying out the doctor's orders.

Enquiries concerning this service should be addressed to District Nursing Service, Health Department, S.M.C., Telephone 13050 during Office Hours or to Mrs. Harpur, Telephone 27293 up till 7.30 p.m.

Enquiries as to private nurses—for all cases—should be addressed to the Country Hospital or to the above.

ROAD WIDENING AND EXTENSION PLANS, 1932.

In a report submitted, the Commissioner of Public Works outlined the various alterations made in 1931 and the proposals for 1932 in connection with road widenings and extensions shewn upon the new plans to a meeting of the Works Committee on January 19.

It was noted that the schedulings recently approved for abandonment, and against which no protests had been received, had been removed from the official plans. The Commissioner of Public Works stated that the only additional scheduling of importance to the new plans was that providing for the widening of Broadway between its junction with Seward Road and North Soochow Road as authorized by the Council in June last.

The official plans as submitted were inspected and approved.

P.W.D. 1932 ESTIMATES.

Reduced to Minimum for Normal Needs.

The preliminary estimates of ordinary expenditure of the Public Works Department for 1932 amounting to Tls. 4,233,531, exclusive of Stock and Stores, as submitted by the Commissioner of Public Works, were considered by the Works Committee on January 19. These shewed a reduction on last year's figures of approximately Tls. 165,500. It was noted that this latter sum did not represent a diminution in the expenses of the Department, since for the first time a sum of Tls. 200,000 representing the estimated proportion of the pay and expenses of Foreign Staff chargeable to capital outlay was shewn as being transferred from the item "General" to "Extraordinary Expenditure" in conformity with the principle recently approved by the Council. The actual figure to be transferred was subject to adjustment.

The Commissioner of Public Works stated that in view of the existing financial stringency the estimates of expenditure which had been framed in close collaboration with the Treasurer & Controller might be regarded as representing the minimum for the normal needs of the Department. Under "House Refuse Collection and Disposal" he stated that if the contract recently entered into was fulfilled during the current year a saving of approximately Tls. 20,000 would be effected, thus reducing the appropriation by this amount.

Briefly summarizing the existing position on the basis of the preliminary estimates, the Treasurer stated that taking into account the transfer to Capital Expenditure of the Tls. 200,000 above referred to the current estimates shewed an approximate reduction as compared with last year's figures of Tls. 165,500. After consultation with the Commissioner of Public Works, the estimated cost of repairs and maintenance to Buildings was reduced by Tls. 62,500. A readjustment of the estimates on an exchange basis of 1s. 10d. to the Tael effected a further reduction of Tls. 36,000. With the decrease which would be recommended in the appropriation under Stock and Stores and which had been agreed between the Commissioner of Public Works and himself, the approximate decrease in the total estimates as compared with last year's figures would be Tls. 255,000.

With regard to locomotion and transport requirements, the Commissioner of Public Works stated that the main reasons for the increase in these appropriations were the termination in the near future of the stud contract and the fact that many of the existing vehicles had exceeded their economic life. It had been necessary recently to scrap 18 departmental trucks as the work which hitherto had been undertaken by them could more economically be undertaken by 12 new vehicles. He was preparing a memorandum on the general question of locomotion and transport having particular reference to departmental haulage requirements.

Extraordinary Expenditure.—In accordance with the usual procedure, the various items in the Budget of Extraordinary Expenditure were classified as follows:—

(A) Those to which the Council has already agreed or are considered urgent.

(C) Those for which having regard to financial and other considerations no appropriation should be made this year.

The Treasurer stated that following the usual practice and with a view to facilitating the balancing of the Budget the various appropriations had been examined by the Commissioner of Public Works and himself and tentatively classified for the Committee's consideration and approval.

Bridges.—An appropriation of Tls. 17,000 for the reconstruction of Thorne Road Bridge over the Hongkew Creek, to replace the existing timber bridge which is inadequate to deal with present traffic conditions, was marked "A."

Bundings.—The total general appropriation of Tls. 20,000 under this heading was marked "A."

Drainage.—With the exception of the appropriation for drainage construction in portions of Baikal Road and Tsitsihar Road which were marked "C" and to the classification of the appropriation for Rangoon Road (Lay Road to Wetmore Road) being left in abeyance, the several appropriations under this heading were marked "A."

Sewerage.—The total appropriation of Tls. 295,000 which provided for a general extension to the sewers in order to keep pace with the general development of properties and which included an item of Tls. 50,000 for the erection of an improved type of Ordure Loading Stations was marked "A."

Landing Stages.—The appropriation for the balance of cost, Tls. 260,000 for a landing stage at the Wharf, Chemulpo Road, which also included provision for the purchase of a long reach crane was reduced to Tls. 220,000 and marked "A." The remaining appropriation of Tls. 15,000 representing portion of cost of Chaoufoong Road Jetty—Extension was also marked "A."

Land.—The various items under this heading were classified as follows:

Fire Brigade.—Sinza District Station, (nominal), Tls. 100, "C."

Health Department. — Hungjao Cemetery — Extension.—The appropriation of Tls. 15,000 was reduced to Tls. 5,000 and marked "A."

Public Works Department. — Incinerator Site Eastern District (Balance of cost) Tls. 900 "A."

Latrine Sites Tls. 6,000 "A."

Parks and Open Spaces:—Kiaochow Park (Balance of cost) Tls. 162,000 "A."

New Park Eastern District (Nominal) Tls. 100 "A."

Hongkew Park—Raising (Balance of cost) Tls. 14,000 "A."

Bund Foreshore—Construction of Gardens, Tls. 7,000 "C."

Surplus Land, Tls. 40,000—This appropriation was reduced to Tls. 10,000 and marked "A."

Buildings.—With the exception of the appropriation of Tls. 1,000 for the extension of Fearon Road Depôt which was marked "C" the various appropriations under this heading were marked "A."

Parks and Open Spaces.—Two appropriations of Tls. 7,500 for the provision of Refreshment Pavilions in Jessfield Park and the Public Garden were marked "C." An appropriation of Tls. 3,500 representing the balance of cost of a lavatory in Wayside Park was marked "A."

Roads.—A total appropriation of Tls. 2,000,000 for the acquisition of land for new roads, extensions, widenings, etc., had been inserted. In regard to the heavy expenditure incurred during 1931, the Treasurer stated that he had carefully examined the Council's commitments and negotiations in respect to road land requirements for the current year and whilst he appreciated the difficulty of forecasting accurately the expenditure which the Council might be called upon to incur for this purpose he suggested that this appropriation could with reasonable safety be reduced to Tls. 1,500,000. Upon the Commissioner of Public Works stating that in his opinion the expenditure under this heading would probably be less than during the past year, this appropriation was reduced to Tls. 1,500,000 and marked "A."

To facilitate the balancing of the capital budget for 1932 the Treasurer alluded to the desirability of disposing of certain valuable areas of land surplus to municipal requirements. The Commissioner of Public Works concurred in this view. At the same time he desired it to be realized that considerable areas classified as surplus land were in fact utilized temporarily for departmental purposes. The total area of surplus land was not sufficient for the Council's needs during the next ten years; he appreciated however that considerable areas were unsuitably located to render feasible their permanent use for municipal purposes. Although some of these holdings were from a financial point of view non-productive he desired to point out that on account of the consistent increase in land values the Council had in recent years been able to dispose of certain of these areas at a substantial profit. Whilst he concurred with the Treasurer as to the necessity of releasing certain of these areas he considered that in many cases it had been to the advantage of the Council to defer disposal thereof.

Road Construction.—The total appropriation under this heading amounting to Tls. 496,290 was marked "A." The Commissioner of Public Works stated that a large part of this expenditure provided for the making up of roads in the Eastern District. The estimate now submitted had been kept to the lowest possible figure having regard to the direct relationship of well surfaced and well drained roads to the general sanitary conditions of the neighbourhoods which they serve. In view of this he submitted that any reduction in this appropriation which might become necessary on the grounds of financial expediency was to be deprecated.

Subject to the above observations and to adjustment by the Treasurer & Controller, the Estimates of Ordinary and Extraordinary Expenditure were approved for submission to the Finance Committee.

ROAD EXTENSIONS AND WIDENINGS.

Weihaiwei Road.

An area of mow 0.102 required from Cadastral Lot 2244 for the scheduled widening of Weihaiwei Road has been surrendered by the Chinese owner upon payment by the Council of Tls. 3,570.

Kansuh Road.

Negotiations have been concluded with the Chinese owner for the surrender, for a sum of Tls. 3,982, of mow 0.210 of unregistered land south of Cadastral Lot 92, required for the scheduled widening of Kansuh Road.

The numeration of houses on Kwenming, North Soochow, Kashing and Wayside Roads will be altered from April 1, 1932.

SETTLEMENT NEUTRALITY.

The following letters which have passed between the Mayor of Greater Shanghai and the Chairman of the Municipal Council are published for general information:—

Translation of despatch to Chairman of Council from the Municipality of Greater Shanghai, dated January 30, 1932.

Since the Japanese forces attacked Chapei on the night of January 28, 1932, the Settlement has constantly been used as a base of operations. This is not in accord with the principle of neutrality which the Council declared to observe. It is surprising that the Council has not imposed any restraint on the actions of the Japanese or demonstrated disapproval against violation of the Settlement's neutrality. This protest is lodged with the request that the Council will take note and introduce measures of repression. Reply solicited.

Translation of despatch to Chairman of Council from the Municipality of Greater Shanghai, dated February 3, 1932.

With reference to the Council permitting Japanese forces to use the Settlement as a base of operations against Chinese troops, a strong protest has already been lodged with the Council; no reply has been received. In the past few days, this Municipality has repeatedly been informed that Japanese armed forces constantly proceed to West Shanghai and other places through the Settlement to further their military activities, thus endangering the lives and property of the Chinese. Though the Council previously declared to observe neutrality, and this Municipality afterwards made formal protest, it is surprising that the Japanese are still at liberty to carry on and no repression has been attempted against them. This strong protest is now made with the declaration that the Council will be held responsible for all consequences arising out of the situation.

The Council is requested to take note. Reply solicited.

(Chopped) WU TEH-CHEN, Mayor.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, February 6, 1932.

SIR,—I have the honour to acknowledge receipt of your letters dated January 30 and February 3, 1932, in which you state that the Council has not imposed any restraint upon, or in the alternative has permitted the armed forces of Japan to use the International Settlement as a base of operations against Chinese troops and protest that this constitutes a breach of the neutrality of the Settlement for which the Council will be held responsible.

In reply I have the honour to state that whatever condition of neutrality of the International Settlement or condition resembling it may exist can only have been created by convention or agreement between the various Powers or States having political or other interests in the Settlement. Such a condition of neutrality of the Settlement can therefore only be maintained and guaranteed by these same Powers and States.

Japan is one of these Powers and the Japanese Government and not the Municipal Council is solely responsible for the acts of the Japanese armed forces in the Settlement.

I regret that the disturbed state of affairs has prevented me from making an earlier reply.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
E. B. MACNAGHTEN,
Chairman.

Mayor,

AEROPLANE FLIGHTS OVER SETTLEMENT.

Council's Protest to Senior Consul.

Brig. Gen. E. B. Macnaghten, Chairman of the Municipal Council, has addressed the following letter to Mr. Edwin S. Cunningham, American Consul-General and Senior Consul:—

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, February 6, 1932.

SIR,—I have the honour to represent to you the great danger attendant upon the flight over the Settlement of aeroplanes engaged in hostile operations and in observation and demonstration flights.

Such flights not only cause intense alarm to the civilian inhabitants in a time of tension like the present, but the danger to life and property from fire attracted by aeroplanes and from projectiles which have been falling in great number in the Settlement is fraught with the gravest danger in a community so congested and full of refugees. Moreover, the consequences of bombs falling or a bomb-laden aeroplane crashing in the Settlement would be calamitous.

Japanese aeroplanes have been constantly flying over the Settlement in the past week despite the requests and representations conveyed to the Japanese authorities. I have accordingly the honour to request you to make urgent representations to both the Japanese and Chinese authorities to refrain from any activities which may endanger the lives and property of residents in the Settlement.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
E. B. MACNAGHTEN,
Chairman.

Senior Consul's Reply.

Mr. Edwin S. Cunningham, American Consul-General and Senior Consul, has replied as follows to the above letter:—

Shanghai, February 9, 1932.

SIR,—I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of February 6, asking that representations be made to the Japanese authorities concerning the danger to life and property in the Settlement, and the alarm occasioned its inhabitants through the flight of Japanese military aeroplanes over the Settlement, whether engaged in observation and demonstration flights or in hostile operations. You also ask that, for the reasons given, the Chinese authorities should be urged to refrain from flying their aeroplanes over the Settlement.

My interested colleagues are fully in accord with the Council's views in this matter, and accordingly appropriate representations in the premises have been made, in terms of the enclosed copies of letters to the Consul-General for Japan and to the Mayor of the Shanghai (Chinese) Municipality.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
EDWIN S. CUNNINGHAM.
American Consul-General and Senior Consul.

Brig.-Gen. E. B. MACNAGHTEN, C.M.G., D.S.O.,
Chairman, Municipal Council.

Shanghai, February 8, 1932.

SIR AND DEAR COLLEAGUE:—I have the honour to transmit herewith a copy of a letter dated February 6, 1932, from the Chairman of the Shanghai Municipal Council in which he represents the danger to life and property in the Settlement and the alarm occasioned its inhabitants through the flight of Japanese military aeroplanes over the Settlement, whether engaged in observation and demonstration flights or in hostile operations.

My interested colleagues desire to endorse these representations of the Chairman of Council, and to urge upon your attention the serious consequences which may result from the continued flight of these military aeroplanes over the Settlement. In doing so they also wish to express the hope that you will prevail upon your naval and military authorities to discontinue a practice which cannot but carry with it ever-present possibilities of danger and disaster to Settlement life and property.

I am desired to add that representations of this tenor are also being made to the Chinese Authorities concerned in order that they may be persuaded to refrain from flying their military aeroplanes over the Settlement.

I have the honour to be,
Sir and dear Colleague,
Your obedient servant,
EDWIN S. CUNNINGHAM,
American Consul-General and Senior Consul.

K. MURAI, Esq.,
Consul General for Japan.

A similar letter was addressed to General Wu Tieh-chen, Mayor of the Municipality of Greater Shanghai.

EDUCATION ESTIMATES FOR 1932.

Revision of Fees to be Considered.

The estimates for 1932 for the Council's schools for Chinese children with comment thereon by the Treasurer and Controller were submitted to the meeting of the Education Board held on January 27. The Heads of the respective Schools attended during consideration of the estimates submitted by them. The Deputy Treasurer stated that these estimates had been carefully examined by the Finance Department and as they followed closely on the lines for former years called for little comment. After careful scrutiny and the deletion of certain items the estimates of these schools were formally endorsed.

In view of the cost involved by the maintenance of the district primary schools, the Deputy Treasurer enquired whether members were prepared to consider an increase in the fees therefor.

The Superintendent of Education stated that he was conferring with the Treasurer and Controller and with the Heads of Schools on the question of a revision of fees for all schools—foreign and Chinese. This was a difficult and complicated question which he submitted called for the most careful consideration. He was of opinion that the matter could not be dealt with piecemeal and that a recommendation dealing solely with the fees at the district primary schools would be premature. In respect of these latter schools, a member considered that it would be unfortunate if the fees were increased to such an extent as to debar the poorer class of pupils, for whose benefit they were originally instituted, from attending these schools. In this respect it was stated that 10 per cent of the pupils at these schools were admitted without fee and that in any recommendation that might be put forward due consideration would be given to safeguarding the interests of the class of pupil referred to.

Members concurred in principle with the Deputy Treasurer that a general revision of school fees should be undertaken during the current year. Pending a further report, it was decided to leave recommendation on this question in abeyance, meanwhile the Superintendent of Education was requested to give this matter his early attention in order that definite proposals might be placed before the Board prior to the end of the Spring term.

SCHOOLS IN HONGKEW DISTRICT.

Education Board Makes Recommendations.

The Commissioner of Public Works reported to the meeting of the Education Board held on January 27 that he was informed by the Commissioner of Public Health that it was not possible to transfer the inmates of the Mental Ward to temporary premises. Upon the understanding that the Hospitals Commission would recommend the erection of a new Mental Hospital on a portion of Cad. Lot 1150 Northern, he suggested that the proposed Public and Thomas Hanbury Girls' School be erected on the north end of Cad. Lot 979. He pointed out however that this proposal the erection of the new school could not be commenced until the completion of a new Mental Hospital and that it was extremely unlikely that this latter building would be completed before the end of 1934.

Replying to the Chairman, the Deputy Commissioner of Public Works stated that the only means by which this delay could be avoided would be by the commencement as soon as possible of a section of the new Mental Hospital, land for the accommodation of one wing being available. It would however be necessary in the first instance for the Council to adopt the recommendation of the Hospitals Commission as to the location of this building and the commencement of building construction would be contingent upon the necessary funds being available.

In a report submitted, the Superintendent of Education stated that the erection of this school was sanctioned by the Council in 1924 but that for various reasons the project had not materialized. In view of the urgency and importance of this requirement he was unable to support the proposal that the matter be again deferred and he suggested that the whole question be further reviewed by the Council.

Members strongly deprecated the delay which would occur in the provision of this new school if its commencement were contingent upon the completion in the ordinary course of a new Mental Hospital.

They accordingly unanimously recommended that the Council should, in conjunction with the Hospitals Commission and other appropriate Committees, investigate and ascertain whether it was possible to expedite the erection of a portion of the new Mental Hospital, sufficient for the accommodation of the existing patients, in order that the site now occupied by the Mental Ward might be released for school purposes.

The Commissioner of Public Works also suggested that certain of the existing buildings on the site of the former Victoria Nursing Home might be suitable for temporary use as a secondary School for Chinese Girls. The Deputy Commissioner stated that whilst these buildings could not be regarded as ideal for the purpose they were as suitable as any private house it might be possible to lease. He agreed however that on account of their close proximity to the site selected for the erection of the new Thomas Hanbury Girls School the noise nuisance might become acute with the commencement of building operations. It should also be noted that these buildings possessed no modern sanitation facilities.

The Superintendent of Education observed that under the existing programme the provision of a second Secondary School for Girls was not called for until the end of 1934. The most urgent needs at the moment were the provision of a permanent building for the existing Secondary Girls School and for more primary school buildings. He therefore suggested that consideration of this proposal be deferred until it had been ascertained whether the Board's requirements in the matter of the provision of additional primary Schools was likely to be met. In the meantime he suggested it would be advisable for the Education Department to secure a lien on the use of the building now occupied as a Hostel for the boarders of the Thomas Hanbury Boys School and which would shortly be vacated.

Members endorsed this proposal: accordingly consideration of the proposal to utilize a portion of the former Victoria Nursing Home buildings as temporary premises for a Secondary School for Girls was deferred.

NEW PRIMARY SCHOOL.

Ward Road Premises to be Secured.

Members of the Education Board were informed at their meeting on January 27 that the Council had authorized the leasing of the house, No. 138 Ward Road, as an additional primary school with the proviso that if on the ground of financial stringency it was not possible to retain the existing primary school at 48 Wayside Road this School would be discontinued and the pupils transferred to the new premises.

The Deputy Commissioner of Public Works reported that a lease of this building could be obtained for a period of three years at a rental of Tls. 1,000 per month with an option on the part of the Council to renew for a further two years. The minimum expenditure required to place these premises in habitable repair was approximately Tls. 10,000 and the landlords were prepared to contribute two months' rent towards this expenditure. If work were commenced forthwith he estimated that the premises would be fit for occupation on or about March 1. The owners were also willing temporarily to loan to the Council the use of the existing furniture.

Replying to the Chairman, the Superintendent of Education stated that if this building were leased it was proposed at the outset to enrol 400 pupils for the first term; if subsequently it became necessary to abandon the school at 48 Wayside Road the pupils attending that school could be accommodated in the new premises. The estimated cost of operating this new school for nine months of the current year was Tls. 48,000.

After discussion members unanimously recommended that the estimated expenditure for the repair of these premises be authorized and that a lease be entered into forthwith on the terms proposed by the Deputy Commissioner of Public Works; the actual date of the opening of this new school to be left to the discretion of the Superintendent of Education.

SETTLEMENT NEUTRALITY.

Brig.-Gen. E. B. Macnaghten, Chairman of the Municipal Council, who on February 3 addressed a letter to Mr. Edwin S. Cunningham, American Consul-General and Senior Consul, stating that the Council strongly supported the protest of the Defence Committee against certain activities of the Japanese Naval Landing Party in sectors other than their own and drew attention to interference with the Shanghai Municipal Police and Fire Brigade, has received the following reply from Mr. Cunningham:—

Shanghai, February 9, 1932.

SIR,—I have the honour to refer to your letter of February 3, 1932, and to enclose herewith for the information of the Council a copy of a letter dated February 7, 1932, from my Japanese colleague. It will be observed from a reading of this enclosure, that the Japanese Naval Commander in Shanghai disclaims any intention of interfering with the functioning of the Municipal Police and that he expresses the belief that closer co-operation between the two forces—Municipal Police and Japanese naval forces—will be effected as the situation improves.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
EDWIN S. CUNNINGHAM,
American Consul-General and Senior Consul.

Brig.-Gen. E. B. MACNAGHTEN, C.M.G., D.S.O.,
Chairman, Municipal Council.

Shanghai, February 7, 1932.

SIR AND DEAR COLLEAGUE,—I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 4th instant concerning the maintenance of peace and order in the International Settlement. The Commander of the Japanese Navy in Shanghai, to whom I have conveyed the contents of your letter, requests me to inform you that it is none of his intentions to interfere with the functioning of the Municipal Police, but that he is only too pleased to co-operate with them and render them the best possible assistance in the maintenance of peace and order in the International Settlement. It is to be regretted that there was no satisfactory liaison between the Municipal Police and the Japanese Naval authorities, but such would appear to have been unavoidable in time of emergency. However, as the situation becomes improved, I believe close co-operation between them will be effected.

I have the honour to be,
Sir and dear Colleague,
Your obedient servant,
K. MURAI,
Japanese Consul-General.

EDWIN S. CUNNINGHAM, Esq.
American Consul-General and Senior Consul.

SHELLS IN SETTLEMENT.

The following correspondence is published for general information:—

Shanghai, February 6, 1932.

SIR,—I have the honour to call your attention to the fact that Chinese troops, during the past few days, have repeatedly bombarded the Hongkew district within the Settlement and that there are a number of cases in which shells fired by the Chinese have caused several casualties among Japanese residents in Hongkew.

Informing you of the above, I shall be much obliged if you would be good enough to let me know of measures, if any, taken by the Municipal Council in connection with the bombardment by the Chinese troops of the International Settlement.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
K. MURAI,
Japanese Consul-General.

Brig.-Gen. E. B. MACNAGHTEN,
Chairman, Municipal Council.

* * *

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, February 10, 1932.

SIR,—I have the honour to acknowledge receipt of your letter of February 6, 1932, directing the Council's attention to the statement that shells fired by Chinese troops have fallen in the Hongkew district within the Settlement, causing a number of casualties among Japanese resident in Hongkew and inquiring what measures, if any, have been taken by the Municipal Council in connection with the bombardment of the International Settlement by Chinese troops.

In reply I have the honour to point out that, while the Municipal Council is aware that a number of shells presumably fired from Chinese guns have fallen within the Settlement, the political status of the Shanghai Municipal Council is not that of an independent State or Sovereign Power and it is not therefore in a position to take any direct measures, either forcible or diplomatic, against the action of the armed forces of the various Powers now concentrated in and around the International Settlement.

The utmost which the Council can do under the circumstances and will do is to lodge a protest with the Senior Consul for transmission to the proper Chinese Authorities accompanied by a request that the representatives in Shanghai of the interested foreign Powers give such support to the protest as they may deem expedient with regard to their respective national interests in the Settlement.

I would venture, however, to suggest in view of all the circumstances that a direct protest on your part to your colleagues of the Consular Body might prove more effective than anything which the Council can do at the moment.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
E. B. MACNAGHTEN,
Chairman.

K. MURAI, Esq.,
Japanese Consul-General,
Shanghai.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, February 10, 1932.

SIR,—I have the honour to inform you that several casualties have occurred in the International Settlement from shells, other than anti-aircraft projectiles, presumably fired from Chinese guns.

As the political status of the Shanghai Municipal Council is not that of an independent State or Sovereign Power, it is not in a position to take any direct measures, either forcible or diplomatic, against the action of the various Powers now concentrated in and around the International Settlement.

I have accordingly the honour to request that urgent representations be made to the Chinese authorities on this subject, and that these representations be supported by the representatives in Shanghai of the interested foreign Powers.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
E. B. MACNAGHTEN,
Chairman.

E. S. CUNNINGHAM, Esq.,
American Consul-General and Senior Consul.

RESUMPTION OF BUSINESS.

The Municipal Council is doing everything in its power to promote the resumption of business in Shanghai, and is affording special protection whenever this is deemed necessary. It is, however, impossible to provide police for individual shops, or even blocks of shops. The Council has assured the Shanghai Foodstuffs Price Maintenance Committee that the police and other defensive forces will give special attention to the protection of food shops. Other shopkeepers may also safely resume business. Shopkeepers are informed that in the event of any outbreak of trouble they should immediately telephone to the nearest police station or call No. 15380, when the police will despatch assistance which will arrive within a minute or two of the call being received.

Further, with a view to the maintenance of trade as far as possible, barbed wire in the neighbourhood of the Soochow Creek will be adjusted or modified so long as the security of the Settlement is not jeopardized. Applications from merchants and firms for the clearing of obstacles should be addressed to the Secretary of the Economic, Food, Fuel, and Transport Committee, Room 273, Administration Building.

PUBLIC HEALTH REPORT FOR JANUARY.

The Commissioner of Public Health in his January report states:—

General Notes.—Owing to the state of emergency the monthly report for January is presented in a somewhat abbreviated form. The main features of the month's work are outlined below.

Vital Statistics.—The foreign death-rate was 19.6 and the Chinese 22.7 per thousand, both rates being considerably higher than the average. The rise in the case of foreigners was due to a considerable incidence of smallpox and measles. Whilst both these diseases were also prevalent amongst the Chinese community, there is little doubt that the new system of recording Chinese deaths is responsible for a proportion of the increased morbidity rate.

Communicable Diseases.—Smallpox, which was reported as increasing in prevalence during December, attained epidemic proportions on the 19th. Among resident foreigners 22 cases were notified with seven deaths, while among the Chinese community there were 97 cases and 46 deaths.

Of the fatal foreign cases, two had a history of previous vaccination, but in one case 26 years had elapsed since vaccination.

The two mobile vaccination units worked throughout the month performing a total of 10,632 free vaccinations whilst at the Branch Health Offices the Sanitation Division performed 2,542 vaccinations. Had it not been for the inclement weather the returns would have been much higher.

Measles reached epidemic proportions during the week ending January 16, 1932. There were 12 foreign and 72 Chinese cases recorded with six foreign and 90 Chinese deaths.

Influenza was mildly prevalent, though the cases notified by no means represent a fraction of the actual incidence.

Remarks.—As regards Smallpox the public are warned to pay due attention to vaccination, and also re-vaccination, where this has not been done during the past three years.

Typhoid and Para-typhoid accounted for 11 notifications.

Tuberculosis took its steady toll from both foreigners and Chinese, there being nine fresh cases of the pulmonary type amongst foreigners, with nine deaths, and 84 Chinese cases with 78 deaths, from all forms.

Laboratory Notes.—The manufacture of smallpox vaccine proceeded at pressure to meet the heavy demands.

Pasteur Treatment: 47 persons bitten or licked by dogs called for advice, cauterization and/or treatment. Unfortunately one patient treated died during the month 17 days after completion of treatment. This case must therefore be classed as a failure.

Hospitals Division.—Owing to the necessity for evacuating all Municipal Hospitals at the end of the month and the consequent pressure of work which followed concerning the fitting up of temporary premises, the work of this Division will be dealt with in next month's report. It will be sufficient to state that communicable diseases of a major nature have been provided for partly through the courtesy of the French Municipal Council and partly through the establishment of a new centre.

In regard to the evacuation mentioned above, it may be briefly stated that this was necessary inasmuch as it was useless maintaining hospitals for isolation of infectious diseases in areas where the patients could not be properly treated and to which they were unwilling to go and, when admitted, would not remain.

Dairies and Milk Supply.—The epizootic of Pleuro-Pneumonia abated somewhat though not before 45 dairy animals succumbed from this disease. Measures introduced for suppressing the outbreak comprise inoculation of herds and a check on the movements of live animals from dairy premises, except for slaughter.

Of 121 samples of milk taken for analysis, nine were of poor quality and five were adulterated with added water; three of the poor samples came from unlicensed dairies.

Sixty-three animals were disposed of from dairies, 54 to the Municipal Disposal Plant, six to local butchers, two returned from hire and one burnt at the municipal incinerator.

Meat Supply.—Until January 28 there was an ample supply of cattle at the abattoirs. After that date, however, shipments of live stock gradually lessened until on the 31st they ceased altogether. On the other hand there was a notable increase in the number of pigs slaughtered at the various pig slaughterhouses, a normal occurrence due to the approaching Chinese New Year festivities.

Market and Bakeries Division.—The new Peking Road Market was opened to the Public on January 2. In allocating stall spaces a new system was adopted which resulted in smoother working and an absence of the usual complaints.

Following the opening of the market it was possible, with the co-operation of the police, to clear the Woo Foo Loong district of hawkers who had infested this neighbourhood and obstructed traffic for years past.

Sanitation Division. — Though sanitation work in parts of the Northern District was disorganized from early on January 29, complete dislocation only lasted a few hours and despite difficulties essential routine work was carried out with reasonable promptitude.

Notes.—At the time of writing this report many complaints have been received from the public concerning uncoffined corpses lying in various parts of the Settlement. This is due directly to the interruption of normal services performed by the Shanghai Public Benevolent Cemetery Authorities who were unable for various reasons to conduct their routine work within the Settlement.

This organization, under normal circumstances, carries out collection of corpses throughout the Settlement but, since their burial grounds in Chapei were in the danger zone and access to other grounds restricted, for a few days the work was suspended. Fortunately the weather remained cold, thus minimizing any danger to health, and arrangements are in hand whereby a normal service will be established in all areas where access is at all possible.

Here follows Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases and of the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Sanitation Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics, and Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1932. No. 1353

MUNICIPAL FINANCE.

The Treasurer and Controller reported to the meeting of the Council held on February 17, that owing to the existing abnormal situation the taxes collected during the current month were 25 per cent of the normal amount. Recently an attempt had been made in certain quarters to induce Chinese ratepayers not to pay municipal rates. This matter was quickly taken up through the Secretary and the Police Department and on February 18 collectors were being sent to endeavour to collect these rates. No action was being taken which might be described as oppressive as it was realized that many ratepayers were not in a position to pay rates at this stage. Certain Chinese residents paid their rates by means of native bank orders and difficulty was being experienced in clearing these orders through the foreign banks owing to the policy adopted by certain of the native banks. It was too early at this stage to forecast the effect of the existing situation on the collection of municipal revenues and he would arrange when possible for a survey to be made of those districts which might be regarded as temporarily out of commission so far as concerned the collection of taxation. This reduction in revenue might to some extent be offset by the influx of refugees to the more secure parts of the Settlement and the consequent renting of unoccupied properties. In regard to the rate of taxation he recalled that in September last he put forward a comprehensive plan for financing the current year's expenditure at which time he referred to the possible necessity of introducing somewhat drastic measures if on account of an emergency arising it proved not to be possible to obtain an increased rate of taxation for this and successive budgets. Since the existing crisis arose he had definitely reached the conclusion that having regard to the enormous reduction in trade and loss of profits it would be unfair to the community to increase the G.M.R. by even 2 per cent as contemplated prior to the emergency arising. Accordingly it was his intention solely as a temporary measure applicable only to the current year to prepare the 1932 budget for submission to the Finance Committee on the basis of the existing General Municipal Rate of 14 per cent. Had the present emergency not arisen the contemplated increase to 16 per cent would in his opinion have been fully justified. It would be essential still further to restrict expenditure on certain capital projects. With regard to the balancing of the Budget he had already advocated that certain expenditures which hitherto had been paid from revenue could rightly be charged to the extraordinary budget. By extending this principle which under the circumstances he considered to be fully justified to include certain other emergency liabilities and thus distribute this burden between present and future ratepayers he hoped that it would be possible to balance the current budget on the basis of the existing rate of 14 per cent. This policy would necessarily accelerate public borrowings but as it was highly desirable to avoid this until future conditions could be more clearly visualized he might later in the year put forward proposals for some special means of financing extraordinary requirements—possibly in co-operation with certain of the banks—to carry the Council over until the flotation of a loan was more opportune.

With regard to the cost to the Council of emergency measures it was not possible at this stage to give definite figures. He had however kept in close touch with the various additional Committees instituted by the Council and with the willing co-operation of their Chairmen he had been able to keep a most careful check on these expenditures.

With respect to the cost to the Council for food supplies for the Volunteers and Special Police, at the outset a daily expenditure of $10,400 was incurred. At present owing to the release of the majority thereof and to the reduction in the capitation grant the daily cost to the Council was $2,100.

SETTLEMENT NEUTRALITY.

The following statement was recently issued by the Council's Press Information Office:—

As a great deal of misapprehension appears to exist in the public mind regarding the relations of the International Settlement with the various Powers at this most critical period, it is hoped that the following opinion to the Council by the Secretary General may be of some effect in clarifying the situation.

Much of this misunderstanding is apparently mainly due to the difficulty which the ordinary resident naturally encounters in distinguishing between a neutral State and what may be termed a neutralized State.

The International Settlement is in no sense an Independent State, but it possesses certain unique characteristics which make it sufficiently analogous, in certain respects, to an Independent State to justify an attempt to explain what is meant in modern international law by the term "neutrality" and to distinguish clearly between a neutral and a neutralized State.

A State is neutral which chooses to take no part in a war. In other words it acts upon its own volition and not from outside influence or compulsion.

The term "neutrality" is of wider application. A condition of neutrality may be created, as it were, artificially, and the process has been called "neutralization."

States are neutralized either by convention or treaty, the term "convention" being used in the sense of tacit consent or practice based on such consent.

The objects intended to be achieved by the neutralization of a State may not always be wholly identical but there is always one fundamental object to be achieved namely, a guarantee of immunity from encroachment and attack by neighbouring States for whose collective interests such an arrangement is considered to be on the whole expedient.

When States are thus neutralized it is not only preordained that such States are to abstain from taking part in a war into which their neighbours may enter, but it is also prearranged that such States are not themselves to become principals in a war.

Compensation for this restriction on the freedom of action of neutralized States is their guaranteed immunity from encroachment and attack by neighbouring States.

Belgium, Switzerland and Luxemburg are examples of States neutralized by treaty.

It will probably be freely admitted on all sides that successive Municipal Councils have faithfully adhered to the principle that the International Settlement is a neutral area, analogous to a neutral State and have never involved the Settlement in wars or international complications arising between Powers whose nationals comprise a component part of the population of the Settlement.

An examination into the position of the International Settlement in respect to its possible status as a neutralized area analogous to a neutralized State is not so simple.

As already pointed out neutralized States can only be created by convention or treaty. It is doubtful if anyone can successfully contend that the International Settlement has been created a neutralized area by treaty between the various Powers or States having political or other interests in the Settlement. Whether or not it has been created a neutralized area by convention, or in other words by tacit consent or agreement or practice based on such consent or agreement on the part of these Powers and States, may be a question upon which the opinions of the respective Governments of these Powers and States may not be wholly unanimous.

If we assume for the sake of argument that the International Settlement is a neutralized area by convention between these Powers and States, then it is the duty of these Powers and States and not of the Shanghai Municipal Council to prevent by collective measures, if necessary, any breach of the neutrality of this area by the armed forces of any country.

Closely related with the complicated problem of the neutrality of the Settlement is the question of the status of the foreign troops sent to Shanghai by their respective Governments.

The foreign community of the Settlement from the early days of its existence has claimed, under "the law of self preservation," the right to protect itself against dangers of attack from without, as well as against disorder within its borders and has always maintained an attitude of armed neutrality in Chinese civil wars in the course of which the political and territorial integrity of the Settlement have been placed in jeopardy.

On various occasions when the local military and police forces of the Settlement have not been adequate to protect it against military or mob aggression on the part of any Chinese political or military party or faction, it has requested and secured the aid of the naval and military forces of certain Foreign Powers.

Ostensibly the landing in the Settlement of the naval and military forces of some of the Foreign Powers has been for the purpose of protecting the lives and property of their respective nationals. In practice, however, it has been found that the protection of their respective nationals could best be accomplished by concerted or combined action of the various foreign forces under a prearranged scheme or plan of defence embracing the whole Settlement, and under a unified direction likewise arranged by the consent of the various commanding officers of national units.

Under these circumstances it can hardly be denied that certain Foreign Powers at least, by convention have created and maintained a condition of neutrality of the International Settlement as against any acts of force or aggrandizement on the part of the Chinese Government, political group or faction, tending to impair or destroy the political or territorial integrity of the Settlement. Whether this condition of neutrality extends beyond this may be a moot question.

This qualified neutral condition of the Settlement has been created and maintained solely for defensive purposes and never for offensive purposes against China or any other Power.

Some months prior to the declaration of a State of Emergency by the Council on January 28, 1932, the commanding officers of the foreign forces stationed in Shanghai including the Japanese commander, had agreed upon a scheme or plan of defence of the Settlement of a purely defensive nature, and which never contemplated that concurrently with its coming into operation a virtual state of war might exist between China and Japan.

Under this plan the perimeter of the Settlement was divided into sectors and each national unit was allocated to a designated sector for the defence of which each unit was separately responsible.

As the Japanese forces had been sent to Shanghai for the protection of their nationals it was only natural that the Japanese commander would expect the Northern sector to be allotted to the Japanese unit because of the large number of Japanese residents and extensive Japanese interests located in the Northern area.

The Municipal Council were in no way responsible for the allotment of the various national units to their particular sectors.

The Japanese unit was allotted to the Northern sector purely for defensive measures for the protection of the Settlement as a whole, on exactly the same basis as other sectors were allotted to other national units, and if anything has been done by the Japanese unit in excess of the purely defensive measures contemplated by the defence plan this is something for which neither the Settlement authorities nor the commanders of the other national units can be held responsible.

In this connection it should also be borne in mind that the Municipal Council has no authority or control whatever over the international forces of the Foreign Powers and is in no way responsible for their acts and that these forces are not in any way directly responsible to the Municipal Council but are solely responsible to their respective Governments.

PARKS REPORT FOR JANUARY.

The Superintendent of Parks and Open Spaces, in his January report, states:—

Jessfield Park.—Operations connected with the proposed alteration to the contour of the central pond were commenced and the removal of many trees and shrubs from this area was carried out.

The Public Garden.—Extensive alterations to the layout of the rockery, rendered necessary by the projected erection of a latrine, and the building of a retaining wall along the northern plane tree avenue were commenced.

Hongkew Park.—The revetment of the banks of the lake and levelling and drainage operations on the site acquired for park extension were continued until local conditions necessitated a cessation of all work in this district. The park was closed on January 29, but no damage had been caused to park property at the end of the month.

Quinsan Square.—This area was closed on January 29; no damage, however, has been caused on this property.

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, MARCH 4, 1932. No. 1354

AEROPLANES OVER SETTLEMENT.

Further correspondence with reference to the flight of aeroplanes over the Settlement is published for general information. Mr. Edwin S. Cunningham, American Consul-General and Senior Consul, writing to Brig.-Gen E. B. Macnaghten, Chairman of the Municipal Council, says:—

"I have the honour to refer to your letter of February 6, 1932, concerning the danger to life and property in the Settlement attendant upon the flight of military aeroplanes over it, and to enclose herewith a copy of a reply dated February 17, to the representations which I made to my Japanese colleague on the subject. You will, I am sure, share my regret that the assurances of my Japanese colleague are not of an unqualified nature.

"I have also to enclose a copy of Mayor Wu's reply of February 10, to my representations on the same subject."

General Wu Te-chen, Mayor of Shanghai Municipality, addressed the Senior Consul as follows:—

"I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of February 8, 1932, in regard to the flight of Japanese military planes over the Settlement for reconnoitring, demonstration and fighting purposes. It was stated that since the flight of these planes over the Settlement endangers life and property within the Settlement limit, you would notify the Japanese naval and military authorities to desist from such activity and that it would be appreciated if I convey the information to the Chinese Naval and Military authorities that the flight of military planes over the Settlement should be discontinued.

"In reply I would observe that aerial sovereignty within the Settlement is China's innate right which has never been abandoned. It follows, therefore, that the flight of Chinese airplanes over the Settlement cannot be subjected to interference of any nature. In view of the fact, however, that I am also deeply concerned about the safety of the lives and property of the residents of this city as a whole, I shall, out of respect for the views expressed in your letter under acknowledgment, convey the same to the Chinese military authorities for their consideration and action. Furthermore I must emphatically state that, in the event of the Settlement authorities permitting Japanese air planes to continue flight over the Settlement or to pass through the Settlement, or in the event of their failure to prevent them from doing so my Government could not assume responsibility for anything that may occur as a result of the shooting aimed thereat by the Chinese forces in self-defence."

Mr. K. Murai, Consul-General for Japan, writing on February 17 to the Senior Consul states:—

"In compliance with your request the purport of your letter has been duly notified to the Japanese Authorities concerned, who in reply informed me that, as strict instructions have been given to Japanese aviators to refrain from flying over the Settlement, the practice will naturally be discontinued in the future, unless it is absolutely necessary for the defence of the Settlement and for the protection of Japanese lives and property."

THE STATE OF EMERGENCY.

Proposed Ratepayers' Meeting.

Replying to a letter from the Shanghai Chinese Ratepayers' Association requesting the Municipal Council to convene a meeting of the Chinese and foreign ratepayers to discuss and decide upon measures for the defence of the Settlement, the Council states:—

"The Council is deeply appreciative of the support which the various associations mentioned in your letter have pledged themselves to give to the Council in its determination to maintain the good order and government of the Settlement in the present State of Emergency. The Council has been doing everything that lies in its power to protect life and property in the Settlement, and assures the public that, with the willing co-operation of all nationalities constituting the International Settlement peace and order will be maintained and the municipal functions will be completely restored in the Hongkew District in the course of the next few days.

"In so far as the actual defence of the Settlement is concerned the Council has already made its position clear in its letter to General Wu Teh-chen dated February 6, and certain foreign Powers have already sent reinforcements for the protection of the Settlement and the maintenance of its neutral status.

"Under the circumstances, a combined meeting of all the ratepayers, which would necessarily include Chinese and Japanese, may not be the most suitable method of achieving the ends suggested in your letter. The Council, however, whilst fully appreciating the spirit in which your suggestion is offered, considers that the best interests of the Settlement and of its future will be served by the combined efforts of all the ratepayers to facilitate the ordinary functioning of the municipality, to maintain without interruption the commercial and industrial undertakings upon which the prosperity of Shanghai is based, and to continue their part as ratepayers in order that the community may emerge from the present crisis with its integrity and prosperity unimpaired."

PROCLAMATION.

DECLARATION OF A STATE OF EMERGENCY.

THE Council for the Foreign Settlement of Shanghai, by virtue of the power and authority in it vested, hereby makes proclamation that from 4 p.m. on Thursday, January 28, 1932, a STATE OF EMERGENCY exists, and authorizes the adoption of all requisite measures for the maintenance of order and good government of the Settlement.

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

Council Chamber.
Shanghai, January 28, 1932.

Co-ordination Committee.—Secretariat, Mr. J. R. Jones, Secretary of Council. Phone 16130.

OMNIBUS OVERCROWDING.

The Municipal Council has approved a proposal made by the China General Omnibus Co., Ltd., to establish for a trial period two short routes as a means of alleviating overcrowding of omnibuses. These supplementary routes are designed to relieve Route No. 1, which is from Bubbling Well to Hongkew Park and return, at intervals of six minutes.

Route No. 1-A will be from Seymour Road to Garden Bridge and return, the interval between buses being three minutes and the fares twenty and twenty-four coppers. These buses will be turned at the junction of Soochow Road and the Bund in order to avoid obstruction to traffic.

Route No. 1-B will be from the Bund (Kiukiang Road junction), to Soochow Road, Chapoo Road, Haining Road, North Kiangse Road (North Szechuen Road until the repairs to North Kiangse Road are completed), Tiendong Road, North Soochow Road, Soochow Road back to the Bund. It is proposed to turn these buses opposite Kiukiang Road into the Bund roadway at present used by heavy traffic and to use this road as far as the crossing opposite the British Consulate; thus they will not enter the stream of traffic from the Southern end of the Bund. The interval between vehicles will be three minutes, and the fares sixteen and twenty-four coppers.

There was a total decrease of 228 cases as compared with the figures recorded last month and an increase of 133 cases over those for the corresponding period of last year. 1,438 persons were arrested for crimes committed during the month, 115 for offences committed previously and 30 for other Authorities, a total decrease of 222 as compared with the number apprehended last month. There was an increase of 14 armed robberies as compared with those recorded last month, which was undoubtedly due to the proximity of the Chinese New Year and the outbreak of hostilities at the end of the month when several cases of armed robbery were reported near the Settlement borders. A number of arrests were made during the month of persons suspected of being members of a criminal gang whose activities have extended over a period of several months and who were responsible for many armed robberies committed recently. There is an increase also in the reports of housebreaking cases, many of which were of a minor nature. A marked decrease is shown in the number of "thefts" reported in all divisions. Special measures taken in connection with reports of snatching from foreigners in "B" Division resulted in several arrests during the month. Owing to precautions taken at tram and bus stops in connection with pocket-picking many arrests were effected especially in "C" Division where 19 cases were reported and 15 arrests made. Five cases, involving a large sum of money, came to light during the month in which money misappropriated had been lost in gambling transactions and in gambling dens.

A considerable decrease in the reports of crime was noted in all divisions during the last few days of the month, particularly in "C" Division undoubtedly due to military operations which commenced on January 28. The Sino-Japanese hostilities were also responsible for considerable interference with normal police duties and particularly in crime investigation which was quite impossible in "C" Division and very difficult in the Kashing Road Station area. Large numbers of Chinese were arrested by Japanese marines and plain clothes patrols on suspicion of being snipers or otherwise engaged in operations against the Japanese Naval Authorities.

Murder.—Two cases were recorded, both of which occurred in "D" Division. In one case a Chinese Police Constable was stabbed to death and several others were wounded in consequence of an armed encounter between Chinese members of the Municipal Police and a group of Japanese who had been concerned in setting fire to a Chinese towel factory in the Yangtszepoo district. Seven Japanese were arrested by the Japanese Consular Authorities and charged with murder and assault. In the second case a Chinese residing at 391 Wayside Road murdered his mother-in-law by strangulation and hitting her on the head with a chopper as the result of a quarrel.

Attempted Murder.—Of the five cases reported one occurred in Central district when a British subject attempted to shoot his wife by firing with a .45 revolver and subsequently fatally shot himself. The second occurred in the Western district when a Chinese was stabbed by two men during a quarrel over a business transaction. Two arrests were made. In the third two men attempted to strangle a Chinese boy 10 years of age. The culprits were arrested and sentenced to 15 and 12 years imprisonment respectively.

The fourth occurred in "B" division when a foreign probationary sergeant was fired at and slightly wounded whilst attempting to search a pedestrian. The culprit was subsequently fatally wounded by the Police. He was identified as an old offender. In the fifth case an inmate of a house at 2302 East Seward Road was wounded by one of a gang of armed robbers who attempted to take his wrist watch. Five shots were fired. The culprits made good their escape.

Manslaughter.—One case under this category was recorded in the Pootoo Road district. This occurred on the night of January 23, when a Chinese constable on patrol was run down by a railless tram car and died shortly afterwards from his injuries. The driver was charged and sentenced to one year and two months' imprisonment.

Armed Kidnapping.—Two cases were reported: in one, a Chinese female was kidnapped from 71 Tuh An Li off North Shanse Road by an armed gang who also stole property valued at $300 from the other inmates of the house. Nine members of the gang were arrested, two of whom were shot dead in an encounter with the Police. In the second case a wealthy Chinese residing in the Wayside district was kidnapped by armed men whilst proceeding in a private ricsha along Pingliang Road. The victim was later rescued and 12 members of the gang were arrested.

Abduction. — Seven cases of simple abduction occurred and nine arrests were made.

Armed Robberies. — Sixty-eight cases were reported, 14 more than last month and 13 less than during the corresponding period of last year. "C" Division records an increase of five and "D" Division an increase of 12, whilst a decrease of two and one is recorded in "A" and "B" Divisions respectively. Nineteen arrests were effected in connection with these cases.

Other Robberies.—Of the total of ten cases reported one was found on investigation to be false. The figures are the same as last month. Eight arrests were made in connection with these cases.

Members of a Criminal Gang.—Five gangs were arrested during the month and 27 arrests effected. Three of the gangs consisted of pick-pockets and snatchers.

House, Office and Shop Breaking.—As compared with last month there was an increase of 34 cases and an increase of 21 on the figures for January 1931.

"A" and "C" Divisions record an increase of 13 and "D" of nine cases whilst there is a decrease of one case in "B" Division. 13 arrests were effected.

Burglary.—A decrease of five is recorded. "A" Division records 15 cases, the same as last month, "B" Division an increase of three, "C" Division a decrease of five and "D" a decrease of three. 14 arrests were made in connection with these cases. Ten cases of breaking-in occurred on extra Settlement roads in the Bubbling Well district.

Thefts.—There was a decrease of 156 cases compared with the figures recorded last month and 69 cases more than for the corresponding period of 1931. One false report was received and five were refused investigation. 420 arrests were made in connection with this class of crime. 255 cases of pocket-picking occurred in all divisions and 87 arrests were made.

"A" Division records 36 cases and 24 arrests. 85 bicycles were stolen and three arrests were made. Two motor cars were also stolen and one recovered. 23 cases of shoplifting occurred in "A" Division. A total of 26 arrests were made.

Receiving Stolen Property.—14 cases were reported and five arrests were made resulting in convictions in nine cases.

Snatching.—There was an increase of 13 cases as compared with last month. 44 occurred in "A" Division, 14 in "B" Division, 31 in "C" Division and five in "D" Division. 58 arrests were made including 25 in "A" Division and 28 in "C" Division.

Opium.—104 reports were recorded as the result of police action, in which 314 arrests took place. The Headquarters Narcotic Section made 20 raids and arrested 107 persons of which number 38 had been previously convicted for opium and other offences. 291 ounces of opium and red pills and 82 pipes together with the usual paraphernalia were seized and confiscated.

Gambling.—74 cases were recorded during the month, a decrease of 17 as compared to last month. 228 arrests were made. Most of the cases were of a petty nature consisting of Hua Hui gambling.

Other Crimes.—226 cases occurred, 68 less than last month and an increase of three over the figures for January 1931. Cases under this heading are of a very miscellaneous nature and comprise misappropriation, fraud, assault, loitering, extortion and threatening letters. 107 arrests were made in connection with these cases.

Notable work in "A" Division included the arrest on January 18, of three members of a robber gang including a female pistol carrier who was found in possession of two loaded pistols and a quantity of ammunition.

Notable work by Headquarters Crime Branch included the arrest between January 11 and 12 of nine Chinese, four in the Soochow Hotel, 810 Chekiang Road and five with the assistance of the Chinese Authorities in country houses off McLeod Road, Peh Sing Ching district, all of whom were concerned in the armed kidnapping of a Chinese cotton broker named Woo Neu Poo at 9 a.m. on January 7 on Pingliang Road. One pistol and several rounds of ammunition were seized by the Police and the victim released.

59 criminal cases occurred on Extra Settlement roads or in buildings abutting thereon, an increase of 19 as compared with those recorded last month.

The Headquarters Special Detective Squad conducted investigations into 24 special cases including Armed Kidnapping, Threatening Letters, and Members of a Criminal Gang, and effected the arrest of 16 persons. In addition enquiries were continued in six serious cases previously reported.

Stolen Property.—Property to the value of $245,325.36 was alleged to have been stolen during the month, a decrease of $70,231.32 as compared with last month. Property valued at $36,279.60 was recovered.

Finger Print Bureau.—The total number of records dealt with was 2,102. As compared with the figures recorded for last month there is a decrease of 123 and an increase of 371 as compared with the figures for January 1931. Investigations were made into 41 cases and latent prints were secured in 11 instances. Of 14 dead bodies (Chinese) finger-printed and photographed at the mortuary three were identified by fingerprints. 22 records of foreigners were received and 12 identified as having previous convictions. In addition eight records of foreigners were received from the French Police, of which number identifications were recorded in three cases.

Studio.—302 photographs were taken and 574 copies printed during the month.

Boarding House Section.—During the month the staff of this section visited 472 Boarding Houses, 22 Bars, Restaurants, Cafes, Taverns and Theatres. 15 new applications were dealt with.

Suicides.—Two foreigners, one Korean and seven Chinese committed suicide, whilst one foreigner and three Chinese attempted to do so.

Communism. — Meetings and demonstrations promoted by Communists were held in Chinese territory on January 10 and 17. About a thousand people attended on the former date and about double that number on the latter. Proceedings at both the gatherings were marked by the delivery of speeches, shouting of slogans and distribution of literature denouncing the Nationalist Government and urging that armed support be given to the Communist Party and Soviet Districts. When the meeting on January 10 terminated the attendance formed into processional order and marched across Chinese territory, the French Concession and continued via Thibet and Nanking Roads, in the Settlement to Hongkew district where they were dispersed by the Municipal Police. This procession was headed by a coffin containing the remains of a student who was killed in Nanking on December 17. The coffin seems to have been brought to the meeting place for the purpose of raising enthusiasm. When the meeting on January 17 ended the attendance proceeded in processional order to the offices of the Municipality for Greater Shanghai where they demanded the release of a man who had been arrested while the meeting was in progress for propagating Communism. They arrived, however, to find the buildings of the Municipality strongly guarded and were obliged to disperse without obtaining satisfaction.

Propaganda.—In the course of observations at meetings and demonstrations and searches at two Communist bases during the month, the Municipal Police found 1,134 copies of Communist literature, including 104 varieties of handbills which had not been previously seen. The bulk of the leaflets dealt with the Sino-Japanese conflict, alleged recent victories of the Red Army, the anniversaries of the deaths of Karl Liebknecht, Rosa Luxemburg and Lenin, the Ying Hsiang Kong Incident and various industrial strikes. Red literature in other languages found during the same period included leaflets in the English language appealing to the members of the local American and British forces to secede from their present allegiance and give armed support to Soviet Russia and Soviet China.

Measures for Suppression of Communism.—Three Chinese were prosecuted for offences of a Communist character, but the cases against them had not concluded at the end of the month.

The students of the Yien Dai Middle School, No. 47 Markham Road, charged with Communist offences, whose cases were remanded from 1931, were sentenced to five years' imprisonment each.

Disagreement between Chinese and Japanese.—The tension between Chinese and Japanese was aggravated by a number of incidents which occurred during the month. On January 18 a crowd of Chinese assaulted a party of five monks on Ma Yu San Road in Chinese territory, off Ward Road. Three of the monks were seriously injured and one subsequently died. As a reprisal for this attack, a party of about fifty members of the Japanese Youth's Fraternity set fire to the San Yu Towel Factory, Ma Yu Sun Road, about 2.30 a.m. on January 20. When leaving the scene the Japanese attacked a number of Chinese members of the Municipal Police with knives, sticks and iron bars. In the course of the encounter a Police Telephone Box was damaged while one Chinese constable received stab wounds to which he subsequently succumbed and a Japanese received bullet wounds which likewise proved fatal. In addition two Chinese constables and two Japanese were wounded. The latter, and six other persons of Japanese nationality who participated in the affair, were taken into custody by the Japanese Consular Authorities and sent to Nagasaki for trial.

Mass Meeting of Japanese Residents.—At 1 p.m. on January 20 local Japanese residents to the number of 1,200 held a mass meeting in the Japanese Club and passed a resolution in favour of marching in a body to the Japanese Consulate for the purpose of demanding that drastic action be taken against China. Being dissatisfied with the attitude of the Consul General, they decided to appeal to the Japanese Naval Landing Party. As they were passing along North Szechuen Road near Jukong Road on their way to the headquarters of that Force, they smashed windows of Chinese shops and assaulted Chinese occupants of ricshas. They also smashed the windows of a tram car and two buses and made threats against a foreign police sergeant.

Publication by the "Min Kuo Pao" of Article Offending Japanese Landing Party.—A Chinese newspaper called the "Min Kuo Pao," which is the official organ of the Kuomintang, in a report published on the Ying Ziang Kong incident made a statement that Japanese marines were present when the attack on the Police took place. The implication was resented by the Japanese Naval Landing Party who demanded that the paper should devote a page to the publication of an apology and a correction of the statement, and that in addition the editor should present himself at the Headquarters of the Japanese Naval Landing Party and make an apology in person. Tension arising from failure by the editor to comply with these demands resulted in the "Min Kuo Pao" closing down on January 26.

Japanese Demands to Mayor of Greater Shanghai.—On or about January 21 the Japanese Consulate-General presented the following demands to the Mayor of Greater Shanghai:—

1. That the Mayor of Shanghai tender an apology to the Japanese Consul-General in connection with the assault on certain Japanese monks.
2. That the assailants be located, arrested and punished immediately.
3. That medical expenses and a compassionate grant be paid to the five Japanese victims.
4. That all illegal anti-Japanese movements be suppressed and that the various anti-Japanese and National Salvation Associations and other similar bodies be dissolved immediately.

On January 27 the Japanese Consul-General demanded in writing that a satisfactory reply be given to these demands before 6 p.m. on January 28. At 1.45 p.m. on that date a reply was given, which, from reports appearing in the press, satisfied the Japanese Consular officials. Previous to giving this reply the Chinese authorities had commenced to comply with the demands and had closed down about a dozen branches of the National Salvation Committee to Resist Japan. Previous to the acceptance of the demands, Admiral Shiozawa, Commander of the Japanese Forces in Shanghai, had announced that he intended to take action.

The Municipal Council decided to declare a State of Emergency which came into effect at 4 p.m. on January 28. Occupation of the sectors assigned to the S.V.C., British Military Forces and U.S. Marine Corps was completed soon after that hour. A movement, commenced by the Japanese Forces about 11.35 p.m., developed into operations which by the following morning had resulted in the Japanese developing lines which roughly were bounded on the west by Fusan Road and Shanghai-Woosung Railway, on the East by Dixwell Road and on the North by the Northern Boundaries of the Hongkew Park and Rifle Range. Warlike operations continued on January 29 when a flight of three Japanese seaplanes manoeuvred over the Settlement.

As a result of mediation by the British and American Consuls-General a truce came into force at 8 p.m. on January 29 and remained more or less effective until the end of the month.

Despite the truce intermittent shooting with rifles and machine guns continued during the remaining days of the month and a number of shells fired by Stokes Mortars fell in the Settlement. The rifle shooting during the truce was largely the result of activities of plain clothes irregulars who made a practice of sniping at patrols and posts of Japanese Marines. Apparently with a view to checking these irregulars the Japanese Marines and reservists in plain clothes, by whom they were being assisted, increased their machine gun posts and gradually usurped police functions in the Hongkew area. Summary arrests of civilians and searches of houses took place and Chinese pedestrians who failed to stop when challenged were fired upon. In some cases the reservists went to the extent of holding up and even disarming members of the Municipal Police.

Warlike preparations of the Chinese soldiers on January 28 and previous to that date included the digging of trenches and construction of defence works in a line between the Warren and Rubicon Roads in the Western district and preparation under cover of darkness of sandbag emplacements on streets in Chapei giving entrance to that district from the Settlement.

Chinese Shopkeepers Suspend Business.—In accordance with a decision of the Chamber of Commerce to suspend business for three days as a protest against the invasion of Chinese territory by the Japanese, Chinese companies, banks and shops suspended business on January 29 and had not reopened at the end of the month.

Influx of Refugees in the Settlement.—As a result of reports that hostilities between Chinese and Japanese were imminent hundreds of residents of Paoshan Road and North Szechuen Road entered the Settlement on January 28 and a general exodus of the population of these thoroughfares and other parts of Chapei began the following day. By the end of the month it was estimated that some 50,000 refugees had sought shelter in the Settlement while many thousand others had left for Hangchow, Ningpo and other places in the interior.

Student Activities.—In addition to holding anti-Japanese meetings and processions in Chinese territory radical elements among local students made ineffectual attempts during the month to bring about a strike of shopkeepers.

Seizure of Goods of Japanese Manufacture.—The pickets of the Inspection Department of the National Salvation Association to Resist Japanese are alleged to have seized goods of Japanese manufacture to the value of $8.570 during January. The bulk of the seizures were made in Chapei. A picket of the Coal Merchants' Association was arrested by the Municipal Police on January 17 for being concerned in the seizure on the Soochow Creek on January 11 of a lighter with a cargo of 16 tons of Japanese coal the property of a British concern. He was charged on January 20 before the Shanghai Special District Court which ordered his release. A protest by Chinese coal shops against the action of the Municipal Police took the form of a strike which lasted from January 19 until the prisoner was restored to liberty.

Arrest of Alleged "Traitorous" Merchants. — Eight Chinese who were accused of having traded in Japanese goods, were taken into captivity during the month by members of the Detection Office of the National Salvation Association to Resist Japan. One of these was released on shop security after he had been held in captivity for six days. The remaining seven were set free unconditionally after they had been detained for periods ranging from one to nine days.

Other efforts during the month to further the anti-Japanese movement comprised 63 meetings and the distribution of 22 different kinds of posters, 61 different varieties of handbills and leaflets and one cartoon.

Strikes.—During the month under review there were eight strikes in the Settlement affecting a total of 1,759 workers in eight different concerns and resulting in a loss of 30,575 working days.

The statistics of strikes for the month under review are as follows:—

Area	No. of Strikes	No. of Hands.	No. of working Days.
Settlement	8	1,759	30,575
French Concession	1	1,390	6,080
Chinese controlled territory	4	17,648	278,250
Total	13	20,797	314,914
Total for corresponding month of 1931	6	830	7,160

As a consequence of difficulties in travelling subsequent to the outbreak of hostilities to and from Chapei where the bulk of their employees resided, eleven Chinese concerns suspended work on January 29. The operatives affected and employees of Japanese mills who were locked out brought the total number of persons without employment at the end of the month up to 79,000.

Cinema Censorship.—The Police censored 45 new feature films and 61 "Shorts" and newsreels in theatres in the Settlement and French Concession during the month. They rejected two as unfit for local exhibition, approved of 34 without question and gave permits for nine after objectionable parts had been excised. The owners of one of the pictures rejected by the Police appealed to the Board of Film Censors which decided to allow its exhibition after a promise had been made that certain objectionable parts would be cut out.

During the month three Chinese were sentenced to fines ranging from $40 to $120 on a charge of exhibiting indecent cinematograph films in a Chinese hotel.

Price of Rice.—The average prices of rice for the month of January 1932 were as follows:—

Chinese rice:

Best quality	$14.70
Good quality	13.90
Ordinary quality	13.10
Saigon rice:
Best quality	12.88
Good quality	12.07

Bicycles.—Bicycles were involved in 119 accidents during the month and in 53 cases the cyclists were known to have been at fault.

Safety First.—During the month the professional Story-teller visited various districts and gave addresses in 66 Teashops and Mills, etc. on "Safety First" themes. His audience roughly totalled 2,575 persons.

Motor Horn Nuisance.—There were 148 prosecutions for this offence during the month and in addition four chauffeurs had their driving licences suspended for a repetition of the offence.

Eyesight Test.—In addition to the usual eyesight test of all applicants for driving licences five chauffeurs already in possession of licences were retested during the month and found to be fit.

One-way Traffic.—The section of Boone Road, between Broadway and Seward Road, came under a one-way traffic regulation for an experimental period of three months as from January 15. During this period traffic will proceed from south to north only between the hours of 8 a.m. and 6 p.m., Sundays and Public Holidays excepted.

The experimental period of the one-way traffic regulation on the section of Kiangse Road, between Peking and Soochow Roads, expired on December 31, 1931, after which date it became a permanent regulation.

Identification Office.—During the month, 1,575 prisoners' records passed through this office for identification prior to the prisoners going to Court for trial, out of which number 461 were identified as having a previous conviction or convictions. In addition to the above 202 records were received from the French Police out of which number 65 were identified in the records of this office making the total for the month :—

Duty at Places of Amusement amounted to 10,146 hours.—

The only serious fire attended by the Brigade during the month was that which spread over an enormous area to the West of North Szechuen Road Extension and the North of Jukong Road, on the 29th, 30th and 31st, as a result of the disturbed local conditions.

The local Division of the Chapei Fire Brigade were compelled to abandon their station and machines during the night of the 28th and early on the 29th on account of the seriousness of the political situation, with the result that no attempt could be made to check the fire at the outset and consequently it spread rapidly until it had razed a very large area of buildings of brick or re-inforced concrete construction ranging from two to four storeys in height, including the Odeon and Cantonese Theatres. By the afternoon of the 30th, the conflagration had assumed huge proportions and reached a point not more than 200 yards from the Settlement boundary, while the danger was intensified by a strong northerly wind blowing directly towards the Settlement.

Permission was then given by the Japanese Naval Authorities for the Department to check the fire one block distant from the Settlement, namely, along the line of Jukong Road. Consequently, at 16.18 hours Hongkew Division turned out with two pumps, getting to work along North Szechuen Road, and when the fires in that vicinity had been subdued steps were taken to deal with the property along Jukong Road between the Railway Line and North Szechuen Road (roughly a distance of 450 yards), which was in "No Man's Land" between the Chinese and Japanese front lines. In this section the fire was found to be raging on both sides of the road, with the result that the danger to the Settlement became more imminent, and an additional large pump was ordered out from Central Station.

After about twelve hours' work the fire was successfully checked, its nearest approach to the Settlement boundary being approximately 180 yards. There is little doubt that, had more houses on the south side of Jukong Road become involved, the fire would have spread rapidly through the blocks of property to the north of Range Road and the greatest difficulty would have been experienced in preventing it from affecting the northern section of Hongkew District.

There were no casualties amongst Members of the Department, in spite of the fact that while the fire was being extinguished there was considerable sniping and bombing in the area.

Hospital Branch: On January 1, a fleet of five Ambulances, comprising the Hospital Removal and Infectious Services previously operated by the Public Health Department, was taken over by the Brigade and during the month 297 calls were received, in connection with which Ambulances made 306 journeys and 463 patients were conveyed.

This branch of the service was utilized during the early stages of the State of Emergency for the evacuation of various Hospitals in the Northern District and 182 patients (included in the above figures), in addition to Nursing Staff, servants and a portion of the stores were removed to new locations. In view of the additional work connected with these evacuations, an Ambulance, which previously had been condemned, was placed temporarily in commission as a reserve machine, making a total of six Ambulances in this section.

WATCH COMMITTEE AND ANNUAL ESTIMATES.

S.V.C., Fire Brigade and Police Requirements.

The Annual Estimates of the S.V.C., Fire Brigade and Police Force were considered at a meeting of the Watch Committee held on February 29.

In accordance with usual practice, the various items in the budget of extraordinary expenditure were considered in conjunction with the explanatory notes thereon by the Commissioner of Public Works and classified as follows:—

(A) Those to which the Council is already committed or are considered urgent.

(C) Those for which having regard to financial and other considerations, no appropriation should be made this year.

The Treasurer and Controller stated that he had conferred with the Commissioner of Public Works and with the Head of the Department concerned, and that the various items in the extraordinary budget had been tentatively classified for members' consideration.

Volunteer Corps.

Extraordinary Expenditure. — Buildings—Magazine, Eastern District.—An appropriation of Tls. 6,000, representing balance of cost for this provision, was marked "A".

Ordinary Expenditure — The Treasurer and Controller stated that other than the items to which he had drawn attention in his report the estimates as framed called for little comment. He had kept in close touch with the Commandant both prior to and during the framing of the preliminary estimates. It would be noted that in comparison with last year's figures, a reduction in expenditure had been effected on the Volunteer Units and the Russian Detachment of 5 per cent and 2 per cent respectively.

Provision was originally included for an extensive replacement of transport requirements but in view of financial and other factors the Commandant had agreed to reduce these figures.

An increased appropriation was inserted for a larger supply of ammunition and this with other provisions might be subject to later adjustment.

With regard to the supplementary report submitted by the Commandant advocating a temporary increase in the strength of the Russian Detachment by the transfer of a number of the personnel from the existing Volunteer Company and from the unofficial reserve, for the reasons outlined by the Commandant, he was prepared to support this proposal. With the exception of an additional charge of approximately $6,000 for the supply of uniform, the cost involved by adoption of this proposal did not exceed that incurred by the maintenance of the Russian Volunteer Company. Moreover its adoption would afford a measure of relief to the police gaol guards and also would avoid dislocating the business of the Settlement by retaining volunteers.

The above proposal was unanimously endorsed.

Fire Brigade.

Extraordinary Expenditure. — Land. — Sinza District, Station Site.—A nominal appropriation of Tls. 100 for this provision was marked "C."

Buildings.—With the exception of an appropriation of approximately Tls. 4,000 for the erection of an ambulance bay with quarters at Yangtszepoo Station which was marked "A", the following appropriations were marked "C".

Central Station (Portion of Cost):—Tls. 50,000.

Yangtszepoo Station: Additions and alterations:—Tls. 10,000.

Married Quarters (nominal):—Tls. 100.

Central Depot (nominal):—Tls. 100.

Wayside Station (nominal):—Tls. 100.

Point Station (nominal):—Tls. 100.

Cadets' Quarters—Various Stations, (nominal):—Tls. 100.

Pontoon (nominal):—Tls. 100.

Ordinary Expenditure. — The Treasurer stated that he had drawn attention to the main features of the departmental budget in his written report. Although every possible endeavour had been made to reduce expenditure to a minimum, the total figures inclusive of the Ambulance Services which were now under the administration of the Brigade but exclusive of Stock and Stores, represented an increase of 7 per cent over last year's estimated expenditure. The Chief Officer had adopted his proposal to defer during the current year any replacement of the existing shortage in the authorized establishment of Sub-Officers as also to reduce the increased number of Chinese cadets from 10 to 5, the former figure being inserted in the original estimates. The Chief Officer had also agreed to deferment of the provision of various items under Stock and Stores in accordance with the list which had been furnished to members. These excisions had the effect of reducing expenditure under this heading from Tls. 97,190 to Tls. 32,270.

Police Force.

Extraordinary Expenditure. — Buildings—The Treasurer observed that the capital projects of the Police Department were responsible for the greater portion of the annual extraordinary expenditure, particularly that incurred by gaol extensions. As most of these works were already in hand, no option existed but to proceed with these schemes.

The following appropriations were accordingly marked "A".

Central Station (Portion of Cost):—Tls. 200,000.

South Station (Portion of Cost):—Tls. 150,000.

The above appropriations were reduced to Tls. 180,000 and Tls. 100,000 respectively.

Gordon Road Station—Garage (Balance of Cost):—Tls. 6,000.

Point Station (Balance of Cost):—Tls. 447,000.

Yangtszepoo Station (Balance of Cost):—Tls. 44,000.

Carter Road Quarters (Balance of Cost):—Tls. 97,000.

Hospital (Balance of Cost):—Tls. 60,000.

Police Barracks:

Wayside (Balance of Cost):—Tls. 182,000.

Point (Balance of Cost):—Tls. 292,000.

Gaol, Ward Road.

	Tls.
Cell Block R/S (Balance of Cost)	280,000
Juvenile Block (Balance of Cost)	250,000
Extension to Laundry and Kitchen Block (Balance of Cost)	33,000
Hospital (Balance of Cost)	40,000
Administration Block (Balance of Cost)	118,000
Indian Warders' Quarters (Balance of Cost)	110,000
Foreign Quarters (Married) Portion of Cost	150,000

It was noted that as commencement of this work might be delayed it might be possible to reduce this latter appropriation.

Foreign Gaol.

	Tls.
Consular Prisoners' Block (Portion of Cost)	40,000
D.C. Female Prisoners' Block (Portion of Cost)	20,000
D.C. Male Prisoners' Block (Portion of Cost)	20,000
Kitchen and Workshop Block (Portion of Cost)	20,000
Boundary Wall and Sentry Tower	5,000

The following appropriations were marked "C."

Bubbling Well Station.—Extension (Nominal)	100
Louza Station—Extension.	30,000
Pootoo Road Station (Nominal)	100
Harbin Road Station (Nominal)	100
Sinza Station—Extension (Nominal)	100
Gaol (Ward Road).
Reformatory (Nominal)	100
Indian Staff Quarters Alterations (Nominal)	100
Foreign Quarters (Single) (Nominal)	100
Cell Block A/B (Nominal)	100

In connection with the expenditure incurred on gaol extensions and improvements, the extra-Commissioner of Police pointed out that although the gaols were administered by the Police Department the public might well appreciate from a perusal of the Budget that the Gaols were responsible for a large portion of the Department's extraordinary expenditure. In this connection, the Treasurer stated that the gaols budget was shewn separately in the Annual Report which should serve to remove any misapprehension on the part of the public as to this.

Ordinary Expenditure.—In amplification of his written comment on the Police Departmental estimates, the Treasurer stated that these had been framed on a basis representing its minimum requirements consistent with maintaining its efficiency. Since he brought to the Council's attention in September last the potential difficulties from a financial point of view which would have to be faced in 1932, he had been able with the co-operation of the Commissioner of Police to effect major reductions in the Departmental Expenditure with the result that the estimated expenditure for the current year was Tls. 169,000 less than for 1931, that in respect of Gaols administration remaining approximately at the same figure as for the previous year.

Subject to the above observations and to adjustment by the Treasurer and Controller, the Estimates of Extraordinary and Ordinary Expenditure were approved for submission to the Finance Committee.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT ESTIMATES.

Considered in Committee.

The 1932 estimates of the Public Health Department were considered at a meeting of the Health Committee held on March 3.

In accordance with the usual practice, the various items in the budget of extraordinary expenditure were considered in conjunction with the explanatory notes thereon by the Commissioner of Public Works and classified as follows:—

(A) Those to which the Council is already committed or are considered urgent.

(C) Those for which, having regard to financial and other considerations, no appropriation should be made this year.

The Treasurer and Controller stated that he had conferred with the Commissioners of Public Works and Public Health and that various items in the extraordinary budget had been tentatively classified for members' consideration.

He added that in view of the existing conditions it was impossible in certain cases to assess whether the proposed appropriations were over or under estimated. As, however, it would be difficult at this stage to vary these figures, he was of opinion that the effect of the present emergency should be excluded from consideration of these estimates.

Land.

Hungjao Cemetery (Tls. 15,000).—This appropriation, to provide for the purchase of any areas that may become available for rounding off the site of the Cemetery, was reduced to Tls. 5.000 and marked "A."

A supplementary estimate of Tls. 500 for the laying out of the Cemetery was also marked "A."

Land—Markets.

Bubbling Well District. (Nominal):—Tls. 100.

Markham, Gordon, Changping Road Area, (Nominal):—Tls. 100.

Yuenfong Road, Market Street Area. (Nominal):—Tls. 100.

The above appropriations were marked "C."

New Sinza Market—Additional Land (Nominal):—Tls. 100.

This appropriation was marked "A."

Western Fever Hospital Site—Additional Land (Nominal):—Tls. 100.

Isolation Hospital Site Cad. Lot 1150—Acquisition of Land inset on the South (Nominal):—Tls. 100.

As these provisions are contingent upon consideration of the Hospitals Commission Report, the above two appropriations were marked "C."

Buildings.

Various amendments in the amounts originally inserted were approved in respect of the following appropriations which were marked "A."

Abattoir and Cattle Sheds (Portion of Cost):—Tls. 654.500.

Abattoir—Fittings and Equipment (Balance of Cost):—Tls. 300,000.

Victoria Nurses Home (Balance of Cost):—Tls. 340,000.

Bubbling Well Cemetery—Workshops (Balance of Cost):—Tls. 7,000.

Ordinary Expenditure.

In amplification of his written comment on the estimates of Ordinary Expenditure, the Treasurer and Controller stated that these estimates had been most carefully prepared and examined. The original figures represented an increase of Tls. 134.900 over last year's estimated expenditure, but, by certain adjustments which would in no way restrict the activities of the department, the final figures shewed a reduction of approximately Tls. 1,000 on last year's figures. This result had been obtained by substituting an exchange rate of 1/10 for 1/6 as the tael equivalent which afforded relief in respect of staff pay and sterling commitments and by transferring the items under Stock and Stores as enumerated in his report from the Ordinary to the Extraordinary Budget; under this latter adjustment the cost of certain provisions would rightly be spread over a number of years instead of becoming a charge on the ratepayers of one particular year.

In accordance with the usual practice, certain final adjustments to the figures now submitted would be effected by his Department in consultation with the Commissioner of Public Health.

Replying to the Chairman, the Treasurer stated that no provision was made in these estimates for abnormal expenditure which the Department might be called upon to bear as a result of the present crisis. Provision for this and other departmental abnormal expenditure would be inserted in another section of the Budget.

Subject to any necessary adjustments by the Treasurer and Controller, the estimates of Extraordinary and Ordinary Expenditure were approved for submission to the Finance Committee.

In his February Report, the Commissioner of Public Works states:—

The following bridges have been repaired:—

Columbia Road No. 3.

Amherst Avenue No. 5.

General repairs to Shanse Road bridge over the Soochow Creek are in progress.

Peking Road jetty was extended a further 15 feet into the river and widened by 20 feet. The pontoon was removed and the jetty was used as a garbage shoot, the shoots on the Soochow Creek not being available owing to barbed wire obstruction.

General repairs to Fearon Road garbage jetty have been completed.

At the Point Police Station and Barracks on Cadastral Lot 6510, Eastern, all work has been at a standstill during the state of emergency.

At the Wayside Police Barracks on Cadastral Lot 1923, Eastern, no work has been carried out during the month.

At the abattoir, Sawgin Road, on Cadastral Lot 330, Eastern, no work has been carried out since the commencement of the state of emergency. The west boundary walls and the matshed huts in which the contractor's workmen were housed have been exposed to rifle and shell fire.

At the Victoria Nurses Home the concrete to first floor columns, lift-shafts and walls surrounding the staircases has been poured. The steel has been laid to second floor beams and slab.

At the Branch Health Office, Tsepoo Road, work has been temporarily suspended, but is now proceeding on the general internal finishings.

At the Branch Health Office, Kwangse Road, on Cadastral Lot 670, Central, the building has been completed and is ready for occupation.

At the Open-air Swimming Pool —Filter House, all work on this building has ceased owing to the local situation.

At the Wayside Park lavatory on Cadastral Lot 3700, Eastern, this work has been at a standstill since the commencement of the emergency. The foundations have been laid and brick-work should be commenced as soon as materials are available.

At the Western District Primary School for Chinese on Cadastral Lot 3276, Western, work has been suspended by the general contractor since the commencement of the state of emergency. Work on the electrical, heating and sanitary installations is proceeding and it is anticipated that the interior work on the building will shortly recommence.

At the Eastern District Primary School for Chinese on Cadastral Lot 2231, Eastern, this work has been suspended during the period of emergency, but has now been resumed and work is proceeding on the brickwork below ground level.

At the Assembly Shed, Rifle Range, all work has been suspended due to the state of emergency.

At the Barracks for Russian Unit, S. V. C., Alcock Road, the alterations to the existing main building have been completed and the contract for the erection of the huts has been let. Foundations have been laid and erection of superstructure is proceeding.

The fitting up of billets for various defence units has demanded a considerable amount of attention during the month.

MUNICIPAL PROPERTIES.

Kiaochow Park—Changping Road.

Arrangements have been made with the Chinese owner for the acquisition for a sum of Tls. 10,870 of an area of mow 0.707 of unregistered land West of Cadastral Lot 6114, Changping Road. Of this area mow 0.649 is required for the scheduled extension of Changping Road and Mow 0.058 for Kiaochow Park.

VOLUNTEER CORPS.

Precautionary State Ordered.

Col. N. W. B. B. Thoms, D.S.O., Commandant of the Volunteer Corps, writing to the various national Chambers of Commerce under date March 8, states:—

"I have this morning given orders that the entire Corps be placed in a precautionary state, which means that in a few days no Volunteers will be on a full time basis, and I would like to take the opportunity of asking you to express to that portion of the business community which is affiliated with your Chamber, the best thanks of the Council for the very great assistance which it has given during the present State of Emergency in releasing men from their usual business avocations for service with the Volunteers.

"Since the second day of mobilization a certain amount of leave has been granted to men who were essential to their business and I have taken great care to see that up to the present during the State of Emergency the necessity of keeping up the business of the Settlement has not been overlooked.

"It may, however, occur to some firms that certain of their employes have been kept rather longer than others:—e.g., until yesterday a considerable percentage of the Armoured Car Company have always been on duty; and it may not be realized how very essential it has been that certain areas far away from the centre of the town should be continuously patrolled by the Armoured Cars. There was an instance only last week when these strong patrols in outlying areas were one of the principal causes of preventing serious disturbances in the City itself.

"I am hoping that before long Units will be sufficiently strong to allow for a greater percentage of leave to be given in any future mobilization, and thus avoid any dislocation of business which may have arisen in respect to such a prolonged period of duty as I have mentioned."

THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, MARCH 25, 1932. No. 1357

ORCHESTRA AND BAND.

Reduction in Estimates.

The Treasurer and Controller reported to a meeting of the Orchestra and Band Committee on March 4 that since the preparation of the annual estimates he had, in consultation with the Conductor, effected somewhat drastic retrenchments, including the abolition of the S.V.C. Band and other reductions as set out in his report dated February 24, resulting in a total reduction of Tls. 33,270 on the original figures. The total amended estimated expenditure represented a decrease of approximately 20 per cent. as compared with last year's figures.

He submitted that it was important, when the cost of the maintenance of the Orchestra was subjected to criticism, for the Council to be in a position to show a reduction in past expenditure.

The Chairman considered it highly important that supporters of the Orchestra should be able to advance as a reason for its continuance a drastic reduction in the cost of its maintenance He considered that in the abnormal circumstances now prevailing an immediate and substantial reduction in its cost was imperative.

Subject to adjustment as usual by the Treasurer, the estimates as submitted in printed form were endorsed for submission to the Finance Committee.

Soloists' Fees

The Treasurer drew attention to the existing system under which soloists were engaged for the ordinary Sunday Concerts and paid a percentage of from 15 per cent. to 20 per cent. of the gross takings for their services. In the majority of such cases, the hall was not filled to capacity and the admission fees to concerts at which these artistes appear were not increased. In his opinion, this policy was unbusinesslike. He also considered that the Orchestra, composed as it was of highly efficient professional musicians, should be sufficient inducement to music lovers without having to engage outside assistance to attract audiences.

He therefore proposed that in future only artistes of outstanding repute should be engaged on a payment basis as soloists and that when such artistes were engaged the admission fees be increased to offset the additional cost involved by their engagement.

After brief discussion, members unanimously endorsed this proposal.

SPECIAL MEETING OF RATEPAYERS.

Postponed to More Opportune Time.

The Chairman of Council referred at the meeting on March 16 to the decision reached at the meeting on December 9 that an endeavour should be made to convene a special meeting of ratepayers immediately prior to the forthcoming Annual Meeting for the purpose of securing an amendment to Bye-law XXXIV to permit the licensing of factories. Whilst he regarded this amendment as vitally necessary in order that the Council might secure a measure of control over factories etc., he suggested that the existing situation might overshadow the interests of the ratepayers on this important question. Moreover as no building was available to accommodate a quorum of ratepayers except possibly the Drill Hall, he doubted whether the present time was opportune to bring this question forward.

After discussion members agreed that the section of the community who would be likely to support this resolution were at present more interested in obtaining a return to normal conditions in the factories than in the introduction of new legislation governing their operation.

It was accordingly decided that whilst this proposal be not abandoned it remain in abeyance for the time being and that a reference be included in the Chairman's speech to the effect that the Council at a more opportune time hoped to convene a special meeting to authorize the desired amendment to this Byelaw.

LAND COMMISSION MEMBERSHIP.

With reference to discussions at previous Council meetings, it has been decided to propose a resolution at the forthcoming Annual Meeting of Ratepayers for the alteration of the Land Regulations for the purpose of increasing the number of Land Commissioners by the addition of two Chinese Land Commissioners.

MUNICIPAL RATE ASSESSMENT.

The matter of the assessments for General Municipal Rate of the premises, No. 2 Singapore Road and Houses Nos. 1, 2 and 3, Lane 166, Weihaiwei Road, has been referred to the Rate Assessors and will be heard at the Administration Building on Tuesday, March 29, at 3 p.m.

ROAD EXTENSIONS AND WIDENINGS.

Kashing Road.

Negotiations have been concluded with the Chinese owner for the surrender for a sum of Tls. 18.145 of an area of mow 0.619 required from Cadastral Lots 1171 and 1172 (East of Woosung Road) for the scheduled widening of Kashing Road.

DEATH OF M. KOECHLIN.

Brig.-Gen. E. B. Macnaghten, Chairman of the Municipal Council, has sent the following letter to Monsieur J. Meyrier, Consul General for France:—

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, March 18, 1932.

SIR,—It was with profound sorrow that the Council heard of the sudden death of M. Koechlin, who only a week ago bade adieu to us upon relinquishing his position as Consul General for France and President of the Municipal Administration of the French Concession.

My colleagues and I desire to express our deepest sympathy with the members of the French community in Shanghai and with the Administration of the French Concession upon the loss of a distinguished Frenchman and administrator, and to pay tribute to the success which his personal popularity and cordial co-operation during his three and a half years of office achieved in cementing the happy relations which have existed between the two neighbouring administrations.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
E. B. MACNAGHTEN,
Chairman.

DEATH OF COLONEL MARCAIRE.

The Chairman of Council has also addressed the following letter to the Consul General for France relative to the death of Colonel Marcaire:—

Shanghai, March 22, 1932.

SIR,—It is with the deepest regret that the Council has learnt of the great loss that the French community has suffered by the death of Colonel Marcaire. Following so suddenly upon the death of M. Koechlin the tragedy of the occurrence is doubly accentuated.

My colleagues and I tender to the French community and to the French Army in their bereavement our sincere condolence and sympathy, and wish to record our highest appreciation of the service rendered by Colonel Marcaire in co-operation with the officers of the armed forces of other Powers in the defence of common interests in Shanghai in the recent emergency.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
E. B. MACNAGHTEN,
Chairman.

REFUGEE CAMP.

Council Committee Formed.

At the meeting of Council held on March 16, the Chairman's proposal was adopted that a Committee composed of one Chinese member of Council, the Commissioners of Police, Public Health and Public Works be appointed to consider the best means by which relief can be afforded by the Council to destitute refugees and unemployed workers; the Committee to review this question from all aspects, particularly from the point of view of communist agitators attempting to take advantage of the large number of destitute persons to foment disturbances, and if necessary to submit concrete proposals to the Council for consideration.

LAND COMMISSION.

Yuen Ming Yuen Road.

In terms of the appended correspondence, it has been decided to refer the undermentioned case to the Land Commission for decision:—

Shanghai, June 15, 1931.

DEAR SIRS,—By reference to your road maps of Shanghai you will see that a strip of approximately five feet has been required from the east side of the old Lyceum Theatre lot for widening Yuen Ming Yuen Road. As the records will also show, about eighteen months ago this lot was purchased by the China Baptist Publication Society. It was our desire to put up a building just as large as possible for our own use and to rent to others as a source of income for our work. However, on account of the requirements for the road, we were not allowed to build on all the land we purchased. This greatly decreases the income we had hoped to receive from the building. At the same time, since Yuen Ming Yuen Road is a quiet road, widening it will be of no particular benefit to us.

It is our understanding that it is the policy of the Shanghai Municipal Council to pay a just price for land thus taken for roads. Since it will not be long before this strip of land may be used for the road, and since we are needing the money, we would like to have the matter adjusted as soon as convenient.

The directors of our organisation are public spirited and are willing to do what they can for the public good, and in this case are willing to share in making Yuen Ming Yuen Road better for others to travel. We paid a great deal more than the assessed value of this lot, and it has greatly increased in value since we bought it. Therefore we feel that the least the Shanghai Municipal Council could justly pay us would be the full assessed value of the land taken. In order to help make Shanghai better, we are willing to share in this improvement to the extent of the loss between what we paid and the assessed value of this strip of land.

Hoping you will find it convenient to take up this matter and adjust it at an early date.

I am,
Very truly yours,
J. T. WILLIAMS,
Secretary-Treasurer.

C. HARPUR, ESQ.,
Commissioner of Public Works

* * *

Council Chamber.
Shanghai, July 22, 1931.

SIR,—I am directed to acknowledge receipt of your letter of June 15, addressed to the Public Works Department, claiming compensation at the assessed value in respect of the area required from Cadastral Lot 9A for the scheduled widening of Yuen Ming Yuen Road.

In reply I am directed to point out that the section of the road fronting your property varies in width from approximately 23 feet to 27 feet which is considered entirely inadequate to serve a building such as the Society is erecting. Furthermore, the fact that the road is scheduled to 40 feet has, under the Building Rules, made it possible to erect a building of a greater height than would otherwise be permissible.

In view, therefore, of the betterment to the Society's property, the Council is of opinion that a sum of Tls. 3,680 would be adequate compensation for the surrender of the scheduled area of mow 0.064, and I am directed to make an offer accordingly.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. M. MCKEE,
Acting Secretary.

The SECRETARY,
The China Baptist Publication Society.

Shanghai, August 7, 1931.

SIR,—I was very much surprised when I received your letter of July 22 offering only Tls. 3,680 for that portion of Cadastral Lot 9A taken by the Municipal Council for widening Yuen Ming Yuen Road, and I beg to take this method of saying to you that the offer made is not satisfactory to the Directors of the China Baptist Publication Society.

Because of inexperience in such things in Shanghai, perhaps I was wrong in going about the matter as I did. Since writing to you on June 15 I have been told that in matters of this kind one is supposed to claim a great deal more than he expects to obtain and then let the Municipal Council cut it down. I did not go about it that way. After careful consideration, on behalf of the China Baptist Publication Society, I made a straightforward offer which seems just to all parties concerned.

There is room for difference of opinion as to how much benefit comes to us, if any, from widening the road, but in my consideration of the matter I have assumed without argument that it would be of some value to us, though not as much as it would be on a busy business street.

Figuring from what we paid for the lot and from the fact that there has been a little increase in land values since we bought the lot about 20 months ago, I come to the conclusion that a conservative estimate of the market value of the lot is Tls. 138,500 per mow. At that rate the amount taken for the road is worth Tls. 8,864. An exceedingly liberal estimate of the increased value to our property because of widening the road is 30 per cent. If we deduct 30 per cent., or Tls. 2,659, we have a balance of Tls. 6,205 which would be paid for the land taken for the road. This amount is several hundred taels more than we offered to take in order to settle the claim.

If I did wrong in not claiming about Tls. 10,000 damages in the first place, I shall have to beg your pardon for it. What I sent to you was a carefully considered proposition from a group of men who have in mind the welfare of this community as well as the cause they represent. This fact is well shown in that we offered to take 35 per cent. less than a very conservative estimate of the market value of the land. We expected that the fairness and justice of our proposition would be at once recognised by our worthy Councilmen and a settlement made accordingly.

We do not wish to cause unnecessary trouble to our hard worked Councilmen, but we feel that in justice to ourselves and the cause we represent, we have to ask that the matter be reconsidered. I am authorised to accept from the Shanghai Municipal Council for the China Baptist Publication Society in settlement of their claim against the Council the sum of Tls. 5,760.

Thanking you in advance for your kind consideration of this matter.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. T. WILLIAMS,
Secretary-Treasurer.

J. M. MCKEE, ESQ.,
Acting Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, August 15, 1931.

SIR,—I have to acknowledge receipt of your letter of August 7, on the subject of the surrender of an area of mow 0.064 from Cadastral Lot 9A, required for the scheduled widening of Yuen Ming Yuen Road.

In reply thereto, I have to inform you that the Council's offer of compensation, amounting to Tls. 3,680, was based on a value of Tls. 115,000 per mow, which is approximately 28 per cent. above the assessed value of the lot.

As regards betterment, I have to remind you that the existing road is only 23 to 27 feet wide, which width is entirely inadequate to serve the building now being erected. Furthermore, although the widening of the road to 40 feet has not yet been effected, the fact that the road is so scheduled has enabled you to build to a greater height than would otherwise have been the case.

The lot, after the surrender of the scheduled area, will have an area of mow 0.856, and the betterment of Tls. 3,680 claimed by the Council thus assumes that the widening of the road will enhance the value of the remaining land to the extent of Tls. 4,300 per mow.

In the circumstances the Council trusts that, on reconsideration, you will agree that the offer of Tls. 3,680 for the surrender of the area of mow 0.064, is fair and reasonable.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. M. MCKEE,
Acting Secretary.

The SECRETARY,
The China Baptist Publication Society.

Shanghai, March 11, 1932.

DEAR SIR,—Allow me to say a few words in answer to your letter of August 15, 1931. The matter concerned in this letter is a certain portion of land on Yuen Ming Yuen Road which is required for widening the road. In my letter of August 7, 1931, I stated that the amount offered by the Municipal Council as compensation for the land required was not acceptable to the Executive Committee of our Board of Directors, and therefore the matter was dropped until our larger Board could meet. The amount offered was not acceptable to the Board of Directors, therefore I am requesting that this matter be referred to the Land Commission for further consideration and settlement.

Very truly yours,
J. T. WILLIAMS,
Secretary-Treasurer.

J. M. MCKEE, Esq.,
Acting Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, March 16, 1932.

SIR,—I have to acknowledge receipt of your letter of March 11, stating that the Council's offer of Tls. 3,680 as compensation for the area of mow 0.064 required from Cadastral Lot 9A for the scheduled widening of Yuen Ming Yuen Road is unacceptable.

In the circumstances, I have to inform you that in accordance with your request this case will be referred for settlement to the Land Commission. Plans of the lot will be prepared and forwarded for signature at an early date, and notice of the hearing of the case will be communicated to you by the Secretary of the Land Commission in due course.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. M. MCKEE,
Deputy Secretary.

The SECRETARY,
The China Baptist Publication Society.

PUBLIC HEALTH REPORT FOR FEBRUARY.

The Commissioner of Public Health, in his February report, states:—

General Notes.—Owing to the continued state of emergency the monthly collection of statistics was considerably curtailed due to activities beyond our control, and also to the fact that a large proportion of the Japanese population returned to Japan.

The main features of importance in the month's work are as follows:

Vital Statistics. — The violent fluctuation of the population during the month made it impossible to correctly assess death rates per mille, as is usually done. The deaths amongst resident foreigners totalled 75, the average number being between 60 and 70. Hence had the population remained stationary, the death rate would be expressed as 20 per thousand, but as the foreign population is very considerably diminished this death rate represents a considerably higher rate, though it is not possible to be definite.

In regard to the Chinese population, deaths noted amounted to 3,077, which is the highest figure yet recorded, and would represent a figure of 36.29 per thousand, but it is considered that an increase in the Chinese population has occurred, though even this factor is obscure, the population having been in a fluid state during the whole of the period and insufficient data for accurate statistical valuation being available.

The higher death rate amongst Foreigners has less significance from the Public Health standpoint than might be supposed as it was increased by the inclusion of certain unusual causes of death attributable to the emergency amongst a section of the foreign community.

The high figure amongst the Chinese population, can, it is thought, be ascribed to other factors, namely, the presence of numerous refugees, many being of the poorest classes, and also to a very large influx of beggars. During the strained conditions existing, aggravated by the cold snap, it is known that a heavy mortality existed amongst the latter. In addition the infantile mortality was very high in the poorer districts.

Communicable Diseases.—At one time the indications were that the town was threatened by a Smallpox outbreak of considerable magnitude. There were 19 cases notified from amongst foreigners with 8 deaths, and Chinese records showed 70 cases and 53 deaths. As a result an intensive vaccination campaign was inaugurated with unfortunately disappointing results. Vaccinations in camps and throughout the town totalled 31,912, to which must be added 8,185 doses of lymph supplied to approved charitable Organisations and hospitals, so that at least 40,097 free vaccinations were performed. (It is known that three to four thousand vaccinations were performed with vaccine manufactured by the department.) Further, there was a large sale (sometimes at reduced rates) with the result that 83,345 doses in all were issued.

From an epidemiological standpoint more vaccinations should have been performed, but owing to strong and ignorant opposition more time and labour was wasted in overcoming objections than in actual vaccination work. However, rigorous vaccination of contacts was performed, and furthermore many refugees were found to have been already vaccinated in Northern District offices. Hence it may perhaps be claimed that steps taken controlled (if they did not check) the epidemic, which, in view of the known fact that numerous cases were smuggled into the Settlement, is satisfactory. The term 'smuggled' is used as concealment of diseased persons was rife. Steps were taken to prevent such unsocial acts and the campaign is continuing.

Tuberculosis.—There were ten foreign and 57 Chinese deaths from all forms of this disease.

Measles accounted for four foreign deaths from amongst 17 cases, and 60 deaths amongst Chinese. It is known however, that a heavy epidemic of this disease occurred among refugees and the population generally which is not entirely covered by the above figures.

No cases or deaths from Malaria were notified amongst both foreign and Chinese residents, though there were four cases amongst the Royal Scots Fusiliers, contracted outside of Shanghai.

Whilst only one foreign case of Influenza (a death) was notified, it is an indisputable fact that a minor epidemic has been present in the town, affecting both the foreign and Chinese populations. On the whole the disease is of a mild type with few sequelae, though cases of a more serious nature have been noted.

Laboratory.—The manufacture of Smallpox vaccine at pressure still continues and, as mentioned above, 83,345 doses were issued, whilst 1,607 doses of Bacterial vaccine were issued.

The manufacturing section devoted attention to the preparation of typhoid vaccine.

Pasteur Treatment: 34 persons bitten or licked by dogs, including 3 from outports, called for advice, cauterisation and/or treatment. There were no fatalities reported during the month.

Hospitals Division.—Through the kindness of the Henry Lester Institute of Medical Research the Chinese Police patients are still kept in the Clinical unit, Lester Chinese Hospital.

The Mental Hospital, in spite of difficulties and cramped quarters functioned well, though the patients could hardly be said to be suitably housed.

The Indian Police Hospital work was conducted in the Ben Building. Admittances were extremely low.

The 12 remaining Tuberculosis cases were nursed throughout the month in the Shanghai Nursing Home, Route Dufour.

Both Foreign and Chinese Isolation Hospitals admitted more than the usual number of Smallpox cases, admissions to the Chinese Hospital in particular, being very heavy. The mortality was regrettably high, chiefly owing to a severe form of the disease being prevalent, and to the majority of the patients being non-vaccinated persons, who had been ill for some time before admission.

Whilst a necessarily brief note was made last month on the subject of evacuation of Hospitals, it appears desirable to point out that the evacuation of five hospitals, two of which contained highly infectious cases, to practically unprepared and scattered sites, was an extremely difficult operation. Whilst it is true that the number of cases evacuated was low compared with other evacuations, it should be remembered that extensive disinfections were required after certain cases, and that the utmost care was needed to prevent any confusion of linen, crockery, etc, and that the patients had to be moved bed, bag and baggage to sites either unready for such occupation, or temporary hospitals certainly not prepared to accept such patients and necessary staff. For this and other reasons, which it appears unnecessary to dilate on, I am of opinion that it is desirable to depart from the customary procedure of these reports, and draw attention to the fact that the Nursing and other staff concerned functioned in an extremely efficient manner in carrying out these operations without a hitch under conditions both difficult and harassing. In making this remark, I would like to add that the Chinese staff, under conditions of singular difficulty and peculiar anxiety, performed arduous and painstaking work in a most willing manner.

Finally had it not been for the great assistance rendered by the Shanghai Fire Brigade in supplying ambulances and transport, the work of the volunteer drivers of the Evacuation Committee, and the work of the P.W.D. in placing the Ben Building in commission in a remarkably short time, the move could not have been carried out.

Dairies and Milk Supply.—The usual routine of the Dairies and Milk supply has been considerably handicapped by the disturbance caused by local military operations. Five of the dairies were situated within the fighting zone. These dairies possessed over 170 cows and supplied approximately 3000 pounds of milk daily. The exact situation concerning some of these dairies is not yet known, though many of the animals have been removed to premises within the Settlement where it is impossible to carry out proper milking and bottling. At the same time a number of animals are reported to be saved. It has not yet been possible to inspect the dairies to ascertain to what extent they have been damaged, hence it is difficult to predict whether these dairies will be able to re-open on cessation of hostilities.

Apart from the five dairies mentioned above, three dairy owners in the Eastern District moved their animals to the Western area, thus further disorganising the milk supply.

A dairy in the Western district was managed by voluntary workers under the direction of the Department, with a view to conserving the milk supply as far as possible.

Municipal Slaughterhouse and Meat Supply.—Owing to the fact that bullets and small trench mortar shells occasionally fell in close proximity to the Slaughterhouse and Cattlesheds, and certain difficulties obtaining in the District, the routine work there was considerably disorganised.

On February 20, five hundred head of cattle arrived by steamer from Nanking. They were lairaged for one night in the Chinese Gardens on Soochow Road, and removed next day to the Cattlesheds. A number of animals were slaughtered with the assistance of the department, but owing to numerous inconveniences and difficulty in disposing of offal, heads, hides, etc., together with the fact that the cattlesheds were in close proximity to the danger zone, most of the cattle were removed to hongs within the French Concession.

Butchers in the French Concession and to some extent in the Western District benefitted considerably at the expense of those normally functioning in Hongkew.

The kill compared with last month showed a decease of 8,875 animals. The comparative figures follow:

Average Daily Kill—February 1932.
Oxen 14, Sheep 9, Calves 4.
Pigs 35.

Average Daily Kill for the year 1931
Oxen 151, Sheep 64, Calves 35,
Pigs 80.

The receipts from fees amounted to $987.65, being $4049 less than January.

Dogs Under Observation for Rabies.—Due to above mentioned conditions it became necessary to make arrangements for housing animals under observation for rabies. The Dog Kennels at the Cattlesheds were evacuated on February 2, all dogs being removed to the Kennels at the Yangtszepoo Police Station. Since then, by arrangement with the Police, dogs are being held for observation at either the Gordon Road Kennels or the Yangtszepoo Police Station.

Laboratory animals were removed to the Jessfield Zoo, and vacant sections of the Foochow Road Market.

Pig Slaughterhouse.—The kill at the Pig Slaughterhouses amounted to only one-third of the average kill and was 32,890 less than last month. Receipts from fees amounted to $1,790.70, or $3,573.40 less than January.

Assistance had to be rendered by the Department in removing animals from one of the Private Pig Slaughterhouses which was under rifle fire, and from which part of the owner's staff had deserted.

Markets and Bakeries. — The dislocation of the Northern Markets led to considerable business being done in Western Private Markets, and has served to emphasise the necessity for a Municipal Market in the Western District.

In general the food supply has been well maintained, and in some instances local food stuffs are cheaper than during normal times.

In regard to Bakeries, the majority of the smaller places have had to close down owing to the fact that they were situated in the Northern District, and had been in the habit of purchasing their materials in small quantities as required. The remaining bakeries have been producing double the normal amount and prices have remained at the pre-emergency level.

Veterinary Work.—The Veterinary Surgeon reports that contagious pleuro-pneumonia has not spread to other dairies, though eight animals died in the two dairies already affected.

Veterinary services were well maintained.

Sanitation Division.—In regard to sanitation, certain routine duties have been somewhat dislocated in the Northern Districts and to some extent also in other districts, owing to the heavy work created by the state of emergency. On February 3, Markham Road Branch Health Office was struck by a small calibre shell which exploded inside the building and seriously wounded a Chinese foreman, who is now making satisfactory progress towards recovery. The necessity for special inspection of various Emergency Hospitals and Refugee Camps threw a very heavy strain on this Division. In addition, the Smallpox scare and the Vaccination Campaign occupied the full time of all available staff. It has been necessary in some instances to perform house-to-house vaccinations in the neighbourhood of Smallpox cases, which needless to say takes up a good deal of time. In addition, temporary Cleansing Squads have had to be organised and supervised in order to maintain sanitary conditions in various areas. These Squads are supplementing the work of the P.W.D. by penetrating into private alleyways occupied by refugees, and where dangerous conditions might arise from lack of sanitary control. It also became necessary during the early days of the state of emergency to organise squads for the purpose of ensuring the removal of ordure from certain camps where the contract system had temporarily been dislocated.

Incidentally, in one Sub-District alone, from February 4 to 19, our staff was responsible for disposal of the contents of 1,041 kongs etc, since normal routine was impracticable. It is obvious that these emergency measures assisted in the maintenance of sanitation.

The camps under the sanitary supervision of this Department number 67, and are widely scattered. They present a source of anxiety to the Department inasmuch as they are frequently opened without notification, and not infrequently without the knowledge of the owner of the property or house. It may in fact be stated that in a number of cases refugees have taken possession of vacant properties and remain therein without any other control than our inspection.

In regard to Emergency Hospitals, there are 30 in the Settlement, which are visited daily by Officers of this Department, with a view to ensuring the prompt removal of soiled dressings etc., and with an eye to sanitary supervision.

Before concluding, a short note must be made concerning exposed corpses. The removal of these was an extremely difficult matter during the earlier part of the month owing to the fact that some of the Chinese population found it impossible to convey bodies (coffined or uncoffined) to country districts in accordance with the normal practice, and also to the influx of persons of no fixed abode. It was found that most vacant areas in the Settlement contained dumped corpses—very often uncoffined—some of which had died from communicable diseases. The Shanghai Public Benevolent Cemetery performed extremely valuable work and, assisted by this department, removed for burial outside limits 2,998 corpses, approximately five times the ordinary number.

During the earlier part of the month the Disinfection Station had to be closed for four days. Thereafter it functioned almost normally, though under considerable difficulties. The transport vans, owing to exceptionally heavy use, were frequently out of order.

During this short period, by special arrangement with the British Military authorities, a horse-drawn Disinfector was borrowed from the Kiaochow Road Camp and conveyed to the Ben Building, where it has proved of immense value.

Here follow Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases, and of the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics, Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

ANNUAL MEETING OF RATEPAYERS.
RESOLUTIONS.

NOTICE is hereby given that the following resolutions will be brought forward by the Council at the Annual Meeting of Ratepayers to be held in the Carlton Theatre, 2 Park Road, on Wednesday, April 13, 1932, at 2.30 p.m.:—

Resolutions I, II and III.—Appointment of Chairman and Secretary and adoption of rules of procedure.

Resolution IV.—That the Report and Accounts for the year ended December 31, 1931, be passed.

Resolution V.—That the estimated expenditure for the year 1932 contained in the Budget proposed by the retiring Council, together with the recommendations attached thereto, be approved and adopted and that the Council be and it is hereby authorized to impose, collect and recover the rates, taxes, dues and fees recommended therein, and to raise, should it be considered expedient to do so, upon such terms and in such manner as the Council may in its discretion think fit, a sum not exceeding Tls. 2,000,000 or the equivalent of this sum, for the purpose defined in the estimate of Extraordinary Expenditure.

Resolution VI.—That in the opinion of this meeting the addition of two Chinese members to the Land Commission is desirable; and that the Council be hereby authorized and instructed to make representations to the Powers concerned with a view to securing the addition of two Chinese members to the Land Commission.

Resolution VII.—Election of Land Commissioner for the ensuing year.

Resolution VIII.—Election of four Governors of the General Hospital for the ensuing year.

Ratepayers intending to ask questions in regard to the Accounts or other matters connected with the foregoing Resolutions are requested to give notice of such intention at least 24 hours before the meeting so that full answer or other explanation may be given.

Ratepayers desirous of bringing forward additional motions or of nominating duly qualified persons willing to serve under Resolutions VII and VIII are required to give notice thereof to the undersigned before 4 p.m., on April 5, for due publication.

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, March 31, 1932.

No. 4209.
CEMETERY REGULATIONS.

NOTICE is hereby given that Clause 14 of the Regulations for Municipal Cemeteries has been amended to read as follows:—

"Disused memorials, railings, etc., must be removed from the Cemeteries upon request. Any material not removed after due notice may be disposed of at the discretion of the Council.

"The Council will not be responsible for any damage to any tomb-stone or other memorial erected in the Municipal Cemeteries, or to memorials of any description deposited in Cemetery workyards pending erection or re-erection.

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, March 31, 1932.

VOTING LIST.

A special issue of the "Municipal Gazette" giving a list of the persons duly qualified to vote at the Annual Meeting of Ratepayers on Wednesday, April 13, was published yesterday. Notice of any errors or omissions should be addressed to the Assistant Treasurer—Revenue, Administration Building, 209 Kiangse Road.

MUNICIPAL BUDGET FOR 1932.

The Municipal Council on March 23 had before it the draft Budget for 1932, and the minutes thereon of the Finance Committee meeting held on March 18, which it confirmed.

In presenting the draft Budget to the Finance Committee, the Treasurer and Controller stated that he had, in conformity with the definite view expressed by Mr. Justice Feetham, endeavoured to place this draft in members' hands prior to the election of Councillors for the ensuing year.

Relative to his prognostication in September last that owing to the adverse exchange situation then prevailing and in regard to other factors a substantial deficit might have to be brought forward to the current ordinary budget, he was glad to be able to report that as the result of an appreciation in the sterling-tael exchange rates and retrenchment of expenditure effected in conjunction with the various Heads of Departments it had been possible to carry forward a surplus of Tls. 351,000. In this connection he recalled that in September, 1931, he advocated that certain items which hitherto had been charged to the Ordinary Budget could rightly be charged to capital, particularly so as the Council had no outstanding indebtedness which was not being provided for. Application of this principle was a further factor definitely influencing this result.

The estimates of Ordinary Expenditure for 1932, from which the Education Budget had been divorced, amounted to a total of approximately Tls. 15,500,000. He stated that the figures for the majority of the Departments were below those for last year and that this result had been achieved without impairing their efficiency. In respect of the estimates of the Public Works Department, the figures submitted showed a reduction of Tls. 260,870 on last year's total. After consultation with the Commissioner of Public Works this reduction had been effected by transferring certain sums from the Ordinary to the Extraordinary Budget based on a percentage cost of the services rendered by the permanent staff in connection with expenditure on capital projects. In this respect the Council's auditors had expressed the view that the sums thus transferred were fair and reasonable. The fact that a separate Budget had been framed for the Education Department had also contributed to the reduction in cost of the Public Works Department and to the provision for maintenance of properties, etc.

With respect to the cost of the Municipal Orchestra, the Treasurer stated that drastic retrenchments in its previous cost had been effected; in his opinion still further reductions might become necessary in the future. He urged that a definite endeavour should be made to ensure that the receipts from these concerts should be sufficient to offset the cost of the accommodation rented for its performances, and he submitted that possibly a more popular type of programme might assist towards this end. Meanwhile, the Council's policy that, whenever possible, the musicians engaged from abroad should be substituted by locally engaged personnel would be adhered to.

The estimates of the Finance Department (Treasurer and Controller's Office) remained at approximately the same figure as for last year. No provision had, however, been made for the replacement of two senior members of his staff, and it might be necessary during the current year to arrange for the promotion of two Chinese employees and the engagement of a qualified assistant in order to avoid undue depletion of the senior ranks of his staff.

The estimates for the Revenue Office for the first time were shown under the Budget for the Finance Department. The slight excess over the figures for last year was due to a re-allocation of senior posts in recognition of meritorious service. It was to be noted that the charge for the emoluments of Mr. E. L. Allen, who had recently been designated "Adviser on Revenue Matters," had been shown under "General Charges."

The total figures for the Secretariat, which approximated Tls. 325,000, were slightly less than those for last year, provision being made for certain adjustments which eventually would be referred to the Staff Committee.

The cost of the Legal Department, Tls. 89,000, was approximately 20 per cent more than for last year owing to normal expansion and the improved conditions of service which were authorized for the Assistant Municipal Advocates in the latter part of 1931.

Provision for an additional assistant in the office of the Director of Chinese Studies was provided for, this engagement being subject to approval later by the Council. The cost of the Press Information Office, for which provision appeared in the Budget for the first time, was estimated at Tls. 45,000.

The total appropriation under "General Charges" was considerably less than last year, due to no further provision being necessary in respect to matters of a special nature, i.e., Feetham Report, Hill Report, Salaries Commission, etc.

Replying to the Chairman, the Treasurer stated that although no application for a grant had yet been received from the Anti-kidnapping Society he had inserted the customary contribution of Tls. 20,000 in anticipation that an application would be put forward in due course. Institutions to which the Council authorized grants were requested to submit their applications, supported by financial details of the previous year's working, prior to compilation of the final estimates, and considerable inconvenience was caused unless this requirement was complied with.

With reference to the amount shown under Interest, Brokerage, etc., the substantial sums received from the Power Company representing interest on the outstanding balance of the purchase price had in recent years constituted a material factor in this account. As periodical capital payments were made by the Company under the agreement and utilized for capital projects the income accruing from this source became greatly reduced.

The section of the Budget showing the estimated income for the current year had been framed prior to the commencement of the existing crisis. As it was quite impossible to foresee what reductions would result under such headings as collection of General Municipal Rate, receipts from Public Utility Companies, etc., he considered it advisable that the original figures should stand and that provision be made elsewhere to cover the cost of the present crisis. He considered this procedure eminently desirable, inasmuch as the budget in this form enabled one to ascertain precisely the normal collection on the assessed value of property, etc., although temporarily a proportion thereof might be out of commission. The figure inserted under Land Tax was slightly less than that for 1931, allowance having been made for properties in respect of which this tax was not collected. The estimate of revenue from General Municipal Rate, inclusive of special rate, was somewhat higher than that for last year, due to normal developments and inclusion under this heading of institutions which were privileged to obtain a partial or complete remission of taxation; an equivalent counter-entry in respect of such concessions was shown in the expenditure sections of the Budget.

The estimated revenue from wharfage dues was Tls. 150,000 less than the 1931 figures, owing to the revised apportionment of these monies between the Council and the neighbouring municipal authorities and the fact that an increasing quantity of goods was discharged on the Pootung side of the river to the detriment of the Council's revenue from this source.

With regard to the estimated revenue from public utility and municipal undertakings, the Treasurer stated that the return on certain shares held by the Council in the Waterworks Company which were purchased from time to time subsequent to those issued to the Council at the time the franchise was granted, was shown in the "Interest" section of the Budget, under general investments, for the reason that the income derived from these shares bore the same relation to municipal finances as other funds periodically invested.

In connection with the amount of Tls. 287,440 transferred to Extraordinary Income and Expenditure, this figure represented the cost of establishment charges in respect to capital development during the years 1929/30, the commencement of the period from which the Council's indebtedness was covered by other than the usual means.

As to the cost to the Council of the existing State of Emergency, whilst it was not possible to forecast this precisely, he had provided for a reduction in the estimates of Ordinary Income in an amount of Tls. 400,000 and under the estimates of Extraordinary Expenditure a further sum of Tls. 800,000 was inserted to meet these abnormal costs. These figures provided for the potential loss which might result from non-payment of rates on evacuated and destroyed properties and from reduced receipts from the public utility companies. It was, in his opinion, important that the principle be accepted that the major portion of these abnormal charges be spread over a number of years, hence the inclusion in the Budget of Extraordinary Expenditure of a sum double that included in the Ordinary Estimates.

In respect to the inclusion in the estimates of Ordinary Income of a sum of Tls. 1,225,000, representing an amount to be appropriated from General Reserve, the Treasurer stated that, despite the drastic retrenchment in departmental expenditure which had already been approved by the various committees, it would not have been possible to balance the Budget on the basis of the existing General Municipal Rate. During the past few years the Council had incurred heavy expenditure in respect to land purchases in excess of actual departmental requirements. He had not discouraged this practice since otherwise it might have been difficult to obtain an adequate return on monies which had been available for investment. The figure above referred to represented the profit which it was anticipated could accrue from the sale of certain of these properties within Settlement limits which were definitely earmarked for disposal. It was to be noted that this figure closely approximated the amount of additional revenue which would accrue from an increase of two per cent in the General Municipal Rate for a period of nine months. In his opinion there was no obligation on the part of the Council when required to compile an emergency Budget to replace to the credit of its capital account an amount in excess of that which was actually withdrawn from that account to finance these projects; accordingly this sum had been earmarked to supplement the net ordinary income of Tls. 14,312,000 and resulted in a small surplus on the Ordinary Budget of approximately Tls. 11,000.

The Budget of Extraordinary Expenditure reached a total of approximately Tls. 18,916,000.

The items therein had been closely examined by the various Departmental Committees and still further adjustments had been made between the Commissioner of Public Works and himself. The deficit brought forward from 1931 amounted to Tls. 516,300 as compared with an estimated deficit of Tls. 350,750. This difference was mainly attributable to the fact that the roads programme was accelerated owing to extensive property re-development, thus affording an opportunity to secure additional road land.

In respect to the estimates of Extraordinary Income, the Power Company would be called upon during the current year for payment of instalments under the agreement amounting to Tls. 16,000,000, including an amount of Tls. 8,000,000 required for redemption on December 31 next of the 1922 loan issue; the balance would be available for financing capital projects and for Sinking Fund purposes. He had also included a sum of Tls. 2,000,000 to be raised by debentures or other temporary measures, if necessary. He had inserted this figure as a precautionary measure in the event of the need arising, although he had already advised the Council of his reasons for not favouring the flotation of a loan during the current year unless absolutely necessary. If market conditions were adverse to a loan flotation, a credit of Tls. 2,000,000 could probably be arranged with the Trustees for Debenture holders by depositing adequate security in accordance with the provisions of the Trust Deed; alternatively a special overdraft could be arranged for a few months until the 1933 instalments from the Power Company became available. These were measures that might be contemplated at a later date. The total Extraordinary Income budgetted for, after transferring to education requirements Tls. 540,000, amounted to approximately Tls. 19,000,000, leaving a surplus of approximately Tls. 84,000.

In the Education Budget, which was shown separately for the first time, the allocation of revenue from the Ordinary General Budget of Tls. 1,384,090 represented 1.74 per cent of the assessed value of property subject to payment of General Municipal Rate and the corelative proportion of Land Tax. The estimates of Ordinary Expenditure—Education—, followed closely on the lines of those of preceding years and called for little comment. The Treasurer had put forward certain proposals with the object gradually of reducing the cost of the staff and these would be the subject of consideration during the current year. Items which appeared for the first time on the Expenditure side of this Budget were provisions for grants-in-aid pending classification of the recipient schools.

A member recalled that payment of the 1931 grants to foreign schools was left in abeyance in the hope that they could be issued simultaneously to those authorized for Chinese schools. As, however, this proved to be impossible owing to the difficulties encountered in reaching a satisfactory arrangement with the Chinese Authorities, the Council definitely decided that the foreign schools should not be penalized on this account.

The Treasurer accordingly undertook to deal with this matter in due course.

A member observed that in the Education Budget certain schools were shown as receiving specific grants and also were included in the list of those schools receiving remission of taxation. As they might also be accorded a further grant in accordance with the Council's revised policy, he suggested that this system of classification was somewhat misleading, inasmuch as it was difficult to assess precisely the benefits granted to these individual schools.

The Treasurer replied that until the various grants were co-ordinated during the current year it was difficult to indicate separately the amount of relief granted to individual schools. Full information would, however, be furnished to the Board during the current year, which would enable this information to be clearly stated in the 1933 and succeeding Budgets.

In respect to the Budget of Extraordinary Expenditure — Education—the total figure of Tls. 539,430 had been transferred from the General Budget. This system would enable members of the community who favoured heavier expenditure on education, as also those who desired its curtailment, to ascertain the precise annual cost of the revised education policy, and also would assist the Council in reaching a decision as to the possibility or otherwise of financing this policy.

The Treasurer stated that the decision not to increase the General Municipal Rate this year was actuated solely by the abnormal situation now obtaining, which had impaired the capacity of ratepayers to bear this additional payment. On the other hand, in his opinion, land was not bearing its fair share of taxation. As a matter of equity and in order that municipal revenue might be augmented sufficiently to offset expenditure, he adhered to his view that the reassessment of land values should be proceeded with as already authorized.

The Budget for 1932 was then formally endorsed.

POLICE REPORT FOR FEBRUARY.

The Commissioner of Police, in his report for February, states:—

The total crime recorded during the month is contained in the following table:—

Nature of offence	Reported during the month	Reported during previous month	Reported during corresponding month last year
Murder	5	2	1
Attempted Murder	6	5	3
Manslaughter	2	1	0
Armed Kidnapping	1 (1 att.)	2	5
Abduction	1 (1 att.)	7	6
Armed Robberies	79	68	64
Other Robberies	17	10	16
Members of a criminal gang	4	5	6
Housebreaking, office, shop, etc.	63	82	67
Burglary	12	72	58
Thefts	438	807	607
Receiving stolen property	2	18	8
Snatching	28	94	75
Opium Offences	7	104	58
Gambling Offences	3	74	26
Total	782	1,577	1,184

There was a total decrease of 795 cases as compared with the figures recorded last month and a decrease of 402 cases as compared with those for the corresponding period of last year. 857 persons were arrested for crimes committed during the month, 23 for offences committed previously and 52 for other Authorities, a total decrease of 651 as compared with the number apprehended last month. This is explained by the large decrease of crimes recorded.

Comparison of the crime returns for February with those of the preceding month or of the corresponding period in 1931 is of no value and, beyond showing the effects of the local situation on police districts which have been able to function in a fairly normal way serves no useful purpose. Crime investigation in "C" Division, for a considerable portion of the month, was practically impossible although strenuous efforts were made by the staff to investigate reported cases or matters which came to their notice in a variety of ways. For a period of two weeks Chinese detectives were unable to venture on the streets alone and the foreign staff was unable to cope efficiently with the multifarious duties and enquiries arising from the peculiar state of affairs existing in the division. To assist in investigations and to provide a place accessible to the public outside the more rigorously "occupied" area a temporary sub-station was opened in a teashop at No. 2744 Seward Road on February 3 and remained open until March 5. Considerable looting undoubtedly took place in both Hongkew and Dixwell Road districts during the time the Police were unable to function normally and it is likely that reports of stolen property for March will reach enormous figures. The Divisional Detective Officer "D" Division also reports considerable looting on the Northern boundary of his Division and particularly in the evacuated area outside the Settlement which was left unprotected by the Public Safety Bureau and unguarded by the Japanese Defence Forces. Special patrols had been placed on the borders and, where necessary, these extended their activities to the small villages in the vicinity which were known to harbour loafers and looters. Many encounters between the Police and these gangs occurred and many arrests have been made. During the period February 9 to March 5 the evacuation of Dixwell Road Police Station necessitated enquiries from Hongkew Station to which place all staff and records were temporarily transferred. "A" and "B" Divisions, while not affected in the same manner as "C" and "D" Divisions, also show an increase in armed robberies. This is probably accounted for by the influx to these Divisions of criminals fleeing from the northern area of the Settlement. The general decrease in other forms of crime is, no doubt, due to the restrictions of the Curfew order, to the difficulty of leaving the Settlement, the closure of shops, including pawnshops, and to the general neglect of the public in reporting cases during the unusual excitement prevailing.

The large influx of refugees and wounded soldiers does not appear to have caused any excessive amount of crime during the month, but it is still too early to comment on this aspect of the situation. The five cases of murder recorded do not take cognizance of the large number of persons reported missing since January 28 from Hongkew and Dixwell Road areas, and it is possible that the fate of many of these will never be known.

The Curfew order came into force on February 1 and was still in effect at the end of the month. This order relieved the detective staffs of police stations of much anxiety between 10 p.m. and 4 a.m. and practically no crime occurred between these hours. At the end of the month approximately 5,326 curfew passes had been issued.

A system of Emergency passes was inaugurated to enable persons resident or having business outside the military lines of the defence perimeter to pass freely and these proved of great value to both Chinese and Foreigners in the evacuation of their property during the general exodus from the northern area at the commencement of the state of emergency and since. 755 Emergency passes had been issued up to the end of the month.

Murder.—Five cases of murder were recorded during the month, one each in "A" and "C" Divisions and three in "D" Division. In one case a private bank detective was shot and killed by a watchman as revenge for loss of employment. In another a Chinese ricsha coolie was stabbed to death on the street by a Japanese who appeared to be under the influence of drink. In the third case the dead body of an unknown male Chinese was found with his throat cut at the west end of Chingchow Road. In the fourth case a male Chinese was attacked and stabbed to death by two highway robbers. In the fifth case a well-known loafer in the Kashing Road district was shot dead as a result of a fight between two rival gangs.

Attempted Murder.—Six cases were reported, all of which occurred in "D" Division. In one case a Chinese Police Watchman was fired at by two armed suspects both of whom succeeded in making good their escape by disappearing into an alleyway. In the second case a Chinese was shot and wounded by a Chinese Police Watchman through jealousy. The Watchman was arrested and charged. In the third case a foreign detective sergeant was fired at by one of a gang of armed robbers, two of whom were shot and wounded during an exchange of shots with the Police. Both died later. In the fourth case a Chinese was held up by a gang of highway robbers one of whom fired a shot at the complainant, which failed to take effect. In the fifth case a Chinese detective constable was fired at when challenging a gang of suspects. The detective constable returned the fire with the result that one member of the gang was wounded and fell on an axe which he had in his possession causing a severe wound in the throat which proved fatal. In the sixth case a Chinese was shot and wounded by an armed robber and although he made a gallant attempt to hold the man, he was not successful, the robber firing several shots at him.

Manslaughter.—Two cases of manslaughter were recorded during the month, both of which occurred in "B" Division and were the result of street accidents in which the injuries received eventually caused death.

Armed Kidnapping.—One case occurred in Sinza District, when a Chinese, employed by a trust company, was held up and kidnapped by an armed gang whilst proceeding in a private ricsha along Burkill Road.

Abduction.—One case of simple abduction occurred in which one man was arrested, charged and sentenced to one year's imprisonment.

Armed Robberies.—79 cases were reported, 11 more than last month and 15 more than during the corresponding period of last year. "A" Division records an increase of two, "B" Division an increase of five and "D" Division an increase of 13, while a decrease of nine is recorded in "C" Division. Two cases were found on investigation to be false. In connection with these cases a total of 31 arrests were effected. Foreign ladies were the victims in two cases.

Other Robberies.—17 cases were reported in connection with which 65 arrests were made. The majority of these cases were due to the conditions prevailing during the month when destitute people selected food and rice shops to commit these offences.

Members of a Criminal Gang.—Four gangs were arrested during the month in "D" Division and 35 arrests effected. Four pistols and 19 rounds of ammunition were seized and five of the accused were sentenced to various terms of imprisonment.

House-breaking, office, shop, etc.—As compared with last month there is a decrease of 19 cases and a decrease of four cases on the figures for February 1931. "A" Division records a decrease of 20 and "B" and "C" Divisions a decrease of five cases each, while there is an increase of 11 cases in "D" Division. 63 arrests were effected.

Burglary.—A total decrease of 60 is recorded in all divisions: "A" Division records a decrease of 14, "B" Division of 24, "C" Division ten and "D" Division a decrease of 12 cases. Three arrests were made in connection with this class of crime.

Thefts.—There was a decrease of 369 cases as compared with the figures recorded last month and a decrease of 169 cases for the corresponding period of 1931. 11 of these cases occurred on extra Settlement roads in the Western District. A total of 407 arrests were made.

Thirty-six cases of pocket picking occurred in "A" and "B" Divisions and 23 arrests were effected. "A" Division records 31 cases and 21 arrests. 19 bicycles were stolen, showing a marked decrease (66) on last month's figures.

Receiving Stolen Property.—Two cases were reported and three arrests made resulting in one conviction.

Snatching.—There is a decrease of 66 cases as compared with last month. 15 occurred in "A" Division, nine in "B" Division, and two each in "C" and "D" Divisions.

Opium.—Seven reports were recorded as the result of Police action, in which 20 arrests were made.

Gambling.—Only three cases were recorded during the month, a decrease of 71 compared with last month.

Other Crimes.—114 cases occurred, 112 less than last month and 70 less than the figure for February 1931. Cases under this heading are of a very miscellaneous nature and comprise misappropriation, embezzlement, fraud, extortion, bomb explosion, assault, threatening letters and arson. 73 arrests were made in connection with these cases.

Notable work in "B" Division included the arrest on the scene of a gang of three robbers, one of whom was in possession of a loaded pistol. This gang was found to have been concerned in armed robberies committed in Central, Bubbling Well and Gordon Road districts.

21 criminal cases were reported on extra Settlement roads or in buildings abutting thereon, a decrease of 38 as compared with those recorded last month.

The Headquarters Special Detective Squad conducted investigations into 20 special cases including Armed Kidnapping, Threatening Letters, Members of a Criminal Gang and Murder. In addition enquiries were continued in ten serious cases previously reported.

Stolen Property.—Property to the value of $158,024.57 was alleged to have been stolen during the month, a decrease of $87,300.79 as compared with last month. Property valued at $28,933.35 was recovered.

Finger Print Bureau.—The total number of records dealt with was 1,258. As compared with the figures recorded for last month there is a decrease of 851 and a decrease of 370 by comparison with the corresponding month of last year. Investigation was made into one case only and one latent print secured.

Of 31 dead bodies (Chinese) finger-printed and photographed at the Headquarters Garage two were identified by fingerprints. 19 records of foreigners were received and ten identified as having previous convictions. In addition two records of foreigners were received from the French Police, in one of which identification was recorded.

Studio.—191 photographs were taken and 660 copies printed during the month.

Boarding House Section.—During the month the staff of this section visited 39 Boarding Houses and nine Bars, Restaurants, Cafes, Taverns and Theatres. Six new applications were dealt with.

Suicides.—Eight Chinese committed suicide while one Chinese attempted to do so.

Conflict between Japanese Forces and Chinese Soldiers on Borders of Settlement.—Despite the existence of the truce spasmodic fighting took place on February 1 and 2. Hostilities were resumed February 3 and, with the exception of a truce of four hours' duration on February 12, continued until the end of the month. On February 3 the fighting extended to Woosung, and from the 20th of the month onwards was most severe at Kiangwan and places north-west and west of that village. During the month bullets and projectiles fell almost daily in the Settlement causing death and injury to persons and damage to property. On February 11 bombs, dropped from Japanese aeroplanes, fell on the Wing On No. 3 Cotton Mill, No. 55 Markham Road, killing five persons, wounding 16 and damaging a portion of the building. In the early morning of February 17 splinters from shrapnel shells mortally wounded two British seamen who were on guard at the Shanghai-Hongkew Wharf. A total of two aerial bombs and 312 projectiles are known to have fallen in the Settlement and on extra-Settlement roads between January 28 and March 1. These explosive missiles and stray bullets accounted for damage to about 262 buildings and 277 casualties, of which 61 proved fatal. The figures quoted do not include the people killed and injured and the destruction wrought on the extra-Settlement Municipal roads in the Dixwell Road District as the computation of damage to life and property in that area has not yet been completed.

Loss of Employment by Industrial Workers.—As a result of the conflict local industrial concerns closed down one after another during the early part of the month. By February 10 the number of persons reduced to idleness had reached approximately 162,000. It was moreover estimated that the dependents of these numbered 324,000 making a total of 486,000 people who were deprived of means of subsistence which they would normally obtain from industrial labour. A change for the better took place about February 10 and at the end of the month it was reckoned that 32 of the enterprises which closed had reopened and that some 40,000 of the workless had resumed their former occupations. A number of the unemployed and their dependents went to relatives in the interior and others entered the camps established for refugees.

Influx of Refugees. — From January 28 until the end of February refugees in considerable numbers entered, left and passed through the Settlement daily. The number of people of this class estimated to be in the Settlement at the end of the month comprised about 70,000 refugees who were dependent on public organizations for their support and tens of thousands of others who were either staying with friends or living on their own means.

Damage to Business.—Owing to the abnormal conditions resulting from the conflict, the Chinese Chamber of Commerce decided on February 1 that the merchants should postpone the settlement of their accounts which normally would be effected on February 5 until February 29, and afterwards further deferred the settlement date until May 31.

With the exception of native banks, rice shops, food shops and restaurants, Chinese companies and shops remained closed throughout the month. Efforts by the Chinese Chamber of Commerce to arrange to have business resumed on February 9 were only partially successful in consequence of contrary action on the part of the Citizens' Federation. The latter body received wide-spread support from small shopkeepers and other traders who managed to continue their trade through half open doors or side windows, although they had officially closed. Fresh attempts by the Chinese Chamber of Commerce on February 29 to bring about complete resumption of business evoked a renewal of the opposition of the Citizens' Federation.

Communism.—The Chinese Communist Party celebrated the anniversary of the International Unemployment Movement Day on February 25. Adherents of the party made attempts to hold flying meetings during the day in various parts of the Settlement in observance of the occasion. As a result of precautions taken by the Municipal Police, the participants in these gatherings had to be content with scattering pro-Communist handbills. In addition to denouncing Japan and Imperialism in general, these handbills appealed to the workers to declare a general strike.

At 1.30 p.m. on February 2 about 200 students of Communist tendencies assembled outside the Gordon Road Police Station. Finding that the police there were prepared for their coming they retreated along Connaught Road shouting "red" slogans and scattering Communist handbills as they went. On reaching Medhurst Road they endeavoured to halt but were quickly dispersed by the Police. The literature distributed showed that they had assembled for the purpose of demonstrating against the closing of the office of the "National Salvation Association of Shanghai Masses to Resist Japan" by the Municipal Police. Another band of about 100 Chinese students with communist sympathies marched in procession in Chinese controlled territory at Nantao on February 16 shouting "Support the Soviet!" and "Support the Communist Party!" Their activities were brought to a halt at St. Catherine's Bridge where the Chinese Police fired several shots into the air and dispersed them.

Communist Written Propaganda.—In the course of observation at meetings and demonstrations and searches at Communist bases during the month the Municipal Police found 70 varieties of handbills in Chinese, which had not been previously seen, and 165 copies of other kinds of Communist literature in the same language. The bulk of the leaflets dealt with the Sino-Japanese conflict, the anniversaries of the execution of the Peking-Hankow Railway workers (February 7) and the International Unemployment Movement Day (February 25), denunciations of Foreign Imperialism and appeals in favour of a general strike.

Red literature in French, English and Japanese found during the same period contained appeals to the soldiers of the nationalities mentioned stationed in Shanghai to fight for the establishment of proletarian régimes in their own countries and to use their arms in support of the Soviets in Russia and China.

Counter Measures against Communism.—Measures adopted by the Municipal Police for the suppression of Communists and other subversive elements included the sealing of the office of the "National Salvation Association of Shanghai Masses to Resist Japan," the searching of two places used for the printing and dissemination of Communist literature, and apprehension and prosecution of five Chinese for offences of a communist character. One of these prosecuted was released on shop security, while the others were still on remand at the end of the month.

Strikes.—Apart from a cessation of work by 38 mechanics in a motor car repair shop, who remained out for three days, there was no cessation of work resulting from strikes in the Settlement during the month of February.

The statistics of strikes for the month are as follows:—

Area	No. of Strikes	No. of hands	No. of Working days lost.
Settlement	1	38	114
French Concession	2	42	294
Chinese controlled Territory	2	782	383
Total	5	862	791
Total for corresponding month of 1931	7	1,459	3,485

Rice and Food Situation.—The supply of rice, meats and vegetables for residents was maintained satisfactorily during the month. The supplies of rice, especially of the better grades, decreased in the shops in the beginning of the month and prices rose. The shortage of cereal and increase in price resulted from people of means buying up for hoarding purposes all supplies immediately available. The transportation to the Settlement of large stocks of rice which had been stored in Chapei was one of the factors which helped to relieve the situation.

The average prices of rice for the month of February were as follows:—

Chinese Rice:

Best quality	$16.31	per picul
Good quality	15.26	" "
Ordinary quality	14.54	" "

Saigon Rice:

Best quality	14.15	per picul
Good quality	13.11	" "
Ordinary quality	11.39	" "

Film Censorship. — The Police censored 16 new feature films and 18 shorts and newsreels in theatres in the Settlement and French Concession during the month. Eleven were approved without question, four were only passed after objectionable parts had been cut out, while one, which the Police declined to approve, will be submitted to the Board of Film Censors.

Traffic.—Court proceedings were instituted in 208 (2 Foreigners and 206 Chinese) of 1,220 reports of traffic offences received during the month against owners and/or drivers of vehicles. The remainder were dealt with by letter of warning or entry of caution on their records.

Accidents. — Accidents coming under police notice during the months of February 1932 and February 1931:—

Bicycles.—Bicycles were involved in 20 accidents during the month and in three cases the cyclists were known to have been at fault.

Motor Horn Nuisance. — One chauffeur had his driving licence suspended for a repetition of this offence.

Abnormal Traffic Conditions.—Tram and Bus services were suspended in the Northern district owing to military operations in the North Szechuen Road Extension sector and the closing of roads to normal traffic by the Japanese Military and Civil Authorities. The closing of roads leading into the Hongkew, Kashing Road and Wayside districts left Broadway as the only road for the thousands of refugees who came pouring in from the Northern and Eastern districts. Complete blockage occurred in Broadway on several occasions and on two of these occasions it took two hours to travel by motor-car from Muirhead Road to the Garden Bridge, the main jam occurring between the Garden Bridge and a point about 100 yards East of Hongkew Creek.

Identification Office.—During the month 1,06 prisoners' records passed through this office for identification prior to the prisoners going to Court for trial, out of which number 280 were identified as having a previous conviction or convictions. In addition to the above 74 records were received from the French Police out of which number 22 were identified in the records of this office, making the total for the month:—

LICENSING SESSION—1932.

Following publication of Municipal Notification No. 4195 consideration was given by the Watch Committee on March 24 to the following applications for Hotel, Tavern, Restaurant and Beer Licences:—

Hotels:—Seven applications were submitted:—

1.	Loh Ping Kee	384, 386, 388 Avenue Edward VII
2.	Loh Ping Kee	480 Canton Road
3.	Koo Yueh Poo	302 Fokien Road
4.	H. M. Mann	180 Kiangse Road
5.	J. G. Lock	23 Kin Wo Ka
6.	Wong Dah Tsoong	348 Tientsin Road
7.	J. J. Sheridan	96 Broadway

No police or public objections having been received against the issue of licences in respect of the above establishments, these applications were approved.

Taverns:—Twelve applications for tavern licences were submitted:—

1.	Mrs. M. D. Coromina de Zeidt	8 Central Road
2.	Chang Nee King	386 Kiangse Road
3.	Lee Han Shing	72 Thibet Road
4.	C. H. Bartels	10 Avenue Haig
5.	E. M. Mark	254 Bubbling Well Road
6.	G. M. P. Remedios	742 Bubbling Well Road
7.	Mrs. K. Maevsky	931, 939, 941 Bubbling Well Road
8.	H. Bos	2-A Carter Road
9.	J. B. Manley	68 Broadway
10.	O. Dietrich	73, 75 Broadway
11.	Chang Ju Chuen	24 Haining Road
12.	B. Kazanjoglou	95, 97, 101 Seward Road.

Nos. 1 and 12.—As the localities in which the above two establishments are situated are amply supplied with taverns, these two applications were recommended for disapproval.

The remaining applications were approved.

Restaurants—(Liquor at meals).—Eight applications for Restaurant Licences were submitted.

1.	Ou Foh Zung	M. 330 Foochow Road
2.	Soong Veng Kwei	M. 343/4 Foochow Road
3.	C. H. Bartels	20 Nanking Road
4.	Hiro Nakajo	Lane 72—Houses 6/7 Boone Road
5.	Mrs. Jaru Megata	88, 90 Boone Road
6.	H. Karabchevsky	138 Nanzing Road
7.	Mrs. S. Zevoletsky	662 Broadway East
8.	Mrs. Resi Seitz	1269 Bubbling Well Road.

Nos. 6 and 7.—As these districts are adequately supplied by establishments for the sale of liquor, these applications were recommended for disapproval.

No. 8.—A representative on behalf of this applicant attended and stated that it was desired to establish a family restaurant which primarily would cater for members of the German community. A bar licence was not required and the type of restaurant it was proposed to establish would differ from those situated in this locality and thus would offer no competition. This application was supported by a number of reputable residents.

It was noted that this establishment is already licensed for the sale of beer with meals and as the need for a licence for the sale of other alcoholic liquors would appear to be established, the police objection based on an existing sufficiency of such licensed establishments in the vicinity was overruled and this application recommended for approval.

The remaining applications were approved.

Beer and other Malt Liquor.—Thirteen applications for beer and other malt liquor licences were submitted.

1.	Loo Sue Lien	565 Nanking Road
2.	Chen Bai Chang	591 Ningpo Road
3.	A. M. Koozmin	233 Szechuen Road
4.	T. Hretcheha	1302 Avenue Road
5.	Han Sze Tseng	1308 Avenue Road
6.	Mrs. D. S. Afanasoff	69 Avenue Haig
7.	S. Y. Hu	296 Bubbling Well Road
8.	C. Dimitriades	795 Bubbling Well Road
9.	M. Vaitzman	1628-30 Bubbling Well Road
10.	N. Hamada	C. 911/2, 917/8 Woosung Road
11.	Loo Tsze Yih	A. 599 Broadway East
12.	B. Medovoy	A. 600 Broadway East
13.	Mrs. G. Miller	A. 762 Broadway East

Nos. 12 and 13.—Owing to the comment of the Police Department, and as it was considered that there is a sufficiency of such establishments in this vicinity, the above two applications were recommended for disapproval.

The remaining applications were approved.

The renewal of existing licences in respect of the four classes of establishments was approved.

SANITATION MEASURES IN CHAPEI AND PAOSHAN AREAS.

Satisfactory progress is being made by the Municipal Council in effecting sanitation measures in Chapei and Paoshan areas adjacent to the Foreign Settlement, according to a report presented to the Council by Dr. J. H. Jordan, Commissioner of Public Health.

Dr. Jordan stated in his report: "It is unfortunate that major and inherent defects will have to be left in statu quo. I refer to the inadequate drainage of certain areas and to the closure of creeks. Whilst some improvement can be wrought in these by the Public Works Department (with whom this department is working in the closest co-operation), a satisfactory change would involve the relaying of drains and remodelling of parts of the district, an improvement which, though desirable and perhaps necessary, hardly comes within the scope of the present emergency cleansing.

Since in certain quarters some doubt seemed to be felt as to whether there was any real necessity to enter the areas and to take action therein, it is perhaps advisable to draw attention to certain figures and facts which indicate that the recommendation made by this Department was not inspired by pedantic sanitarianism, but by a recognition of certain urgent facts.

In the district described in my original report as No. 1, i.e. the area to the north of Kungping and Chaoufoong roads, bounded to the west by Dixwell Road, 757 corpses, coffined or uncoffined, have been removed since March 14, the date on which work was authorized. No coffin of sound manufacture is ever removed on these occasions; many of the corpses removed were wrapped merely in matting, and the rest were in thin shells. A certain number were noted as having died of communicable diseases. Three corpses were removed from the Sawgin Creek itself, where they were causing considerable pollution.

In addition, it is estimated that garbage and ordure removed and buried by the Public Works Department from this small area during the first days amounted to 300 tons. A similar quantity was removed for about six days and in all it is estimated that from the whole area, including the area to the west of the creek and bounded by Dixwell Road, about 1,700 to 1,800 tons of refuse contaminated by ordure have been used in raising swampy areas, thus fulfilling a double purpose. 895 persons who desired smallpox vaccination were vaccinated, and many more would have been done had not the Settlement demands in regard to this service prevented extension.

A coffin dump situated in this district has been located, and is regarded as a menace to health, though hitherto little has been effectuated, since it presents a large problem and is fortunately a certain distance from human habitation.

In regard to area No. 2—which may be described as the area bounded by the railway on the west, Dixwell Road on the east and north, and Range Road on the south—this presented a lesser problem, having been comparatively deserted during hostilities. Work commenced in those areas not within the Settlement, or on Settlement roads, on March 19, and very considerable improvement is now to be seen, though again no permanent work is possible. Only 37 corpses were removed in this area, the small number being due to the depopulation of the area during the period under review, and the removal of a number of bodies by the Japanese authorities as a sanitary measure and as a protection against disease amongst their troops.

Pariah dogs, rendered fierce by hunger, were a menace in this area, and might have led to disease, and possibly to an outbreak of rabies. Since in the other districts, though similar conditions obtained, the dogs might have had owners, nothing could be done; but in area No. 2 the dogs were masterless, and a request was made to the police to deal with the matter. On completion of the necessary arrangements with the Japanese authorities, 60 diseased and starving dogs without owners were shot. The area is now reasonably clean and will be kept so until further arrangements are made.

In regard to Chapei proper, a somewhat vast problem is presented. It was left to the last, since the Japanese authorities drew attention to the necessity of first removing certain dangerous war material. In addition, since the area is under strict military control, it was necessary to conform to certain formalities and regulations, and to come to a precise and detailed understanding with the various Commanders responsible for the control of the area, in order clearly to demarcate the work and prevent any confusion. Time was required for the satisfactory discussion of these points, with the result that the work started on Friday, March 25, and is progressing satisfactorily but slowly owing to the mass of material requiring attention. So far, however, about 100 uncoffined corpses have been removed, apart from a number of coffined corpses, and in addition 200 tons of house refuse were removed from the area bounded by Singming Road in the north, Ku Lung Road in the south, Kuching Road in the west, and the Settlement boundary in the east.

Even in this small area there is still a great accumulation of house refuse. Arrangements are being made for suitable dumping with a view to improving certain swampy areas, and, in addition, a few creeks which have become badly blocked are being cleansed.

Incidentally, it was noted during tours that areas outside the defensive lines but within the Settlement, notably various alleyways in the neighbourhood of Haining and Jehol roads, and others in the neighbourhood of Fusan Road, required serious attention. Whilst difficulties arose from the close wiring of these areas, satisfactory progress was made which, however, would be more easy to accomplish were it possible slightly to adjust the defensive lines, and this is being arranged with the police authorities where possible.

Returning to the Chapei area south of the railway line, it may be said that it is feared that there is at least a month's work to be performed, but that this work is essential. The Japanese Commander of the area has already, by utilizing out-of-work Chinese, effected a remarkable improvement in main streets and certain areas, but it seems desirable to accomplish a clean sweep by means of lorry transport of large accumulations of residual refuse—the result of a month or more neglect, before regarding the area as even moderately safe from the disease standpoint. Thereafter it might be safe to leave the area in the charge of the gangs now employed, and thus free the Council of this large responsibility.

Whilst the uncontrolled areas in the actual Western District on Settlement extension roads hardly come within the scope of this report, it is of interest to note that a certain amount of refuse has been removed from the area near the Jessfield Village, that 43 complaints were attended concerning the non-removal of nightsoil, 9,000 odd vaccinations were done, 18 house disinfections carried out, and assistance rendered to refugee camps housing approximately 10,000 refugees. This work has been performed in areas which, though adjoining Municipal roads, are normally cleansed by the Chapei authorities. It is of interest to note that the Soochow Creek had to be crossed by sampan in order to carry out disinfection in foreign cases of smallpox.

In conclusion one may state that, since even bacteria die in an environment choked by their own metabolic products, there can, to my mind, exist but one opinion as to what would have happened had the Council not undertaken the temporary work. As soon as the weather became warmer, swarms of flies would have bred and the reeking masses of decomposing material, amongst which must be included material capable of infecting with the various bowel diseases, would indubitably and inevitably have produced, if not an epidemic, a severe incidence of diseases such as the dysenteries, cholera and typhoid. Under these circumstances it is fortunate that the various political and other factors outside the scope of this Department have been successfully dealt with.

PARKS REPORT FOR FEBRUARY.

The Superintendent of Parks and Open Spaces, in his February report, states:—

Jessfield Park.—Climatic conditions during the month were favourable for the transplanting of deciduous trees and many specimen Quercus, Ulmus, Celtis, Taxodium, Salix and Fraxinus were successfully transferred to new positions.

Operations connected with the redesign of the north section of the wild garden were commenced, accommodation being provided for four fish hatcheries on a miniature peninsula and many groups of trees and shrubs were planted; various minor alterations were also carried out to the lay out of adjoining shrubberies.

The Public Garden.—The building of a stone retaining wall along the plane tree avenue was completed, an additional pathway was constructed and several alterations to the contours of the shrubberies were carried out.

Wayside Park.—Drainage operations were commenced and the ash surfacing of the main pathway was completed.

Quinsan Square Children's Garden. The above area was thoroughly cleaned and re-opened to the public on Friday, February 26.

PROCEEDINGS.

Brig.-Gen. MACNAGHTEN.—Ladies and gentlemen, I have a loud-speaker before me but do not think we want it. If any lady or gentleman cannot hear what the speakers say, kindly signify in some way and we will turn the loud-speaker on. As it is past the hour for which this meeting has been called, I beg to propose:—

Resolution I.—That our esteemed fellow-ratepayer, Mr. A. W. Burkill, be invited to take the Chair.

Mr. A. D. BELL.—Ladies and gentlemen, I beg to second the resolution.

Brig.-Gen. MACNAGHTEN.—Those in favour of the resolution will please signify in the usual way? Those opposed? Carried unanimously.

Mr. A. W. BURKILL then took the chair, and called upon Brig.-Gen. Macnaghten to move Resolution II.

Brig.-General MACNAGHTEN.—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I beg to propose:—

Resolution II.—That Mr. J. W. Fraser be appointed Secretary to the meeting.

Mr. A. D. BELL.—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I beg to second that resolution.

The CHAIRMAN.—It is proposed that Mr. J. W. Fraser be appointed Secretary of this meeting. Those in favour will signify in the usual manner? Those against? Carried unanimously. Before calling for Resolution No. II, I will read the Notice convening the Meeting. (The Notice was read.) I will now call upon Brig.-Gen. Macnaghten to move Resolution No. III.

Brig.-Gen. MACNAGHTEN. — Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I beg to propose:—

Resolution III. — That the annexed rules of procedure be adopted for use at this meeting and remain in force until the next annual meeting.

Mr. A. D. BELL.—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I beg to second that resolution.

The CHAIRMAN.—It is proposed that the rules of procedure annexed to this Resolution be adopted for the use of this meeting, and remain in force until the next Annual Meeting. Those in favour will signify in the usual manner? Those against? Carried unanimously. I will now call upon Brig.-Gen. Macnaghten to propose Resolution No. IV. that the Report and Accounts for the year 1931 be passed.

Brig.-Gen. MACNAGHTEN. — Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen: It is my privilege and duty as Chairman of the retiring Council to propose Resolution IV, that the Report and Accounts for the year ending December 31, 1931, be passed.

As the Annual Report of the Council which is more voluminous in some respects this year than in previous years was issued some weeks prior to this meeting and as extensive portions of it have been published in the public press, I shall not trespass upon your time and patience by commenting at length upon the activities of the Council during the past year. For those who are sufficiently interested to read it the Annual Report provides extensive and detailed information regarding practically the whole field of municipal activities and I heartily commend it to your thoughtful perusal.

Before drawing your attention to routine matters I desire to express publicly on behalf of the Council its profound and grateful thanks to the officers and men of the international forces, the Volunteer Corps and the Special Police to whom we are deeply indebted for the defence and security of the Settlement and also to those residents who in a purely private capacity have contributed invaluable service to the community in so many different ways during the period of anxiety and danger through which we have recently passed.

I also desire to place on record the Council's appreciation of the loyal and arduous service rendered by the municipal staff during this period.

The Financial Statement for 1931 and the Treasurer and Controller's Report dealing with the more important matters comprised therein have been in your hands for some days and I do not propose therefore to take up your time by referring to various matters of detail.

With regard to the unexpected surplus on the Ordinary Budget, amounting to Tls. 351,500, which we are fortunate in being able to carry forward to the current financial year, you will recall that in September last there were grave misgivings as to whether any such favourable result could be achieved. At that time there was every reason to anticipate that the year would close with a quite considerable deficit in place of the estimated surplus of Tls. 313,000 provided for in the 1931 Budget. Indeed, the financial prospect appeared to be so unfavourable that it became imperative immediately to introduce strict measures of retrenchment and to adopt such other means as were practicable not only with the object of reducing the contemplated deficit for 1931 but also to facilitate the balancing of the Budget for 1932. In course of the publicity given to this matter reference has been made to the effect of the silver situation on municipal finance. The rise in the value of the tael in relation to the pound sterling which took place during the latter part of the year brought much needed relief and was one of the major factors in enabling the Council to present you with a favourable account of its stewardship. Retrenchment in expenditure and certain technical adjustments between the Ordinary and the Extraordinary Budget, to which reference is made in the Treasurer and Controller's report for the year, also played an important part in converting the prospective deficit into a moderately satisfactory surplus.

With regard to the Extraordinary Budget: the year's operations resulted in a final deficit of Tls. 512,300 to be carried forward to 1932, as against an estimated deficit of Tls. 350,750. During the year the total expenditure for all purposes, including redemption of the 8 per cent Loans of 1921, amounted to Tls. 18,284,587. The whole of the measures comprised in this section of the Budget were financed out of payments received from the Shanghai Power Company, from the surplus carried forward from the preceding year, and from other miscellaneous sources. One of the outstanding items on the expenditure side of this account represented the acquisition of park areas in the Western and Eastern Districts for which no actual provision had been included in the Budget. Your Council has from time to time given very careful consideration to the needs of the community in the matter of acquiring additional open air spaces in the more congested districts, and in conformity with this policy availed itself of the opportunity to purchase certain areas at a total cost of approximately Tls. 800,000.

The programme of road widenings and extensions was, as you will doubtless have noticed, an extremely heavy one and absorbed a sum in the neighbourhood of Tls. 2,700,000. This class of expenditure is difficult to estimate as between one year and another for the reason that requirements are to a large extent dependent on rebuilding and development schemes carried out by private enterprise. When occasion arises it is necessary to decide whether a particular road improvement shall be put in hand immediately or whether such shall be deferred. Postponement may sometimes be considered expedient but generally speaking it is not an economical course to pursue.

In the foregoing remarks I have indicated that the financing of capital expenditure has been almost entirely met by payments from the proceeds of the sale of the Electricity Department, and in connection with this point I would particularly draw your attention to the explanatory statement and remarks contained in the Treasurer and Controller's report as to the disposal of the proceeds of that sale.

POLITICAL SITUATION.

The International Settlement has recently passed through the most serious crisis in its history, the aftermath of which is bound to have far reaching consequences in many directions all of which may not be clearly foreseen at the moment.

We are probably too close to the events which culminated in this crisis to view them in their proper perspective or to accurately gauge the true relation of cause and effect.

Throughout the period which preceded armed conflict in the Chapei area and subsequently, the outgoing Council, ever mindful of the international character of the interests entrusted to its care, has endeavoured to observe impartial neutrality between the opposing forces and to maintain its administrative authority to the fullest possible extent; a task of tremendous difficulty where national feeling on the part of the two largest sections of the community was aroused to the highest pitch.

Under such conditions it is beyond the bounds of possibility always to satisfy both sides and I would remind those who may be inclined to criticize the Council for not resorting to the extreme measures advocated from time to time by one side or the other that the Council being charged with administering the law must itself make the utmost effort to keep within the law even though the legal remedies at its command may not always be adequate to cope satisfactorily with abnormal and unusual situations which occasionally arise.

In order to maintain the equilibrium of municipal administration under the most extraordinary difficulties and to avoid pitfalls, sometimes cleverly contrived, which might lay the Council open to the criticism of partiality or discrimination, it has been necessary to watch developments from day to day with the utmost care and at the same time to take a very firm attitude not infrequently tempered with tolerance of national susceptibilities and sentiment which if unduly suppressed sometimes pave the way to disaster.

I feel that I can say to-day without fear of contradiction that the retiring Council has successfully piloted the municipal ship of state through a veritable hurricane, without alienating either the Chinese or Japanese sections of the community. (Applause).

We are still navigating troubled waters and a great responsibility rests upon the shoulders of the incoming Council in dealing with the many major problems which will confront the municipal administration during the coming year, one of the most important and difficult of which will be municipal finance.

Under ordinary circumstances the problem of municipal finance is a difficult one. It is a matter of common observation that as a result of the recent conflict enormous losses have been incurred by the commercial, industrial and other sections of the community irrespective of nationality, which further complicates the difficulties of the problem.

The Settlement has weathered more than one political and financial storm during which it has shown itself to be possessed of remarkable recuperative powers which justifies an optimistic view as to the future although it may take a considerable length of time to restore conditions to something approaching normal.

Municipal finance is not the only major problem confronting the incoming Council.

Shanghai has been aptly described as the knot at the centre of China's tangled relations with the Foreign Powers and the unravelling of that knot as the "Shanghai problem." It was to investigate this problem that the council invited the services of Mr. Justice Feetham. The first three volumes of his able report have been presented and published.

That our system of local administration is replete with obvious anomalies and complexities should be apparent to even the most casual observer.

The recent conflict has disclosed other and less obvious anomalies which hitherto have not occurred to the most astute students of local conditions, except perhaps in a most vague and indefinite way, and which have demonstrated in a startling manner certain dangers to which the Settlement is exposed when international complications arise, and which stress the imperative need that the political status of the Settlement both present and future receives the immediate and careful consideration of the interested Powers

It does not lie within the scope of the Council's powers to dictate the methods to be followed or the procedure to be adopted in dealing with the problem of Shanghai, but there is good reason to believe that whenever the subject of the future status of Shanghai comes up for discussion in any international conference, as in time I think it must, the Council will be given an adequate opportunity to express its views and opinions, which will be entitled to the fullest consideration, backed as they will be by years of experience and intimate knowledge of local conditions and needs, with full recognition of the fact that no permanent solution of the Shanghai problem can be had which does not take into consideration Chinese as well as foreign interests. In any event, the ratepayers may rest assured that the incoming Council will do its utmost to achieve this object.

SHANGHAI SPECIAL DISTRICT COURTS.

During the course of my speech at the Annual Meeting of Ratepayers a year ago in commenting on the functioning of the criminal side only of the Special District Courts, I stated that apart from some difficulty which the Council had experienced with regard to attempts of the Nanking Government to interfere with the procedure of the Courts in communist cases, the Council had little complaint to make regarding the administration of purely criminal law in the Special District Courts.

This situation continued with little or no change until the beginning of the anti-Japanese boycott campaign during the latter part of September, but subsequently developed into a reign of utter lawlessness and a complete collapse of the administration of criminal law in these courts with respect to offences connected with the Japanese boycott and other anti-Japanese activities. Aside from widespread anti-Japanese propaganda and extensive picketing, goods alleged to be of Japanese manufacture to the value of more than $600,000 and belonging to Chinese were feloniously seized, a considerable portion of which was sold and the proceeds criminally appropriated, and a large number of so-called traitorous Chinese merchants were illegally arrested and detained in the Temple of Heaven and other places by members of various anti-Japanese organizations which carried on these nefarious activities without the slightest shadow or vestige of legal authority and in contemptuous defiance of law and order. To all these activities the Special District Courts, either because of a distorted conception of patriotism or through fear of organized violence, turned a blind eye and deaf ear with the result that the efforts of the Council to deal with this phase of the situation were completely paralyzed.

This attitude of the Special District Courts was undoubtedly one of the contributing factors in the cumulative causes which led to actual warfare between the Chinese and Japanese military forces in the Chapei area with all its disastrous consequences.

Aside from being a direct contributing factor to the present relations between China and Japan, the failure of the Special District Courts to fully recognize or discharge their judicial functions during a time of crisis has shaken to its very foundations, if not entirely demolished, any hope which the foreign community might have entertained that the Chinese Government would eventually succeed in establishing in the International Settlement courts in which the foreign community could look at least a moderate, if not full degree of confidence and respect. (Applause).

The agreement between representatives of the Chinese Government and certain foreign Powers establishing the present Special District Courts in succession to the so-called Provisional Court came into effect on April 1, 1930, and by its terms is to continue in force for a period of three years, upon the expiration of which it may be extended for a further period by the mutual consent of the parties.

The negotiations which culminated in this agreement were conducted with complete secrecy, except with regard to a few points concerning which representatives of the Council were hurriedly consulted.

With this exception the Council and the foreign community were kept in complete ignorance of the nature of the agreement until it had become a fait accompli which aroused very considerable public dissatisfaction and indignation.

The reasons for this secrecy and haste have never been officially disclosed to the public but there is ground for assuming that in view of the politic situation which then existed the foreign Powers concerned felt that an agreement however unsatisfactory would be infinitely better than no agreement at all.

The foreign commercial community is apparently greatly dissatisfied with the administration of the civil side of these courts as is evident from the speech of the Chairman of the General Chamber of Commerce at its annual meeting last month.

In the past the Council has not been much concerned with the administration of the civil side of these courts, but recent developments give ground for apprehension as to the attitude of these courts in regard to the most important subject of the enforcement by court process of municipal taxation.

In the natural course of events negotiations must soon be started, if they have not already commenced, to extend the present agreement or to secure a new and more satisfactory one.

In view of the widespread public dissatisfaction which now exists, and the fact that the new members of Council stand pledged to make every effort to secure some sort of a solution of this chronic problem of local Chinese courts, it is to be hoped that something definite may be accomplished in the measurable future.

Foreign public opinion is undoubtedly unanimous upon the point that the most satisfactory solution of the problem would be the establishing in the Settlement of international courts administering uniform civil and criminal laws over all residents of the Settlement irrespective of nationality. (Applause).

It is impossible, however, to ignore the fact that we are entirely in the hands of the Governments concerned in matters of this kind and it is only by enlisting their sympathy and support that we can hope to accomplish anything in the nature of reforming or improving local Chinese courts.

While the practical difficulties in the way of a satisfactory solution are admittedly formidable they are not necessarily insuperable and it is to be hoped that the incoming Council may meet with some measure of success in achieving the desired object.

Although the Chinese members dissociate themselves with all my remarks dealing with the Shanghai Special District Courts, I am pleased to state that during the past year the Chinese members have rendered invaluable service to the community in assisting the Council to solve many difficult and delicate problems and especially those which have arisen during the past few months.

Education.

In my speech last year I mentioned that a sum of Tls. 150,000 had been set apart for the purpose of making grants-in-aid to deserving non-Municipal schools. During the year which has elapsed carefully drafted regulations were published, setting forth the conditions on which such grants would be made, and it was decided to allot 45 per cent of the amount to schools for Foreign children and 55 per cent to schools for Chinese children.

The grants to schools for Foreign children for the year 1931 have been allotted and are on the point of being disbursed, but I regret to say that it has proved impossible to make a simultaneous allotment and disbursal to schools for Chinese children. The reason for this unfortunate state of things is that our prolonged negotiations with the Educational Authorities of Greater Shanghai upon this subject have hitherto failed of complete success. Real progress has, however, been made and I hope that in 1932 it will be possible to announce a simultaneous allotment to both Chinese and Foreign schools.

I told you last year that a programme of educational policy had been approved by the Council, calling for the erection during each year until 1938 of two new mixed primary schools for Chinese children and for the establishment by 1934 of two new secondary schools for Chinese girls. Difficulties in securing sites and the necessity for economy have prevented the Council from carrying out in its entirety the first year's instalment of this programme and it is probable that a general slowing-up will be found necessary. Substantial progress has, however, been made: a secondary school for Chinese girls and a mixed primary school for Chinese children have been established in leased premises and two new mixed primary schools for Chinese children are at the present moment in course of construction.

I am glad also to be able to inform you that a start has been made on the erection of a school for foreign boys to replace the inconvenient temporary structure in Tifeng Road.

Factory Regulations.

In December 1929 the Nanking Government published the text of a Factory Law which it was announced would come into effect at some future date.

August 1, 1931, was finally fixed upon as the date on which the law would become effective.

As the law as drafted was of a very far reaching character it naturally evoked wide-spread discussion not only among those interested in the subject from the economic and utilitarian point of view, but also among those more deeply interested in the social and other problems inseparably connected with factory regulations.

In the opinion of everyone having practical knowledge of the history and development of factory legislation the law as it stands is utterly impracticable of immediate application to conditions in China and at the best could only be applied very gradually by progressive stages carefully adjusted to keep pace with the social and economic progress of the country.

At the same time it is fully recognized that the application in the Settlement of some of the provisions of the law, if practical from a legal point of view, would be welcomed by Chinese and foreign factory owners alike and make a much desired start toward ameliorating labour conditions in the Settlement which in some classes of factories are little short of appalling.

It is also recognized as highly desirable that the enforcement of factory regulations in the Settlement shall be uniform as regards both Chinese and foreign owned factories.

Foreign owners of factories in the Settlement who enjoy extra-territorial rights do not come within the jurisdiction of the factory laws promulgated by the National Government.

The factory laws of the various countries having extraterritorial treaties with China have never been held to be extended so as to include within their jurisdiction their respective nationals resident in China.

Therefore, at the present time, there are no factory laws applicable to foreigners residing in the Settlement who enjoy extraterritorial privileges.

It has been found that the only practical way by which the Council can obtain a measure of control over factories in the Settlement is by securing the power to licence factories which can be done by amending Bye-Law XXXIV. The licence conditions can be framed to include whatever provisions of the National Government Factory Law it is considered desirable or expedient to adopt.

Under the Land Regulations an amendment to the Bye-Laws must be adopted by a Special Meeting of Ratepayers at which a quorum of one-third of the total number of ratepayers must be present.

The Council had fully intended to convene a Special Meeting of Ratepayers immediately preceding this meeting and to present to it a resolution amending Bye-Law XXXIV.

In view, however, of labour conditions growing out of the recent troubles, the closing down of many factories, and the large number of factory labourers at present unemployed the Council has decided to postpone the convening of a Special Meeting until conditions become more favourable.

I desire, however, to assure both ratepayers and the public that the Council fully appreciates the importance of factory regulation and control and has no intention of allowing the matter to be dropped or indefinitely postponed.

With these remarks, I beg to propose:—

Resolution IV.—That the Report and Accounts for the year ended December 31, 1931, be passed.

Mr. A. D. Bell.—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I beg to second that resolution.

The Chairman.—The Resolution has been duly proposed and seconded and is now before the Meeting for discussion.—If no ratepayer has any comment to make on Resolution No. 4, which has been duly proposed and seconded, I will now put it to the meeting. Those in favour please signify in the usual manner. Any contrary minded? Carried unanimously.

THE CHAIRMAN.—I will now call upon Brig.-Gen. Macnaghten to propose Resolution No. 5.

BUDGET.

Brig.-Gen. MACNAGHTEN. — Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen: Before putting the Budget Resolution to the meeting there are a number of matters to which I should like to direct your attention. You will notice that in accordance with the statement I made when addressing you last year the Budget is now divided into two sections—General and Education. With regard to the latter, the total ordinary expenditure differs little in size from that for which provision was made in 1931 and absorbs approximately the same proportion of Municipal Income. Expenditure on Foreign and Chinese education is now approximately the same, but as the educational programme approved by you in principle last year progresses you will agree that expenditure on Chinese education shall increase. The total sum required to finance the Ordinary Education Budget is approximately Tls. 1,384,000, which represents the equivalent of a 1.74 per cent rate and the co-relative proportion of Land Tax. It will be a matter for serious consideration in the future as to whether a specific proportion of Municipal revenue shall be definitely allocated for educational purposes.

The explanatory notes accompanying the General Budget give full comparisons of the 1932 Estimates with those for 1931 and it is only necessary for me to refer to a few of the principal items. The rise in the sterling value of the tael, together with the enforcement of stringent economy, has made it possible to restrict departmental expenditure as a whole to approximately the same level as that estimated for 1931. A large and varied organisation such as that controlled by the Council cannot stand still. The sphere of Municipal administration covers a very wide field and is expanding all the time. The world-wide depression tends to aggravate the financial problems of national and municipal authorities, and the fact that we anticipate being able to maintain an efficient administration at approximately the same cost as for 1931 is, I think you will agree, no mean achievement.

Coming now to the Income side of the Account, you will remember that it was only possible to balance the 1931 Budget by means of a surplus of nearly Tls. 2,300,000 brought forward from 1930, whereas the corresponding figure to be credited in the 1932 Budget amounts only to Tls. 350,000. Owing to the gradual absorption of funds from the sale of the Electricity Department our interest receipts are likely to be 5 lakhs below the corresponding return for 1931, with the result that in framing the Ordinary Budget we were faced with an initial deficit of nearly Tls. 2,500,000. The normal method of dealing with this difficult position, would, of course, be by increased taxation. The probability of this becoming necessary in 1932 was foreshadowed in my remarks on the 1931 Budget and it was more definitely indicated later in the year when the ultimate financial position could be more accurately gauged.

For reasons which I need not enlarge upon your Council decided to defer for the time being the increase in taxation previously contemplated and, if possible, to balance the Budget by other means. After taking into account the additional revenue resulting from the normal development of the Settlement and making similar technical adjustments to those referred to in the Treasurer and Controller's report for 1931 there remained a final deficit of nearly one and a quarter million taels.

It has recently been decided that when areas of land surplus to Municipal requirements are disposed of only the actual cost of such areas will be credited back to the Extraordinary Budget, the balance being transferred to a General Reserve. It is anticipated that a number of such sales will be made during 1932, and the deficit of one and a quarter million taels to which I have just referred will be financed by appropriating the required sum from this source. I must emphasize that while this method of financing the deficit is entirely sound in principle it is not one that can be indefinitely relied upon. Your Council has, I think, clearly indicated its reluctance to increase the burdens of the community during the difficult times through which we are now passing. It is inevitable, however, that increased Municipal taxation will have to be faced in the near future.

Coming now to the Extraordinary Budget you will observe that our capital requirements amount to a total sum of Tls. 18,910,010, of which approximately Tls. 10,000,000 is in respect of loan redemption. A considerable part of the contemplated expenditure is due to the completion of work already in progress. There has been a marked slowing down of the programme normally considered necessary, and provision has only been made for expenditure considered to be absolutely essential in the interests of efficient administration.

To finance the Extraordinary Budget provision has been made for instalments from the Power Company amounting to Tls. 16,000,000, and it is anticipated that a further sum of approximately Tls. 1,500,000 will be derived from the sales of land not required for Municipal purposes.

To complete the amount necessary to finance the Extraordinary Budget we ask for your authority to raise a sum not exceeding Tls. 2,000,000 by the issue of debentures or by such other measures as may be practicable having regard to the needs of the situation when such funds are required. After allowing for the foregoing provision there remains a small surplus of approximately Tls. 88,000 to be carried forward to 1933. With these remarks, I beg to propose:—

Resolution V.—That the estimated expenditure for the year 1932 contained in the Budget proposed by the retiring Council, together with the recommendations attached thereto, be approved and adopted, and that the Council be and it is hereby authorised to impose, collect and recover the rates, taxes, dues and fees recommended therein, and to raise, should it be considered expedient to do so, upon such terms and in such manner as the Council may in its discretion think fit, a sum not exceeding Tls. 2,000,000, or the equivalent of this sum, for the purpose defined in the estimate of Extraordinary Expenditure.

Mr. A. D. BELL.—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I beg to second the resolution.

THE CHAIRMAN.—Resolution No. 5 has been duly proposed and seconded and is now open for discussion.—As no ratepayer has any comment to make, I will now put the Resolution to the Meeting. Those in favour kindly signify in the usual way? Those against?—Carried unanimously.

THE CHAIRMAN.—I will now call upon Brig.-Gen. Macnaghten to propose Resolution No. 6.

CHINESE LAND COMMISSIONERS.

Brig.-Gen. MACNAGHTEN: — Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen:—During the past year the Chinese members of the Council, supported by various Chinese associations and organisations, have strongly urged the Council to take action to secure the appointment of two Chinese commissioners in addition to the three foreign commissioners now constituting the Land Commission.

As a very considerable portion of land in the Settlement is owned by Chinese the Council feels that the desire of the Chinese community to be represented upon the Land Commission is only natural and logical and has had no reason up to the present time to anticipate any serious objection on the part of the foreign ratepayers.

An amendment of the Land Regulations is requisite to give effect to this proposal.

It is usual to convene a Special Meeting of Ratepayers to vote upon proposed amendments of the Land Regulations, but as a Special Meeting requires a quorum of one-third of the ratepayers it has been almost impossible in the past to secure the requisite quorum except when matters of great public interest or importance were to be discussed.

This is not the only procedure, however, by which the Land Regulations may be amended.

Under the authority and instructions given to the Council by the ratepayers at an annual meeting the Council can make representations to the Powers concerned which, if adopted, are as effective in securing an amendment of the Land Regulations as a resolution adopted at a Special Meeting.

I therefore propose:—

Resolution VI.—That in the opinion of this meeting the addition of two Chinese members to the Land Commission is desirable; and that the Council be hereby authorised and instructed to make representations to the Powers concerned with a view to securing the addition of two Chinese members to the Land Commission.

Mr. A. D. BELL.—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I beg to second the Resolution.

The CHAIRMAN.—The Resolution has been duly proposed and seconded and is now before the meeting for discussion.

Mr. E. F. HARRIS.—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I beg to move an amendment to this Resolution, which would have the effect of appointing one Chinese Land Commissioner instead of two. The amendment I wish to propose reads as follows:—

"That in the opinion of this Meeting the addition of one Chinese Member to the Land Commission is desirable to sit in the place of the Land Commissioner nominated by the land-owners in any case in which the Land Commission as a body is considering questions affecting land which is entirely owned by Chinese and that the Council is hereby authorized and instructed to make representations to the Powers concerned with a view to securing the addition of one Chinese Member to the Land Commission."

The case for Chinese representation on the Land Commission, in view of the very considerable Chinese interests in land in the Settlement is unanswerable, but I have failed to find any reason why there should be two Chinese Land Commissioners appointed. The construction of the Land Commission at the present time under the Land Regulations calls for three members; one represents the Council's interests, one represents the interests of the land-owners, and the third represents the interests of the ratepayers. In that number of three you have what I think is the ideal tribunal, but you now propose to increase the number to five. Why? It will be only possible to increase it to five if you are sure, as regards the two additional Chinese representatives, that one would represent the interests of the land-owners and one would represent the Council, but no suggestion has been put before you that one would be elected by the Council.

The CHAIRMAN.—This amendment is totally different to the Resolution before the meeting. You ask for things to be done which are not relevant. In my opinion, your resolution should be brought forward in due time as laid down in the rules of procedure.

Mr. HARRIS.—It was obviously impossible to move an amendment unless we knew what was in the minds of the proposers. It was not clear. I maintain that we have a perfect right to move an amendment if we are of the opinion that the wording of the resolution and the speeches made in support of it are unsatisfactory and will not lead to the appointment of a Commission which would be workable. It seems to me that, unless we are quite sure that the two Chinese would represent the property owners and the Council, and not be two minds with but a single thought and a single will and a single determination, we should have a Commission containing three or four members representing one set of interests and the Council would have but one representative. If we elect one Chinese Commissioner—and in any case the proposition affects Chinese interests—and he takes the place of the representative of the foreign land-owners, we have the ideal tribunal. I put it to you that such a tribunal would be very much better than one of five members, if we do not know what they would be representing. I hope the Chairman will permit this amendment to be put to the meeting.

Mr. A. DE C. SOWERBY.—I beg to second the amendment put by Mr. Harris. I do not think I need add anything to what he has said, for he has made it all very clear. It seems to me that, by electing two Chinese to the Commission, you might be working against the Council, and I think this is a matter we must take into consideration before we pass the original resolution.

The CHAIRMAN.—As regards the amendment proposed by Mr. Harris and seconded by Mr. Sowerby, on first thoughts I considered that it was not entirely within the limits of an amendment to the first resolution, but I now think the idea is the same and, as Chairman of the meeting, I am prepared to accept the amendment. The amendment is now before the meeting for discussion.

Mr. N. LESLIE.—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I will not detain you very long. I rather anticipated there might be some more strenuous objection to the proposal before the meeting, and I am very glad to hear that, in principle, the movers of the amendment favour the original resolution, except in detail. The Council have submitted this resolution to what I hope will be your favourable consideration because they are convinced that the future well-being of the Settlement is inextricably bound up with an increasing measure of co-operation between our Chinese friends and ourselves. This increasing measure of co-operation will remain an empty phrase unless we are prepared to translate it into a living reality by providing our Chinese fellow-citizens with all reasonable opportunities of taking part in civic activities and civic responsibilities. I do not need to stress the interests they have in the ownership of land, because the movers of the amendment already have admitted that, but it is natural, logical, and reasonable that the Chinese should aspire to see amongst the members of the Land Commission some members of their own race. It is natural and reasonable and we are in duty bound to satisfy such an aspiration. Your Council—for whom I think I am speaking—prefer to adhere to the original resolution placed before you. It may be argued that when you are making a concession you should not make one that is too large, but make it as small as possible. I appeal to you fellow ratepayers not to look at the matter in that way and not to assume the worst, as the movers of the amendment have done, and to argue that because the Council proposes that two Chinese members be added to the Land Commission, those two will necessarily represent a danger to the ratepayers. That, I take it, is the distinction the mover and seconder of the amendment have made. I think that we may safely leave it to the various Chinese interests that are not bound up with the ownership of land to take such precautions in choosing the two members to represent them if this resolution is favourably considered and the foreign Powers take the necessary action, so that the ratepayers' interests are safeguarded against those of the land-owning section. The Council prefer to adhere to the terms of their Resolution and I think, if this meeting were to express the hope that when representations are made to the Powers in connection with this resolution, there should be adopted some method of ensuring that the interests of Chinese ratepayers who are not connected with the ownership of land should be safeguarded that would meet the point raised by the proposer of the amendment and his seconder. I ask you to vote against the amendment and in favour of the Council's resolution.

The CHAIRMAN.—If no other ratepayer has anything to say on the subject, I will now put the amendment to the Resolution. Will all those in favour of the amendment kindly signify in the usual way?—Those against?—The amendment is lost. I will now put the original Resolution to the meeting. Will those in favour of the same as originally read to you kindly signify in the usual way?—Those against?—The original resolution is carried.

The CHAIRMAN.—The next business before the meeting is the election of a Land Commissioner for the ensuing year. Mr. J. T. W. Brooke's name has been withdrawn at his own request and there are now only two candidates before you, these being:—Mr. S. H. Peek, who has been proposed by Mr. R. Calder Marshall and seconded by Mr. H. Wakelam: and Mr. H. G. Robinson, who has been proposed by Mr. G. H. Wright and seconded by Mr. K. E. Newman. If nobody wishes to speak on the merits of the two candidates before you, I think we will follow the procedure adopted a couple of years ago and take the name of Mr. Peek first.

Mr. S. H. PEEK.—I wish, as a candidate, to speak myself. I did not expect to come up here this afternoon, but what has happened to the previous Resolution makes it seem more necessary to explain the position. In the last few days, since the names have been in the papers, many people have asked me:—"What is all this Land Commission business? And why have you elected to stand?" On the present Commission you have three members, as mentioned by Mr. Harris and as mentioned by Mr. —er—Mr. Leslie—I am thinking of the A.P.C.—he has stressed very much that there shall be no overbalancing of interests. The first is nominated by the Council, and we have Mr. Berents. The second is the land-owners' representative, and we have Mr. G. L. Wilson, of the firm of Palmer & Turner. The third member is Mr. Robinson, of Spence & Robinson, essentially a property man. I do not wish to be personal in any sense, and Mr. Robinson understands that, but I am speaking on a matter of principle. The Commission is really a court of arbitration and it is not intended that it should sit as a professional tribunal. In the event of the Council's offer to the owner of land required for public purposes not being considered satisfactory the owner arbitrates through the professional land people whom he employs and they bring forward the best arguments, making every possible reason sound good for asking for two or three times as much as they are prepared to accept as the valuation when paying taxes, which has happened frequently. Land valued at Tls. 22,000 is put down at Tls. 75,000 or Tls. 80,000 when it comes to the Council buying it for public purposes. They have their organisation in the Property Owners' Association and when it was formed the two members put forward were put forward as members of that Association. I do not suggest undue influence, but they do lay themselves open to the charge of having two irons in the fire against the Council's one. It is the community who use the land and they have to buy it, and it is you and me, the ratepayers, who have to finance it. We should therefore stick to the original procedure of having one representative of the Council, one of the land-owners, and one ratepayer, who need not be a professional man, and I suggest he should not be too closely connected with land. I have one or two shares in land companies, but probably in that I am not greatly different to most of you here. It should not be possible for anyone to put a finger on a point like this and say it is a weakness and that it is possible for certain interests to pull the strings. The three-cornered tribunal should be strictly preserved and I suggest that no man who has 200 lots of land in his own or his firm's name, representing Tls. 5,000,000 two years ago, is really eligible to stand as the representative of the ratepayers' interests. His everyday livelihood is wrapped up in his services to property owners. How can he think entirely in terms of those he represents and also turn his mind completely around and say:—"We are not for high prices." He is disqualified by those lots, to my mind, but there are also the adjoining lots. If there is an arbitration, I do not say that my lot was sold for so-and-so, but that the adjoining lot was sold for a certain price, and if I can argue that the Council has paid such-and-such a figure for an adjoining lot I have a sound argument for a big price on mine. He must, consciously or unconsciously, have on his mind the idea of the argument affecting his professional interests and it is not fair to ask him to do it. Under the peculiar constitution of Shanghai, the Land Commission is a final court. The Commission have sat and agreed on a figure, and if the land-owner refuses to abide by that he can be taken to the Court of his nationality and the Council can sue him in that Court for the land required for public services. A man interested in the land cannot sit, and so, in some cases you may have the Commission knocked down from three to two, which is unconstitutional. If a man is elected to-day and he falls down dead to-morrow, you could only replace him by having a Special Ratepayers Meeting, which is difficult, as you know, even for an important matter. You would not get a dozen people to attend. You have to think of the possible disabilities, for a plot of land registered in a man's name is a disability and you multiply it when you have a gentleman with large interests. I should be delighted to see Mr. Robinson sitting as representing his proper interests (the land-owners) as he has done already. There is nothing personal about it, but he cannot go over to the other side and sit as a ratepayer. The leopard does not change its spots so easily.

The CHAIRMAN.—Does anybody else want to speak? If not, as I said before, I think the best way is to take first those who are in favour of Mr. Peek. Please signify in the usual way.——Now those in favour of Mr. Robinson.——Mr. Peek has been elected.

THE CHAIRMAN.—The Resolution which has just been adopted reads as follows:—

Resolution VII. — That Mr. S. H. Peek be elected a Land Commissioner for the ensuing year.

THE CHAIRMAN.—I will now call upon Brig.-Gen. Macnaghten to propose Resolution VIII.

Brig.-Gen. E. B. MACNAGHTEN.—I beg to propose Resolution No. VIII.

Resolution VIII.—That Drs. A. C. Bryson and T. B. Dunn and Messrs. F. J. Raven and P. W. Massey be elected to serve on the Board of Governors of the Shanghai General Hospital.

Mr. A. D. BELL.—I beg to second that Resolution.

The CHAIRMAN.—The Resolution has been duly proposed and seconded and is now before the meeting. Will those in favour please signify in the usual manner?——any contrary-minded?——Carried unanimously.

Brig.-Gen.-E. B. MACNAGHTEN.—Ladies and gentlemen, Before you go, I know you would like me, on your behalf, to propose a very hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Burkill for the able way in which he has taken the Chair this afternoon.

The vote was carried by acclamation.

The CHAIRMAN.—Thank you very much.

The meeting terminated at 3.30 p.m.

The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, APRIL 22, 1932. No. 1363

COUNCIL MEETING.

The first meeting of the recently elected Council was held on April 14. There were present:—Mr. H. E. Arnhold, Capt. J. J. Bahnson, Messrs. B. D. F. Beith, A. D. Bell, K. Fukushima, S. L. Hsu, N. Leslie, O. S. Lieu, P. W. Massey, O. Okamoto, F. J. Raven, T. D. Woo, L. T. Yuan and Yu Ya Ching.

CHAIRMANSHIP OF COUNCIL.

At the Council meeting held on April 14, Mr. A. D. Bell was unanimously elected Chairman, upon the proposal of Mr. Leslie, seconded by Mr. Fukushima.

In thanking members for the honour they had conferred on him, Mr. Bell expressed the hope that he would discharge the duties devolving upon the Chairman in such a manner that they would not regret their choice.

Vice-Chairman.—Upon the proposal of Mr. Bell, seconded by Mr. Raven, Mr. H. E. Arnhold was unanimously elected Vice-Chairman.

Constitution of Committees.—The Chairman's proposal was adopted that a draft list of Committees be prepared by the Secretary and circulated to members. In the event of any member desiring any alteration in the proposed constitution thereof, such suggestions would be considered at a special meeting to be convened at an early date.

Membership.—The foreign members unanimously subscribed to the view expressed by Mr. Leslie that it was a matter for congratulation that the Chinese Councillors who served on the outgoing Council had been re-elected for the current municipal year.

CONSULAR INFORMATION.

A letter from Dr. F. E. H. Groenman, Consul General for the Netherlands, informs the Council that during his absence on home leave Mr. G. M. Byvanck, Consul, will act in his place.

A letter from Dr. A. Lafar, Consul for Czechoslovakia, informs the Council that he resumed charge of the Czechoslovak Consulate on April 5.

RETIRING COUNCIL CHAIRMAN.

High Tribute Paid by Colleagues.

In referring to the fact that this was the last meeting at which Brigadier-General Macnaghten would preside as Chairman after having held that position for two years, Mr. A. D. Bell stated at the meeting of the Council on April 6 that he was assured he was voicing the unanimous feeling of his colleagues in expressing appreciation of the zeal and tact with which the Chairman had discharged his onerous duties. His accessibility and scrupulous fairness to all points of view had been warmly appreciated by his fellow Councillors. The dignity with which he had represented the Council on official occasions had also been a source of gratification, whilst the interest and energy he had displayed in questions affecting all classes and sections of the community had won the admiration of his colleagues. The Chairman might rest assured that during his term of office he had upheld the standard which had been set by a long line of predecessors.

The sentiments expressed by Mr. Bell were unanimously endorsed.

In thanking members for this expression of appreciation the Chairman stated that he welcomed this opportunity of officially bidding them farewell and of thanking them wholeheartedly for the loyal support they had accorded him during the past two years. It was a matter of deep regret to him that the Vice-Chairman through ill-health was unable to be present at that meeting. Mr. Sheppard's extensive knowledge of municipal affairs and business matters had been readily placed at his disposal on all occasions, and the sound advice which he had been able to proffer had proved invaluable in times of difficulty. He desired to pay a special tribute to his Chinese and Japanese colleagues for the extreme tact, courtesy and forbearance they had displayed in the course of the delicate discussions which had been necessary during the past two months. In conclusion he expressed his best wishes for the incoming Council and the hope that they would be able satisfactorily to solve certain difficult problems which they must of necessity take over from the outgoing Council.

SCHOOL HOLIDAYS.

With the exception of the Public School for Girls, Yu Yuen Road, and the Junior School for Boys, the Council's schools will remain open until July 15 next. From July 1 to July 15 the hours of attendance will be from 8 a.m. till midday. The postponement of the summer vacation has been decided upon because the schools concerned were closed during the recent hostilities.

ANNUAL MUNICIPAL REPORT.

Ratepayers who have not already received Parts I, II and III of the Council's Report for the year 1931, and who desire copies, are requested to apply to the Secretary, Administration Building, 209 Kiangse Road.

Bound and indexed volumes may be obtained, if desired, instead of the separate parts, or will be issued in exchange if the separate parts are returned to the Secretary.

ANNUAL MEETING OF RATEPAYERS.

Ratepayers who have not received, or who desire additional copies of, the Report of the recent Meeting contained in the issue of the "Municipal Gazette" of April 14, may obtain same on application at the Secretary's Office, Administration Building, 209 Kiangse Road.

JUNIOR SCHOOL FOR BOYS.

Provision of Further Accommodation.

In connection with the erection of the proposed new Junior School for Boys, the Acting Superintendent of Education in a report submitted at a meeting of the Education Board on April 1 referred to the necessity, as previously recommended by the Commissioner of Public Works, of removing a play-shed and the single-storeyed building at the south-east end of the Public School for Girls, Yuyuen Road, and rebuilding them at the south-west.

It was noted that the Headmistress of the Public School for Girls considered that the south-west corner was an unsuitable site and that any one-storeyed erection was a waste of space. She therefore suggested giving up the west shed and garage, and the erection on this site of a three-storeyed building, this new building to be used for a cookery centre, art room, etc.

The Acting Superintendent pointed out that there was no budget provision for a new building such as the Headmistress suggested.

The Commissioner of Public Works stated that the original design of the Yuyuen Road Girls' School building did not include accommodation for residential purposes, nor were the buildings which it was now proposed to demolish provided for in the original plans.

Members concurred with the Chairman that the provision of residential accommodation in a day school was unnecessary and that the rooms utilised therefor should be converted for educational purposes.

Whilst members were not prepared to decide at this stage as to the specific use to which the rooms comprising this residential flat should be put, it was unanimously recommended that notice be given to the Headmistress that they would be converted for educational purposes; it was also recommended that, in order to permit the erection of the new Boys' School, the outbuildings belonging to the Girls' School be demolished, as proposed by the Commissioner of Public Works.

The recommendations have been endorsed by the Council.

GRANTS-IN-AID FOR FOREIGN SCHOOLS.

Education Board Recommendations.

In a report submitted, the Sub-Committee on Grants-in-Aid to Foreign Schools recommended to the Education Board that grants-in-aid for 1931 be made to schools for foreign children as follows:—

	Tls.
Japanese Schools	60,000
German School	3,000
Jewish School	2,500
First Russian School	1,500
Miss Dearborn's Day and Boarding School	500

With regard to the comment of the Treasurer and Controller that the amount accorded to these schools under the heading of remission of taxation during 1931 should be deducted from the proposed grants, the Chairman stated that the Sub-Committee had taken this concession into consideration and had recommended that in future all grants to education be consolidated and put under the Education Board. Accordingly from the year 1933 onwards the amounts of grants would be inclusive of any relief granted in the form of a remission of taxation.

Replying to a member, the Chairman stated that in respect of future grants the application of each school would be considered on its merits and that it would be made quite clear to schools which received a grant for 1931 that grants for future years would not necessarily be of the same magnitude as those authorised for last year. Such a stipulation became necessary in order to provide for future applications for assistance from other foreign schools. Moreover, certain schools during 1931 had received a remission of taxation in addition to the grants now recommended. As in future years the amounts representing such remission of taxation would be included in the total figure authorised for distribution as grants-in-aid, the actual amounts received by such schools would be reduced by the figure which formerly had been authorised in respect of remission of taxation.

After hearing the Chairman, the recommendations put forward by the Sub-Committee were unanimously endorsed. They have since been approved by the Council.

Upon the Chairman expressing the hope that an early agreement would be reached with the Chinese Authorities in order to enable the allocation of Municipal grants-in-aid to Chinese Schools, a member stated that he had already taken up this question informally with the Education Authorities of Greater Shanghai and that he hoped to be in a position to furnish more definite information thereon at the next meeting.

Re-opening of Schools.

A memorandum prepared by the Acting Superintendent of Education was submitted.

Members concurred with the Chairman that, in view of the magnitude of the recent crisis, the recuperation of the Municipal schools could be regarded as satisfactory.

Board of Education.

Chairman's Departure on Leave.

At a meeting of the Education Board on April 1, the Rev. G. W. Sheppard (Chairman) stated that owing to his departure on home leave it had been his intention to resign his membership of the Board. A member had, however, suggested as an alternative that he should request leave of absence. He was prepared if the Board so desired to adopt this course.

Members unanimously requested the Chairman to continue as a member of the Board; and a recommendation was recorded that he be granted leave of absence until his return in September next.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT.

Terms of Service.

During consideration of a recent appointment, the Treasurer and Controller recommended to the Staff Committee that all local appointments to the teaching staff should in the first instance be made under Class "L" Letters of Appointment, and, as regards married women in particular, services should ordinarily be on a temporary basis.

The Treasurer stated that movements amongst the female staff at the various schools were frequent and that in many cases continuity and permanency of service was not essential. In a number of cases married women qualified for passage benefits from their husbands' employers; he considered that liability in this and other respects which involved the granting of benefits of a permanent nature should not ordinarily be assumed by the Council.

Members unanimously concurred that from an economic point of view adoption of the above proposals was in the Council's interests. They accordingly recommended that in future all local appointments to the teaching staff should in the first instance be under Class "I." Letters of Appointment; that ordinarily the engagement of married women to the educational staff should be on a temporary basis only, and that the terms of service be amended accordingly.

The Council on April 20 endorsed the above Staff Committee recommendations.

PROGRESS OF PUBLIC WORKS.

In his report for March, the Commissioner of Public Works, states in reference to buildings:—

At the Penang Road Incinerator, building operations have been completed with the exception of cleaning up and finishing. The erection of mechanical details has proceeded and work on the two cranes and pipe work is in progress. Electrical wiring is proceeding and clock wiring has been completed. All drainage work has been completed. Highways work on the yard is in progress. Drying out fires were lit in No. 1 Furnace on March 3 and kept burning until March 24. The brickwork to the dust separator is in progress. The boundary wall and fence has been completed for approximately 75 per cent of its length.

At the Muirhead Road Incinerator, the Quenching Tower has been completed and the contractors' scaffolding and sheds removed.

At the Sinza Market, internal drainage work has been completed and concrete poured completing the 2nd floor slab, and shuttering completed for the two new staircases up to first floor level.

At the Liaoyang Market all work has been completed, with the exception of adjustments to plumbing and insertion of stall number plates.

At the Fearon Road Shed, roof trusses have been erected and roofing is in progress.

Gaol Extension of Cadastral Lot 1945, Eastern.—At the Administration block, the fixing of facing tiles to all elevations is in hand. The plaster work to walls and ceilings on all floors is progressing. Work on the heating and sanitary installations is proceeding.

At the Indian Warders' Quarters, the fixing of facing tiles to all elevations is in hand. The joinery throughout the building is in course of being fixed. The heating and sanitary services are being installed.

At the Police Hospital, the lifts are in course of erection. The terrazzo work is proceeding on all floors. The painting of the lift well enclosures is in hand and the electrical work and the installation of the oil tank is proceeding.

At the Gaol Hospital, the fittings to all steel casements throughout the building have been fixed. The cement dado to staircases has been applied. The lifts are in course of erection and the work on heating and sanitary installation is proceeding.

At the Juvenile Block, the first and second floor slabs and columns have been poured and the steel for beams to third floor slab is being laid. The cell partitions on first floor are in course of erection.

At the Cell Block R/S, the whole of the piles have been driven and the hardcore has been laid and the concrete foundation beams have been poured.

At the Yangtszepoo Police Station on Cadastral Lot 3929, Eastern, the painters, carpenters and terrazzo workers are carrying out final work.

At the Point Police Station and Barracks on Cadastral Lot 6510, Eastern, the third floor columns and fourth floor slab have been poured. The brick and coke breeze partition walls are being erected on 1st and 2nd floors. The walls of the S.V.C. Magazine have been concreted up to the roof.

At the Wayside Police Barracks on Cadastral Lot 1923, Eastern, all brickwork to the internal elevation has been laid. The brickwork to the external elevation has been laid up to second floor.

At the Carter Road Police Quarters on Cadastral Lot 1180, Western, the plaster work is nearing completion. The laying of the soil drains and the terrazzo and tiling work are in hand.

At the Louza Police Station, new entrance gates, etc., to Kweichow Road on Cadastral Lot 621, Central —the brick and concrete work is completed and the fixing of gates is in hand.

At the Gordon Road Police Station, garage for Police vans—the timber construction is completed, the roof covering laid and the metal work is in course of erection.

At the Abattoir, Sawgin Road, on Cadastral Lot 330, Eastern, the roof of the lairage blocks has been completed and interior ceiling plastering is in hand. Erection of the exterior walls has been commenced on the first floor. The second floor of the Cooling Block has been completely poured. The third floor shuttering is being erected. The drainage and sewers are well advanced and approximately 80 per cent of the necessary work has been completed. Work is proceeding on the sanitary and plumbing installation. The tenders for the electrical installation have been received and the work will, therefore, be put in hand shortly.

At the Victoria Nurses Home, the concrete to 2nd floor columns, lift shafts and walls surrounding the staircases has been poured. The steel has been laid to 3rd floor beams and slab.

At the Open Air Swimming Pool, Filter House—the excavation of foundation has been commenced and 50 per cent of sheet piles have been driven.

At the Barracks for Russian Unit, S.V.C., Alcock Road, the alterations to the main building and the erection of huts have been completed.

OMNIBUS SERVICES.

The Council has approved the application of the China General Omnibus Co., Ltd., to operate No. 3 Route (Brenan Piece to Poh Sing Kyang village, via Jessfield, Yu Yuen and Brenan roads) on a flat rate of 24 coppers. This route has not been operated for some time.

THE COUNTRY HOSPITAL.

Report for 1931.

Board of Governors.—Dr. J. C. McCracken was appointed to fill the place of Dr. H. Miller, who resigned.

Nursing Staff. — The following resignations were received during the year:—Sisters Frowen, Hopkins and Raebel; Probationer Nurses Krasnosleskit, Semiannikova, Schoettler, Simonoff, and Mogilnikoff.

New appointments to the Nursing Staff were:—Sisters Rudge, M. Jones, O'Connell, Winther and Scroggie; Staff Nurse Cuff.

Nurses Martin and Mason, who passed their qualifying examination after three years' training in the Hospital, were promoted to be Staff Nurses. The probationer nurses who resigned were replaced by trained Chinese nurses.

Sisters Wilkins, Early and Richter went on long leave.

A good deal of illness among the staff has to be reported.

Engineering Department. — The refrigerating plant was completely overhauled in the early part of the year, and worked very satisfactorily during the summer months, when, in addition to cooling the various sections of the hospital attached to it, a record supply of ice was produced. Some of the improvement in the plant must be credited to the new artesian well, which functioned perfectly. The electric wiring of the hospital was thoroughly overhauled and all defective parts replaced.

New Apparatus.—A Suda-Bath, which has in European countries proved very successful in the treatment of various disorders, particularly chronic constipation, was added to the Hydrotherapy Department. The treatment has proved popular and the results obtained have fully justified the purchase of the apparatus.

A small set of Cameron Lamps was purchased for the operating room.

Statistics. — The accompanying table gives figures for the year. It will be seen that there was an increase of 163 in-patients admitted, and that most of the Departments showed a corresponding increase in work done.

J. E. Bowen,
Superintendent.

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION No. 4214.
CHINESE ISOLATION HOSPITAL.

NOTICE is hereby given that the premises of the Chinese Isolation Hospital, 50 Yalu Road have been re-occupied and normal routine restored. The telephone number is 43041.

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, March 31, 1932.

PUBLIC HEALTH REPORT FOR MARCH.

The Commissioner of Public Health, in his March report, states:—

Vital Statistics.—There were 55 foreign resident deaths, the death rate being 15.13 per thousand compared with 20.72 last month. Chinese deaths totalled 3,054 of which 2,779 were exposed corpses found on vacant land within the Settlement limits. The death rate was very slightly below last month, being 35.92 per thousand compared with 36.29.

The confusion in regard to death rates due to the fluctuating nature of the population, which was alluded to last month, still persists, hence the above figures are given as an indication of the health of the Settlement rather than as accurate statistical data.

As regards Chinese deaths, it is a moot point as to whether the present figure is not a more accurate one than the figures produced during past years. It has frequently been pointed out in past years that local statistics were not accurate owing to a variety of factors, certain of which (such as the removal of dangerously sick persons to their country homes) were not operative during the emergency. On the other hand it is quite possible that some of the exposed corpses removed from Settlement areas have been brought in to ensure burial. Under these circumstances, to attempt to draw inferences from the data at our disposal would be of no value.

Communicable Diseases.—Diseases of the respiratory group (viz. Smallpox, Pulmonary Tuberculosis, Measles, Scarlet Fever and Pneumonia) were the chief causes of death amongst both the foreign and Chinese residents.

The usual information given about specified communicable diseases will be found in the tables attached to the Report, but the customary remarks have been omitted as it is felt that during the past emergency the position in regard to notification of communicable diseases became acute. Although it is known that there were very numerous cases of measles both amongst the Foreign and Chinese population, the figure notified, viz. 32 foreign cases and 134 Chinese cases, represented only a fraction of those which actually occurred, and as regards influenza little information is available.

It is true that the Health Department is able to gain information relating to communicable diseases other than that supplied through notification, but since this partakes of the nature of hearsay evidence, it is to be hoped that when conditions become normal again, greater support in regard to notification will be given, as otherwise the value of our information concerning communicable disease will be in question.

It is of interest to note that since the vaccination campaign started, the number of smallpox cases has steadily declined. It is impossible, however, to draw any definite deduction since smallpox is a disease which gradually declines as the warmer weather approaches, hence a decline is to be expected at this time. The only factor from which any deduction can be made is that a daily increase in the case number was noted previous to mass vaccination, therefore it is possible that an epidemic was cut short.

During March 103,139 vaccinations were performed of which 23,282 took place in the various Branch Health Offices as usual, and the rest in Refugee Camps, Markets, etc. by the mobile units reinforced by inspectorial staff (detached from other, less pressing but still essential duties). Since the beginning of the year 146,396 vaccinations have been performed under our direction, quite apart from the large issue of vaccine to charitable bodies also performing this work.

The doses of vaccine issued without or with payment during the past two months amount to 271,-025 which is more than the total for the whole of 1930 which was, however, a year of slight incidence.

Laboratory.—The production of smallpox vaccine continued steadily, and the record figure of 186,-680 doses were issued, being 100,-000 doses more than last month. 1,712 doses of bacterial vaccine were issued, and work is in progress on the manufacture of typhoid vaccine.

In view of the approach of the annual campaign, about 70 litres of cholera vaccine were made.

Pasteur Treatment.—Due possibly to an increase in the number of stray dogs, owing to recent disturbances, more persons than usual called at the Institute for advice, cauterization and/or treatment. Of the 58 attending, three were from outports. There were no fatalities.

During the month the police conducted a campaign in the deserted areas with the result that in the northern and north-eastern districts bordering the Settlement, a total of 184 dogs were shot or painlessly destroyed, thus lessening the rabies menace considerably.

Hospitals Division.—The month has been marked by the gradual return of the hospitals to normality, and the transfer from temporary quarters to their usual buildings. By the end of the month the Ben Building was completely evacuated.

The Mental Hospital transferred all patients and stores from Amoy Road Gaol to their old quarters on March 5 and at the same time staff commenced to occupy the Boone Road quarters. By March 7 reoccupation of the Municipal Isolation Hospital was completed.

On March 14 the Tuberculosis patients were transferred from the Shanghai Nursing Home to the Tuberculosis Wards of the Isolation Hospital, and the T. B. Clinic resumed its work at the General Hospital on March 15. The transfer of Chinese Isolation patients was delayed until the end of the month in order that the patients' nervousness might be allayed.

On March 25 the T. B. Sanatorium was prepared for the return of patients, but so far none have been admitted.

On March 29 the sixty remaining Chinese Isolation patients were transferred to the Yalu Road Hospital.

The numbers admitted to the Municipal Isolation Hospital during the month have not been high, smallpox being the most prevalent disease.

Smallpox was also the outstanding feature of the work in the Chinese Isolation Hospital, although the numbers fell to less than half of those of the previous month. The death-rate, though high, fell slightly. Later in the month the scarlet fever epidemic became more pronounced, and although only 20 cases of diphtheria were admitted, there were 11 deaths. Deaths from all diseases on the whole were very high, being 40 per cent of admittances, due probably to delayed admission to hospital.

The Chinese Police Hospital carried on throughout the month at the Lester Chinese Hospital, the beds being in charge of Dr. Gordon Thompson, of the Lester Institute for Medical Research.

The health of the prisoners at the gaols has been very good.

Dairies and Milk Supply.—The five dairies off Kiangwan Road, which were more or less put out of action when the fighting started in this area, are still unable to function.

The licence of the Ka Sung Dairy was withdrawn at the end of the month owing to repeated breaches of licence conditions.

No less than 14 dairy licencees were prosecuted for breaches of licence conditions.

Twenty-four animals were disposed of for various reasons.

One hundred samples of milk, and five of cream were taken for analysis. Of the milk samples, ten were of poor quality, four were adulterated with water, and three were deficient in fat and adulterated.

Twenty-five specimens of milk were taken for bacteriological examination, twenty-one being pasteurized and four raw milks. All were within the standard.

Municipal Slaughterhouse and Meat Supply.—Conditions at the slaughterhouse and cattlesheds have not yet returned to normal, though a gradual improvement is taking place. The quality of the meat has also improved. On the last day of February there was no kill at all, and in the early days of March the daily kill was very small indeed with the exception of pigs, but from March 8 it increased gradually, until on the last day of March the kill was 83 oxen, 32 sheep, 12 calves, and 55 pigs.

Average Daily Kill—March, 1931
Oxen 152, Sheep 158, Calves 28, Pigs. 80

Average Daily Kill—March, 1932
Oxen 34, Sheep, 29, Calves 10, Pigs 53

The receipts were $797.45 over last month but $4,691.45 less than the corresponding month last year.

Pig Slaughterhouses.—The number of pigs killed this month shows an increase of 11,196 compared with last month. The receipts from fees amounted to $3,042.90, being $1,252.20 more than last year.

The kill at the slaughterhouses in the western district was nearly normal, and that at the municipal slaughterhouse only slightly less than usual.

Dogs Under Observation.—The observation kennels at the cattle-sheds were re-occupied on March 5.

Twenty-two dogs and one cat were received for observation for rabies; all had bitten people. Sixteen were subsequently returned to owners, one to the police for destruction and one died, leaving five still under observation at the end of this month.

Veterinary Work.—The veterinary surgeon reports that the outbreak of contagious pleuro-pneumonia has now completely ceased. No case of rinderpest has occurred.

The average daily milk production amounted to 18,090 lbs. as against 18,281 lbs. in February.

Markets and Bakeries. — This division during the month has been endeavouring to re-establish normal routine.

Attempts are being made to restore confidence in certain markets to obviate the present heavy loss due to stallholders abandoning their stalls.

It is to be noted that four bakeries situated in the northern district are still closed and there is no information as to whether they will start again.

Inspection of the various food premises which are gradually re-opening is being carried out and after the somewhat disordered conditions of the past two months, throws a considerable amount of extra work on this division.

Hawkers, who were allowed to function a little more freely during the troubled period, are now being gradually reduced, since conditions are such that there is no reason why they should not function in municipal markets.

Sanitation Division.—This division has been kept busy handling an accumulation of routine work, following the return to normal conditions, but in addition 67 refugee camps received regular sanitary attention, whilst 22 temporary hospitals for wounded were daily inspected and measures taken to assist them in sanitary matters. Dressings and other soiled material were removed daily and cremated at the disinfection station.

The above features represent a very considerable additional amount of work for the division.

Further, the survey work performed in Chapei (which has already been reported upon) necessitated the detaching of staff who could very well have been employed elsewhere.

Cleansing gangs, each consisting of six coolies under the supervision of a sanitary overseer were employed at the emergency hospitals, giving special attention to latrines, drains, kitchens and back yards. Similar squads were also employed to deal with refugee camps.

A remarkable feature about refugee camps was the speed with which, when one camp was closed by the authorities concerned, another totally unexpected camp sprung up in a district far removed from the original site.

As a matter of interest the following comparative figures are given:—

1 Central, February 8, 9 camps 5,014 refugees.

1 Central, March 31, 2 camps 297 refugees.

2 Central, March 1, 10 camps 2,192 refugees.

2 Central, March 31, 6 camps 1,395 refugees.

3 Central, March 1, 4 camps 2,345 refugees.

3 Central, March 31, 1 camp 85 refugees.

making a total of 23 camps containing 9,551 refugees.

In the Western district, the figures as given are as follows:

February—41 camps with 15,566 inmates.

March—50 camps with 29,616 inmates, from which it will be seen that the raising of the emergency has not lightened the work connected with the sanitation of camps. The type of refugee has, however, changed owing to the influx of a large body of country people and a corresponding diminution of townsmen. The new refugees appear to be of a more robust type and there is less illness.

Duty at places of amusement amounted to 1,446 hours.

The Brigade attended a record number of calls during the month, many of which could be attributed, either directly or indirectly, to the local political disturbances and, although no less than 161 premises (excluding straw huts) were actually involved, the only fire of real importance was that which occurred in Magnolia Terrace, off North Szechuen Road Extension, on the 21st., at which two Foreign Officers, three Chinese Firemen and a Foreign member of the Volunteer Reserve were injured by shell fragments.

The first call was received by the Brigade from a Japanese messenger at 19.09 hours, and Hongkew Division responded. It was found that a block of houses of foreign construction situated in Magnolia Terrace was alight and lines of hose were being laid when very heavy shelling in the immediate vicinity commenced, a number of shells landing in the terrace and on North Szechuen Road in close proximity to the fire machines. The crews took cover for some time but, as the shelling continued unabated, orders were given for the detachment to return to the Station.

At 20.02 a member of the Japanese Naval Patrol called at Hongkew Station and reported that the shelling near Magnolia Terrace had ceased and that the fire was increasing rapidly. The Division again responded and on arrival immediately got to work on the fire, but no sooner was this done than a number of shells dropped in the terrace and on North Szechuen Road, six members of the detachment—three Foreign and three Chinese—being injured by fragments. Orders were then given for the machines and personnel to withdraw and return to the Station.

Four of the injured were removed to Hongkew Fire Station on the machines, while an Officer and a Fireman were taken care of by the Japanese Naval Authorities, who dressed their wounds and conveyed them to Hongkew Station. They were all later taken to Hospital in Brigade Emergency Ambulances.

The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, APRIL 29, 1932. No. 1364

SANITARY MEASURES IN CHAPEI.

Further reports by the Commissioners of Public Health and Public Works on the measures adopted for the cleansing of Chapei and contiguous areas have been submitted to the Council. From the latest report furnished by the Commissioner of Public Health it was noted at the Council meeting on April 20, that after the work which has been done conditions are not for the time being such as to constitute so grave a menace to the health of the Settlement. The Commissioner of Public Works stated that municipal activities on the scale hitherto undertaken had been suspended and if these were resumed without curtailment of legitimate work within the Settlement additional monthly expenditure of Tls. 5,000 would become necessary.

RESOLVED that the Commissioners of Public Health and Public Works keep these areas under their supervision and report to the Council if in their opinion the resumption of sanitation measures becomes necessary.

OPEN AIR SWIMMING POOL. Admission Fee.

With regard to the proposal which had been approved by the Health Committee to increase the admission charge to the Swimming Pool from 20 cents to 50 cents or three tickets for one dollar, the Chairman of Council suggested at the meeting on April 20, that imposition of this increased charge might inflict a hardship on the poorer classes of the community. The Commissioner of Public Health had expressed the view that it would be impracticable to cope with the congestion at the Pool by restricting the numbers admitted thereto since this system had already been attempted without success. As an experimental measure he was prepared to agree to the proposal that on two days a week the admission fee remain as at present.

The Commissioner of Public Health stated that his original proposal was put forward with a view to offsetting to some extent the additional cost of the Pool and also to relieve the congestion which had been so apparent during the past two years. The suggestion that the admission charge be increased to exclude the rougher elements had been put forward by other users of the Pool. He was therefore of opinion that if the charge remained as at present for two days a week the majority of those frequenting the Pool would be satisfied.

RESOLVED that on Tuesdays and Fridays the admission charge to the Pool remain at the present figure of 20 cents and that on other days of the week this charge be increased to 50 cents or three tickets for $1.

FILM CENSORSHIP.

A memorandum has been furnished to Council members outlining the functions of the Board of Film Censors and the procedure adopted for the censoring of films. A letter from Mrs. K. S. Inui, a member of the Board, has also been submitted advocating a revision in procedure with a view to ensuring an improvement in the standard of films by removing the restrictions under which the Board at present operated.

Members of Council at the meeting on April 20 concurred with the Chairman that the criticisms which were periodically levelled at the public display of certain films were well founded and that it was highly desirable that a small Commission be formed to advise the Council as to what measures can be adopted to effect any necessary improvements.

The Chairman suggested that Messrs. A. M. Cannan, E. Haward and P. C. Colman would be willing to serve on such a Commission.

RESOLVED that the above gentlemen be invited to serve on a Commission to put forward proposals for the guidance of the Board; the terms of reference to such Commission to be the subject of later consideration.

BUBBLING WELL BASKET FAIR.

The expansion of the Bubbling Well Basket Fair, which is held annually in the Fourth Moon in connection with the celebration of the birthday of Buddha, has presented certain problems, such as traffic obstruction and hindrance to normal business in the affected area, which the Municipal Council has endeavoured to solve by an agreement with the Bubbling Well Temple authorities.

The Chief Priest of the Temple has agreed in writing to the following conditions governing the Fair:—

(1) That the 1932 Fair and all future Fairs be restricted to the localities indicated on plans attached. (Sections of Bubbling Well, Hart, Avenue, Jessfield, Kiaochow, Yu Yuen roads and Avenue Haig).

(2) That the duration of the Fair be limited to a maximum of seven days.

(3) That the Council may, when it deems necessary, upon giving six months' notice of its intention, call upon the Temple Authorities to reconsider the area of the Fair and the localities in which it is permitted to be held.

(4) That the location of stalls be restricted to the sidewalks of the roads delineated, and that they be not permitted to encroach on the roadway. That sufficient space be left unoccupied on the sidewalks to give adequate access to residences, shops, garages and all other premises abutting upon the roads within the agreed Fair localities.

(5) That this agreement remain in force only so long as the Temple retains its present status.

The Fair this year will be held from May 8 to May 14 inclusive.

PAWNSHOP LICENCE FEES.

The Shanghai Pawnshop Association and the Guild of Pawnshops of Shanghai recently petitioned the Municipal Council requesting reversion to the former method of licence fee assessment, i.e., to a graduated scale based on the interest charged and business done during the preceding quarter. They contended that the present plan, instituted on April 1, 1930, of assessing fees at a fixed sum for each establishment is unduly onerous in a period of business depression.

The present method is to fix the licence fee according to the size of the establishment. While the pawnshops did not accept the revision in 1930 without protest, they paid on the new assessments upon receiving the Council's assurance that any alleged individual grievance would be given full consideration. For the past two years the system has been working satisfactorily.

The Council, after careful consideration, has decided to continue the present system of assessment, which in its opinion is satisfactory; the fees in general are considered equitable, especially in view of the extensive police control and protection which this class of business requires. The Council, however, has expressed its willingness to consider any individual cases which appear to require consideration.

ROAD EXTENSIONS AND WIDENINGS.

Avenue Road.

Negotiations have been concluded with Messrs. Algar & Co., Ltd. for the surrender of an area of mow 0.022 required from Cadastral Lot 3271 (west of Ferry Road) for the scheduled widening of Avenue Road. Of this area, mow 0.020 is subject to compulsory free surrender in accordance with Land Regulation VI. For the remaining area of mow 0.002, compensation has been arranged at the assessed value of the lot, i.e., Tls. 15,000 per mow, or a sum of Tls. 26.

Pingliang Road.

An area of mow 0.152 required from Cadastral Lot 3202 (east of Fenchow Road) for the scheduled widening of Pingliang Road has been surrendered by The Cathay Land Co., Ltd. for a sum of Tls. 1,140.

Woochang Road.

An area of mow 0.057 required from Cadastral Lot 659 (west of North Szechuen Road) for the scheduled widening of Woochang Road has been surrendered by Messrs. Hamsons for a sum of Tls. 1,995.

POLICE REPORT FOR MARCH.

The Commissioner of Police, in his March Report, states:—

The total crime recorded during the month is contained in the following table:—

Nature of Offence	Reported during the month	Reported during previous month	Reported during corresponding month last year
Murder	7	5	0
Attempted Murder	3	6	1
Manslaughter	0	2	2
Armed Kidnapping	1* (1 Att.)	1	2
Abduction	4	1	7
Armed Robberies	68	79	60
Other Robberies	11	17	12
Members of a Criminal gang	8	4	3
Housebreaking, Office, Shop, etc.	84	63	62
Burglary	26	12	65
Thefts	532	438	722
Receiving stolen property	13	2	21
Snatching	58	28	120
Opium Offences	16	7	126
Gambling Offences	9	3	24
Other Crimes	148	114	216
Total.	988	782	1,443

There was a total increase of 206 cases as compared with the figures recorded last month and a decrease of 455 cases as compared with those for the corresponding period of last year. 880 persons were arrested for crimes committed during the month, 71 for offences committed previously and 374 for other Authorities, a total increase of 393 as compared with the number apprehended last month.

Murder.—Seven cases of murder were recorded during the month, two in "A" Division, four in "B" Division and one in "D" Division. In one case a Japanese clerk was assaulted by a mob of Chinese on Soochow Road near the Kiangse Road Bridge and died later as the result of injuries received. In another a Chinese of the loafer class was stabbed to death as the result of a dispute with three others. In the third case the dead body of an unknown male Chinese with a bullet wound in the chest was found on Mandalay Road. In the fourth case a male Chinese was stabbed to death by a gang of opium smugglers, the motive being revenge. In the fifth case a male unidentified Chinese baby with the left foot cut off and a wound in the right foot was found on a piece of vacant ground. The child later died in hospital. In the sixth case a Chinese Police Constable attacked his wife with a knife, wounding her severely in the neck and chest, as the result of a domestic quarrel. In the seventh case the dead body of a Chinese beggar with a wound on the right side of the body caused either by a bayonet or sword thrust was discovered outside a group of straw huts at a little distance from the junction of Ningwu and Haichow Roads.

Attempted Murder.—Of the three cases reported, one occurred in the Louza district when a Chinese was attacked by four men, shot at and wounded. The second occurred in the Sinza district when a Special Constable was fired at and wounded in the left forearm inside an alleyway by a man whom he attempted to arrest as a curfew breaker. In the third case a Japanese opened fire upon a Chinese and wounded him, when the latter was proceeding along a passage leading to the Cantonese temple on Woochang Road.

Armed Kidnapping.—An attempt was made to kidnap a Chinese whilst leaving a dance hall in his motor-car, but was frustrated by the intended victim's presence of mind and alert action.

Abduction.—Four cases of simple abduction were reported during the month and eight arrests were effected in connection with three of these cases.

Armed Robberies.—68 cases were reported, 11 less than last month and eight more than during the corresponding period of last year. "B" Division records an increase of seven and "C" Division an increase of two, whilst a decrease of two and 18 is recorded in "A" and "D" Divisions respectively. 108 arrests were effected in connection with these cases.

In one of the above cases, four persons were arrested by the Police as the result of excellent co-operation by the complainant.

In addition there were 11 cases of robbery by unarmed criminals, nearly all of which took place on the highway and in connection with which four arrests were effected.

Members of a Criminal Gang.—Eight gangs were arrested during the month and 55 arrests effected. Three of the gangs consisted of pickpockets and snatchers.

Housebreaking, Office, Shop, etc.—As compared with last month there is an increase of 21 cases and an increase of 22 on the figures for March 1931. "A" and "D" Divisions record an increase of four and "C" Division of 13 cases, whilst "B" Division maintains the same figures as last month. 33 arrests were made.

Burglary.—An increase of 14 is recorded over the previous month. "A" Division records an increase of three, "B" Division an increase of ten and "C" Division an increase of one, whilst "D" Division shows the same figures as last month. 17 arrests were made in connection with this class of crime.

Thefts.—There was an increase of 94 cases as compared with the figures recorded last month and a decrease of 190 cases for the corresponding period of 1931. 17 of these cases occurred on extra-Settlement roads or in buildings abutting thereon in the Western District. A total of 314 arrests were made. A large number of these cases came to the notice of the Police as the result of arrests made.

54 cases of pocket picking occurred in "A" Division and "B" Division and 37 arrests were effected. Special measures have been taken to cope with this type of crime in "A" Division. "A" Division records 42 cases and 37 arrests. 44 bicycles were stolen, four of which number were recovered and four arrests made. Eight cases of shop-lifting occurred in "A" Division and a total of 12 arrests were effected.

Receiving stolen property.—13 cases were reported and 14 arrests made resulting in three convictions.

Snatching.—There was a total increase of 30 cases as compared with last month. 37 occurred in "A" Division, 12 in "B" Division, three in "C" Division and six in "D" Division. 57 arrests were made including 38 in "A" Division.

Opium.—16 reports were recorded during the month as the result of Police action, in which 44 arrests took place.

Gambling.—Nine cases were recorded during the month, an increase of six as compared to last month. The association of gambling with crime was noted in two cases (1) of misappropriation and false pretences and (2) of embezzlement where the prisoners admitted losing the money in gambling houses.

Other Crimes.—148 cases occurred, 34 more than those recorded last month and 68 less than the figures for March 1931. Cases under this heading are of a very miscellaneous nature and comprise amongst others embezzlement, assault, fraud, rape, extortion, possession of inflammatory literature, uttering counterfeit notes or coins and threatening letters. 80 arrests were made in connection with these cases.

Notable work in "B" Division included the arrest of 60 persons on charges of armed robbery, etc.

28 cases of a miscellaneous nature occurred on Municipal extra Settlement Roads or in buildings abutting thereon.

The Headquarters Special Detective Squad conducted investigations into 25 cases. In addition enquiries were continued in eight cases previously reported.

Stolen Property.—Property to the value of $334,645.87 was alleged to have been stolen during the month, an increase of $176,621.50 as compared with last month. Property valued at $62,031, was recovered. A considerable portion of this was due to arrests made in "C" and "D" Divisions.

Fingerprint Bureau.—The total number of records dealt with was 1,772. As compared with the figures recorded for last month there is an increase of 514 and a decrease of 565 by comparison with the corresponding month of last year. Investigations were made into 17 cases. Latent finger prints were secured in only one instance. Of 18 dead bodies (Chinese) fingerprinted and photographed at the mortuary none was identified. 25 records of foreigners were received and nine identified as having previous convictions. In addition five records of foreigners were received from the French Police, of which number identifications were recorded in three instances.

Studio.—248 photographs were taken and 444 copies printed during the month.

Boarding House Section.—During the month the staff of this section visited 305 Boarding Houses and 12 Bars, Restaurants, Cafes, Taverns and Theatres. 14 new applications were dealt with.

Suicides.—Six Chinese committed suicide, whilst one Japanese and eight other Chinese attempted to do so.

Political.—A general withdrawal of Chinese troops from the vicinity of Shanghai began on March 2 and continued till the opposing forces came to a halt at a considerable distance from Shanghai. Immediately following the Chinese withdrawal, conditions in the Settlement began to move towards normality. The Police were able to function more or less normally in the Hongkew and Dixwell Road areas. The official suspension of business ceased to be operative in the area, south of the Soochow Creek, by the end of the month.

Disturbances in the Settlement.—The ease with which the public can be swayed by reports about most improbable happenings was proved in Shanghai on March 4. On the late afternoon of that date a report became current that a highly placed general of the Japanese command had been killed and that the Japanese troops had suffered a severe reverse. As a sequel to this news, crowds assembled in all important streets in the Settlement and French Concession and indulged in the firing of crackers, beating of gongs and waving of national flags. The celebrations started about 6.40 p.m. in the vicinity of Avenue Edward VII and gradually spread from street to street until 8 o'clock when the noise and excitement were general in all areas of the Settlement outside the districts where the Japanese troops were present in force. A number of excited demonstrators procured motor-cars and careered about the streets shouting and gesticulating.

The crowds which thronged the streets during the celebration were for the most part good tempered and friendly towards foreigners other than Japanese. Traffic regulations were, however, generally ignored and efforts on the part of the police to carry out their duties aroused hostility on Avenue Edward VII and Nanking Road. In these thoroughfares the Municipal Police had to resort to baton charges in order to disperse mobs which were endeavouring to restrict their movements by throwing stones and other missiles. The streets were finally cleared by 10 p.m. when curfew came into force. Assistance in the restoration of order was given to the Municipal Police by the 31st U.S. Infantry, a Company of British troops and part of the S.V.C. Russian Detachment.

Labour Situation.—There was no strike in the Settlement during the month. About 283 of the industrial concerns which had suspended business on account of the fighting reopened and 72,654 operatives, who had been idle, resumed work during the month. About 281 industrial concerns which normally employ 121,197 persons were still closed at the end of the month.

As a result of a movement in which the Social Bureau, the Chamber of Commerce and other societies co-operated, a new organization called "The Shanghai War District Unemployed Workers' Relief Society" was formed for persons who had lost their employment during the war.

Communist Demonstration.—The local members of the Chinese Communist Party endeavoured to organize demonstrations on March 18 which was the anniversary of an incident which occurred in connection with the celebration of the Paris Commune in Peking in 1926 when several students were killed. The first attempt was made about noon on Robison Road when about 500 labourers and students distributed pamphlets and shouted slogans in favour of communism. The assembly was dispersed and three of the demonstrators were arrested. A crowd of smaller number assembled a short time later at the corner of Sinza and Chengtu Roads. This crowd also demonstrated by distributing handbills and shouting slogans, but fled on the approach of the Police.

Other public activities of Communists which were quickly suppressed by the Municipal Police included attempts by crowds to hold a demonstration in the Western district on March 3 and in Louza district on March 5. In both instances the crowds were quickly dispersed by the Police.

Communist Written Propaganda.—Printed matter containing Communist propaganda, seized by the Police in the course of demonstrations and raids during the month, comprised 17,288 copies of books, pamphlets, cartoons, etc. This literature included 84 different kinds of handbills in Chinese which had not been previously seen and several different kinds of pamphlets in English addressed to members of the Shanghai Defence Force.

The Chinese literature referred to the anniversaries of the 1st Conference of the International at Moscow in 1919 (March 2), the International Women's Day (March 8) and the Paris Commune (March 18), alleged failure of the Kuomintang Government to resist Japan and alleged hypocritical attitude of the League of Nations Enquiry Commission in the Sino-Japanese controversy.

The English handbills urged active opposition to the attacks being made and planned on the Soviet Union and the Chinese Red Army and denounced the League of Nations and Imperialism.

Counter Measures against Communists.—Measures adopted by the Municipal Police for the suppression of Communists and other subversive elements included the searching of nine addresses and the apprehension and prosecution of 41 Chinese for offences of a Communist character. The cases against all the accused were still on remand at the end of the month.

Agitation Against Payment of Municipal Rates and House Rent.—A movement to further demands for the remission of house rents for the period of the Sino-Japanese conflict and non-payment of Municipal taxes for the second quarter of 1932 was started during the month. The bulk of the promoters of the movement are members of the Citizens' Federation and Federation of Street Unions.

Rice.—The average prices of rice for the month of March 1932 were as follows:—

Chinese Rice:

Best quality	$15.32	per picul
Good quality	14.55	„ „
Ordinary quality	13.94	„ „

Saigon Rice:

Best quality	13.00	„ „
Good quality	12.00	„ „
Ordinary quality	11.00	„ „

Film Censorship. — 37 feature films and 16 "shorts" and news reels were censored during the month in theatres in the Settlement and French Concession. Of these two were rejected as unsuitable for local exhibition, while three were only approved after parts to which the Police Censors objected, had been cut out. The members of the Board of Censors were called to review the two pictures which had been disapproved by the police. They decided to allow one of the films, but upheld the decision of the police and rejected the other as unfit for local exhibition.

Traffic.—Court proceedings were instituted in 319 (21 Foreigners and 298 Chinese) of 2,204 reports of traffic offences received during the month against owners and/or drivers of vehicles. The remainder were dealt with by letter of warning or entry of caution on their records.

Accidents. — Accidents coming under police notice during the months of March 1932 and March 1931:—

Other Vehicles	56	1

Persons killed or injured in accidents during March 1932 and known to have been at fault:—

Killed	10
Injured	128

Bicycles.—Bicycles were involved in 102 accidents during the month and in 50 cases the cyclists were known to have been at fault.

Motor Horn Nuisance.—There were 12 prosecutions for this offence during the month and in addition one chauffeur had his driving licence suspended for a repetition of the offence.

Traffic Signal Lights. — Traffic Signal Lights recently installed at Bubbling Well and Chengtu Roads crossing were taken over by the police and commenced operating on March 5.

One-way Traffic.—A new Traffic Regulation, known as No. 46G, making the section of Myburgh Road between Bubbling Well Road and Burkill Road, a one-way traffic road for North bound vehicles only, came into force on March 21 and has resulted in considerable improvement in the movement of traffic at this point.

Tram and Bus Services.—The services on certain routes in Hongkew district which had been suspended since January 29, commenced a partial operation again on March 15.

Unlicensed Military Vehicles.—Although 594 motor vehicle licences were issued to the Japanese Military Headquarters during the month, the majority of the vehicles for which these licences were issued, are still being operated without S.M.C. licences being affixed to them.

Traffic Conditions.—Traffic conditions in the Northern and Eastern districts showed signs of improvement during the month, but the movement of troops and military vehicles in these districts has thrown a great deal of additional traffic on to some of the main roads and which has at times caused considerable obstruction to all other traffic using these roads. Many of the drivers of Japanese Military vehicles continue to drive at an unnecessary and sometimes dangerous speed and with little or no regard for the rules of the road or other users of the roadways. Their vehicles are frequently involved in accidents due in most cases to this improper driving.

Identification Office.—During the month, 1,302 prisoners' records passed through this office for identification prior to the prisoners going to Court for trial, out of which number 340 were identified as having a previous conviction or convictions. In addition to the above 228 records were received from the French Police out of which number 47 were identified in the records of this office making the total for the month :—

The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, MAY 6, 1932. No. 1365

GRANTS-IN-AID TO CHINESE SCHOOLS.

Requisite Qualifying Conditions.

The following conditions governing the issue of grants-in-aid to Chinese schools within the International Settlement have been approved by the Council and are published for general information. In the case of schools registered with the Bureau of Education for Greater Shanghai, applications should in the first instance be submitted to that Bureau, from which application forms may be obtained; in the case of schools not so registered, applications should be submitted to the Superintendent, Education Department, Administration Building, from whom application forms may also be obtained.

CHINESE SCHOOLS.

General Conditions.

1. The purpose of the Council is to aid education by means of grants of money voted annually for schools within the International Settlement which satisfy the Council as to their administration, equipment, educational standard, and their need for financial assistance.
2. To qualify for a grant a school must comply with the conditions and requirements here stated, to the satisfaction of the Council.

Management.

3. A School must have a Governing Board responsible for the conduct and the finance of the School.
4. It is the duty of the Governing Board to see that the Admission and Attendance of pupils are carefully registered by or under the supervision of the Head Teacher or Principal, and to keep or cause to be kept the accounts of income and expenditure, which shall be duly audited.
5. The Governing Board will be supplied with a form of Annual Return which must be filled in immediately after the end of the school year and forwarded to the Council not later than September 1. Any other returns or information called for by the Council must be duly supplied.
6. Notice must be sent to the Council by the Governing Board, as soon as possible in each case, of every date upon which the School will be closed, or its ordinary work suspended, during the year. These dates should include the usual and any special holidays, and any closure on account of sickness.

Premises and Accommodation.

7. The premises must be sufficient, convenient, and healthy, must be safe in case of fire, must have suitable and sufficient sanitary accommodation for the children and for the teachers, must be adequately lighted, ventilated, cleaned and drained, must be kept in proper repair, and must be suitably arranged, furnished and equipped for instruction.

Teaching Staff.

8. Every School must have a Head Teacher or Principal who shall be responsible for the general control of the school and for the supervision of the instruction.
9. The staff must be adequate. In considering the sufficiency and suitability of the staff of a school the Council will have regard to the arrangement of the premises for teaching purposes, the number of children in attendance, their organization and proficiency, the nature of the approved course of instruction, the qualification of each member of the staff and his suitability for the work assigned to him.

Courses of Study.

10. (a) The instruction must be in accordance with a suitable curriculum and syllabus framed with due regard to the circumstances and organization of the School, and must conform to the regulations issued by the Ministry of Education of the National Government of the Republic of China.
    (b) Patriotism and good citizenship should be encouraged in all schools, and no instruction likely to offend national susceptibilities or to create inter-racial animosity shall be permitted.
    (c) The Course of Study, with an analysis thereof showing the number of hours given weekly to each subject, and the Time Table of each Class, must be displayed in a conspicuous position in the school.
11. Infant Classes will be recognized only if they partake of the nature of "Kindergarten" and are suitably equipped as such.

Allotment of Grants.

12. The allotment of grants-in-aid will be based on the quality of the work done, the financial needs of the school and the number of pupils in regular attendance.
13. The Council will decide each year whether a grant shall be made and to what purpose it shall be applied. A grant shall not be made to any school until it has been in existence one full year.
14. The grants will be paid quarterly, and may be revised or discontinued at any time for any sufficient reason.

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION
No. 4229.
NEW POLICE STATION—EASTERN DISTRICT.

NOTICE is hereby given that with a view to giving effect to an improved Police Service commensurate with the demands of the Eastern district of the Settlement, the Council has established at No. 707 Yulin Road, situate between Whashing and Chemulpo Roads, a new Police Station which will commence to function on May 15, 1932. (Telephone Nos. 15380 and 52250).

The area within which this Station will function comprises that portion of the present Wayside and Yangtszepoo Police Districts, bounded on the west by Dalny Road exclusive, from the boundary of the Settlement to the Whangpoo River; and on the east to Lay Road, inclusive, between the Whangpoo River and Ward Road, thence following the line of the Yangtszepoo Creek to the Settlement boundary.

For executive control, the District will be incorporated in Police Division "D."

Pending further developments in Police administrative adjustments in the Eastern District the new Station will be designated Yulin Road Police Station.

Headquarters of the Divisional Officer will remain for the present at Wayside Police Station. Telephone Nos. 50204 and 15380.

Residents living within the newly apportioned area are requested to communicate with the Police Station direct or the Divisional Officer on all matters requiring urgent Police attention.

By order,

J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, May 5, 1932.

H. I. J. M.'s BIRTHDAY CELEBRATIONS.

The following exchange of correspondence between the Chairman of Council and the Consul General for Japan is published for general information:—

Shanghai, April 28, 1932.

SIR,—I have the honour to bring to your attention the fact that until yesterday the Council had no intimation that the arrangements for the celebration to-morrow of the birthday of H.I.M. the Emperor of Japan include the movement of large bodies of Japanese troops through certain streets in the northern and eastern areas of the Settlement.

While fully appreciating the sentiment of the Japanese civil and military authorities and the Japanese community in desiring that the birthday of H.I.M. the Emperor should be fittingly observed in Shanghai, the Council is considerably concerned regarding the effect which the movement of such a large body of Japanese troops through the streets of the Settlement may have upon the Chinese community and its possible repercussion upon the efforts which the Council are making to restore normal conditions, and especially with regard to the re-opening of shops and factories in the northern and eastern districts.

Under these circumstances it would be most gratifying to the Council if you would use your good offices with the Japanese military authorities to induce them to alter the proposed route of march so as to eliminate the traversing of streets within the Settlement and also to intimate to them that the Council would in the future greatly appreciate being fully informed in advance with regard to any proposed movements on an unusual scale of Japanese troops through the Settlement.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
A. D. BELL,
Chairman.

K. MURAI, Esq.,
Consul-General for Japan.

Shanghai, April 28, 1932.

SIR,—I have the honour to state that the Japanese Military authorities have requested me to inform you that they are holding a military review to-morrow in the Hongkew Park as well as on Kiangwan Road on the following program, in celebration of His Majesty's Birthday:—

A military review and an aerial parade between 9.30 a.m. and 11.00 a.m.; a salute of 101 guns at noon; and acrobatic aerial flights as from about 1.30 p.m.

I am further requested to notify you that after the completion of the above military review, /a greater part of the participating units will return to their respective posts without entering any part of the Settlement but a part of them, some 6,000 men, either on foot, vehicles or on horseback, will pass some part of the Japanese defence area of the Settlement on the way to their barracks.

I am given to understand that as to the route in the Settlement along which the last mentioned units are proceeding to-morrow, Major-General Tashiro, Chief-of-Staff to the Japanese Military Headquarters, has already notified the Commissioner of Police of the Shanghai Municipal Council.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
K. MURAI,
Consul-General.

A. D. BELL, Esq.,
Chairman,
Municipal Council.

Shanghai, April 29, 1932.

SIR,—I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt yesterday afternoon of your letter of April 28 informing me that the Japanese military authorities are holding a military review and aerial parade to-day followed by what appear to be extensive movements of troops along the roads of the Settlement.

In reply I can only reiterate the remarks contained in my letter of yesterday on the same subject, and to express the hope that the Japanese authorities will concur in the Council's view that all due care should be exercised in taking any action which may tend to increase the tension of the existing situation.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
A. D. BELL,
Chairman.

K. MURAI, Esq.,
Consul-General for Japan.

HONGKEW PARK OUTRAGE.

Mr. A. D. Bell, Chairman of the Municipal Council, on April 30, wrote as follows to Mr. S. Iguchi, Consul for Japan:—

"On behalf of my colleagues and myself I wish to express our feelings of profound horror at the outrage committed in the course of yesterday's celebration, and our deepest sorrow at the severe injuries sustained by the distinguished victims of the tragic occurrence.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to the family of the late Dr. Kawabata and to the Japanese Residents' Corporation which has thus lost the services of its Chairman whose devotion to public work was greatly appreciated in the community.

"We sincerely hope that despite their severe wounds the other injured members of the Japanese naval, military and diplomatic services and of the local community are making good progress towards speedy recovery."

Mr. J. R. Jones, Secretary to the Council, on April 30 wrote as follows to the Japanese Residents' Corporation:—

"I wish to express the Council's profound regret at the death of your Chairman, the late Dr. Kawabata, as the result of the injuries he sustained through the outrage in the course of yesterday's celebrations.

Dr. Kawabata's keen devotion to public service and his work as Vice-Chairman, and subsequently as Chairman, of the Japanese Residents' Corporation are well known and have been greatly appreciated by the community. I shall be glad if you will be so good as to convey to his family, who I understand are now in Japan, the Council's deep sympathy.

I have also to express the sincere hope that Mr. Tomono, the Secretary of your Corporation, will speedily recover from the injuries which he sustained."

The Chairman of Council has received the following acknowledgment from Mr. Iguchi, Consul for Japan:—

Shanghai, May 2, 1932.

SIR,—In acknowledging the receipt of your letter of April 30th, expressing on behalf of your colleagues and your goodself a sense of deepest sympathy and sorrow at the injuries sustained by the victims of the bombing outrage, I have the honour to state that I have conveyed your kind message to all those injured as well as to the family of the late Dr. Kawabata.

I wish to express, on their behalf, heartiest thanks for the profound sympathy you have extended to them and also for the sincere hope expressed by you for the speedy recovery of the injured victims.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
S. IGUCHI,
Consul.

A. D. BELL, Esq.,
Chairman, Municipal Council.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS.

A meeting of the Education Board was held on Wednesday, April 27. There were present:—Mr. A. D. Bell, Dr. H. Gordon Thompson, Mrs. N. Leslie, Mr. K. H. Ling, Dr. H. C. E. Liu, Dr. Y. H. Ou, and Mr. L. T. Yuan.

REPORT OF THE HON. MR. JUSTICE FEETHAM.

Volumes Two and Three of the Chinese translation of the Report of the Hon. Mr. Justice Feetham, C.M.G., have now been published. Copies are available on application to the Revenue Office, Administration Building, Kiangse Road. The price of Volume Two is $2.00 per copy and of Volume Three $1.00 per copy.

WHARFAGE DUES.

The return of wharfage dues for the quarter ended March 31, 1932, has been received by the Municipal Council from the Chinese Maritime Customs, showing a sum of Tls. 39,457.65 accruing to the Council.

The estimated revenue to the Council from wharfage dues in 1932 was Tls. 600,000, which was Tls. 150,000 less than 1931, owing to the revised apportionment of these monies between the Council and the neighbouring municipal authorities and the fact that an increasing quantity of goods was being discharged on the Pootung side of the river to the detriment of the Council's revenue from this source. Wharfage dues are collected by the Customs on behalf of the Council.

The sum accruing to the Council in 1930 was Tls. 748,336; in 1931 it was Tls. 645,488, the payments in the four quarters of the latter year being as follow:—March, Tls. 232,702; June, Tls. 160,898; September, Tls. 162,605; December, Tls. 89,283.

Owing to the local hostilities many ships landed Shanghai cargo in Hongkong and Japan ports during February and March last.

The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, MAY 13, 1932. No. 1366

GENERAL MUNICIPAL RATE.
Scheme of Relief.

In order to grant relief by remission of municipal rates in the case of residents in the Settlement whose ability to pay has been most directly affected by the recent emergency, the Council has adopted the principle of a scale of abatements varying according to the degree of hardship arising out of conditions existing during the crisis in the northern and eastern districts and having regard to the necessity of adopting a measure that would be equitable to all without throwing a greater burden ultimately on the ratepayers in general.

The details of the measure providing for remission of rates as approved by the Council are as follows:—

Northern and Eastern Districts:

(A) In the case of Chinese ratepayers:

Premises situated in North Honekew Police District,—abatement two months.

Premises situated in the Kashing Road Wayside and Yangtszepoo Police Districts,—abatement two months.

Premises situated in the West Honekew Police District,—abatement one and a half months.

(B) In the case of all other ratepayers abatements may be granted subject to the same limitations as in (A) and to the consideration of each case upon its particular merits.

Central and Western Districts:

No abatement.

General:

Certain special cases where circumstances justify more liberal treatment than set out above will be dealt with on their merits.

Premises within the Settlement limits but placed outside the defences, and premises which suffered damage as a result of military operations come under this category.

The maximum allowance in any case will not exceed three months' abatement.

COUNTRY HOSPITAL BOARD OF GOVERNORS.

A letter from the Superintendent of the Country Hospital was submitted to the Council meeting on May 5, notifying that Mr. Ellis Hayim is due to retire from the Board of Governors under the provisions of the Deed of Gift. It was noted that the appointment of his successor is in the hands of the Council and that Mr. Hayim is eligible for re-appointment.

RESOLVED that Mr. Hayim be appointed to serve on the Board of Governors for a further period of three years.

DEATH OF PRESIDENT OF FRENCH REPUBLIC.

The Council has addressed the following letter of condolence to the Consul-General for France:—

Shanghai, May 11, 1932.

SIR,—I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of May 10 informing me that a Requiem Mass will be celebrated on Thursday, May 12 at 9 a.m. in St. Joseph's Church in memory of the late M. Paul Doumer, President of the French Republic.

At the same time may I convey the Council's condolence with the French community in Shanghai at the tragic occurrence through which France has been deprived of her illustrious President.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
A. D. BELL,
Chairman.

J. MEYRIER, Esq.,
Consul General for France.

FILM CENSORSHIP.

Relative to the Commission of Enquiry into the question of film censorship, the Council on May 5 resolved (I) that the suggestion of the Joint Committee of Shanghai Women's Organizations, that Mrs. Lunkley be invited to serve on the Commission of Enquiry, be accepted, and (II) that the following terms of reference to the Commission as prepared by the Secretary be adopted.

"To enquire into and report on the principles by which the Council should be guided in the control of cinematograph films and of posters and advertisements in connection therewith exhibited in the International Settlement, and the best and most efficient method of censoring such exhibitions."

The Commission of Enquiry has now been constituted as follows:—Messrs. A. M. Cannan and P. C. Colman, and Mrs. R. E. Lunkley.

The first meeting of the Commission will be held at the Administration Building at 2.30 p.m. today.

H.I.J.M'S. BIRTHDAY CELEBRATIONS.

Troop Movements in Settlement.

At the Council meeting held on May 5, the Chairman of Council reported that immediately after he heard indirectly that a considerable movement of Japanese troops would take place within the Settlement in connection with the arrangements for the celebration of the birthday of the Japanese Emperor he consulted with the Consular authorities and called on the Japanese Consul-General for the purpose of submitting his representations that in order that no untoward incidents might occur this portion of the programme should be abandoned. The Japanese Consul-General courteously informed him that he feared it was too late to make any change in the arrangements already decided upon. The Chairman emphasized that the Council had not been notified of this proposed movement of troops and it was not until the afternoon before this was scheduled to take place that such official notice was received. Accordingly he forwarded a formal protest against troop movements on a major scale in times of such tension and without adequate notice being given to the Council.

Members were aware of the tragedy which occurred in Hongkew Park during these celebrations and he desired on behalf of the Council to renew to the Japanese members its expression of sympathy at the injuries sustained by the distinguished Japanese nationals on that occasion.

THE FEETHAM REPORT.
Issue in Abridged Form.

In a memorandum submitted to the Council meeting on May 5, the Secretary stated that Judge Feetham had suggested that in order to make his Report, or certain portions of it, more readily acceptable it should be republished in whole or in part, in book form, rearranged and possibly abridged or condensed. Before giving this proposal further consideration he desired to know whether the Council would permit him to re-issue the Report either in whole or in part in the form and in the manner which he suggested. Whilst he did not at present suggest that the Council should contribute to the cost of re-issue, if such a proposal were put forward by the Oxford University Press, he would let the Council know in case it might think it worth while to make such a contribution.

RESOLVED that if he so desires Judge Feetham be given permission to proceed with the re-issue of his report in the form proposed.

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION

A meeting of the Council was held on May 5. There were present:—Messrs. A. D. Bell (Chairman), H. E. Arnhold (Vice-Chairman), Capt. J. J. Bahnson, Messrs. B. D. F. Beith, K. Fukushima, S. L. Hsu, N. Leslie, O. S. Lieu, P. W. Massey, O. Okamoto, F. J. Raven, L. T. Yuan and Yu Ya-ching.

COMMITTEE MEETING.

A meeting of the Staff Committee was held on May 6. There were present:—Messrs. P. W. Massey, (Chairman), B. D. F. Beith, W. Gockson, O. S. Lieu, O. Okamoto and F. J. Raven.

SCHOOLS FOR CHINESE.

At a meeting of the Education Board held on April 27, it was recommended that upon the removal of the primary school from the premises No. 914 Avenue Road to the new primary school in Sinza Road, the secondary school for Chinese girls now accommodated in Medhurst Road be transferred to the former premises; and that subject, if necessary, to further consideration, the Medhurst Road premises be sub-let for the remainder of the Council's lease.

The Board's recommendation has since received the Council's approval.

TEACHING OF CHINESE IN PUBLIC SCHOOL FOR BOYS.

Enquiry to be Made.

Prior to giving detailed consideration to the recommendations contained in the report of the Director of Chinese Studies for remedying the existing system of teaching Chinese at the Public and Thomas Hanbury School for Boys, the Education Board at a meeting held on April 27 decided to refer this question to a Commission of Enquiry.

The Council has endorsed this proposal.

NEW POLICE STATION IN EASTERN DISTRICT.

Owing to the rapid development of the Eastern District, particularly beyond Wayside, it has for a long time been obvious that additional police stations were required. The Yangtszepoo Station, at the corner of Lay and Yangtszepoo roads, which was established in 1891, has had a very large district to control, being more than one and a half miles from its eastern limit. As it has become necessary to reduce this area, a new station has been built at the corner of Yulin and Wetmore roads, adjoining the Reserve Unit Depot, which latter was occupied in January 1929. There is also a further station being erected at the corner of Glen and Pingliang Roads, but this, having been started twelve months later than the Yulin Road Station, will not be completed before the end of this year. In the meantime the old Yangtszepoo Station will be relieved from all its present area up to the Yangtszepoo Creek, and until the opening of the new station at Glen and Pingliang roads will function as the station for the whole of the Settlement area east of that creek.

The station in Yulin Road, which will begin to function on May 15, has a reinforced concrete frame of four and five floors in height, and basement, with reinforced concrete floors, slabs and woodblock and patent flooring. The building is centrally heated, being fitted with an oil burning installation, and is provided with a modern sanitary system. The accommodation consists of the usual station offices, charge room and cells, with workshops, godown and garages on the ground floor. On the upper floors are three four-room flats and four three-room flats for European officers, 16 single rooms with mess rooms and recreation room. Sixteen three-room flats and three single rooms are provided for Japanese, while there are a dormitory, mess-rooms, etc., for 28 Sikhs and 78 Chinese. Quarters are provided for 36 servants, and there is garage accommodation for five cars.

The old Yangtszepoo Station, which is on the north side of the road, near the creek, is a two-storied building which amply met the needs of a rather sparsely populated district forty years ago. It will cease to function when the two new stations are completed.

BUS ROUTE EXTENSION.

The Municipal Council has approved a proposal by the China General Omnibus Co., Ltd., to extend Route No. 2, now operating between Hongkew Park and Avenue Edward VII and Szechuen Road corner, westward to St. George's. The extension will be along Avenue Edward VII, Avenue Foch and Avenue Haig.

The Omnibus Company states that a considerable number of inhabitants hitherto resident in the Northern District have settled on the south side of Avenue Foch and Avenue Edward VII, and at present there is no facility for them to reach the Northern District except by changing buses.

The extension of Route No. 2 will relieve overcrowding on Route No. 9, which also runs along Avenue Edward VII and Avenue Foch. The present timing on Route No. 2 will be maintained by the allocation to that route of double the number of buses now operating it.

NEW POLICE STATION—EASTERN DISTRICT.

NOTICE is hereby given that with a view to giving effect to an improved Police Service commensurate with the demands of the Eastern district of the Settlement, the Council has established at No. 707 Yulin Road, situate between Whashing and Chemulpo Roads, a new Police Station which will commence to function on May 15, 1932. (Telephone Nos. 15380 and 52250).

The area within which this Station will function comprises that portion of the present Wayside and Yangtszepoo Police Districts, bounded on the west by Dalny Road exclusive, from the boundary of the Settlement to the Whangpoo River; and on the east to Lay Road, inclusive, between the Whangpoo River and Ward Road, thence following the line of the Yangtszepoo Creek to the Settlement boundary.

For executive control, the District will be incorporated in Police Division "D."

Pending further developments in Police administrative adjustments in the Eastern District the new Station will be designated Yulin Road Police Station.

Headquarters of the Divisional Officer will remain for the present at Wayside Police Station. Telephone Nos. 50204 and 15380.

Residents living within the newly apportioned area are requested to communicate with the Police Station direct or the Divisional Officer on all matters requiring urgent Police attention.

CRIME SUPPRESSION FUND.

In consequence of the large increase in crime in 1927, and in appreciation of the work performed by the Municipal Police at that time, a number of Chinese gentlemen forwarded a letter of commendation to the Commissioner of Police and requested information of the best method of showing their appreciation of the services rendered.

Largely as a result of this letter together with recommendations made to the Council by the Director-General, Commissioner of Police and Treasurer and Controller, a fund was opened and then called the "Special Crime Suppression Fund." Correspondence on the subject was published in "Municipal Gazettes" dated December 9 and 16, 1927. Later comments and a list of subscriptions received was published in the "Gazette" of January 20 and February 24, 1928.

The following proclamation was issued by the Municipal Council on January 16, 1928:—

PROCLAMATION.

The Council is glad to announce for public information that a Special Crime Suppression Fund has been started at the suggestion of responsible Chinese ratepayers. This Fund is supported by voluntary subscriptions. A number of subscriptions have already been received and more would be welcomed from all classes of the community. Subscriptions may be sent or handed in person to Mr. J. C. Bosustow, Assistant Treasurer and Controller (Room 231, 2nd floor, Municipal Council Building) at any time during office hours and official receipts will be issued by the Treasurer and Controller's Department.

All subscribers, who so desire, will be given distinguishing numbers and public acknowledgment of their contributions will be made by the Council in the Chinese and foreign newspapers under these numbers instead of under their names. Thus, if they wish it, the anonymity of contributors will be strictly preserved. The actual uses to which the money so received will be devoted will include the engagement of special agents, rewards to persons for useful information received, rewards to policemen for good work done, extra comforts to men engaged on specially arduous work in connection with the crime situation, and extra gratuities to men injured and to the families of men killed in the course of their duty.

By order,
S. M. EDWARDS,
Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, January 16, 1928.

In March 1928 three Chinese gentlemen were nominated and requested to accept office as a committee to govern the Fund, and having finally agreed the Committee was formed and has functioned ever since. No reward has been issued or money paid out from the Fund without their approval. The Committee have held 16 meetings during the past four years and have disbursed funds to the amount of $30,490.00. In addition the Committee have made suggestions for crime suppression and investigation and have assisted the Police in many ways.

In November 1928 owing to Police suggestions, but largely due to the efforts of the Committee in obtaining funds to commence, a Prisoners' Aid Society was formed and is now functioning under the supervision of the Salvation Army. In May 1929 the Committee proposed a scheme to combat armed robbery and kidnapping by the use of motor cycles and increased personnel, but on account of excessive cost this was not proceeded with. Later another suggestion was made and, after consultation with the Commissioner of Police, this was finally put to the Council and approved. The following correspondence passed on this subject. The scheme was finally put into force in November 1931.

SIR,—I am requested by the members of the Crime Suppression Fund Committee to address the Council upon a matter affecting as much the welfare of the Community as the prosperity of the International Settlement.

During recent years the crimes of armed robbery and armed kidnapping have been very prevalent and though the reorganization of the Police Force, with which Major Gerrard is so closely identified, has of late exercised a fairly effective check upon such crimes in the Settlement, nevertheless the members of this Committee are of the opinion that the most up-to-date methods in certain foreign countries in the suppression of crimes should with due promptitude and assiduity be adopted by the Council. They wish me to make it clear that in submitting to the consideration of the Council such a proposal, they regard the Police Force and the Criminal Investigation Department as having been and still being very efficiently organized and administered, but what is to be emphasized is that the Police Force is too poorly equipped to be able efficaciously to cope with the highly mobile character of such criminals as kidnappers and armed robbers.

The members of this Committee feel that the Community of the Settlement should at all times be enabled to have a sense of security of life and property and that, unless such a sense of security is maintained amongst the Community, it will be of no use to take any step or even to discuss any other subject calculated to promote the interests of this important Port.

It occurs to the members of this Committee that it would be of great advantage to the preventive part of the Police Force if the Council provided a sufficient number of motor-cars, each to be equipped with wireless receiving sets, which can then be used in communication with the telephone posts, the system of which appears to have been approved by the Council. This Committee also considers that a section of the Police Force properly equipped should be detailed exclusively for search and examination of motor vehicles and that this section of Police Officers should be a permanent one and of sufficient strength to carry out the work effectively and continuously. The provision recently authorized by the Council of four additional motor cycles is far from adequate and the members of this Committee desire me to impress upon the Council the necessity of furnishing to the Police Force a large number of motor-cars fitted with wireless apparatus.

The members of this Committee fully recognize that the traffic posts are well filled and Police beats also well covered, but what is most urgently needed are efficient appliances without which the Police can hardly be expected to carry out, even with fair success, the preventive part of their duty. This equipment may be expensive but the members of this Committee feel that the effective protection of life and property in the Settlement should be set above all other considerations.

The members of this Committee would also like to suggest that public garages, chauffeurs, hotels, lodging houses and other public places should be subject to an intensive supervision, and suggest that a special committee be formed to consider this matter and other subjects allied thereto and to formulate a scheme or schemes whereby such a proposed supervision may be effectively exercised.

In conclusion I am desired by the members of this Committee to add that this letter is written in a spirit of co-operation with the Municipal Police and in response to many representations made to them by numerous responsible members of the Community, and to express their hope, therefore, that the Council will give this letter its most serious consideration.

I am, Sir,
Yours faithfully,
R. C. AIERS,
Hon. Secretary,
Crime Suppression Fund Committee.

The Secretary,
Municipal Council.

February 4, 1931.

SIR,—I am directed to acknowledge the receipt on December 30, 1930, of your undated letter, communicating certain suggestions made by the members of the Crime Suppression Fund Committee bearing upon the problem of more effective Police protection against the crimes of armed robbery and armed kidnapping.

In expressing the Council's appreciation of the public spirit evinced by the members of the Crime Suppression Fund Committee in submitting these valued suggestions I am directed to send you, herewith enclosed, for the information of the Committee, copy of the "Municipal Gazette" of January 30, 1931, and to invite your attention to p. 34 thereof, whereon you will find set forth a statement of the measures which have been devised by the Council for ensuring that increased public protection of which your Committee is so solicitous.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. M. McKEE,
Deputy Secretary.

R. C. AIERS, Esq.,
Crime Suppression Fund Committee.

The Municipal Gazette, Friday, January 30, 1931.

Anti-Kidnapping Measures.

"A comprehensive scheme for more effective police protection against armed kidnapping in the Settlement has been submitted to the Council by the Commissioner of Police and, having received approval, will be put into operation as soon as possible.

"Summarized, the proposals of the Commissioner of Police embrace the introduction of a street telephone system, wireless communication between headquarters and police patrol vans, acquisition of additional patrol vans and motor-cycle combinations, the institution of special plain clothes parties, and the possible provision of accommodation for a detachment of the Reserve Unit in the Western District.

"The initial cost of adoption of the police proposals is approximately Tls. 118,000 and the recurring annual charge Tls. 56,000.

"The street Telephone system has been under consideration for some time and the Shanghai Telephone Company has now submitted a scheme which meets with the approval of the Police Department. This system can be placed into operation nine months after the order is placed with the Telephone Company. It will enable officers in charge of Police Stations to keep in touch with patrolmen and with their stations when they themselves are out on patrol. It will ensure the immediate transmission of important information to Police Stations and Police Headquarters and also enable Police Stations to convey important information to patrolmen to place members of the public in immediate touch with Police Stations.

"Wireless communication between Police Headquarters and patrol vans will be effected by means of a Radio Telephony system. Receivers will be installed in district patrol vans which can thus be directed immediately from Headquarters. The introduction of this system will enable all or any number of cars to be rushed to the scene of armed crimes and will prove an invaluable aid to police work.

"The patrol vans, fitted with wireless receivers will normally cruise in the district areas and their crews will carry out searches and check motor-cars. Motor-cycle patrols will be used on narrow streets and in alleyways while vans and cycles will be used by permanent search parties holding strategic points on the roads leading out of the Western district where the greater number of armed crimes occur. The minimum amount of transport required under the scheme of the Commissioner of Police is twelve raiding vans and sixteen motor-cycle combinations.

"If suitable accommodation can be found, it is proposed to maintain an additional Reserve Unit in the Western District to supply the permanent search parties at strategic points on the roads leading out of the Settlement. In this connection, it may be necessary to proceed with the enlistment of part of the strength of the Armed Reserve, the formation of which has already been approved in principle by the Council.

"It is considered that the scheme, when put into effect, will go a long way towards enabling the police to master the armed crime situation.

"It is also hoped that it will give the Chinese public a greater sense of security and more confidence in the ability of the Police to answer promptly and effectively calls for assistance and that there will be consequently a more ready response to the appeals of the Police for assistance and co-operation."

Since its inception the Fund has distributed rewards ranging from a few dollars to hundreds of dollars, for information in connection with serious crimes and has paid out gratuities to many persons who have been injured or lost their lives either in assisting the Police or arresting criminals. It has also assisted, by grants of money to a maximum (in each case) of $500.00, the families of Police officers killed in the execution of their duty.

A total of 547 rewards in connection with 268 cases has been paid out since the fund started, as shown in the accompanying tables.

Tens of thousands of circulars have been issued to the public and attempts have been made to educate them to the necessity of reporting to the Police and to the use of care and intelligence in counteracting the methods of criminals, by lectures in teashops, radio broadcasting, cinema films, etc., etc.

The following financial statement shows that since August 21, 1928, only one big subscription has been received, and it is felt that much more money would be subscribed by interested persons if they realized that armed robbery and kidnapping are a very lucrative business operated by criminal gangs who are well supplied with money and are in many cases in a position to pay out larger sums of money for secrecy than the Police alone can pay for rewards.

The following selected cases have been the subject of consideration from time to time and give an idea of the rewards paid out and the nature of the services rendered by the persons rewarded:—

In one case $40 were given as reward to a boy of 12 years old, son of the owner of a shop robbed, who was responsible for the capture of a robber.

In another case a chauffeur was awarded $100. Whilst driving his van on the road, the chauffeur saw a crowd of Chinese one of whom fired a shot. He jumped from his van and rescued a Chinese who was wounded from the hands of armed kidnappers.

A Chinese received $100 for pluckily tackling an armed robber and holding him until the Police arrived.

A ragpicker was awarded $20 for handing to the Police two pistols and ammunition found in a garbage box in an alleyway off Yunnan Road on 14-10-29.

$75 were given a Chinese who intercepted and grappled with a robber who was firing shots on Nanking Road, the robber being finally shot and killed by the Police.

$75 were given to a ricsha coolie for courageously defending his master from armed robbers and causing the arrest of one of the robbers by the Police.

$200 were given as gratuity to the widow of a man who was shot and killed by armed robbers as revenge for giving information to Police re Armed Robbery.

$50 each were awarded to one bodyguard and one watchman for the arrest of an armed man who was escaping from the scene of an armed robbery.

$40 were awarded to a shop assistant who tackled an armed robber and $20 to a coolie who assisted the shop assistant in arresting the man.

$20 and $50 were given as reward to two Chinese who gave chase to one armed robber and subsequently arrested him.

$50 were awarded a Chinese Police Watchman for effecting the arrest of a man who called at the home of a victim of an armed kidnapping, which arrest led to the rescue of the victim and the arrest of 16 others.

A Chinese was given $100 for displaying pluck and public spirit in actually catching and holding one of the robbers escaping from the scene of a robbery.

$50 were awarded a chauffeur instrumental in recognizing and following a robber to the French Concession where the robber was arrested, which entailed 12 further arrests and the recovery of a portion of the stolen property.

A silver shield was presented to a Chinese gentleman who chased a snatcher into an alleyway and succeeded in arresting him.

$20 were awarded a Russian shop assistant who gave chase to a snatcher and arrested him.

A Chinese chauffeur was given $20 for being instrumental in effecting the arrest of a snatcher and recovery of the stolen property.

Three scrolls were given to three Chinese gentlemen for chasing and effecting the arrest of snatchers.

Two silver cigarette cases were presented to a foreign soldier and a foreign gentleman for similar cases.

One silver cigarette case was presented to one Chinese gentleman who, whilst an occupant of a house in which a robbery was being committed, succeeded in eluding the robbers by climbing out of the window, lowering himself down into the alleyway by the drain pipe and running to and informing a Police Constable on duty. As a result one robber was shot dead and three others wounded.

$30 was paid to an informer who gave information resulting in the arrest of eight persons and the seizure of two pistols and 200 rounds of ammunition.

$150 were awarded an informer who supplied information which led to the arrest of a gang of 12 persons, five of whom were subsequently convicted of participation in armed highway robbery, armed kidnapping and murder.

$250 were given to an informer who gave information resulting in the arrest of four kidnappers and the rescue of a young Chinese.

$100 were paid to an informer for giving information leading to the arrest of eight armed robbers and seizure of arms and ammunition.

$100 were awarded a female informer who imparted information which led to the arrest of a gang of armed robbers and armed kidnappers, the seizure of firearms and the release of a kidnapped child.

$100 were awarded a man for giving information leading to the arrest of a murderer.

$25 were awarded an informer who supplied information leading to the arrest of three men charged with sending threatening letters.

$200 were given to an informer who supplied information resulting in the arrest of a gang of 11 persons, six of whom were subsequently convicted and sentenced to long terms of imprisonment re Armed Highway Robbery on North Honan Road of $100,000.00.

$150 were awarded an informer for giving information leading to the arrest of 11 members of an armed kidnapping gang, who were responsible for one case of attempted armed kidnapping, one case of armed highway robbery, three cases of armed kidnapping and two cases of conspiring to kidnap and the seizure of three pistols, one bicycle and a sum of $19,300.00.

$100 each were awarded to two informers who supplied information resulting in the arrest of a member of a gang of armed kidnappers, which arrest eventually brought about the apprehension of the rest of the gang and the rescue of the victim.

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, MAY 20, 1932. No. 1367

TRIBUTE TO VOLUNTEER CORPS.

The appended letter of thanks from the Directorate General of Posts of the Chinese Government for the work done by the Volunteer Corps at the local Head Post Office during the recent trouble is published for general information, together with the Council's acknowledgment:—

Shanghai, May 10, 1932.

SIR,—I have the honour to convey to you and to place on official record the deep appreciation and sincere thanks of this Administration for the splendid support and protection afforded by the Volunteer Corps to the Shanghai District Head Post Office during the recent anxious period of strife and unrest.

The conduct and general efficiency of the units who were detailed to guard this building cannot be too highly praised and I would esteem it a favour if you would convey the sense of these remarks to Colonel N.W.B.B. Thoms, D.S.O., M.C., Commandant, and through him to the members of the Corps generally.

I beg further to inform you that I am apprising the Minister of Communications of the courtesy and co-operation extended by your Council.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
TSIEN TSUN-CHI,
Director General of Posts.

S. FESSENDEN, Esq.,
Secretary General,

ISOLATION HOSPITAL PATIENTS.

Charges for Medical Attendance.

The Council recently approved a recommendation submitted by the Commissioner of Public Health that a charge be made for medical attendance in respect of first and second class (non-indigent) patients admitted to the Municipal Isolation Hospital who are not attended by their regular medical practitioner and who consequently have to obtain medical attendance from the Superintendent of the Hospital. Upon the Council approving the recommendation in principle, the question of the amounts to be charged was the subject of consideration by the Shanghai Foreign Medical Practitioners Association and the recommendation made by that Association to the Public Health Department, which has also been approved, is as follows:—

	Per Visit.
	Residents.	Non-Residents.
	Tls.	Tls.
First-Class Patients	7.50	7.50
Second-Class Patients	2.00	3.00
Third-Class (Free Wards)	—	2.00

The above charges will take effect from June 1, 1932.

PRIVATE RICSHA LICENCES.

The police have been authorized, in addition to arresting and charging ricsha pullers for using private ricshas for hire, or touting for hire, to suspend the licences until they are claimed by the bona fide licensees, with the object of eliminating ricshas which are operated in contravention of the licence conditions.

PUBLIC HEALTH REPORT FOR APRIL.

The Commissioner of Public Health, in his April report, states:—

Vital Statistics.—The foreign death rate was 12.33 as compared with 15.13 last month, and the Chinese death rate 20.37 as against 35.92. These figures, however, are not comparable with previous years owing to the fact that the population figures are unreliable.

Of the 1,737 Chinese deaths reported, 923 or roughly 53 per cent were exposed corpses found dumped within Settlement limits.

Communicable Diseases. — A further decline was noted in regard to Smallpox among the foreign community, seven cases being notified, with one death, which occurred in an unvaccinated person. Among the Chinese there were 25 deaths against 46 last month.

The incidence of Measles increased slightly, but on the whole the disease was not so severe.

Cerebrospinal Fever was reported as being epidemic in Chekiang and elsewhere. 12 Chinese deaths were notified among residents, and there were also two foreign cases in the Settlement.

As regards Relapsing Fever, of 46 cases notified 27 were non-resident, mainly refugees. This disease, however, is also on the decline.

Scarlet Fever appears to be on the increase among the Chinese; there were 44 cases with 15 deaths, compared with 28 cases and five deaths during March.

Diphtheria declined to a marked degree among the foreign community, but increased among the Chinese residents who accounted for 44 cases with nine deaths.

Vaccination.—The special squads ceased work on April 8, but the campaign was continued by the Mobile units and at the Branch Health Offices. The number of vaccinations performed was 58,037 of which 40,193 were done by the special squads and Mobile units.

Routine work ceased on April 30. Since January 1, 204,433 persons have been vaccinated by the Staff. Taking into account the free issues of vaccine made to various charitable and other Public welfare organizations in the Settlement, the total number of persons vaccinated must be in the neighbourhood of a quarter of a million.

General Notes.—In view of the approaching summer, it is perhaps desirable to draw attention to the care needed in the preparation of certain foodstuffs.

The various precautions in regard to raw vegetables have been so frequently emphasized that it is considered that most people are fully acquainted with them.

In regard to Ice Cream and cold drinks, the improved purity of ice and milk in the Town probably has resulted in a certain feeling of perhaps false security. It is pointed out that Ice, though pure on leaving the factory, may readily be contaminated by clumsy methods of manipulation either in the Home or en route to the consumer, and that the same statement applies to Ice cream even when home made.

In addition it may be of interest to draw attention to the fact that certain precautions are necessary in the preparation of home made lemonade, and similar drinks, which are usually made either from fresh lemons or from certain crystals sold for the purpose. Whichever of the above is used the drink contains vegetable acids or acid salts which have a definite solvent action on certain metals. This is a little known fact and hence it is necessary to advise that earthenware, or glass vessels, of a type suitable for exposure to heat, should invariably be used in the preparation of such drinks. A number of instances are recorded where the use of metal or enamelled metalled vessels has produced symptoms of metallic poisoning. Zinc and galvanized cooking vessels are undesirable in themselves, and in regard to enamelled vessels, though some are suitable, certain of the cheaper glazes contain antimony, and hence should not be used.

Attention is also drawn to cases of Schistosomiasis which occurred last year. It is emphasised that though Henli was implicated then, there is no evidence that other areas, surrounded by rice fields are any less dangerous than Henli, more particularly in view of the fact that Henli Creek was comparatively unpolluted. Precautions detailed last year should therefore be adhered to in other areas, particularly those in the close proximity to an industrial town such as Shanghai.

To summarize these precautions one may say that bathing and wading in infected water are the readiest methods of catching the disease and that extra supervision should be exercised over the water supply in house—boats. It is clear that when house-boats are permanently stationed in a creek the creek water will be used for washing purposes.

The process of cooking will almost certainly kill the larvae, but the addition of one gram or 16 grains of Bi-sulphate of Soda per quart of drinking water will eliminate all danger.

The addition of a high dilution of Cresol (one in 10,000) to the water used for ablution purposes is a sound precaution.

Pathological Laboratory. — The demand on stocks of Smallpox vaccine is still fairly heavy and 101,000 units were issued, of which 2,040 were to various charitable institutions outside the Settlement.

133½ litres of Cholera vaccine were prepared which is the largest quantity ever prepared in the Laboratory.

There was a marked increase in the volume of routine diagnostic work. 541 specimens were examined from Diphtheria and Dysenteric cases alone.

A case of Cholera was confirmed towards the end of the month.

One sample of raw milk was found on animal tests to be infected with tuberculosis.

Pasteur Treatment.—63 persons attended, including two from outports. Two cases, both of which had severe bites on the face and head died, but since death occurred a few days following completion of the treatment, they are not classed as "failures."

Hospitals Division.—All hospitals with the exception of the Tuberculosis Sanatorium, are now working under practically normal conditions.

Pending the opening of the new Police and Gaol Hospital, both Indian and Chinese police patients are being treated in the old Victoria Nursing Home.

The few cases of Cerebrospinal Fever admitted have been of an exceptionally severe type. There were 16 deaths.

There were three fatal cases of Rabies.

In the Mental Hospital the acute congestion remains unrelieved and there is little prospect of any improvement in this direction.

Under present conditions the hospitalisation of Mental patients presents an acute problem. Instances occur where acute cases have definitely to be refused owing to lack of accommodation. In other instances, less acute cases have to be placed in the same room as other patients, which is neither suitable for treatment or for administration in general.

The Municipal Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Hungjao has not yet fully returned to normal working conditions; it is hoped that all the accommodation will again be in use early next month.

Dairies and Milk Supply.—117 samples of milk and cream were taken for analysis, of which 25 were found to be of poor quality, whilst three were actually adulterated with water.

In continuation of the work of checking the bacteriological purity of milk, 23 samples from Grade "A" Dairies were tested and all, except one, found within the prescribed standard. Of the nine samples from Grade "B" and unlicensed Dairies, only two were within the standard.

A milk delivery coolie was caught in the act of adulterating milk and he, together with an accomplice, was prosecuted at the District Court, where exemplary fines were inflicted.

The five Dairies on the Northern outskirts are still empty.

Municipal Slaughterhouse and Meat Supply.—With the exception of Oxen, the number of animals slaughtered was practically normal and the quality of beef has improved considerably.

About seven tons of condemned carcases and parts passed through the Disposal Plant.

The volume of work at the various Pig Slaughterhouses is rapidly increasing, whilst in the case of the Municipal Pig Slaughterhouse more than 1,000 animals were dealt with above March figure.

Licensing. — The number of applications received in respect of new premises showed a considerable increase.

Markets and Bakeries.—Although all the Eastern Markets have some vacant spaces, still there are signs of a gradual return to normal conditions, and the situation in general is best illustrated by the fact that the total market receipts showed an increase of $8,390 over March.

As to Bakeries, considerable time and effort was expended in the supervision of the smaller Chinese establishments.

Hawkers continue to be very active and a serious effort is being made in co-operation with the Police to control them.

Veterinary Surgeon's Report.—In all 266 animals from eight Grade "B" Dairies were subjected to Veterinary examination and of these 39 were certified as suffering from various pathological conditions. Three were found to react to the Tuberculin test and samples of milk from these animals were sent up for laboratory tests, which are now in progress.

It has to be recorded, with regret, that Pleuro—pneumonia again broke out with the loss of three animals. Prompt measures and inoculations were put in hand.

Rinderpest was also reported in four dairies with the loss of four animals.

Sanitation.—As a result of recent events a considerable amount of extra work has still to be done. In the Refugee Camps though the total number has decreased by one-third, there are still over 12,000 refugees, maintained in 32 Camps in the Western district alone. About 16,000 refugees were repatriated by the various charitable organizations concerned.

Measles was prevalent throughout and accompanied unfortunately by a fairly heavy mortality. All camps were visited daily.

As regards the Emergency Hospitals for wounded, there are still 13 under sanitary supervision, and daily visits are made by Cleansing Gangs.

Sanitation of Chapei.—This has already been the subject of full reports and it is sufficient to state that observation is being kept on this area, though active work therein was discontinued earlier in the month, since for the time being conditions in the area were no longer a menace to the Settlement, though certain areas were no doubt unhealthy from the standpoint of residents.

Summarizing, it may be stated that work concentrated on the removal of accumulations of refuse and ordure, and removal and burial of exposed corpses. On completion, work ceased pending development as to the future administration of the areas.

Mosquito Reduction.—This work was put in hand with particular attention to creeks and ditches. A considerable number of larvae was discovered and the comparatively mild weather caused the appearance of mosquitoes in certain areas.

Fly Reduction Work.—Various factors, including climatic conditions, favoured the development of flies, with the result that anti-fly work had to be undertaken earlier than usual.

Here follow Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases, and of the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics, Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

PROGRESS OF PUBLIC WORKS.

Reporting upon public works performed during April, the Commissioner of Public Works states that the erection of mechanical details at Penang Road Incinerator has proceeded, the two cranes being now nearly completed. Other details, with the exception of power wiring and pipework, are completed. The paving of the yard is in progress. The dust separator and the boundary wall have been completed. A contract for the construction of boundary retaining walls, offices and brick and tin hoppers was started at the Muirhead Road Incinerator on April 13. Excavation has been completed and coarse concrete laid in footings.

Liaoyang Market has been completed and handed over to the Health Department. At Sinza Market, the two new staircases have been completed, parapet walls poured, granolithic paving laid on the second floor, and sewers completed on the ground floor. The boundary wall on the east side of the site has been completed.

The erection of lifts is in progress at the Police Hospital. Fixed furniture is now being prepared for all floors. The priming coat to walls has been applied to all rooms, and the precast terrazzo and Caenstone dadoes are being fixed in position. The electric lighting installation has been completed. The drainage and sewerage works are well advanced.

At the Gaol Hospital the terrazzo and tiles are being fixed on all floors. The painting of the steel casements is in hand. The sanitary fittings are being installed and work on the electrical installation is in progress.

Work is also progressing on the Administration Block, Gaol Extension, on the Juvenile Cell Block, etc.

The new Police Station in the Eastern District, at the corner of Yulin and Wetmore roads, is now ready for occupation.

The S.V.C. Magazine near the new Point Police Station is 90 per cent completed. Work on the station and barracks is advancing. The fourth floor slab and fourth floor column in the station have been poured. The artificial stone to road elevations is being fixed, and the compound and internal brick walls are in course of erection. The whole of the steel for the roof of the barracks has been prepared.

At Wayside Police Barracks the erection of the parapet wall has been completed. The facing tiling is in hand and the construction of the internal partitions and built-in fittings is proceeding. The delivery of doors has commenced and sufficient for two floors are now on the site.

Abattoir—Sawgin Road. — The second floor of the cooling block has been poured, and the shuttering erected for the third floor. The columns have been poured up to the third floor level. The second floor of the Slaughter and Core Blocks has been poured, and columns poured up to the roof level.

The interior elevation walls are 60 per cent complete. Generally throughout all blocks the ceiling plastering has been in progress and approximately 40 per cent has been completed. The fixing of machinery and fittings is in hand throughout all blocks. The drainage and sewer lines below ground have been laid up to approximately 80 per cent. The contract for electric power and lighting installations has been let. The upper floor drainage and sanitary installation is progressing.

Victoria Nurses' Home. — The concrete to third floor beams and fourth floor slab has been poured. Steel has been laid to the fourth floor columns, liftshafts, and walls surrounding the staircases.

Eastern District Primary School for Chinese.—The first floor slabs above latrines and the concrete beams and staircases have been concreted. All door and window frames have been fixed. The brickwork has been laid up to the second floor level, and the second floor wooden floor joists have been laid. The shuttering to the second floor beams and slabs is in position.

Western District Primary School for Chinese.—All floors have been laid, wooden windows fixed, and interior fittings are being fixed. The exterior wall finishing has been completed. All water heating and waste installations have been completed and tested. All drainage and sewerage have been completed.

Cleansing and Watering:—

Road sweepings collected	2,990 tons
Gully deposit removed	1,747 „
Water used for street watering by mechanical water wagons	667,200 gallons
Water used for washing roads	2,277,600 „

House Refuse.—1,322 tons of house refuse were removed by motor trucks to Western District for raising land; 13,474 tons taken away by contractor's boats; and 6,370 tons were removed by barrows, etc., to Western, Northern and Eastern Districts for raising land, making a total of 21,166 tons.

Labour.—The average number of labourers employed by Highways, Sewerage and Parks was as follows:—Coolies, 6,549; artisans, 541; foremen, 368; mafoos, 2.

Concreteware. — The following have been produced during the month.—Hand made 16,335 pieces; machine made 5,326 pieces; Total 21,661.

Work Shelters.—There were 679 admissions during the month and 600 cubic feet of stone broken.

Time occupied at fires	120.33	17.04	54.16	191.53

Duty at places of amusement amounted to 7,481 hours.

On the night of March 2, when the withdrawal of the opposing factions in the local political crisis from Kiangwan, Paoshan and Chapei took place, no less than 41 separate and distinct fires were reported to be burning simultaneously in these areas by the Brigade Watchtowers; however, this removal from the immediate environs of Shanghai of the actual scene of hostilities considerably reduced the grave danger from fire to which the Settlement had been continuously exposed and consequently relieved the Department from the strain under which it had been working since the State of Emergency was proclaimed in January.

This period had been a very trying and exacting one for the personnel of the Department for, in addition to the apprehension caused through the Settlement being continuously threatened by the enormous fires raging in the territory adjoining it, there was the constant possibility of outbreaks of fire in the Settlement as a result of stray shells, and it is particularly gratifying to be able to report that it was possible to maintain Hongkew Fire Station throughout the entire period, in spite of the fact that it was next door to the District Headquarters of one of the belligerents and situated, during most of the period only 800 yards and, at one time, only 400 yards, from the front lines of the opposing forces, and in this connection it will be of interest to note that more than 100 shells of various calibres fell in the neighbourhood of this Station, one even striking the building and considerably damaging the Workshops section whilst 14 windows therein were smashed by stray bullets. One small shell also struck Jessfield Sub-Fire Station and damaged the roof.

The Brigade attended numerous fires in the affected areas and, in view of the fact that many of these were within a very short distance of the actual scene of hostilities and in districts which were almost continuously under shell fire, it is pleasing to report that the only casualties were those at the fire in Magnolia Terrace on February 21, when two Foreign Officers, three Chinese Firemen and a Foreign Member of the Volunteer Reserve were injured by shell fragments.

I wish to place on record my appreciation of the loyalty of the entire staff of the Department—Foreign and Chinese—throughout this period, and would make special mention of the very valuable assistance rendered by the Members of the Volunteer Reserve, whose loyalty and untiring efforts were of such vital service to the community. In addition to their actual work at Fires, their assistance was especially valuable in connection with the Emergency and Hospital Ambulance Services, in view of the increased number of calls received as a result of casualties from shell fire and other causes directly resulting from the political disturbances, necessitating, in the majority of cases, the despatch of Ambulances to the danger zones. I would also mention that eleven Members of Third Division of the Chapei Fire Brigade offered their services to the Brigade when they were forced to evacuate their own Station, and they are rendering praiseworthy assistance, more particularly in connection with fires in Chapei.

On the morning of March 4, the Watchtowers reported a fire of considerable magnitude in Chapei directly north of North Honan Road and that afternoon a representative of Messrs. Ilbert & Co. obtained a permit for this Department to protect their property in the area threatened by the rapid spread of the fire. As a result, the Brigade turned out and, after several hours' strenuous work, succeeded in checking the outbreak and saving considerable property, including Messrs. Ilbert & Co's premises and sections of the Commercial Press site.

On March 9, the Authorities in charge officially accepted the offer of this Department to provide a skeleton service for the Fire Protection of Chapei, Paoshan and Kiangwan until the native Fire Brigades and Waterworks are again functioning in those areas. There was no water in the waterworks mains in the greater portion of these Districts and, even in the remainder, the supply was too meagre to be of any service for fire-fighting, with the result that a Fire Float was stationed on Soochow Creek near Tatung Road in order to pump water from the creek to the western section of Chapei (where motor pumps would be used for relaying the water in the case of exceptionally long distances), whilst the more easterly sections would be covered principally by pumps working from hydrants in the Settlement or on extra-Settlement roads. This service has proved entirely satisfactory up to the present and during the month 25 fires (involving approximately 1,500 to 1,700 premises, excluding a very large number of huts) were attended and extinguished, either wholly or partially, by the Brigade.

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, MAY 27, 1932. No. 1368

ROYAL ASIATIC SOCIETY.

Council's Nominee.

The Secretary of Council reported to the meeting on May 18 that the Hon. Secretary of the Royal Asiatic Society had requested that he be informed of the name of the Council's nominee to the Governing Body of the Society for 1932-33. Mr. A. J. Hughes was elected as the Council's representative for the preceding year.

Resolved that Mr. A. J. Hughes be requested to continue to represent the Council on the Governing Body of the Royal Asiatic Society for the year 1932-33.

HOSPITAL COMMISSION.

Report Received by Council.

The report of this Commission was formally received by the Council on May 18, when it was resolved that this report be submitted to the Health Committee for its consideration and recommendation as to its adoption, in toto, or otherwise.

Mr. J. R. Jones, Secretary to the Shanghai Municipal Council, on May 14 wrote to Dr. E. Birt, Chairman of the Hospital and Nursing Services Commission:—

"I am directed to acknowledge receipt of your letter of May 13, transmitting for the Council's consideration the report of the Hospital and Nursing Services Commission.

In thanking you for this report, I am directed to convey to the members of the Commission the Council's appreciation of their public spirited action in giving the Council and Community the benefit of their experience on the important questions which came under review. The comprehensive nature of this report attests to the painstaking research and ability which has been brought to bear on the problems with which the Commission was called upon to deal, and the time which its members unstintingly gave in the public interest places the Council and the Ratepayers under a very heavy obligation.

Accordingly, the Council takes pleasure in extending to the members of the Commission its very grateful thanks for the services they have rendered on behalf of the Community.

COUNTRY HOSPITAL.

Mr. E. S. Cunningham, American Consul-General and Senior Consul, has notified the Council that the Consular Body has appointed Major Arthur Bassett to fill the vacancy on the Board of Governors of the Country Hospital caused by the death of the late M. du pac de Marsoulies and has also reappointed Mr. G. A. Wuilleumier to the Board, his previous term of office having expired.

SANITATION MEASURES IN CHAPEI.

It was reported to the Council meeting on May 18 that since the last meeting a further report on sanitation measures in Chapei had been furnished by the Commissioner of Public Health. The Chairman stated that Dr. Jordan had also informed him verbally that he considered it essential, in the interests of the health of the Settlement, that cleansing operations should be resumed by the Council in Areas Nos. I and 2. There appeared to be no immediate prospect of the Chinese Authorities commencing to function in these areas and their opposition to the resumption by the Council of cleansing measures was not anticipated. The Chinese Authorities had been tentatively notified that the Council proposed to proceed with such measures.

The Council resolved that the Commissioners of Public Health and Public Works be authorized to resume the necessary cleansing measures in Areas Nos 1 and 2.

Dr. Jordan, in his report dated May 6, stated:—

"It is now almost a fortnight since the Public Works Department ceased functioning in the three districts mentioned in previous reports.

"During this period a close watch has been kept over the whole area and some rather disquieting reports have been received, while complaints have been registered at various Branch Health Offices. In addition, Police reports on this subject have been received. As a result, in company with the Commissioner of Public Works, I made a short survey of the areas.

"In order to explain the Health Department's position, I have to state that when observing the sanitation of Chapei, I do not feel that a similar attitude should be taken to that taken when observing the sanitation of areas within the Settlement. It would seem to be undesirable to undertake work in areas where political and financial factors are at stake, unless it was patent that such work was essential (unless requested to do so). Hence areas which were perhaps decidedly dirty, but which I was unable to state conscientiously would have a direct adverse effect on the health of the Settlement, have been regarded, not with indifference, but as not being a matter which came directly within the purview of this department.

"This explanation appears necessary in order to show why accumulation of refuse has not been regarded necessarily as dangerous. However, in certain areas the situation is getting definitely worse. This is partly due to the fact that these areas are not sufficiently organized to remain without maintenance for a definite period. That is, the drainage is defective, the houses and streets are of a poor type, and numerous creeks require attention. Hence the areas tend to be insanitary even when cleansing operations have been undertaken. Inhabitants are returning to almost all districts surveyed, with the result that accumulations are becoming quite large, but the really dangerous feature—that of mingling of ordure with the refuse—no longer exists to any great extent.

"To summarize the result of our joint inspection, and from departmental reports received, I would report as follows:—Area No. 1: that is the area which may roughly be described as surrounding Medhurst College, North of Yochow Road, but including the area to the west of the Sawgin Creek—between the creek and Dixwell Road,—is now again in urgent need of cleansing. It should be pointed out, however, that some organization, either an arrangement between the inhabitants themselves, or possibly some controlling authority (though I am unable to ascertain which authority), is improving the matter to a certain extent by having the refuse removed from the alleyways and piled in the streets. This, whilst giving a worse impression to the casual observer, will render cleansing easier and, in addition, since the heaps are under the observation of the public, prevents some of the worst forms of fouling.

"The part of this area to the east of the Sawgin Creek is the worst, but that to the west is also not in a satisfactory condition....

"The Area No. 2 is in my opinion decidedly better since it is less inhabited, but it has the same disadvantages, viz., narrow streets, etc., of Area No. 1, and accumulations of refuse are occurring.

"This is particularly noticeable in the area between Dixwell and North Szechuen Roads concerning which a number of complaints have been made by the Police. I am informed that the Fushan Road district shows a fair amount of accumulation and that fly breeding has been observed.

"In regard to Area No. 3, which might be described as West Chapei, or Chapei proper, a different state of affairs is noticeable. It is quite evident that a considerable amount of work has been performed, presumably owing to the arrangements of the Japanese occupying the area. Nevertheless in certain areas refuse is accumulating.

"In conclusion, one may say that it would seem that some further action is desirable.

"It might be possible to remove the worst accumulations in Areas Nos. 1 and 2, quite easily with the assistance of the P.W.D., and possibly at a less cost than previously owing to the circumstances detailed above. Since, however, in continued maintenance, financial and political factors are involved, it would seem that this action would be merely a temporary expedient. I would recommend that, quite apart from the question of action by the Council's departments, some representation be made to such authorities as are considered desirable, with a view to some form of organized maintenance, particularly for Areas Nos. 1 and 2, and to some extent in regard to Area No. 3, though as regards this area I am of opinion that it would be a comparatively easy matter to arrange, providing one was authorized to approach the local gendarmerie.

"As summer is approaching, these areas will produce an exceptional fly nuisance. The area between Dixwell Road, near North Szechuen Road, has, in my opinion, always been the reason why the Northern district was unduly fly infested but I consider that its present condition will result in an aggravation of the fly menace, though this danger is not yet acute and can easily be avoided at the present time. Delay, however, is inadvisable.

"It is noted that already cholera has appeared in the town."

COUNCIL MEMBERSHIP.

Resignation of Mr. K. Fukushima.

The Chairman of Council informed members on May 18 that a letter had been received from Mr. K. Fukushima tendering his resignation from the Council, owing to his transfer to his Head Office in Tokyo. The Chairman stated that he was assured that he was voicing the feeling of members of former Councils in expressing deep regret at the loss of the valuable services rendered by Mr. Fukushima over a period of several years. In particular he desired to pay a tribute to the courtesy and tact displayed by Mr. Fukushima during the discussions which took place during the recent crisis. The calm and impartial manner in which Mr. Fukushima then put forward the views of the Japanese community materially assisted the Council in its endeavour to cope with the very serious problems with which it was confronted. The admirable and unbiassed interest always displayed by Mr. Fukushima in all matters affecting the municipality rendered his severance with the Council a loss to the community. On behalf of the Council he extended to Mr. Fukushima best wishes for the future.

In thanking the Chairman for the sentiments expressed, Mr. Fukushima stated that he had regarded his membership of the Council and the opportunity thus provided of serving the community as a privilege and a pleasure. He sincerely hoped that the spirit of co-operation amongst members which had been so much in evidence during his tenure of office would continue in the interests of the community as a whole.

Resolved that the resignation of Mr. K. Fukushima be accepted as from May 24 and that to fill the vacancy created thereby Mr. H. Terai be requested to accept membership on the Council for the remainder of the current Municipal year.

ACTIVITIES OF JAPANESE ARMED FORCES IN SETTLEMENT.

The Chairman of Council stated at the meeting on May 18 that, in accordance with the authority granted him at the last meeting, and as the Police Department confirmed the unofficial reports of certain incidents in which the Japanese armed forces were involved, he addressed a formal protest to the Consular Body. He requested the Consular Body to do its utmost to induce the Japanese naval and military forces to refrain from interfering with and obstructing the municipal police and other Council employees with whom they come into contact. No reply had yet been received from the Consular Body. Although certain statements contained in, and the tone of this letter had formed the subject of severe criticism in the Japanese Press, he considered that the Council had no alternative but to lodge a firm protest against the incidents referred to.

NEW SCHOOL FOR FOREIGN BOYS.

The Education Board minutes presented to the Municipal Council on May 18 referred to the consideration by the Board of plans for a new school for foreign boys in Yu Yuen Road.

The Board on May 11 discussed departmental reports relative to the provision of a new school building. The Commissioner of Public Works stated that it was not feasible to erect a school for 500 pupils since this would make it impossible to carry on with the existing temporary school while the new building was being erected. He considered that a maximum of 350 pupils could be provided for in a two-storied building at an approximate cost of Tls. 250,000.

The Treasurer and Controller supported this proposal, but suggested that it might be possible for the foundations to be so constructed as to permit of an additional storey being added if such were found desirable at some future time.

In this respect the Commissioner of Public Works stated that the proposal to provide additional accommodation would be given consideration when the plans were being prepared, either by provision of an additional storey or an additional wing.

The Board recommended that the Commissioner of Public Works be authorized to proceed with the preparation of plans for a new school for foreign boys to accommodate 350 pupils at an approximate cost of Tls. 250,000.

The Board's recommendation was approved by the Council.

Admission of Chinese.

With reference to a previous minute of the Education Board relative to the admission of pupils of Chinese nationality to the above school, the Board recommended that, upon completion of this new school, in special cases and subject to accommodation being available, Chinese pupils be admitted thereto.

The Council has approved the Board's recommendation.

PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMITTEE.

Election of Chairman.

At a meeting of the Public Utilities Committee, on the proposal of Captain J. J. Bahnson, seconded by Mr. C. C. Woo, Mr. H. E. Arnhold was elected Chairman of the Public Utilities Committee. Mr. Arnhold informed members that he was Chairman of the Omnibus Company. On the understanding that when subjects connected with this Company were under discussion another member would occupy the Chair, he was willing to accept the Chairmanship.

This proposal was approved by the Committee.

CLEANSING AND WATERING STREETS.

The Public Works Department of the Shanghai Municipal Council having substituted motor for horse-drawn vehicles for the cleansing and watering of roads, it has for disposal a number of carts and a quantity of harness in good condition. For some time mechanical water wagons and road sweepers have been employed on day and night work, the quantity of water used by them last year in washing and watering streets being 36,127,200 gallons. Water carts were employed for watering streets in the Central District only, using an additional 1,879,400 gallons. As the whole work will now be done by motor-driven vehicles the Department has five water carts for disposal.

Specially constructed motor vehicles have been in use for some years removing house refuse (which now amounts to nearly a thousand tons a day) and in carrying road detritus (44,722 tons in 1931) and gully deposit (19,208 tons in 1931) for land raising, etc. But, in addition, a number of horse-drawn carts have been employed. The growth of the Settlement and the consequent increase in the quantity of material to be removed over longer distances has made it uneconomical to employ horse-drawn carts, so they have been superseded by mechanical wagons. The Council, as a result, is offering for sale forty sweeping carts and twelve gully carts in addition to the water carts already mentioned, while it has for disposal a large quantity of harness and other serviceable equipment.

TELEPHONE COMPANY.

Proposed Increase of Tariff.

In memoranda submitted to the Public Utilities Committee, the Secretary of Council stated that the Shanghai Telephone Company had applied for an increase in the tariff rate as from March 26, 1932, i.e., the date of the completion of the conversion to automatic working of the whole telephone system within the Settlement. At the time the Franchise Agreement was drafted an understanding was reached with the French Municipality that, so far as possible, questions relating to the tariff should be considered jointly. It had accordingly been suggested that representatives from both Administrations be appointed to negotiate this question with the Company. In connexion with the preliminary negotiations affecting Public Utility Companies it had been customary in the past for the Council to nominate members of the permanent staff for this purpose, and they subsequently rendered a report to the Committee.

The Secretary added that a suggestion had been put forward by one of the Company's subscribers that, in conjunction with consideration of the application for an increased tariff, an independent audit should be conducted in respect of the capital expenditure incurred by the Company during the past twenty months.

Members agreed that such action was only called for in the event of the representatives of both Councils recommending that the increase in the tariff should exceed that provided for in the Anson Report.

It was recommended that the Secretary and the Treasurer and Controller be authorized to represent the Council in the preliminary negotiations to be conducted with representatives of the French Council and the Company, and thereafter report to the Committee the result of these preliminary negotiations.

This recommendation was approved by the Council on May 18.

WATERWORKS COMPANY INVESTIGATION.

Consideration of Hill Report.

On May 18, the Council approved a recommendation of the Public Utilities Committee, passed on May 12, that the Committee appointed to consider the Hill Report in connexion with the Shanghai Waterworks Company investigation give final consideration to the Report and submit its findings to the Council.

It was stated that cursory consideration only had been given to the Report by the Investigation Commission on account of the expressed wish of the Chinese members that consideration be deferred until the Chinese translation was available for the Chinese community.

POLICE REPORT FOR APRIL.

The Commissioner of Police, in his report for April, states:—

The total crime recorded during the month is contained in the following table:—

Nature of Offence	Reported during the month	Reported during previous month	Reported during corresponding month last year
Murder	2	7	4
Attempted Murder	2	3	3
Manslaughter	2	—	3
Armed Kidnapping	2	1*	3
		*(Att.)

Members of a Criminal gang	6	8	12
House, Office and Shop breaking, etc.	78	84	42
Burglary	22	26	78
Thefts	670	532	716
Receiving Stolen property	23	13	14
Snatching	47	58	72
Opium Offences	106	16	131
Gambling Offences	22	9	8
Other Crimes	223	148	212
Total	1,292	988	1,377

There was a total increase of 304 cases as compared with the figures recorded last month and a decrease of 85 cases as compared with those for the corresponding period of last year. 1,516 persons were arrested for crimes committed during the month, 173 for offences committed previously and 172 for other Authorities, a total increase of 536 as compared with the number apprehended last month.

With the lifting of the curfew regulations from the beginning of the month crime records show a gradual return to normal. There was a general increase of reports of minor crime during the month, but reports of serious crime are still below the normal average. The principal increase is due to reports of thefts which include a large number of larcenies of motor-car accessories and bicycles left unattended on public thoroughfares. Special measures have been taken to cope with this form of crime. There has also been a large increase in the registration of opium smoking and gambling offences, many successful raids having been carried out by the Police during the period under review. There is an increase of armed crime, house breakings and thefts in "B" Division which is undoubtedly due to the influx of criminals from Chapei and the large number of refugees still residing in the district. A large number of arrests in connexion with these offences have been effected in this division. "C" Division has been practically free from serious crime with the exception of the serious bomb outrage which occurred in Hongkew Park on April 29, 1932. The Japanese Authorities were, however, in complete charge of this area during the celebrations and are themselves conducting enquiries in connexion with this incident. A large number of looters have been arrested during the month, the result being an effective deterrent to such offenders.

Murder.—Two cases were reported during the month, one of a Chinese Police Constable who fired upon and killed two other Chinese Police Constables in the Police Quarters of Central Station with his service pistol as the result of a dispute over money. The offender then committed suicide by shooting himself with the same weapon. The other occurred in Sinza district in which an amah was fatally wounded by a member of a gang of armed kidnappers who also carried away a child aged four years.

Attempted Murder.—Of the two cases reported, one occurred in Louza District when an Acting Chinese Detective Sub-Inspector was shot and wounded by an armed robber whom he was escorting, the culprit being subsequently shot dead by other members of the escort, and the other in Gordon Road district when a man was enticed to a piece of waste ground, fired at and wounded by two of his comrades as the result of a gambling quarrel. The culprits made good their escape.

Manslaughter.—Two cases under this category were recorded during the month, both of which occurred in "B" Division. In one case an old man was knocked down and killed by a cyclist who was sentenced to six months imprisonment, and in the other a Chinese was badly assaulted and died in hospital. Two men were arrested and sentenced to 3½ years' imprisonment each.

Armed Kidnapping.—Two cases of armed kidnapping were reported; one of a Chinese compradore who was missing and on reappearance alleged that he was kidnapped on Robison Road and made good his escape from his captors afterwards; the other in Weihaiwei Road when a child aged four years was kidnapped from his home in which an amah was killed and the child's father wounded.

Abduction. — Eleven cases of simple abduction were reported during the month, and 31 arrests were effected in connexion with seven of these cases.

Armed Robberies.—63 cases were reported, five less than last month and three more than during the corresponding period of last year. "A" and "D" Divisions record a decrease of four each and "B" Division an increase of six, while "C" Division shows nil. Eight of the cases came to the knowledge of the Police as a result of arrests made. A total of 58 arrests were effected in connexion with these cases.

Other Robberies.—Of the 13 cases reported the majority took place on the highway and 14 arrests were effected.

Members of a Criminal Gang.—Six gangs were arrested during the month and 110 arrests effected. Three pistols and 35 rounds of ammunition were seized.

House, Office and Shop-breaking, etc.—As compared with last month there is a decrease of six cases and an increase of 36 on the figures for April, 1931. "A" Division records an increase of seven and "B" Division of five cases, while a decrease of six and 12 is recorded in "C" and "D" Divisions respectively. 61 arrests were effected.

Burglary.—A decrease of four is recorded. "A" Division records a decrease of two and "D" Division a decrease of four cases, while an increase of two is recorded in "B" Division. "C" Division records two cases, the same as last month. 11 arrests were made in connexion with this class of crime.

Thefts.—There was an increase of 138 cases over the figures for last month and a decrease of 46 cases for the corresponding period of 1931. Seven of these cases were refused investigation and 13 occurred on extra-Settlement roads or in buildings abutting thereon in the Western district. A total of 263 arrests were effected.

83 cases of pocket-picking occurred in "A," "B" and "D" Divisions and 37 arrests were made. "A" Division records 50 cases and 37 arrests. Special measures have been adopted to cope with this type of crime in "A" Division.

34 bicycles were stolen during the month.

Receiving Stolen Property.—23 cases were reported and 29 arrests made resulting in four convictions.

Snatching. — There was a total decrease of 11 cases as compared with last month. 29 occurred in "A" Division, 12 in "B" Division, two in "C" Division and four in "D" Division. 40 arrests were made including 26 in "A" Division.

Opium.—106 reports were recorded during the month as the result of Police action. 306 arrests were made. The Headquarters Narcotic Section made eight raids and arrested 52 persons, of which number 13 had been previously convicted for opium and other offences. 432½ ounces of opium, 12 ounces of caffeine, 242½ ounces of red and black pills and 30 pipes together with the usual paraphernalia were seized and confiscated.

Gambling.—22 cases were recorded during the month, an increase of 13 as compared to last month. The association of gambling with crime was noted in four instances of embezzlement and shop-lifting in which the prisoners admitted losing the money in gambling houses.

Other Crimes.—223 cases occurred, 75 more than those recorded last month and 11 more than the figures for April, 1931. Cases under this heading are of a very miscellaneous nature and comprise amongst others abortion, assault, bribery, embezzlement, extortion, fraud, inflammatory literature, misappropriation, trafficking in females and threatening letters. 105 arrests were made in connexion with these cases.

Notable work in "B" Division included the arrest of 59 persons charged with armed robbery, armed highway robbery, possession of arms, attempted murder, armed kidnapping, larceny and extortion; the arrest of 12 persons charged with five counts of armed robbery; the arrest of nine persons charged with armed robbery and armed kidnapping and the shooting dead of another armed robber in the same case; the arrest of six persons convicted of armed robberies; the shooting dead of two robbers, seriously wounding a third and the arrest of the remaining two robbers at the scene of a robbery; and the arrest of three persons convicted of being concerned in three armed robberies.

Notable work by Headquarters Special Detective Squad included the arrest of 20 persons, 12 of whom were charged with armed robberies, attempted armed robbery, highway robbery, attempted highway robbery and possession of arms and the seizure of three pistols and 35 rounds of ammunition.

The Squad conducted investigations into 24 cases. In addition enquiries were continued in six cases previously reported.

Twenty-eight cases of a miscellaneous nature occurred on Municipal extra-Settlement Roads or in buildings abutting thereon.

Stolen Property.—Property the value of $212,006.37 was alleged to have been stolen during the month, a decrease of $122,639.50 as compared with last month. Property valued at $107,293.59 was recovered.

Finger-Print Bureau.—The total number of records dealt with was 2,683. As compared with the figures recorded for last month there is an increase of 911 and an increase of 249 by comparison with the corresponding month of last year. Investigations were made into 18 cases. Latent finger prints were secured in three instances. Of 17 dead bodies (Chinese) fingerprinted and photographed at the mortuary two were identified by fingerprints and two by photographs. 41 records of foreigners were received and 21 identified as having previous convictions. In addition 13 records of foreigners were received from the French Police, of which number identifications were recorded in six instances.

Studio.—328 photographs were taken and 776 copies printed during the month.

Boarding House Section.—During the month the staff of this section visited 433 Boarding Houses and 32 Bars, Restaurants, Cafes, Taverns and Theatres. 18 new applications were dealt with.

Suicides.—Four Foreigners and four Chinese committed suicide, while three other Chinese attempted to do so.

Communism.—A crowd of communist sympathizers, who attempted to shout slogans and distribute handbills on Hupeh Road about 7.30 p.m. on April 12, was dispersed by the Municipal Police who arrested two of the demonstrators.

Precautions and other measures adopted by the Municipal Police in co-operation with the Public Safety Bureau resulted during the month in the defeat of a movement which was fostered by Communists and which aimed through the use of terrorism and propaganda among the operatives concerned to prevent resumption of work in the Japanese mills in the Western district. Other schemes of the communists frustrated during the month included a plan to spread disaffection among the junior members of the Chinese and Indian Branches of the Municipal Police. The promotor of this agitation was arrested on April 19, 1932, at No. 148 East Yuhang Road, where important documents and evidence were seized and is now, together with five other "Reds" who were associated with him, awaiting trial.

In addition to the six mentioned there were 13 other communists arrested during the month. Of these one was sentenced to 2½ years' imprisonment, two were released on shop security and the cases of the remaining 10 were still on remand at the end of the month. These persons, with the exception of the two who were caught while demonstrating on the streets, were taken into custody in the course of searches at Communist bases, of which no less than 10 were raided during the month. Communist literature obtained during these raids and on other occasions included handbills in Chinese of 33 different kinds which had not been previously seen and leaflets in English and Gurmukhi. These Chinese and foreign handbills referred to the anti-communist coup d'etat in 1927 as well as to International Labour Day, May 1, and contained denunciations of Imperialism and an appeal for assistance for workers who are unemployed.

Anti-Government Propaganda.—Three Chinese who were arrested during the month in connexion with the sale of an anti-Government newspaper entitled "Ming Tsoong Pao" were still on remand at the end of the month.

Refugees in the Settlement.—The refugees from the fighting areas who sought shelter in the Settlement and who were dependent on public organizations for their support numbered 19,705 on April 30, as compared with 53,470 on March 31.

Closing of Office of National Salvation Committee to Resist Japan.—An office, established in March for the purpose of winding up the affairs of the National Salvation Committee to Resist Japan which had already become defunct, closed down on April 29. Previous to the closing of this office the Municipality of Greater Shanghai paid a gratuity of $40 each to 347 former employees of the defunct organization.

Situation in Local Universities and Middle Schools.—During the month practically all universities and middle schools situated in the Settlement, French Concession, Nantao and on extra-Settlement roads reopened while some 14 of those located in Chenju, Chapei, Kiangwan and Woosung rented houses in the Settlement and French Concession and resumed work on these premises.

Strikes.—During the month under review four strikes occurred in the Settlement affecting 235 machine workers, 30 casual coolies, 80 printers and typesetters and 80 juvenile workers of tobacco factories. The concerns affected were Andersen, Meyer & Co., 2 Tungliang Road (American), U.S. Navy Purchasing and Distributing Office, 3 Canton Road, the "China Times" 307 Kiangse Road (Chinese) and the British-American Tobacco Company, Thorburn Road.

One strike occurred in Chinese controlled territory, affecting 135 workers and resulting in the loss of 67 working days.

The statistics for the month of April are as follows:—

Area	No. of Strikes	No. of Hands	No. of Working days lost.
Settlement	4	425	1,990
French Concession	—	—	—
Chinese controlled territory	1	135	67
Total	5	560	2,057
Total for corresponding month of 1931	14	25,448	32,999

Labour Situation.—At the end of April, 531 out of a total of 596 industrial concerns in the Settlement had resumed work. Some had re-engaged the normal complement of workers and others were operating with reduced staffs. It is estimated that they had taken back 161,436 operatives and that the number of their workers who had not been re-engaged together with the employees still idle through the concerns in which they worked being still closed was at the end of the month approximately 63,705. The concerns which re-opened during the month included 32 Japanese mills which gave employment to 30,651 people. The Shanghai War District Unemployed Workers Relief Society registered between April 4 and April 11, about 16,011 workers who were seeking employment, and has since repatriated 120 of this number. This Society was formed in March by various Chinese official and mercantile bodies.

Rice.—The average price of rice for the month of April 1932 was as follows:—

	Chinese Rice.	Saigon Rice.
Best quality	$15.00	$13.00
Good quality	14.20	12.00
Ordinary	13.50	11.00

Since April 6, the merchants who owned rice hongs in Chapei have been conducting their business at 38 Tseng Teh Li, Chekiang Road, which they have converted into a rice bazaar.

Film Censorship. — 51 feature films and 48 shorts and newsreels were censored during the month in theatres in the Settlement and French Concession. One of the feature films showing scenes of the Sino-Japanese conflict was withdrawn on the advice of the Police, and nine others were only approved after parts, to which the Police Censors objected, had been deleted. A film entitled "The Primrose Path," which the Police Censors declined to approve, was reviewed on April 12 by the members of the Board of Film Censors who unanimously decided to uphold the decision of the Police.

A Commission composed of Mr. A. M. Cannan, Gibb, Livingston & Co., Mr. P. C. Colman and Mrs. R. E. Lunkley has been appointed by the Municipal Council to make recommendations on the subject of film censorship. The terms of reference of this body are as follows:

"To enquire into and report on the principles by which the Council should be guided in the control of cinematograph films and of posters and advertisements in connexion therewith exhibited in the International Settlement and the best and most efficient method of censoring such exhibitions."

Traffic.—Court proceedings were instituted in 342 (81 Foreigners and 261 Chinese) of 3,316 reports of traffic offences received during the month against owners and/or drivers of vehicles. The remainder were dealt with by letter of warning or entry of caution on their records.

Bicycles.—Bicycles were involved in 140 accidents during the month and in 64 cases the cyclists were known to have been at fault.

Motor Horn Nuisance.—There were 70 prosecutions for this offence during the month.

Safety First.—During the month the professional Story-teller visited various districts and gave 75 addresses in Teashops and Mills, etc. on Safety First themes. His audience roughly totalled 3,620 persons.

Unlicensed Motor Vehicles and Drivers.—10 Japanese civilians were reported by the police for driving motor vehicles without driving licences and eight were reported for using motor vehicles without first obtaining a licence from the S.M.C. Court proceedings have been instituted in all cases.

Traffic Conditions.—Traffic conditions continued to improve in the Northern and Eastern districts but owing to unsettled business conditions in these areas and adjoining Chinese territory, a large number of public ricshas have been forced to find employment in other districts. This is particularly noticeable in the Central district where the streets are carrying a good deal more than their normal quota and has tended to add to the usual difficulties in the movement of traffic in this district during the busy hours of the day. In this connexion 933 public ricsha pullers were charged with various offences in the Central district during the month.

Identification Office.—During the month, 1,660 prisoners' records passed through this office for identification prior to the prisoners going to Court for trial, out of which number 501 were identified as having a previous conviction or convictions. In addition to the above 602 records were received from the French Police out of which number 125 were identified in the records of this office making the total for the month :—

PARKS REPORT FOR APRIL.

The Superintendent of Parks and Open Spaces, in his April report, states:—

Jessfield Park.—Operations in connexion with the re-design of the west section of the park were commenced, these operations necessitating a slight reduction being made in the size of the Children's Playground.

The construction of a terrace on the east side of the central pond and the laying down of a crazy paving pathway along the south bank was completed.

Hongkew Park.—The reinstatement of the lawn areas at this park progressed favourably and the planting of a large quantity of trees and shrubs as replacements was carried out.

General.—32 tennis courts, one baseball ground and four bowling greens at Hongkew Park, and six tennis courts and two bowling greens at Wayside Park were assigned to clubs for the current season.

The number of tennis courts allocated at Hongkew Park compares unfavourably with returns for previous years, but further applications are expected as conditions in the Northern District become more normal.

The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, JUNE 3, 1932. No. 1369

MAJESTIC HOTEL PROPERTY.

Future Development of Site.

In a letter submitted, the Majestic Syndicate has notified the Council that it intends to commence demolition work on this property at once and to divide the whole area into small lots. It is prepared to make a free surrender to the Council of an area of mow 7.317 required for the roads which will intersect this property provided the Council will construct and maintain them.

The Commissioner of Public Works recommended that this Syndicate be informed that if it will agree to surrender such roads of a minimum width of 40 feet and refund two-thirds of the actual cost of constructing the roads (such two-thirds share being estimated at approximately Tls. 21,500) the Council will assume responsibility for subsequent maintenance, cleansing and policing.

Replying to members of the Works Committee at a meeting on May 24, the Commissioner of Public Works stated that these roads are not scheduled but that they are essential for the type of re-development proposed, and that his proposal that the owners should defray two-thirds of the cost of construction etc. is based on the provisions of Land Regulation VIC.

Inasmuch as acceptance of this proposal by the owners will relieve them of future liability for the maintenance, policing, etc. of these roads, members regarded the counter offer suggested by the Commissioner of Public Works as equitable.

Recommended that the terms, as above set forth, upon which the Council will take over these new roads, be approved and notified to the Majestic Syndicate.

NEW WING ON BUILDING.

Connecting Bridges to be Permitted.

On behalf of the Wing On Co., Ltd., Mr. L. F. Hazzard has applied for permission to construct one double and one single bridge across Chekiang Road to connect the old and the new premises of the Company. The latter building will be erected to a height of seven stories and the bridges, the clear heights of which above the roadway will be approximately 57 feet and 69 feet respectively, are required to facilitate circulation of patrons between the two buildings.

Subject to compliance with the conditions enumerated in his report, the Commissioner of Public Works recommended approval of this application; the Commissioner of Police and the Chief Officer of the Fire Brigade concurring therein.

At a meeting of the Works Committee on May 24, it was:—

Recommended that subject to compliance with the conditions laid down by the Commissioner of Public Works the application of the Wing On Co., Ltd. to construct two overhead bridges between the buildings on Cad. Lots 520 and 629 be approved.

SURPLUS LAND.

Kiangse and Foochow Roads.

With reference to a statement published in the Municipal Gazette of Friday, January 22, 1932, that a portion of Cadastral Lot 174 on the corner of Kiangse and Foochow Roads would during the current year become available for sale and that the Council would probably call for sealed tenders from intending purchasers in due course, notice is hereby given that two sealed offers have been submitted to the Council already and that the Council will be open to receive further sealed tenders until noon on Wednesday, June 8, 1932.

Mohawk Road.

An area of mow 0.287 of surplus land on Mohawk Road, Cad. Lot 1449, is available for purchase from the Council. Conditions for sealed tenders may be obtained upon application to the Public Works Department.

Chengtu Road.

The area of approximately mow 2.943 of surplus land, Cad. Lot 1965, at the corner of Chengtu and Bubbling Well Roads, is still available for purchase from the Council.

WHA TUNG ELECTRICAL COMPANY.

Rate Assessment.

The Finance Committee of May 19 considered an appeal of the Wha Tung Electrical Works from the recommendation of the Rate Assessment Committee that their property be assessed at Tls. 500 per month. At a previous meeting, when a representative of the Company appeared before the Committee in support of the appeal, the Committee referred certain questions back to the Rate Assessment Committee for a further report. On receipt of that report the Finance Committee decided to recommend that the assessment of the Company's property at 131 Point Road be Tls. 500 per month, and this assessment was approved by the Council on June 1.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS.

A meeting of the Works Committee was held on Tuesday, May 24, at 4.30 p.m. There were present:—Messrs. N. Leslie, (Chairman), B. D. F. Beith, W. Gockson, T. Funatsu, F. J. Raven and L. T. Yuan.

A meeting of the Education Board was held on Wednesday, May 25, at 4.30 p.m. There were present:—Mr. A. D. Bell, (Chairman), Dr. H. Gordon Thompson, Mr. K. Kuroda, Mrs. N. Leslie, Dr. Herman C. E. Liu, Mr. K. H. Ling, Dr. Y. H. Ou and Mr. L. T. Yuan.

WATCH COMMITTEE.

Election of Chairman.

Upon the proposal of Mr. P. W. Massey, seconded by Captain J. J. Bahnson, Mr. H. E. Arnhold has been elected Chairman of the Watch Committee.

POLICE FORCE.

Appeal by Employe Dismissed.

The Commissioner of Police forwarded to the Watch Committee an appeal by an ex-Probationary Sergeant against an order of dismissal, following the findings of the Police Disciplinary Board. Members were informed that the ex-Probationary Sergeant was accused on four charges, to all of which be pleaded guilty. The Committee recommended that the appeal be dismissed, and Council has endorsed the recommendation.

VOLUNTEER CORPS.

Formation of Philippine Company.

The Watch Committee has recommended to the Council, and the Council has approved, that the formation of a Company of Infantry to be recruited from American citizens of Filipino descent, to be known as the Philippine Company, be authorized with effect from February 1, 1932, and that notice thereof be published in the "Municipal Gazette."

PUBLIC TENDERS.

In a letter submitted to the Council, the London Agents have requested that the Council reconsider its decision reached in 1927, which precluded them from tendering for tenders advertised locally.

After consideration of a memorandum submitted by the Secretary and in endorsing the view of the Treasurer and Controller that the Council should obtain its supplies in the most advantageous market, members of the Finance Committee at a meeting on May 19 were prepared to endorse this application.

Recommended that the Council's previous decision be rescinded and that whenever practicable the London Agents be given an opportunity of submitting quotations for tenders called for locally.

The Finance Committee's recommendation was approved by the Council on June 1.

SHANGHAI POWER COMPANY.

Local Advisory Board.

The Shanghai Power Co. has notified the Council of the resignation of Mr. K. Fukushima from, and the appointments of Messrs. W. S. Heald, T. Morioka and M. Speelman to, the local Advisory Board of the Company which is now constituted as follows:—Messrs. H. E. Arnhold, A. Bassett, A. W. Burkill, T. Funatsu, P. S. Hopkins, W. S. Heald, V. Meyer, Li Ming, T. Morioka, M. Speelman, J. E. Swan, C. S. Taylor and T. K. Yung.

For the Jessfield Park concerts, the admission fee is 60 cents (small money) per person which includes admission to the Park and enclosure. The charge for chairs in a limited number of rows is increased to $1.

ANALYSES OF WHANGPOO WATER.

In reference to assertions that unusual pollution of the Whangpoo is taking place and that this constitutes a source of danger to the health of Shanghai residents, a report of analyses of Whangpoo water made by the chemists of the Shanghai Waterworks Co., Ld., is of public interest.

This report states that bacteria in the river are and have been normal, and that it can almost be considered that the river is in a better state this year than in previous years, although the exceptionally dry weather in the early part of the year, followed by the heavy recent rains, may have had something to do with this.

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION No. 4240.

LESTER CHINESE HOSPITAL. State of Emergency Expenditure.

An application from the Trustees of the Lester Chinese Hospital for a special grant of $15,850.30 to cover extra expenditure incurred during the State of Emergency has been considered by the Finance Committee. Included in this sum was an amount of $4,562.80 representing additional expenses incurred in the treatment of cases transferred from the Police Hospital and a re-imbursement thereof had already been authorized.

The Treasurer and Controller pointed out that the usual annual grant of Tls. 20,000 to this Hospital had also already been authorized. The additional expenditure incurred owing to the State of Emergency would constitute a charge on the Hospital's budget for the current year. Accordingly he suggested, and members concurred, that the question of an additional grant be left over until it could be ascertained what effect this abnormal expenditure has had on the Hospital's financial position for 1932.

Recommended that consideration of the application for an additional grant to effect the extra expenses incurred by the treatment of civilian casualties be deferred until the Hospital's statement of account for the current year is available.

The Finance Committee's recommendation was approved by the Council on June 1.

The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, JUNE 10, 1932. No. 1370

EXTRA SETTLEMENT ROADS.

The negotiations between representatives appointed by the Shanghai Municipal Council and the Chinese Authorities to negotiate the basis of an agreement in regard to the extra-Settlement Roads have reached a stage where concrete proposals will now be submitted to the Shanghai Municipal Council and the Chinese Authorities.

CONSULAR INFORMATION.

A letter from Mr. J. Lilliehook, Consul-General for Sweden, informs the Council that upon his retirement from the Government Service Mr. Erik Wisen will be in charge of the Consulate-General for Sweden as Acting Consul-General.

COUNCIL MEMBERSHIP.

At the Council meeting on June 1, the Chairman, on behalf of members, extended a cordial welcome to Mr. H. Terai upon his taking his seat on the Council.

MUNICIPAL ORCHESTRA AND BAND.

Commencing on Saturday, June 11, and continuing during June, July and August, the weekly programme of the Municipal Orchestra and Band Concerts will be as follows:—

Monday—Orchestral Concert, Jessfield Park 9.15-11.15 p.m.

Tuesday—Brass Band Concert, Public Gardens 5.30-7 p.m.

Wednesday — Orchestral Concert, Jessfield Park 9.15-11.15 p.m.

Thursday—Brass Band Concert, Hongkew Park 9.15-11 p.m.

Friday—Brass Band Concert, Public Gardens 9.15-11 p.m.

Saturday—Orchestral Concert, Jessfield Park 9.15-11.15 p.m.

Admission Fees.—Admission fees will be the same as last year, i.e., 20 cents (small money) for hire of chairs in roped enclosure at the Public Gardens and Hongkew Park. This charge is additional to the regular charge of 20 cents for admission to the Public Gardens and Hongkew Park. For the Jessfield Park concerts, the admission fee is 60 cents (small money) per person which includes admission to the Park and enclosure. For chairs in a limited number of rows, the charge is increased to $1 inclusive of the admission charge to the Park and enclosure.

PUBLIC HEALTH SITUATION.

On the subject of a possible connection between the incidence of cholera outbreaks and the pollution of the Whangpoo River by the dumping of garbage therein, the Commissioner of Public Health stated at the Council meeting on June 1, that during the past 10 years the average annual death rate in Shanghai from cholera was 1.2 per 10,000 of population as compared with between 10 and 20 per 10,000 of population in Calcutta. Although he agreed that the house refuse disposal problem merited serious consideration, he was unable to support the view that cholera outbreaks were attributable to pollution of the Whangpoo by garbage. The cholera bacillus could not originate spontaneously in house refuse and it was noteworthy that it had not been proven that cholera had occurred in Shanghai during the winter season. Thousands of junks and other small sea-going craft travelled between Shanghai and places where cholera was epidemic and it would be more logical to assume that the pollution of the river by such vessels was directly connected with the incidence of cholera in Shanghai. The fact that cholera occurred in Hankow unusually early this year and shortly afterwards in Shanghai supported this contention: it was, however, most difficult to determine whether the early occurrence of cholera in Shanghai this year could be attributed to its early occurrence in other Chinese areas, although, as stated above, adequate grounds existed in support of this contention. In conclusion he stated that, in his opinion, the theories advanced on the cholera situation viz-à-viz the methods adopted for the disposal of house refuse were not sufficiently well founded to cause the Council undue anxiety.

CAMBRIDGE LOCAL EXAMINATION.

An application by the Secretary of the University of Cambridge Local Examinations that the Council will again permit the use of the Public and Thomas Hanbury School for Boys for the holding of these examinations was submitted on May 25, to the Board of Education, which recommended that the application for the use of this school for the purpose applied for be approved. The Board's recommendation has been endorsed by the Council.

FILM CENSORSHIP COMMISSION.

The Commission appointed by the Municipal Council to enquire into and report upon the censorship of cinematograph films and of posters and advertisements in connection therewith exhibited in the International Settlement has been engaged upon its deliberations since the middle of May.

Before commencing the preparation of its Report to the Council, the Commission invites any member of the general public who may desire to submit his or her views either to attend one of its sessions or to furnish it with a memorandum.

The Commission usually sits at 4.30 in the afternoon in the Council Chamber, Administration Building, and it is requested that members of the public who wish to submit their views should, in the first instance, communicate in writing with Mr. Jas. W. Fraser, S.M.C. Secretariat, who is Secretary to the Commission, before June 17.

COUNCIL MEETING.

A meeting of the Council was held on June 1. There were present:—Messrs. A. D. Bell, (Chairman), H. E. Arnhold, (Vice-Chairman), Capt. J. J. Bahnson, Messrs. B. D. F. Beith, S. L. Hsu, P. W. Massey, F. J. Raven, H. Terai, T. D. Woo, L. T. Yuan and Yu Ya-ching.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS.

A meeting of the Orchestra and Band Committee was held on May 30. There were present:—Messrs. A. J. Hughes, (Chairman), W. J. Dexter, Tzu Huang and Mrs. A. Renner.

The first meeting of the Chinese Committee on Educational Grants-in-Aid was held on Friday, June 3, at 3 p.m. There were present:—Messrs. L. T. Yuan, (Chairman), K. H. Ling, T. L. Kiah, Drs. H. C. E. Liu, Y. H. Ou, Sidney K. Wei, and Mrs. P. K. Y. Shen.

HOSPITAL COMMISSION.

Dr. E. Birt, Chairman of the Hospital and Nursing Services Commission, has written to the Secretary of the Municipal Council as follows:—

"I beg to acknowledge your letter of May 14, conveying the thanks of the Chairman and Members of the Shanghai Municipal Council to the Members of the Commission of which I have had the honour to be Chairman.

In thanking the Council for their kind reception of the Report, I desire in the name of the members of the Commission to express gratitude to all who have helped us in the search for information, and in the compilation of our recommendations. Especially are we indebted to the Public Works Department for assistance in many ways, and to the Public Health Department, which placed its resources fully at our disposal.

If the Report should in any way make for increase of health and happiness of the residents of the International Settlement, the members of the Commission will feel that their expenditure of time and energy has been amply repaid."

EDUCATIONAL LIBRARY.

At a meeting of the Education Board on May 25, a member referred to the provision made by the Council at the Municipal Schools for library purposes. As Shanghai possesses no library from which students can obtain educational works, he suggested that consideration might be given to the institution of a central library for the use of all schools.

In members' view it was improbable that financial considerations would permit of the institution of such a library at the present time, but they concurred that if later funds were available the proposal merited the most sympathetic consideration.

GRANTS-IN-AID TO FOREIGN SCHOOLS.

FORMS of application and copies of the conditions governing the issue of grants-in-aid to foreign schools within the International Settlement or paying rates to the Shanghai Municipal Council may be obtained from the Acting Superintendent, Education Department, Administration Building. Applications for grants for the current year must be submitted not later than June 30, 1932.

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Council Chamber, Secretary.
Shanghai, June 2, 1932.

GRANTS-IN-AID FOR FOREIGN SCHOOLS.

After consideration of a report submitted by the Acting Superintendent of Education, the Board of Education has recommended, and the Council has approved, (1) that a notification be inserted in the "Municipal Gazette," requiring applications for grants for the current year to be submitted not later than June 30, 1932; (II) that the Sub-Committee appointed in 1931 be requested to consider and report to the Board on such applications.

Chinese Schools.

In connection with the Sub-Committee which has been appointed to deal with applications from Chinese Schools for grants-in-aid, the suggestion has been adopted that the Commissioner of Public Health, whose staff has inspected the majority of these schools, be requested to submit a report thereon for the assistance of this Sub-Committee.

EDUCATIONAL STAFF.

The Board of Education has recommended and the Council has approved:—

(I) that as from January 1, 1933, the few foreign teachers who are eligible under the Terms of Service be promoted to Senior Assistants and that as from the same date the post of Chinese Senior Assistant be instituted in each Municipal Secondary School for Chinese Boys to be filled by professionally qualified Chinese educators who should be English speaking University Graduates with pedagogical training and experience; such posts to be filled at that time only if, in the opinion of the Board, Chinese masters possessing the requisite qualifications are available for promotion thereto; (II) that under the supervision of the Chinese Education Officer, these Chinese Senior Assistants take charge of the Chinese curriculum and bring it into line with the requirements of the Ministry of Education; (III) that in due course and subject to satisfactory service the Chinese Senior Assistants be promoted to Headmasters and other Senior Assistants be appointed to fill the vacancies caused by these promotions.

EMERGENCY POSTAL SERVICE.

A report on the arrangements made for the institution of an emergency postal service during the recent postal strike has been furnished to members of Council. It was noted at the meeting on June 1, that the machinery utilized will be available at short notice in the event of a further postal strike.

Resolved that letters of appreciation be addressed to the persons who assisted and volunteered their services in connection with the organization of the Emergency Postal Service.

The strike began on Sunday, May 22, at 5 a.m. and by Monday, May 23, rooms were available in the Administration Building and fitted up with all necessary furniture and accessories to cope with both outward and inward mail. A skeleton staff, consisting of Municipal employees and a number of volunteer workers whose names were recorded on the files of the Man Power Committee, assembled to prepare for an official opening the next day. Letters were received for despatch on the Tuesday morning, and the Post Office handled outward mail for Hongkong and outside ports until May 27.

A small committee had been formed and met each day, while Mr. E. S. Wilkinson, whose experience of the 1927 Post Office proved invaluable, acted as Postmaster. Capt. G. E. Page gave most material practical assistance.

Although full preparations were made for the handling of inward mails, only outward mail was dealt with.

It was considered most convenient, as well as being free from international complications, to use coupons instead of stamps. The price of issue was governed to some extent by the current exchange, since the department based its prices on sterling.

Letters up to 12 oz. only were catered for, but heavier packages were accepted in case of need and a charge made of 20 cents per ounce above 12 oz. Letters were weighed and the correct number of coupons were taken in payment.

Mails were despatched following the system adopted in 1927, and at the time the strike terminated arrangements were far advanced to secure direct delivery of mails from Shanghai to several important foreign ports.

The total number of coupons sold by the Post Office was 17,210, representing an amount of $3,442. Eleven bags of mail weighing a total of 358 lbs. were despatched, consisting of 4,536 letters, 225 packets and 701 registered letters and packets.

Each registered letter bore a "Registered slip" stamped with a special stamp marked "Shanghai E.P.S." A receipt was given, on special forms, for each letter. The extra charge of 40 cents per letter more than covered the postal charge for registration.

After the closing of the Postal service, unused coupons were cashed by the Council.

The question of handling inward mail presented more complications and difficulties in organization and required careful consideration of the political and other factors. No inward mail was actually handled, but had the strike continued, with the aid of voluntary workers, the Emergency Postal Service would have been extended to this on Monday, May 30. Arrangements for deliveries on a limited scale had been made, and although some delay would have been inevitable owing to the large number of mail bags that had accumulated, residents would have begun to receive their letters in a few days.

The outward mail system has been tried on two occasions and found to work quite smoothly, whilst the inward mail system has been worked out in theory only. A complete establishment dealing with staff, premises, and details of organization has been worked out and submitted by Mr. E. S. Wilkinson for further use.

In order to co-ordinate the activities of the Emergency Postal Service with the other Emergency Committees of the Council, an Emergency Postal Service Committee was formed, with the Council's approval, consisting of: Capt. J. J. Bahnson, Mr. E. S. Wilkinson, Capt. G. E. Page, Messrs. Percy Cox, J. C. Parkin, J. K. Jones and C. Harpur.

In addition to Mr. E. S. Wilkinson and Capt. G. E. Page, a considerable amount of work had been done by the following, many of whom have given full time service:—Messrs. A. Dierckring, L. Steventon, G. A. Johnson, P. D. Raeburn, J. C. Parkin, C. W. Cunningham, E. V. Cunningham, and S. Cunningham. Boy Scouts, arranged through Scoutmaster Jacobs, did valuable work as messengers.

SIR,—With reference to your recent enquiry of the Commissioner of Public Works, I am directed to offer you payment at the rate of Tls. 15,000 per mow in compensation for the surrender of mow 0.223 of unregistered land west of B.C. Lot 3785, required for the scheduled extension of Seymour Road, and for the purchase of the remainder of the holding on the east of the scheduled road line, an area of mow 0.323, making a total sum of Tls. 8,190.

The Council would pay compensation for the area of mow 0.223 required for the road and 50 per cent of the agreed sum for the area of mow 0.323 on completion of the requisite Chinese surrender deeds for the road land and production of satisfactory documents to enable the Council to apply for a title deed for the balance area, the remaining compensation to be paid on issue of the deed.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. M. McKEE,
Deputy Secretary.

Mr. C. S. KEH.

Shanghai, January 11, 1932.

DEAR SIR,—I have to acknowledge, with thanks, the receipt of your letter dated January 4, 1932, offering payment at the rate of Tls. 15,000 per mow in compensation for the surrender of mow 0.223 of unregistered land, west of B.C. Lot No. 3785, required for the scheduled extension of Seymour Road, and for the purchase of the remainder of the holding on the east of the scheduled road line, in area of mow 0.323, making a total sum of Shanghai Taels 8,190.

I have carefully considered this offer of the Council, but regret that I am not in a position to accept the figure of Tls. 8,190. I would state for your information that as long as six months ago, I disposed of a piece of fangtan land further north at the rate of $29,000 per mow, and to-day's market price is undoubtedly thereat if not higher. There is also the fact that I originally intended to utilize the area of mow 0.323 that will remain after surrendering mow 0.223 for the scheduled extension of Seymour Road for a private residence, and if I have now to sell the whole lot to the Council, I have naturally to look for another site, and it is very doubtful if I will be able to acquire a site so suitably situated at anything under Tls. 20,000 per mow.

In consideration of all the circumstances, I hereby make the following alternate proposals, which will hold good till the end of the present lunar year:

(1) that the Council acquire only the mow 0.223 required for the scheduled extension of Seymour Road at the price now offered by the Council, viz. Tls. 15,000 per mow, on condition that a building permit be issued for the remaining area of mow 0.323.
(2) that the Council acquire the entire area of mow 0.546 at Tls. 20,000 per mow.

In the event of either offer being accepted, full payment has to be made against surrender of the necessary documents, but I am agreeable to the Council retaining 10 per cent. of the value for the mow 0.323, payable on issue of the title-deed.

I shall be glad if the Council will reconsider the whole matter and acquaint me of their decision at an early date.

Yours faithfully,
C. S. KEH.

J. M. McKEE, Esq.,
Deputy Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, January 14, 1932.

SIR,—In reply to your letter of January 11, I am directed to inform you that the Council is unwilling to abandon the proposed purchase of that portion of your holding east of Seymour Road which area is scheduled as an extension of the Police Western Depot, and is also unwilling to increase the offer contained in its letter of January 4 which is considered to be fair and reasonable compensation.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. M. McKEE,
Deputy Secretary.

Mr. C. S. KEH.

Shanghai, January 22, 1932.

DEAR SIR,—In receipt of your letter of January 14th instant, I am instructed by my client, Mr. C. S. Keh to inform you that he is quite willing to abandon the said unregistered land, mow 0.223 west of B.C. Lot 3785 at a rate of Tls. 15,000 assessed by the Council for the use of the scheduled extension of Seymour Road, as it is a matter of public concern. With regard to the purchase of the remainder of the holding on the east of the scheduled road line, in area mow 0.323, making a total sum of Tls. 8,190, we are regretful to say that owing to the fact that my client has early planned to build a residence thereon, it is absolutely unable for my client to agree upon your proposal, i.e. the said remaining part of land was offered by the Council at the rate of Tls. 15,000 per mow, unless the Council would compensate the said piece of land at the rate of Tls. 20,000 per mow, because it is quite difficult for my client to look for another site near the vicinity at the rate of Tls. 15,000 per mow as offered by the Council, since the market value of the land situated on that part at present day has already reached the rate of Tls. 30,000 per mow if not higher. Therefore it will be a most fair and reasonable compensation, if the Council would like to pay for the said remaining lot, in area mow 0.323 at the rate of Tls. 20,000 per mow, as it is far below the present market value. Otherwise, I have to ask you to issue a building permit for the same at your most earliest convenience.

Thanking you in anticipation.
Yours faithfully,
Y. T. HU.

J. M. McKEE, Esq.,
Deputy Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, February 2, 1932.

SIR,—I am directed to acknowledge receipt of your letter of January 22, stating that, while Mr. C. S. Keh is willing to accept Tls. 15,000 per mow as compensation for the surrender of mow 0.223 of unregistered land west of Cadastral Lot 3840 for the scheduled extension of Seymour Road, he desires payment at Tls. 20,000 per mow for the remainder of the holding on the east of the scheduled road line, in area mow 0.323, making a total sum of Tls. 9,805.

In reply thereto, I am directed to inform you that, with a view to effecting an amicable settlement, the Council is willing to acquire the area of mow 0.546 for the sum of Tls. 9,282, representing Tls. 17,000 per mow, it being understood that payment will be made in accordance with the last paragraph of the Council's letter to Mr. Keh of January 4 and that the usual conditions for the purchase of land will apply.

I have to add that, since the portion of the holding on the east of Seymour Road is scheduled for municipal purposes, the Council is unable to issue a building permit in respect of such area, and that if terms for the purchase cannot be arranged by negotiation the question of compensation will be referred to the Land Commission for decision.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. M. McKEE,
Deputy Secretary.

Mr. Y. T. HU.

Shanghai, May 3, 1932.

DEAR SIR,—I have to acknowledge, with thanks, the receipt of your letter of February 2, 1932, offering payment at the rate of Tls. 17,000 per mow as compensation for the surrender of mow 0.223 of unregistered land west of Cad. Lot 3840 for the scheduled extension of Seymour Road, and for the purchase of the remainder of the holding on the east of the scheduled road line, in area mow 0.323.

In reply thereto, I am instructed by my client, Mr. C. S. Keh, to inform you that in considering the above offer made by the Council, I regret to say that it still cannot cover our expenses for the said piece of land, that is mow 0.223 of unregistered land west of Cad. Lot 3840 and mow 0.323 on the east of the scheduled road line. The present market price of land situated there is undoubtedly Tls. 30,000 per mow if not higher. Since the portion of holding on the east of Seymour Road, in area mow 0.323, and mow 0.223 of unregistered land west of Cad. Lot 3840 is scheduled for municipal purposes, my client is quite willing to sacrifice his land to be sold at the rate of Tls. 20,000 per mow as it can just cover his original price of the said piece of land. Moreover, according to the law of eminent domain, the municipal government, as we all know, should give highest market price to the man who is compelled to sell his land for public purposes.

In conclusion, I shall be glad if the Council will reconsider the whole matter and reply me in the affirmative.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
Y. T. Hu.

J. M. McKee, Esq.,
Deputy Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, May 9, 1932.

Sir,—I am directed to acknowledge receipt of your letter of May 3, on the subject of a total area of mow 0.546 of unregistered land west of B.C. Lot 3785 required for the scheduled extension of Seymour Road and the Police Western Depot, and in reply to inform you that further consideration has been given to this matter.

The Council, however, is unwilling to increase the offer contained in its letter of February 2, which is considered to be fair and reasonable.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. M. McKee,
Deputy Secretary.

Mr. Y. T. Hu.

Shanghai, May 23, 1932.

Dear Sir,—I have to acknowledge, with thanks, the receipt of your letter of May 9, concerning the offering payment by the Council in the second time at the rate of Tls. 17,000 per mow in compensation for the surrender of a total area of mow 0.546 of unregistered land west of B.C. Lot 3785 required for scheduled extension of Seymour Road and the Police Western Depot.

I am again instructed by my client, Mr. C. S. Keh, to inform you that the present market price of the land situated there is Tls. 30,000 per mow if not higher, since the thing lies in the fact that last month, my client disposed a small piece of fangtan land further east at the rate of Tls. 35,000 per mow. There is also the fact that my client originally intended to utilize the area of mow 0.323 for the scheduled extension of Seymour Road for a private residence, and if the whole lot should be sold to the Council, naturally my client must look for another site, and it is quite doubtful if it can be obtained a similar site so suitably situated at anything under Tls. 20,000 per mow.

In consideration of the circumstances, the only way which can settle the present question is by referring this matter to the Land Commission as suggested by the Council in your last letter, and, at the same time, I have to mention that my client is only willing to sacrifice his land of mow 0.546 of unregistered land west of B. C. Lot 3785 to be sold at the least rate of Tls. 20,000 per mow for municipal purposes.

I shall be pleased if the Council will reply to me in the affirmative.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
Y. T. Hu.

J. M. McKee, Esq.,
Deputy Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, May 31, 1932.

Sir,—I am directed to acknowledge receipt of your letter of May 23, intimating that the Council's offer of compensation for the surrender of a total area of mow 0.546 of unregistered land west of Cadastral Lot 3785 required for the scheduled extension of Seymour Road and the Police Western Depot is unacceptable. In the circumstances I have to inform you that the matter will be referred to the Land Commission for decision. Plans of the lot will be prepared and forwarded for signature at an early date, and notice of the hearing of the case will be communicated to you in due course.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. M. McKee,
Deputy Secretary.

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, JUNE 17, 1932. No. 1371

OPEN AIR CONCERT SEASON—1932.

A report by the Conductor, embodying his proposals in connection with the forthcoming open air concert season, with comment thereon by the Treasurer & Controller and the Commissioner of Public Works, was considered by the Orchestra and Band Committee on May 30.

Having regard to the relatively small attendance at the orchestral concerts in the Race Club enclosure during the last summer season, members were prepared to support the Conductor's proposal that these be discontinued and that three instead of two concerts be given weekly in Jessfield Park.

In respect to his proposal that improved lighting facilities be provided for the band stand enclosure in Jessfield Park, the Conductor urged that, in addition to the candle lanterns at present utilized, four or five powerful arc lamps be installed to provide extra light prior to and after performances and during the intervals between the performances. He was strongly of opinion that this additional amenity would attract larger audiences, particularly Chinese, with whom the orchestral concerts were becoming increasingly popular. The cost of this installation, estimated at Tls. 1,000, would, he submitted, be offset by the increased receipts which would accrue by giving an extra weekly concert in the park in lieu of that formerly held in the Race Club enclosure.

The Superintendent of Parks and Open Spaces undertook to arrange with the caterer for an improved arrangement and decoration of the tables at which refreshments were served.

In connection with the existing candle lighting system, it was noted that some 20,000 candles were used throughout the season and that the candle and lantern supply for the forthcoming season had already been purchased.

Replying to members, the Deputy Commissioner of Public Works stated that 900 lanterns were used on the occasion of each orchestral performance. He agreed that an electric installation in substitution of the lantern system would reduce maintenance costs, as the latter involved the employment of some fifteen coolies. The capital cost of converting this system could be estimated at Tls. 5,000 to Tls. 6,000. At members' request, he undertook prior to the commencement of the 1933 summer season to submit detailed figures of cost for the conversion of this system to an electric installation.

Members supported the Conductor's proposal that the price for a few rows of chairs near the orchestra stand be increased to $1, the number and position of such chairs for which an increased charge is made being left to his discretion.

In respect to the Conductor's further proposal that the allocation between the Public Works Department and the Orchestra of receipts from open air concerts be reconsidered in favour of the Orchestra, from departmental comment submitted it was noted that the proportion of 50 per cent allocated to the Public Works Department during the last two summer seasons was less than the out-of-pocket expenses actually incurred by that Department.

The Deputy Commissioner of Public Works submitted detailed figures of cost for maintenance and supplies, and stated that these expenses were incurred solely on behalf of the orchestral concerts as distinct from the ordinary amenities provided in the parks.

After perusal of these figures, members were not prepared to recommend revision of the existing allocation of revenue from the open air concerts. In order, however, to effect a slight economy, the Superintendent of Parks and Open Spaces undertook as an experiment during the first concert to reduce the number of lanterns hitherto used; if necessary the reduced number to be increased later.

In view of the very small receipts which accrue from the hire of chairs in the enclosure in the Public Garden, and in order slightly to reduce labour costs, it was decided to discontinue the provision of chairs in the roped-off enclosure for the weekly afternoon brass band performance in the Public Garden.

The weekly plan of the orchestral and brass band concerts submitted by the Conductor was then approved, subject to the closing time of the orchestral concerts being extended from 11 p.m. to 11.15 p.m. His further proposal that the price for the hire of chairs for the brass band evening concerts in the Public Garden and Hongkew Park, remain at 20 cents, was endorsed. Members also adopted his proposal that the open air concert season be inaugurated with an orchestral concert in Jessfield Park on Saturday, June 11, the usual publicity being given in the local press and the "Gazette." In this connection prepare explanatory notes on the members accepted an offer to prepare explanatory notes on the works performed by the Orchestra for transmission through the Press Information Office to the Chinese Press.

The Committee recommended: (I) that the weekly orchestral concert hitherto held in the Race Club enclosure be discontinued and that an extra performance, in lieu, be given in Jessfield Park; (II) that four or five arc lamps be installed in the enclosure at Jessfield Park at an approximate cost of Tls. 1,000, the estimated annual charge being Tls. 125; (III) that the charge for the hire of a few rows of chairs in the Jessfield Park enclosure be increased to $1.

The recommendations of the Committee were approved by the Council on June 15.

BROADCASTING OF ORCHESTRAL CONCERTS.

From a memorandum submitted, members of the Orchestra and Band Committee, at a meeting on May 30, noted that the agreement with China Broadcast, Ltd., for the broadcasting of the orchestra concerts expired at the conclusion of the winter season. As owing to the fact that the broadcasting arrangements during the past season were in a more or less experimental stage, and were far from satisfactory, members concurred with the Chairman that no arrangement be entered into for the broadcasting of the open air concerts. The Chairman stated that as an experiment the Orchestra on one occasion broadcasted from the studio of China Broadcast Ltd., with highly successful results. In order that the artistic reputation of the Orchestra might not suffer through defective broadcasting, he was considering a scheme whereunder additional facilities would be provided to ensure that the difficulties experienced during the past season would be overcome. His proposal was adopted that the scheme be considered in detail and concrete proposals submitted to the Council prior to the commencement of the 1932 winter concert season.

PROCLAMATION.

DETERMINATION OF STATE OF EMERGENCY.

NOTICE is hereby given that the State of Emergency declared on January 28, 1932, will cease to exist as from 6 a.m., Monday, June 13, 1932.

LAND COMMISSION.

CASE No. 227

Scheduled widening of Yuen Ming Yuen Road, Cadastral Lot 9A, held in the Council Chamber on Monday, May 9, 1932.

	Tls.
Claim by China . Baptist Publication Society	5,760
Council's offer (Subsequently withdrawn)	3,680
Award	1,992

PROCEEDINGS.

Mr. J. T. Williams appears for the registered owners. The Council is represented by Mr. R. W. S. Winter.

Mr. Winter states that before Mr. Williams commences the proceedings he would like to say that the Council withdraws all offers of compensation which have been made previously and now asks for a free surrender of the scheduled area.

Opening his case Mr. Williams remarks that he presumes the Land Commissioners have read the correspondence exchanged between himself and the Council regarding it, (this correspondence having been reproduced in the "Municipal Gazette" of March 25). The issue concerned a small piece of land from U.S.C. Lot 3873, comprising an area according to the survey of mow 0.064. As would be noted from the correspondence, he had offered, on behalf of the China Baptist Publication Society, to surrender this strip of land against payment by the Council of Tls. 5,760. That offer had not been based on the present market value of the land but was based on its assessed value. He considered it a just offer as it represented quite a substantial loss to his Society in view of the actual amount paid for the lot some two years and four months previously. Finally the Society was surrendering very valuable floor space. As a criterion he would like to refer to the case of the present cadastral lot No. 9—the old Lyceum Theatre lot having been split into two lots bearing Nos. 9 and 9A respectively. The Municipal Council had owned a small strip of land adjacent to lot No. 9 which it did not need for road widening purposes. This strip the Council had "required" the Christian Literature Society to buy at the assessed value; hence by analogy land on the other side of the road (e.g. lot 9A) should be worth its assessed value.

In the same locality, at a point less than 200 feet from lot 9A the Council had paid to the Shanghai Land Investment Company the assessed value for a strip of land required for widening Museum Road. Therefore it is reasonable and fair that the Council should pay to the present claimant the assessed value for the scheduled land. The Shanghai Land Investment Company is a concern which makes money out of real estate transactions whereas the China Baptist Publication Society is a religious and philanthropic institution whose income goes into its work and is not used for private profit.

Continuing Mr. Williams says he has been informed by people familiar with land surrenders that the correct procedure is to deduct 1/3 of the assessed value of the land for betterment and then to add 10 per cent of the value as compensation for compulsory surrender. The offer of the Council was several hundreds of taels below the amount which would be arrived at if computed on this basis.

Mr. Winter challenges the word "required" used by Mr. Williams in connection with the sale of a strip of land to the Christian Literature Society. Mr. Williams explains that he may not have used the correct term but his informant had used that expression, Mr. Winter rejoins that the Council did not force the sale, having no power to do so. It was only natural that the owners of the adjacent property would find it advantageous to acquire the strip in question. On Mr. Williams raising the point that the Council might refuse a building permit if the owners had not purchased this strip of land, Mr. Winter contends the Council could not do so, and is supported in this statement by the Commissioners.

Continuing Mr. Winter says that the Commissioners know that Land Regulation VIA under which they are appointed states that the Commissioners shall determine the compensation (if any) to be paid for the land required taking into account the increase or decrease in the value of the remainder of the property.

He wishes to draw attention to the fact that the word "property" is used. This means both land and buildings in Anglo-Saxon law on which the Land Regulations were based. This is a common fallacy as evidenced in the claim in this case that the value of land excised is the amount of compensation to be paid. That value is only one factor which has to be considered. The question to be decided is the depreciation or appreciation in capital value of the remaining piece of land due to the surrender of the required area and to the benefits of a widened road.

The owners are entitled to demand that the value of their estate shall be the same after the surrender as before and if they can prove a diminution in value, it is the amount of this diminution which the Council must pay.

The Commissioners, therefore, are called upon to decide what is the value of the land before the road widening is effected, and what will be the value of the land after the improvement.

In the case now before the Commission—as there were, in effect, no buildings at the time of the excision, the owners having demolished the old building,—there is no question of depreciation of buildings but of land only.

It will be shown that although this lot has surrendered about 7 per cent of its area, the remainder of the property as it is now is at least equal in value to the property prior to excision. That is, that the benefit which is obtained by the widening of the road offsets the slight loss of area. If the Commissioners agree with this then it is submitted they have no option but to award a free surrender as they are entitled to do under the Land Regulations.

He would first draw attention to the fact that prior to excision the average width of Yuen Ming Yuen Road fronting this lot was approximately 25-ft. and that the Council's scheduling provides for a 40-ft. roadway. Of this 15 feet increase width Cadastral Lot No. 9 A is required to give 4-ft. 10-in. only.

It is also necessary to refer to Clauses 14 (a) and (b) of the Building Regulations which cover the permissible height of new foreign buildings. The owners had taken full advantage of these conditions.

Putting in a sketch, Mr. Winter says it shows clearly the operation of these Regulations: that due to the decision of the Council the owners have been enabled to carry their new building to a height of 60-ft.—1½ times the width of the scheduled road before stepping back.

Had the road not been scheduled for widening the owners could only have built to a height of 37½-ft. before stepping back.

From this sketch will also be seen the actual gain in floor space.

The building frontage of this lot —excluding the private road on the south—is 75-ft. 9-in.; the average set back is 4-ft. 10-in. Therefore as shown by these figures the resultant gain is 1,494 square feet.

Placing before the Commissioners certain schedules Mr. Winter points out that from these figures it will be seen that the increased cubic capacity of the building is 14,603 cubic feet.

Taking Tls. 0.75 a cubic foot, which is a very fair sum for this type of building, as the building cost the increased building cost amounts to Tls. 10,952.

The eventual rental gain will as shown be Tls. 1,204 per annum.

It will be observed that in this later calculation a deduction of 15 per cent of the floor space has been made to allow for walls and corridors.

The net annual increase in rental value of Tls. 1,204 capitalized at 6 per cent (which is a very fair allowance for this type of building) gives Tls. 20,066; deducting the increased building cost of Tls. 10,952, a gain in the value of remainder of the property, as specified by the Land Regulations, of Tls. 9,114 is shown.

This road was scheduled to 40-ft. in 1921 and there is not the slightest doubt that the owners took into consideration the improved conditions when they purchased the property in 1930.

It is not proposed to take up the time of the Commissioners with the advantages of easier access with a consequent increase in rents which will be derived on account of a widened road.

Concluding Mr. Winter says that in his submission the Council has made out an irrefutable case for a free surrender.

Mr. Williams says he would like to mention another point which had been brought to his attention by the architect. The architect had told him that because a 14 feet private road had been left at the southern end of the property, the owners were entitled to erect a higher building than otherwise would be the case.

From this circumstance it could be argued that the calculations regarding the total cubic space in the building rested on incorrect premises and thus should be rejected.

The fact that the owners had taken full advantage of what the regulations permitted in erecting their building had, in his submission, no direct relation to the value of the remaining portion of the land after the excision for road widening purposes had been made.

Mr. Winter says there is no agreement with the Council regarding the point alleged to have been mentioned by the architect; that the roadway was made by the owners to suit their own convenience or that of their tenants and does not have any bearing on the point at issue in this case.

The Commissioners announce that the award will be given in due course.

AWARD

That compensation be paid to the registered owners in the sum of Tls. 1,992.00 for the area surrendered.

PUBLIC WORKS.

Important work has been undertaken by the Public Works Department on bridge and landing stages during May. Repairs on the under deck of Garden Bridge and to the soffit of Hanbury Road Bridge are still in progress, while general repairs to Fokien Road, Yu Chung Poo and Kwangchow Road bridges have been completed. At the Chemulpo Wharf considerable steel and concrete work has been done: Lay Road and Chinwangtao Road jetties are undergoing general repairs and painting; Ewo Road Public Dock has been dredged, 1,039 fong of mud having been removed by the Whangpoo Conservancy Board.

At Penang Road Incinerator, the Commissioner of Public Works reports, all mechanical details, except the crane grabs, are now finished, and power wiring and pipework are completed except for minor adjustments. The cooling water pumps were started on May 26, and the upper roof tank filled and tested as also were all water pipes and connections. The filter was filled and tested on May 29, but is not yet passed for duty. Progress has been made with the boundary wall of the Muirhead Road Incinerator; the steel and formwork have been erected for the office and store, and the footings of the retaining walls have all been concreted.

Sinza Market is nearing completion. The ground floor concrete has been poured, underground work and channels finished in latrines, plastering is 95 per cent completed, railings are completed, steel window casements are 80 per cent completed, and the erection of grillages has been started on the ground floor. Kerb and channel to the alleyways is 90 per cent complete. Exterior dressing has been started and roof trusses erected over openings.

Work on the Administration Block at the Gaol Extension has reached the stage of constructing the floors, setting up steel casements, fixing grilles, and installing electrical, heating and sanitary systems. At the Indian Warders' Quarters considerable advancement has been made, while at the Police Hospital lifts have been completed, the radiator enclosures to operating theatres have been fixed and the drainage and sewerage works completed. Erection of lifts at the Gaol Hospital has begun, and the electric lighting installation is in hand.

External constructional work at Wayside Police Barracks is practically completed. The soil and surface drainage is in hand, and internal plumbing work is proceeding satisfactorily. Ground floor slabs are being cast, and fitting up internally is in hand.

The constructional work is completed and internal finishing is proceeding satisfactorily at Carter Road Police Quarters. The contract for hardware has been let. The drainage has been completed, and the clearing of the site and surfacing of the pavement and compound are in hand. Work at Point Police Station, Barracks and S.V.C. Magazine is steadily progressing.

Other important municipal properties reported on by the Commissioner include the Abattoir, Sawgin Road, where the assembly and fixing of the machinery and fittings to the first slaughter floor is in hand, and the drainage and sewerage works are nearing completion, metal windows being delivered and fixed.

The total length of highways surfaced in May was 2.449 miles, and the total area surfaced 32,655 square yards.

From Pingchiao Quarry, 3,956.10 fong of materials was received by the Public Works Department during May.

Cleansing and watering in May:

The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, JUNE 24, 1932. No. 1372

TELEPHONE COMPANY.

Application for Increased Tariff Granted.

In the "Municipal Gazette" of May 27, 1932, reference was made to an application made by the Shanghai Telephone Company for an increase in the tariff rate as from March 27, 1932, i.e., the date of the completion of the conversion to automatic working of the whole telephone system within the Settlement.

By Clause 13 of the Franchise Agreement, 1930, the tariff of charges in force at the date of the agreement was to continue in force until the conversion to automatic working was completed. Upon the completion of the conversion the tariff of charges was to be amended upon the basis set out therein and the Telephone Co. was entitled to the tariff recommended by Mr. B. O. Anson in his report published in the "Municipal Gazette" of November 29, 1929.

In pursuance of previous practice, representatives of the French Municipality and the Council conducted preliminary negotiations with representatives of the Telephone Co. and on June 10 a resumé of the conclusions was submitted to members of the Public Utilities Committee.

The representatives of the Telephone Co. pointed out that in the reconstruction of the telephone system they had expended a capital outlay which exceeded by 14 per cent the estimates given in the Anson Report. Mr. Anson had predicated his report on a capital outlay of Tls. 8,000,000 when the tael was 2/6½d. This was equivalent to G.$4,936,000 whereas the amount actually spent was G.$5,-636,229. When expressed in taels this capital outlay became Tls. 17,342,242, approximately 117 per cent above the silver expenditure estimated by Mr. Anson.

Moreover, it had been found that there were serious defects in the Anson recommendations inasmuch as the literal application of the references in his Report would rob the Company of the benefits which Mr. Anson intended. Since Mr. Anson did not refer to every item in the present tariff scale certain items were left unmentioned and if in these cases the present tariffs were to be continued loopholes would be left open by which the increased tariff could very largely be evaded. In other words, the increase in tariff would be illusory in that it would not produce the revenue it pretended to provide. It was, therefore, considered by the Council's representatives that the best course would be for the Anson rates as corrected and rendered workable to apply retrospectively from March 27, pending investigation, which is to proceed immediately, of the claim to the higher rate which, if justified, would come into force at some future agreed date.

The Treasurer and Controller commented that under the Anson proposals the rate for a business telephone was increased by 34.6 per cent and other rates by 25 per cent. He was satisfied as to the equity of the Company's contention that it was not intended that charges to which no specific reference was made by Anson should remain unchanged. Accordingly in the schedule submitted by the Company effect had been given to the Anson recommendations and in conformity with his percentage increases such business and residential charges to which he made no specific reference had been increased by 34.6 per cent and 25 per cent respectively. Certain installation and similar charges had been left unchanged, and in one case (the charge for temporary installation) the Anson percentage increases had been exceeded. This was necessary in order to make the charge for a temporary business telephone slightly in excess of the rate for a permanent installation. He was satisfied that the tariff of charges submitted by the Company was in conformity with the letter and/or spirit of Mr. Anson's proposals and he recommended that it receive the Council's approval.

The Secretary stated that at this stage the Council's approval only of the Anson rates as rendered workable was requested, and that if a further increase were applied for the Company would be required to submit detailed particulars to both Councils to substantiate its claim.

Upon a member of the Public Utilities Committee enquiring whether it was necessary to adopt the Anson rates with retrospective effect to March 27, the Chairman of the Committee stated that under the Franchise Agreement the Council was committed to this. The member then suggested that to avoid misunderstanding on the part of subscribers full publicity should be given of the approval accorded to this revised tariff and that it should be clearly stated that a further increase in the tariff would be approved only after the fullest consideration by both Councils of detailed particulars to be submitted by the Company. In these views members concurred.

The Council at its meeting on June 15 endorsed the recommendation of the Public Utilities Committee that the Company's application for an increase in the tariff rates, based on the Anson percentage proposals and extended to charges to which no specific reference was made under the Anson report, be approved with effect from March 27, 1932.

CONSULAR INFORMATION.

A letter from Count G. Ciano di Cortellazzo informs the Council that, having been appointed Italian Minister to China, he has handed over charge of the affairs of the Italian Consulate General to Vice-Consul Count G. del Bono, who will act as Consul-General, from June 18.

COUNCIL MEETING.

A meeting of the Council was held on June 15. There were present:—Messrs. A. D. Bell (Chairman), H. E. Arnhold (Vice-Chairman), Captain J. J. Bahnson, Messrs. B. D. F. Beith, S. L. Hsu, O. S. Lieu, P. W. Massey, O. Okamoto, F J. Raven, H. Terai, and T. D. Woo.

COMMITTEE MEETING.

A meeting of the Works Committee was held on June 14. There were present:—Messrs. F. J. Raven (In the Chair), B. D. F. Beith, W. Gockson, and T Funatsu.

SALE OF SURPLUS LAND.

The Municipal Council has sold to the Metropolitan Land and Building Co., Ltd., mow 1.799 of surplus land at the southwest corner of Foochow and Kiangse Roads at the rate of Tls. 206,500 per mow, making a total sum of Tls. 371,494. The Council stipulated that the proposed building shall conform to the satisfaction of the Council with the style and standard of the buildings recently erected in the immediate vicinity, construction to begin not later than March 1, 1933. The Company will submit to the Council plans of the proposed building at an early date.

PUBLIC AND THOMAS HANBURY SCHOOL FOR BOYS AND HOSTEL.

The Council at its meeting on June 15 adopted a recommendation of the Board of Education that in view of the retirement of Mr. R. Ross, Headmaster, which is to take effect from June 30, applications for the Headmastership be invited from members of the Council's educational staff.

NEW OMNIBUS SERVICE.

An application by the China General Omnibus Co. to divert the small omnibuses operating on express routes A. and C. to include Great Western Road and the western portion of Bubbling Well Road, was granted by the Municipal Council at its meeting on June 15 on the recommendation of the Public Utilities Committee. The Omnibus Company reported that it had received application for service from residents in Great Western Road.

PUBLIC HEALTH SITUATION.

The Commissioner of Public Health reported to the Council on June 15 that the number of cholera cases was increasing, but not so rapidly as in previous epidemic years. He quoted detailed figures of the cases which have occurred amongst the foreign and Chinese communities up to date, and stated that this was the first year since 1902 that cholera cases had occurred in the month of May. Whilst it was impossible to predict whether or not the epidemic this year would be on so large a scale as in 1902, it was satisfactory to note that the epidemic this year was not progressing so rapidly as in 1902.

With regard to the sanitation measures taken in Chapei, the Commissioner of Public Health stated that he had recently visited the various areas and that their condition might be regarded as satisfactory. Area No. 1 had now reverted to Chinese control. A certain amount of refuse had accumulated in this area, but this might be due to the unavoidable dislocation which occurred in the course of the transfer to the Chinese Authorities of the control of this area. Area No. 2 continued to be cleansed by the Public Works Department and its condition was satisfactory.

Anti-Cholera Inoculation.

Additional facilities have now been provided by the Health Department to augment existing arrangements for free inoculation against cholera. In addition to the mobile units now operating throughout the Settlement, arrangements have been concluded to inoculate Chinese and indigent foreigners daily from 2 to 4.30 p.m. (Saturdays and Sundays excepted) at the following Branch Health Offices:—

Central District 23 Hankow Road
Northern District 100 Tsepoo Road
Eastern District 10 Tungchow Road

Presentation of Chinese Pennant.

On June 20, Mr. Wang Hsiao-lai, President of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, who was accompanied by Mr. L. T. Yuan, a Chinese member of the Council, presented the Shanghai Volunteer Corps with a silk pennant, mounted on a staff, in appreciation of the services rendered by the Corps during the recent Sino-Japanese conflict. The pennant bears Chinese characters reading:—

To the Commandant
Shanghai Volunteer Corps
Guarantee of Peace of the Land.
Presented by the Shanghai Chamber of Commerce, 5th month of 21st year of Republic of China.

Mr. Wang Hsiao-lai, in presenting the pennant to Colonel Thoms, delivered the following speech:—

"Col. Thoms and Officers of the S.V.C. Since the opening of Shanghai as a commercial port and the creation of the International Settlement, it has experienced two international wars, but the inhabitants enjoyed peace and order during those periods. One of these wars was 49 years ago, while the other was 38 years ago, and there must still be some business men of our friendly Powers here who passed through the wars on the spot. These two wars both lasted over eight months—one was over a year —but the trade in the Yangtze Valley and the internationally administered Settlement was respected. The Chinese Government subsequently created a fortified zone at Woosung, but it did not effect the Settlement, so it is plain that since China entered into commercial treaty relations with the Powers she has always protected international commercial areas to the best of her ability. This policy has never been changed, and though she had to undergo serious sacrifices she has always restrained herself to the extreme. And so this port, created and developed with 80 or 90 years of labour, has been preserved in spite of the fact that it had recently to go through a crisis underamit of 38 or 49 years ago. I am of opinion that this is due to two reasons: first, because the Chinese army possesses extreme forbearance and loves others as themselves; secondly, because the S.V.C. has ample defence force and is full of public spirit. Out of this admiration we, the Chamber of Commerce, present this pennant to show our everlasting regard. And I recall the history of the peace and order of the Settlement being respected and preserved in past, and I think all gentlemen present here are at one as to our hopes for the future."

Colonel Thoms replied: "Mr. Wang Hsiao-lai, and Gentlemen—I am very sensible of the honour the Chinese Chamber of Commerce has done the Corps by presenting it with this beautiful pennant which, on behalf of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps, I accept very gratefully. I also have to express the Corps' appreciation of the fact that you should go to so much trouble, as you have, to come here to-day and present it in person.

"The presence of one Officer from each of the Units of the Corps is a token of the unity of the Corps in preserving peace in the Settlement. The members of the Corps are servants of the Council and in the performance of our duty we know no politics and have but one ideal—that of keeping the peace within the Settlement and of protecting the lives and property of all its citizens of whatever nationality.

"The possession of this banner will always remind us of the happy relations which exist between us and the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, and it will be kept as a treasured memento for all time."

Shanghai Bankers' Tribute.

Mr. K. H. Ling, writing to the Council on behalf of the Shanghai Bankers' Association, states:—

"It has come to our knowledge that, as peace and order have now been restored in the Settlement, you will soon recall the Shanghai Volunteers who have been stationed on the premises of the member banks of this Association since February 28, 1932, when an alarming situation was created by the unfortunate event.

"We wish to take this opportunity of conveying to you the sincere thanks of our member banks for the invaluable services rendered by the Shanghai Volunteers in protecting their premises and also in enabling them to carry on their business as usual."

MUNICIPAL PROPERTIES.

No. 1789. Extract from P. O. No. C 5323 dated June 13, 1932. The State of Emergency having been declared to have ceased with effect from to-day's date, Police mobilisation is cancelled.

The Commissioner of Police wishes to take the opportunity to place on record his appreciation of the very valuable work done by the Police Force in the maintenance of law and order during the period of emergency. The crisis which has passed was one of the most serious that have affected the Settlement. On no occasion have the efficiency and the morale of all branches of the Force been put to a greater test. The Commissioner is proud to record that the Force has stood the test in the most praiseworthy manner and the work performed in the past four months, performed with silent efficiency, is a record of devotion to duty of which each member of the Force has reason to be proud. The members of all branches worked unsparingly in their task of safeguarding the interests and well being of all sections of the community. The dangers of the period and the difficulties that arose were faced with courage and determination. The men stationed in several Police Districts, particularly in the Dixwell Road, Hongkew, Harbin Road and West Hongkew Districts were in constant danger from shell fire and rifle fire, but carried out their duties undeterred night and day. Many potentially dangerous situations were dealt with determination, tact and restraint and in a manner worthy of the highest commendation. The Specials were mobilised during the period and in spite of danger, discomfort and inconvenience to themselves spared no effort in their task of supporting the regular Force. Their work was of the highest quality and the work done by the large section of the Specials posted in Hongkew District during the most dangerous period was marked by gallantry and devotion to duty that is worthy of the highest praise. The Commissioner of Police feels that he can pay the Specials no higher compliment than by quoting the simple words of the Divisional Officer of "C" Division in reporting on their work "We could not have carried on without them". The Commissioner of Police conveys his thanks and an expression of his high appreciation to the Officers and members of the Foreign Branch, to the Officers and members of the Japanese Branch, to the Officers and members of the Sikh Branch, to Officers and members of the Chinese Branch and to the Officers and members of the Specials, all of whom worked together, wholeheartedly, without fear, and with marked efficiency, in the interests of the community as a whole. Thanks are also due to the members of the Clerical Staff for the excellent work done by them. The Commissioner of Police is proud to have been in command of so fine a Force during the period.

F. W. GERRARD,
Commissioner of Police.
R. G. MACDONALD,
A/c in charge, Specials.

Haining Road.

Negotiations have been concluded with the Chinese owner for the surrender for a sum of Tls. 2.842 of an area of mow 0.098 of unregistered land west of Cadastral Lot 562 (west of North Shanse Road) required for the scheduled widening of Haining Road.

Sinza Road Widening and Chengtu Road—Surplus Road Land.

An area of mow 1.072 scheduled from Cadastral Lot 1025 for the widening of Sinza Road has been surrendered by Messrs. Lester, Johnson & Morriss in exchange for mow 0.285 of the Council's surplus road land fronting Cadastral Lot 1025, Chengtu Road, subject to payment by the Council of a sum of Tls. 24,674.

PUBLIC HEALTH REPORT FOR MAY

The Commissioner of Public Health, in his May report, states:—

Vital Statistics.—In normal years May is usually a healthy month, and this fact is to some extent reflected in the current death-rates.

The foreign rate was 10.10, one of the lowest on record, against 12.30 last month, whilst the Chinese rate was 13.60 compared with 20.30.

Examination of the death records does not show any particular item responsible for the decline, except in the case of Smallpox.

Communicable Diseases. — This year Cholera was first reported in neighbouring territories during April, and first appeared in the Settlement on May 2.

The appearance of Cholera as early as April has not been noted since the year 1902, nor have there been cases other than occasional sporadic and doubtful ones during May since that year.

Since a number of suggestions have been made concerning its early appearance, it is of interest to note that Cholera is known to have been moderately prevalent in Central China during April, though the exact prevalence cannot be ascertained owing to the lack of certain necessary records. Hence, since cases have not been noted throughout the winter in Shanghai, in spite of a careful watch being kept, it is more rational to suppose that the disease has in some manner been imported rather than to attribute it to infection from within, as for example, from house refuse.

While it is difficult in any epidemic to detect the original source, one may perhaps permissibly suspect that in this case it is connected in some way with traffic from already infected areas.

An additional point that might be of interest is quoted from the Annual Report of 1931:—

"It is important to note that, according to past epidemiological records of this disease, it was possible to predict that 1931 would be a year of increased incidence. Events showed that this was so. Should the periodicity cycle rigidly follow the course observed during the past, next year will require redoubled precautions and be a critical year".

The number of resident cases notified during the month was one foreign and 24 Chinese. On investigation by the Department a further number of unreported Chinese cases was discovered bringing the total up to 52. There was one foreign death but no Chinese deaths reported among residents.

As regards the severity of the present outbreak, it is of course impossible to draw any deductions, but it may be of interest to call attention to certain facts in regard to Cholera in Shanghai. In 1902, 160 deaths were recorded from a population of 350,000 only, and that the cases which have occurred this year in the whole area of Shanghai are only slightly more than the above figure for the deaths, whilst the death rate is infinitely below this figure. Hence it will be seen that something has been accomplished in the way of prevention, since the present figure relates to a population of 3,000,000, or thereabout, i.e. about eight times the population of 1902.

Whilst there are a certain number of factors of statistical interest which might modify the above statement slightly, it is roughly correct.

In view of the great interest taken in Cholera at the present time, it is desirable to draw attention to the fact that during the last ten years, as far as the International Settlement is concerned, the average annual death rate for Tuberculosis has been 11.7 per 10,000, for Smallpox 1.35, for Scarlet Fever 1.55, and for Cholera 1.12. Whilst it is admitted that possibly concealed cases occur, this is less true of Cholera than any other infectious disease, hence the above tabulation can be regarded as reasonably accurate for purposes of comparison.

When one realises that in Calcutta, according to the graph in their Annual Report, the lowest rate per 10,000 for the last twenty years has been 7, it will be realised that serious though the Cholera situation is in Shanghai, there is evidence that sanitary measures to some extent cope with the situation, and that improvement is to be noted in the Settlement during this period. It will be seen also that Cholera does not figure as the most important communicable disease as far as mortality rates are concerned. For these reasons, notwithstanding the predication made last year it has not seemed advisable to alarm the public unduly. It is needless to add that in Shanghai, like other towns, an evolutionary policy in regard to further improvements must be adopted with a view to removing sources of epidemic diseases, and that there are still numerous matters which could be criticised, the improvement of which must await financial and structural development, and more particularly the diffusion of education on health matters.

Smallpox continued to steadily decline and on the whole the incidence was roughly a quarter of that recorded in April. There were, however, 9 foreign cases notified of which 6 were non-resident. Among the Chinese community there were ten cases reported with five deaths.

Scarlet Fever appears to have reached a peak in April and then declined slowly. 19 Chinese cases were notified with ten deaths, but the preponderance of cases over deaths leads one to suppose that the actual incidence was much greater than the figures appear to show.

Relapsing Fever. Although only 2 foreign resident cases were notified, nevertheless there was an appreciable increase of this disease among the Chinese. Altogether 94 cases came to our notice (46 during April—which were not reported) of which 43 were non-resident.

Another case of Schistosomiasis was notified as having been contracted near Shanghai. No noticeable incidence of other communicable disease is to be noted.

Pathological Laboratory. — The number of specimens examined reached the record total of 1218, an increase of roughly 30 per cent. over last month due, mainly, to the early Cholera outbreak which incidentally also necessitated concentration on vaccine manufacture of which 60 litres were made.

Of the 171 cholera specimens from 169 patients from various sources examined, 125 were positive.

The testing of raw milk for tubercle bacilli proceeded and of six samples examined three were found on animal test to be positive. 36 specimens of mosquito larvae were collected from various parts of the Settlement and examined; only two contained Anopheline, which came from the Western and Eastern Districts respectively.

Investigations were also carried out in collaboration with the Chemical Laboratory in an obscure case of food poisoning, said to have been due to eating chocolate cake.

Pasteur Treatment.—75 persons called for advice, cauterisation and/or treatment, including 14 from outports. There were no fatalities reported during the month.

Hospitals Division. — Comparatively few patients were admitted to the Foreign and Chinese Isolation Hospitals, the reduction in numbers being most noticeable in the latter. This was largely due to the steady decline in the incidence of Smallpox and Scarlet Fever.

At the Mental Hospital, owing to lack of accommodation, four patients had to be refused admission.

A case of Typhus was admitted to the Police Hospital from the Municipal Gaol. As this patient had only been in the Gaol a few days the infection had apparently been contracted outside.

Accommodation at the T.B. Sanatorium, Hungjao Road, has not yet been fully occupied.

The Cholera Inoculation campaign opened for the season on May 2. Work was concentrated in the Eastern and Western Districts (industrial sectors) with three squads each under a Chinese Medical Officer. Altogether 27,855 persons were inoculated, mostly of the labouring classes.

Food and Dairies.—Milk Supply. All licensed dairies in the Northern District, with the exception of two, have now been reoccupied. Of 125 milk samples analysed 14 were of poor or doubtful purity, but only one was actually adulterated. Filtration test of two samples disclosed excessive dirt. Bacterial tests of milk from Grade "A" & "B" Dairies showed a comparatively low number below standard. Two samples from unlicensed dairies had a high bacterial content.

The Veterinary Surgeon reports that cases of Pleuropneumonia occurred in dairies previously infected, and appeared for the first time in two others, which had hitherto been free from this disease. In the latter however, the mortality was comparatively slight due to the use of immunising vaccine.

In connection with the routine veterinary examination of dairy herds, of 298 animals examined 57 or nearly 20 per cent. were found affected with pathological conditions.

Tuberculin testing proceeded and five herds, comprising 293 animals were dealt with. The percentage of reactors averaged 86.7 which emphasises the imperative need for pasteurisation of milk.

Meat Supply.—Conditions at the municipal slaughterhouse and pig slaughterhouse are now practically normal. At the pig slaughterhouse the kill was actually higher than the corresponding month last year, while the quality of the pork is also improving.

Over 8 tons of condemned material was passed through the Disposal Plant.

Markets and Bakeries.—With the exception of Elgin and Pingliang Road Markets, the number of stallholders is now almost normal, though the volume of business is still below par.

The new Liaoyang Road Market was opened with all stall space fully occupied. Certain improvements in progress in the markets may be mentioned; the relaying of floors, and the registration of stall holders at Foochow Road Market, also the re-arrangement of stalls at Mohawk Market.

In connection with the routine testing of weights and scales, two defective sets were discovered and the owners prosecuted at the Special District Court.

Night inspection work on licensed bakeries has been resumed whilst the approach of summer has brought the necessity for increased supervision over licensed food premises in general, and taking of samples.

Sanitation Division.—During the month considerable attention has been directed to the classification and improvement of the smaller food shops. These being in most instances practically of the open air type, require constant supervision and difficulty is always experienced in getting the licensees to cover food exposed for sale. In addition, in the Western and Eastern districts, a commencement has been made on mosquito reduction work which, during the emergency, had to be neglected somewhat in order to handle matters of greater urgency. Some creeks and ditches have been cleansed, the edges trimmed, and the usual routine oiling performed.

The fish hatcheries in the Jessfield Park (which have been subject to many vicissitudes owing to floods and other causes) have been re-stocked and since young fish (Gambusia) are already appearing, it is hoped that a source of this species has been re-established. In the meantime certain ponds are being stocked with suitable local minnows and mosquito fish.

The routine anti-fly measures were also inaugurated and numerous pits and kongs were abolished and attention given to various dumps.

Modified cleansing operations in certain areas in Chapei were resumed by the P.W.D., and the Sanitation Division cooperated by ascertaining where accumulations etc, were occurring, and in performing a certain amount of preventive and anti-fly work.

Here follow Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases, and of the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics, Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

Chlorine in chloride figures have varied between 2.1 and 3.3 parts per 100,000. Nitrites have been absent except for a period in the first half of the month when the raw water had a definite nitrite content. Free ammonia figures are again approaching normal. Free chlorine has varied from nil to 0.10 parts per million in samples taken from the laboratory taps and from nil to 0.06 parts per million in samples taken at other points.

Bacteriological Examination.—36 samples were examined during the month, 4 from a hydrant and 32 from taps in various parts of the Settlement. In 8 tap samples organisms of the B.coli group were present. 3 contained B.coli communior, 10, 10 and 120 per litre respectively. 4 contained unidentifiable B.coli group, 10, 10 and 36 per litre respectively. 1 contained B.aerogenes 21 per litre and unidentified B.coli group 45 per litre. The remaining tap samples and the 4 hydrant samples contained less than 10 B.coli group per litre.

Report on Analysis.—Satisfactory purification was maintained during the month.

PARKS REPORT FOR MAY.

The Superintendent of Parks and Open Spaces, in his May report, states:—

Jessfield Park. — Displays of Roses, Sweet Peas and Antirrhinums constituted the chief floral attractions during the month, the rose display being especially noteworthy. Collections of Begonia Lloydi, mixed tuberous rooted Begonias, Gloxinia, Streptocarpus and Fuchsia were on view in the greenhouses.

Jessfield Park Zoological Garden. The reconstruction of three outdoor aviaries was practically completed and the erection of an additional animal enclosure commenced.

Additional exhibits received were the following:—

Four Deer, presented by Mrs. John Liddell.

One Civet Cat, presented by Mrs. J. M. Baker.

Four pair Mandarin Ducks, One Indian and One Java Peafowl, purchased.

The Bund Garden.—The erection of a rustic summer house and rose pergola and the reinstatement of the north-west section of the garden is nearing completion.

The Bund Foreshore.—All lawn areas north of Kiukiang Road were dug, levelled and returfed.

Climatic Conditions. — Exceptionally wet weather was experienced during the month under review, low lying lawn areas being continually in a state of saturation which seriously interfered with reinstatement operations.

Rain fell on 20 days, a total of 8.46 inches being recorded, the highest daily figure registered being 1.76 inches on May 19.

Park Visitors.—In spite of the unfavourable weather referred to above, a total of 104,699 persons visited Jessfield Park during the month, this figure being 21,084 in excess of the total for the corresponding month last year.

The highest daily total was recorded on Sunday, May 29, when 15,327 persons entered the park. This figure constitutes a record for Jessfield Park, the previous highest daily total being 13,293 on May 31, 1931.

S.S. "Bombay Maru," South Manchurian Railway Wharf. May 22nd.

The only noteworthy fire during the month occurred on May 22 on a Japanese Army Transport, the "Bombay Maru," moored alongside the South Manchurian Railway Wharf.

Three machines responded from Yangtszepoo Station on receipt of the first call, which was received by telephone at 07.03 hours, and when they arrived flames were seen to be issuing from No. 4 hold to a height of 20 to 25 feet, the fire having gained a strong hold on a large cargo of gasoline, kerosene and oil stored in the No. 4 hold 'tween-decks. Lines were laid from the fire installation on the wharf and strong jets directed on the fire, the pressure in the mains being boosted by pumps through the pumping connections on Yangtszepoo and Chingwangtao Roads.

A considerable quantity of artillery ammunition was stored in No. 3 hold, whilst there were large stocks of ammunition on the wharf in close proximity to the ship, and, with the fire increasing rapidly, there were grave possibilities of a serious explosion, with the result that it was decided to cut the ship adrift and remove it to the lower reaches of the river. Soon after the transport left the wharf, the Brigade Fire Float "Mih-Ho-Loong" and the Customs Float "Huning" arrived and were immediately made fast to the side of ship, whereupon lines were laid to the deck and powerful jets got to work on the fire and on the poop-deck, which had become involved through the flames spreading from the 'tween-decks by way of the ventilators.

The danger of the ammunition in No. 3 hold becoming affected was imminent, particularly in view of the fact that the bulk-head between holds Nos. 3 and 4 rapidly became red-hot, with the result that it was necessary for cooling jets to be played continuously both in the lower hold and 'tween-decks.

With the fire thus successfully held and confined to No. 4 hold and the poop-deck, the transport was towed to a point about six miles down the river where it was beached under the direction of the Harbour Authorities. Additional lines were then laid from the two floats.

The extinction of the fire proved a difficult and exacting task on account of the large quantity of highly-inflammable cargo, the old construction of the ship being an additional handicap, and officers and men operated the fire floats continuously for nearly 5½ days before the outbreak was finally extinguished and all danger of its re-igniting had passed.

Detachments of the Japanese Army and Navy, and the ship's crew, rendered valuable assistance throughout.

I desire to record the appreciation of this Department for the advice and assistance rendered by the Harbour Master and his Staff and for the help given by the Captains of the Shanghai Tug and Lighter Co.'s tugs "Saucy" and "St. Sampson."

Ambulance Service.

Emergency Branch.—The number of calls—a total of 132—constituted a record, in that it was the highest number received in any month since the inauguration of this branch of the service in January 1931.

135 patients were conveyed to the various hospitals.

THE LESTER TRUST

REPORT OF THE LESTER TRUSTEES FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1931

Lester Trustees.—The Trustees remain in office as last reported.

Residuary Estate Capital Account.—The cost of the Henry Lester Institute for the past year has been paid out of the accumulated Income and current Income from Endowment properties; the whole of the income on the Residuary Estate (Tls. 1,017,603.90) has therefore been added to the Residuary Capital account making the total Capital of the Trust at 31st December 1931, Tls. 18,591,627.59.

Henry Lester Scholarships.—The fourth examination took place on the 15th October 1931 under the management of the Scholarships Committee; 37 candidates sat and scholarships were awarded to:—

Patricia O'Kane, Public School for Girls.

G. M. Cornfield, Cathedral School for Boys (Henry Lester Endowment).

One of the 1928 scholars forfeited his scholarship on leaving Shanghai.

As the total scholarships awarded will shortly reach the maximum number (8) it will no longer be possible to set a fixed value for each, since the whole income from the original sum of Tls. 50,000 (now Tls. 53,800) appropriated under Clause 14 of the Will, will be divisible equally among the eight scholars. As the 7 per cent Debentures in which the capital fund is at present invested are due for redemption at the end of 1932, it may be assumed that the future value of these scholarships will be about Tls. 375 to Tls. 400 each per annum, this being based on a 6 per cent return on the capital to be reinvested.

Properties. — During the year under review, properties of the Trust have been dealt with as follows:—

B.C. Lot 3562—Cad. Lot 3609, E.D.—The development of this vacant land with modern Chinese buildings was completed during the year, the final payment being due since the accounts were closed.

B.C. Lot 3599—Cad. Lot 3588 E.D.—The mud-filling of this lot was greatly delayed owing to the failure of the contractor and the work has been completed since the close of the year. The final development has been postponed owing to unfavourable conditions caused by recent local disturbances.

B.C. Lots 4028, 4785 and 7423 (Avenue Road).—The building and equipment of the new Medical Research Institute has proceeded satisfactorily and it is hoped that it will be completed and opened before the end of the year 1932.

Clinical Research Unit (Lester Chinese Hospital).—The final cost of the floor occupied by the Clinical Research Unit of the Medical Research Institute has not yet been ascertained, and the sum of Tls. 109,000 has been paid on account of cost of construction and architects' fees. Under the agreement with the Trustees of the Lester Chinese Hospital, the total capital cost (excluding a fixed sum of Tls. 10,000) has to be written off over a period of fifteen (15) years; at the end of this period the Hospital Trustees will be able to claim possession of the floor occupied by the Clinical Unit on payment of this sum of Tls. 10,000 if they so desire, and, under certain circumstances, they can claim earlier possession on payment of the same sum plus any further part of the capital cost not then written off. Arrangements are being made to commence writing off the capital cost of this Unit as from the 1st January 1932.

Henry Lester Institute of Medical Research.—During the year 1931 the Medical Research Institute staff continued its work at the temporary laboratories at 11 Hankow Road. Besides giving the Lester Hospital a provisional diagnostic service the experience gained at these temporary laboratories has been valuable, not only in regard to the equipment of the Clinical Unit at the Lester Hospital but also in relation to the organization of the main Institute.

During the summer interesting observations on mosquito larvae were made by Dr. Mary Andrews in co-operation with the Municipal Health Department, while in August, on the initiative of Dr. R. C. Robertson, it was decided by the Trustees that they would bear the expense of a diagnostic and research unit in the Hospital Ship sent to Hankow for purposes of flood relief. Dr. J. L. Maxwell accompanied Dr. Robertson, and Dr. Andrews followed later. A full report of this work is being published in the medical press. After the withdrawal of the Hospital Ship, work was continued at Wu Shen Miao until the end of the year.

Towards the end of the year the work of the Institute was transferred from the temporary laboratories in Hankow Road to the Clinical Unit at the Lester Chinese Hospital where, during the recent state of war, accommodation was afforded to wounded soldiers, the S. M. Police and the Laboratory Unit of the Health Department of Greater Shanghai. It should be understood, however, that the organization of the Clinical Unit at the Lester Hospital constitutes an integral part of the work of the Henry Lester Institute in the field of clinical research.

During the latter part of 1931 the Director, Dr. H. G. Earle, was in England supervising the preparation of plans for the equipment of the main Institute in consultation with Mr. Alan E. Munby, F.R.I.B.A., Consulting Architect on laboratory design. Provisional arrangements were also made for the appointment of additional staff and the formation of a liaison with the London

School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine and other institutions in Great Britain.

It is hoped that the current year will see the organization of the Laboratory Divisions of the Institute in the new building.

Technical Institute and Lester School.—The seconded services of Professor W. Brown were extended, by kind permission of the Senate and Council of the Hongkong University, until the end of December, 1931, and his final report was completed on the 30th January, 1932. Professor Brown's report includes alternative suggestions for lay-outs to accommodate both the School and Technical Institute on the Seward Road Site, financial estimates for capital outlay and annual expenditure, and a detailed account of his investigations in Europe.

Any definite decision by the Trustees with regard to the Technical Institute and School has been delayed owing to various difficulties, among which the financial instability caused by fluctuations in value of silver, and the recent State of Emergency may particularly be mentioned. Professor Brown's report is at present under consideration and it is hoped that a decision to proceed with one of the suggested schemes may be possible at an early date.

H. LIPSON WARD
Lester Trustees

We have audited the above Balance Sheet, in which are incorporated the London audited accounts, with the books, accounts and vouchers and have received all the information and explanations we have required.

The accounts have been drawn up on a Cash basis, outstanding interest and rents not having been taken into account.

We have inspected the Title-deeds, Securities, etc. or seen certificates from the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation for them, with the exception of the British War Stock held in London, which has been certified by the Bank of England.

Subject to the foregoing, the above Balance Sheet is in our opinion properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the Lester Trust affairs, according to the best of our information and the explanations given to us and as shown by the books and accounts.

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1932. No. 1374

COMMITTEE MEETINGS.

A meeting of the Waterworks Investigation Commission was held on June 20. There were present:—Messrs. H. E. Arnhold (Chairman), Captain J. J. Bahnson, Messrs. Z. U. Kwauk, O. Okamoto, T. D. Woo, and C. C. Woo.

A meeting of the Staff Committee was held on June 21. There were present:—Messrs P. W. Massey (Chairman), B. D. F. Beith, W. Gockson, O. S. Lieu, O. Okamoto and F. J. Raven.

A meeting of the Education Board was held on June 22. There were present:—Mr. A. D. Bell (Chairman), Dr. H. Gordon Thompson, Mr. K. Kuroda, Mrs. N. Leslie, Mr. K. H. Ling, Dr. H. C. E. Liu, Dr. Y. H. Ou, and Mr. L. T. Yuan.

REPORT OF MR. NICHOLAS HILL, JR.

Copies of the Hill report, together with comment thereon by the Treasurer and Controller and written observations by the Commissioner of Public Works, having been furnished to members and a memorandum by the Chinese members containing their observations on Mr. Hill's report having also been submitted, these were considered at a meeting of the Waterworks Investigation Commission on June 20.

The Chairman of the Commission stated that he favoured adoption of the proposal put forward by the Treasurer that the Council should be recommended to accept Mr. Hill's opinion insofar as it related to the Waterworks Company's organization and the efficiency of its administration; and that his further suggestions be noted and in due course subjected to close examination by officials of the Council and the Company in relation to future tariffs. In respect to the observations contained in the memorandum submitted by the Chinese members which dealt primarily with the desirability of conversion of the Company's capital from a gold to a silver basis, this question had been reported on by Mr. Hill and by Messrs. Thomson & Co., and it was to be noted that under the policy adopted by the Company the ratio of its silver capital to that of gold would increase.

In addition to the points raised in the memorandum submitted by the Chinese members, a member stated that without in any way wishing to criticize Mr. Hill's findings or to question his ability as an expert investigator, the fact that he was only able to remain in Shanghai for a very brief period and that he was not thoroughly acquainted with local conditions might have handicapped him in arriving at certain conclusions. He, therefore, decided to put forward the following personal observations on Mr. Hill's findings:—That compared with the statistics of other large cities, the domestic daily per capita consumption of water in Shanghai estimated was too high; that, in connection with water wastage, sufficient consideration might not have been given to the amount of leakage through structural defects, evaporation at the settling beds, etc.; that, in order to avoid criticism, the Company should endeavour to reduce staff and overhead expenses; that, although the quality of the Company's water was described by Mr. Hill as excellent, the supply in certain districts was not free from odour and the taste of chlorine and thus did not conform to the standard laid down in America; that, with regard to the proposed adoption of a general metering system, in his opinion retention of the flat rate system would encourage the poorer class of consumer to a more liberal use of water and thus re-act to the benefit of public health; and that the initial cost of the meter installation might be out of proportion to the saving it was anticipated would be effected.

In respect to the above observations, the Chairman stated that, as a layman, he found it somewhat difficult to challenge the findings which had been put forward by an expert. With regard to the adoption of a system of general metering, this suggestion had been put forward by the Chinese Ratepayers' Association, and the Council had unanimously agreed as to the desirability of the introduction of a general metering system. Moreover, Mr. Hill had specifically recommended the establishment of the metering system without eliminating discrimination in favour of the smaller and poorer classes of consumer. With regard to the quality of the water, Mr. Hill had drawn attention to the high degree of purification required owing to the source of supply being one of the most polluted in the world. It was also to be observed that to improve existing conditions Mr. Hill had recommended, and the Company had agreed to, the construction of a large clear water basin. The measures adopted for waste detection had also been investigated by Mr. Hill and his conclusions recorded.

After further discussion, members of the Commission concurred with the Chairman that Mr. Hill's finding that the charge for water was fair and reasonable be recommended for the Council's acceptance, subject to certain points raised by him and commented on by the Treasurer and the Commissioner of Public Works being taken up between the Council and the Company.

It was recommended:—

(1). That the Commission adopts and recommends for the Council's acceptance Mr. Hill's findings that the charge for water is fair and reasonable and so far as they relate to the Company's organization and the efficiency of its administration, and that certain other suggestions made by him and commented on by the Treasurer and the Commissioner of Public Works be made the subject of discussion between the Council and the Company having particular regard to the following points:

(a). That the question of reduction in overhead expenses be left for negotiations between officials of the Council and of the Company.

(b). That the Company be urged to continue its present policy whereunder its capital requirements are raised in silver.

(c). That in view of the reasons advanced by the Treasurer and the Commissioner of Public Works no increase be authorized in the amount paid for fire protection services.

(d). That in connection with the charge to be imposed under the system of general metering a discrimination be made in favour of the poorer and smaller classes of consumer.

(e) That no change be made in the terms of Clause 17 of the franchise agreement which stipulates that the Company's land cannot be written up beyond its assessed value.

The Council adopted these recommendations on June 29.

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION

No. 4250.

NEW ROAD—TSANG KAH ZAH.

NOTICE is hereby given that the public road now known as Lane No. 806, Avenue Road will be known from October 1, 1932, as Tsang Kah Zah. The Lane is situated north of Avenue Road between Medhurst Road and Carter Road and the new road name will be shown on the Council's road plans for 1933.

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, June 24, 1932.

HOLUNG ROAD DEVIATION.

In a letter submitted to the Council, the City Realty Co., Ltd., requested a deviation to the north of that section of the scheduled Holung Road between Glen Road and Tengyueh Road. The Works Committee was informed that if this application were approved, this Company was prepared to make a free surrender of such area from its property as was required for the deviated road extension. The owners of the property through which this road is at present scheduled had intimated that they would raise no objection to the deviation of the road.

As the present scheduled road line cuts through two villages, thus rendering a road extension a long and difficult matter and as it would also cut through an area which had been scheduled for acquisition as a park, the Commissioner of Public Works supported this application, and the Works Committee recommended that it be approved in principle and that the usual formal notification be published in the Municipal Gazette calling for protests within one month.

The Council on June 29 approved the Committee's recommendation.

BOARD OF FILM CENSORS.

Mr. E. Gordon Lowder has accepted the Municipal Council's invitation again to serve on the Board of Film Censors.

EDUCATION.

St. George's Society Scholarships.

The Council is gratified to learn from the Trustees that, as a result of the examinations held on June 2, the scholarships offered by the Royal Society of St. George have this year been awarded to Miss Dorothy Mousley of the Public School for Girls and Master W. Wolnizer of the Public & Thomas Hanbury School for Boys.

MUNICIPAL STAFF.

Order Book Extracts, June 18-25.

Education Department.

The resignations of Mrs. A. L. Hunt, and Mrs. L. C. Poulsen, Assistant Mistresses, Public School for Girls-Boone Road, are accepted with effect from August 31, 1932.

The resignation of Miss S. M. Reddan, Assistant Mistress, Thomas Hanbury School for Girls, is accepted with effect from June 30, 1932.

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

VOLUNTEER CORPS.

"B" Company.

2nd Lieut. E. L. Boyde is promoted Lieutenant with effect from May 29, 1932.

EXTRA-SETTLEMENT ROADS.

A draft agreement, setting forth suggestions for a modus vivendi between the City Government of Greater Shanghai and the Shanghai Municipal Council in respect of the extra-Settlement roads area, was referred to at the Council meeting on June 29.

Certain points in this draft agreement are still under discussion by the representatives of the two municipalities who were appointed to conduct preliminary negotiations.

Sufficient progress has, however, been made to warrant the Council in taking the draft under detailed consideration, which it decided to do at a special meeting to be held shortly.

The text of the suggested agreement will be published in due course for the information of ratepayers.

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION No. 4251.

DOGS.

DOG owners who have not yet taken out licences for the current year are requested to present their applications at the Revenue Office, together with the fee of $5 for each dog.

Attention is directed to Condition No. 4 imposed in the licence, as follows:—

"That the dog when in the streets "or other place of public resort be "effectively muzzled, but in such a "manner as will admit of its "breathing and drinking."

Dogs found without muzzles, whether led or at large, within the limits of the Settlement or on outlying roads, will be seized by the Police and detained at the Kennels for a period of one week or longer as circumstances may direct; their owners, when identified, will be prosecuted. Dogs wearing ineffective muzzles will be regarded as unmuzzled.

Unmuzzled dogs found at large within the limits of the Settlement, or on Municipal roads outside the limits of the Settlement, if they cannot be seized, are liable to be shot.

Enquiries on the subject of lost or strayed dogs should be made at the Gordon Road Police Station (Telephone No. 30348), and Yangtszepoo Police Station (Telephone No. 50743).

POLICE REPORT FOR MAY.

The Commissioner of Police, in his May report, states:—

The total crime recorded for the month of May is contained in the following table:—

Nature of offence	Reported during the month	Reported during previous month	Reported during corresponding month last year
Murder	1	2	2
Attempted Murder	1	2	3
Manslaughter	3	2	0
Armed Kidnapping	1	2	1
Abduction	8	11	10
Armed Robberies	42	63	37
Other Robberies	14	13	16
Members of a criminal gang.	1	6	16
House breaking, office, shop, etc.	46	78	47
Burglary	36	22	56
Thefts	749	670	731
Receiving stolen property	16	23	12
Snatching	59	47	68
Opium Offences	130	106	139
Gambling Offences	15	22	18
Other Crimes	256	221	259
Total	1,378	1,290	1,415

The total figure shows an increase of approximately seven per cent over the figures recorded for the month of April, but reports of serious crime are, however, below the average with the exception of armed robbery which, though 21 less than last month, shows an increase of five over the figure recorded for the corresponding period last year. The cases were distributed as follows:—

"A" Division (Central and Louza) 470 as against 434 in April.

"B" Division (Sinza, Bubbling Well, Gordon Road, Pootoo Road) 393 as against 378 in April.

"C" Division (Hongkew, West Hongkew, Dixwell Road) 247 as against 232 in April.

"D" Division (Harbin Road, Wayside, Yangtszepoo, Yulin Road) 268 as against 246 in April.

1,408 persons were arrested for crime committed during the month as against 1516 in April. In addition 131 persons were arrested for crime committed in previous months and 101 persons were arrested on behalf of outside authorities.

One case of murder was reported in the Hongkew district, when a male Chinese attacked his wife, mother-in-law and aunt with a knife as the result of a domestic quarrel. The injuries received by the man's aunt subsequently proved fatal. There was one case of doubtful attempted murder. A male Chinese who was stated to be slightly insane alleged that in consequence of a dispute in a restaurant over the payment of food ordered by him he was forced by several of the shop's employees to drink a glass of tea containing nitric acid. Three cases of manslaughter were recorded. In one case a male Chinese and his paramour were found in their room in a state of unconsciousness. The male later died in hospital, and the female was charged with assault causing death but was found not guilty. In the second instance a male Chinese occupant of a ricsha was knocked down and killed by a motor truck. In the third case a male Chinese was arrested and charged with having caused the death of another male Chinese by striking him with clenched fists. There was one case of armed kidnapping, in which a male Chinese connected with various business enterprises was held up by three men and kidnapped in his own motor-car on Kiangse Road. There were 8 cases of simple abduction as against 11 in April. Cases of armed robbery decreased from 63 in April to 42 in May. There is, however, an increase of five over the figure for the corresponding period of last year. The cases were distributed as follows:—

"A" Division, two cases as against seven in April.

"B" Division, 25 cases as against 40 in April.

"C" Division, two cases as against nil in April.

"D" Division, 13 cases as against 16 in April.

The decreases recorded in all the Divisions except "C" Division are gratifying. Even in "C" Division the figure is exceptionally low, there being only two cases. In one case in Hongkew district in "C" Division an alarm was raised, and the police responded and effected the arrest of one robber after wounding him. There were 14 cases of other robberies as against 13 in April. The majority of the cases occurred on the highway. Only one criminal gang was dealt with as such as against six in April. This gang, consisting of 15 abductors, male and female, were arrested in "C" Division, and six children, all of a tender age, recovered. The number of burglaries was 36 as against 22 in April. The cases were distributed as follows:—

"A" Division, 15 cases as against two in April.

"B" Division, 13 cases as against 16 in April.

"C" Division, three cases as against three in April.

"D" Division, five cases as against five in April.

The number of housebreakings was 46 as against 78 in April. The cases were distributed as follows:—

"A" Division, 10 cases as against 12 in April.

"B" Division, 11 cases as against 10 in April.

"C" Division, 19 cases as against 27 in April.

"D" Division, six cases as against 29 in April.

The 749 cases of simple theft were distributed as follows:—

"A" Division, 261 cases as against 243 in April.

"B" Division, 203 cases as against 186 in April.

"C" Division, 140 cases as against 136 in April.

"D" Division, 145 cases as against 105 in April.

A slight increase in cases of pocketpicking is shown in "A" Division, as also a slight increase in cases of bicycle theft. There were 59 cases of snatching as against 47 in April. The cases were distributed as follows:—

"A" Division, 38 cases as against 29 in April.

"B" Division, 17 cases as against 12 in April.

"C" Division, two cases as against two in April.

"D" Division, two cases as against four in April.

The districts mainly affected were Louza (34 cases) and Sinza (nine cases). 130 cases of offences in respect of opium were recorded as against 106 in April. These cases were the result of raids on smoking dens and the arrest of persons in the streets in possession of opium. The Headquarters Narcotic Section made 10 raids and arrested 58 persons including one Japanese and seized a large quantity of drugs. The number of gambling offences decreased from 22 in April to 15 in May.

Notable work in "B" Division included the arrest of four men charged on five counts of armed robbery and the seizure of one revolver.

The following cases which are included in the month's figures occurred in "B" Division outside Settlement limits on or in houses abutting on Council Roads:—

Armed Robbery	4
Theft	17
Housebreaking	4
Snatching	2
Miscellaneous	3

The Headquarters Special Detective Squad conducted investigations into 28 cases and effected the arrest of six male and two female Chinese and one Russian. In addition enquiries were continued in eight cases previously reported.

Property valued at $134,177.47 was alleged to have been stolen in cases reported during the month as against property valued at $212,006.37 in April. The total value is made up as follows:—

"A" Division	$53,502.53
"B" "	$31,934.77
"C" "	$35,484.29
"D" "	$13,255.88

Property valued at $35,945.73 was recovered.

Finger Print Bureau.—During the month of May the total number of records received by the Bureau from all sources was 2,612. This shows a decrease of 71 as compared with last month and a decrease of 622 from the corresponding month of last year. 1,937 Gaol Cards were received during the month for verification of prisoners' thumb prints.

Investigations were made into 29 reported cases as follows:—

5 Armed Robbery.
2 Burglary.
6 Larceny.
2 Office breaking.
1 Kidnapping
5 Godown breaking.
3 Larceny of Motor-cars.
5 Shop breaking.

Finger prints were secured in nine instances.

Fourteen bodies of unknown Chinese who had met their deaths under various circumstances were photographed and finger-printed at the Mortuary with the object of establishing their identity. Successful result was obtained in one case. During the month the Crime Branch Studio took 332 photographs and printed 1,303 copies.

Communism.—While celebrating various anniversaries during the month the local Communists created seven demonstrations in different parts of the Settlement. These manifestations took place on May 1 Labour Day, May 9, the anniversary of the Acceptance by China of Japan's Twenty-one Demands, and May 30, the anniversary of the Nanking Road Incident. The demonstrations on each occasion consisted of the assemblage in the streets of Communist sympathizers who shouted slogans and distributed handbills. The demonstrators in every case dispersed on the arrival of the Police and did not attempt to offer resistance.

Six Chinese were prosecuted during the month for offences of a Communist character. With the exception of two who were arrested while demonstrating in the streets, these persons were taken into custody in the course of searches at Communist bases, of which three were raided during the month. Communist literature obtained during these raids and on other occasions included handbills in Chinese of 15 different kinds which had not been previously seen. The literature dealt with various topics, including the political anniversaries in the month of May, the Sino-Japanese Peace Agreement, the Postal strike and foreign imperialism.

Sixty-two persons charged with Communist offences were brought before the Court either on remand or for the first time during the month. Of these, three were each sentenced to five years' imprisonment, six to 2½ years' imprisonment, two to 1½ years' imprisonment, two to one year's imprisonment, one to ten months imprisonment, ten to eight months imprisonment, one to six months imprisonment, one to four months imprisonment, one was handed over to the Public Safety Bureau, two were handed over to the French Police, fourteen were dismissed, while the cases against the remaining 19 were still on remand at the end of the month.

Special orders to watch out for Communist agitators have been issued by the Shanghai Municipality's Bureau of Education to all schools under its jurisdiction. It is pointed out that these agitators work among students who are organizing anti-Japanese societies, volunteer forces, and branches of the Anti-Imperialist League.

Cases against two Chinese newsvendors for selling an anti-Government newspaper entitled "Ming Tsong Pao" were concluded during the month when one was fined $200 and the other acquitted.

Strikes.—During the month under review there were nine strikes in the Settlement affecting a total of 2,199 workers in ten different concerns and resulting in a loss of 3,849 working days. The strikers comprised 24 silk weavers, 20 press workers, 90 tea factory workers, 120 mafoos, 695 cotton mill workers and 1,250 silk filature workers.

Six strikes occurred in Chinese controlled territory affecting 1,510 workers and resulting in a loss of 3,800 working days.

A strike which occurred in the postal service affected all three areas and resulted in a loss of 13,433 working days.

The statistics for the month are as follows:—

Area	No. of Strikes	No. of Hands	No. of Working days lost.
Settlement	9	2,199	3,849
French Concession	—	—	—
Chinese controlled territory	6	1,510	3,800
All three areas	1	3,100	13,433
Total	16	6,809	21,082
Total for the corresponding month of 1931	17	4,316	8,533

Strike in Chinese Post Office.—This strike was the most serious dispute during the month. It affected 3,100 workers and lasted from May 22 to May 26.

The grievances of the strikers included demands for the maintenance of the original postal tariff, reincorporation of the postal bank in the Post Office and the cancellation of the subsidies paid to aviation companies.

General Labour Situation.—The labour situation continued to improve during May. By the end of the month 609 enterprises were operating and employing 186,494 hands. The workers back in Japanese mills was 80 per cent of the usual number employed as compared with 57 per cent at the beginning of the month. The workers of Japanese concerns still unemployed together with others who have lost their positions through the concerns with which they were connected being either unable to reopen or to operate on a normal basis number 45,422.

The Commercial Press decided during the month to grant its employees a gratuity in settlement of a claim for compensation being made by them in connection with the loss of their employment. About 986 of the workers affected agreed during the month to this arrangement and received the money. The remainder of the employees, who number 2,500, are however still dissatisfied and are making a demand that their former employment be restored. The gratuity given by the Company ranges in amount from the equivalent of one month's wages to the equivalent of two months, the sum paid being decided according to the years of service which the employee has to his credit.

The Shanghai War District Unemployed Workers Relief Society, Boulevard de Montigny, established a temporary office at 126 Tatung Road. 412 workers, who are seeking employment, registered at this address during the month. 54 of these were sent to their homes in other parts of the country.

The refugees from the fighting areas who sought shelter in the Settlement and who were dependent on public organizations for their support numbered 436 on May 31 as compared with 19,705 on April 30.

Hongkew Park Bomb Outrage.—General Shirakawa, one of the victims of the bomb outrage which occurred in the Hongkew Park on April 29, died on May 26. The remains of the late General were transported to Japan on board H.I.J.M.S. "Tatsuta" on May 28.

Movement for Rent Remission.—A real estate agency sued in the Shanghai Special District Court on May 19 seventeen tenants who withheld three months rent on the plea that they had suffered losses during the Sino-Japanese conflict. The case was remanded for judgment which, however, had not been delivered at the end of the month.

The Shanghai Citizens' Rent Reduction and Remission Movement Committee appealed during the month to the local Chinese Bar Association to urge its members to decline to act on behalf of landlords who are bringing suits against tenants in cases arising out of the rent remission dispute.

Price of Rice.—The average price of rice for the month of May is as follows:—

Chinese Rice:
Best quality $15.51 per picul
Good quality 14.59 „ „
Ordinary quality 13.79 „ „
Saigon Rice:
Best quality 13.37 „ „
Good quality 12.34 „ „
Ordinary quality 11.34 „ „

The rice merchants of Chapei re-established the rice hong market of that area at the end of the month and dissolved the temporary rice bazaar which they opened at 38 Tsung Teh Li, Chekiang Road, on April 7.

Film Censorship.—42 feature films and 36 shorts and newsreels were censored during the month in theatres in the Settlement and French Concession. Two of these, one a short local war film and the other a feature film entitled "The World and the Flesh," were rejected as unsuitable for local exhibition, while five others were only approved after parts, to which the police censors objected, had been deleted. During the month the Board of Film Censors re-examined the film entitled "The Primrose Path" in response to a special appeal from the owners of the film and upheld its former decision that the film was unsuitable for local exhibition.

Traffic.—Court proceedings were instituted in 355 (60 foreigners and 295 Chinese) of 3,342 reports of traffic offences received during the month against owners and/or drivers of vehicles. The remainder were dealt with by letter of warning or entry of caution on their records.

Bicycles.—Bicycles were involved in 186 accidents during the month and in 97 cases the cyclists were known to have been at fault. Apart from these cases, 57 cyclists were arrested and charged for improper driving during the month.

Ricshas.—1,519 ricsha pullers were charged for various breaches of Traffic Regulations, etc., during the month.

Motor Horn Nuisance. — There were 47 prosecutions for this offence during the month and in addition, one chauffeur had his driving licence suspended for a repetition of the offence.

Safety First.—During the month the professional Story-teller visited various districts and gave 75 addresses in Teashops and Mills, etc., on Safety First themes. His audience roughly totalled 3,615 persons.

Traffic Conditions.—The movement of troops between points of occupation and embarkation during the withdrawal period, caused a certain amount of obstruction and congestion on main roads in the Northern and Eastern districts, but towards the end of the month conditions had returned to near normal again.

New Race-Course Road. — This new road which joins up with Weihaiwei Road and runs into Thibet Road should prove a convenient by-pass for those travelling between the Western district and the business centre during rush hours. Tests carried out in motor vehicles during rush hours showed a saving of from four to six minutes between Thibet Road and Bubbling Well-Seymour Roads corner (in either direction) by using this by-pass instead of travelling direct via Bubbling Well Road.

Identification Office.—During the month, 1,598 prisoners' records passed through this office for identification prior to the prisoners going to Court for trial, out of which number 481 were identified as having a previous conviction or convictions. In addition to the above 498 records were received from the French Police out of which number 154 were identified in the records of this office making the total for the month :—

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, JULY 8, 1932. No. 1375

CUSTOMS JETTY.

Improved Passenger Landing Facilities.

The Municipal Council on June 29 approved, subject to the co-operation of those interested in adjoining frontages, a scheme for the enlargement of the Customs Examination Shed on the Bund in order to afford improved passenger landing facilities.

Arising out of representations put forward by the Shanghai General Chamber of Commerce for speedy measures for improvement in the present passenger landing facilities at the Customs Jetty, the Commissioner of Public Works after consultation with the Commissioner of Customs submitted to the Works Committee a plan showing the present Examination Shed extended north and south in such a way as to increase the floor area by 10,000 square feet.

Owing to the fact that the extensions overlap adjoining riparian frontages it is necessary that the owners of these frontages should offer no objection to the scheme. It is understood that the Customs authorities will probably pay the whole cost of the work.

At a meeting of the Works Committee, the Commissioner of Public Works stated that while this scheme, if approved, would provide much needed additional facilities for the examination of passengers' baggage he could not regard it as a final satisfactory solution unless the Customs Authorities were prepared to provide facilities for the examination of cargo elsewhere. He was, therefore, of the opinion that if approval were accorded to the present scheme the Customs Authorities should be encouraged to provide alternative facilities for cargo examination. Owing to the convenience of the locality of the Customs examination building it was not unlikely that any proposal to examine cargo elsewhere might meet with opposition from merchants and others concerned.

After consideration of the scheme submitted, members of the Committee unanimously agreed that adoption thereof was in the interests of the public, and it was recommended that the scheme for the enlargement of the Customs Examination Shed as submitted by the Commissioner of Public Works be approved subject to the co-operation of those interested in adjoining frontages being obtained by the Council with the assistance of the Customs Authorities; that the attention of the Customs Authorities be drawn to the desirability of reserving this building exclusively for the examination of passengers' baggage and to accommodation for the examination of cargo being provided elsewhere.

WATER MAINS.

Repairs to Trenches.

On June 29 the Council had before it the question of payment for reinstatement works carried out by the Public Works Department in connection with the laying of the Shanghai Waterworks Company's No. 2—40-in. main between the Company's Compound in Whashing Road and Point Road at the junction of Yuenfong Road.

The Commissioner of Public Works submitted to a meeting of the Works Committee, on June 14, correspondence between the Acting Engineer-in-Chief of the Waterworks Company and himself in which the former objected to payment in full of the debit notes rendered by the Council in respect to the repairs to various roads in the Eastern District rendered necessary by the laying of the 40 inch main, on the ground that these charges were excessive. The Commissioner of Public Works stated that he was unable to agree with the Company's contentions that the charge for the repair work should be confined to the actual width of the excavation and that, as the area repaired had not been re-surfaced for several years, the Company should not be called upon to defray the whole of this cost, since acceptance of this principle would involve loss to the Council in respect to all underground works controlled by the various public utility companies. When extensive excavation work was undertaken it was impossible at the time to estimate precisely the subsequent damage which might occur as a result of subsidence. Moreover, at the time the excavation work was in progress the public was debarred from using the section of the road affected, with the result that the section which remained usable was called upon to bear a heavier burden of traffic. In any case, he considered it wrong in principle that the Company should challenge a system which had been adopted by the Council for very many years, prior to paying the accounts in respect of this particular repair work.

The Council endorsed the unanimous recommendation of the Works Committee that the Company be required to pay the account rendered by the Council in respect of the road work undertaken and that it be informed that, later, if it so desires, the Council is prepared to discuss with the Company the principle upon which such charges are based.

COUNCIL MEETING.

A meeting of the Council was held on June 29. There were present:—Messrs. A. D. Bell, (Chairman), H. E. Arnhold (Vice-Chairman), Capt. J. J. Bohnson, Messrs. B. D. F. Beith, S. L. Hsu, N. Leslie, O. S. Lieu, P. W. Massey, O. Okamoto, F. J. Raven, H. Terai, T. D. Woo, L. T. Yuan and Yu Ya-ching.

COMMITTEE MEETING.

A meeting of the Health Committee was held on June 30. There were present:—Mr. N. Leslie (Chairman), Dr. A. C. Bryson, Mr. L. C. Chien, Dr. T. N. Kwong, Mr. O. S. Lieu, Dr. J. E. Murray and Dr. Y. Tongu.

MR. JUSTICE FEETHAM'S REPORT.

The manuscript of Volume IV of Mr. Justice Feetham's Report has been received by the Municipal Council. As this volume deals with details of internal administration and procedure, and thus is not of the same public interest as the previous volumes, it has been decided to print only one thousand copies in English and five hundred in Chinese.

PUBLIC HEALTH SITUATION.

The Commissioner of Public Health reported to the Council on June 29 that cholera was continuing in epidemic form and that up to date the total number of cases in the whole Shanghai area and treated in the Settlement was approximately 1,000; the largest number to occur on any one day was 70. While the figures quoted were lower than those for a similar period during the 1929 epidemic, in that year the epidemic occurred in later months which could be regarded as more favourable for assisting the spread of this disease. It was not possible to predict whether the present epidemic would become intensified within the next few months. Up to date the death rate had been extremely low and from information the Commissioner had received but had not been able to verify, the type of cholera prevalent would appear to be milder than in certain other parts of China.

Inoculation was proceeding on an extensive scale and in this respect he considered that the Council should continue to concentrate on those classes who, through ignorance or for other reasons, did not exercise the necessary care in the matter of diet or the preparation of their food.

MOTOR LICENCES.

For the convenience of the public, the motor vehicle licensing section of the Revenue Office will remain open during the tiffin hours from July 1 to 15 inclusive for the issue of licences for the second half year.

EXTRA-SETTLEMENT ROADS.

At a special meeting on July 6, the Municipal Council discussed the text of a suggested agreement for a modus vivendi with the Municipality of Greater Shanghai in respect to the extra-Settlement roads area.

As a result of this discussion the Secretary-General was instructed to continue his negotiations on the subject with a view to clarifying certain points, in order to avoid any ambiguity, and to arranging for certain modifications of the suggested text.

It was emphasized that members of Council, while co-operating fully in the task of putting the text of this suggested agreement into the best possible form, are not as yet committed in any way to recommend the signature of this document when completed.

A decision on this point cannot in the nature of things be reached until all concerned have had an opportunity of studying the text which finally emerges from the present more or less informal negotiations.

EDUCATIONAL GRANTS-IN-AID.

With regard to a discussion at a meeting of the Finance Committee on March 18, last, relative to the desirability of co-ordinating the measures of relief granted to schools, the Acting Treasurer and Controller has furnished the Education Board with a schedule giving details of exemption from taxation accorded certain educational institutions. In his accompanying report, he referred to certain schools which have not applied for grants under the recently approved regulations but which continue to receive a charitable grant approved many years ago and also are accorded relief from taxation. He, therefore, suggested that, if such schools were informed that exemption from taxation was contingent upon their complying with the Council's requirements as to grants-in-aid, it was probable they would apply for grants of not less than their present relief from taxation.

The Chairman of the Board observed that, in respect to Chinese schools, grants-in-aid are limited to those schools actually situated within the Settlement, whereas remission of taxation is granted to schools situated beyond Settlement limits; he doubted, therefore, whether consideration of these latter schools came within the purview of the Board in conjunction with the general question of the issue of grants-in-aid. Moreover, certain schools within the Settlement might prefer to continue to receive relief by means of remission of taxation rather than apply for a grant-in-aid through the ordinary channels.

A member suggested it might be desirable to classify schools under two headings, i.e. those which receive a monetary grant and those which obtain relief through exemption from taxation.

The Assistant Treasurer stated that the main reason for bringing this question forward at this time was that applications for grants were now being received; whatever grants were authorized this year would have some bearing on those for 1933 and succeeding years, and he considered it desirable that the Board should be aware of the cost to the Council of the relief afforded under the various headings.

The Chairman's proposal was then adopted that, in order to assist the Board to reach a decision, the Assistant Treasurer should be requested to prepare a memorandum outlining his proposals for dealing with this somewhat complex problem on an equitable basis.

The Council concurred at its meeting on June 29.

Educational Library.

The Acting Superintendent of Education has reported to the Board of Education that, as a result of the suggestion put forward that a central library for the use of the schools be instituted, Messrs. Edward Evans & Sons, Ltd., had offered to present to the Board a number of educational works to form the nucleus of the suggested library. He suggested that this offer be accepted and the books kept for the time being in the offices of the Education Department and issued on application to principals of schools.

The Acting Superintendent's proposal was approved.

PARKS AND OPEN SPACES.

A recommendation by the Commissioner of Public Works, endorsed by the Treasurer and Controller, that an Assistant Superintendent of Parks and Open Spaces be appointed at a commencing salary of Tls. 360 per mensem and that he be authorized to select a suitable man whilst on home leave was submitted to the Staff Committee on June 21.

It was noted that this vacancy had not been filled since Mr. D. McGregor's retirement in 1929 and Mr. Kerr's subsequent promotion to the post of Superintendent of Parks and Open Spaces and that if the Superintendent was absent for any reason he had no qualified member to take over his duties.

It was recommended that enquiries be instituted as to the possibility of securing a suitable Chinese for this post and that in the meantime the Commissioner of Public Works, who will only be absent on leave for five and a half months, be authorized to advertise this post in England but that he be instructed to make no appointment until he is notified that no suitable Chinese is available therefor.

The Council has approved the recommendation.

SECONDARY SCHOOLS FOR CHINESE BOYS.

The question of the rate of pay for Chinese Senior Assistant Masters in Municipal Council Secondary Schools for Chinese Boys was discussed at the last meeting of the Education Board. It was proposed that the rate of remuneration for Chinese masters who were appointed as Senior Assistants should be the same as that for foreign Senior Assistants, less one-third (repatriation pay). It was, however, decided to refer the question to the Staff Committee for its views with the Board's unanimous opinion that the proposed initial pay and pro rata increments for these posts were not excessive.

When the question came before the Council, the scale recommended by the Education Board was authorized, and the Staff Committee requested to consider the detailed application of this rate of pay in connection with the existing scales.

Friday—Brass Band Concert, Public Gardens 9.15-11 p.m.
Saturday—Orchestral Concert, Jessfield Park 9.15-11.15 p.m.

Admission Fees.—Admission fees, 20 cents (small money) for hire of chairs in roped enclosure at the Public Gardens. This charge is additional to the regular charge of 20 cents for admission to the Public Gardens. For the Jessfield Park concerts, the admission fee is 60 cents (small money) per person which includes admission to the Park and enclosure. For chairs in a limited number of rows, the charge is increased to $1 inclusive of the admission charge to the Park and enclosure.

MILITARY BAND CONCERTS.

The Municipal Council has accepted the offer of the British Military Authorities to give band concerts in Jessfield Park on Sunday afternoons during the summer. The concerts will be given in the band enclosure, which has accommodation for 1,500 persons, from 5.30 to 7 p.m. when the weather permits. It is proposed at the first concerts to make a charge for chairs of 40 cents small silver for adults, with children half-price. If tickets for chairs are obtained at the park gates they will include admission to the park for the one fee. Fifty per cent of the receipts will be contributed to regimental funds, the Council providing transportation for the bandsmen.

The first concert will take place on Sunday, July 10.

EASEMENTS.

The following easements were granted during June:—

A permit was issued to Messrs. the Standard Oil Company of New York to instal a gasoline pump and storage tank in the Municipal footpath fronting the premises of the Lee Lee Garage, 17 Soochow Road.

The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, JULY 15, 1932. No. 1376

VOLUNTEER CORPS.

Tribute from Chinese Banks.

The Chinese Native Banks' Association of Shanghai has written to the Council expressing its thanks for the protection afforded by the Volunteer Corps during the recent Emergency. The letter states:—

"During the Sino-Japanese conflict in Shanghai, this Association was in danger of being molested. It was through your co-operation in stationing Volunteers at the entrance of our building that we were put in a position to carry on our business as usual. We appreciate your service and wish to express our thanks for the protection afforded by the stationing of the armed men."

The Secretary to the Council has replied:—

"I have to thank you for your letter of July 4, conveying your generous appreciation of the services rendered to your Association by the Shanghai Volunteer Corps during the recent crisis.

"Your remarks have been conveyed to Colonel N. W. B. B. Thoms, the Commandant, and through him to the members of the Corps generally."

Long Service Medals.

The undermentioned have been awarded Long Service Medals and/or Bars, dated July 7, 1932:—

ANTI-CHOLERA CAMPAIGN.

Provision of Water Hydrants.

In a report submitted to the Health Committee, the Commissioner of Public Health referred to a suggestion put forward by the Chinese members of the propaganda Sub-Committee of the "Conference on Cholera Control in Shanghai" that hydrants be provided near beggar villages for the free supply of pure water. The Chief Officer of the Fire Brigade furnished a report embodying alternative suggestions by which this proposal could be given effect.

In amplification of his written report, the Commissioner of Public Health stated that, whilst water infection is definitely a major contributory factor to the spread of cholera, the provision of a free water supply as advocated would not, taking into consideration the customs of certain classes of the Chinese community, entirely remove the danger of infection from this source. A number of wells existed in the various districts and, although in many cases the occupants of the properties which they served had a supply of water works water, they continued to use well water. Steps were taken by his Department to disinfect these wells but, in respect to the water obtained from ponds and creeks which was used largely for the washing of rice and vegetables, similar disinfection measures could not be undertaken. The cholera statistics available offered no definite proof that impure drinking water was mainly responsible for this disease, and it was noteworthy that in respect to the present epidemic less cases had occurred in the districts in which wells and ponds were the more abundant. Statistics supplied by the Waterworks Company showed that 80 per cent of the population received their water supply from the Company; in addition, at least 5 per cent secured their supply from artesian wells and if those who in other ways obtained their supply from the Company were included it might be assumed that less than 10 per cent of the population obtained their water from sources other than the Waterworks Company and artesian wells.

The Commissioner of Public Health accordingly recommended that a supply of free water should be approved in principle, but that details as to the quantity and as to the means by which this would be supplied be left for his further consideration and report.

Provided no expenditure was incurred for this purpose without further reference to the Committee and the Council, members supported the proposal of the Commissioner of Public Health.

It was also recommended that, to assist the anti-cholera campaign and in the interests of the poorer classes, the Council should approve in principle a limited supply of free water; no action to be taken until a definite recommendation to be submitted by the Commissioner of Public Health had received the Council's approval.

With regard to the latter part of the Commissioner's report dealing with the acquisition of a cheap cinematograph for anti-cholera publicity purposes, as the views of the sub-committee on this question were still somewhat indefinite, members adopted a proposal that consideration of this matter be deferred for the time being.

The Committee's recommendations were approved by the Council on July 13.

ROAD EXTENSIONS AND WIDENINGS.

Foochow Road.

An area of mow 0.334 from Cadastral Lot 423 required for the scheduled widening of Foochow Road has been surrendered by Messrs. Platt, White-Cooper & Co. for a sum of Tls. 31,770.

Boundary Road.

Negotiations have been concluded with Messrs. Hansons for the surrender of an area of mow 0.306 required from Cadastral Lot 521 (west of North Shanse Road) for the scheduled widening of Boundary Road at the assessed value of the lot, i.e., Tls. 25,000 per mow or a sum of Tls. 7,650.

Mohawk Road.

An area of mow 0.026 from Cadastral Lot 1435 required for the scheduled widening of Mohawk Road has been surrendered by the Ming Hao Construction Co. in exchange for mow 0.017 of the Council's surplus land, Cadastral Lot 1436, Mohawk Road.

MUNICIPAL ORCHESTRA AND BAND.

During July and August, the weekly programme of the Municipal Orchestra and Band Concerts will be as follows:—

Monday—Orchestral Concert, Jessfield Park 9.15-11.15 p.m.
Tuesday—Brass Band Concert, Public Gardens 5.30-7 p.m.
Wednesday — Orchestral Concert. Jessfield Park 9.15-11.15 p.m.
Thursday—Brass Band Concert, Hongkew Park 5.30-7 p.m.
Friday—Brass Band Concert, Public Gardens 9.15-11 p.m.
Saturday—Orchestral Concert, Jessfield Park 9.15-11.15 p.m.

Admission Fees.—Admission fees, 20 cents (small money) for hire of chairs in roped enclosure at the Public Gardens. This charge is additional to the regular charge of 20 cents for admission to the Public Gardens. For the Jessfield Park concerts, the admission fee is 60 cents (small money) per person which includes admission to the Park and enclosure. For chairs in a limited number of rows, the charge is increased to $1 inclusive of the admission charge to the Park and enclosure.

MILITARY BAND CONCERTS.

The Municipal Council has accepted the offer of the British Military Authorities to give band concerts in Jessfield Park on Sunday afternoons during the summer. The concerts will be given in the band enclosure, which has accommodation for 1,200 persons, from 5.30 to 7 p.m. when the weather permits. It is proposed at the first concerts to make a charge for chairs of 40 cents small silver for adults, with children half-price. If tickets for chairs are obtained at the park gates they will include admission to the park for the one fee. Fifty per cent of the receipts will be contributed to regimental funds, the Council providing transportation for the bandsmen.

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION No. 4247.

CHOLERA.

THE attention of the Public is particularly directed to the following Notice issued by the Public Health Department:—

CHOLERA

Caused by Food Infected by the Excretions of a Previous Case.

HOW TO PREVENT

EAT AND DRINK

Nothing that has not been recently cooked, boiled or otherwise sterilised.

DO NOT CONSUME

1. Fruit, vegetables, salads, melons, etc., which have not been cooked or otherwise sterilised.
2. Food on which flies have settled.
3. Milk or cream which has not been boiled or sterilised.
4. Ice-cream unless made from boiled materials.
5. Water which has not been boiled or filtered through a germ-proof filter, the candle of which should be boiled regularly once a week.
6. Aerated waters or other drinks unless of the best quality.

FRUITS, TOMATOES, ETC., CAN BE STERILISED

so that they can be safely eaten raw, and without spoiling the flavour, by dipping for at least ten seconds in briskly boiling water.

DOG LICENCES.

Owners of dogs who have not yet taken out licences for the current year should at once make application to the Revenue Office. The licence fee is $5 for each dog. Dog owners' attention is drawn to the fact that dogs in the streets or other public places must be effectively muzzled, but in such a manner as will permit breathing and drinking. Dogs found in public places without muzzles, whether led or at large, will be seized by the police and detained at the kennels for a period of one week or longer, as circumstances may direct; their owners, when identified, will be prosecuted. Dogs found ineffectively muzzled will be regarded as unmuzzled. When it is impossible to seize unmuzzled dogs they are liable to be shot.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

During June, the Library had 532 subscribers, 1,261 persons made use of the Public Reading Room. 4,524 volumes were issued to subscribers.

The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, JULY 22, 1932. No. 1377

ANTI-CHOLERA CAMPAIGN.

The Municipal Council, on July 13, approved a Health Committee recommendation that, to assist the anti-cholera campaign and in the interests of the poorer classes, a limited supply of free water be given.

A letter from the Waterworks Co. stated that it was prepared, with the approval of the Council and should it be considered advisable, to afford a supply of water from fire hydrants to residents in the Settlement who had no tap supply and to continue such supply so long as was considered necessary.

The Commissioner of Public Health reported that a number of suitable supply points had been investigated and lists sent to the Waterworks Co. These supply points were situated in areas where cholera was prevalent and where there were also wells. Arrangements had been made for the issue of water from hydrants in the neighbourhoods, in fact he understood that the Waterworks Co. had already given away quantities of water.

The Council approved these measures and authorized the technical deviation from the terms of the Waterworks franchise and the tariff rates. The Chairman said that the water would be given free from hydrants.

SALE OF SURPLUS LAND.

Members of the Works Committee on July 8 agreed that as a matter of principle it would be advisable definitely to lay down a fixed period for the receipt of offers for the purchase of surplus areas, this period to be of such duration as would permit prospective purchasers to consult with their home principals. They also considered that it would be to the Council's advantage to advertise valuable sites in the press, in addition to publishing the usual notification in the "Municipal Gazette."

It was recommended that a period of two months from the date of issue of the notification be allowed for the receipt of offers for the purchase of surplus areas and that in respect of valuable surplus areas the fact that they are available for sale be advertised in the press in addition to a notification being issued in the "Municipal Gazette."

The recommendation of the Committee was approved by the Council on July 13.

EXTRA SETTLEMENT ROADS.

No discussion took place at the Council meeting on July 13 on the subject of the suggested agreement concerning the extra-Settlement roads area. The Chairman, however, reported that Dr. Fessenden had been able, in spite of his illness, to explain to a representative of the Municipality of Greater Shanghai the various points upon which fuller information was desired and also to discuss with him certain suggested modifications of the text.

CUSTOM HOUSE.

A letter from Mr. L. H. Lawford, Commissioner of Customs, informs the Council that during his absence from Shanghai on two months leave Mr. F. D. Goddard has been appointed to take charge of the Shanghai Custom House as Commissioner of Customs, Officiating.

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION

No. 4263.
PUBLIC HEALTH DEPARTMENT.
Appointment of Chinese Cadets.

1.—The Council requires three Chinese Cadets to be trained for appointment as Junior Health Inspectors in the Public Health Department.

2.—Candidates should be between the ages of 21 and 23 years, of good physique, and if accepted will be required to pass a strict medical examination.

3.—Candidates should possess either the school leaving certificate of one of the Council Secondary Schools for Chinese, or the school leaving certificate of St. Francis Xavier's College, or be a graduate of a reputable university.

4.—Candidates should possess a thorough knowledge of the local dialect and Mandarin.

5.—Successful candidates will be appointed on probation for one year, during which time they will undergo a course of physical training, in addition to their training as Health Inspectors. The whole training course will extend over a period of about 6½ years, but this may be accelerated by the Commissioner of Public Health in the case of Cadets of exceptional keenness and ability.

6.—Annual examinations relating to Public Health and hygiene as applied locally will be held, and the future retention or promotion of the Cadet in the service will depend on the results of these examinations.

7.—Successful candidates will be required to furnish security in the sum of Tls. 500 cash or on the bond of a resident of Shanghai, subject to the approval of the Council.

8.—The pay of Cadets will be $75 per mensem on probation during the first year, $100 on appointment as Cadets with an annual increase of $25 for each examination passed.

9.—Cadets successfully completing the period of training will be appointed as Junior Health Inspectors on a commencing pay of $250 per mensem for three years after which they will be eligible for promotion to Health Inspectors in accordance with the scales of pay authorized by the Council.

10.—Cadets will not be permitted to engage in trade or business of any kind but shall devote their whole time, attention and ability to the service of the Council.

11.—Applications to be made on special forms in the candidate's own handwriting. These forms may be obtained on request from Room 130a, Public Health Department, 16 Hankow Road, and on completion should be sent by registered post or chit-book to the Commissioner of Public Health, Administration Building, accompanied by the candidate's photograph and certified copies of testimonials.

12.—No interviews will be granted and any canvassing for the vacancies will entail disqualification.

13.—The Commissioner of Public Health assisted by a Special Advisory Board will select the requisite number of Cadets for appointment.

14.—A record will be kept of all candidates not selected, for consideration in filling future vacancies.

15.—Applications should reach the Commissioner of Public Health not later than August 1.

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, July 18, 1932.

EDUCATIONAL GRANTS-IN-AID.

At a meeting of the Education Board on July 5, it was recommended (subject to the concurrence of the Finance Committee):—

1. That all remissions of General Municipal Rate in respect of Chinese and foreign schools cease as from January 1, 1933, with the proviso that, as soon as circumstances permit, the Council should consider the question of making a compensatory grant to schools for Chinese outside the Settlement from non-educational funds.
2. That all schools be informed:—(1) of the taxation they will be required to pay; (2) that applications for grants-in-aid for 1933 must be submitted by October 1, 1932, except in the case of schools which have received relief from taxation and are not qualified to receive such grants.
3. That grants approved prior to the formation of the Education Board cease as from January 1, 1933, with one exception which will be transferred from the Education Budget to General Charges and dealt with by the Council as a charitable grant.

The Council on July 13 discussed these recommendations, and subject to decision in regard to one grant being deferred, approved them.

REVISION OF SCHOOL FEES.

A report was submitted to the Education Board on July 5, from the Acting Superintendent of Education, containing his recommendations as to increases in school fees and other charges. The Acting Treasurer and Controller reported that the object of the new scale was to produce a closer approximation to the one-third ratio of fees to expenditure than had been the case for some time past. He considered that sufficient reason existed for certain omissions from the schedule, viz.: (1) the Thomas Hanbury School for Girls; and (2) the Secondary School for Chinese Girls; while in the case of (3) District Primary Schools, where no increase had been recommended, he was of opinion that the smallness of the fees and the low ratio of fees to expenditure, i.e., 13 per cent., warranted further consideration by the Board.

It was recommended:—

1. A majority of the Board from an education standpoint are averse to any immediate increase in the fees at the secondary schools for Chinese boys. They recognize, however, that on financial grounds the Council may consider the proposed increases to be necessary, and, if so, they recommend to the Council that consideration be given to a lower scale of increases and to adoption of a graded scale of fees similar to that in force in the foreign schools.
2. That the increased fees at schools for foreign children proposed by the Acting Superintendent of Education be adopted.
3. That the proposal scale of discounts for foreign and Chinese schools be adopted.
4. That the proposed charges for stationery and kindergarten materials be adopted.
5. That where the children of parents who do not reside in the Settlement or on Settlement roads are admitted to Council schools an additional charge of 20 per cent be made, unless the parent is a Settlement ratepayer, or a member of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps, or a member of the Shanghai Municipal Police (Specials).

The Chairman informed the Council on July 13 that some members' objections to a general revision of school fees so far as the Chinese Secondary Schools were concerned were based on the following grounds:—that traditionally in China fees at schools established by public authorities should be lower than those in force at private schools; that the existing scale of fees at the Municipal Schools was already high and that any increase would debar the children of the poorer classes from attending. Other members took the view that the parents of the children attending the Municipal Chinese Secondary Schools were in a position to pay the proposed comparatively small increased fee and that with its institution there would still be a waiting list of pupils. As the aim of the Council was to obtain from school fees a sum equivalent to one-third of the cost of administering the schools and as the present fees had not been revised for many years, they considered that in fairness to the ratepayers the proposed increase was called for.

After discussion, a member suggested that decision on this question be deferred until the next meeting; in the meantime the members would give further consideration thereto.

Members adopted this proposal, decision on the recommendation relative to the increase in the fees at the schools for foreign children being also deferred.

With regard to recommendation No. 5 that with certain exceptions children of parents who were not Settlement ratepayers should be charged an additional 20 per cent in school fees, the Chairman stated that this recommendation was intended to apply to all municipal schools, both foreign and Chinese.

Members concurred that an increase in excess of 20 per cent was justified in such cases, but decision as to the amount of this increase was deferred until the next meeting.

CHINESE SECONDARY SCHOOLS.

Entrance Examination and Scholarships.

A report was submitted to the Education Board on July 5 from the Acting Treasurer and Controller showing the cost to the Council of granting scholarships over periods of one to four years.

Members agreed with the Chairman that for the present the awards should be in the nature of prizes extending over one year, and should take the form of a remission of half the school fees. In the view of one member, this plan would be more likely to ensure continuance of the education of the successful candidates than total exception from fees for a short period, and members further agreed that it would be better to assist several pupils in this way than to distribute the available funds among a smaller number.

Replying to the Chairman, the Acting Superintendent of Education expressed the opinion that the scholarships or prizes should not be assigned to particular schools, as the place of residence of each pupil had to be taken into account. Based on the proposed increase of school fees, the annual cost of remitting half the fees for eight boys and two girls would be $430, and this was considered to be a suitable figure.

It was recommended that the following prizes in the form of a remission of half tuition fees for one year be granted annually on the results of a general entrance examination:—four prizes for boys from the Council's primary schools; four prizes for boys without restrictions; two prizes for girls from the Council's primary schools.

A member raised the question of providing similar prizes for the assistance of foreign children. The Acting Superintendent stated that there were already various funds to provide for free tuition of foreign children in necessitous cases, e.g., the twelve free places in each of the Thomas Hanbury Schools, besides the Lester Scholarship fund which benefited Chinese and foreigners equally.

It was agreed that the question of competitive prizes for foreign children merited consideration and should be dealt with at a later meeting.

The Board's recommendations were approved by the Council on July 13.

VOLUNTEER CORPS.

Report on Annual Inspection.

The Municipal Council has been considering the recommendations forwarded by Brigadier G. Fleming, C.B.E., D.S.O., with his report upon his inspection of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps. Brigadier Fleming's report, addressed to the Chairman of the Council, is as follows:—

"I have the honour to report that, at your request, I reviewed the Shanghai Volunteer Corps on parade on April 10, 1932. Last year the inspection of the Corps was carried out by me in detail, but owing to the State of Emergency, such an inspection was not possible this year. However, during the State of Emergency when the Corps was under my orders, I had sufficient opportunities to counter-balance the lack of individual inspection of units. The review of the Corps this year provided an opportunity for me, the Municipal Council and the public of Shanghai, of seeing the very satisfactory state of smartness, drill and discipline which the Corps has attained. The appearance of the Corps on that occasion was expected by me since I have watched, during the last year, the great progress made by all ranks. This progress I attribute to the new life and keenness infused into the Corps by its Commandant, Colonel N. A. B. B. Thomas, D.S.O., M.C., and also to the fact that the State of Emergency brought the component parts of the Corps together in a way that would not have been possible under other conditions. In my opinion, the Shanghai Volunteer Corps is thoroughly fit to perform all the duties it may be called on to perform in Shanghai. It is a matter of regret that the Artillery Unit was not able to proceed to Hongkong to undergo the practical course which had been arranged.

"I attach a list of recommendations put forward for your consideration."

Recommendations.

1. Equipment.—It is suggested that the Corps should be uniformly provided with bandolier equipment instead of the existing web equipment which is unnecessary and largely requires replacement.

2. Light Battery.—I consider that the Light Battery should be re-armed with trench mortars. A battery of 12 or 16 trench mortars would be of very much greater use than the 2.75 guns with which the Light Battery is now equipped.

3. Engineer Organization.—This does not yet appear to be on a satisfactory basis. I consider that the question should be settled now. The lack of a suitable organization was apparent in the recent emergency and an up-to-date engineer scheme for Sector "B" defence is an essential and one the preparation of which should not be delayed."

Consideration of Recommendations.

The Watch Committee discussed the above recommendations at its meeting on July 7. In respect to Brigadier Fleming's suggestion that the Corps should be uniformly provided with bandolier equipment instead of the existing web equipment, which was unnecessary and largely required replacement, the Commandant supported this suggestion and stated that this replacement could take place over a number of years. With regard to the existing web equipment, which was loaned by the British Military Authorities, when ultimately this was returned to them it was not unlikely that the Council would be called upon to pay a portion of its original cost.

It was recommended that the existing web equipment be gradually replaced by bandolier equipment.

Light Battery.

With regard to Brigadier Fleming's recommendations that the Light Battery should be re-armed with trench mortars, the Commandant reported that he had made enquiries of the British Military Authorities as to the cost involved by adoption of this proposal. He had ascertained that mortars were available, but that the ammunition would only keep for three years. He was now enquiring of the British War Office as to whether it was possible to obtain unfilled shells which could be filled on mobilization and thus avoid waste. The existing light guns were worn out and their replacement would be necessary next year.

Pending a further report by the Commandant on the result of enquiries made of the Hongkong Military Authorities, recommendation on the proposal to re-arm the Light Battery was deferred.

Engineer Organization.

With regard to the opinion expressed by Brigadier Fleming that the Engineer Organization was not on a satisfactory basis and his final recommendation that the question of a suitable organization should be settled now, the Commandant stated that although undoubtedly the Engineer Units were not of a proper proportion to the establishment, nevertheless with the assistance of the Public Works Department defences were erected as quickly and efficiently as those by units in other sectors. He did not regard this question as one of immediate urgency. His proposal was adopted that action thereon be deferred for the time being.

Strength of Units.

In view of the difficulties encountered in connection with the enrollment of large numbers of untrained and unequipped men following the declaration of the recent State of Emergency, the Commandant submitted to the Watch Committee proposals for stimulating recruiting of serving volunteers and by enrolling as reservists men with military experience either in foreign military forces or in volunteers who would be willing to serve on mobilization either with existing units or in special reserve units which he recommended be created.

It was noted that by adoption of this proposal the peace establishment would number 1,894 and that the war establishment would total 2,265, the latter figure being based on the requirements of the sector which was held by the Corps during an emergency. The Commandant stated that he did not anticipate difficulty in securing recruits to bring the peace and war establishments up to the proposed strength. With regard to the two proposed new units, the American Machine Gun Company and the American Reserve Company, he stated that the American Government had offered to provide equipment for these Companies. No cost during the current year was contemplated by adoption of this proposal, and the annual cost of the increased establishment for future years was estimated at Tls. 15,000.

With the exception of the proposals relative to an increase in the strength of the Russian Company, the Commandant's recommendation regarding the revised peace and war establishments of the Corps was endorsed.

Administration.

With regard to the Commandant's recommendation that in order to avoid wastage of stores, materials, etc., the Corps be divided into four groups, an N.C.O. of the Russian Regiment to be detailed to each group as Quarter Master Sergeant, it was noted that the adoption of the proposal would ultimately involve the provision of additional storage accommodation. Since, however, the Commandant anticipated that during the current year he would be able temporarily to obtain the use of rooms for this purpose, this proposal was approved in principle, the question of any expenditure involved by additional accommodation to be considered when the 1933 estimates were under discussion.

Rations During Mobilization.

In respect to the system adopted for the rationing of the Corps during mobilization, the Commandant was of the view that this arrangement was unnecessarily extravagant and did not cope satisfactorily with the requirements of a State of Emergency. As in his view it would be unwise to undertake an army system of supply owing to the heavy initial cost, he stated that he proposed to appoint four caterers—a number equal to the number of groups mentioned in the preceding minute—and to control them by means of organization, details of which were submitted. He anticipated that it would be possible to obtain contract rates at reduced cost. During the period of emergency he obtained 20,000 preserved rations, and these he proposed to hold against any possible breakdown of the revised catering system. These rations would be turned over by periodical issue to the Russian Detachment. The preserved rations at present in stock had been paid for; thus no additional cost was involved during the current year. For future years it was estimated that the annual loss by holding this stock would be Tls. 2,000.

Members concurred in the views expressed by the Commandant, and it was recommended that the proposal as above outlined be approved.

Uniform.

Owing to the complete breakdown in the tailors' shop during the period of emergency, the Commandant reported that he was experimenting with getting uniform ready-made from overseas. He anticipated that thereby a saving of 25 per cent would be affected. If the experiment proved satisfactory it would be necessary next year to obtain additional storage space.

The action taken by the Commandant was approved in principle.

Boots.

The Commandant reported that the question of providing boots for volunteers had been a matter for repeated recommendation by many inspecting officers. In view of the fact that during the recent mobilization whole companies were kept from their duties because they had no suitable boots, he recommended that a stock of 500 pairs of boots be maintained, as many as possible to be sold to volunteers at cost price, the stock to be utilized on mobilization as required.

The Committee recommended that the purchase of 500 pairs of boots involving initial capital expenditure of approximately Tls. 3,700 as proposed by the Commandant be authorized.

Quarters.

The Commandant reported that one of the principal lessons of the recent State of Emergency had been the danger of extraordinary concentration of every item of administration in the central office. He, therefore, recommended that an orderly room be provided for each unit in the Drill Hall and that the present living quarters in the Administration Building be transferred to the roof, the space thus vacated to be utilized for storage purposes.

As adoption of this proposal would involve capital expenditure of approximately Tls. 40,000, consideration thereof was deferred until the estimates for next year are discussed.

Transport.

The Commandant reported that, in the interests of economy and efficiency, regular drivers from the Russian Regiment had been detailed for the 10 Karrier trucks and one Ford truck.

The Acting Treasurer commented that unless these vehicles were in constant daily use, detaching this number of men would appear to be unnecessary.

Since continuance of this arrangement was contingent upon the Council's approval of an increase in the Russian Detachment, endorsement or otherwise thereof was held in abeyance.

Council Discussion.

The above Watch Committee minutes were approved by the full Council on July 13.

In agreeing in principle as to the desirability of increasing the strength of the Russian Detachment, members adopted a proposal that the question as to the possibility of the necessary finances being available be referred to the Finance Committee.

STREET SOLICITING.

The Municipal Council on July 13 resolved that a small joint Committee be appointed to consider the question of prostitution and street soliciting in conjunction with Dr. J. C. H. Wu and to report to the Council, nominations to such Committee to be put forward at the next meeting.

MUNICIPAL STAFF.

GAOL ADMINISTRATION.

In a report submitted to the Watch Committee, the Commissioner of Police drew attention to the question of gaol administration in view of the fact, that the number of prisoners in custody in Ward Road Gaol had reached the large total of 7,046. The Commissioner stated that if the present increase continued it might be anticipated that the figure at the end of the present year would approximate 7,500. Apart from the obvious dangers of having so large a number of prisoners in the gaol and apart from the dangers of overcrowding, he submitted that consideration should be given to the question of whether or not the crowding together of all classes of prisoners was not likely to lead to the serious contamination by hardened criminals of first offenders and prisoners sentenced to short terms for comparatively trivial offences or offences of a non-vicious nature. Under existing conditions segregration of the different types of criminal was impossible. He suggested that the only possible solution would appear to be to set aside the Ward Road Gaol for prisoners sentenced to terms of imprisonment of two years and upwards and to provide a separate gaol for prisoners sentenced for terms of less than two years. On the other hand he was of opinion that it would be much more satisfactory if some arrangement could be reached with the Chinese Authorities to build and maintain a gaol in Chinese territory.

Supplementing the information contained in his report, the Commissioner informed the Committee that there were 2,896 cells in the Ward Road Gaol and that when the additional buildings now in the course of construction were completed there would be a total of 3,763 cells. The number of prisoners in custody was 7,200. Prisoners under sentence of death and those suffering from certain infectious and contagious diseases had to be placed in separate cells, with the result that the big majority of cells each had to accommodate three prisoners. Unless the present conditions were ameliorated, the time was fast approaching when it would be impossible to accommodate more prisoners.

The question also arose whether the time had not come for the separation of the gaol administration from the control of the Police Department. Apart from the fact that it was wrong in principle to have the gaols under the administration of the Police Department, it was becoming more and more difficult for him, in view of the heavy duties and responsibilities as Commissioner, to find time to devote sufficient attention to gaol administration which had become so important as to warrant the creation of a separate Gaols Department under the control of an officer directly responsible to the Council for the administration of the gaols.

From the comment submitted by the Acting Commissioner of Public Works, it was noted that cost of a new gaol with 3,000 cells was estimated at Tls. 2,750,000 inclusive of the cost of the land. Alternatively, if the land now reserved for the foreign gaol were utilized for the extension of the Chinese gaol to provide an additional 1,820 cells and a foreign gaol built on a new site, the approximate cost would be Tls. 950,000; this latter scheme would not, however, fulfill the recommendation of the Commissioner of Police for the separation of long and short term prisoners.

Replying to members, the Commissioner of Police stated that a contributing factor to the present overcrowded state of the gaol was the discontinuance by the Special District Court of the system whereunder prisoners could receive a remission of sentence; about 700 of the prisoners were detained in the gaol for the offence of opium smoking, non-payment of debts and fines; and a further 300 were juvenile offenders.

Members concurred with the Chairman that the Council should definitely request the Consular Body to put forward representations to the Chinese Authorities with a view to remedying the grave conditions now obtaining at the gaol. They also considered that any new gaol to be erected should be located outside the Settlement and that the Council should agree in principle that the Ward Road Gaol was unsuitable for the accommodation of more than 4,000 prisoners.

With regard to the administration of the gaols, members endorsed the Commissioner's proposal that Captain Martin, upon his return from long leave, should be appointed Governor of the Gaols in addition to undertaking his duties as Extra-Commissioner of Police.

Replying to the Chairman, the Commissioner stated that if the Chinese Authorities agreed to erect an additional gaol it would be preferable that prisoners serving short sentences should be transferred thereto, those serving sentences for more serious offences continuing to be kept in the Ward Road Gaol. At the present time the number of those awaiting trial and those serving long term sentences was approximately 4,000.

With regard to the imprisonment of opium smokers, the view obtained in the Committee that the Chinese Authorities should provide accommodation for such offenders and that they should be notified through the Consular Body that the Council had no option but to refuse to accommodate them.

It was recommended:— (1) That the Council give its most earnest consideration to the grave situation now prevailing in the Ward Road Gaol, and that if financial considerations preclude the provision of an additional gaol, it should, with a view to remedying such conditions, put forward representations to the Consular Body in time to permit this question to be taken up with the Chinese Authorities prior to negotiations being conducted for the renewal of the Special District Court Agreement: (2) that upon his return from long leave Captain Martin be appointed Governor of the gaols.

Council Debate.

On the minutes of the Watch Committee referring to Gaol Administration being presented to the Council on July 13, the Commissioner of Police stated, in reply to the Chairman, that although under the recent amnesty some 2,000 professional criminals might be released from the Ward Road Gaol, it was probable that they would quickly resort to a life of crime and return to the gaol; hence in his opinion their release under the amnesty would not materially affect the problem of accommodation with which the Council was confronted.

In view of the extremely heavy cost involved by the provision of additional gaol accommodation it was unanimously resolved that representations on the lines suggested by the Committee be put forward to the Consular Body at an early date.

Admission Fees.—Admission fees, 20 cents (small money) for hire of chairs in roped enclosure at the Public Gardens. This charge is additional to the regular charge of 20 cents for admission to the Public Gardens. For the Jessfield Park concerts, the admission fee is 60 cents (small money) per person which includes admission to the Park and enclosure. For chairs in a limited number of rows, the charge is increased to $1 inclusive of the admission charge to the Park and enclosure.

MILITARY BAND CONCERTS.

The Municipal Council has accepted the offer of the British Military Authorities to give band concerts in Jessfield Park on Sunday afternoons during the summer. The concerts will be given in the band enclosure, which has accommodation for 1,200 persons, from 5.30 to 7 p.m. when the weather permits. It is proposed at the first concerts to make a charge for chairs of 40 cents small silver for adults, with children half-price. If tickets for chairs are obtained at the park gates they will include admission to the park for the one fee. Fifty per cent of the receipts will be contributed to regimental funds, the Council providing transportation for the bandsmen.

OMNIBUS COMPANY.

Double Deck Vehicles.

In a memorandum submitted to the Public Utilities Committee, the Secretary of Council referred to the view recorded by the Committee and endorsed by the Council that to prevent the overcrowding of omnibuses, 50 additional vehicles should be provided and that subject to means being devised effectively to prevent the overcrowding of the upper section of double-decked vehicles, approval would be given for the introduction of this type of vehicle for service on such roads as would permit The Secretary reported to the Committee on July 14, that the Company had increased its fleet by 27 new vehicles, whereas the total number of passengers was from 30 per cent to 40 per cent lower. With regard to the introduction of double-decked omnibuses, the Company suggested that this provision be left over to enable its technical adviser to go into details with the Commissioner of Public Works when it would probably be decided to get out an experimental omnibus. The Company's technical adviser had arranged to meet the Commissioner of Public Works in London for this purpose.

Members regarded as satisfactory the increased number of vehicles provided by the Company and supported its proposal that the question of the introduction of double-decked omnibuses be left in abeyance pending the result of the consultation in London between the Company's technical adviser and the Commissioner of Public Works and investigation as to the type most suitable for local conditions.

Flat Rate Fares.

For information, the Secretary of Council submitted to the Public Utilities Committee on July 14, a letter from the China General Omnibus Co., Ltd., notifying that it was practically impossible to state definitely what the effect of the utilization of flat rate fares would be in normal times as its traffic arrangements had been disorganized since January 28, and were only now returning to normal.

It was noted that the Company was experimenting with a turnstile and was of opinion that by this means it would eliminate "squeeze" entirely, and since to obtain full benefit the employment of flat rates was essential, its view was that it should adopt this system as a permanent policy.

The Secretary was requested to call for a further report from the Company as to the effect of the utilization of flat rate fares after further experience had been gained from the equipment of its vehicles with turnstiles.

The above minutes were confirmed by the Council on July 27.

EDUCATIONAL GRANTS-IN-AID.

1. Foreign Schools.

FORMS of application and copies of the conditions governing the issue of grants-in-aid to foreign schools within the International Settlement or paying rates to the Shanghai Municipal Council may be obtained from the Acting Superintendent, Education Department, Administration Building.

Applications for grants-in-aid for the year 1933 must be submitted not later than October 1, 1932.

2. Chinese Schools.

In the case of Chinese schools registered or in the process of being registered with the Bureau of Education for Greater Shanghai, applications should in the first instance be submitted to that Bureau, from which application forms and copies of the conditions may be obtained. In the case of schools not so registered, applications should be submitted to the Acting Superintendent, Education Department, Administration Building, from whom application forms and copies of the conditions may also be obtained.

Applications for grants-in-aid for the year 1933 must be submitted not later than October 1, 1932.

3. Note to all Schools.

The Council proposes to make the above grants-in-aid the sole form of subsidy to educational establishments. After the current year no provision will be made in the Education Budget for grants of any other description, and the partial or total exemption from the payment of General Municipal Rate, which has been accorded in certain approved cases, will also cease on December 31, 1932.

By order,

PUBLIC HEALTH REPORT FOR JUNE.

The Commissioner of Public Health, in his June report, states:—

The foreign death rate for June was 8.43, and the Chinese death rate 9.98. These figures are the lowest recorded in the past twenty-five years. The inaccuracies involved in connection with the Chinese death-rate due to imperfect notification have been frequently alluded to in these reports, but the figures can be regarded as comparable with other figures kept under the same disabilities, more particularly since notification has improved during the last two years. Hence it is perhaps legitimate to state that, though a cholera epidemic is present, the morbidity rate for the town is satisfactory.

The general mortality from communicable diseases was much below normal during the month, though tuberculosis was, as usual, the chief cause of death under this category. Before discussing the cholera situation it is desirable to quote certain figures which will serve to indicate the relative severity of the outbreak:—

	Cholera
	Cases	Deaths	Per cent.
May	25	1	4
June	342	31	9
	367	32

	Other Communicable Diseases
	Cases	Deaths	per cent.
May	337	152	45
June	348	149	43

All communicable Diseases 685 301

Percentage of Cholera May= 7 June=50

September, 1931; total cases of communicable disease. 788 (Dysentery—421).

June 1932; total cases 690 (Cholera =342).

It is to be noted that, since dysentery cases are more likely to escape the notice of the Department, the above figures cannot be said to minimize the importance of cholera in any way.

Cholera attained epidemic proportions on June 6 and during the month there were nine foreign and 333 Chinese cases notified amongst residents, with one and thirty-one deaths respectively. Treated within the Settlement were 1,187 cases from the entire Shanghai area notified as cholera. The 91 deaths reported give a crude death rate of 7.0, an exceptionally low mortality.

This low mortality seems to indicate either that the present type of cholera is very mild or that the natural immunity is somewhat high, as it is difficult to ascribe it to the inoculation campaign. It is clear that the success of the latter depends on the inoculated either not getting cholera or in great diminution in its incidence amongst them. Since the majority of those affected have not been inoculated, it is difficult to see how the campaign produces any effect on the morbidity.

Highly coloured accounts have been noted in certain newspapers concerning prophecies by this Department regarding the present epidemic. An attempt made to prevent undue scare-mongering seems to have been interpreted as official evasion.

It can only be stated that the past record of this Department will indicate quite clearly to those who care to delve therein that the minimization of disease is not one of its functions.

The factors which influence cholera epidemics are extremely complex, and some are still rather vague. Hence they do not lend themselves to explanation except amongst those persons who have studied these questions. It must be clearly stated that to make a prophecy in May would have been impossible, and that any idea that one was made must be due to misunderstanding. Briefly it can be said that cholera seems to follow a cyclical development so far as epidemics are concerned, hence the warning in the last annual report; that epidemics are of two normal types; that short epidemics are more often comparatively short, and the slow rising ones more prolonged.

It is obvious, however, that short is a relative term, and does not necessarily indicate the early cessation of the epidemic. Up to the present, Shanghai, though undoubtedly experiencing an epidemic, has not shown the rapid evolution which according to information available is to be noted in other areas. It is noted that though July and August are commonly the epidemic months, this is probably due to climatic factors. Up to the present the intermittent rains, high humidity and raised temperature, have been decidedly in favour of the spread of the disease. Continuation of any one of these factors not accompanied by the other two might decidedly influence the epidemic towards a fall. Hence to estimate that cases will be heavier in August because they were heavy in June is decidedly fallacious. The evaluation of this epidemic, as against former epidemics, naturally cannot be made at the present time.

As regards prevention, it is probable that the rainy weather interfered with the voluntary inoculation work performed by the Department, though 59,232 persons were dealt with, bringing the total for the year up to 87,117. To this must be added a large number performed by certain other organisations which curtailed the numbers done by the Department.

During June some 600 wells were brought under control, and treated. This measure is of debatable value, but on weighing advantages and disadvantages it was decided to give it a trial. A separate report would be required to discuss the various factors which in India were found to bear on this problem. Among the disadvantages noted in India, were that disinfection, except by use of massive doses, was liable to give rise to a sense of false security, and its characteristic taste was liable to drive people elsewhere for water.

Of the above wells not all are used in connection with food. As regards water, the problem cannot be stated with the extreme ease and simplicity which characterizes various reports. The presence of cholera in areas entirely free from sources of impure water, and distant from this form of contamination, complicates the problem. The statement that all the cases come from classes who have only access to impure sources requires modification.

It is, no doubt, a fascinating idea to abolish cholera at a stroke, but investigation reveals certain complications, and though doubtless water is to a large extent the chief factor, it is necessary to decide what water, and even whether the water concerned is within the limits of our jurisdiction.

It must, however, be plainly stated that there is no evidence that much of the disease is contracted by the actual drinking of water, particularly that of creeks, which indeed is absurd to those acquainted with the water supplies of the Settlement.

To the sanitarian the problem appears to be bound up with a number of factors; one is undoubtedly the hawker, but as previous reports have shown, the hawker menace is intimately related to the provision of markets, and this has been speeded up as far as the various other responsibilities, financial and otherwise, permit. Two additional markets in suitable areas are included in this year's programme.

The conservancy system which the International Settlement is rapidly replacing by the water-carriage system is another important factor, but since full reports on this and the allied subject of the provision of public conveniences exist, they will not be dealt with further.

A factor which has been the subject of report from time to time, but which is not capable of solution by the Settlement, is the riverine and boat population, which increased greatly during the recent emergency. It is, however, a vast problem, the solution of which presents great difficulties.

The culverting of creeks and the removal of impure sources of water is an engineering job of considerable magnitude, though in the last few years progress has been made along these lines.

It is clear that the systematic free supply of pure water is important. This, however, also has its problems, and an unsystematic supply is not without its own dangers, nor is it possible to demonstrate, except by the use of non-comparable figures, that such supply has a definite effect on the incidence of cholera. Legislative powers and other factors have to be considered which have been the subject of previous reports.

Housing, squatters' huts, and the general health education of the public have also a bearing on the matter and it is of interest to observe that economic as well as departmental pressure is decidedly increasing the number of hawkers who cover the foodstuffs they offer for sale.

Finally it may be pointed out that, though there can be no relaxation of precautions, it is quite evident even from the incomplete statistics available, that Shanghai, on the whole, has been comparatively freer than other areas.

Until, however, statistical data are kept with the same attention to detail in other areas, measures to be taken will be palliative, since information will be lacking as to the endemic source, thus rendering abortive any attempts by quarantine or other measures to limit the spread. The comparative freedom of Hongkong indicates that such steps are effectual.

Smallpox declined within the Settlement. There were one foreign and four Chinese cases among residents, while a number of cases from other municipal areas were admitted to the Chinese Isolation Hospital in advanced stages of the disease.

There were 24 notified cases of scarlet fever, of which three were among the foreign community. A few of the Chinese cases were of a most virulent type.

Apart from tuberculosis, which accounted for 65 Chinese deaths, there is little to record concerning other communicable diseases. Measles has almost completely disappeared as is usual during the warmer months.

Pathological Laboratory.—June was a heavy month, especially in routine diagnostic work. 1,097 specimens (from 1,065 patients) were examined for the cholera vibrio, with 665 positive results.

Pasteur Institute. — Sixty-two patients called for advice and/or treatment; of these four were from outports. There were three probable deaths from rabies. Two of the cases had been bitten by a stray cat in Chapei about two weeks before attending for treatment, and had stopped attendance at an early stage while the other, a patient from Tsungming Island, delayed over three weeks before seeking treatment.

Hospitals Division. — Work at both the Tuberculosis and V.D. Clinic has been unusually heavy. The Assistant Superintendent of Hospitals was placed in general charge of the cholera inoculation work, including supervision and co-ordination of the work of the various mobile units.

Food and Dairies Division.—The Veterinary Surgeon reports that out of 105 samples of milk and cream taken for analysis, 87 were up to standard, 12 were of poor quality and the balance either of doubtful purity, deficient in fat content or found dirty on filtration tests. As regards bacteriological tests, of 36 samples examined 12 were found below standards. Six prosecutions were undertaken for various breaches of dairy licence conditions. The grade "A" licence hitherto held by the Western Dairy was withdrawn for repeated negligence and substituted by a Grade "B" licence.

Four herds were examined and of the 297 animals, 41 were found affected with various pathological conditions. Contagious pleuro-pneumonia has spread to three other dairies but prompt inoculation measures reduced the mortality.

Eight herds, comprising 420 animals, were tuberculin tested, the percentage of reactors ranging from 64 to 95 per cent.

Meat Supply.—The kill at the municipal slaughterhouse has increased although the cattle dealers reported that, during the middle of the month, they had some difficulty in obtaining live stock. Altogether 23 oxen and 13 pigs were rejected, chiefly on account of tuberculosis, pleuropneumonia and swine fever.

At the Disposal Plant 18,761 lbs. of material were treated and the amount of compensation paid in respect of condemned material and animals was $624.

Markets and Bakeries.—Trade in the municipal markets is now almost normal except among the butchers who report a shortage of meat due to the difficulties mentioned above. At the Foochow Road Market re-laying of floors is in progress and plans are in hand for the systematic checking of stall cleansing. When it is realized that in one market alone there are 750 stalls occupied the necessity for organized inspection is readily apparent.

In addition to the intensive campaign conducted among bakeries, ice cream shops and ice factories have received concentrated attention, and 134 samples of various food stuffs were taken for bacteriological examination and analysis. No fewer than 180 prosecutions had to be instituted for various breaches of licence conditions.

Sanitation Division.—The prevalence of cholera has called for a considerable amount of additional work on the part of this division. Apart from the inoculation service at five branch offices, the staff have been fully occupied surveying the various sub-districts to locate surface wells and attend to their regular chlorination.

The intermittent rains during June interfered with mosquito reduction work to some extent.

As regards fly prevention work, the gradual increase in temperature and humidity has called for redoubled precautions at the various dumps where it has been found that the least deviation from a stereotyped routine gives rise to increased fly breeding.

Considerable time and attention has been devoted at night to the supervision of food and fruit stalls and a large number of prosecutions were found necessary to enforce health measures.

The work of this Department in certain sections of Chapei ceased on June 17 when the areas were taken over by the Chinese authorities.

Here follow tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases, and of the work of the Food and Dairies, and Markets and Bakeries Divisions: Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics, Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

Bacteriological Examination.—32 samples were examined during the month, five from hydrants and 27 from taps in various parts of the Settlement. In five tap samples unidentifiable organisms of the B.coli group were present to the extent of 10, 10, 10, 25, 25 per litre respectively. The remaining tap samples and the five hydrant samples contained less than 10 B.coli group per litre.

Report on Analysis. — Samples taken showed satisfactory purification.

Gambling Offences	36	15	21
Other Crimes	247	256	272
Total	1,304	1,378	1,488

The total reported crime for the month of June shows an appreciable decrease as compared with the figure of reported crime for the corresponding month last year. There is a general decrease of about 6 per cent on the figure recorded for the previous month. Reports of attempted murder, manslaughter and armed kidnapping were noticeable by their absence. The cases were distributed as follows:—

"A" Division (Central and Louza) 425 cases as compared with 470 in May.

"B" Division (Sinza, Bubbling Well, Gordon Road, Pootoo Road) 308 cases as compared with 393 in May.

"C" Division (Hongkew, West Hongkew, Dixwell Road) 234 cases as compared with 247 in May.

"D" Division (Harbin Road, Wayside, Yangtszepoo, Yulin Road) 337 cases as compared with 268 in May.

1,466 persons were arrested for crime committed during the month as compared against 1,408 in May. In addition 149 persons were arrested for crime committed in previous months and 64 persons arrested on behalf of outside authorities.

Five cases of murder were reported during the month, one of an American citizen who was shot dead by another American on Lincoln Avenue, the second a male Chinese who was stabbed to death by another Chinese as the result of a quarrel over a female, the third of a Chinese woman who was stabbed and killed during a quarrel with a male Chinese, the fourth of a mill detective who was shot dead probably by communist bandits for purposes of revenge and the fifth being the double murder of two pawnshop assistants in the Yangtzepoo district, the motive being apparently robbery. There were 12 cases of simple abduction against eight in May. Cases of armed robbery increased from 42 in May to 48 in June. The cases were distributed as follows:—

Division "A" 9 cases as against 2 in May.

Division "B" 24 cases as against 25 in May.

Division "C" 4 cases as against 2 in May.

Division "D" 11 cases as against 13 in May.

There were seven cases of other robberies as against 14 in May. The majority of the cases occurred on the highway. Three criminal gangs were dealt with as such against one in May. One of the gangs arrested was found to have been concerned in the robbery of the Carter Road Post Office and also in the robbery of the Wing On Cotton Mill. The number of burglaries was 23 as against 36 in May. The cases were distributed as follows:—

"A" Division 4 cases as against 15 in May.

"B" Division 5 cases as against 13 in May.

"C" Division 5 cases as against 3 in May.

"D" Division 9 cases as against 5 in May.

"A" and "B" Divisions show marked decreases as the result of special precautionary measures adopted by the Police.

The number of housebreakings was 45 as against 46 in May, the cases being distributed as follows:—

"A" Division 11 cases as against 10 in May.

"B" Division 4 cases as against 11 in May.

"C" Division 17 cases as against 19 in May.

"D" Division 13 cases as against 6 in May.

The 670 cases of simple theft were distributed as follows:—

"A" Division 249 cases as against 261 in May.

"B" Division 164 cases as against 203 in May.

"C" Division 117 cases as against 140 in May.

"D" Division 140 cases as against 145 in May.

A slight decrease in cases of pocketpicking is shown in "A" Division, but cases of bicycle theft remain the same as last month. 16 cases of receiving stolen property were reported during the month, the same as for the previous month. There was a marked decrease in the number of cases of snatching the figure for the month being 31 as against 59 in May. The cases were distributed as follows:—

"A" Division 16 cases as against 38 in May.

"B" Division 8 cases as against 17 in May.

"C" Division 2 cases as against 2 in May.

"D" Division 5 cases as against 2 in May.

The district mainly affected was Louza with 13 cases. 15 persons were arrested in connection with these cases. There was an increase in the reports of opium and gambling offences, which was due to Police activities. The Headquarters Narcotic Section carried out four raids and effected the arrest of 11 persons and seized 2,149 ozs. of opium, 78 ozs. of dross, 176 ozs. of red pills, and seven pipes. Other forms of crime show little variation.

Notable work in "A" Division included the arrest of 15 persons in unlawful possession of three loaded pistols. Notable work in "B" Division included the arrest of 10 armed robbers and the seizure of one Mauser pistol and ammunition. Five charges of armed robbery were preferred against this gang. Notable work by Headquarters Detective Squad included the arrest of six members of an armed kidnapping gang who were responsible for the abduction of a Chinese merchant at 58 Kiangse Road on May five and the seizure of five automatic pistols, one gas pistol, two bottles of chemicals for same and 194 rounds of ammunition.

The following cases which are included in the month's figures occurred in "B" Division outside Settlement Limits on or in houses abutting on Council roads:—

Murder	1
Armed Robbery	2
Snatching	2
Theft	20
Burglary	1
Housebreaking	1
Assault	1

The Headquarters special detective squad conducted investigations into 25 cases and effected the arrest of 27 persons including 14 members of two armed kidnapping gangs and eight members of a criminal gang. In addition enquiries were continued in nine cases previously reported.

Property valued at $248,056.58 was alleged to have been stolen in cases reported during the month as against property valued at $134,177.47 in May. The total value is made up as follows:—

"A" Division		$186,350.68
"B"	"	27,717.15
"C"	"	16,999.60
"D"	"	16,989.15

Property valued at $40,068.61 was recovered.

Finger Print Bureau. — During the month of June the total number of records received by the Bureau from all sources was 2,368. This shows a decrease of 244 as compared with last month and a decrease of 565 by comparison with the corresponding month of last year. 2,547 Gaol Cards were received during the month for verification of prisoners' thumb prints.

Investigations were made into 20 reported cases of the following nature:—

1 Armed Kidnapping.
5 Burglaries.
2 House-breakings.
1 Larceny of Motor-car.
4 Shop-breakings.
3 Armed Robberies.
1 Godown-breaking.
2 Larceny.
1 Murder.

Finger prints were secured in six instances.

Seven bodies of unknown Chinese who had met their deaths under various circumstances were photographed and finger-printed at the Mortuary with the object of establishing their identity. Successful results were obtained in two cases. During the month the Crime Branch Studio took 384 photographs and printed 1,320 copies.

Anti-Japanese Agitation. — A memorial meeting in honour of Chinese soldiers and civilians killed during the fighting near Shanghai was held in the Chinese Chamber of Commerce on June 12 when about 800 people attended. The function was marked by the delivery of speeches hostile to Japan and the display and distribution of posters, paper slips and booklets containing similar sentiments.

Besides making a farewell dinner, given to the officers of the 19th Route Army on June 22, an occasion for considerable anti-Japanese propaganda, the National Salvation Federation of Various Shanghai Bodies conducted a campaign against the suggestion to hold a round table conference and the proposal that Shanghai be converted into a Free City.

The Federation of Shanghai People to Oppose the Agreement to Cease Hostilities and to Support the North Eastern Volunteer Armies sent parties of students from three local schools to hotels and restaurants for the purpose of collecting funds for the forces fighting against the Manchukuo and Japanese forces in Manchuria. Plans of the same organization to hold a meeting in the Public Recreation Ground in Chinese territory in honour of Chinese who lost their lives in the conflict against the Japanese failed in consequence of prohibitive measures taken by the Chinese authorities. Efforts by members of the University Students National Salvation Committee to Resist Japan to resuscitate their activities proved abortive for the same reason.

Communism. — The Municipal Police on June 3, searched the headquarters in the Settlement of the Social Science Research Society, an important branch of the Chinese Communist Party, and made four arrests. Acting on information obtained in the course of this search, the Police raided six additional addresses in the Settlement and French Concession, where about half a ton of Communist literature as well as printing blocks and set types for printing communist literature were seized, and made 15 further arrests. Of the 19 persons taken into custody, eight were still on remand at the end of the month. The remaining 11 were acquitted, but were not released as the Municipal Police gave notice of an intention to appeal. These 11 men were employees of a printing shop whose master is wanted on a warrant. Two alleged communists, in addition to those mentioned, were arrested during the month for chalking inflammatory slogans on walls and for being in possession of literature of a similar character.

The case against Chang Lih Tsung, an important member of the Chinese Communist Party, who was arrested on April 19, in connection with attempts to spread disaffection among junior members of the Chinese and Indian Branches of the Shanghai Municipal Police, was concluded on June 8 when he was sentenced to eight years' imprisonment. Of five other persons arrested on the same day two were proved to be confederates of Chang and were each sentenced to two years and six months' imprisonment, and three were released.

Efforts to hold demonstrations of a communist character were made in Chinese territory on two occasions during the month. On June 12 about 400 Chinese consisting of students and workers forcibly entered the Public Recreation Ground, West Gate, and attempted to hold a meeting. On being frustrated in this intention by members of the Public Safety Bureau some of the crowd went away but others reassembled and marched in processional order along Min Kuo Road. Having attempted in vain to enter the French Concession they repaired to the Chinese Bund where they were finally dispersed by the police of the Public Safety Bureau.

In the course of raids and other action during the month about 8,000 copies of communist literature, including 67 different kinds of pamphlets which had not been previously seen, were seized by the Municipal Police. These pamphlets, etc. dealt with various subjects, including the anniversary of the Shameen Incident (June 23) the postal and telephone strikes, the resumption of diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia and victories claimed by the Chinese Red Armies.

Strikes.—Nine strikes occurred in the Settlement during June but two of these were already in progress when the month started. The strikes affected a total of 4,558 workers in 12 different concerns and resulted in a loss of 11,101 working days. The strikers comprised 24 silk weavers, 244 cotton mill operatives, 36 electrical engineers, 1,500 cigarette factory workers, 1,154 Chinese press workers and 1,600 silk filature workers. The concerns affected were the Sen Shing Silk Weaving Factory (Chinese) Ward Road; the N.W.K. No. 5 Mill (Japanese) 14 West Soochow Road; the Dong Shing Cotton Mill (Japanese) 181 Gordon Road; the Kung Dah Cotton Mill (Japanese) No. 2,540 Yangtszepoo Road; Larsen & Trock Electrical Engineering Workers (Danish) 44 Avenue Edward VII; British Cigarette Company (British) 637 Thorburn Road; "The China Times" (Chinese) 307 Kiangse Road, The "Sin Wan Pao" (Chinese) 19 Hankow Road, The "Shun Pao" (Chinese) 24 Hankow Road and the "Eastern Times" (Chinese) 708 Chekiang Road, and Ye Cheong and Yc Chong Branch Silk Filature (Chinese) Nos. 1 and 2 Wuchow Road.

One strike occurred in the French Concession and one in Chinese controlled territory.

The strike of 1,050 workers of the Shanghai Telephone Company which resulted in a loss of 13,901 working days, affected both the International Settlement and the French Concession.

The statistics of strikes for the month of June are as follows:—

Area	No. of Strikes	No. of Hands	No. of Working days lost.
Settlement	9	4,558	11,101
French Concession	1	80	120
Chinese controlled territory	1	100	3
Two areas (Settlement & French Concession)	1	1,050	13,901
Total	12	5,788	25,125
Total for the corresponding month of 1931	6	1,921	9,895

The strike in the Shanghai Telephone Company started at 7 p.m. June 7, in the Western Exchange and quickly extended to the other exchanges in the Settlement and French Concession, affecting a total of 1,050 employees. After stopping work, the strikers presented 20 demands. The most important of these were that (1) a general increase in wages be given to all employees, (2) all workers who were dismissed on May 30, be reinstated, (3) retiring gratuities be given to workers discharged between February 18 and May 30, and (4) the Workers' Union be recognized by the Company.

In an effort to compel the employers to grant these demands, the strikers resorted to intimidation, assault and sabotage. These tactics stiffened the attitude of the Company whose firmness finally caused a split in the ranks of the strikers. Discouraged by this dissension the strikers began to return to work on June 20 and three days later were all back, with the exception of about 40 whose services were not considered important. The return to work was in every instance entirely unconditional.

The management of the Telephone Company succeeded in maintaining its service on an almost normal basis while the strike was in progress.

The employees of the principal Chinese daily newspapers "Sin Wan Pao," "Shun Pao" and "Eastern Times," numbering about 1,100 struck work on June 1 and remained out for two days. This strike was declared for the purpose of securing either the reinstatement of 24 members of the staff of the "China Times," who had failed to get back their employment after a strike which started on April 2, or the payment to them of retiring gratuities. A party of about 20 men composed principally of ex-employees of the "China Times" went on June 2 to the printing works of that paper at 307 Kiangse Road and did considerable damage to the printing type. Four of these were arrested and brought on June 17 before the Special District Court which sentenced each of them to a fine of $100 or one month's imprisonment.

As a result of strikes at two silk filatures in the Settlement which commenced on June 25, 22 silk filatures in Chapei declared lockouts. These disputes affected a total of 11,460 employees and still remained unsettled at the end of the month.

Apart from the above strikes unrest existed for various reasons among workers of the Shanghai Power Company, French Tramway Company, Nantao Tramway Company, Chinese medicine shops and Chinese Post Office.

The average prices of rice for the month of June 1932 are as follows:

Chinese Rice:
Best quality	$16.08
Good quality	15.28
Ordinary quality	14.28
Saigon Rice:
Best quality	13.88
Good quality	12.71
Ordinary quality	11.71

Film Censorship. — 46 feature films and 51 shorts and newsreels were censored during the month in theatres in the Settlement and French Concession. Three of these were rejected as unsuited for local exhibition while six others were only approved after parts, to which the police censors objected, had been deleted. Of the films rejected, one entitled "Ships of Hate" will be the subject of an appeal to the Board of Film Censors.

Traffic.—Court proceedings were instituted in 408 (73 Foreigners and 335 Chinese) of 3,885 reports of traffic offences received during the month against owners and/or drivers of vehicles. The remainder were dealt with by letter of warning or entry of caution on their records.

Accidents. — Accidents coming under police notice during the months of June 1932 and June 1931:—

Bicycles.—Bicycles were involved in 200 accidents and in 64 cases the cyclists were known to have been at fault.

Motor Horn Nuisance. — There were 65 prosecutions for this offence during the month and in addition, two chauffeurs had their driving licences suspended for a repetition of the offence.

Safety First.—During the month the professional storyteller visited various districts and gave 78 addresses in Teashops and Mills, etc. on "Safety First" themes. His audience roughly totalled 2,815 persons.

Omnibus Service.—On the application of the China General Omnibus Co., Ltd. Bus Route No. 1A was extended from the corner of Bubbling Well-Seymour Roads to St. Georges as from the 2nd of the month.

Motor Vehicles reported lost, etc. During the recent hostilities, 17 motor vehicles were reported as lost, stolen or commandeered from roads near the boundaries of the Settlement which were involved in military activities. Of the 17 motor vehicles thus reported, 14 were recovered and returned to their owners. In addition to these reported losses, 94 motor trucks and 17 motor-cars were reported as missing in the actual war zones between Chapei and Chenju and of this number 47 vehicles were recovered with the assistance of the Japanese Military and Civil Authorities and returned to owners. It might be stated that much of the information given to the police in respect to these losses was either vague or inaccurate and in some cases where vehicles had been reported stolen or commandeered, it was later found that they had simply been abandoned during the confusion following the early stages of hostilities. In a few of the cases reported, it is suspected that the reports were made with a view to claiming on Insurance Companies, or for the purpose of evading liability in respect to outstanding instalments due on the vehicles. In these cases the vehicles were reported to have been commandeered inside the Settlement whereas in fact they had been either abandoned in the war zone or had been loaned, hired or sold for military purposes.

Identification Office.—During the month, 1,739 prisoners' records passed through this office for identification prior to the prisoners going to Court for trial, out of which number 495 were identified as having a previous conviction or convictions. In addition to the above 237 records were received from the French Police out of which number 94 were identified in the records of this office making the total for the month :—

REGULATIONS FOR THE REGISTRATION OF MEDICAL PRACTITIONERS, DENTISTS AND VETERINARY SURGEONS

執業醫師牙醫及獸醫註册條例 (華文詳後)

PART I.

1. A Medical Board to be termed The Shanghai Medical Board shall be established by the Shanghai Municipal Council in consultation with the principal national medical societies.

2. Such Medical Board shall, on election, serve for a period of two years with effect from April 1, 1931 and in all respects function as a Special Committee.

3. The Medical Board consists of :—

(a) The Commissioner of Public Health.

(b) One medical practitioner to be nominated by the Municipal Council.

(c) Seven medical practitioners, dentists or veterinary surgeons nominated by :
The Shanghai Medical Society
The China Medical Association
The National Medical Association of China
The Japanese Medical Society
The German Medical Society
The Russian Medical Society and
The Medical Practitioners' Association of Shanghai respectively.

The Shanghai Municipal Council may, by Notification in the "Gazette", increase the number of members of the Medical Board and may provide in what manner the additional members shall be appointed.

4. The Commissioner of Public Health shall be the Chairman of the Medical Board and shall have a casting vote.

5. The Medical Board shall meet from time to time as the Chairman may direct and four members shall form a quorum.

6. The Medical Board may frame rules for the conduct of its business.

7. If a vacancy occurs on the Board, the members may co-opt any medical practitioner, dentist or veterinary surgeon approved by the Shanghai Municipal Council to fill the vacancy.

8. A Register of medical practitioners, dentists and veterinary surgeons shall be kept by the Registrar, who will be appointed by the Shanghai Municipal Council, on the recommendation of the Commissioner of Public Health. The Registrar will also act as Secretary to the Board.

9. A fee of $2 shall be charged for each registration. No fee shall be charged for the registration of any medical practitioner, dentist or veterinary surgeon in the service of the International or French Municipal Councils, or Chinese Government, provided the application is made by a responsible authority.

10. The Registrar shall, at least once in every year, as soon as convenient after the first day of January, publish in the "Gazette" a list showing the names, nationalities and qualifications of all registered medical practitioners, dentists and veterinary surgeons.

11. The publication of such list shall be prima facie evidence that the persons named therein are registered medical practitioners, dentists and veterinary surgeons, approved by the Shanghai Medical Board.

The absence of the name of any person from such list shall be prima facie evidence that such person is not so registered.

12. The following persons shall be entitled to registration under these Regulations :—

The holder of any degree, diploma or licence in Medicine, of any Medical, Dental or Veterinary School of Europe, the U.S.A., British Colonies, South America, China or Japan, the degrees, diplomas and licences of which are recognized by the Registration Authority of the nation concerned, but in the case of Foreigners, subject to the approval of the Consul having jurisdiction; and in the case of Chinese or Foreigners having no Consular representation, subject to the approval of the Department of Health of the National Government.

13. If any person applying for registration has been convicted of any heinous offence, or, after due enquiry by the Medical Board, is deemed by it to have been guilty of infamous conduct in any professional respect, the Medical Board may refuse to enter the name of such person upon the Register.

14. Upon any such enquiry the person against whom such offence or conduct is alleged shall be entitled to appear and be heard.

15. If any person applies for registration whose credentials are not completely in conformity with Paragraph 12, the Medical Board shall consider such application on its own merits. Should the Medical Board, for this or other reasons, refuse registration, the person concerned may appeal to the Municipal Council through his Consular Authority, or in the case of Chinese or Foreigners having no Consular Authority, the Department of Health of the National Government.

16. Every person registered under these Regulations who has obtained any higher degree or qualification other than that in respect of which he has been registered shall be entitled to have such higher degree or additional qualification inserted in the Register substituting, or in addition to, qualifications previously registered without further payment.

17. No certificate or other documents ordinarily signed by a duly qualified medical practitioner permitting interment or cremation of a body will be accepted by the Shanghai Municipal Council unless signed by a person registered under these Regulations.

18. All Army, Navy or Government Medical Officers, Dentists or Veterinary Surgeons temporarily residing within the limits of the International Settlement, and all ships' Surgeons while in the discharge of their duties shall be entitled to the privileges of persons registered under these Regulations, subject to the approval of the Shanghai Medical Board.

19. If any medical practitioner registered under these Regulations is convicted of any heinous offence or is, after due enquiry by the Shanghai Medical Board, deemed by it to have been guilty of infamous conduct in any professional respect, the Medical Board may order the name of such person to be struck off the Register.

Upon any such enquiry the person against whom such offence or conduct is alleged shall be entitled to appear and be heard, and any person whose name has been struck out from the Register may appeal to the Shanghai Municipal Council through his Consular Authority, or in the case of Chinese, or Foreigners having no Consular Authority, through the Department of Health of the National Government.

20. The Registrar shall erase from the Register the names of all deceased medical practitioners and of such persons as are ordered by the Medical Board to be struck out.

21. Medical practitioners on the Register shall comply with the Regulations of the Public Health Department as set out in the attached Schedule.

The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, AUGUST 5, 1932. No. 1380

EXTRA-SETTLEMENT ROADS.

At the meeting of the Municipal Council on July 27, the Secretary-General reported upon his negotiations with the representative of the Municipality of Greater Shanghai for an agreement upon a proposed modus vivendi in regard to extra-Settlement roads. It was decided to address a letter to the Consular Body upon the matter and forward therewith a copy of the suggested modus vivendi.

WATERWORKS COMPANY.

Rebate on Meter Charges.

In a memorandum submitted to the Council, the Secretary reported that owing to the large increase in many instances in the Shanghai Waterworks Company's accounts by meter over the fixed rates based on percentage of rent, it requested the Council's sanction to a rebate being given during investigation into the problem and the correction of high consumption, provided that its revenue on the whole did not suffer and no increase in the tariff would become necessary.

The Chairman of Council stated at a meeting on July 27, that in proceeding with the installation of the metering system the Company had found that owing to the recent heat the consumption of water had greatly increased instead of being reduced. Accordingly, if the owners of large blocks of property were required to pay on a meter basis they would be faced with heavy additional charges. The Company accordingly requested permission, at its discretion, to allow considerable rebates in cases where it was apparent a hardship would be inflicted. Provided that it was clearly understood that approval of this application would not involve an increase in tariff rates to offset this rebate or to meet the sum required to pay dividends to its shareholders, he favoured approval of the Company's proposal, which was of a temporary nature and would be discontinued after the necessary action had been taken to correct the existing high consumption.

After brief discussion it was resolved that on the distinct understanding that no claim for loss is made on the Council, and subject to a monthly return being furnished giving details of all cases in which relief is granted and showing the effect of general metering on the consumption of water and on the Company's revenue, its application to grant rebates as a temporary measure be approved.

VOLUNTEER CORPS.

Russian Detachment.

The Municipal Council on July 27 again considered the question of the retention of a number of the men added to the Russian Detachment during the State of Emergency early this year. The Watch Committee, having expressed the view that, if finances permitted, it was desirable to retain the services of some of these trained men, the Council requested the Finance Committee to consider the possibility of the necessary funds being available. After going into the matter, the Finance Committee recommended that, subject to the financial position being reviewed towards the end of the current year, and without committing itself to additional expenditure in 1933 and succeeding years on the maintenance of an increased strength of the Russian Detachment, the Council authorize the retention of seventy-three of the extra men for the year 1932.

The Council adopted this recommendation.

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION

No. 4269.

SALE OF SURPLUS LAND.

TENDERS are invited for the purchase of an area of surplus land, part of U.S.C. Lot 339, Cadastral Lot 1965, situated at the south-east corner of Bubbling Well and Chengtu Roads.

The Council does not bind itself to accept the highest or any tender. The property to be sold has an area of Mow 2.943 or thereabouts. Tenders should be submitted on a lump sum basis. On the acceptance of any tender a deposit of 10 per cent will be required, which sum will be forfeited in the event of non-completion of the transaction; balance of payment to be made against transfer which shall take place not later than November 1, 1932. The cost of all Consular transfer fees to be defrayed by the purchaser. Tenders must be sent to the Secretary of the Council not later than 11 a.m. on October 5, 1932. Tenderers may attend the opening of tenders in the Council Chamber, Administration Building, at 3 p.m. on October 5, 1932.

A plan and further particulars regarding the property may be obtained on application to the Acting Commissioner of Public Works.

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

A meeting of the Council was held on July 29. There were present:—Messrs. A. D. Bell (Chairman), H. E. Arnhold (Vice-Chairman), Capt. J. J. Bahnson, Messrs. N. Leslie, S. L. Hsu, O. S. Lieu, P. W. Massey, O. Okamoto, F. J. Raven, H. Terai, L. T. Yuan and Yu Ya-ching.

EDUCATIONAL MATTERS.

Applications for Headmastership.

A list of fourteen candidates for the post of headmaster of the Public and Thomas Hanbury School for Boys has been submitted to the Education Board. Members of the Board on July 20 adopted the proposal of the Acting Superintendent of Education that a committee consisting of the Chairman, Mrs. Leslie, a member of the Staff Committee and the Acting Superintendent be appointed to consider these applications and submit a recommendation through the Staff Committee for the Council's approval.

Pending selection of an appointee to this post, it was decided that Mr. S. Hore, Master-in-charge, be requested to continue in his present capacity, and that Mr. Huckstep be requested to remain as resident Housemaster of the Hostel.

Grants-in-Aid for 1932.

The Committee on grants-in-aid for foreign schools submitted to the Education Board, on July 20, its recommendations as to the allocation of grants for the current year.

In noting that the proposed grants were the same as those sanctioned for 1931, except that the Tls. 500 for Miss Dearborn's "Home School," which was definitely limited to one year, had been added to the amount to be paid to the Kaiser Wilhelm Schule for 1932, members approved these recommendations, subject if necessary to further consideration being given to the amount of the grant for any particular school should circumstances demand.

The Committee's on grants-in-aid for Chinese schools also submitted its recommendations. These were approved in principle. It was, however, decided that, prior to this list being submitted to the Council for confirmation, a translation of the recommendations submitted by the Bureau of Education be furnished for the benefit of the foreign members, as also a report by the Chinese Education Officer on the financial standing of the schools concerned and the manner in which the grants are to be used, and that the Public Health Department be requested to report as to the sanitary and hygienic conditions of these schools.

Chinese Primary Schools.

The Chairman of the Education Board stated at a meeting on July 20 that he had been informed by the Chinese Education Officer that the enrolment for the winter term at the new primary school in the Western District had already been completed. In view of the provision of a new and expensive building and of the fact that the pupils attending this school were financially better placed than those attending the other primary schools, he enquired whether members were prepared to consider an increase in the fees at this school with effect from the commencement of the next term.

Replying to the Chairman, the Chinese Education Officer stated that he would be prepared to recommend an increase in fees from $6 to $12 per annum for the Western and Northern District primary schools as from the commencement of the 1933 Spring term. At the same time, he would advocate that the number of free pupils admitted to these schools be increased from 10 per cent to 20 per cent. As the Eastern District primary school catered for a poorer class of pupil, he was not prepared to recommend an increase in the fees at this school.

Members unanimously agreed that, as from February, 1933, an increase in fees at the Western and Northern District primary schools was justified and should be given effect; the amount of such increase and any increase in the number of free pupils admitted to be the subject of later consideration.

The above minutes were approved by the Council on July 29.

REVISION OF SCHOOL FEES.

The Chairman of Council stated at the meeting on July 27 that since the last meeting certain members had put forward an amended proposal whereunder the school fees for the junior pupils would remain unchanged and those for the middle and higher students would be increased on a graduated scale. An analysis of this proposal by the Finance Department revealed that by its adoption the increased revenue would amount to approximately only 7 per cent. In view of the low ratio of fees to expenditure obtaining at the Municipal Chinese schools the Chairman regarded this increase as quite inadequate. The Education Board agreed in principle some months ago that an increase in school fees was justified and in his opinion the reasons advanced against an increase in fees from the commencement of the next term were not convincing. He was reluctant to put this question to the vote at the meeting since unquestionably the Council would decide to authorize this increase in fees.

It was stated that as no grants were authorized to Chinese schools for 1931, increased fees should not be imposed until next year; moreover, it was considered that an increase in fees from the commencement of the year was more in accordance with the recognized custom.

The Chairman replied that even if the Council had not, under its revised policy, decided to authorize the issue of grants-in-aid, it would have become necessary to increase school fees. Apart from the fact that the aim of the Council was to obtain school fees equivalent to 33-1/3 per cent of the cost of administering the schools, it should not be overlooked that the Council had recently authorized the engagement of highly paid teachers and the depreciation of the dollar was a further factor necessitating an increase in school fees.

Upon certain members concurring with the Chairman that an increase in school fees was justified and should be given effect as from September next, it was stated that the opposing members had given their reasons for objecting to an increase at that time and that if a majority decided to authorize this increase the opposing councillors would have no alternative but to acquiesce.

As a compromise it was suggested that the fees at the Chinese secondary schools be increased by $4 per term as from September next and by a further $4 per term as from the commencement of 1933. Members adopted this proposal, and it was resolved:—

(1) That a public notification be issued that the fees at the Municipal Chinese secondary schools will be increased by $4 per term as from the commencement of the next school term and by a further $4 per term as from the commencement of the first term of 1933; that the fees at the Municipal foreign schools be increased as recommended by the Education Board as from the commencement of the next school term.

(2) That with the exceptions referred to by the Education Board, pupils of parents who are not Settlement ratepayers be charged an additional school fee of 25 per cent.

LAND COMMISSION.

CASE NO. 228

Seymour Road Extension and Police Western Depot Extension, Unregistered Land, heard in the Council Chamber on Thursday, July 21, 1932.

Owner's Claim	Tls. 10,920
Council's Offer	Tls. 9,282
Award	Tls. 8,932

PROCEEDINGS.

Mr. C. S. Keh, the owner, appears in person and the Council is represented by Mr. R. Winter.

Opening his case Mr. Keh states that he presumes the Commissioners are familiar with the circumstances of this claim from perusal of the correspondence exchanged between the Council and himself or his lawyer, which correspondence is reproduced in the "Municipal Gazette" of June 10. The area scheduled by the Council is mow 0.546 and as will be observed from his letter to the Council of January 11, he was willing to accept compensation at the rate of Tls. 15,000 per mow in respect of mow 0.223 required for the scheduled extension of Seymour Road, provided the Council issued to him a building permit for the remaining area of mow 0.323; or in the alternative he was willing for the Council to acquire the united area of mow 0.546 at the rate of Tls. 20,000 per mow which, he contends, is about the market price of the land. By asking compensation on the basis of market price, the Commissioners would appreciate that he was not trying to take advantage of the Council's needs. If the Council had a piece of land in the neighbourhood to offer him of about the same area and about the same worth he was prepared to accept it in exchange, suitable adjustments, if necessary, being made. Although his offer of January 11, which had been made without prejudice was only good up to the beginning of the present Chinese New Year (February 6) he is willing to abide by it at the present time. He repeats that if the Council is unwilling to acquire the remaining area of mow 0.323 at the rate of Tls. 20,000 per mow he is prepared to keep it but would ask, in that case, that the Council issue him a building permit.

In response to queries from Mr. Winter, the following information is elicited from Mr. Keh: He bought the land under discussion in 1930, from certain relatives; he knew that a portion of the land had been scheduled for the extension of Seymour Road but was not aware that another portion had been scheduled for the extension of the Police Western Depot; he had not made any enquiries of the Council in this regard; he had decided to erect a building immediately after acquiring the land but financial reasons had prevented him from carrying out this intention; he had not submitted any plans for a building; he had valued the first piece of land, in area mow 0.223, at Tls. 15,000 per mow and the other area of mow 0.323 at Tls. 20,000 per mow because he believed that the building of the road would enhance the value to the extent of Tls. 5,000; he was not pressing the Council to take the remaining area of mow 0.323; he was not in the realty business but had acted for relatives in the several property transactions which he had negotiated recently; he had wanted to build on the remaining piece of land because a number of his friends resided in the vicinity and because the land suited his requirements; he had not visited the property for some time and did not know whether or not there was a fence around the piece he intended to retain, or if it now formed part of a brick yard.

Answering a question by one of the Commissioners, Mr. Winter explained that parcels of land to the north and south had once, together with the lot under discussion, formed one undivided area. The owners of this area had in 1929 entered into a provisional agreement to sell the Council the land at the rate of Tls. 6,000 per mow but subsequently had refused to go on with the agreement. He added that the land north and south which was referred to had also been scheduled for the extension of the police depot.

Responding for the Council, Mr. Winter said that the value of the land is the only question to be decided and that would be left entirely to the discretion of the Commissioners, as there were no recent sales in the vicinity which could serve as criteria. However, the Council would like the Commission to take one or two factors into consideration in fixing the value of the land. First, the land has never been registered and consequently the owner as such had not contributed anything towards improvements effected in the Settlement at the expense of ratepayers which improvements have enhanced the value of the land. Secondly, prior to recent improvements in the immediate vicinity, this particular piece of land was of comparatively little value. It had only one means of access, a narrow Chinese path part of which is shown on the plan before the Commission.

In 1922 the Council bought and laid out as a roadway the piece of land now forming Seymour Road immediately joining Connaught Road.

In 1925 it increased the roadway by taking a surrender of more land and covering in a creek south of the land under discussion.

In 1926 the Council acquired the land now forming Seymour Road north of this particular piece of land. That was interior land for which the Council paid at the rate of Tls. 3,000 per mow. The piece of land under discussion still is interior land.

The Commissioners will see from the key plan that the assessed value of the land having access to Seymour Road, north of this land, is Tls. 6,000 per mow.

Thus the Council's offer for the interior land in this case which is at the rate of Tls. 17,000 per mow is 280 per cent of the assessed value of more valuable adjoining lots.

He submits therefore that the offer is more than generous.

One of the Commissioners, referring to the letter of May 23 from Mr. Y. T. Hu (Mr. Keh's legal representative) to the Council enquired of Mr. Keh the authority for Mr. Hu's statement that fangtan land further east of the lot under discussion had been sold at Tls. 35,000 per mow. Mr. Keh replied that he had not been concerned in any such transaction and that Mr. Hu must have been under some misapprehension in making the statement referred to. He had not actually seen the letter mentioned before it was despatched as he was absent from Shanghai at the time.

The Commissioners then announce that the award will be given in due course.

AWARD.

That the owner be compensated in the sum of Tls. 8,932 for the scheduled area of mow 0.546.

ROAD EXTENSIONS AND WIDENINGS.

Avenue Edward VII.

Negotiations have been concluded with Messrs. Brandt and Rodgers, Ltd., for the surrender of an area of mow 0.054 of unregistered land east of Cadastral Lot 1392, required for the scheduled widening of Avenue Edward VII, at the assessed value of Tls. 45,000 per mow, making a sum of Tls. 2,430.

Hoean, Ningpo and Tientsin Roads.

Negotiations have been concluded with Messrs. Atkinson & Dallas, Ltd., for the surrender of an area of mow 1.188 required from Cadastral Lot 225 for the scheduled widening of these roads for a sum of Tls. 134,029.

Park and Tinghing Roads.

An area of mow 0.323 scheduled from Cadastral Lot 22 for the widening of Park Road has been surrendered by Messrs. Atkinson & Dallas, Ltd., for a sum of Tls. 12,510. A further area of mow 0.158, required from this lot for the extension of Tinghing Road, has been surrendered without compensation.

MUNICIPAL PROPERTIES.

Country Hospital Extension.

Negotiations have been concluded with Messrs. Ho & Ho for the acquisition, for a sum of Tls. 7,510, of an area of mow 0.751 of unregistered land west of B.C. Lot 12651, required for the extension of the Country Hospital property.

DISCHARGE OF PRISONERS UNDER AMNESTY LAW.

In a memorandum submitted to the Council, the Secretary has referred to the Amnesty Law and Regulations for the Prevention of Crimes which have been promulgated by the Chinese Government and under which a number of prisoners have been and continue to be, released. He suggested that, apart from seeking the assistance of the Discharged Prisoners' Aid Society, some arrangement might be possible whereby various guilds or charitable associations might look after discharged prisoners belonging to those parts of the country in which such guilds or associations are interested.

The Chairman stated at the Council meeting on July 29, that Major Darby, of the Salvation Army, had informed him that he had interested himself in prisoners discharged from the Ward Road Gaol, and in respect to those who had homes in other parts of the country they had been provided with transportation by rail or steamer. A large number of prisoners would be discharged under the Amnesty Law and he suggested that certain members, through their guilds and charitable organizations, might interest themselves and possibly take action on the same lines as that taken by the Salvation Army.

Endeavours will be made to convene a meeting of representatives of the various Chinese philanthropic organizations with a view to repatriating as many as possible of these discharged prisoners.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

New Premises Desired.

Consideration was given by the Library Committee on July 18 to the question of improved accommodation for the Public Library.

After discussion, members unanimously agreed as to the desirability of the provision of additional library amenities which would become available by securing more suitable accommodation, and it was recommended that the Public Works Department be authorized to enquire as to the possibility of securing more suitable premises for the accommodation of the Library; in the meantime no action to be taken for the provision of improved lighting facilities in the existing premises.

Bye-Law Amendment.

After discussion by the Library Committee, amendment of the existing Bye-law No. 3 has been authorized as follows:—

"3—The periods for which books may be kept are as follows:—

Works of fiction which have been less than six months in the Library for seven days. All other books for 14 days. Magazines and reviews for three days.

Subscribers not returning books, Magazines or Reviews on the date they are due will be fined $0.10 big money a day per volume for every day overdue."

New Books.—Members of the Committee also approved a proposal that, in future, a list of books required be submitted by the Librarian for approval by the Committee twice monthly on approximately the 1st and 15th of the month.

"China Section" of Hankow Club Library.

A letter from the Secretaries of the Hankow Club intimating that a number of the more valuable works in the "China Section" of its library are now for sale was submitted to the Committee.

Upon the Acting Treasurer pointing out that no funds were available this year for the purchase of an extensive number of valuable works, and as, moreover, the acquisition of a large number of additional books would involve the provision of additional library accommodation, the Secretary was requested to notify the Hankow Club, that, whilst financial considerations precluded the purchase of a large number of valuable works on China during the current year, the Club, if it so desired, was at liberty to furnish details as to the cost of these books for the Committee's consideration in conjunction with the estimates for 1933.

Additional Publicity.

In order to give further publicity to the amenities offered by the Library, members considered that, in addition to notices being inserted in the press and the "Municipal Gazette," radio announcements might be arranged. Prior to recording a definite recommendation on the subject, the Librarian was requested to ascertain and report as to the cost involved by adoption of this proposal.

MUNICIPAL ORCHESTRA AND BAND.

During August, the weekly programme of the Municipal Orchestra and Band Concerts will be as follows:—

Monday—Orchestral Concert, Jessfield Park 9.15-11.15 p.m.
Tuesday—Band Concert, Public Gardens 5.30-7 p.m.
Wednesday — Orchestral Concert. Jessfield Park 9,15-11.15 p.m.
Thursday—Brass Band Concert, Hongkew Park 5.30-7 p.m.
Friday—Brass Band Concert, Public Gardens 9.15-11 p.m.
Saturday—Orchestral Concert, Jessfield Park 9.15-11.15 p.m.

Admission Fees.—Admission fees, 20 cents (small money) for hire of chairs in roped enclosure at the Public Gardens. This charge is additional to the regular charge of 20 cents for admission to the Public Gardens. For the Jessfield Park concerts, the admission fee is 60 cents (small money) per person which includes admission to the Park and enclosure. For chairs in a limited number of rows, the charge is increased to $1 inclusive of the admission charge to the Park and enclosure.

MILITARY BAND CONCERTS.

The Municipal Council has accepted the offer of the British Military Authorities to give band concerts in Jessfield Park on Sunday afternoons during the summer. The concerts will be given in the band enclosure, which has accommodation for 1,200 persons, from 5.30 to 7 p.m. when the weather permits. It is proposed at the first concerts to make a charge for chairs of 40 cents small silver for adults, with children half-price. If tickets for chairs are obtained at the park gates they will include admission to the park for the one fee. Fifty per cent of the receipts will be be contributed to regimental funds, the Council providing transportation for the bandsmen.

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION
No. 4248.
SALE OF CARTS AND HARNESS.
(Amended).

THE Council hereby offers for sale the undermentioned mule or horse-drawn rolling stock and harness in good condition:—

Sweeping carts	40
Gully carts	12

Harness, Bits, Bridles, Collars, Reins, Saddles, etc., etc., and other serviceable equipment.

Lists of the carts, harness and accessories may be obtained from the Commissioner of Public Works, who will also advise where they may be seen.

Sealed tenders, marked "Rolling Stock," should be sent to the Secretary, Room 161, Administration Building, Kiangse Road, to reach him not later than 11 a.m. on August 25, 1932.

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, June 14, 1932.

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION
No. 4266.
EDUCATIONAL GRANTS-IN-AID.

1. Foreign Schools.

FORMS of application and copies of the conditions governing the issue of grants-in-aid to foreign schools within the International Settlement or paying rates to the Shanghai Municipal Council may be obtained from the Acting Superintendent, Education Department, Administration Building.

Applications for grants-in-aid for the year 1933 must be submitted not later than October 1, 1932.

2. Chinese Schools.

In the case of Chinese schools registered or in the process of being registered with the Bureau of Education for Greater Shanghai, applications should in the first instance be submitted to that Bureau, from which application forms and copies of the conditions may be obtained. In the case of schools not so registered, applications should be submitted to the Acting Superintendent, Education Department, Administration Building, from whom application forms and copies of the conditions may also be obtained.

Applications for grants-in-aid for the year 1933 must be submitted not later than October 1, 1932.

3. Note to all Schools.

The Council proposes to make the above grants-in-aid the sole form of subsidy to educational establishments. After the current year no provision will be made in the Education Budget for grants of any other description, and the partial or total exemption from the payment of General Municipal Rate, which has been accorded in certain approved cases, will also cease on December 31, 1932.

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, July 28, 1932.

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, AUGUST 12, 1932. No. 1381

LAND COMMISSION.

Haining Road.

In terms of the appended correspondence, it has been decided to refer the under-mentioned case to the Land Commission for decision:—

Shanghai, May 28, 1932.

DEAR SIR,—Re Haining Road Widening, B.C. Lot 1747 (Cad. Lot 953), Northern, our client instructs us to say that he is prepared to surrender the area of 0.181 mow. The compensation he is prepared to accept is at the rate of the assessment value plus ten per cent.

Yours faithfully,
PLATT, WHITE-COOPER & Co.

C. HARPUR, Esq.,
Commissioner of Public Works,
Municipal Council.

* * *

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, June 7, 1932.

GENTLEMEN,—I am directed to acknowledge receipt of your letter of May 28, addressed to the Commissioner of Public Works, claiming compensation at the assessed value of the lot, i.e., Tls. 33,000 per mow, plus 10 per cent for compulsory surrender in respect of an area of mow 0.181 required from Cadastral Lots 953 and 956 for the scheduled widening of Haining Road.

In reply, I have to inform you that the Council has no authority to pay 10 per cent for compulsory surrender and that, as such payments are ultra vires, the old practice has been discontinued. For the area involved, I am directed to offer compensation at the assessed value of the lot, less a deduction of one half for betterment, or a sum of Tls. 2,987.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. M. McKEE,
Deputy Secretary.

Messrs. PLATT, WHITE-COOPER & Co.

Shanghai, June 29, 1932.

DEAR SIR,—We have to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 7th instant, and note that the Council has no power to pay 10 per cent. in respect of compulsory surrender.

We have placed before our client the Council's offer to pay compensation at the assessed value of the lots less a deduction of one-half for betterment, making a sum of Tls. 2,987.

Our client is not prepared to accept this figure, as he considers that, if he accepts compensation at the assessed value only, and not at the market value, there should be no deduction for betterment. Unless, therefore, the Council sees its way to pay compensation at the assessed value, with no deduction for betterment, we must request that steps be taken to bring the case before the Land Commission in due course, for its decision, in which event, of course, our client's present offer is withdrawn.

Your faithfully,
PLATT, WHITE-COOPER & Co.

J. R. JONES, Esq.,
Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, July 13, 1932.

GENTLEMEN,—I have to acknowledge receipt of your letter of June 29, conveying your client's refusal of the Council's offer of compensation at the rate of Tls. 33,000 per mow, less one-half for betterment, or a sum of Tls. 2,987 for the surrender of an area of mow 0.181 required from Cadastral Lots 953 and 956 for the scheduled widening of Haining Road.

In reply, I have to inform you that the Council is unwilling to make any increase in this offer, and to state that the case will be referred to the Land Commission for decision in accordance with your request.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. M. McKEE,
Deputy Secretary.

Messrs. PLATT, WHITE-COOPER & Co.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, July 26, 1932.

GENTLEMEN,—With reference to the Council's letter of July 13, on the subject of compensation for the surrender of an area of mow 0.181 required from Cadastral Lots 953 and 956 for the scheduled widening of Haining Road, I have to draw your attention to the following considerations which have induced the Council to claim betterment in this case:—

(a) The original lot was bounded on the south by an old Chinese road averaging about 13 feet wide running along the north bank of a creek.

(b) The property in question has not contributed any area for road purposes.

(c) The Council has filled in the creek and effected a widening from the opposite side of the road, thereby giving the property frontage to a municipal road varying in width from 40 feet to 50 feet.

I have to suggest that you give the Council's offer—contained in its letter of June 7—careful consideration in the light of this information, and inform me whether it is acceptable. Reference of the matter to the Land Commission will be deferred pending your reply.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. M. McKEE,
Deputy Secretary.

Messrs. PLATT, WHITE-COOPER & Co.

Shanghai, August 5, 1932.

DEAR SIR,—We have to acknowledge receipt of your letter of July 26, upon which we have now taken our clients' instructions.

Our clients regret that they do not see their way to alter their present decision, as they consider that the Council is scarcely justified at the present time in attempting to bring into consideration certain improvements, effected long ago, to which these lots did not contribute. Our clients fail to see that these improvements have any connection with the present road widening.

Unless, therefore, the Council can see its way to amend the existing offer, our clients would request that the case be brought before the Land Commission in due course.

Yours faithfully,
PLATT, WHITE-COOPER & Co.

J. M. McKEE, Esq.,
Deputy Secretary,
Municipal Council.

Duty at places of amusement amounted to 9,790 hours.

The only noteworthy fire during the month was that which occurred on the Holland-East Asia Line steamer, the "Seroosker," lying alongside Holt's Wharf, on the 20th.

The Brigade was called by the River Police at 8.05 a.m. and sections from Central and Hongkew Stations turned out to man the Brigade and Customs Fire Floats respectively, whilst a detachment from Yangtszepoo Station crossed the river in sampans.

On arrival, officers and men descended No. 4 hold wearing oxygen gas masks and smoke helmets and found a quantity of sodium peroxide alight in the 'tween deck on the port side. The use of water was impossible on account of the danger of its causing an explosion on coming in contact with the sodium peroxide and, as quickly as possible, sacks of sand were procured from the wharf in order that an attempt might be made to smother the flames. Before this could be done, however, the fire had gained such a strong hold on the cargo that the heat and fumes made it impossible for the men to get within working distance. Lines of hose were laid from the fire floats and the fire installation on the wharf to cover the adjoining holds and bunkers and the boat-deck, and to cool down the deck and ventilators.

Very soon after the arrival of the first detachments, a serious explosion occurred and the flames shot into the air from No. 4 hold to a height of more than thirty feet. This was followed by frequent minor explosions and the spread of the fire was so rapid that it was feared that the entire ship would become involved, more particularly on account of the fact that there was considerable deck-cargo near the affected hold in the form of large drums of acetone and a few cases of ether, although efforts had been made in the early stages of the fire to remove a quantity of this highly-dangerous cargo.

As the fire spread, additional lines were laid from the fire floats to the wharf in order to protect the godowns etc. on the wharf as the sides of the ship had become very hot and were threatening the wharf timbers, whilst jets were worked through the coal bunkers towards the bulk-head of No. 4 hold with the aid of smoke helmets.

In the major explosion a section of the bulk-head and decking between No. 4 hold and the coal bunkers collapsed. This resulted in a considerable quantity of coal being precipitated on to the burning cargo in No. 4 hold, which had the effect of partially smothering the flames, thereby reducing the intensity of the fire to such an extent as to make it possible for nozzles to be worked at close range in the lower hold.

There was no bulk-head between holds Nos. 4 and 5 and the cargo in the latter, which was comprised mainly of artificial silk, became involved; with difficulty, however, nozzles were worked into the lower sections of this hold and, as a result, the fire was checked before the damage therein had become extensive.

In view of the danger of the cargo in No. 6 hold, which was of a general nature comprising baled paper, a quantity of zinc dust, etc., being involved through the bulk-head becoming very hot, a quantity of the cargo was removed from the hold and landed on the wharf, whilst cooling jets were worked on to the bulk-head from the lower section of No. 5 hold; through these measures, No. 6 hold was unaffected. After a very stiff fight lasting some hours, the fire was brought under control and confined at No. 4 and 5 holds and sections of the coal bunkers.

This fire was undoubtedly one of the most serious and difficult that the Brigade has had in recent years and it is very gratifying that, under the circumstances, the detachments succeeded in confining the damage to such a comparatively small section of the ship.

Officers and men from the River Police and representatives from the Harbour Master's Office rendered valuable assistance.

Two officers and two firemen sustained more or less slight injuries during the fire.

The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, AUGUST 19, 1932. No. 1382

PUBLIC WORKS.

In his monthly report for July, the Acting Commissioner of Public Works states that repairs were completed at Hanbury Road bridge, and those at Garden, Broadway, Pingliang Road, Chapoo Road, Thibet Road and Kiangse Road bridges are advancing rapidly. At the Chemulpo wharf, the concreting of the river front of the main wall has been completed. The front anchor beam is two-thirds completed and the rear anchor beam approximately half completed. Tie rods have been placed in mud filling completed to the top of the anchor beam for a length of approximately 200 feet. At Chinwangtao Road jetty, general repairs are in progress. At Wayside public wharf, the painting of the pontoon and general repairs to bridges, transit shed and wharf are in progress. Repairs are being pushed ahead at the Chapoo Road landing stage in North Soochow Road.

All work has been completed at the Penang Road incinerator, and preliminary trials under the supervision of the furnace makers' engineer are in progress. At the Muirhead Road incinerator, the office concrete has been completed. Plumbing, glazing and internal finishing are in progress. The shuttering and steel for the hoppers are ready for concreting.

Sinza Market was handed over to the Health Department on July 20. At the Foochow Road market the new floorings has been completed on the ground floor and one-third of the first floor.

In connection with the gaol extension works, the erection of the partitions on the sixth floor of the Police Hospital has begun, the food lifts have been tested, and the passenger lifts installed, while general finishings are in progress throughout the building. The laying of patent flooring to corridors and rooms on the sixth floor is proceeding, and the preparation of the Prisoners Ward on the fifth floor is in hand. The fixing of lift carriages, general cleaning down of the Gaol Hospital building, and the electrical, sanitary and heating installations are proceeding.

Considerable progress has been made at the Point police station and barracks, and at Wayside police barracks, while a few flats are now occupied at Carter Road police quarters.

Approximately 95 per cent of the concrete structural work at the abattoir in Sawgin Road has been completed, and in the lairage blocks the floors have been laid, with the exception of the ground floor. The stalling and sundry other fittings are in hand and about 60 per cent have been delivered and fixed. In the slaughter and cooling blocks, about 40 per cent of the machinery and fittings have been delivered and fixed. The sanitary installations have progressed satisfactorily in relation to the general construction. The electrical installation is well advanced and following closely on the general construction. Approximately 90 per cent of the metal windows have been delivered and 60 per cent fixed. The installation of the main boilers and other heavy machinery is in hand.

The steel and concrete work to the eighth floor and upper roofs of the Victoria Nurses' Home has been finished. The erection of concrete block partitions is in progress and more than 50 per cent has been completed. Sleeper walls to basement and ground floor are being erected, and the making and fixing of door frames is in hand. The plumbing work and electrical installation are in progress.

At the open air swimming pool,—filter house, the structural work is practically completed and the general contractor is proceeding with finishing and painting. The swimming pool was opened to the public on July 24.

The Western District Primary School for Chinese has been completed and handed over for occupation. Certain works in connection with the planting and laying out of the playground area is in hand, which work must necessarily await a more seasonable period for finishing.

Pingchiao Quarry.—2,536 fong of materials were received by the Public Works Department during the month.

Cleansing and Watering.—Road sweepings collected 1,807 tons; gully deposits removed 1,616; water used for street watering by mechanical water wagons 2,025,600 gallons; water used for washing roads 2,807,200 gallons.

House Refuse.—766 tons of house refuse were removed by motor trucks to the Western District for raising land ; 15,998 tons taken away by contractor's boats; 93 tons to Penang Road incinerator; and 9,442 tons were removed by barrows, etc., to Western, Northern and Eastern Districts for raising land, making a total of 26,299 tons.

Labour.—The average number of labourers employed by highways, sewerage and parks was as follows:—Coolies 7,159; artisans 597; foremen 392.

Concreteware.—The following has been produced during the month: Handmade 5,443 pieces; Machine made 1,470; total 6,913.

Work Shelters.—There were 390 admissions during the month and 110 cubic feet of stone broken.

New Buildings.—There were 433 blocks of buildings under construction in July; plans submitted for approval numbered 242 and plans approved 131; valuations of blocks of buildings for assessment purposes made totalled 86; and 4,310 inspections were made by inspectors.

EDUCATIONAL GRANTS-IN-AID.

1. Foreign Schools.

FORMS of application and copies of the conditions governing the issue of grants-in-aid to foreign schools within the International Settlement or paying rates to the Shanghai Municipal Council may be obtained from the Acting Superintendent, Education Department, Administration Building.

Applications for grants-in-aid for the year 1933 must be submitted not later than October 1, 1932.

2. Chinese Schools.

In the case of Chinese schools registered or in the process of being registered with the Bureau of Education for Greater Shanghai, applications should in the first instance be submitted to that Bureau, from which application forms and copies of the conditions may be obtained. In the case of schools not so registered, applications should be submitted to the Acting Superintendent, Education Department, Administration Building, from whom application forms and copies of the conditions may also be obtained.

Applications for grants-in-aid for the year 1933 must be submitted not later than October 1, 1932.

3. Note to all Schools.

The Council proposes to make the above grants-in-aid the sole form of subsidy to educational establishments. After the current year no provision will be made in the Education Budget for grants of any other description, and the partial or total exemption from the payment of General Municipal Rate, which has been accorded in certain approved cases, will also cease on December 31, 1932.

POLICE REPORT FOR JULY.

The Commissioner of Police, in his July report, states:—

The total crime recorded for the month of July is contained in the following tables:—

Nature of offence	Reported during the month	Reported during previous month	Reported during corresponding month last year
Murder	2	5	1
Attempted Murder	3	—	2
Manslaughter	1	—	6
Armed Kidnapping	1	—	1
Abduction	3	12	7
Armed Robberies	17	48	20
Other Robberies	5	7	8
Members of Criminal Gangs	Nil	3	5
House, Office and Shop-breaking	19	45	23
Burglary	21	23	40
Thefts	740	670	667
Receiving stolen property	15	16	13
Snatching	52	31	49
Opium Offences	151	161	210
Gambling offences	18	36	31
Other crimes	276	247	284
Total	1,324	1,304	1,367

The total figure shows a slight increase over the figure recorded for the previous month. The cases were distributed as follows:—

"A" Division (Central and Louza) 398 as against 425 in June.

"B" Division (Sinza, Bubbling Well, Gordon Road, Pootoo Road) 344 as against 308 in June.

"C" Division (Hongkew, West Hongkew, Dixwell Road) 253 as against 234 in June.

"D" Division (Kashing Road, Wayside, Yangtszepoo, Yulin Road) 329 as against 337 in June.

One thousand four hundred and fifteen persons were apprehended for crime committed during the month as against 1,466 in June. In addition 179 persons were arrested for crimes committed in previous months and 59 persons were taken into custody on behalf of outside authorities.

Two cases of murder were reported as against five cases in June: one of a female fortune-teller stabbed to death by a man who was on intimate terms with her, and the other a male Chinese shot and killed by some unknown person through revenge. There were three cases of attempted murder: one of a pedestrian shot by a fleeing armed robber, the second of a shop assistant wounded as the result of an explosion of a hand grenade thrown into the shop, and the third of a loafer attacked by other loafers with axes. One case of manslaughter was recorded: a female Chinese being knocked down and killed by a motor lorry. There was one case of armed kidnapping: a male Chinese was held up and kidnapped in his own motor-car outside his residence on Yochow Road, but was shortly afterwards released by members of the Public Safety Bureau after a fight with the abductors.

During the month six reports were received of depositing bombs and one of throwing a hand grenade, at shops, hongs, associations and exchanges, as a means of intimidating merchants dealing in Japanese goods. Four occurred in "A" Division, one in "B" Division and two in "C" Division. In the first and second instances the bombs were delivered to coal hongs in the Louza District on the forenoon of July 10. In the third and fourth instances bombs were delivered at coal merchants' premises on North Shanse Road on the same date. In the fifth case a hand grenade was thrown into a coal shop on Sinza Road where it exploded and slightly injured a shop assistant. In the sixth and seventh instances bombs were delivered on July 27 at an association and an exchange, connected with the cotton trade, the former in the Louza District and the latter in Central. Special measures have been adopted to cope with this form of offence.

There were three cases of simple abduction against 12 cases in June. Cases of armed robbery decreased from 48 in June to 17 in July. The cases were distributed as follows:—

Division "A" two cases as against nine in June.

Division "B" four cases as against 24 in June.

Division "C" five cases as against four in June.

Division "D" six cases as against 11 in June.

"A," "B" and "D" Divisions, especially "B" Division, show marked decreases in this form of crime, while "C" Division remained normal. The decrease was undoubtedly due to the large number of armed robbers arrested by the police, particularly by Sinza Station. There were five cases of other robberies as against seven in June. The majority of the cases occurred on the highway. The number of burglaries was 21 as against 23 in June. The cases were distributed as follows:—

"A" Division one case as against four in June.

"B" Division nine cases as against five in June.

"C" Division five cases as against five in June.

"D" Division six cases as against nine in June.

The number of housebreakings was 19 as compared with 45 in June. The cases were distributed as follows:—

"A" Division six cases as against 11 in June.

"B" Division two cases as against four in June.

"C" Division seven cases as against 17 in June.

"D" Division four cases as against 13 in June.

The cases of simple theft were distributed as follows:—

"A" Division 209 cases as against 249 in June.

"B" Division 228 cases as against 164 in June.

"C" Division 141 cases as against 117 in June.

"D" Division 162 cases as against 140 in June.

The increase in this type of crime was due to the carelessness of residents in leaving their doors and windows open during the night in the summer season. "A" Division recorded 23 cases of shoplifting and 32 arrests. There was an appreciable decrease in cases of pocket-picking recorded in "A" Division and a slight increase in cases of thefts of bicycles. Fifteen cases of receiving stolen property were reported during the month. There were 52 cases of snatching as against 31 in June. The cases were distributed as follows:—

"A" Division 30 as against 16 in June.

"B" Division 11 as against eight in June.

"C" Division six as against two in June.

"D" Division five as against five in June.

The figures for the month under review are not abnormal, as those for the previous month were low. The district mainly affected was Louza with 24 cases. 151 cases of offences of opium were recorded as against 161 in June. These cases were the result of raids on smoking dens and the arrest of persons in the streets in possession of opium. The Headquarters Narcotic Section carried out eight raids and effected the arrest of 30 persons, including three Japanese and seized 818¼ ozs. of opium, 32¾ ozs. of red and black pills, 20 pipes, two hypodermic syringes, nine gas-pistols and 37 small bottles of liquid gas. The number of gambling offences decreased from 36 to 18.

Notable work in "A" Division included the arrest of a Chinese in Chapei on July 22 for murder and attempted murder committed in the Louza District on July 19. Notable work in "B" Division included (1) the arrest of 12 Chinese, and the seizure of five pistols and 35 rounds of ammunition and, (2) the capture of three members of a gang of armed robbers and the seizure of two pistols and one revolver together with ammunition. Notable work in "D" Division included the arrest of three men who were responsible for the armed abduction of a male Chinese outside his residence on Yochow Road on July 6.

The following cases which are included in the month's figures occurred in "B" Division outside Settlement Limits on or in houses abutting on Council Roads:—

Armed Robbery	1
Armed Highway Robbery	1
Burglary	4
Housebreaking	1
Snatching	1
Theft	37
Miscellaneous	5

The Headquarters Special Detective Squad conducted investigations into 26 cases and effected the arrest of 15 persons. In addition enquiries were continued in six cases previously reported. Important work was done in the case of an armed kidnapping which took place in the French Concession on May 27, 1932. 15 arrests were effected. The victim was liberated.

Two pistols and 16 rounds of ammunition were seized. The squad also effected the arrest of two men who were charged with armed robbery and attempted armed robbery.

Property valued at $106,701.78 was alleged to have been stolen in cases reported during the month as against property valued at $248,056.58 in June. The total value is made up as follows:—

"A" Division	$37,086.62
"B" "	31,923.85
"C" "	21,962.01
"D" "	15,729.30

Property valued at $84,446.80 was recovered during the month.

Finger Print Bureau. — During the month of July the total number of records received by the Bureau from all sources was 2,183. This shows a decrease of 185 as compared with last month and a decrease of 1,054 by comparison with the corresponding month of last year. 2,321 Gaol Cards were received during the month for verification of prisoners' thumb prints.

Investigations were made into 14 reported cases of the following nature:—

Armed Robbery	1
Burglary	3
Garage-breaking	1
Godown-breaking	2
Larceny of Motor-car	2
Lawceny	2
Office-breaking	1
Shop-breaking	2

Finger-prints were secured in six instances. Nineteen bodies of unknown Chinese who had met their deaths under various circumstances were photographed and/or finger-printed at the Public Mortuary with the object of establishing their identify. Successful results were obtained in three cases. During the month the Crime Branch Studio took 307 photographs and printed 933 copies.

Strikes.—During the month under review five strikes occurred, including one which extended from June. One thousand nine hundred and fifty-two employes concerned in these disputes suffered a loss of 17,364 working days. The strikers comprised 1,600 silk workers, 15 printers, 63 drug shop assistants, and 274 employes of a trader in feathers. They were employed in the Ye Ching Silk Filature and a branch of that concern at Nos 1 and 2 Wuchow Road, the Ching Chong Printing Shop Nos 374/5 East Yalu Road, Yung Zung Zung Medicine Shop, 38 Hankow Road, Wong Tien-chih medicine Shop, Tongshan Road, and the China Feather Company, No. 21 Dalny Road. The last named concern is German and the others are Chinese. A strike of Chinese incense makers which started on July 28 affected the Settlement, French Concession and Chinese territory. As a result of the strike in the silk filatures, the workers gained a slight increase in wages and a slight reduction in working hours.

Approximate statistics of strikes for the month under review in the three areas were as follows:—

Area	No. of Strikes	No. of Hands	No. of Working days lost.
Settlement	5	1,952	17,364
French Concession	2	820	6,460
Chinese controlled territory	5	2,210	7,363
Three Areas	1	450	1,760
Total	13	5,432	32,947
Total for the corresponding month of 1931	14	4,930	19,563

Unrest was also manifested during the month among sections of the employees of The Shanghai Power Company, The Shanghai Nantao Tramway Company, The Chinese Medicine Shops, San Yeu Towel Factory, Yangtszepoo, Nyi Woo Rubber Factory, Nantao, Woo Shing Cigarette Factory, 200 Tungchow Road, Dah Foong Silk Weaving and Dyeing Factory, Chapei, and the Tsing Yih Tannery, Chapei.

Agitation by Ex-Employees.—It has now become a common practice for local employees who are discharged from industrial or other enterprises owing to economic causes to seek reinstatement or elaborate compensation. Concerns to which ex-employees addressed demands of this nature during the month included the Shanghai Power Company, the San Yeu Towel Factory, Ma Yeu Shan Road, and the Chung Hua Industrial Factory, No. 15 Brenan Road. The ex-employees of the Shanghai Power Company, of whom there were about a hundred and twenty, set up a union at No. 1 Shou Ying Fang, Tien Dong Road, Chapei, and endeavoured to obtain assistance from the Chinese Authorities and their former colleagues to compel the company to agree to their demands. The ex-employees, however, failed to obtain satisfaction, and lost any sympathy they were receiving through the publication by the company on July 16 of a notice explaining the concessions made to them when they were discharged.

The ex-workers of the San Yeu Towel Factory, as a result of whose behaviour the sales office of this concern was obliged to close from July 17 to July 21, have agreed to have their grievances arbitrated by the Shanghai Municipality. The San Yeu Towel Factory, which employs 1,200 workers, has been closed since the commencement of the local Sino-Japanese hostilities.

As a result of mediation by the Social Bureau, the Ching Hua Industrial Factory has agreed to pay three hundred and fifty workers, who were temporarily discharged in the interests of economy, a living allowance of $6.00 each per month until the company is in a position to re-employ them.

New Labour Organization. — A new labour organization called the Shanghai Third District Water and Electricity Workers' Union No. 286 Kung Yih Li, North Thibet Road, O.O.L., came into existence during the month. This organization claims that its membership include 500 employees of the Shanghai Tramway Company. It has not, so far, been officially authorized by the Chinese Authorities.

Red Anniversaries.—Despite reports that local communists had planned to hold demonstrations on two "Red" Anniversaries which occurred during the month, these dates passed off without anything untoward occurring. Two demonstrations were held during the month to further a demand for the release of Mr. and Mrs. Noulens, the two foreigners now awaiting trial in Nanking on a charge of being concerned in the Chinese Communist Movement. The first of the demonstrations took place at the corner of Yangchow and Thoburn Roads on the evening of July 3, when students shouted slogans and distributed handbills. The second manifestation was held about noon on July 10 in the vicinity of the North Station. About a hundred and fifty people assembled there in order to demonstrate but were dispersed by the Chinese Police as soon as they manifested their intention to do so. They attempted about an hour later to reform on Elgin Road, but were dispersed by the Municipal Police.

Meetings.—A number of communist sympathizers held a conference on July 7 and decided to hold a meeting to further the cause of anti-Imperialism and to establish a "Red Army Friendly Society" for the purpose of providing an organization through which the support of industrial workers in Shanghai could be enlisted for the Soviet Districts. As a consequence to these decisions a meeting took place on the morning of July 17 in the Kung Wu Dai Theatre, No. 69 Robison Road, O.O.L. The people present claimed to be representatives of the anti-imperialist organizations in Kiangsu and to have come together for the purpose of devising means to support the Volunteer Armies operating against the Japanese in the North East. Being suspicious of the proceedings the Chinese police surrounded the building and arrested the attendance which consisted of ninety-three persons. Evidence collected in the premises showing the subversive objects which had brought the crowd together, included communist handbills denouncing the movement of the Nationalist Government against the Red Armies and advocating the staging of demonstrations on August 1 and copies of telegrams prepared for dispatch to the labourers of Soviet Russia and to the Provisional Central Government of Soviet China and the Red Army. Of the ninety-three persons taken into custody, five who were employees of the theatre, were released, and the remainder were sent to Nanking for trial.

Propaganda.—Communist literature obtained by the Municipal Police during the month comprised 7,278 copies of communist books and handbills, including 52 different kinds of leaflets which had not been seen previously. The principal topics in the new leaflets were the Noulens case, the meeting of representatives of anti-Imperialist organizations in Kiangsu, the exploits of the Chinese Red Army and the celebration of International Red Day, August 1. Some circulars dealing exclusively with the Noulens case stated that the Provisional Central Government of the Soviet Republic of China would be prepared, in exchange for the release of Mr. and Mrs. Noulens, to set free all missionaries detained in the various Soviet districts for being "Imperialist Spies." Other circulars written in English, French and Japanese contained appeals to the foreign troops in Shanghai to revolt against their officers and join the Red Armies to fight for the Soviet cause.

Action by Municipal Police against Communists. — The bulk of the "Red" literature was seized in raids, but some was picked up in the streets or obtained from persons to whom it had been sent by mail. In the course of the raids the police discovered seven propaganda bases and took about twenty Chinese into custody. Of the persons arrested, four were extradited to the Chinese Authorities, one was released on security and the remainder were on remand at the end of the month. The prisoners on remand include the proprietor of the Ming Sing Printing Works, which had been engaged in the printing of Red and other subversive literature for about two years.

Of 28 alleged communists who were on remand at the end of June, 21 were dealt with during the month of July. Of these two were sentenced to terms of imprisonment, three were handed over to the Chinese Authorities, and sixteen were released.

Film Censorship.—Thirty short introductory films, and thirty-six feature films were censored by the police during the month. All the introductory films were passed. Of the feature films thirty were passed without question, four were approved after they had been subjected to cuts and revision, and two films were disapproved, being considered unsuitable for local exhibition.

Traffic.—Court proceedings were instituted in 479 (75 Foreigners and 404 Chinese) of 5,182 reports of traffic offences received during the month against owners and/or drivers of vehicles. The remainder were dealt with by letter of warning or entry of caution on their records.

Accidents. — Accidents coming under police notice during the months of July 1931 and July 1932:—

Bicycles.—Bicycles were involved in 227 accidents and in 73 cases the cyclists were known to have been at fault.

Motor Horn Nuisance.—There were 189 prosecutions for this offence during the month and in addition, one chauffeur had his driving licence suspended for a repetition of the offence.

Safety First.—During the month the professional story-teller visited various districts and gave 78 addresses in teashops and mills etc., on "Safety First" themes. His audience roughly totalled 3,155 persons.

Omnibus Service.—Two new Express Services known as "D" and "E" commenced operating on the 15th of the month; "D" express running between Jessfield Park and the French Bund and the "E" Express between Brenan Piece and the Garden Bridge.

Traffic Signal Lights.—Traffic Signal Lights installed at the following points were put into operation from dates specified:—

Broadway—Seward Road on July 18.

Thibet—Hankow Road on July 29.

One-Way Traffic.—A new traffic regulation, known as No. 46H, making the section of Boone Road between Broadway and Seward Road a one-way traffic road for North bound traffic only, came into force on July 22.

Richas.—Richas, both public and private, continue to clutter the streets in the business districts during business hours to the obstruction, annoyance and sometimes danger of other traffic.

Public richas are far in excess of requirements in these districts— except during short spells of very inclement weather—and in consequence obstruction is caused by these vehicles wandering about for the purpose of finding fares.

Private richas by reason of the number which come into the Central District, are also a cause of obstruction owing to their parking requirements on already congested roadways and the fact that a percentage of them are used unlawfully for public hire and therefore use the roadway in a similar manner to the public richa when looking for fares.

During the month 1414 richa pullers were charged in the Central and Louza Districts for various breaches of Traffic Regulations etc., including 28 private richa pullers found touting for hire.

Traffic.—Vehicular traffic appeared to be on the increase during the month and was probably due to the spell of hot weather when vehicles were used more frequently for short distances. Road work and building operations in the Central Districts caused some obstruction to through traffic but congestion was prevented by diverting traffic whenever this was found necessary.

Identification Office.—During the month, 1,659 prisoners' records passed through this office for identification prior to the prisoners going to Court for trial, out of which number 514 were identified as having a previous conviction or convictions. In addition to the above 179 records were received from the French Police out of which number 66 were identified in the records of this office, making the total for the month—

PUBLIC HEALTH REPORT FOR JULY.

The Commissioner of Public Health, in his July report, states:—

Vital Statistics. — The foreign death rate was 17.87 and the Chinese death rate 12.72; the latter figure is probably incorrect, but it nevertheless represents the total number of deaths coming under the notice of this Department. The foreign death rate is 3.1 per thousand higher than July last year, but still remains at a reasonably low figure; the average death rate for the year 1931 being 17. Pneumonia in various forms was the chief cause of death amongst foreigners, with cholera, tuberculosis and heat stroke, the next most important causes. In regard to the Chinese population, the chief cause of death was pulmonary tuberculosis with cholera second in importance.

Communicable Diseases.—Cholera towards the end of the month showed certain signs that it was rising to its peak; this rise, as often is the case, being accompanied by the incidence of closely allied diarrhoeal conditions simulating cholera and thus obscuring the real state of the epidemic. From the variable nature of the daily admissions one might infer a decline is possible. Up to the end of July the total incidence of cholera was .61 per thousand among foreigners and .99 per thousand in the Chinese population, this figure including numerous doubtful cases. Whilst the above figures indicate the size of the epidemic in relation to the population factor, it is inadvisable to draw conclusions therefrom until next month.

It may be of interest to note that melons did not appear in quantity on the streets until the epidemic was nearing its peak. Since experiments performed by this Department some years ago, and recent researches in America seem to indicate that the melon and other fruits are unsuitable media for bacilli, particularly the cholera bacillus, the fact that in this epidemic melons cannot have been an important factor is of some evidential value. The melon is, however, universally considered as having some connection with cholera which may possibly be associated with its chemical composition and its possible effect on digestion. There would seem, therefore, to be no reason to modify this Department's advice in regard to the adequate treatment of fruit by dipping it for a reasonable period in briskly boiling water. This, when properly carried out, does not alter the taste and possesses over other treatments the advantages of simplicity and, in most cases, produces a detectable change of colour indicative of the fact that the fruit really has been treated. Chemical modes of sterilization which require accurate dosage, more prolonged application and proper storage of the chemical are considered inadvisable, though this attitude may be regarded as conservative, but it is felt that the safest measure should be recommended.

The boiling of drinking water serves as a precaution against carriers and careless handling, even though purity in the main is insured. Filters are regarded, however, as a somewhat optional and in some instances deceptive, precaution. This is particularly true where their supervision is neglected. It may be noted that missionaries follow the practice of pouring water from jug to jug, which by aeration removes the peculiar taste or rather lack of taste of boiled water. This habit seems more general in the interior than in Shanghai.

Amongst other communicable diseases, tuberculosis was the most important source of death and illness. The other infectious diseases showed the usual seasonal diminution, but malaria, with ten notifications amongst foreigners and 25 amongst the Chinese population, showed signs of being on the increase. During July, possibly owing to the combination of sudden rises in temperature, and high humidity interspaced with cooler periods during which precautions were relaxed, heat stroke was decidedly prevalent. This subject was discussed last year, and certain precautions suggested. It would seem that the years in which Shanghai suffers from heat stroke (or sun stroke and other allied conditions) are those in which the earlier summer is cool. Hence it is likely that residence in this climate has taught the necessary precautions but that they are found to be irksome and dropped.

Cool and suitable clothing, avoidance of undue exertion during the middle of the day, together with moderation in regard to exercise, food and drink form the chief protection against the effects of heat, and since the subject has been discussed at length on previous occasions, these facts are reasonably well known to the public.

Pathological Laboratory. — The volume of work, especially the diagnostic service, is steadily increasing. Of the 3,013 specimens examined, 1,731 were for cholera diagnosis, and of the latter 633, or 38 per cent were found positive. The last two months in the laboratory represent records as regards numbers of specimens examined which have never been approached in the history of the Department. The usual summer routine in checking the bacteriological purity of milk resulted in the examination of 51 samples of milk during July.

Among the miscellaneous examinations were samples of well water. Although no cholera vibrios were found, certain samples were found heavily contaminated.

The survey of mosquito larvae proceeded and of 125 samples, 35 contained anophelines—all from the outlying sections of the Western District. In addition, a number of important medico-legal investigations were performed.

Pasteur Treatment.—Seventy-five persons attended for advice, cauterization and/or treatment. Three of the patients came from outports.

Hospitals Division.—Eighty cases of cholera were admitted to the Municipal Isolation Hospitals: of this number 57 were Chinese. Considering the numbers admitted to other hospitals in the Settlement, this figure is surprisingly low and is attributable in part to the more rigid isolation measures which are insisted upon.

Although a heavy sick-rate among the anti-cholera inoculation medical staff impeded work, 49,480 free inoculations were carried out, of which 11,095 were done at the Branch Health Offices. The total number performed this season to date is 136,567.

At the Tuberculosis Sanatorium the intense heat reacted to the detriment of the progress of patients.

FOOD AND DAIRIES.

Milk Supply.—The Veterinary Surgeon reports a drop of nearly 11 per cent in the volume of milk produced. This is a normal variation due, mainly, to the hot weather. Of the 87 milk samples examined only four were found adulterated. As regards bacteriological purity, however, 19 out of 47 samples were below standard. The Grade "A" licence of the Public Dairy was suspended temporarily from July 25, while the Grade "B" Licence of the Habenoka Dairy will be withdrawn on September 30 for repeated breaches of the licence conditions. Four unlicensed milk vendors were caught and prosecuted.

Two dairy herds comprising 649 animals were examined and 29 animals were found affected with various pathological conditions. In addition, four herds totalling 138 animals were tuberculin tested.

Meat Supply.—At the Municipal Abattoir and Pig Slaughterhouses the usual seasonal decrease in the "kill" was recorded. Temporary mat shed shelters were provided in the cattle sheds, since tethered animals were noted to be severely affected by the heat. A new system of tethering was introduced to obviate discomfort.

At the Disposal Plant 30,840 lbs. of material were treated of which over 64 per cent was recovered as saleable by-products, thus diminishing the loss incurred in this branch of meat inspection.

Markets and Bakeries. — The principal feature of the month was the opening of the new Sinza Market where space was rapidly taken up and trade was excellent.

Much extra work has been undertaken in night inspections and in the taking of various samples of foodstuffs, drinks, etc. for examination.

Sanitation Division. — The verification of cholera cases, disinfection and other work connected with the epidemic has resulted in a considerable addition to the routine duties of this division. Chlorination of wells and control of hawkers also required close attention. In addition assistance was given in the supply of water from hydrants. During the period approximately 470,000 gallons were supplied by the Waterworks Co.

In regard to hawkers, it may be pointed out that owing to their essentially mobile nature they cannot be dealt with satisfactorily by a small staff. Hence, though over 400 prosecutions were undertaken and several thousand pounds of unsound food confiscated by the various divisions, real progress can only be expected when markets are adequate and improved sanitation and hygiene education of the public renders the presence of hawkers on the street unprofitable.

During July, after a prolonged but unavoidable delay, the open air swimming pool was opened to the public. During the few days it was open 6,104 bathers were admitted, a somewhat lower number than usual, but this diminution may possibly be accounted for by the fact that the majority of the population has not returned to the surrounding areas.

The new filtration apparatus can be said to be a remarkable improvement on the old. The special arrangement appears to result in water of an excellent clarity.

Here follows Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases, and of the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics, Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

Free chlorine has varied from none to 0.10 parts per million in samples taken from the laboratory taps and from 0.02 to 0.09 parts per million in samples taken at other points.

Bacteriological Examination.—28 samples were examined during the month. Four were from hydrants and 24 from taps in various parts of the Settlement. In six tap samples organisms of the B.coli group were present to the extent of 10, 10, 25, 25 per litre and B. aerogenes 10 and 21 per litre, respectively. The remaining tap samples and the four hydrant samples contained less than 10 B. coli group per litre.

Duty at places of amusement amounted to 11,326 hours.

The only noteworthy fire received during the month was that which occurred at the junction of North Soochow and North Fokien Roads on the 12th.

The call was first received by the Brigade by telephone at 00.14 hours, followed a minute later by a watch-tower report, but it was evidently a very late one, for the glare was sighted by Hongkew Division long before they reached the fire and when they arrived they found the north-west corner of North Soochow and North Fokien Roads a mass of flame, with the fronts of the shops on the opposite corner of the roads intersection also alight.

The first sections laid on from the north side, while the second pump from Hongkew, assisted by the salvage section from Foochow Road, got to work from the south.

The outbreak had gained a strong hold and, fanned by a stiff breeze, was seriously threatening a very congested block of old-type property, including a godown in the immediate rear of the burning shops, with the result that a call for assistance was sent to Central Division.

Tackled from all sides, the fire was successfully checked after about an hour and 20 minutes' work, and the machines returned to their stations.

Eight premises, including three double shops, were affected, one being totally destroyed and three very severely damaged.

One fireman sustained slight injuries during the operations.

AMBULANCE SERVICE.

Emergency Branch.—The number of calls received during July—a total of 198—constitutes a record for any month since the inauguration of this branch of the Ambulance Service in January, 1931.

The total number of calls received from January 1st to July 31st this year was 855, representing an increase of 439 calls, or 105.5 per cent on the number received during the corresponding period last year.

215 patients were conveyed to the various hospitals.

Jessfield Park—Zoological Garden.—The under-noted animals and birds were received on deposit from Dr. Tangier Smith, at present in Szechuen, and exhibited in the garden:—

35 Blue-eared Pheasants
13 Firebeck Pheasants
4 Golden Pheasants
3 Owls
3 Egrets
2 Chidzu Deer
1 Marmot

Open-air Concerts. — Climatic conditions were practically ideal for the holding of open-air concerts, all scheduled orchestral concerts being held.

The average number of chairs hired at Jessfield Park was 562, the largest attendances being 1,147 and 1,056 on July 16 and July 23 respectively.

In addition to the above, four military band concerts were held at Jessfield Park, the average number of chairs hired at these concerts being 552.

Bands of the 1st Bn., the Lincolnshire Regt., the 1st Bn., the East Lancashire Regt., and the 1st Bn., the Wiltshire Regt. took part in these concerts, which were well received by park visitors.

The number of open-air concerts held in all parks was as follows:—

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, SATURDAY, AUGUST 27, 1932. No. 1384

REPORT OF HOSPITALS AND NURSING SERVICES COMMISSION 1930-1

SECTION I.—FORMATION OF COMMISSION

Early in May, 1930, at the suggestion of BRIG.-GENERAL E. B. MACNAGHTEN, C.M.G., D.S.O., Chairman of the Council, and on the recommendation of Dr. Noel Davis, Commissioner of Public Health, the Council approved of the formation of a special Commission to make a comprehensive investigation into the Hospital and Nursing Services of the Foreign Settlement. The Council extended an invitation to the following medical practitioners who consented to serve on the Commission, with power to co-opt such lay members as they might consider necessary :—

Drs. E. L. MARSH and A. C. BRYSON, representing the Health Committee;
Dr. J. L. MAXWELL, representing the China Medical Association;
Dr. W. S. NEW, representing the National Medical Association of China;
Dr. E. BIRT, representing the German Medical Society;
Drs. J. L. H. PATERSON and A. W. TUCKER, representing Mission Hospitals;
Dr. T. AWOKI, representing the Japanese Medical Society;
Dr. DORIS HOFFMAN, representing the Shanghai Women's Organisations;
Dr. T. B. DUNN, representing the American Medical practitioners;
Dr. F. C. YEN, representing the Chinese Hospitals; and THE COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC HEALTH.

PERSONNEL :—At the inaugural meeting held on July 24, 1930, Dr. E. L. Marsh was elected Chairman and Drs. E. Birt and T. B. Dunn Vice-Chairmen of the Commission. At the Chairman's suggestion it was decided that the work of the Commission would be rendered easier by the formation of small Sub-Committees to deal with specific matters, as follows :—

1. Isolation Hospitals (including Tuberculosis), Drs. BIRT, BRYSON and YEN,
2. General Hospitals (including Venereal Diseases), Drs. MAXWELL, TUCKER; AWOKI, YEN, BIRT, NEW and PATERSON;
3. Maternity (Northern District), Drs. BRYSON, HOFFMAN and MARSH;
4. Mental Hospital, Drs. YEN, NEW, TUCKER, and DUNN;
5. Nursing Services, Drs. HOFFMAN, NEW, BIRT, DUNN and PATERSON.

The Commissioner of Public Health was appointed ex officio member of all Sub-Committees, and Mrs. L. Larsen was seconded for duty as Secretary to the Commission.

CHANGES IN PERSONNEL :—Resignations

Dr. T. B. DUNN resigned owing to pressure of professional duties.

Dr. A. C. BRYSON resigned on his departure on long leave and was replaced by Dr. J. C. McCracken.

Dr. E. L. MARSH, Chairman, resigned on departure on long leave. Dr. Ed. Birt, Vice-Chairman, assumed the duties of Chairman on October 22, 1931.

NUMBER OF MEETINGS

In all 26 meetings were held, seven of which were in respect of the work of the General Hospitals Sub-Committee which investigated, inter alia, the question of Grants-in-Aid, Hospital Registration and other special problems. In addition a Sub-Committee dealt with the question of Infirmary-Clinic planning.

SECTION II.—TERMS OF REFERENCE AND REMARKS

TERMS OF REFERENCE

The Terms of Reference laid down by the Council were as follows :—

1. The investigation of future Hospital requirements (Municipal) in particular :—
   (a) Isolation Hospitals—Foreign and Chinese
   (b) Mental Hospital—Foreign and Chinese
2. The most suitable location for above, having particular regard to :—
   (a) Population served
   (b) Transport and/or locomotion facilities
3. The investigation of general hospital accommodation—Foreign and Chinese—whether existing accommodation sufficient for needs of the community, and if not, suggested measures to meet requirements.
4. The question of providing an Annexe to the General Hospital to deal with cases which, at present, are excluded on account of nursing staff restrictions, in particular :—

   Maternity Section (Indigent Foreigners)
   V. D. Section (Female—Foreign)

5. The possibility of admitting Chinese to the first-class accommodation in the Municipal Isolation Hospital (Foreign) and, if approved, reorganisation of the Chinese Isolation Hospital.
6. Consideration of Municipal Grants-in-Aid, the basis of awards, and the desirability of appointing a Standing Committee to supervise and deal with such matters.
7. The problem of Hospital Charities in general; in particular :—
   (a) The possibility of their consolidation with a view to co-ordination of effort and economy, under the supervision of the Standing Committee referred to in paragraph 6 above.
   (b) The question of voluntary subscriptions, their source, and methods to improve publicity.
8. Non-Governmental Cholera Hospitals established in the Settlement : consideration for future guidance—centralisation of control.
9. Hospital Registration : whether this can be effected in return for certain facilities which might be extended by the Council : if possible, the terms and conditions thereof.
10. Such other relevant matters as may, in the opinion of the Commission, be considered advisable.

NURSING SERVICES

(a) Consideration of the requirements in relation to Public Health services, particularly Prenatal, Maternity, Child Welfare and School activities.
(b) A Central Training School for Nurses including Chinese, with the necessary extension work for training in Fevers, Maternity and specialised work outlined in paragraph (a).

REMARKS

A review of these Terms showed that they covered a wide field and included a number of complex problems which the Commission could only attempt to deal with in a general way. Some of the matters were interrelated, whilst others depended on the decision regarding major questions.

The Commission decided that the primary problem for settlement was the sufficiency, or otherwise, of hospital accommodation in general, and that other matters were subsidiary.

In order to unify the work of the Commission in a manner which would enable the various special Sub-Committees to study their particular problems to the best advantage, it was decided to regroup the terms of reference, as follows :—

(A) Isolation Hospital requirements—Foreign and Chinese—the most suitable location —having regard to population served and transport facilities. The admission of Chinese to the first-class section of the Foreign Isolation Hospital and the reorganisation of the Chinese Isolation Hospital. Non-Municipal Cholera Hospitals established within the Settlement—consideration of future policy in regard to the treatment of communicable disease and such steps for centralisation and control as might be considered desirable.

(B) Consideration of the problem of isolation and treatment in regard to Tuberculosis.

(C) Consideration of problems relating to Mental diseases.

(D) The investigation of general hospital accommodation, Chinese and Foreign, and if found insufficient the possibility of such measures as might meet requirements.

The question of providing an Annexe to the General Hospital to deal with cases excluded at the moment: especially indigent foreign Maternity and Female V. D. cases, and the general consideration of Maternity and other problems.

(E) Finance: Municipal Grants-in-Aid, the problem of Hospital Charities in general and the question of a Standing Committee to supervise and handle such matters.

(F) Hospital Registration—an independent subject, but for convenience grouped with (C).

(G) Nursing Services—dependent in part on the findings concerning groups (A) and (B); but contingent on the expansion of purely Public Health services now functioning, or the introduction of essential services such as Child Welfare and School Medical inspection services—The question of control.

SECTION III.—INTRODUCTION

General Remarks

Before dealing with the specific instructions contained in the Terms of Reference, it is desirable to review the history of the hospitals in the Settlement and to consider the extent of Municipal responsibility as regards their provision.

By the term "Hospital" is understood a regular institution for temporary accommodation of the sick for the purpose of medical treatment.

Whilst there is an infinite variation in the method of various countries in dealing with the hospital problem which renders it difficult to assess the responsibility of the International Settlement, nevertheless a study of the practice in other lands appears to indicate that there is a definite sharing of responsibility by Municipalities, the State, and private benevolences. A study of hospitals generally throughout the world shows that private benevolence usually is the first in the field and that thereafter the responsibility is gradually accepted by Municipalities and Governments. It is not uncommon for a definite line of demarcation to occur inasmuch as the State accepts responsibility for generalised diseases having a grave effect on the common weal. Thus in many countries the provision of accommodation for Mental and Tuberculosis cases and chronic invalids is a duty of the State.

History of General Hospitals

In reviewing the history of hospitals in the Settlement, it is worthy of record that the first hospitals were established by public subscriptions for the benefit of the Chinese population through missionary efforts of the Protestant and Roman Catholic Churches.

Mission Hospitals

In February, 1844, slightly less than three months after Shanghai was opened to foreign trade, Dr. Lockhart of the London Mission established a hospital for Chinese which is now known as the Lester Chinese Hospital, but which for many years was known as the Shantung Road Hospital. St. Luke's Hospital (also for Chinese) was established in 1866 by the American Church Mission.

Foreign Hospital Accommodation

From 1844 to 1864 such hospital accommodation as existed for foreigners was provided mainly by shipping interests but reliable details concerning the earlier years are not available.

Shanghai General Hospital

Owing to the growth of the foreign population, the need for adequate hospitalisation was acutely felt and in 1862 a few prominent merchants subscribed funds for the leasing and equipping of premises on the French Bund. In 1864 the Shanghai General Hospital was founded by private enterprise at a cost of Tls. 31,000, and a portion of the present site purchased and new buildings erected in 1877. The rather heavier expenses which resulted from the provision of Hospital buildings resulted in the formation of a Hospital Trust, which still exists.

In 1899 the American Church Mission authorities decided to supplement their work at St. Luke's by establishing a hospital for the exclusive treatment of women and children. This Hospital, known as St. Elizabeth's, was opened in 1900 and in the same year Dr. Paulun and his colleagues of the German Medical Practitioners' Association founded the Tungchi Hospital. The German Medical School was added in 1907 in connection with this Hospital, and in 1909 the hospital was rebuilt and renamed after its founder. In 1927 it was again rebuilt on more modern lines which increased accommodation and out-patient facilities. This Hospital and St. Luke's (in association with St. John's University) can be said to have laid the foundation of the teaching of Western medicine in Shanghai.

Victoria Nursing Home

The years 1900 and 1901 showed activity in hospital construction. The Victoria Nursing Home was opened in 1900. It was founded by local British residents who desired to commemorate the Diamond Jubilee of the late Queen Victoria and was known as the Victoria Nursing and Training Institute. This was intended to be the successor to a private nursing service established in 1896 by the Council who engaged in that year three trained nurses and housed them in Quinsan Road, thus establishing a service which was self-supporting. The original project, however, outgrew the intention of its founders with the result that subscriptions were raised from the entire foreign population sufficient to provide a Nursing Home. The Council furnished the greater portion of the site and may thus be said to have been associated for the first time in the provision of general hospital accommodation.

Rebuilding of General Hospital

In 1903-1906 fairly extensive rebuilding took place in the General Hospital. These buildings, however, were financed by the Hospital itself by means of an overdraft, all previous loans towards the property having been paid out of the hospital earnings, in the year 1902.

In 1903 the Hospital opened an out-patient department for foreigners which has since developed into a considerable organisation.

In 1911 the Hospital was faced with the need for further rebuilding, but the fact that the overdraft incurred in 1903-1906 had not been markedly reduced led to negotiations with the Councils and these bodies guaranteed the payment of interest on the overdraft.

During the years 1915 to 1917, it became necessary to rebuild a wing in the General Hospital and since insufficient funds were available the Councils guaranteed an increased overdraft.

Private Nursing Service

A Private Nursing Service was inaugurated in 1917 in connection with the Victoria Nursing Home. This service, however, did not pay its way and was discontinued to a large extent owing to lack of staff in the years 1924 and 1925, and finally abolished in 1926 by the Economy Commission.

Recent Developments

From 1910 onwards few major hospitals were constructed though many minor hospitals in the Settlement were founded during this period. In the year 1925 the Country Hospital was offered to the Council by an anonymous donor and accepted. In the following year the Municipal Economy Commission recommended the closure of the Victoria Nursing Home and its auxiliary Maternity Home and Children's Block, which was effected in 1928-9.

In 1926 the Sacred Heart Hospital was established by Chinese philanthropists. This Hospital mainly caters for the needs of the large industrial population in the Eastern district, and is at present in process of enlargement.

Hospitals Outside the Settlement

The above brief review of the general hospital accommodation in the Settlement does not take into account Hospitals established outside the Settlement, but which nevertheless play a considerable part in the treatment of Settlement cases, notably the Margaret Williamson Hospital and the Red Cross Society of China's Hospital in Avenue Haig.

Isolation and Mental Hospital Accommodation

The first accommodation of this nature may be said to have been the Lock Hospital, established in 1872-3, which at first was partly maintained by the Council and partly by subscription from various sources. It was taken over shortly afterwards by the Council and thus may be described as the first hospital established by the Council for the care of disease of a social and infective nature.

Plague Hospital

In 1893 the first attempt at providing for infectious diseases was made, chiefly as a result of a threatened Plague outbreak. A plot of land was leased half a mile below the Point, near Sikow Creek, and huts-ments erected for hospital use, and as a disinfection station. In addition, the Seamens' Church in the Pootung Cemetery was placed in readiness to be used for emergency accommodation. This accommodation was removed in 1896 when 22 mow of land was purchased in Scott Road, (now known as Yalu Road) and a temporary hospital erected thereon in 1897 for the use of the Chinese population suffering from infectious diseases. No accommodation for foreigners was at that time contemplated as the General Hospital undertook this work.

Erection of Chinese Isolation Hospital

In 1900 it was decided, mainly on account of Cholera outbreaks which overtaxed accommodation in the Shantung Road Hospital, that the temporary accommodation for the Chinese population was insufficient and an up-to-date hospital of 150 beds was erected on the original site. At the same time the Lock Hospital was vacated (though it was not finally abandoned until 1903) and the temporary hospital abolished. In the same year the Port Health Authority took over the Plague Station at the Point.

Provision for Foreign Cases

Until 1904 no accommodation was provided for Foreign cases of infectious diseases at the Municipal expense, but in this year part of the present Foreign Isolation Hospital was built, giving accommodation for approximately 50 cases. In addition a Mortuary and certain other adjuncts were provided.

Mental Ward

The present Mental Ward of 16 beds was completed in 1907. It was not intended for the permanent accommodation of patients, who were considered to be a charge on their parent State, a policy which was reaffirmed by the Council in 1912 which stated that it was unanimously opposed to the erection of an Asylum.

Extension of Foreign Isolation Hospital

Between 1915 and 1917 the West wing of the present Foreign Isolation Hospital was completed, thus providing accommodation as it stands at the present day of 122 beds for the foreign population. A portion of the hospital was in 1927 allotted for cases of Tuberculosis. Owing to financial stringency plans in hand for re-erecting the Chinese Hospital on a larger scale were vetoed by the Economy Commission.

GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS

Grants-in-Aid

It will be seen that for many years past the Council has assumed responsibility for infectious diseases, thus following the practice of other countries. In addition, responsibility for general hospital accommodation has been partially accepted by the Council from the years 1870-1871 when the first grant of Tls. 400 was made from public funds towards the maintenance of Chinese Hospitals. Ten years later this sum had been increased to Tls. 1,000 per annum and has gradually grown to Tls. 59,000. As regards Foreign Hospitals a grant of Tls. 2,000 per annum towards indigent accommodation was first made to the General Hospital in 1872, on the understanding that a number of free beds were provided. Grants for 1931 totalled Tls. 121,130 of which Tls. 80,110 was earmarked for the Country Hospital. By these grants the Council has encouraged the provision of free beds for poorer patients of various nationalities, but the question of providing free hospital accommodation for the more general type of cases has been left to private sources, supported in many instances by grants from the Council, and thus it has more or less followed the evolution of hospitals in other countries.

Whilst hospital accommodation for acute communicable diseases has been available for the Chinese community since 1900, nevertheless the reluctance of the population to avail themselves of such facilities (mainly owing to their objections to the enforcement of strict quarantine) resulted in the establishment during the period 1911-1916 of private hospitals for the treatment of "summer diseases." These hospitals, (supported largely by public subscription) may however be said to have impeded—though from the best of motives—the normal development of Municipal Isolation facilities, and have caused the hospitals provided by public funds to be neglected and, in addition, have been responsible for an influx of infected cases from surrounding districts. Hence, though the Municipal Isolation Hospital could until recent years have coped with normal epidemics amongst residents and might have undergone the necessary expansion, rational development was retarded owing to the above causes.

Chinese Public Isolation Hospital

The political unrest following the Plague riots of 1910 and the reluctance of the Chinese population to submit to effective isolation measures accounted for the establishment in 1912 of a hospital situated in Chapei near the Paoshan Road, known as the Chinese Public Isolation Hospital. Funds were raised mainly by subscriptions from leading Cantonese merchants.

Mental Accommodation

Whilst the Mental Ward served its purpose for a number of years, it was recognised by the Health Department that chiefly owing to the aftermath of the Russian Revolution, from 1922 onwards the building could no longer meet normal needs since no means existed for the repatriation of refugees without a country. In addition, the traditional reluctance of the Chinese Community to submit mental cases to hospital care (which is plainly shown by the lack of any hospital accommodation for this purpose) was rapidly breaking down, a combination of circumstances which resulted in the necessity of visualising from a different angle the hospital needs for such cases. Proposals to this effect, however, on account of financial stringency were negatived by the Economy Commission.

Commission of 1928

For a number of years the hospital and nursing needs of Shanghai have caused considerable anxiety, particularly in the minds of the medical profession. At a joint meeting of the Shanghai Medical Society and the Shanghai Branches of the National Medical Association and China Medical Association respectively, held on April 26, 1928, it was resolved to petition the Council to appoint a Commission to enquire into the hospital and nursing needs of the city, with special reference to the poorer members of the Community.

The Council, however, in their letter dated May 17, recorded the opinion that the Commission should be appointed by the Associated Medical Societies from among their members, and that in event of it being established, every facility and assistance would be afforded by the Public Health Department. Though the lack of official support did not deter the Societies from proceeding with their work, it ultimately led to complete abandonment of the project.

During the years 1926-30, however, the question of the adequacy of hospital accommodation generally was freely discussed in the Press and by the general public, and popular opinion tended to the view that the Council should undertake further responsibilities. The present Commission was formed in July, 1930, to consider this and kindred matters, and to ascertain whether, in view of the trend of modern thought and changing conditions, further support should be given from public funds.

One of the main difficulties facing the Commission at the outset was the question of limiting Municipal hospital benefits to the residential population in fairness to the ratepayers. There is ample proof that such facilities as exist in the Settlement have been utilised by neighbouring Administrations for many years, and that compensation, when paid, did not cover the cost of the services rendered.

SECTION IV.—ISOLATION HOSPITALS AND TUBERCULOSIS

REPORT OF THE SUB-COMMITTEE ON THE FUTURE MUNICIPAL REQUIREMENTS CONCERNING ISOLATION HOSPITALS AND TUBERCULOSIS ACCOMMODATION

This Sub-Committee held two prolonged meetings. At the opening Meeting it was decided that, although the subject of accommodation for Tuberculosis was grouped with that of Isolation Hospitals in the Terms of Reference, it could be dealt with more expeditiously as a completely independent subject.

Following the election of Dr. Bryson as Chairman of the Sub-Committee, members proceeded to the discussion of the isolation needs of the Settlement, when the following facts were put before the meeting.

Existing Accommodation for Foreign and Chinese Cases of Infectious Diseases

Including hospitals which are opened temporarily for the reception of Cholera and other so-called "summer diseases" there are altogether 895 beds in the 'whole' Shanghai area, of which 655 are in the Foreign Settlement. These figures include an Isolation Pavilion of about 100 beds opened recently in the French Concession.

The accommodation in the Cholera hospitals (for practical purposes) may be regarded as emergency or reserve accommodation.

Records of the Public Health Department show that accommodation for major infectious diseases among the foreign community has never been seriously taxed, but the same is not true of Chinese cases since, during the Cerebrospinal Fever epidemic of 1929, patients from other Municipal areas seeking admission had, for a brief period, to be referred elsewhere in order to provide for the needs of the Settlement. In addition, the Isolation Hospital would have difficulty in meeting the requirements of the Settlement in regard to Cholera treatment.

It was also demonstrated that there is a definite need for more accommodation for Foreign cases of certain minor infectious diseases, especially Measles, which is difficult to control among transients residing in boarding houses, hotels, etc.

Residential Distribution of Patients

Both Foreign and Chinese Isolation Hospitals admit a considerable number of patients from areas other than the Settlement. During the period 1926-1930 nearly 2,000 Chinese patients, or roughly 30% of the total admissions, came from territory under Chinese control. The majority of these patients were indigents, and at no time has any contribution been made towards their maintenance. Members record the opinion that the other Municipalities should be responsible for the cost of upkeep of all free cases admitted from their respective areas and recommend the formation of a Joint Hospital Board to deal with this question.

Condition of the Chinese Isolation Hospital

The present building was erected in 1900 and is now obsolete. It was condemned from a structural standpoint in 1928 by the Public Works Department but, owing to certain exigencies, it has been possible to keep this building open by temporary repairs of a costly nature.

Provision for Epidemics Among Chinese Community

This subject was considered at length, both in relation to existing buildings and the practicability of providing emergency accommodation in hulks on the river. Bearing in mind the central location of the Isolation Hospital site and the distribution of the population, members formed the opinion that any future building would be best erected in the form of an annexe to the present site, and that it can be constructed of simple and economical design.

Foreign Accommodation

Having given due consideration to the above points, members discussed the various sites available and potential, which might be utilised for the foreign community. It was agreed that on the whole a Western site would be more convenient, and that this would also effect concentration of hospitals and unification of staff, in view of the fact that the Country Hospital and Nurses' Home is already in the Western District.

Type of Buildings

The debate on the type of structure centred on the "pavilion" type of building, (which occupies a considerable area of ground) as opposed to the vertical type which, although not as popular amongst certain schools of medical thought, can be placed on a very much smaller area. Whilst the opinion of members differed to some extent, it was finally and unanimously decided that a vertical type of building would be quite suitable for Shanghai. Though the question of spread of infection by aerial convection had to be faced, it was considered that, with due precaution, there was no need for apprehension.

Use of Hulks

The question of employing hulks for certain of the more dangerous communicable diseases was considered. It was agreed that the inconvenience and difficulties in arranging transport and the fact that the river was not within Municipal jurisdiction, definitely excluded the suggestion as a solution of the problem.

Alternative Site

The sites which received the greatest consideration were those known as the "Benbow-Rowe" site (on Great Western Road), and that bounded by Tifeng/Great Western and Bubbling Well Road, known for purposes of convenience as the "Island Site." Prolonged discussion ensued, but the Committee eventually decided that the "Island Site" was the most convenient, provided it could be rounded off.

Accommodation for Nursing Staff

The Committee thus having disposed of the site and type of the hospital, proceeded to study the possibility of housing all Isolation nurses in the new Victoria Nurses Home, a suggestion which was partially negatived.

Problem of Minor Infectious Diseases

Special attention was paid to the problem of minor infectious diseases at the second meeting of the Sub-Committee. The question of the amount and type of accommodation required was thoroughly discussed and, in particular, whether wards would be more suitable than the cubicle system or separate rooms. The Committee favoured some form of cubicle arrangement provided the expenditure incurred thereon would not be excessive.

Provision of Medical Attendance

Questions were raised as to the general administration of the hospital, and as to whether the English practice of transferring the treatment of patients to a resident medical officer at the hospital should now be introduced. Also whether the practice, namely, that doctors treat their own patients, which has held good in Shanghai for many years, should be continued.

It was agreed that, since the present practice is economical to the Municipality, and indeed is preferred by some doctors and patients, it would be desirable for it to continue.

Admission to Foreign Isolation Hospital of Chinese Patients

To meet the increasing demand on the part of better-class Chinese for modern hospitalisation, and to conform to existing practice in certain other Foreign Hospitals, it was decided that Chinese patients be admitted to private rooms.

Hospital Accommodation for Tuberculosis

This subject presented innumerable difficulties of a complex nature. Various factors connected with the problem were studied at length. While there was little doubt that the treatment of Tuberculosis is a matter for the State rather than the Municipality (which should normally limit its efforts to diagnosis and prevention) it was agreed that much could be done along these lines on the Dispensary system, using selected Branch Health Offices as a nucleus of the work.

Inter-Municipal Cooperation

Though recognising the urgent need for a hospital for the exclusive treatment of Tuberculosis, members held the opinion that the matter was pre-eminently one for settlement by means of joint Municipal effort, since an adequate scheme was possible only by planning for the whole Shanghai area. To this end it was suggested that the Municipality of Greater Shanghai or the Chinese Government might be willing to grant a suitable site on the environs of the town.

SECTION V.—MENTAL HOSPITAL

REPORT OF THE SUB-COMMITTEE ON MENTAL HOSPITAL ACCOMMODATION—FOREIGN AND CHINESE

General Remarks

In order to comply with the Terms of Reference, which call for the investigation of future Municipal requirements, it is necessary to consider the existing situation and the fundamental factors which create it.

Responsibility of the State

It is an accepted fact that in most civilised countries the responsibility for the care of mental cases is a duty of the State, which has the necessary machinery in the nature of laws to recover all or part of the cost of maintenance, either from the relatives or from the local Government of the District from whence the patient originated.

Action by the Council

In Shanghai, so far as the Foreign population is concerned, the Council has been faced with an entirely different problem. As the local authority vested with the duty of preserving public safety, means had to be found for the temporary care of acute mental cases and to this extent the Council admitted its responsibilities when, in 1907, it opened the Mental Ward to function as a " Detention Home " for the care and custody of patients pending their repatriation. In no sense had the Ward ever been regarded as an Asylum for the insane until certain developments occurred which rendered necessary a change of policy.

Lack of Accommodation for Chinese Cases

As regards accommodation for Chinese cases, so far as information available goes, the hospitalisation of such cases is a new development and no such accommodation existed, though in Soochow, (attached to a Missionary Hospital) a unit is set apart for the care and treatment of insanity, both acute and chronic. The question may arise why, having made progress in the provision of general and other hospitals, nothing has been attempted here to meet the needs of mental cases. This somewhat anomalous situation, in the opinion of a well-known physician with a wide experience of the subject, is attributable to two causes: firstly that in the minds of a great many Chinese, insanity was, in accordance with the tenets of certain faiths, held to be a matter beyond the aid of medical service, and thus was dissociated from sickness, and secondly that the Chinese have as a rule preferred to keep their insane under their own surveillance rather than seek medical aid or hospital care.

Local Refuges

It is true that there are certain "homes" or "refuges" in and around the Settlement conducted by benevolent or charitable societies for the accommodation of the mentally deranged, but these appear to exist solely for the destitute and are not in accordance with modern ideas in the treatment of insanity.

Changing Conditions

Members of the Sub-Committee dealing with this question, however, recorded the opinion that during recent years there has been a growing demand for hospital accommodation of this nature, while the out-patient records of a leading hospital in the Settlement show that cases of acute delusional insanity are now being brought in more frequently than during previous years. Cases of homicidal mania rarely are permitted to become a public danger, and those that come to light are as a rule those in which Police action has been necessary.

Future Developments

On the eve of preparing this report, information comes to hand that in the proposed Dr. Sun Memorial Hospital some wards will be set apart for the cure of mental cases. It is understood that there will be accommodation for approximately 40 patients, both paying and indigent, and since this Hospital is to be associated with the College of Medicine of the National Central University, only cases of teaching value are likely to be admitted.

Complexity of Problem

It is generally admitted that, while the problem of mental accommodation for Chinese is extremely complex, some provision should be made by the Council for the care of acute cases, and in this connection it is considered advisable to recall the history of the present Mental Ward which will serve to emphasise some of the difficulties which, as a result of changed economic conditions, confront the Council.

EXTRACT FROM ANNUAL REPORT 1927 : MENTAL WARD.

History

The Mental Ward was first opened in September, 1907. The Annual Report for that year states that it was "established for nervous and mental diseases requiring seclusion and special treatment..... and will supply a long-felt want."

On October 17, 1907, the Consular Body were informed by the Council that the Ward was open for persons suffering from acute mental diseases and submitted Admission Forms A. and B. for approval. These forms provided for the removal of patients after six months stay in the Ward, a condition made because the place was not intended for the care of patients suffering from chronic mental disease, who should be repatriated for care and treatment in their own countries.

In a reply dated November 13, 1907, the Consular Body agreed to the conditions of admission and, with one or two exceptions, this arrangement has worked satisfactorily until the present time.

Declaration of Policy

In 1912 the Council reiterated its policy in regard to the care of mental deficients and stated that it was unanimously opposed to the appropriation of public funds for the erection and management of an asylum for mental patients, adding that Foreign mental patients in China, no matter whether persons of means or paupers, should be repatriated by their National authorities. This accounted for the strict limitation of six months stay in the Ward.

Russian Refugee Problem

The Russian Revolution was responsible for a large influx of refugees into Shanghai, and also for the gradual decline of the powers vested in the local Russian Consulate-General. In order to deal with the problems which consequently arose, Russian interests were incorporated with the Chinese under the status of the Bureau of Russian Affairs, by which Consular powers were still exercised. Even in those days with the increasing number of refugees, difficulty was experienced in relieving the Mental Ward of congestion, and making room for fresh cases of an acute nature : but by careful management, and cooperation on the the part of H.B.M. Consul-General, who repatriated British subjects whenever the opportunity arose, the sixteen beds were allocated in such a way that it was seldom that cases had to be refused admission.

With the recognition of the Soviet Government by China, the Bureau for Russian Affairs was abolished. Thus an anomaly existed, in that the greater portion of the Russian refugee population refused to recognise, and were refused recognition by, the local Soviet authority. The Consular Body as well as the Council refused to have dealing with the U.S.S.R.

Position Following Rendition of Mixed Court

With the abolition of Consular Powers, the Mixed Court assumed liability for indigent Russian mental cases. With the rendition of this Court to Chinese control, the Shanghai Provisional Court in a letter dated January 13, 1927, stated " this Court will not be responsible for the payment of hospital expenses for lunatics in future.....and cannot undertake expenses of hospital cases which the President of the Court considers should be met by the Health Department as the Council collects taxes, and should be prepared to maintain adequate accommodation for all destitute persons suffering with illness of any kind."

By this ruling not only Russians, but all indigent foreigners who had no extraterritorial rights, or were unrecognised by their respective Consuls, became a charge on the Council. In certain cases where the person is known to them, Russian Charitable Organisations contribute small payments for a limited period. Further by an arrangement concluded in June, 1927, the Municipal Provisional Commission of the French Concession now guarantees payment of Tls. 3 a day for indigent foreigners without Consular jurisdiction, and who are resident in the French Concession.

General Situation

The problem that appears insoluble is that the Mental Ward has been gradually filled by indigent patients supported at the Council's expense ; that, as acute cases are discharged a great proportion of indigent chronic cases take their place : that, as no machinery for deportation exists, nor can be set up in the circumstances, relief is impossible.

There are neither powers to prevent political refugees entering Shanghai, nor for getting rid of undesirables who are here; yet asylum must be given to dangerous chronic cases of mental disease in order to safeguard the community, and accommodation must be provided for paying patients in the hospital for mental diseases.

The Necessity for an Early Increase in Accommodation

From time to time the section for women patients has become so congested that it has been necessary to place beds for the quieter patients in the corridors and small side rooms; and instances have occurred where two mental patients have been put in the same room. In order to provide accommodation for the admission of fresh acute cases, a number of the more chronic indigent patients were discharged, when it was found possible to find relatives or friends who could undertake the necessary responsibility. At times the section for men is full and, should the necessity arise on such occasions for admitting fresh acute cases, they must be accommodated in the corridors and in the Doctor's office.

The admission of patients suffering from acute mental disease is often a matter of urgency to the relatives and medical attendants, and it is therefore desirable that there should always be facilities for immediate admission.

It is also necessary to have more accommodation suitable for cases of mania and those with suicidal tendencies. There is no doubt that an early extension of accommodation is needed, but at the same time no fundamental change in the policy concerning foreign mental cases is contemplated.

If the Victoria Nursing Home is closed, the Mental Ward should be enlarged as a separate unit, at an early date, to accommodate 20 additional patients, or 36 in all. This is possible by using the present wing for men and building a new wing for women patients, a separate garden being provided for each section.

Temporary Measures

The above summary was written four years ago. Owing to the restrictions placed on hospital development by the Economy Commission, extensions of the Mental Hospital did not materialise and means had to be found to relieve congestion. This was accomplished by the conclusion of temporary arrangements with the hospital authorities of the Russian Orthodox Confraternity for the accommodation of certain chronic patients at the Council's expense. While such arrangement has in practice brought a temporary alleviation of the congestion, it by no means affords a solution of the problem.

The situation therefore is that, owing to force of circumstances beyond its control, the Council has been virtually compelled to accept responsibility for the care of certain chronic cases, and there is no apparent remedy for this state of affairs.

Conclusions

In considering the needs of the Chinese Community and the extent of the Council's responsibility the Sub-Committee formed the opinion that, while the Council should be asked to provide for the care of acute cases, the care of chronics was rather a matter for private benevolence in cooperation with respective Municipal Administrations, and preferably with the active support of the Chinese Government.

With regard to acute cases the unanimous opinion was expressed that strict measures should be taken to prevent the importation of such patients from other areas.

Legal Authority for Detention of Chinese Insane

Bearing in mind the somewhat rigorous legal formalities which must be complied with in most countries before a person certified as insane can be committed to an asylum for detention or treatment, it was considered desirable to ascertain whether existing Chinese law made any provision for dealing with insane persons. The opinion of the Municipal Advocate is quoted as follows:—

Re COMPULSORY DETENTION OF LUNATICS

"There are no definite and specific provisions in Chinese law relative to the detention of lunatics; neither is there any recognised procedure to be used in such cases. There are certain provisions, however, of the Chinese law which would seem to indicate that a person might be detained if found to be insane by a Court after proper inquiry. Article 4 of the Police Regulations provides as follows:

'4. Insane persons shall not be penalised for an obstruction to Police, except when the offence is committed when they are sane. Whenever insane persons commit a breach of police regulations, their parents or guardians shall be informed and directed to place them under their own surveillance, without regard to whether or not they have been penalised. In case their parents or guardians cannot be found, they shall be sent to insane hospitals or refuges.'

The Police Regulations are enforced in Chinese territory by the Public Safety Bureau without reference to the Courts. In the Settlement, however, they are enforced by the Shanghai Special Area District Court. The above-quoted article, therefore, would seem to give the Court the authority to order the detention of insane persons who have committed an overt act. Article 31 of the Criminal Code provides:

'Article 31: (1) An act done by any person who is insane shall not be punishable; provided that such person may, according to the nature and circumstances of the case, be subjected to measures restrictive to his liberty:

(2) Where an act is done by any person who is feebleminded, the punishment shall be reduced provided that such person may, according to the nature and circumstances of the case, be subjected upon execution or remission of sentence to measures restrictive of his liberty.'

It therefore appears that an insane person who commits a criminal offence, even though a minor one, may be detained in an insane asylum by order of the Court. It is essential that an offence be committed. It is not sufficient for a person to be certified insane by a competent medical practitioner. The culprit must be charged with an offence, brought before the Court, found guilty and proved to be of unsound mind to the satisfaction of the Court, otherwise detention in an insane asylum cannot be ordered. The provisions of the Police Regulations are quite simple and ample, and it is most probable that any person who is insane to the extent of being a public danger could be charged with some offence and detained by the Court if found guilty and proved to be insane."

SECTION VI.—GENERAL HOSPITAL ACCOMMODATION

REPORT OF GENERAL HOSPITAL ACCOMMODATION SUB-COMMITTEE

Meetings

The first meeting of the Committee was held on August 7, 1930, and twelve meetings have been held since, both of the Committee itself and of Sub-Committees appointed by it to study special aspects of the problem presented.

Terms of Reference

In the General Terms of Reference given to the Commission a number of items come in whole or in part under the purview of this Committee; these are :—

3. The investigation of general hospital accommodation—Foreign and Chinese—whether existing accommodation is sufficient for the needs of the Community—and if not, suggested measures to meet requirements.

4. The question of providing an Annexe to the General Hospital to deal with cases which, at present, are excluded on account of nursing staff restrictions, in particular :—

Maternity Section (Indigent Foreigners)
V. D. Section (Female—Foreign)

6. Consideration of Municipal Grants-in-Aid, the basis of awards, and the desirability of appointing a Standing Committee to supervise and deal with such matters.

7. The problem of Hospital Charities in general; in particular (a) the possibility of their consolidation with a view to coordination of effort and economy, under the supervision of the Standing Committee referred to in the paragraph above; (b) the question of voluntary subscriptions, their source and methods to improve publicity.

9. Hospital Registration: Whether this can be effected in return for certain facilities which might be extended by the Council; if possible, the terms and conditions of.

Problem of Hospital Accommodation

General Remarks

The first question dealt with by the Committee was whether the existing accommodation in the Acute General Hospitals was sufficient to meet the requirements of the population of the International Settlement of Shanghai. This problem proved more difficult to answer than was originally expected and required a considerable amount of study before a convincing answer could be supplied.

Leaving out for the moment the two large public Hospitals—the General Hospital and the Country Hospital—the Hospitals of this city are entirely voluntary and vary in size from large and efficient institutions such as the Lester Chinese Hospital and St. Luke's, to places of two or three beds only, run for private profit and some of them not of a very reputable nature. In the absence, too, of any system whatever of registration, the actual facts of the matter could only be obtained after a considerable amount of investigation and even then not completely. Eventually the Commissioner of Public Health was able to supply the Committee with the following details :—

At first sight this proportion of nearly 30 beds per unit of 10,000 of population would appear to be at any rate a fairly liberal one as compared with the bed-per-unit of population in some other countries, especially in view of the fact that there is still a considerable percentage of the Chinese population averse to treatment in modern hospitals.

A table showing the proportion in other countries is given here.

Note :—These figures include hospitals for the mentally diseased and for the tuberculous. Figures tabulated represent national statistics, including cities.

Subsidiary Factors

Several other factors, however, come in when the position in Shanghai has to be considered. These are :—

1. The 625 beds entered in this table under the heading "Minor Hospitals" are very largely of so low a standard both as regards equipment and medical attendance that it is doubtful whether they ought to be included in the calculation.

2. Five hundred and twenty-five beds are for communicable diseases only, and 375 of these are not available for a large part of the year.

3. In the peculiar position, geographically, in which the International Settlement is placed it is impossible for the voluntary hospitals to refuse patients who do not strictly belong to the International Settlement and a fair proportion of their beds are occupied by patients from beyond the Settlement limits.

Taking these factors together the proportion of available beds to unit of population should be reduced by about a half to arrive at an approximately correct figure.

Acute vs. Chronic Cases

The Committee felt, however, that even at this low figure the problem would not be a very urgent one were these beds all available for the type of patient that requires treatment at an Acute General Hospital. On further enquiry it was quite evident that this was not really the case. Many of the beds in the General Hospitals are occupied by patients who would not be allowed to occupy such beds in an Acute General Hospital in western lands ; among these are cases of chronic illness, incurables, and those convalescing after serious accidents, especially those involving bone injuries. Such patients in other lands are transferred to poor-law infirmaries and convalescent homes, the beds in the General Hospitals being thus preserved for the acute and urgent cases for which they are especially required.

Infirmary Proposal

The Committee feels that the erection of more Acute General Hospitals would be an entirely uneconomical method of meeting this problem and recommends the building of an Infirmary accommodating about 500 patients and to which could be sent the cases referred to above, now occupying beds in the Acute General Hospitals. The term 'Infirmary' is meant to convey the sense in which it is used for Poor-Law Infirmaries in England. The Committee feels that it should be available for Foreigners and Chinese alike, that it should be built in the simplest and most inexpensive style, and that the greater size of the wards and the small amount of acute work that would have to be handled in such a building would allow both construction and fittings to be of a very much less costly nature than those required for an Acute General Hospital.

Distribution of Hospitals

It has to be realised, however, that while as a general statement the Committee believes this to be correct, the distribution of the Acute General Hospitals in the International Settlement is strikingly uneven and some of the most densely populated areas are entirely or almost entirely neglected. This is particularly the case in the Eastern district and most especially in the accommodation for women needing urgent hospital treatment in that area. See Map, Appendix F. While the Committee adheres to its finding as regards the erection of Acute General Hospitals at Municipal expense it is of great importance that all inducements possible should be given to voluntary hospitals to provide accommodation for acute female cases in this area.

Hospital Accommodation for Foreigners

In general, the remarks above apply to Chinese patients of the poorer classes but the Committee was specifically instructed to report on the accommodation available for both Foreigners and Chinese. With regard to the better-off section of the population the Committee finds that there is no serious lack of accommodation for the sick. The proportion of beds per population unit for Foreigners is high but it must be remembered that the use of hospitals is much more general among foreigners in Shanghai than in the lands from which the majority of them come and there is therefore no excess of beds for their accommodation in this city. Better class Chinese patients are particularly well provided for as they have access to the General and Country Hospitals (first-class wards) and private rooms are available in nearly all the hospitals for Chinese.

Indigent Foreigners

The same cannot be said about the provision for indigent foreigners. The Committee had no difficulty in arriving at the conclusion that there was a grave lack of accommodation for this class of patients and in certain directions this lack was so serious as to amount to little short of a scandal. This applies most especially to indigent foreign maternity patients and female venereal disease cases. These two classes are not admitted to the General Hospital.

Annexe at General Hospital

The Terms of Reference required the Committee to consider whether an annexe to the General Hospital was desirable to meet these needs and this matter was brought under review. The feeling was that such a plan was undesirable. It would be a very expensive method of dealing with this lack, and special and complicated arrangements would have to be made on account of nursing staff restrictions in the General Hospital. On the other hand, the Committee believes that the treatment of these patients in the suggested Infirmary would prove both satisfactory and economical.

Importance of Disease Prevention

It is necessary here to deal with a matter the importance of which has been more and more impressed on the Committee as its work and investigations developed. The Committee feels that its work will be of comparatively little value if it cannot be brought home to the responsible authorities that the prevention of disease at its source, rather than the indefinite increase of accommodation for the sick, will in the end be the solution of the medical problem of Shanghai. A considerable proportion of the patients that occupy the hospital beds are suffering from diseases which if dealt with at an earlier stage would have been relieved without the need of hospitalisation and which might have been prevented altogether. It is most important that this view should not be lost sight of in considering the medical needs of the community. Two classes lend themselves very specially to such forms of preventive treatment—the school children among whom there is an enormous amount of unnecessary disease especially of eye infections, and expectant mothers in whom most of the serious complications of labour can be intelligently anticipated and often completely prevented.

The Committee feels that these classes of patients could and should be dealt with in the Infirmary suggested in this scheme, and that space should be available for further preventive work as opportunity offered.

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

The Committee reached the following conclusions:—

1. That the Hospital accommodation for the well-to-do classes both Foreign and Chinese is generally speaking adequate.
2. That the Hospital accommodation for the indigent population both Foreign and Chinese is inadequate, especially for the former.
3. That this applies with special force to Foreign maternity cases and female V.D. cases.
4. That the organisation of school clinic work is especially urgent.
5. That prenatal, maternity and post-natal clinics and child welfare clinics should be established.
6. That Special Hospitals (e.g. Ear, Eye, Nose, Throat, etc.) are desirable.
7. That it is desirable to establish Convalescent Homes in connection with the larger Hospitals.

HOSPITAL REGISTRATION

The next question considered by the Committee was that of Hospital Registration as it was felt that the answers to the other questions with which it had to deal depended largely on the findings with regard to the registration of Hospitals. It seems hardly necessary to call attention to the very anomalous position which the International Settlement occupies in having a large number of unregistered and uncontrolled Hospitals in its midst.

To this end the Committee has divided hospitals under several classes—General, Private, Special and Convalescent: but the minimum requirements for registration here outlined are so worded as to make them of general application to all hospitals of whatever type.

In addition to defining these minimum requirements, which it was felt every hospital should meet before registration is granted, the Committee has suggested simple rules and regulations that should be applicable to Hospitals when registered.

Suggested forms are also given (1) for hospitals applying for registration; and (2) for a simple statistical report to be filled in annually by registered hospitals. The Committee is strongly of opinion that no Grants-in-Aid should be given by the Municipal Council to any hospital failing to come up to the minimum standard for registration.

GRANTS-IN-AID

The subject of Grants-in-Aid was next considered by the Committee, which had before it the list of such grants given by the Municipal Council during the current year.

Critical Analysis of Existing System

It should be pointed out that there is great need for a clearer definition of the purpose of Grants-in-Aid and these should be completely removed from the category of actual payments for services rendered; such payments at present are in some, if not all cases, entered in the Municipal accounts as if they were charitable gifts by the Municipal Council towards the cost of services rendered to the poorer members of the community. This would seem to be hardly a fair method of dealing with the matter.

Police Cases

For example, when the Municipal Police require medical certificates in respect of cases in the voluntary hospitals, such certificates should be paid for at a fixed rate and this should have nothing to do with the question of Grants-in-Aid. Further, when the Council desires to provide hospital accommodation for the families of any special class of its employees, the payment should not appear under Grants-in-Aid.

Relation of Municipal Grants to Volume of Charity Work

The Committee feels that Grants-in-Aid should bear a very definite relation to the amount of free work done by the hospitals for the poor of the International Settlement. Regard should also be paid to the amount of work that is entailed by the hospitals due to police and accident cases which they have to handle. It is evident that from the central position of certain hospitals and their accessibility and for other reasons also, these hospitals have to deal with an unduly large proportion of such cases and this should be taken into consideration in the Grants given by the Council to them.

Advisory Committee

The Committee is strongly of the opinion that a Committee should be appointed by the Municipal Council to advise on the question of Grants-in-Aid and to report as to the capability of the hospital applying or carrying out the service for which the grant is given. As stated before, the Committee feels that grants should not be given to hospitals failing to reach the minimum standards required for registration. Full details of the findings of the Committee on Grants-in-Aid are given in Appendix B.

Hospital Charities

The consideration of grants led to a general discussion on the question of Hospital Charities. An investigation of this subject brought rather surprising discoveries of the small amount of support given to the voluntary hospitals by the community of Shanghai both Foreign and Chinese, the more surprising in that this city has a fine reputation for generosity and for its support of charitable efforts. The small proportion of Chinese support given to the hospitals was brought out by the following figures referring to three of the largest hospitals in the Settlement. St. Luke's receives a voluntary contribution of $22,280 from Foreign sources as against $2,746 from Chinese. St. Elizabeth's receives Tls. 9,410 from Foreign sources against Tls. 590 from Chinese. The only hospital that seems to receive much Chinese support is the Lester Hospital which gets $20,700 from Chinese sources against $14,000 from Foreign. It should further be noted that much of the Foreign support referred to here comes from abroad and is not collected locally.

Paucity of Chinese Support

Financial Campaigns. Lack of Methods or Organisation

The Committee came to the conclusion that a good deal of the failure to secure anything like adequate local support was due to the lack of any efficient organisation or method for raising money. It believes that if this were properly undertaken by "flag days," financial drives, Saturday and Sunday collections and other recognised methods a great deal more local support could be obtained.

Need for Special Committee

It is felt that with a strong Committee organised for this purpose and officered by men and women whose names would be security for the wise distribution of the funds, there ought to be no difficulty in obtaining a much more adequate response from the community.

We consider that this will require a different Committee from the Standing Committee appointed to advise on Grants-in-Aid; and that a united effort under this body should be made annually to assist the finances of the voluntary hospitals.

Heavy Cost of Handling Accident Cases

When considering this matter attention was called to the heavy drain on the finances of the Voluntary Hospitals caused by the increasing number of accident cases admitted each year. In some cases these are due to culpable carelessness over such matters as the handling of motor cars, the erection of insecure scaffolding, etc. In traffic accident cases in the Settlement the responsible parties almost always escape from the necessity of repairing the damage they may have caused as far as the payment of hospital fees is concerned.

Methods in French Concession

By way of contrast, the helpful policy adopted by the Police authorities of the French Concession enables Hospitals to recover a large proportion of expenses, as the following figures show:—

LESTER CHINESE HOSPITAL

STATISTICS RELATING TO PAYMENT FOR TRAFFIC ACCIDENT CASES (FRENCH CONCESSION ONLY)

YEAR 1930. IN-PATIENTS BROUGHT IN BY POLICE

Total	110	97	paid up	11	unpaid	2	still in.

Total received for paid up cases $1,568.50. Total short on unpaid cases $149.50.

Lack of Police Cooperation

In regard to motor accidents whether the drivers of the cars involved are at fault or not the damage caused by such accidents is frequently covered by insurance policies and the hospitals should be able to secure from the insurance companies the actual cost of treatment of such casualties. In many cases, however, the hospitals are without any particulars of the cars involved in these accidents and such information is, we understand, usually withheld by the Police.

Proposed Method of Financing Schemes

In the course of the discussion of hospital finance and of the proposals for improving the medical services of the Settlement the possibility of raising funds by the imposition of an Amusement Tax was brought forward and details of such a scheme were presented to the Committee. It was agreed that this suggestion should be passed on to the General Commission with the hearty approval of this Committee. (Appendix D.)

Appendices

The following Appendices are attached to this report:—

APPENDIX A. Infirmary, Maternity Accommodation, Clinic.

APPENDIX B. Grants-in-Aid and Hospital Charities.

APPENDIX C. Registration of Hospitals.

APPENDIX D. Amusement Tax.

In closing this report the Chairman wishes to acknowledge the very hearty support given to him by all members of the Committee by regular attendance at the meetings and by the very careful and time-consuming work given to the investigation of details and the preparation of plans. The Chairman wishes especially to acknowledge the great assistance given by the Commissioner of Public Health and his staff.

SECTION VII—MATERNITY ACCOMMODATION

REPORT OF THE SUB-COMMITTEE DEALING WITH MATERNITY ACCOMMODATION

Special Directions

Consideration of the maternity accommodation in Shanghai was specially mentioned in the Terms of Reference and, in addition, the Chairman of the Council in his address to Members at the inaugural meeting of the Commission, directed attention to the urgent need for improved maternity facilities for the poorer population in the Northern and Eastern Districts. He further assured members that the Council would be glad to give sympathetic consideration to such recommendation as the Commission might see fit to make.

Though the Terms of Reference relating to maternity refer specifically to indigent foreigners, the subject is closely associated with hospital accommodation in general. The Committee therefore considered that the question had to be reviewed in its widest aspect which naturally included the poorer sections of the Chinese community.

Maternity work, both pre- and post-natal, has for many years been part and parcel of the normal responsibilities of modern communities. In most cities it is combined with services dealing with child welfare in general and considered as closely related to the medical inspection of school children and clinic work connected therewith. The primary requirement of any work of this nature is an efficient midwifery service based either on a Central Maternity unit or Welfare Centres distributed throughout the town.

Review of the Existing Situation

The Committee came to the conclusion that the Settlement lacked adequate provision for the care of maternity cases among the poorer classes. The actual hospital accommodation available, excluding private hospitals, is 172 beds : of these 33 are for foreigners. It is understood that extension of maternity accommodation at the Sacred Heart Hospital is under consideration but at the moment definite information is not available.

Accommodation for Foreigners

With reference to the problem so far as it affects the Foreign Community the Municipal Maternity Ward (which functioned from 1913 until closed on the recommendation of the Economy Commission in 1929) filled a very real need for certain sections of the Community resident in the Northern and Eastern Districts.

This was borne out by the fact that during the year 1926, i.e., when the Country Hospital was opened, of the total of 127 maternity cases admitted to the Municipal Maternity Ward 83 or nearly 56% came from the Northern and Eastern Districts.

Country Hospital (Statistics)

It was further recorded that the residential distribution of cases admitted to the Country Hospital during the year ending June, 1930, (see Appendix E) showed that of 173 cases admitted from the Settlement, 71 or roughly 40% came from the Northern and Eastern Districts.

Lack of Beds for Poorer Classes

The fact that 39 out of 53 third-class patients came from the latter districts must be regarded as significant, and the inference may be drawn that a number of patients from the poorer classes were compelled to remain in their own homes under conditions which (on the evidence given by medical practitioners and the District Nurse) cannot be described as satisfactory. Investigation revealed the practical absence of free maternity beds for indigent foreigners in the Settlement, a state of affairs which probably does not exist in any other town of the size and importance of Shanghai.

Accommodation for Chinese

The census of maternity beds briefly alluded to above showed that there are 139 beds for Chinese maternity cases (the above figure included 33 in the Chinese Red Cross Hospital in Avenue Haig, which strictly speaking is not within the Settlement). It was noted that 108 of the total number of beds were located in the Western and Central Districts and the Committee therefore considered that provision made for the Chinese community should preferably be situated so as to serve the Northern and Eastern districts. Before proceeding to discuss the type of maternity service and accommodation required it seemed essential to investigate the prevailing customs. The Committee therefore co-opted the Superintendent of St. Elizabeth's, the attending Physician for Women's diseases at the Lester Hospital, and the District Nurse. On hearing their evidence the following conclusions were reached :—

Conclusions

(1) That undoubtedly infant mortality was high amongst the poorer Chinese population and that in all probability it was due to poverty combined with ignorance. Hence, in addition to any contemplated maternity work, it would be desirable to establish some form of control over the old type of midwife who, from all accounts, was insufficiently acquainted with the necessary requirements to safeguard either the mother or the child.

(2) That though there might be some doubt as to the initial success of a maternity service on more or less Western lines amongst the Chinese population, the admissions to hospital during latter years indicate that such a service (if started on a small scale and conducted with a due measure of publicity) would undoubtedly prove a success in time.

(3) That hospital accommodation, as such, was rather less necessary than prenatal and maternity care. That provided such care was available the existing hospitals could admit a number of abnormal cases met with during this work, particularly if Grants-in-Aid were increased. This view was strongly supported by the Medical Superintendent of St. Elizabeth's Hospital where the demand for maternity beds cannot be met owing to lack of funds and space.

Nevertheless the Committee decided that a Clinic and After-Care service would need to be backed by some hospital beds, if only for training purposes.

Methods of Meeting or Alleviating the Situation

In view of the above facts it was considered that whatever scheme was devised it should provide so far as possible for both Chinese and Foreign patients.

The recommendations made are directed towards the establishment of a nucleus scheme which could be developed in accordance with circumstances and the needs of the Community.

It was also considered that no disadvantages and indeed many benefits would result in combining the maternity service with any other such clinic services as may be authorised in the future.

It would be not only economical but desirable from the administrative standpoint to centralise the maternity work together with other public health clinics, perhaps social service work, in a single building.

The section devoted to maternity work should provide :—

(a) Maternity accommodation for indigent Foreigners and Chinese.

(b) Maternity accommodation for a limited number of paying patients, to be attended by private doctors.

(c) Clinic facilities for ante- and post-natal maternity work including district midwifery service.

These units whilst supplying an immediate need would simultaneously afford a training medium for Chinese nurses to fit them for midwifery work in general.

Staff (Medical)

Having come to a general conclusion as to the lines along which maternity work could be most usefully developed, the Committee gave consideration to the staff problems and came to the following conclusions :—

(1) That whilst a Resident Medical Officer was essential, it was also felt that expert assistance would be required not only in the wards but for the tuition of Chinese nurses under training.

(2) That certain honorary services might be rendered by local practitioners. To this end a preliminary questionnaire forwarded to a number of practitioners resulted in eight volunteering to act as Honorary Consultants, while six offered part-time services. As regards the tuition of nurses six practitioners also offered assistance in giving lectures in English, Chinese and Russian. It was therefore assumed that medical assistance would be available should the recommendations of the Committee be accepted.

Nusing (Forreign)

The Committee considered that, since the majority of the trained nurses in the Municipal Nursing Service held the Certificate of the Central Midwives Board, the necessary nucleus of trained staff need cause no anxiety. They considered that a number would be needed for supervisory and instructional work in the wards, while others would be necessary for district work in conjunction with Chinese midwives. A competent chief midwife, or matron, is of course essential.

Nursing (Chinese)

From evidence disclosed at the various meetings of the Committee it was clear that there is a serious shortage of Chinese nurses with midwifery training. This is due partly to the lack of facilities for the requisite training and experience, and partly to the fact that such graduate nurses as specialise in this particular work readily find more lucrative employment.

It would therefore be advisable to arrange to train graduate nurses on a system which would eliminate dependence on other sources and provide for all municipal requirements in this respect. Enquiries addressed to Hongkong concerning the training of midwives brought information from the Director of Medical Services which will be utilised in due course.

Location

It is recommended that the proposed Maternity Centre be located somewhere in the northern district. The idea of an Annexe to the General Hospital for Maternity work was considered, but is impracticable, as the rebuilding of the East Wing has been postponed, and the site of the General Hospital is too limited for an extension thereon.

A portion of the present Isolation Hospital grounds is probably the best available situation.

DORIS HOFFMAN,
Chairman.

SECTION VIII—NURSING SERVICES

REPORT OF NURSING SERVICES SUB-COMMITTEE

General Remarks

The Report of this Committee to a certain extent means the finishing touch to the work of the whole of the Hospital and Nursing Services Commission which has been dealt with by different Sub-Committees. It is apparent that this Report had to be delayed as it was actually impossible to compile any exact data or to form any definite plans in the direction of this service as long as we had no specific directions given as from the reports of other Sub-Committees, especially that of the General Hospital Accommodation Sub-Committee.

Staff Now Available

Whilst working out the actual figures of what this particular Committee thinks will be the necessary (as well as suitable) staff to meet the plans laid down by the other Committees, it is to be kept in mind that not the whole of the staff proposed for these services in the draft schedule appended is in reality an entirely new service, one-third of the staff being already present in the Municipal Hospitals which are under the supervision of the Shanghai Municipal Council's Health Department.

Needs Depend on Final Programme

Furthermore this Committee wishes to point out from the very beginning that not the whole of the staff proposed in these appended schedules will be needed if the buildings and institutions proposed by the Committee as such are passed and henceforth built by the Shanghai Municipal Council.

Provision for Mobility of Staff

At the same time attention has to be drawn to the fact that it will not only take some time before the whole number of the staff will be required but that as well, whenever the whole of the staff is working, this Committee wants to lay stress especially on the point that the Public Health Department shall always have the right to move any employee or member of this staff to any position or hospital where a vacancy is to be filled or, for instance at times of epidemics, special help will be required. For example, it will be unavoidable that at Fever and Mental Hospitals quite a number of the staff will occasionally have slack periods, but at the same time it is to be remembered that, as the population of Shanghai grows, as the town itself and the harbour as well grows, there is a continuously increasing influx of elements which may carry disease to this Settlement and therefore at any moment create the danger of great epidemics. Therefore it will be always necessary to have for this service an ample reserve on which the Health Commissioner, for the sake of fighting sudden epidemics or other accidental happenings, is able to draw whenever necessary.

Necessity for Reserve

Future Outlook

It should be unnecessary to point out that all the different schemes of developing a General Nursing Service, a Maternity Service, a Service for V. D. may require, with the progress of time, still more assistance than is proposed in these schemes.

But it can surely not be overlooked that, as far as the hygiene of this Settlement goes, for these purposes very little has been done so far and that it certainly is one of the principal points to educate the whole Community of this Settlement to higher standards of hygiene and to a better understanding of prevention of disease, making the development of all these services all the more imperative.

School Medical Inspection

The same can be said about the work that should be done in the way of school medical inspection. To approach the standards of modern communities there is to be inaugurated a service which in all the different schools of Shanghai gives the Health Commissioner a certainty that here, too, Eye diseases, Dental diseases, V. D. and in addition all other sources which may give rise to any epidemics are being kept under adequate observation.

Clinic Service

Concerning maternity and child welfare work, this would include a home visiting service supervised by trained sisters assisted, if necessary, by staff nurses.

Use of Branch Health Offices

The Public Health Nurses will be based on certain Branch Health Offices and perform the usual "follow-up" service in addition to the visitation of small schools for general public health educative work. These Branch Health Offices will in effect provide a modified Dispensary service, with accommodation for both a doctor and nurse, together with the usual treatment and waiting room. At the moment it is impossible to foresee the line of development which will prove popular with the community. All innovations of this nature have to go through a transitionary period no matter where they are established.

Necessity for Training

Beyond doubt in the beginning it will mean a very great handicap for the Municipal Council when such a great number of new employees of different kinds—sisters, nurses or probationers—will have to be engaged. It therefore seems an absolute necessity and was voted for unanimously by this Committee, that there should be organised a Probationers' Nursing School, which should be so arranged that young girls of any nationality should be able to enter and obtain an education in a four years' course which would lead them up to the standards of modern nursing. This Committee wishes to point out specially that they are convinced that, unless such an institution is organised, on the one hand the class of girls that will be attracted to these services will not be sufficiently educated and that, on the other, if they are not led up to this standard interest in their work will soon lag, the immediate consequence of which would be a deterioration of the class and standard of girls employed in these services. This institution should actually require negligible expense.

Supervision of Staff

From the estimate of the nursing staff requirements as prepared for information of members quite a number of different classes of employees will be required. It is to be added here that this Committee is of the opinion that the whole service should be under the supervision of a Senior Matron under whose management the whole organisation would be centralized. The same schedule also shows that the whole staff will be from the outset gathered together from all different nationalities and, whilst in numbers the Chinese employees will always preponderate, to begin with the administration should be in the hands of well-trained foreigners and at the same time a certain number of Japanese and Russian employees are needed to do the very necessary work of interpreters as well as nurses.

Composition of Staff

Necessity for Supervisory Staff

Whilst the administration of the different hospitals or clinics will be in the hands of matrons, the assistant matrons would be supervising the nursing and its efficiency: sisters with a training of several years after they passed their examinations will be supervising the different wards, staff nurses will more or less do the actual nursing and at the same time supervise the probationers.

Sundry Staff Requirements

For the sake of economy it is to be recommended that housekeepers should be employed according to the schedule. Experience of many years has taught the members of this Committee the importance of having "attendants" at the different institutions, these being actually Chinese "boys" of a better class who are willing and able to lend a helping hand wherever it is needed. The occasion for such help will naturally arise more often at the Mental Hospital than at any of the other hospitals. Here, as well as at the Clinic, male nurses will be required for certain cases, and this Committee thinks that there will be even a possibility in time to educate male probationers on the same scale and together with the female probationers.

Finance

As mentioned above roughly one-third of the Medical and Nursing Services' annual cost of salaries is to be deducted from the estimate as these are salaries already paid to the staff employed to-day by the Council. Whilst the amount of money needed to institute such a large Nursing Service as this seems very great, it is to be pointed out that especially the visiting service, i.e., the work of the nurses who have to go to the houses of the poorer classes to assist at confinements, to work in the houses at the time of epidemics, to give instruction in modern hygiene to the poorer classes is still in embryo.

Salaries

Most of the salaries proposed are at the Council's scale. Where there was no such scale to work on, approximately average salaries are quoted. For instance, in the case of probationers, the average salary received during four years was taken as a basis for calculation.

Conclusions

This Committee realises that whilst the demands made on the exchequer of the Municipal Council are very heavy, they feel they have to propose this as an immediate necessity for the sake of leading the Settlement up to the same standard of hygiene deemed necessary in any other modern city of equal size.

ED. BIRT,
Chairman.

SECTION IX—RECOMMENDATIONS

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE COMMITTEE DEALING WITH ISOLATION HOSPITAL ACCOMMODATION, INCLUDING TUBERCULOSIS

(1) That the Chinese Isolation Hospital be transferred into the building at present known as the Foreign Isolation Hospital and renamed the Northern Fever Hospital. That this Hospital be reserved mainly for the poorer Chinese residents and those who can only afford a nominal fee, a small portion of the accommodation being allocated for first-class patients who require accommodation, and in addition certain accommodation allotted to Japanese patients.

(2) That a Hospital be erected on the "Island Site" (Great Western, Tifeng and Bubbling Well Roads) and be known as the Western Fever Hospital which shall admit patients of any nationality who are prepared to conform to hospital regulations.

That this Hospital shall contain approximately 160 beds, some apportioned to minor as well as major infectious disease.

That it contain in addition to paying beds certain free beds in accordance with the necessities of the population served.

(3) That at the earliest date possible an Annexe should be added to the Northern Fever Hospital, consisting of a certain number of long wards built in the simplest possible way, which could serve as an epidemic reserve and be fitted up extremely simply. These wards to accommodate 100-150 patients.

Tuberculosis : The Committee finds difficulty in reaching a satisfactory conclusion in regard to the extremely difficult problem of T. B. accommodation. Thus, whilst it regards the provision of Isolation Hospitals in accordance with its recommendations, as of prime importance, it considers that the solution of the T. B. problem can only be satisfactorily reached when some form of cooperation between the three Municipalities and possibly the Chinese Government is reached, so that a sufficiently large Sanatorium can be provided without unduly penalising the International Settlement.

The Committee considers that, if possible, a Sanatorium with 200 beds should be provided for T B. cases. Admissions to be limited so far as possible to genuine residents. Whenever possible attempts should be made to encourage T. B. Sanatoria established under private auspices, and whenever they prove to be of value to the Community, they should be recognised by the Municipality by Grants-in-Aid, even if outside the Settlement limits.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE COMMITTEE DEALING WITH MENTAL HOSPITAL ACCOMMODATION

It is the opinion of this Committee that provision for the care of mental cases should be assumed by the Municipality and that the needs of such patients, both Foreign and Chinese, should receive prior consideration by the Council with the exception of provision for infectious diseases.

It is noted that at present there is no provision for Chinese mental cases and that accommodation for the Foreign Community is inadequate even for acute cases.

The Committee's recommendations are therefore :—

1. That a new Mental Hospital be established with a total of 100-150 beds to take temporary care of acute cases. This Hospital should be so planned that its capacity could conveniently be doubled at a future date.
2. That it will be expedient to unify this work in a single Hospital for both Foreign and Chinese patients, but if possible with separate units.
3. That the services of a Specialist should be obtained to help in the initial planning as well as to run the Hospital later on. In addition, it is considered advisable to plan for Staff well in advance and a School for the training of Mental Attendants is considered desirable.
4. Subsidiary matters issuing from the above Resolution would appear to fall into three categories, all relating to chronic cases.
   (a) Foreign cases, more particularly, should be repatriated to their own countries.
   (b) At a later date an Asylum might be established in conjunction with the other two Municipalities where chronic cases could be taken care of with the support of private philanthropy.
   (c) It is noted that whilst it is customary in the United Kingdom and America for the State to assume responsibility for such patients, it is the opinion of some members of this Committee that it would be unwise to approach the Chinese Government on the subject at the present time.

RECOMMENDATION OF THE COMMITTEE DEALING WITH THE QUESTION OF MATERNITY ACCOMMODATION

The Committee considers that a Maternity Centre is essential and recommends that this be established in the Northern District to provide for the poor of all nationalities. It is desirable that cooperation with existing Maternity Centres should be encouraged and it is also considered desirable to establish a Training Centre in connection with this work.

A. Equipment—

1. A Maternity Hospital of 20 beds, with room for expansion, for the care of cases which cannot be attended to in their homes. This Hospital to be housed with other Municipal clinics if found desirable. The location, somewhere in the Northern District, to be decided upon by the Council. If found feasible the addition of accommodation for a certain number of paying patients is advised.
2. Accommodation for pre- and post-natal clinics, attached to above Hospital.
3. Portable equipment—instruments, etc., to be used in homes, by midwives.

B. Staff—

1. A resident doctor to attend operative or difficult cases in hospital, to conduct pre and post-natal clinics, and to act as consultant for midwives on cases in the district. Additional Medical Officers to be provided if necessary.
2. A foreign matron, who is a trained midwife, to superintend the hospital, supervise midwives, and instruct pupil midwives.
3. Six foreign trained nurse midwives ; 2 to be on duty in the hospital and 4 to attend cases in the homes and instruct pupil midwives. This number to be increased as required.
4. At least 6 Chinese nurse midwives, to perform the same duties as the above. This number to be increased as necessary and according to available supply.
5. A class of pupil midwives, to have instruction by matron and resident midwives, lectures by doctors volunteering for the purpose, and practical work in attending cases in the hospital and homes, under supervision of resident midwives. They are also to give nursing care to patients in the hospital and homes.
6. As many nurses as necessary to care for patients in the hospital and in homes, if the number of pupil midwives is not sufficient for this. Those doing district nursing may also be connected with other Municipal nursing services if desirable.
7. An honorary staff of volunteer doctors, to act as consultants, and to give lectures to the pupil midwives.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE COMMITTEE DEALING WITH GENERAL HOSPITAL ACCOMMODATION, GRANTS-IN-AID, AND HOSPITAL REGISTRATION

The Committee recommends the building of an Infirmary on the lines of an English Poor Law Infirmary to accommodate approximately 500 patients. That the latter should be patients who are domiciled in the International Settlement admitted as a rule from the Acute General Hospitals, such patients to be those who are not suitable for treatment in these hospitals as being subjects of chronic or incurable diseases or needing prolonged treatment after the acute phase of their illness is over.

That one complete floor of such a building should be arranged to accommodate a self-contained Maternity unit. As part of this unit there would be provided a Maternity Nursing Service for work in the homes of the patients and the actual beds of the unit should be reserved for cases requiring hospitalisation.

That the ground floor of this building be arranged to meet the required accommodation for School Clinics, Maternity and Child Welfare Clinics, and also for a V. D. Clinic, with room for further extension of preventive work as opportunity afforded.

The Committee presents a draft plan of such a building which it thinks would meet the requirements of the type of services mentioned above, and indicates what in its view would be the best arrangement of such a building and where in its opinion such a building would be best located. (See Appendix A, Infirmary, Maternity and Clinic.)

GRANTS-IN-AID

The Committee recommends that a Standing Committee be appointed by the Council to advise on the subject of Grants-in-Aid, and to report on the capability of the Hospital for carrying out the services for which the Grant is given or requested.

The Committee recommends that Grants should not be given to hospitals failing to meet the minimum requirements for registration. (See Appendix B.)

HOSPITAL REGISTRATION

Even though it may be impossible for various reasons to compel hospitals to register at present, the Committee felt that it would be doing less than its duty if it did not record its opinion that compulsory registration should be enforced.

To meet the immediate needs of the situation a scheme for voluntary registration of hospitals has been drawn up which the Committee believe might be put into force without delay. (See Appendix C.)

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE COMMITTEE DEALING WITH NURSING SERVICES

Recommended that a Nurses' Training School be organised :—

(a) that it be open to suitable applicants of any nationality ;

(b) that the training course cover a period of four years ;

(c) that it comprise all branches of nursing including midwifery ;

(d) that arrangements be included for the midwifery training of Chinese graduate nurses.

SECTION X—SUMMARY (AND FINANCIAL DETAILS)

SUMMARY

Hospital Accommodation

In reviewing the work of the Commission and the various recommendations set forth in the previous sections, it will be noted that particular attention has been directed to those features of hospital accommodation and medical services which are now considered ordinarily within the scope of normal Municipal or Local Government activities. They are :—

(a) the provision and supervision of hospitals for isolating and treating patients suffering from acute infectious diseases ;

(b) the supervision of the health of school children ;

(c) the assurance of sufficiency of accommodation and adequate treatment of the sick and injured of the community either by the provision of hospital or dispensary services (which latter are nowadays more frequently described under clinic or health centre activities). Among the diseases so treated Tuberculosis and V.D. are being more and more taken in charge directly by the State or Municipality ;

(d) the adequate provision for expectant mothers of the poorer classes before and during child-birth and for the mothers and infants after birth ;

(e) the provision for patients with mental diseases ; a duty, however, which is mostly regarded as a purely Governmental function.

Priority of Isolation Hospitals

From the earliest days in the history of preventive medicine it has been recognised that the primary function of Municipal public health interest lies in the provision of Isolation accommodation in regard to communicable diseases for all classes of the population. Though certain modifications in this viewpoint now exist such provision is still in accord with modern practice.

Hence the attention of the Commission was at a very early stage focussed on the fact that the existing Chinese Isolation Hospital was no longer suitable for its purpose. It was noted that the replacement of this building had been proposed some time ago but had been deferred for reasons of financial stringency. After careful consideration the Committee decided that further delay was both uneconomical and unsound. For these reasons the Commission concluded that their recommendation concerning the provision of increased Isolation facilities should be regarded as being of prior importance.

As to the need for a Mental Hospital the Commission after duly discussing the difficulties in regard to administration and the disposal of chronic cases and the abnormal circumstances of a Municipality running a Mental Hospital, nevertheless decided that the need for increased Mental accommodation was hardly less urgent than that for increased Isolation facilities.

General Hospital Accommodation

Though the General Hospital accommodation for the wealthier classes was found to be adequate, it was considered that there was urgent need for further accommodation for the poorer classes. The evidence before the Commission showed that there was considerable congestion in the major Hospitals and that a definite necessity existed of affording them some relief. The congestion in the main was represented by chronic cases which occupied a considerable proportion of their bed space which could be better utilised for acute cases.

The whole subject of General Hospital accommodation was found to be extremely complex. It was complicated very considerably by the admission into Hospitals of cases from surrounding districts. In addition, there was a further difficulty in deciding whether efforts should be concentrated on treating preventable diseases (as for example Tuberculosis which, with a very heavy morbidity rate, constitutes a very serious drain on the population of Shanghai, both in regard to the death-rate and the impoverishment of the population through incapacity for work), but after full consideration the Commission were of the opinion that the provision of accommodation for chronic cases—thus lessening the strain on the Acute Hospitals—had to take precedence over other very desirable projects.

Infirmary Accommodation

It was therefore decided to recommend further accommodation of the type usually described in Great Britain as an Infirmary.

Finally, since the general health of a Community is not only dependent on hospital accommodation but on adequate preventive work, the Commission considered the question as to what form of Clinic or Health Centre Services would most adequately meet with the needs of the Shanghai population.

It is universally recognised that the health of a community largely depends on the adequate care of the individual during infancy and school life. Provision of such care is now considered to be closely bound up with Maternity and prenatal work and is regarded as being of equal importance in relation to the preservation of health as the prompt attention and treatment of sickness and certain other factors (such as improved housing and diet) which do not come within the scope of this Commission's investigations.

As a result of a study of these and cognate matters it was decided that the centralisation of such social services in combination with the proposed Infirmary, would result in economical running and general efficiency, provided certain facilities for stations in the thickly populated areas were made available. It was noted that the provision by the Health Department of Branch Health Offices during past years rendered the provision of such outstations a comparatively simple matter.

Summary of Recommendations

(1) The conversion of the present Foreign Isolation Hospital with certain modifications and extensions into a building suitable to undertake the same functions as the present Chinese Isolation Hospital, this building to be known as the Northern Fever Hospital.

(2) The establishment of a new Isolation Hospital in the Western part of the Settlement for Foreign and Chinese patients, to be known as the Western Fever Hospital.

(3) The ground released by demolishing the present Chinese Isolation Hospital and Cattle Sheds to be used for the establishment of an Infirmary-Clinic of adequate size to combine under one roof the accommodation for chronic and other cases which had been found so necessary and the Clinic service which, as mentioned above, are of supreme importance in the avoidance of disease. It was also recommended that the same grounds should accommodate a Mental Hospital of moderate size and the necessary quarters for nursing staff.

Maternity Accommodation

(4) The provision of Maternity services could be adequately met by providing certain accommodation within the Infirmary-Clinic and by establishing a District Maternity Service. It was considered, however, that such services would have to be developed slowly and that they were so intimately connected with the provision of further supplies of trained Chinese midwives that the establishment of a General Nurses' Training School in connection with this institution was unavoidable.

School Medical Services and Clinics

(5) The provision of School Medical services and Dispensary and Hospital treatment of T. B. and V. D. cases could also be met in the same way.

(6) Voluntary registration of Hospitals would, it was considered, by causing all voluntary Hospitals to conform to certain definite standards supplement the above proposals and possibly enable future extensions to be entrusted to various voluntary institutions.

(7) A new system in regard to Grants-in-Aid is suggested, and the most suitable machinery for dealing with this and cognate matters is outlined.

Note :—In all these recommendations due care has been taken to suggest means of working with the voluntary and Municipal institutions already in existence and to avoid overlapping. Further, the need for strict economy has been borne in mind.

Feetham Report

Since reference to this Commission is made in the Report of Mr Justice Feetham (Vol. 2, Part 4, pp. 51-52), the time appears opportune to make a brief statement on relevant points therein. The recommendations made by the Commission will, if approved, remove such inequality as may be said to exist in regard to the expenditure of hospital funds on the various nationalities in the Settlement. It should however be emphasised that there is still a shade of doubt as to whether the fullest use will be at once made of such facilities and that hence it is considered fair to point out that the provision of certain hospital facilities before the need for them was felt, would have been both uneconomical and unpractical. Precautions, however, are necessary in order to ensure that such public funds as may be allocated in future for all or any of these recommendations be, so far as possible, on behalf of bona fide residents.

Statistics quoted in the above report prove that in the past the Council has provided certain hospital facilities without discrimination as to residential claims, and this provision is also true in respect of all voluntary Hospitals throughout the Settlement. Since most of the cases are free, the advantages gained by neighbouring administrations are obvious.

While this state of affairs from a purely humanitarian point of view is of undoubted benefit to Shanghai as a whole, it is hardly reasonable to ask the Council to provide further funds for Hospital purposes without suggesting certain limitations.

Necessity for Formation of Policy

The Commission therefore are of opinion that it is desirable for the Council to formulate a policy in regard to this question. It is considered that each Municipal Administration should make provision to meet its own civic responsibilities as regards hospital accommodation and, where practical difficulties exist to prevent this, that payment be made either for services rendered or for such facilities as may be provided by other Municipalities.

Need for Intermunicipal Cooperation

There is a need for a definite understanding and inter-Municipal cooperative effort in dealing with the larger problems, particularly those concerning accommodation for T. B. and Mental diseases. Both of the latter categories are fundamentally social problems of the first magnitude and can be dealt with satisfactorily only by united action.

FINANCE

Ways and Means Committee

It must be noted that the Commission is fully cognisant of the somewhat formidable financial burden which the recommendations entail.

In order to deal with the problem it was intended originally to co-opt a special "Ways and Means Committee" having for its object the determination of plans and suggestions to meet the expenditure, and that this Committee work in conjunction with the Chairmen of the various Sub-Committees to this end. For two reasons this plan was found impracticable. Firstly, it meant indefinite delay in preparation of this Report and, secondly, members were of the unanimous opinion that financial considerations as such, were beyond the scope of the Terms of Reference.

Formal Resolution

As a result the following Resolution was passed: "That this Commission having dealt with the facts for the investigation of which it was appointed, leaves the question of Ways and Means for the Municipal Council."

Whilst this procedure is sufficient for the purpose of the Commission, attention is directed to certain possibilities, apart from general taxation, of raising funds for hospital purposes.

Need for Organisation of Voluntary Effort

In this connection, attention is invited to the need for a better organisation of voluntary effort in raising funds for hospital purposes. It is felt that, while the Commission cannot give advice on this matter, some of the practices common in other countries might be adapted to Shanghai's needs, in particular the observance of Hospital Sundays, flag days and other publicity activities having for their object the raising of funds. It is considered that these methods, provided they are supervised by a responsible Committee, would bring greater support from the public.

Amusement Tax

In view of the financial stringency confronting the Council on the eve of presenting this Report, as a practical measure of financial relief the Commission would direct the Council's attention to the Report of the Municipal Economy Commission (Municipal Gazette, Volume XXII, No. 1174, p. 58), wherein the Committee recommends the imposition of an Amusement Tax to augment revenue. This recommendation has been investigated by the Commission and the results are set out in Appendix D.

The merits of taxation of this nature are undoubted and if it were possible to hypothecate revenue from this source exclusively for hospital purposes, it is likely to meet with a better reception from the general public.

The Community must realise that if development of Hospital and Nursing Services is to keep abreast of the steady progress of the past decade they must be prepared to bear a greater share of the burden, indirectly through taxation, directly through voluntary gifts, or both.

CAD LOT 1150 N. PLAN SHOWING PROPOSED LAY-OUT OF BUILDINGS RECOMMENDED BY HOSPITAL COMMISSION 1930

APPENDIX A.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF COMMITTEE ON MUNICIPAL INFIRMARY AND CLINIC

The plans provide for the following :—

1. A main block for Infirmary and Clinic built on an economical plan including
   (a) On the ground floor accommodation for an Out-Patient Clinic for school children, a Prenatal, Post-Maternity and Child-Welfare Clinic and a V.D. Clinic for men and women.
   (b) On the first floor Operating, X-Ray and Laboratory accommodation and wards for children whose detention in hospital for a limited period is required. Also beds for infirmary patients likely to require operative treatment.
   (c) On the second, third, fourth and fifth floors accommodation for ordinary infirmary patients.
   (d) On the sixth floor a self-contained unit for Maternity work with complete separation of septic and clean cases.
   (e) On the seventh floor kitchen accommodation (but see below under No. 2), if it is felt that this is the best position for the kitchen.

   The total accommodation for in-patients would be between 400 and 500.
2. No final decision was reached as to kitchen accommodation, and if it is felt that this should not be in the main building the plan allows for a separate building at the back communicating with a service lift in the centre of the main building.
3. An administration block with accommodation for the nursing staff alongside the main building.

The Committee very strongly favour the Yalu Road site as shown in an accompanying sketch map. This would provide ample room for the proposed buildings, for future extension if required, and for a Mental Hospital on the same ground and sufficiently removed from the Infirmary.

The Committee points out that this would necessitate the purchase of a small block of old Chinese houses and strongly recommends that this should be done.

APPENDIX B.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF COMMITTEE CONCERNING GRANTS-IN-AID

The Committee suggests that in addition to the form of application for registration of Hospitals, a return be made annually by Hospitals applying for Grants-in-Aid, giving the following information—(1) An Income and Expenditure account covering the previous year's working of the Hospital. (2) A Balance Sheet. (3) Details of the charges made for accommodation and medical attention. (4) A statement regarding the amount of charity work undertaken. (5) A statement of the emergency work (police and civic welfare cases) for the year.

The Committee feels that it is impossible at the present moment to go further than suggesting general principles which should govern such grants.

These are :—

(1) Grants-in-Aid should not be given to Hospitals that fail to conform with the requirements for Registration as approved by the Council, or which fail to make the annual return included therein.

(2) A Hospital receiving Grants-in-Aid must have a resident staff of physicians and nurses sufficient to deal with the work for which the grant is given.

(3) Grants-in-Aid should bear some definite relation to the amount of free work done by the Hospitals especially in regard to police and civic welfare cases which may be regarded as a service rendered by the Hospital to the Community as a whole.

Note : In the absence of such help rendered by the voluntary Hospitals, especially in the case of accident and attempted suicide, the Community would be compelled to build Hospitals to meet the need at a far higher cost than is incurred under a system of Grants-in-Aid.

(4) A Grants-in-Aid Committee should be appointed by the Municipal Council to which applications should be referred before a final decision is arrived at. Such a Committee should contain medical representatives whose duty it should be to advise whether the professional treatment offered by Hospitals applying for grants is of a standard warranting the giving of such grants. It is suggested that such a Committee consist of five members, 3 medical and 2 non-medical, that the medical members be chosen from doctors well acquainted with Hospital problems.

In addition to the foregoing principles the Committee would call attention to the following matters :—

1. When the Municipal Police require medical certificates in respect of cases in the voluntary Hospitals such certificates should be paid for at a fixed rate and this should have nothing to do with the question of Grants-in-Aid.
2. The Committee understands that in the French Concession the Police collect from those responsible for accidents some contribution to the expenses of patients thereby requiring hospital treatment. It suggests that this might be extended to the Settlement and that this might to some extent relieve the Municipality in respect to its Grants-in-Aid.
3. The Committee would call attention to the small amount of general support which the voluntary Hospitals receive from the Community at large, both Foreign and Chinese. The Committee feels that this is due to lack of organisation in placing before the public the needs of the Hospitals and of making periodical collections for them rather than from any unwillingness to give on the part of the inhabitants of Shanghai. It urges the organisation of Hospital collections and similar methods under a Committee sufficiently representative to assure the best use of such funds and on whom the responsibility for apportioning moneys so collected would fall.
4. The Committee would recommend the imposition of a special Amusement Tax of say 20 and 10 cents on the higher and lower priced tickets of admission to places of amusement. Such a tax would be easily collected, would not affect the Municipal Rates and might provide a large part of the income required to meet the recommendations of the Commission.

APPENDIX C.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF COMMITTEE CONCERNING REGISTRATION OF HOSPITALS

Definition

A Hospital is an institution for the purpose of curing or relieving sickness and for providing beds for the accommodation of the sick. Hospitals are to be classified and supervised according to the regulations herein laid down.

Classification

1. General Hospital (including Infirmary)

   This is a Hospital open to the public for general medical and surgical cases.

2. Private Hospital (or Nursing Home)

   This is a Hospital maintained by an individual or group of individuals and in which the maintaining party has financial interests.

3. Special Hospital

   This is a Hospital for a special class or classes of disease such as Eye Diseases, Tuberculosis, Leprosy, Mental Disease, etc.

4. Convalescent Home or Sanitarium

   This is a Hospital which is arranged to accommodate patients convalescing from disease or requiring recuperative treatment.

The following schedule is to be filled in by each Hospital applying for registration.

	General Hospital (including Infirmary)	General Hospital (closed staff)	Private Hospital (or Nursing Home)	Special Hospital	Convalescent Home (Sanitarium)
O. P. D. with charity
O. P. D. without charity
No O.P.D.
Day Service
Night Service
Emergency
No Emergency
Individual or group for financial benefit
Tbc., Eyes, Leprosy, Orth., Mental Diseases.

MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS FOR REGISTRATION OF HOSPITALS

Minimum requirements for the registration of Hospitals will demand the acceptance of certain principles as regards staff, buildings, furnishings, equipment and records as outlined below.

I. Staff.

A. PROFESSIONAL.

1. Physicians :—Every Hospital must be provided with a sufficient number of physicians to ensure adequate care for all cases resident in or attending the hospital. At least two physicians must be attached to any hospital of 12 or more beds and one of these must be resident in the place. Such physicians must be graduates in medicine registered with the Shanghai Municipal Council.

2. Nurses :—Every Hospital must be provided with an adequate number of graduate nurses, in addition to probationers and pupil nurses where these are employed, to ensure adequate supervision, the standard being five in-patients to one of the nursing staff, the staff to be employed in such a way that at night one nurse is not to be responsible for more than 20 in-patients. In each Hospital at least one nurse shall be a graduate nurse.

3. Pharmacist :—It is desirable that a graduate pharmacist should be in charge of the Dispensary. Recognising that this may be impossible in the smaller hospitals at present, we consider that the need may be met by the employment of a nurse or assistant who has had special training, particularly as regards the handling of dangerous drugs, such training having been given either in the hospital or elsewhere. Any hospital with 50 beds or more should have a trained pharmacist.

B. NON-PROFESSIONAL.

Business Manager :—It is desirable that every Hospital should be provided with a Business Manager capable of taking charge of the daily hospital accounts and of overseeing the non-professional employees.

II. Buildings.

1. Wards :—These must be so built as to allow of adequate lighting and ventilation. Service facilities must be attached to each large ward. Patients must be sufficiently protected from the attacks of mosquitoes, especially in malarial regions. Efficient screening of the whole ward is desirable. Separate beds for all patients must be provided. Bedding and clothing for patients in general wards should be supplied by the hospital.

Note :— For ventilation 800 cu. ft. per bed is an average allowance ; for lighting, a window between two beds is desirable.

2. Operating Theatre :—An operating room with adequate light and capable of being easily cleaned must be provided.

3. Laboratory :—Sufficient laboratory service must be provided in every Hospital. Hospital laboratories must be well lighted for microscopic work and sufficiently equipped to provide for the following services :—

Examination of Urine for Albumen, Sugar, Bile, Blood and Casts.

Examination of Fæces for Blood, Mucus, Eggs of Parasites, Protozoa.

Examination of Blood. Total and Differential Counts of Blood Cells.

Examination of Sputum for Tubercle Bacilli.

4. Dispensary :—A dispensary must be provided with a poison cupboard which can be locked.

5. Administrative Office.

6. Clinical Rooms for examination and treatment.

7. Nurses' Dormitories :—Either in separate building or in the Hospital. Proper accommodation for quiet sleeping apartment necessary for night nurses.

8. Servants' Rooms.

9. Kitchen :—Adequate in size and kept free from flies.

10. Latrines :—Adequate in number and must be flyproof or screened. Suitable measures must be taken for the disposal of night-soil.

11. Mortuary.

III. Other Requirements.

1. Hospitals must be able to command an adequate domestic water supply.

2. Furnishings, instruments and fittings must be provided adequate for the requirements of the buildings outlined above.

3. Records. Standard Hospital Forms (such as the China Medical Association Forms 1 to 5) on which can be recorded Temperature, Pulse, Respiration, etc., twice daily and four-hourly; History and Summary of Case ; Treatment Record and Doctor's Orders must be kept and filed.

For out-patients a form (such as the China Medical Association Form 6) giving the necessary particulars in regard to the patient, treatment and course of disease must also be kept and filed.

Note :—We strongly recommend Compulsory Registration.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

General

Application for registration will not be considered unless standard minimum requirements have been complied with.

Application for registration should be made on the prescribed form which will be supplied on demand. Hospitals duly registered must comply with the following Regulations.

1. Free

No fee is payable but registration must be renewed annually.

2. Changes

Any change in executive control must be reported without delay.

Any internal structural changes to be approved by the Commissioner of Public Health and the Public Works Department in the first instance.

3. Fire Protection

Adequate provision to be made to safeguard the occupants in the event of fire. Equipment arrangements to be approved by the Shanghai Fire Brigade.

4. Admission of Communicable Diseases

Cases known to be suffering from smallpox, cholera, plague, scarlet fever or cerebro-spinal fever are not to be admitted.

Cases of other notifiable diseases may be admitted if no accommodation is available in the Municipal Isolation Hospitals, and then only if adequate provision exists for isolation and nursing.

5. Notification of Communicable Disease

All cases of communicable disease coming to the knowledge of the Hospital authorities, either through the admission of a case or the out-patient service must be reported to the Public Health Department immediately.

6. Disinfection

All disinfection work following the discharge of a patient to be carried out in accordance with the requirements of the Public Health Department.

7. Vital Statistics

APPENDIX D.

PROPOSED AMUSEMENT TAX

MEMORANDUM CONTAINING ABSTRACT OF INVESTIGATIONS

1. General Remarks :

There are 23 cinemas and three large Chinese theatres in the Settlement. In addition, there are certain hotels and other premises where cinema entertainments are held at certain seasons of the year and also a number of dance halls. These, however, are excluded from present investigations.

2. Total Seating Capacity :

Cinemas	18,800
Theatres	7,186

3. Classification :

Since these places of entertainment cater for all classes of the community and admission charges vary within wide limits, they have, for the purpose of this enquiry, been graded into two classes :

A. Those establishments charging $1 or over.

B. Those charging less than $1.

4. Estimated Gross Income :

(a) Allowing a discount of 15 per cent to off-set exchange losses (small money) the gross daily maximum receipts would be $25,900 from cinema and $4,522 from theatres or a total of $30,400 daily, or $11,096,000 per annum.

(b) Methods of assessing taxation.

Two are suggested :—

(X) Class "A" Cinemas and Theatres	..10% on maximum seating capacity.
Class "B" Cinemas	.. 5% ,, ,,
(Y) Class "A" Cinemas and Theatres	..20% on seats sold (Sales averaged at 70%)
Class "B" Cinemas	..10% on seats sold (Sales averaged at 60%)

6. Estimated Revenue from Above :

Scheme (X)	$940,000 (approx :) per annum
Scheme (Y)	..$1,270,000 (,,) ,, ,,

COMMENTS

A.—Of the two methods of taxation submitted the first or flat-rate system is recommended. Its chief advantages are simplicity and practicability while the work of collection should not incur outlay of public funds.

Though Scheme (Y) brings a higher return and in some respects represents a fairer method of taxation there are considerable administrative difficulties to be overcome, including daily audit, inspection and accounting which would require additional staff.

B.—Extension of taxation to include hotels, etc., where cinema and other entertainments are given, and also dance halls and cabarets where a cover charge is made should increase revenue by roughly 25 per cent.

C.—Making due allowance for a considerable reduction on all figures quoted to cover various contingencies unforeseen, or not dealt with in this Memorandum, it is calculated that a sum of roughly seven and a half lakhs per annum will be available.

D.—It is estimated that the sum of $750,000 will cover the annual working costs of the various schemes recommended by the Commission and, with Ordinary Expenditure secured in this manner, the question of capital outlay may be approached with more assurance.

E.—It is further considered that, if this scheme is presented to the Ratepayers on the understanding that the proceeds will be devoted exclusively to such Hospital and Nursing Services as the Council may see fit to adopt as a result of the recommendations of the Commission, there is little fear of serious public opposition.

ONE-WAY TRAFFIC.

Yuen Ming Yuen Road.

NOTICE is hereby given that, for an experimental period of three months from September 5, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 6 p.m., Sundays and holidays excepted, traffic will only be permitted to proceed from South to North on the section of Yuen Ming Yuen Road between Soochow and Peking Roads.

By order,
J. M. McKee,
Deputy Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, August 30, 1932.

YUEN MING YUEN ROAD TRAFFIC.

It has been decided to reintroduce one-way traffic in the south to north direction on Yuen Ming Yuen Road, between Peking and Soochow Roads, for an experimental period of three months from September 5. The regulation will be enforced between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m., Sundays and holidays excepted.

Action by the Traffic Department has been necessitated by the continued traffic congestion in this section of Yuen Ming Yuen Road, where difficulty has been experienced by vehicles moving in opposite directions meeting at points where other vehicles are ranked at the side of the roadway, it sometimes becoming necessary for one vehicle to reverse for some distance in order to permit the other to pass. Ranking on the west side of this section of the road is an old privilege and its abolition would cause considerable inconvenience. In 1930, when the one-way traffic system was tried on this road, there was some opposition to the south to north direction, and, although in the opinion of the police this traffic direction is the better of the two, an opportunity, if necessary, will be given to demonstrate the merits of moving traffic only in the reverse direction.

Kiangse Road Bridge will be closed to all traffic till September 9, for urgent repairs.

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION

No. 4266.

EDUCATIONAL GRANTS-IN-AID.

1. Foreign Schools.

FORMS of application and copies of the conditions governing the issue of grants-in-aid to foreign schools within the International Settlement or paying rates to the Shanghai Municipal Council may be obtained from the Acting Superintendent, Education Department, Administration Building.

Applications for grants-in-aid for the year 1933 must be submitted not later than October 1, 1932.

2. Chinese Schools.

In the case of Chinese schools registered or in the process of being registered with the Bureau of Education for Greater Shanghai, applications should in the first instance be submitted to that Bureau, from which application forms and copies of the conditions may be obtained. In the case of schools not so registered, applications should be submitted to the Acting Superintendent, Education Department, Administration Building, from whom application forms and copies of the conditions may also be obtained.

Applications for grants-in-aid for the year 1933 must be submitted not later than October 1, 1932.

3. Note to all Schools.

The Council proposes to make the above grants-in-aid the sole form of subsidy to educational establishments. After the current year no provision will be made in the Education Budget for grants of any other description, and the partial or total exemption from the payment of General Municipal Rate, which has been accorded in certain approved cases, will also cease on December 31, 1932.

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, July 28, 1932.

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION

No. 4269.

SALE OF SURPLUS LAND.

TENDERS are invited for the purchase of an area of surplus land, part of U.S.C. Lot 339, Cadastral Lot 1965, situated at the south-east corner of Bubbling Well and Chengtu Roads.

The Council does not bind itself to accept the highest or any tender. The property to be sold has an area of Mow 2.943 or thereabouts. Tenders should be submitted on a lump sum basis. On the acceptance of any tender a deposit of 10 per cent will be required, which sum will be forfeited in the event of non-completion of the transaction; balance of payment to be made against transfer which shall take place not later than November 1, 1932. The cost of all Consular transfer fees to be defrayed by the purchaser. Tenders must be sent to the Secretary of the Council not later than 11 a.m. on October 5, 1932. Tenderers may attend the opening of tenders in the Council Chamber, Administration Building, at 3 p.m. on October 5, 1932.

A plan and further particulars regarding the property may be obtained on application to the Acting Commissioner of Public Works.

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, August 4, 1932.

The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1932. No. 1386

COUNCIL MEETING.

A meeting of the Council was held on August 31. There were present:—Messrs. A. D. Bell (Chairman), H. E. Arnhold (Vice-Chairman), Messrs. B. D. F. Beith, N. Leslie, O. S. Lieu, P. W. Massey, O. Okamoto, F. J. Raven, H. Terai, T. D. Woo, L. T. Yuan and Yu Ya-ching.

CONSULAR INFORMATION.

A letter from Mr. J. Van Haute, Consul-General for Belgium, informs the Council that he has assumed charge of the Belgian Consulate-General with effect from September 1.

A letter from Mr. F. Winkler, Consul-General for Austria, informs the Council that due to his forthcoming departure from Shanghai, he has handed over charge of the Austrian Consulate-General to Mr. Heinrich L. Ockermueller, with effect from September 1.

COUNCIL MEMBERSHIP.

The Chairman with regret informed the Council at its meeting on August 31 that Mr. Leslie had to proceed to England on September 12 and might be absent for approximately three months. Mr. Leslie desired to tender his resignation, but was persuaded by him to take leave of absence in the hope that upon his return he would be able to resume his duties as a member of the Council.

Members expressed their gratification at the decision reached by Mr. Leslie and unanimously authorized leave of absence for the required period.

VOLUNTEER CORPS.

Stores Company.

Captain H. E. Denny relinquishes command of the Stores Company and is transferred to Headquarters dated September 2, 1932.

Field Company.

G. E. Barker is appointed W.O. Class II Company Sergt.-Major dated September 2, 1932.

ORCHESTRAL CONCERTS.

The last three open-air concerts of the season to be given in Jessfield Park by the Municipal Orchestra will take place on Saturday, September 10, Wednesday, September 14 and Saturday, September 17, beginning at 5.30 p.m. It has been decided to hold the concerts in the afternoon instead of at night owing to the sudden change in temperature.

CHINESE SCHOOLS.

Educational Grants-in-Aid.

From reports furnished by the Commissioner of Public Health, it was noted by the Council at its meeting on August 31 that the Health Department had not yet been able to conduct a thorough inspection of all the schools, but that a considerable proportion of them had been passed as reasonably satisfactory; the financial statements submitted by all schools had been favourably commented upon by the Finance Department.

In the circumstances the Chairman of the Council suggested that it was undesirable further to delay the issue of the grants recommended. He had been assured by the Chinese Education Officer that in conjunction with the Chinese Sub-Committee he would ensure that expenditure on sanitary improvements which were considered necessary by the Health Department would form a first charge on the grant issued. On this understanding the Chairman proposed that, with the exception of the portion of any grants which were to be devoted to building requirements, the whole of the grants covering the first half of the current year be issued forthwith.

Members unanimously adopted this proposal.

EDUCATIONAL GRANTS-IN-AID.

1. Foreign Schools.

FORMS of application and copies of the conditions governing the issue of grants-in-aid to foreign schools within the International Settlement or paying rates to the Shanghai Municipal Council may be obtained from the Acting Superintendent, Education Department, Administration Building.

Applications for grants-in-aid for the year 1933 must be submitted not later than October 1, 1932.

2. Chinese Schools.

In the case of Chinese schools registered or in the process of being registered with the Bureau of Education for Greater Shanghai, applications should in the first instance be submitted to that Bureau, from which application forms and copies of the conditions may be obtained. In the case of schools not so registered, applications should be submitted to the Acting Superintendent, Education Department, Administration Building, from whom application forms and copies of the conditions may also be obtained.

Applications for grants-in-aid for the year 1933 must be submitted not later than October 1, 1932.

3. Note to all Schools.

The Council proposes to make the above grants-in-aid the sole form of subsidy to educational establishments. After the current year no provision will be made in the Education Budget for grants of any other description, and the partial or total exemption from the payment of General Municipal Rate, which has been accorded in certain approved cases, will also cease on December 31, 1932.

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, July 28, 1932.

On the acceptance of any tender a deposit of 10 per cent will be required, which sum will be forfeited in the event of non-completion of the transaction; balance of payment to be made against transfer which shall take place not later than November 1, 1932. The cost of all Consular transfer fees to be defrayed by the purchaser. Tenders must be sent to the Secretary of the Council not later than 11 a.m. on October 5, 1932. Tenderers may attend the opening of tenders in the Council Chamber, Administration Building, at 3 p.m. on October 5, 1932.

A plan and further particulars regarding the property may be obtained on application to the Acting Commissioner of Public Works.

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, August 4, 1932.

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1932. No. 1388

COMMITTEE MEETINGS.

A meeting of the Works Committee was held on September 20. There were present:—Messrs. F. J. Raven (Acting Chairman), B. D. F. Beith, W. Gockson and L. T. Yuan.

A meeting of the Education Board was held on September 21. There were present:—Mr. A. D. Bell (Chairman), Dr. H. Gordon Thompson, Mr. K. Kuroda, Mrs. N. Leslie, Mr. K. H. Ling, Dr. Y. H. Ou and Mr. L. T. Yuan.

HEADMASTERSHIP OF PUBLIC AND THOMAS HANBURY SCHOOL.

The Chairman of Council reported at the meeting on September 14 that the Education Board desired that a member of the Staff Committee would consent to serve on the small committee which would select a candidate for the headmastership of the Public and Thomas Hanbury School for Boys. It was resolved that Mr. P. W. Massey be elected to serve on this committee.

REMISSION OF GENERAL MUNICIPAL RATE.

An application from the China Red Cross Society for full remission of General Municipal Rate in respect of its premises Nos. 42 and 44 Kiukiang Road was submitted to the Finance Committee on September 9.

The Committee noted that these premises were used as the headquarters of a Society, whose activities extend throughout the whole of China and do not come within the category of hospitals, etc., in respect of which exemption is customarily granted. Since the Council's defined policy did not provide for the exemption from taxation of premises utilized for such purposes and as members considered that a dangerous precedent would be established by making an exception in this case, it was recommended that the application of the China Red Cross Society for exemption from taxation on the premises Nos. 42 and 44 Kiukiang Road be disapproved.

The decision conveyed to the Society by the Assistant Treasurer (Revenue) that the premises at 0.26 Kiukiang Road, which are now being used exclusively as a godown, will be subject to General Municipal Rate on their full assessment from October 1, 1932, was confirmed.

At its meeting on September 14 the Council concurred in this decision.

HEALTH COMMITTEE MEMBERSHIP.

At the Council meeting on September 14 it was resolved, on the motion of the Chairman, that Mr. P. W. Massey be elected to membership of the Health Committee during the absence of Mr. N. Leslie.

DISCHARGE OF PRISONERS UNDER AMNESTY LAW.

A member reported to the Municipal Council at its meeting on September 14 that, in connection with the discharge of prisoners from the Municipal Gaols under the Chinese Amnesty law, a conference had been held at which were present representatives of the chief Chinese philanthropic organizations, Major Darby of the Salvation Army and the Chief Judge of the Special District Court. Arrangements had been made by the various guilds for repatriation of prisoners discharged under the Amnesty Law, and court officials had agreed to give a few days' notice of the discharge of such prisoners in order to permit the repatriation arrangements to work smoothly.

TUBERCULOSIS SANITORIUM.

The Secretary reported to a meeting of the Finance Committee on September 9, that in 1928 the Tuberculosis Sanitarium, Nos. 2, 2a and 4 Great Western Road were granted total exemption from taxation. Investigation had, however, revealed that the institution was conducted mainly for profit and the Commissioner of Public Health had reported that there was no evidence of charity work which might justify a claim for exemption from taxation in whole or in part.

In endorsing the Secretary's views that institutions operating for profit should not enjoy a remission of taxation at the public expense the Finance Committee recommended that the abatement of taxation authorized to this institution be immediately withheld.

The Council accepted this recommendation at its meeting on September 14.

ROAD EXTENSIONS AND WIDENINGS.

Wuting Road.

Negotiations have been concluded with the Credit Foncier d'Extreme-Orient for the surrender, for a sum of Tls. 2,691, of a total area of Mow 0.748 from Belgian Consular Lots 198 and 199 and from unregistered land at the corner of Yenping and Wuting Roads required for the scheduled extension of Wuting Road.

WORKS COMMITTEE CHAIRMANSHIP.

At the meeting of the Works Committee held on September 6, on the proposal of Mr. B. D. F. Beith, seconded by Mr. L. T. Yuan, Mr. F. J. Raven was elected Acting Chairman during the absence of Mr. N. Leslie.

Squatters' Huts.

In reports submitted to the Works Committee on September 6, the Acting Commissioner of Public Works referred to the decision reached by the Council last year that existing squatters huts be registered and that the erection of further huts be not permitted. From a recent survey it had been found that a large number of unauthorized huts had been erected during the current year, owing to the disturbed conditions early in the year when the usual routine supervision had to be relaxed to a large extent. Meanwhile departmental action which had recently been taken to remove certain of these unregistered huts had resulted in appeals being put forward by the occupants which it was noted were not supported by the Hut Dwellers Union with which the Council negotiated last year. He estimated that approximately 1,000 unauthorized huts had been erected, consequently demolition on a large scale became necessary. The Acting Commissioner accordingly recommended that the authority accorded last year to demolish all such unauthorized structures be renewed and one month's notice given to the occupants of the Council's intention.

The Commissioner of Public Health stated that there was no doubt that the existence of this large number of unauthorized structures was subversive of the interests of the public health, particularly so far as they assisted in the spread of infectious and contagious diseases. In his opinion the hardship which it was alleged would be inflicted by demolition of these unregistered huts was more apparent than real, since a considerable number of their occupants were in a position to obtain alternative accommodation.

In the interests of public health and having regard to the fact that this question was exhaustively investigated last year, the Committee unanimously agreed that the Council's decision be adhered to. It was therefore recommended that all unauthorized huts be demolished after one month's notice of the Council's intention had been given to the occupants thereof.

The Council at its meeting on September 14 adopted this recommendation.

PARKS REPORT FOR AUGUST.

The Superintendent of Parks and Open Spaces, in his August report, states:—

Municipal Nurseries.—The repotting of Moshosma riparium, Euphorbia pulcherrima, Primula malicoides, Primula obconica and Primula sinensis into flowering pots for Winter greenhouse decoration was carried out.

Wallflower, Pansy, Hollyhock and Viola seed was sown and additional seed beds were prepared for the reception of the main batch of hardy annuals.

Chrysanthemums required for greenhouse display were lifted from nursery beds and potted, bush and standard plants required for general park decoration being disbudded and staked.

Open Air Concerts.—Twenty-two performances were given by the Municipal Orchestra and Band during August.

Compared with attendances during July, the attendances at Orchestral concerts held at Jessfield Park shew a marked decrease, the average number of chairs hired at these concerts being 256, the largest attendance being 1,036 on August 6.

Special Concerts.—Two festival concerts were given by Efrem Zimbalist at Jessfield Park, two others scheduled being cancelled owing to adverse weather conditions.

The attendance at the first of these concerts constituted a record for the Park, over 1,500 persons occupying seats in the Auditorium.

Military Band Concerts.—Three Military Band Concerts were held at Jessfield Park, the average number of chairs hired at these concerts being 416.

SALE OF SURPLUS LAND.

TENDERS are invited for the purchase of an area of surplus land, part of U.S.C. Lot 339, Cadastral Lot 1965, situated at the south-east corner of Bubbling Well and Chengtu Roads.

The Council does not bind itself to accept the highest or any tender. The property to be sold has an area of Mow 2.943 or thereabouts. Tenders should be submitted on a lump sum basis. On the acceptance of any tender a deposit of 10 per cent will be required, which sum will be forfeited in the event of non-completion of the transaction; balance of payment to be made against transfer which shall take place not later than November 1, 1932. The cost of all Consular transfer fees to be defrayed by the purchaser. Tenders must be sent to the Secretary of the Council not later than 11 a.m. on October 5, 1932. Tenderers may attend the opening of tenders in the Council Chamber, Administration Building, at 3 p.m. on October 5, 1932.

A plan and further particulars regarding the property may be obtained on application to the Acting Commissioner of Public Works.

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

PUBLIC HEALTH REPORT FOR AUGUST.

The Commissioner of Public Health, in his August report, states:—

The foreign death rate was 12.63 as compared with 17.55 for the same month last year, and the Chinese death rate 13.22 as compared with 17.70 for the same month last year. (It is probable that the Chinese death rate is under-estimated).

Tuberculosis and then Cholera caused most of the deaths amongst foreigners, and the same held good amongst the Chinese population.

Cholera may be said to have reached its peak in the middle of July, in the last week of which month a fall took place. The decline continued throughout August, and at the end of the month the disease had reached comparatively unimportant proportions, and unless very unforeseen circumstances arise, it may be stated that the epidemic is practically over. It may thus be of interest to review the situation in regard to Cholera. Taking representative epidemics, in the year 1919 the death rate per 10,000 of population from Cholera was 9.78, in 1926—4.48, in 1929—1.56, and in 1932 (up to August 31) 1.45. Case rates whilst partially supporting deductions made from death rates, cannot be used as an accurate guide as in the past the deaths which occurred outside Hospitals show that hospitalization for Cholera is of fairly recent popularity. It will be seen that when epidemic death rates are reduced to a common factor, thereby excluding the fallacy due to a rapidly growing population, 1932 ranks as a severe but not major Cholera year. It is only just to state that in 1919 and 1926 statistical methods were undergoing improvement and hence the figures may be somewhat inaccurate, but not sufficient so to invalidate the conclusions made above.

Pandemics throughout China usually coincide with Epidemics in Shanghai and in some instances seem to precede them. An observer from India, Col. W. C. Ross for example, states in a review on Cholera that "in the year 1919 over 300,000 persons died from Cholera in China, and that an epidemic of this order is on a vastly greater scale than most of the outbreaks recorded in India."

The incidence per thousand population in August was:

	Cases	Deaths
Foreigners	0.3	0.1*
Chinese	0.4	0.05

*and the incidence.

Per thousand for the epidemic up to August 31st was:

	Cases	Deaths
Foreigners	0.99	0.36
Chinese	1.43	0.14

It may be of interest to note that the smallest death rate in Calcutta during the last twenty years is seven per ten thousand, that is considerably higher than any year in Shanghai other than 1919, the highest death rate in Calcutta being 41 per thousand. (Calcutta must be used as a comparative index as it is the only town in a country subject to Cholera Epidemics whose statistics are readily available in tabulated form. It is impossible to contrast the Cholera incidence of Shanghai with other towns in China since the statistical data are quoted on different lines).

The total number of Cholera inoculations performed this season, to date, is 170,000.

It will be noted in the portion of this Report dealing with the Veterinary Surgeon's activities that the examination for Trichina in pigs, which was recently instituted, has given uniformly negative results.

Communicable Diseases. — The communicable diseases which had the most important incidence during the month were Cholera with 14 cases notified amongst resident foreigners with four deaths (with the exception of two cases none had been inoculated) and 424 cases amongst Chinese residents with 55 deaths, and 1,195 non-resident cases with 98 deaths.

The Dysenteries with 253 cases and 20 deaths, amongst Chinese and 46 foreign cases with no deaths. This is the usual seasonal increase.

Tuberculosis with 76 notified cases and 56 deaths amongst Chinese, and 5 new cases amongst foreigners with five deaths.

The Enteric group Typhoid and Paratyphoid with two foreign cases and one death, and 41 Chinese cases and 30 deaths.

Amongst the other communicable diseases (details of which will be found in the tables) it is to be noted that 30 cases of Influenza occurred amongst Chinese residents, whilst 12 cases of Malaria were noted amongst foreign residents, nine of which were amongst Military troops.

Diphtheria, Scarlet Fever and Relapsing Fever showed a slight incidence, and cases of Leprosy, Beriberi and Rabies were also notified.

Pathological Laboratory. — The Laboratory figures for the month of August are:—

1. Smallpox vaccine issued	2,925
2. Bacterial vaccine issued	53,826
3. Cases undergoing anti-rabic treatment	50
4. Specimens received for Bacteriological examination	2,492
5. Analyses	241

45,390 doses of Cholera vaccine were issued for the Cholera Campaign.

133 specimens were examined for Cholera from 1,196 patients with 694 positive results.

Routine diagnosis included The Dysenteries, Diphtheria, Cerebro-spinal Meningitis, Malaria, Weil Felix, Relapsing Fever and Kala Azar, the last three mentioned proving negative.

Two samples of raw milk were examined for tubercle bacilli but proved negative, and routine examinations were performed on 62 samples of milk from various dairies. Of these five were raw milks from Grade A Dairies, 55 were pasteurized milks from Grade A Dairies, and two were raw milks from unlicensed dairies.

The survey of mosquito larvae resulted in 13 of the bottles of larvae (submitted from the Western district) showing anopheles larvae. Of 10 samples from No. 4. Western eight bottles contained anopheles larvae and one aedes larvae.

Pasteur Treatment.—68 persons called for advice, cauterization and/or treatment including 14 from outports. There were no fatalities amongst treated cases.

Hospitals Division.—The Municipal Isolation Hospital admitted fewer cases than for many years past and the Chinese Isolation also was not well occupied though a number of dysentery cases were admitted.

The heat again prevented progress amongst patients at the T.B. Sanatorium. There were two fresh admissions and two discharges.

The Mental Hospital being as usual overcrowded only four out of nine applications could be admitted.

The Chinese Police Hospital admitted a number of cases of Dysentery and Enteritis, and there were also 11 cases of Bronchitis and 31 cases of Influenza, two cases of heatstroke and one of beri-beri which proved fatal.

The health of the prisoners at the Gaol remains good.

Veterinary Surgeon's Report.—Milk Supply.—The daily average milk production was 18,560 lbs. which is an increase of 3.5 per cent. over last month's figures.

Of the five non-genuine samples for analysis three were from unlicensed dairies, and all were adulterated with water.

Fifty-nine samples were submitted for bacteriological examination—this number being the highest on record, of which twenty were found to be below Grade "A" standard.

The suspension of the Grade "A" License from the Public Dairy (effective from July 25th) was withdrawn on August 20th.

During the month it was necessary to stop the sale of all Dairy produce from the Western Dairy who ignored the Veterinary's advice in regard to the treatment of animals suffering from septic tails as a result of inoculations against contagious pleuro-pneumonia. This treatment though drastic was entirely necessary in the public interest and produced satisfactory and speedy results.

The following dairies were prosecuted and fined.

Ka Sung Dairy—23.5 per cent. added water. Fined $40.

Ka Sung Dairy—Obtaining milk from unlicensed dairy. Fined $30.

Ivy Dairy—Breach of conditions 12 and 26. Fined $50 and costs.

Hong Kyi Dairy—5.9 per cent. added water. Fined $80.

Kiangwan Dairy Farm. Unlicensed Fined $25 and 6 months in prison.

Veterinary Certificates. — Six herds with a total of 337 animals have been examined. 48 animals were affected with pathological conditions.

Animal Diseases. — Contagious pleuro-pneumonia continues amongst dairies already affected and has spread to the Shanghai Farming and Dairy Company. Twenty deaths have resulted amongst animals from this infection.

A total of forty-eight animals were disposed of during the month, six from T.B., 20 as noted above, and 22 from various causes.

Observation Kennels. — Twenty-three dogs were admitted for observation, nineteen having bitten people. None were rabid.

Meat Supply.—In the Municipal Abattoir the average daily number of animals killed were as follows:

Oxen 110, Sheep 133, Calves 32, Pigs 58.

Rejections for August=40 Oxen, 3 Sheep, 3 Calves, 14 Pigs.

There were two cases of Anthrax, but 154 specimens of Trichina examined gave negative results.

The supply of cattle in the Cattle-sheds continues to be ample.

Pig Slaughterhouses.—The outstanding feature this month is the seasonal increase in the number of pigs killed, 46,026 carcases having been inspected of which 3,143 were rejected, and $5,358.40 in fees were collected.

The inspection of Buffalo meat has been inaugurated. On an average two buffaloes are killed daily.

At the Disposal Plant 30,091 lbs. of material was treated of which over 65 per cent. was recovered as saleable by-products, receipts for which covered all costs and left $159.17 unspent.

Markets, Bakeries and Other Food Shops.

Markets.—A decided increase in Market fees is to be noted which is chiefly due to the popularity of the Peking and Sinza Road markets.

Bakeries.—Considerable attention is being given to bakeries, especially Chinese style bakeries, where a lot remains to be done.

Butchers.—Several butchers were warned against dealing in Buffalo tongues.

Ice-cream.—Of a total of 34 samples taken, 17 were in the A. class, six B. class, eight C. class, and three D. class.

Prosecutions.—

Sanitation Division.—The verification of cholera cases, disinfection and other work connected with the epidemic which is diminishing rapidly, continued to occupy the majority of the time of this Division, 38,247 persons being inoculated.

Other routine work in regard to Cholera, Wells, Mosquito reduction, supervision of small food shops continued to be very heavy and resulted in a shortage of staff being felt.

In addition a number of schools were inspected with a view to prescribing sanitary improvements.

A satisfactory improvement was noted in the small food shops, and to some extent amongst Hawkers in regard to the proper covering of food and general cleanliness, though needless to say this represents a trivial advance. Opposition however, is less marked.

Open Air Swimming Pool.—The Swimming Pool was not heavily patronized. This is chiefly due to the fact, that areas surrounding the Pool are still far from having returned to normal so far as inhabitants are concerned.

Here follow Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases, and of the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics, Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

Chlorine in chloride figures have varied between 0.8 and 2.4 parts per 100,000. Nitrites have been absent and ammonia figures normal. Free chlorine has varied from 0.02 to 0.10 parts per million in samples taken from the laboratory taps and from nil to 0.09 parts per million in samples taken at other points.

Bacteriological Examination.—37 samples were examined during the month. Five from hydrants and 32 from taps in various parts of the settlement. Of the tap samples, two contained unidentifiable organisms of the B. coli group to the extent of ten per litre each, two contained B. aerogenes 10 and 800 per litre respectively, and one contained B. cloacae and B. aerogenes ten per litre. The remaining tap samples and the five hydrant samples contained less that 10 B. coli group per litre.

Report on Analysis. — Results show satisfactory purification at the main and absence of noteworthy local contamination.

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION

No. 4266.

EDUCATIONAL GRANTS-IN-AID.

1. Foreign Schools.

FORMS of application and copies of the conditions governing the issue of grants-in-aid to foreign schools within the International Settlement or paying rates to the Shanghai Municipal Council may be obtained from the Acting Superintendent, Education Department, Administration Building.

Applications for grants-in-aid for the year 1933 must be submitted not later than October 1, 1932.

2. Chinese Schools.

In the case of Chinese schools registered or in the process of being registered with the Bureau of Education for Greater Shanghai, applications should in the first instance be submitted to that Bureau, from which application forms and copies of the conditions may be obtained. In the case of schools not so registered, applications should be submitted to the Acting Superintendent, Education Department, Administration Building, from whom application forms and copies of the conditions may also be obtained.

Applications for grants-in-aid for the year 1933 must be submitted not later than October 1, 1932.

3. Note to all Schools.

The Council proposes to make the above grants-in-aid the sole form of subsidy to educational establishments. After the current year no provision will be made in the Education Budget for grants of any other description, and the partial or total exemption from the payment of General Municipal Rate, which has been accorded in certain approved cases, will also cease on December 31, 1932.

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, July 28, 1932.

POLICE REPORT FOR AUGUST.

The Commissioner of Police, in his August report, states:—

The total crime recorded for the month of August is contained in the following table:—

Nature of Offence	Reported during the month	Reported during previous month	Reported during corresponding month last year
Murder	4	2	7
Attempted Murder	3	3	—
Manslaughter	5	1	2
Armed Kidnapping	—	1	3*
(*one attempted)
Abduction	6	3	11
Armed Robberies	23	17	22
Other Robberies	2	5	9
Being Member of a Criminal Gang.	1	—	6
House, Office, Shop-breaking, etc.	25	19	31
Burglary	31	21	34
Thefts	778	740	751
Receiving stolen property	14	15	17
Snatching	49	52	38
Opium Offences	188	151	136
Gambling Offences	17	18	38
Other Crimes	269	276	379
Total	1,415	1,324	1,484

The total reported crime for the month of August shows an increase of 91 cases, approximately 6.8 per cent. over the figure recorded for the previous month and a decrease of 69 cases, approximately 4.6 per cent. on the figure for the corresponding period of last year. The increase, which is explained by an abnormally low figure for July, is shown in all Divisions with the exception of "D" Division. The cases were distributed as follows:—

"A" Division (Central and Louza) 422 as against 398 in July.

"B" Division (Sinza, Bubbling Well, Gordon Road and Pootoo Road) 375 as against 344 in July.

"C" Division (Hongkew, West Hongkew and Dixwell Road) 295 as against 253 in July.

"D" Division (Kashing Road, Wayside, Yangtszepoo and Yulin Road) 323 as against 329 in July.

1,594 persons were arrested for crimes committed during the month, as compared with 1,415 in July. In addition 65 persons were arrested for crimes committed in previous months. 43 persons were arrested on behalf of outside authorities.

Four cases of murder were reported as against two cases in July. A Chinese coolie was stabbed to death by a Chinese monk through jealousy. A Chinese female was attacked and killed with a chopper by her paramour as the result of a quarrel. One shop assistant and one shop master met their deaths at the hands of armed robbers. There were three cases of attempted murder: one of a Chinese found on enclosed premises firing one shot at a foreigner in order to make his escape; the second of a Chinese foreman of a utility company dragged from his house by four men, one of whom fired a shot at him but missed; and the third of a Chinese female wounded in the leg as the result of a shot fired by a member of a gang of four armed thugs whom she was chasing. Five cases of manslaughter were recorded: one of a Chinese boatman alleged to have been deliberately pushed into the river as the result of a quarrel; the second of a Chinese hawker assaulted by a private of the U.S.M. Corps following a dispute over payment for fruit; the third of a Chinese who received a blow and fell against a garbage box in the course of a quarrel with another Chinese over a small debt; the fourth and fifth were the result of street accidents.

During the month four reports were received of depositing and throwing hand grenades at association premises and shops with the object of intimidating merchants dealing in Japanese goods. Three of these cases were reported in "A" Division, whilst the fourth case occurred in "C" Division. In the first instance a hand grenade was delivered at a coal merchants' association on Chekiang Road on August 3, 1932. In the second, a hand grenade wrapped up in paper was thrown into a piece goods shop off Fokien Road on August 5. Though the safety pin had been extracted, it failed to explode. In the third and fourth cases hand grenades were thrown into a watchmaker's shop and a stationery store, the former on Nanking Road and the latter on North Szechuen Road, both of which exploded, two persons being injured and some furniture, glassware and show cases damaged. In connection with this type of crime one male Chinese youth, who was handed over to the Municipal Police on August 7, on the authority of a Despatch Letter from the Shanghai 1st Special Area District Court, was released on a suspended sentence by the Shanghai 2nd Special Area District Court (French Concession). The accused admitted that, together with an accomplice not yet arrested, he was concerned in throwing a bomb into a coal merchant's shop at 729/31 Sinza Road, where one apprentice was injured, and that he delivered a bomb to a piece goods merchant's shop at 282A Shanse Road. The accused's home at 207 Park Road was raided, and a bomb of the same type as those delivered to the merchants in the International Settlement was found. He was charged before the Shanghai 1st Special Area District Court and remanded.

There were six cases of simple abduction against three in July. One of these cases, upon investigation, proved to be false, and in four other cases the victims were recovered, a total of 17 arrests being made. Cases of armed robbery increased from 17 in July to 23 in August. In one of these cases a Chinese police constable arrested a Chinese for being in unlawful possession of clothing, which was later identified as having been stolen during an armed robbery at 111 Ming Yuen Fong, Ward Road, on August 16. Information given by the accused led to the arrest of four other members of their gang and the seizure of a pistol. The cases were distributed as follows:—

Division "A" 6 cases as against 2 in July.

Division "B" 7 cases as against 4 in July.

Division "C" 3 cases as against 5 in July.

Division "D" 7 cases as against 6 in July.

There were two cases of other robberies as against five in July. One criminal gang was dealt with as such against nil in last month. The number of burglaries was 31 as against 21 in July. The cases were distributed as follows:—

Division "A" 4 cases as against 1 in July.

Division "B" 16 cases as against 9 in July.

Division "C" 4 cases as against 5 in July.

Division "D" 7 cases as against 6 in July.

The number of housebreakings was 25 as against 19 in July. The cases were distributed as follows:—

Division "A" 9 cases as against 6 in July.

Division "B" 11 cases as against 2 in July.

Division "C" 4 cases as against 7 in July.

Division "D" 1 case as against 4 in July.

The cases of simple theft were distributed as follows:—

Division "A" 247 cases as against 209 in July.

Division "B" 213 cases as against 228 in July.

Division "C" 160 cases as against 141 in July.

Division "D" 158 cases as against 162 in July.

The increase in this type of crime was partly attributable to the numerous cheap sales in the various shops and stores in the Louza district and partly to the release of a number of professional thieves under Chinese Government amnesty.

"A" Division recorded 30 cases of shoplifting and 31 arrests, and also a slight increase in cases of pocket-picking and theft of bicycles. Fourteen cases of receiving stolen property were reported during the month. There were 49 cases of snatching as against 52 in July. The cases were distributed as follows:—

Division "A" 32 cases as against 30 in July.

Division "B" 7 cases as against 11 in July.

Division "C" 5 cases as against 6 in July.

Division "D" 5 cases as against 5 in July.

The figures for August show a slight decrease when compared with those recorded for the previous month. The district mainly affected was Louza with 26 cases. It is, however, satisfactory to note that a total of 36 arrests were made in connection with this type of crime. 188 cases of offences in respect of opium were recorded as against 151 in July, the increase being due to police vigilance. The Headquarters Narcotic Section carried out 16 raids and effected the arrest of 82 persons of whom 25 had criminal records. Small quantities of opium and the usual paraphernalia were seized during these raids. The number of gambling offences show a decrease of one when compared with the figures recorded for last month.

Notable work in "D" Division included (1) the arrest of five coolies for cargo broaching from the s.s. "Thalatta" and the recovery of the stolen property, valued at $1,050; (2) the arrest of five members of a gang of armed robbers who were responsible for two cases of robbery, one at No. 111 Ming Yuen Fong off Ward Road, and the seizure of one revolver; (3) the arrest of a gang of counterfeiters and the seizure of one counterfeiting plant.

The following cases which are included in the month's figures occurred in "D" Division outside Settlement limits on or in houses abutting on Council Roads:—

Theft	29
Burglary	15
Housebreaking	8
Pocketpicking	3
Miscellaneous	4

The Headquarters Special Detective Squad conducted investigations into 20 cases and effected the arrest of 11 persons. In addition enquiries were continued in six cases previously reported.

Property, valued at $145,176.32, was alleged to have been stolen in cases reported during the month as against property valued at $106,701.78, in July. The total value is made up as follows:—

Division "A"	$68,342.39
" "B"	55,930.60
" "C"	9,466.15
" "D"	11,437.18

Property valued at $35,354.16 was recovered during the month.

Finger Print Bureau. — During the month of July the total number of records received by the Bureau from all sources was 2,283. This shows an increase of 100 as compared with last month and an increase of 288 by comparison with the corresponding period of last year.

3,254 Gaol cards were received during the month for verification of prisoners' thumb prints.

Investigations were made into 25 reported cases of the following nature:—

1 Murder.
2 Armed Robbery.
3 Attempted Burglary.
1 Malicious Damage.
1 Attempted office breaking.
1 Armed Kidnapping, O.O.L.
12 Burglary.
3 Larceny.
1 Office breaking.

Finger prints were secured in six cases.

Seventeen bodies of unknown Chinese who had met their deaths under various circumstances were photographed and/or finger-printed at the Public Mortuary with the object of establishing their identity. Successful results were obtained in three instances. During the month the Crime Branch Studio took 404 photographs and printed 514 copies.

Anti-Japanese Propaganda.—The sending to merchants of threatening letters, bombs and live rounds of ammunition in order to increase the effectiveness of the anti-Japanese boycott was continued throughout the month.

A youth named Yung Wei Fong, who was arrested in Chinese territory, was transferred to the Settlement to stand trial on charges arising out of the threatening letter and bomb campaign during July, but his case was still awaiting trial at the end of the month. The prisoner has in the meantime been released on shop security.

Apart from the efforts of the terrorist faction, the reputable mercantile groups supported the boycott by appealing to their members not to deal in Japanese goods, while some of them appointed picketing groups to ensure that this advice would not be ignored. One case of an attempt to seize goods of Japanese origin was reported in the Settlement.

Other anti-Japanese measures by local bodies are said to have included the raising of $95,000 for the maintenance of the North Eastern Volunteer Armies which will be remitted to Manchukuo by the North Eastern Volunteer Army Support Committee of the National Federation of Various Bodies.

The activities of the anti-Japanese bodies and some movements of Japanese Marines, which were carried out for reasons not immediately comprehensible to the general public, resulted in the circulation of a rumour that the Japanese forces would re-occupy Chapei. As a consequence of this rumour a number of Chinese families living in that area removed their belongings to the Settlement. The confidence of the public was, however, restored when the Chinese Authorities gave assurance that peace would not be broken and that the use of illegal methods to enforce the boycott would not be tolerated.

Strikes.—During the month six strikes occurred in the Settlement. Two of these affected the French Concession and one other affected both the French Concession and Chinese territory. The strikes within the Settlement extended to 427 workers and resulted in a loss of 58 working days. The concerns affected were the China General Omnibus Company, the Chinese Government Telegraphic Administration and a printing enterprise.

Approximate statistics of strikes for the month under review in the three areas were as follow:

Area	No. of Strikes	No. of Hands	No. of Working days lost.
Settlement	3	427	58
French Concession	1	700	58
Chinese controlled Territory	3	550	800
Two areas (Settlement and French Concession)	2	200	400
Three areas	1	410	820
Total	10	2,287	2,136
Total for the corresponding month of 1931	17	6,104	10,633

Apart from the disputes which culminated in stoppages of work, unrest was also manifested among employees of the following industrial and public utility concerns: San Yeu Towel Factory, Great Northern, Great Eastern and Pacific Telegraph Companies, Woo Shing Cigarette Factory, Nantao Bus Company, Nantao Tramway Company and Chinese medicine shops.

Strike in China General Omnibus Company.—The strike in the China General Omnibus Company affected 350 conductors and began on August 11. The discontent was mainly due to the tightening by the company of measures to eliminate "squeeze," but the conductors submitted demands for an increase of wages and other concessions, at the same time absenting themselves. On their failure to return to work they were dismissed en masse. Seeing their plans completely baulked, the workers endeavoured to retrieve their position by resorting to intimidation and violence. Not only did they commit direct assaults on employees who had taken their places, but they made attacks on the buses with acid, lime, stones and night soil which endangered both the employees and customers of these vehicles. Thirty different cases of assaults on employees and attacks on buses took place, and resulted in six conductors and drivers and five passengers being injured, but fortunately not seriously. Acid was used in six cases of attacks on buses, night soil in six and stones in seven cases. The attacks on the buses and their employees ceased towards the end of the month when the Municipal Police arrested and detained on a writ of detention for a period of two weeks six of the dismissed conductors and three other Chinese who were suspected of being leaders in the terrorist campaign.

An ex-conductor, who was arrested in the Settlement on August 20 for throwing stones at a bus, was handed over to the Police of the French Concession where he was wanted for being concerned with two others in an assault case.

Apart from dismissing the Chinese conductors en masse, the Company dispensed with the services of 52 Korean inspectors who stopped work when the strike began.

The Koreans had no grievance against the Company, but seem to have stopped work through fear of being assaulted.

The Company succeeded in keeping buses running throughout the period when it was being harrassed by the ex-conductors. The service was curtailed at first, for lack of staff, but was gradually extended to normal proportions as new hands were engaged.

Communism.—Trial of Mr. and Mrs. Noulens. The case against Mr. and Mrs. Noulens, the two foreign communists who were arrested in Shanghai on June 15, 1931, was concluded at the Kiangsu High Court at Nanking on August 19, 1932, when both accused were sentenced to life imprisonment.

Red Anniversaries and Demonstrations.—The local Chinese Communist Party made plans to commemorate International Red Day, August 1, and to hold a demonstration outside the North Railway Station on August 14 in honour of members of the "Dare-to-Die" Corps who were leaving to join the North Eastern Volunteer Army. The would-be demonstrators finally contented themselves with distributing a quantity of "red" handbills and two of the party responsible for this offence were arrested.

Communist Propaganda.—Communist literature obtained by the Municipal Police during the month comprised 2,350 copies of communist handbills, including 59 different kinds of leaflets which had not been seen previously. These pamphlets dealt chiefly with the Noulens' case, the anniversary of the International Youth Movement Day (September 4) the anti-Communist Military Campaign, the "Dare-to-die" Corps of the North Eastern Volunteer Army and the strike of the China General Omnibus Company. One leaflet purporting to have emanated from the Headquarters of the Chinese Revolutionary Mutual Aid Society denounced the sentences passed on Mr. and Mrs. Noulens as being unduly severe and urged that the public show their sympathy by a demonstration in Nanking. A few other circulars, written in English, contained appeals to foreign soldiers to condemn the Chinese anti-red campaign and to support the cause of the American war veterans.

Action by Municipal Police against Communists. — Measures taken by the Municipal Police to suppress Communist activities during the month included raids at six different addresses and the arrest and prosecution of six Chinese for communist offences. One of the latter, who was arrested in the street for distributing handbills, was sentenced to two years and six months imprisonment, one was handed over to the Chinese Authorities, two were released, while the cases against the remaining two had not been concluded at the end of the month.

Of 22 alleged communists who were on remand at the end of July, 18 were dealt with during the month. Of these five were sentenced to two years and six months imprisonment each, six were handed over to the Chinese Authorities and seven were released.

Anti-Government Propaganda.— A group of persons who claim to be delegates of National Salvation Bodies in various outports held a series of meetings in the Settlement during the month under the auspices of the National Salvation Federation of Various Shanghai Bodies which is a reactionary body. The deliberations resulted in the adoption of resolutions in favour of holding a "Constitutional Conference" and a "Peoples' Conference" with a view to forming a National Crisis Government to deal with the present situation.

On August 19, the Municipal Police raided, on the authority of warrants issued at the instance of the Public Safety Bureau, the offices and printing place of a reactionary publication called "Sing Dah Loh Daily News" and seized a large number of copies of the paper. The acting manager and a printer of the paper were arrested and brought to Court where an order was made to have them remanded in custody sine die.

Prosecution of Book Store dealing in Indecent Books. — The Police searched the Hao Yuin Dau Book Store, D.103 Chao Tung Road, on August 23, and seized 482 copies of different kinds of obscene books. The manager of the book store, who was arrested on a warrant, was brought before the Special District Court on August 24, when he was fined $300 for offences against Public Morality contrary to Art. 251 of the C.R.C.C. and Art. 19m Section D of the New Press Laws.

Miscellaneous.—A new organization called "Civil War Abolition League" was formed during the month by the Chinese Bankers' Association and other Chinese bodies.

A Telephone Subscribers Federation was formed during the month for the purpose of carrying on an agitation to oppose the increase in telephone rates. The new body seems to be largely under the influence of the Citizens' Federation.

Representatives of the Chapei Devastated Areas Insurance Compensation Co-operative Association visited during the month several Chinese official organs and various insurance companies in the Settlement for the purpose of demanding compensation for the loss of insured property in Chapei. Their visits produced no result.

Hu Lih-fu, who is alleged to have endeavoured to set up some form of administration in Chapei during the period of the Sino-Japanese hostilities, was arrested by the Chinese Authorities on August 13 and sent to Nanking for trial.

Rice.—The average price of rice for the month of August was as follows:—

	Chinese Rice.	Saigon Rice.
Best quality	$14.54	$12.10
Good quality	13.82	11.14
Ordinary quality	13.01	10.17

Film Censorship. — Fifty-six feature films and 57 short introductory films were censored by the police during the month. Of the feature films 41 were passed without question, 13 were approved after they had been subject to cuts and revision and two were rejected as unsuitable for local exhibition at present. All the introductory films were passed without question, with the exception of one which was cut and revised. The two films which were rejected were made in China and were entitled "Four Sons" and "Two Orphans."

Traffic.—Court proceedings were instituted in 731 (68 Foreigners and 663 Chinese) of 4,466 reports of traffic offences received during the month against owners and/or drivers of vehicles. The remainder were dealt with by letter of warning or entry of caution on their records.

Accidents. — Accidents coming under police notice during the months of August 1932 and August 1931:—

	August 1932.	August 1931.
Total number of accidents	1,011	1,179
Total number of persons injured	429	448
Total number of persons killed	13	12

Vehicles involved in accidents during August 1932 in which persons were killed or injured:—

	Injured.	Killed.
Tramcars	29	1
Omnibuses	21	4
Motor Vehicles	257	4
Other Vehicles	205	6

Persons killed or injured in accidents during August 1932 and known to have been at fault:—

Injured.	Killed.

Bicycles.—Bicycles were involved in 218 accidents during the month and in 73 cases the cyclists were known to have been at fault.

Safety First.—During the month the professional Storyteller visited various districts and gave 81 addresses in Teashops and mills, etc. on "Safety-first" themes. His audience roughly totalled 3,790 persons.

Motor Horn Nuisance. — There were 106 prosecutions for motor horn nuisances during the month and in addition, four chauffeurs had their driving licences suspended for a repetition of the offence.

Traffic Signal Lights. — Traffic lights recently installed at Race-Course—Mohawk Roads were put into operation from August 1.

Omnibus Service.—The strike of conductors which started on August 11 caused a disruption of the usual services for a few days during which skeleton services were operated, but towards the latter part of the month it became possible to maintain full services on all routes excepting Route No. 3 running between Brenan Piece and Poh-Sing-Kyung Village via Jessfield and Yu Yuen Roads. The fact that the public were not put to a great deal more inconvenience by the strike, reflects on the capable and satisfactory manner in which the Omnibus Company coped with the situation by drawing on all reserves and quickly training new conductors.

Ricshas.—The control of ricsha traffic remains one of the major problems of traffic control in the congested business districts. The frequent infringements of important Traffic Regulations by ricsha pullers are not usually committed in ignorance of such regulations, but are chiefly the result of a general tendency to take chances, coupled with the urge of necessity to earn a living when touting for fares. Under these circumstances repeated checkings and warnings by the police appear to have but a temporary effect and to illustrate this, the record of charges for serious infringements during the month in the Central and Louza Districts, where most of the ricsha pullers are "old hands," the following figures are quoted:—1,686 ricsha pullers were charged in the Central and Louza districts during the month for various breaches of traffic regulations, including 81 private ricsha pullers found plying for public hire.

Identification Office.—During the month, 1,750 prisoners' records passed through this office for identification prior to the prisoners going to Court for trial, out of which number 515 were identified as having a previous conviction or convictions. In addition to the above 141 records were received from the French Police out of which number 50 were identified in the records of this office, making the total for the month :—

PUBLIC WORKS.

In his monthly report for August, the Acting Commissioner of Public Works states that very little bad weather being experienced considerable progress was made on all outdoor work.

At the Thorne Road Bridge, setting out has been completed and driving of sheet piles for the abutment on the Fearon Road side has been started.

At the bund in Fearon Road between Hanbury Road and Seward Road, the fixing of the anchor rods and the concreting of the upper part of the wall and capping has been completed.

Pile frame erection and scaffolding has been started at the bund in Fearon Road, north of Yalu Road.

At Chemulpo Wharf the concreting of the river front of the main wall has been completed and of the front anchor beam 507 feet out of 690 feet length have been completed. Of the back anchor beam, out of 662 feet total length, the complete section of the beam has been concreted for a length of 308 feet, and the lower portion has been concreted for a further length of 109 feet. Approximately 100 feet length of the mud bank for the ash fill has been finished, and 44 out of a total of 110 tie rods have been fixed.

Gaol Extension.—At the Administration Block of the Ward Road Gaol extension, the terrazzo to the lavatories and staircases is being laid and the exterior steps and plinths are being dressed. The heating, plumbing and electrical installations are in progress. All exterior and interior ironwork and joinery is being painted.

The dadoes to all rooms in the Indian Warders Quarters and to staircase landings and steps are being rendered in cement, and the joinery is being fixed. The lift is now being installed. The steel casements to all floors are in position. The electrical, sanitary and heating installations are in progress.

At the Police Hospital, the patent floors on sixth floor and the rubber flooring to the operation theatres have been laid. The work in the Prisoners' Ward on the fifth floor of the hospital and all staff rooms on sixth floor have been completed, the air conditioning plant to operation theatres has been installed and the building has been handed over for occupation.

The cell grilles are in position on the first, second, third and fourth floors at the Juvenile Cell Block, and the rain water pipes, ventilators to fourth floor and railings have been fixed. The roof slab has been waterproofed and the cement rendering to cell walls is in hand. The heating, sanitary and electrical installations are in progress.

At the Cell Block R/s, the concrete to the roof parapet walls and pent houses is poured. The window grilles have been fixed on first, second and third floors. The railings and the rain water pipes have been delivered and are now being fixed in position. At the Point Police Station and Barracks the concrete has been poured to the roof of the foreign quarters, fifth floor columns to the Japanese quarters, and the two staircases to third and fourth floors. Internal and external walls are in course of construction, and the heating, plumbing, electrical, drainage and sewerage installations are in hand.

At Wayside Police Barracks levelling and surfacing of compound is proceeding, and electrical installation and laying of patent flooring are in hand. The sanitary and hot and cold water installation and the laying of terrazzo have been completed.

The Carter Road Police Quarters have been handed over for occupation.

Abattoir.—At the Abattoir, Sawgin Road, the concrete work to roof slab over cooling block and motor room has been completed, also bridges between second and third floors. Hammer dressing to external walling is in hand. All stalling, with the exception of ground floor lairage south side, and sheep and calf lairage on second and third floors has been completed. All metal windows have been delivered and fixed. The installation of machinery, fittings, electrical and sanitary equipment is progressing satisfactorily.

At the Victoria Nurses Home, the concrete to roof tanks and the upper roofs has been poured and the erection of the internal partitions is in hand.

At the Branch Health Office, junction of Ferry and Robison Roads the contract has been let and the excavation and foundations completed. The contracts for the sanitary installation and metal windows has been let.

The contract for the erection of drinking fountains at the Jessfield and Hongkew Parks and the Public Garden has been let, the foundations have been laid and work on the water services commenced.

At the Eastern District Primary School for Chinese, the timber floors to first and second floors have been laid, and the fixing of wooden windows and interior fittings is proceeding. The plastering to ceilings and walls on ground floor is in hand, and the construction of heating pipe trenches has been completed. The heating, sanitary and electrical installations are progressing satisfactorily, and the drainage and sewerage system have been completed.

Cleansing and Watering.—Road sweepings collected: 1,764 tons; Gully deposit removed: 2,160 tons; Water used for street watering by mechanical water wagons: 2,064,000 gallons; water used for washing roads: 2,579,200 gallons.

House Refuse.—554 tons of house refuse were removed by motor trucks and 7,371 tons of house refuse were removed by barrows, etc., to Western, Northern and Eastern Districts for land raising. 15,042 tons of house refuse were taken away by Contractor's boats. 1,883 tons of house refuse were sent to Penang Road Incinerator. 1,377 tons of house refuse and 309 tons of road sweepings were sent to Muirhead Road Incinerator.

Labour.—The average number of labourers employed by highways, sewerage and parks was as follows: —Coolies 6,691; artisans 574; Foremen 395.

Concreteware.—The following has been produced during the month:—

Hand made, 4,674 pieces; machine made 1,986 pieces.

Work Shelters.—There were 696 admissions during the month and 100 cubic feet of stone broken.

New Buildings.—There were 362 blocks of buildings under construction in August, 235 plans were submitted for approval and 147 plans approved; valuations made of blocks of buildings for assessment purposes totalled 31; and 3,486 inspections were made by inspectors.

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1932. No. 1390

COMMITTEE MEETING.

At a meeting of the Orchestra & Band Committee on September 23 there were present:—Messrs. A. J. Hughes (Chairman), W. J. Dexter, Mrs. A. Renner and Mr. Tzu Huang.

CONSULAR INFORMATION.

A letter from Mr. Af. Lopes de Almeida, Consul for Brazil, informs the Council that on return from vacation on September 29 he resumed charge of the Brazilian Consulate.

EDUCATIONAL MATTERS.

Grant-in-Aid.

In letters submitted to the Education Board on September 21, the Director of St. Francis Xavier's College requested reconsideration of the Council's decision to levy full municipal taxation thereon as from January 1, 1933. He also requested that the annual grant of Tls. 2,500 accorded for many years be continued as a charitable grant and debited to general charges.

It was noted by the Board that this college would not at present apply for an educational grant-in-aid on the ground that the rules governing the issue of such grants clashed with the rules and regulations of the college, which was under the direction of the Marist Brothers, a Teaching Order duly approved of by the Church.

The Acting Treasurer & Controller commented that there appeared to be reasonable grounds for continuation of the existing grant under general charges.

Members of the Board concurred with the Chairman that, as this college did not propose for the time being to apply for an educational grant-in-aid, it was not within the province of the Board to record a recommendation relative to the issue of a charitable grant or to the question of exemption from taxation, matters which, in the normal course, were dealt with by the Finance Committee.

SCHOOLS FOR FOREIGN CHILDREN.

Entrance Examinations and Scholarships.

Relative to a discussion by the Education Board at a previous meeting of the proposal to provide scholarships at the Council's schools for foreign children, the Acting Superintendent of Education had recommended that these be provided in the form of a remission of half tuition fees for one year, two for boys and two for girls at present in the Council's schools, and two for boys and two for girls without restriction.

On the ground that a number of scholarships were already provided by national and other societies, and having regard to the cost involved, the Acting Treasurer stated that he was unable to support this proposal.

In recording the view that scholarships of only one year's duration were not entirely satisfactory, inasmuch as the holders might have to be withdrawn at the end of that period owing to the inability of the parents to pay full fees, members of the Board deferred consideration of this question so far as it pertained to the foreign schools until a system of scholarships had been established in the municipal schools for Chinese children.

Thomas Hanbury Hostel.

The Acting Superintendent of Education has submitted to the Education Board a report by the master-in-charge of the Thomas Hanbury Hostel for Boys wherein he recommended that, owing to the urgent demand for accommodation, certain parents or guardians be asked to withdraw their children (numbering five) from the hostel. It was noted that none of the parents of these children was a resident of the Settlement.

In deprecating the fact that in the past insufficient care had been exercised in the selection of children admitted to this hostel, with the result that bona fide cases had not been able to obtain accommodation therein, members of the Board were informed that, as a result of the findings of the Commission of Enquiry, children would in future be admitted only if the King's Daughters' Society, as a result of investigation, put forward a favourable recommendation, and that preference would be given to the children of Settlement residents.

In view of the number of boys awaiting admission to this hostel, members authorized the Acting Superintendent to notify the parents or guardians of the five children referred to that they must be withdrawn not later than the end of the current term and if possible earlier. These children would, however, be permitted, should their parents or guardians so desire, to continue as day pupils at this school upon payment of the additional non-resident fee of 25 per cent.

GRANTS-IN-AID TO CHINESE SCHOOLS.

Sanitary Requirements.

In a further report submitted to the Education Board on the subject of the sanitary requirements of Chinese schools to which the issue of grants was or might be authorized, the Commissioner of Public Health requested information regarding the method of selecting schools to which grants were to be made, and he suggested that the Deputy Commissioner or himself should act as the final judge as to whether improvements effected were satisfactory. He forwarded detailed reports on the sanitary conditions of two schools for which grants for the current year had been authorized. These having been dealt with by the Board, members agreed that in the case of all schools which, in the opinion of the Health Department, were not satisfactory from a sanitation point of view, the authorities should be informed that the issue of further grants was contingent upon compliance with the requirements of the Health Department. Members concurred with the Chairman that the sanitary fittings recommended for installation in these schools should be of a simple and inexpensive type, particularly in leased premises, since otherwise the Council might incur comparatively heavy expenditure and the benefit thereof be lost to the school in the event of its vacating leased premises. Moreover, it was considered that the installation of expensive fittings might encourage the landlord to increase the rental or alternatively to give his tenants notice to quit in order to secure possession of these fittings.

With regard to the procedure generally to be observed, it was requested that notice be given to the Commissioner of Public Health, so far as possible during the autumn, of schools which applied for grants-in-aid. Prior to the issue of a grant to such schools, his report on their sanitary condition would be called for and, after authorization of the grant, he would keep the Board informed of the progress made in meeting his departmental requirements.

NEW PRIMARY SCHOOLS FOR CHINESE.

In a letter addressed to the Chairman of the Education Board, two members of the Board advocated that early action be taken in order to permit the opening next Spring of the new Chinese Primary School in the vicinity of the Nieh Chih Kuei Public School for Chinese, and also for a second one which they proposed should be established in leased premises in the winter of the same year. They also suggested that consideration be given to the construction of a permanent building for the Secondary School for Chinese Girls being started early in the coming year.

At a meeting of the Board on September 21, the Chairman stated that he had replied to this letter. In his opinion, little definite action could be taken now to give effect to the recommendation put forward in the absence of detailed information as to what funds would be available, the extent of other capital projects and as to the Council's financial position generally during 1933. He recalled that the Board had already agreed that one Chinese Girls' Secondary School should ultimately occupy the site of the Public School for Girls in Boone Road after the latter school transferred to a portion of the site of the former Victoria Nursing Home. With regard to the equipment of the new District Primary School which was nearing completion, budget provision had already been made therefor and the Chinese Education Officer could make the necessary arrangements in conjunction with the Public Works Department. It was formerly the Board's intention upon the opening of this school to vacate one of the three primary schools now functioning in the Eastern District. From the enrolment figures furnished by the Education Officer, it appeared, however, that this district could support three such schools. In his opinion, a definite demand existed for a primary school in the populous vicinity of Robison, Ferry and Gordon roads. In view of the many aspects of the question pertaining to the provision of additional primary schools which would require to be examined, his suggestion was adopted that consideration be deferred until further information as to the 1933 budget requirements was available.

ROAD EXTENSIONS AND WIDENINGS.

Ward Road.

Negotiations have been concluded with the Chinese owner for the surrender of an area of mow 0.067 of unregistered land east of Cadastral Lot 3851 (east of Wetmore Road) for the scheduled widening of Ward Road at the rate of Tls. 6,200 per mow, making a sum of Tls. 415.

At the last meeting of the Council it was reported that the Board of Governors of the Country Hospital had nominated Mr. V. Meyer and Dr. R. J. Marshall to serve on the Administrative Committee of the Victoria Nurses Home. It was resolved by the Council that Mr. P. W. Massey, who consented to serve, be appointed as one of the Council's representatives on the Committee and that invitations to serve on the Committee be addressed to Mrs. J. L. Maxwell and Mr. W. P. Lambe. Mrs. Maxwell and Mr. Lambe have notified the Council of their acceptance of the invitation.

MUNICIPAL ORCHESTRA.

Plans for Broadcasting Concerts.

At a meeting of the Orchestra & Band Committee on September 23, the Chairman referred to the orchestral concert which was broadcasted from the X.C.B.L. Studio earlier this year with highly successful results. Owing to the impossibility of satisfactorily broadcasting orchestral concerts except from a hall or studio specially designed for the purpose, the broadcasting of concerts from the Carlton Theatre was discontinued before the close of the last winter season and its resumption was not approved by the Committee. In the interests of the public, however, and having regard to the large and ever increasing number of residents who owned receiving sets, it was suggested that the Council should authorize the broadcasting of one concert per week, of short duration, from one of the local studios, the performances being sponsored by the Council, and in no way connected with the advertising programme conducted by the broadcasting organization. In return for the facilities provided for broadcasting such concerts free of expense to the Council it was suggested that the Company providing them might engage the orchestra or part of it during the season not only subject to the 20 per cent. reduction always granted for several engagements by the same parties, but also to the rate charged being on a minimum basis of a half hour instead of one hour. Such an arrangement would probably be mutually satisfactory, inasmuch as it would not only enable the orchestra to reach a very large audience under ideal conditions free of expense, but it would result in a continuous source of revenue from engagements by the broadcasting company, who would have been obliged to make expensive structural accommodation for the orchestra which otherwise, except for the one weekly occasion when they received no return, would serve no productive purpose.

After discussion, members and the Conductor unanimously approved the suggestion of a weekly radio concert sponsored by the Council for the public and entirely dissociated from advertising. Tentatively it was suggested that these orchestral concerts should be broadcasted on Thursday evenings from 9 to 10.15. p.m.

It was accordingly recommended that arrangements be made with one of the local broadcasting organizations to broadcast, free of charge, one concert per week during the winter season; in return for the facilities provided, the organization, in addition to receiving the usual discount of 20 per cent. in the charge for several engagements of the Orchestra, or part thereof, be charged on a basis of a minimum of one half hour instead of one hour.

The recommendation of the Committee was approved by the Council on September 28, subject to the proviso that the engagements of the Orchestra or part thereof by the Broadcasting organisation for half hourly periods are not permitted to interfere with its engagements elsewhere for longer periods.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION APPOINTED BY THE SHANGHAI MUNICIPAL COUNCIL TO EXAMINE THE QUESTION OF FILM CENSORSHIP IN THE INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENT.

Shanghai, September 14, 1932.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit to the Council the Report of the Commission appointed in May last to enquire into the question of the censoring and control of cinematograph films and advertisements in connection therewith.

Speaking for my colleagues as well as for myself, I have to apologise for the length of time it has taken for the Commission to conclude its investigations and to produce its Report. It was found that much more exhaustive and closer enquiry was necessary than appeared to be the case when the Commission held its first few meetings. Further, in view of the fact that Mr. P. C. Colman intended to visit Hongkong in August, it was decided to postpone the final drafting of the Report until his return. As you are aware, the Colonial Government afforded him every facility for investigation of its film censorate and its methods. The conclusions to which he came were of the greatest assistance to the Commission and have been added to the Report in the form of an appendix.

I should like to take this opportunity of expressing the thanks of the members of the Commission to Mr. Jas. W. Fraser whom the Council appointed as Secretary thereto.

With regard to the six appendices Nos. 1 and 2 must be regarded as an integral part of the Report: the remainder are included more for the information of the Council than with the idea of publication. The Commission, however, would favour publication of that part of Appendix III. which cites the written memorandum of the Motion Picture Association of Shanghai and also, as information of general interest, Appendix VI.

In conclusion, while the members of the Commission feel that their Report is hardly likely to please everybody, they trust that it will assist the Council towards the solution of what is now a difficulty and is likely to become a still greater one as time goes on and the demand for this form of entertainment becomes more wide-spread.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
A. M. CANNAN.

A. D. BELL, Esq.,
Chairman,
Municipal Council,
Shanghai.

Shanghai, September 19, 1932.

SIR,—I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of September 14, 1932, submitting to the Council the Report of the Commission appointed to examine the question of film censorship and analogous problems in the International Settlement.

Upon the completion of the work which the Commission so kindly undertook on behalf of the Council I have the honour to convey to you, as Chairman of the Commission, and to your colleagues, Mrs. A. L. Lunkley and Mr. P. C. Colman, the Council's thanks for your exhaustive Report and its appreciation of the time and painstaking labour which you have devoted to the task in the public interest.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

A. M CANNAN, Esq.,
Chairman, Film Censorship Commission.

PART I.

1. Terms of Reference.—These were:—

To enquire into and report on the principles by which the Council should be guided in the control of cinematographic films and advertisements in connection therewith exhibited in the International Settlement, and the best and most efficient method of censoring such exhibitions.

2.—The Commission held 15 meetings at which a considerable number of witnesses were examined, some of whom were recalled to give further evidence. The Commission takes this opportunity of thanking all those who were so good as to attend its sessions as also those members of the public who supplied it with written observations and memoranda. It is to be noted, however, that no representative of the theatre proprietors responded to the invitation of the Commission to attend its sessions and to give it the benefit of hearing their views. Study of the reports of similar Commissions to this in other parts of the world and of White Papers bearing on the subject has also occupied the Commission and a great deal of valuable data has been obtained therefrom. The Commission has, in particular, to record its appreciation of the documentary evidence and observations thereon furnished by the Joint Committee of the Shanghai Women's Organizations and of the opportunity afforded by the Hongkong Government to Mr. P. C. Colman of examining in detail the working of the Censorate in the Colony.

3.—It appears to the Commission that there is some confusion of thought in respect of what actually is the function of Censorship. It is not concerned, as many seem to believe, with the quality or the improvement in quality of the films exhibited. No Censor should be concerned with the merit of this or that film: his duty is to decide whether, for one cause or another, a film should be exhibited or not. Although the Commission deals later on in this Report with the matter of a possible improvement in the quality of many of the films exhibited, it desires to make it clear that, in treating with Censorship as such, its conclusions have been reached from the standpoint of the Censor judging the suitability for exhibition of films submitted to him and not their artistic, dramatic or educational value.

4.—The Cinematographic film industry differs little in essence from any other commercial enterprise in that it seeks to obtain as large a return as possible on its investment in any given production. The aim therefore of any producer is to market a film that will appeal to the majority and in this sense it might be said that the public is its own Censor since it would not patronize a film of which it disapproved. It has been stated that the appeal which a frankly salacious film might make would be to such a limited section of the public as to prohibit its production from the commercial point of view. While this may be true, the fact that the censoring of films is practically universal is, in the opinion of the Commission, calculated to minimize the chances of the inclusion of any objectionable feature in film production.

5.—The difficulties of Censorship in Shanghai are, by reason of its very cosmopolitan population, greater than in most cities and thereby a measure of control over the films exhibited is rendered the more necessary.

6.—Under the present system, films are first censored by a representative of the S. M. Police in conjunction with an officer functioning similarly on behalf of the French Police. The film is either passed, rejected or certain "cuts" requested. Should the distributor be dissatisfied with the decision of the officer censoring, he may appeal to the International Board of Censors who then view the film and report thereon with its recommendations to the Council which in its turn, gives effect to those recommendations.

7.—The Commission has been favourably impressed with the organization of the Police Censorate under Assistant Commissioner Givens, and with certain reservations, with the system of censoring. Both the Council and the Authorities of the French Concession have reason to be gratified with the close accord in which their officials work: a matter of the very greatest importance. Relations with the distributors of films and with theatre proprietors are cordial which again is very satisfactory. The weakest point in the present system appears to the Commission to be the liaison between the Police Censorate and the International Board of Censors. In stating this, the Commission intend no disparagement to the services rendered by the several ladies and gentlemen who compose that Board: it is simply that there seems to have been little or no attempt to organize and co-ordinate its functions with those of the Police Censorate.

8.—It is perhaps as well to explain that the International Board of Censors cannot, as a body serving voluntarily, be given executive power by the Council and although its recommendations are hardly likely to be disregarded, it is possible that this fact has tended to weaken its authority. Yet it forms at the present moment, the sole "Court of Appeal" as it were from the decisions of the Police Censors. Both the Board of Censors and the Police Censorate appear to the Commission to have failed to keep in that close touch with each other that is desirable. Members of the Board are notified of all pre-views arranged and may attend if they wish. Not a great number seem to have been present at such previews which is quite comprehensible as pre-views are necessarily held at inconvenient hours for busy people. Beyond this, however, little has been done to keep members of the Board informed of the work performed by the Police Censorate. All reports to the Assistant Commissioner in charge by the examiners, at any rate, on long or "Feature" films, should, for instance, have been furnished to members of the Board.

9.—The following are the conclusions to which the Commission has come as regards the system of Censorship as also its recommendations for its improvement:

(a) It is agreed upon the desirability of maintaining Censorship in the first instance under the control of the Commissioner of Police, subject to certain modifications which are stated below.

(b) It is strongly of opinion that the fullest collaboration between the authorities of the International Settlement and the French Concession is essential and with this in mind its recommendations have been largely framed.

(c) It is further agreed that with the Commissioner of Police and the Chief of Police of the French Concession must rest the decision as to whether a film should be prohibited for political reasons. It is to be understood, however, that when such action is taken, it must be on the initiative of these two Officers and not of any subordinate officials.

(d) It has already stated its view that there is little fault to be found with the organization of the Police Censorate which, from the office side of its work, such as the collection of intelligence and information, is excellent.

(e) Recognizing that considerable experience is needed before any individual can become qualified to act as a Censor, the Commission finds that the Officers entrusted with the actual censoring of films have, on the whole, carried out their duties to the best of their ability. When in doubt, they appear to be inclined to give the benefit thereof to the film distributor instead of referring the matter to their Chief. The Commission has formed the opinion that in the examination of films too much responsibility has been delegated to subordinates.

(f) The Commission considers that in view of the number of films placed before the Censorate—in 1931 there were viewed monthly 55.5 Feature Films and 40 News Reels and "Shorts" and in the current year up to August 31, 40 Feature Films and 39.5 "Shorts" and News Reels and of the strain of viewing them from the Censor's standpoint, the experienced personnel is insufficient.

(g) The Commission has come to the conclusion that the present International Board of Censors is both unwieldy and, through force of circumstance, inefficient. It recommends the establishment of a Board of Censors smaller in number, more official in character and executive in its powers. The idea of the Commission is that such a Board would not only act as a Board of Appeal against the decisions of the Police Censorate which are at present somewhat unfairly delegated to Police Officers of a lower rank than seems advisable, but would assume the final responsibility for the exhibition of any film. Recommendations as to the composition of such a Board of Censors will be left to the ensuing paragraph; it is now proposed to show how its functions can be dove-tailed in with those of the Police Censorate. At each preview attended by the latter, a member of the Board of Censors should be present. The latter should in no way seek to influence the decision of the Police Censor but on learning it, he can either approve, thereby releasing the film for exhibition on behalf of the Board, or he may require the film or parts thereof to be submitted to the Board itself. Being otherwise unconcerned with the decisions of the Police Censorate, this will in no way infringe upon the right of the film distributor to appeal to the Board of Censors against an adverse decision, a provision which is essential. It is the considered opinion of the Commission that by the adoption of such a system as has been outlined, the Police Censorate will be relieved of a certain amount of responsibility which at present it has, rather unfairly, to shoulder, while censorship itself should be liable to fewer errors of judgment.

(h) The composition of such a Board of Censors as is proposed must naturally be left for the Shanghai Municipal Council to consider in conjunction with the Council of the French Concession. Consideration to this matter has, of course, been given by the Commission whose suggestion is that it should consist of two senior Police Officials, one to be appointed by the Shanghai Municipal Council and the other by the French Council; a member, if possible, if not, an appointee of the Consular Body; a lady to be nominated by the Joint Committee of the Shanghai Women's Organizations and two other officials to be selected by the two Councils, preferably from among their legal, medical or educational staffs. Since it would be impossible for so limited a number to cope with the work of pre-viewing films with the Police Censorate, power should be given to this Board to co-opt from the general public, subject to the approval of the two Councils, such number as will enable it to provide for this service.

(i) A certificate that a film has been censored and passed by the Board of Censors signed by a member thereof and initialled by the Police Examiner should be displayed at all exhibitions of that film by means of a strip of negative being attached thereto.

(j) The Board of Censors should remain in office for a period of not less than a year when appointments thereto can again be considered by the two Councils.

(k) All information collated by the Police Censorate should be communicated to the Board of Censors.

(l) The suggestion has already been made that the work of the Censorate would be facilitated were a projection room to be provided for all pre-views of films. Estimates, in fact, of the cost of installing the necessary apparatus have already been obtained as also the cost of renting suitable premises. While the initial expense would be considerable, an estimate supplied to the Commission being some Tls. 60,000, it is considered that the provision of such a projection room is essential if the previous recommendations are adopted. Even under the present system, there is no doubt that the work of the censorate would be lightened and could be carried out at more convenient hours. As it is now, the Censors are obliged to visit different Cinema Theatres and, naturally, at such hours as there are no public exhibitions. The establishment of such a projection room should further be a convenience to film distributors and theatre proprietors.

(m) While considering that the Council should be compensated for the expenditure involved in the provision of a projection room, the Commission prefers not to offer more than general suggestions on this point. It is, however, of opinion that the fairest way in which the annual charge for running expenses, maintenance and depreciation could be met would be by the imposition of a small Amusement Tax levied on the actual tak-ings of each theatre. It is observed that the Commission appointed to examine the state of the Hospitals in Shanghai has also suggested the imposition of such a tax. The revenue required for the purpose under discussion is, however, relatively so small that a very small addition only would be required to produce the necessary sum. Another method would be to charge a fee for censoring as is the practice in other parts of the world, usually on the basis of a specific charge per unit of length, say 100 feet. The consideration of the Council is also directed to the possibility of coming to a similar arrangement with one of the film distributing Companies such as obtains in Hongkong (vide appendix I., Mr. P. C. Colman's Report).

(n) All members of the Board of Censors unless actually salaried officials of either Council should be remunerated for their services and in the opinion of the Commission, the method employed in Hongkong of paying them a fee per reel viewed is the simplest and best. (Vide Appendix I.).

(o) The Commission recommends that all films passed by the Censorate be classified as "A" or "U". To films classified as "A", adults only should be admitted while children may be permitted to attend such films as are marked "U". The particular matter is dealt with in fuller detail in another section of this Report.

PART II.

1.—Principles Governing Censorship.—The Censorate is provided with certain Rules of Guidance which are set forth in Appendix II. to this Report. The Commission is in entire agreement with the statement made therein that it is inexpedient to lay down rigid rules to define what should or should not be regarded as prohibitive on the cinema screen. These Rules of Guidance differ little from similar Rules applied in other cities which were submitted to the Commission. It is obvious that common-sense must play a great part in the work of Censoring, especially in Shanghai, where in view of its cosmopolitan community, susceptibilities have to be taken into account which a Censor in a Western country could disregard. The Commission desires, however, to record its opinion that greater discretion should be used in censoring films which may tend to lower the prestige of the Occidental in the eyes of the Oriental and of course the reverse equally applies.

2.—Chinese Government Censorship.—Practically all films exhibited in Shanghai have first to be submitted to the National Censorship Board which functions in Nanking, all films having to be sent to the Capital to be censored. While it is to be hoped that at some future date, this Board may be transferred to Shanghai when possibly measures of co-operation therewith may be devised, it is at all events satisfactory to the local Censorate to know that the films they view conform to the ideas and principles of the Chinese authorities.

PART III.

Posters and Advertising.

1.—The finding of the Commission in regard to the above is that the censoring of posters and advertising in connection with the exhibition of films deserves a good deal more attention that it has apparently received. Posters are expected to exaggerate and are naturally discounted by the average person but the variations of the passionate embrace and of the exposure of the female form divine that constantly obtrude themselves on the notice of the passer-by in Shanghai, are, to say the least of it, somewhat nauseating. However scant the notice which the jaded Westerner may pay to such posters in his own country, in China they must give a very wrong impression of Western ideals and ideas and as such call for discrimination in their exhibition.

2.—The Commission is given to understand that the Council has no effective means of control in the matter of the exhibitions of such posters save insofar as they may, under the licensing conditions of theatres, prohibit the display of posters considered objectionable by the Censorate in the theatre premises themselves. Unless such powers of control can be obtained it is difficult for the Commission to recommend any definite measures, although it should not be overlooked that in general the exhibitor of an objectionable advertisement can be proceeded against in his own Consular Court. In the past, however, there has been every disposition shown by the film distributors and theatre proprietors to fall in with the wishes of the Police Censorate in regard to the exhibition of posters and it would seem that a greater degree of co-operation is necessary if the desired end is to be obtained.

3.—At present, it is understood, specimens in miniature of all posters are submitted to the Censorate before they are affixed and it has been explained that these small blocks do not always strike the eye in the same way as does the actual display poster.

4.—It must not be forgotten that the bulk of the posters exhibited are imported with the film they advertise and that, should they not be exhibited, they become a dead loss to the importer. Since he, in turn, is unaware in the majority of instances, of the character of the advertising matter which is forwarded to him, a too rigid form of Censorship thereon might bear upon him unfairly and too hardly.

5.—The Commission suggests that, for a trial period at any rate, an agreement might be reached with theatre proprietors and film distributors, that the exhibition of pictorial posters on the streets be suspended and replaced by display posters containing letter-press only. These can be locally printed thereby saving the distributors a certain amount of money while time will show, the system being general in the Settlement and Concession, whether there is any effect on the box-office takings.

6.—The same recommendation might be applied to newspaper advertisements, some of the pictorial blocks in which have been, to say the least of it, unworthy of the paper in which they have been reproduced.

7.—Reference might briefly be made to the system of registration of film distributors which has been adopted by the Australian Commonwealth. Further mention of this is made in Part V., Paragraph five, of this Report.

* * *

PART IV.

The Attendance of Children at Cinema Exhibitions.

1.—Although, strictly speaking, not within the Terms of Reference, the question of the attendance of children at Cinema exhibitions appears to have exercised the minds of so many of the witnesses examined and of those who have placed their views before the Commission otherwise, that it feels bound to take notice thereof. A good deal of time has been devoted to examination of this question and as one result it has made a recommendation that films be classified as being suitable or otherwise for exhibition before children.

2.—Among many interesting conclusions which were reached from the examinations of witnesses was that the "crook" and "gangster" pictures which have had such a vogue had not, as might be expected, made for any increase in juvenile crime. Children would play at "gangsters" and "cops" and be reluctant to play the rôle of the "cop" but that would be the extent of the damage. On the other hand, there is a strong consensus of opinion and some evidence that the film which depends upon "sex appeal" and loose morality for its drawing power has a definitely deleterious effect on the young and adolescent mind, particularly, from evidence heard, among the Chinese student classes.

3.—It is chiefly for this last reason that the Commission has recommended the classification of films since it will at least assist parents to select those which they may permit their children to attend.

4.—As to the age limit at which children should be prohibited from attending "A" films, it is very difficult to fix a limit. In different countries where this restriction applies, the age limit varies considerably and as regards Shanghai, the Commission does not see how it can be put higher than 16 years of age even though this period is perhaps the most impressionable.

5.—Should the classification of films, recommended in Paragraph nine, Section "O" of Part I. of this Report be adopted, the Commission recommends that the police be instructed to take such steps as may be deemed necessary to enforce the restriction on juvenile attendance at films classed as "A".

PART V.

Improvement of Films Exhibited in Shanghai.

1.—The Commission has already been at pains to state its view that the standard of films exhibited in Shanghai is no concern of the Censorate but it has heard so much on this particular subject that it feels justified in concluding that a large section of the film-going public is dissatisfied with the general run of films exhibited in this City. Individually, the members of the Commission are inclined to agree. Too many films depend upon sex interest, more often than not far too crudely exploited: others portray phases of Western life, which, entertaining enough to the Occidental, may yet give a totally wrong idea of conditions in western countries to the Oriental, to the manifest disadvantage of both.

2.—In the United States there is a most excellent organization whose object is to educate and direct public opinion in regard to the class of films that are exhibited and undoubtedly it has begun to exercise considerable influence thereon. This body is called the General Federation of Women's Clubs of the United States. Each month it issues a review of films which have come under its notice. Of these it selects such as it recommends and in addition states whether or not the films it has reviewed are, in its estimation, suitable to the family or to adults only.

3. The Commission sees no reason why a similar organization should not be formed in Shanghai among those interested in cinematographic exhibitions. It could, of course, have no official standing but by degrees should be able to wield sufficient influence to secure that, in general, a better class of film is brought into Shanghai for exhibition. That so relatively a large proportion of poor films is shown in Shanghai is too often unjustly blamed upon the Censorate or the film distributor. The first, as has been stated, is not concerned with the quality of the film while the second has only too often, under present conditions of export from producing centres, to take inferior films whether he considers them suitable or not.

4.—In the course of its enquiries the Commission has been struck with the many expressions of regret that there should be so few educational films exhibited in Shanghai. From the evidence examined, however, it has been shown that such films, when presented as "features" have not been supported by the public. The Commission considers that were such educational films to be occasionally exhibited as "shorts", i.e., between the news reel items and the "U" feature films they would undoubtedly prove popular with children and give satisfaction to a considerable section of the public.

5.—The Australian Commonwealth Government has considered it advisable to institute a system whereby all film distributors are registered under a specific bond. By such registration it is found, the standard of censorship being known, that the distributor takes greater care in the films he imports and submits for censorship, as suspension of such registration, which might follow repeated rejections by the Censorate, would naturally be detrimental to his business. The Commission is of opinion that such a system might be favourably considered by the Councils.

APPENDIX I.

Film Censorship in Hongkong.

1.—The Censorship of Films in the Colony is under the control of the Hon. Inspector-General of Police.

2.—In the early days of cinemas in the Colony all the censoring was done by the commissioned Police Officers, but as cinemas developed the number of censors had to be increased, and opportunity was taken to enlist officers from other Government Departments and also members of the public. The present number of censors is nine and these are divided into a number of groups each under a head censor. Each group censors for a particular theatre or group of theatres or for a particular cinema film company. There are three lady censors.

3.—The Appeal Board consists of the Hon. Inspector-General of Police, the Secretary for Chinese Affairs and the Director of Education.

4.—The fee paid to the Chief Censors is Hk. $0.80 per reel.

5.—The Principles of Guidance for observance by the Censors are very similar to those issued to the Shanghai Police Censorate, although the presentation of Films in Hongkong is not fraught with those international susceptibilities peculiar to the heterogenous population of Shanghai. Whereas certain Films which created controversy amongst certain nationals in Shanghai have been shown in the Colony without arousing dissent, several of the gangster and ultra-sexual type passed in Shanghai, have been more drastically dealt with in Hongkong. It can be then said that the Hongkong Censorate in these latter two directions is stricter than Shanghai, moreover from evidence forthcoming, it is apparent that Singapore is even stricter than Hongkong.

6.—Notwithstanding the fewer theatres in Hongkong, it was found that the restriction of censoring duties to the mornings, particularly as the afternoon performances commenced at 2.30 p.m., was highly inconvenient to the Censors. Estimates were prepared for the installation of a central screen, the equipment at Singapore being considered as a favourable example. The studio and equipment in Singapore cost £774, and in 1930 the revenue therefrom, basing the censorship fees at S$1.00 per 100 feet, or say S$60.00 per Feature Film, being S$42,792 as against a total expenditure of S$18,950.

7.—Pending a decision in the erection of a central screen, the British Films Distributing Co., Ltd., whose studio is situated in the Gloucester Building, Hongkong, offered the use of their equipment to the Government on the basis of Hk.$2.00 per reel, and to be available at any time convenient to the Censors. This offer was accepted for a trial period of six months as from July 1st 1932, and in the opinion of Censors, theatre managers and film distributors, is found to be eminently satisfactory. The fee of Hk.$2.00 per reel becomes a charge to the theatres, which together with the censorship fee of Hk.$0.80 and Hk.$0.20 to the Colonial Government, entails a total cost to the theatres of $3.00 or say an inclusive programme cost, i.e. newsreel, short and feature films of Hk.$30.00. A theatre proprietor informs me that his annual payments under the present scheme will amount to Hk.$2,000.

8.—The equipment of the British Films Distributing Co., Ltd. consists of

2 Super Simplex Projectors supplied by the Western Electric Co. with sound heads and further sound equipment for a theatre of 600 seats. The oversized equipment permits operation at much less than capacity, thus ensuring full value of all undertones and other incidental noises.

The walls of the studio are treated with special acoustic plaster to increase tone values.

Extra construction was placed to eliminate echo and for fire prevention, the projection room and studio being absolutely fire-proof.

The entire costs of this equipment exceed Hk.$50,000. (ex duty).

9.—The Directors of the British Films Distributing Co., Ltd., have expressed their willingness to provide a studio with similar equipment in Shanghai, and to enter into a similar undertaking with the Council, provided a contract could be arranged covering a definite period. Space room necessary would not exceed 70 feet by 30 feet.

10.—I would express my grateful thanks to the Hon. Mr. E. R. Halifax, Acting Colonial Secretary, to E. W. Hamilton, Esq., one of the Chief Censors, and particularly to the Hon. Mr. G. P. King, Inspector-General of Police, who granted me every possible facility in obtaining the above information.

P. C. COLMAN.

APPENDIX II.

Film Censorship Commission. Shanghai Municipal Police.

Rules of Guidance for Cinema Film Censorship.

Considering the multiplicity of the subjects dealt with and the wide range of treatment to which they may be subjected, it is considered inexpedient to lay down rigid rules defining the incidents and themes which are regarded as prohibitive on the cinema screen. As a general principle, however, no film is passed for public exhibition which is considered likely to be derogatory to public morals, encourage crime or vice, to be offensive to public feelings, or adversely effect the respect due from the public to all nations.

The following rules are drawn up for the purpose of general guidance of those engaged in the work of Cinema Film Censorship, in respect of revisions in, or rejection of, Cinema Films:—

A. Films in which crime or violence and the use of fire-arms are depicted, or in which crime is displayed in an attractive or alluring light in comparison with legitimate professions or occupations.

B. Films featuring prominently racial distinctions.

C. Films calculated to wound the susceptibilities of any nationals and scenes which are calculated, and possibly intended, to foment social unrest and discontent.

D. Films designed for untoward propaganda locally, or calculated to incite to breaches of the peace in view of local conditions prevailing at the time.

E. Films calculated directly to lower the moral prestige of women, or likely to foster immorality.

F. Films calculated to bring into disrespect any lawful creed or society.

G. Films featuring scenes of cruelty to men or beasts, and displaying human agony, and scenes of brutality or vulgarity, and which carry no worthy moral lesson but tend to embruten and degrade.

H. Films depicting objectionable prison scenes, and scenes displaying the Police in a false or derogatory light, also films considered likely to foster disrespect towards State Authorities, Soldiers, Magistrates, etc.

TITLES.

All film scenes require some form of title to explain the luminous image. The effect of the captions as a means of publicity or propaganda is very great. Film titles ought therefore to be examined carefully from two different points of view, firstly do they answer to the purport of the picture, secondly have they any moral value of their own?

Titles are censored when they are intrinsically offensive: when they are irreverent or blasphemous; have objectionable political bearing, or are morally equivocal, or contain objectionable innuendoes.

The foregoing rules for the guidance of Film Censors are not to be taken as the main or entire grounds covering Cinema Film Censorship as numerous complications are likely to develop as the range of subjects widens and new questions arise.

APPENDIX III.

Film Censorship Commission.

Evidence of Messrs. Krisel and Hanna, representatives, Motion Picture Association of China.

Messrs. Krisel and Hanna submitted the following written statement:—

The Motion Picture Association of China presents herewith its views on the question of censorship of motion picture films in Shanghai.

The Association maintains that the Shanghai Municipal Council does not possess the power to impose legal censorship on motion picture films. The Council does not censor dramatic plays on the stage nor written publications such as books, magazines and newspapers.

Censorship of motion pictures by individuals on boards of censorship of committees is fundamentally unjust because it gives a handful of persons the right to dictate what the great mass of people shall see and hear. The question whether a scene or a spoken line is improper cannot be decided fairly by single individuals or a limited group of persons. What is improper in a motion picture film must be left to the general public in the same way and manner as dramatic plays on the stage and books, magazines and newspapers. If a picture contains immoral, obscene or other undesirable matter, the police have sufficient power to control the same. Pictures that offend against the good taste of the general public suffer by loss of business and are immediately withdrawn from exhibition.

Censorship is supposed to protect the morale of children and weaklings by shielding them from certain aspects of life. Children represent less than five per cent of the public attending the cinemas in Shanghai. Why should the Council interfere with a legitimate business in order to cater to a few mothers who cannot prevent their children from attending the cinemas. No form of censorship can succeed in concealing essential facts from the public. From a practicable view point, it may well be argued that a child or adult is better fortified with knowledge than being at the mercy of ignorance.

As censorship is nothing but a matter of individual opinion, it is unfair to the public to be compelled to pay for the privilege of seeing a picture, and then only see what a few individuals decide they ought to see. It is not only unfair to the public, but is an unwarranted and unjust interference with a legitimate business, causing, at times, tremendous loss.

The industry is now subject to a censorship by the Chinese National Government and, thus, any other form of censorship by the Council is an unnecessary burden.

The Association is not against fair and reasonable censorship. For this reason, it has not raised any question of the power of the Council to impose legal censorship. The Association is of the opinion that the present system of censorship operates quite satisfactorily. There has not been any evidence of serious complaints against the present system of censorship. Surely, the Council cannot undertake to appoint Commissions each and every time an individual writes a letter of complaint to the press. There are many thousands who eventually see a motion picture in Shanghai, and an individual complaint now and then is surely not sufficient to cause the Council much concern over the matter.

The complaint of Mrs. Inui deserves very little attention considering that this lady is a member of the Board of Censors and has with her several other ladies serving as members of the Board. Surely, the Women's Associations in China have no cause for complaint when they are so well represented on the boards of censorship and, thus, have the power to express their views.

While individual cranks and reformers continue to attack the movies as the direct cause for increase of crime, police officials in many countries of the world have, time and again, stated that, in their opinion, the movies, in fact, prevent crime. A recent news item from London indicates that Sir Herbert Samuel, the Home Secretary, in reviewing criminal statistics before the House of Commons, stated "that motion pictures are doing more to prevent crime than to encourage it."

In a debate in Parliament, on motion picture films, Colonel Wedgwood, a member of the Committee of the House of Commons, said:

"American morality on and off the films is quite all right. They are the most straight-laced people in the universe. Anything that gets put over in America we shan't criticize from the standpoint of morality.

"I am shocked at some films. I actually have to walk out of the theatre sometimes, but they are not American films.

"Leave me my American films."

In conclusion, the Association respectfully submits that the more censorship the Council desires to impose on the industry, the more criticism it will receive from cranks and reformers.

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1932. No. 1392

COUNCIL MEETING.

A meeting of the Council was held on October 12, 1932. There were present:—Messrs. A. D. Bell (Chairman), H. E. Arnhold (Vice-Chairman), Capt. J. J. Bahnson, Messrs. B. D. F. Beith, S. L. Hsu, O. S. Lieu, P. W. Massey, O. Okamoto, F. J. Raven, H. Terai, T. D. Woo, L. T. Yuan and Yu Ya-ching.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS.

A meeting of the Public Utilities Committee was held on October 11, 1932. There were present:—Mr. H. E. Arnhold (Chairman), Capt. J. J. Bahnson and Mr. O. Okamoto.

A meeting of the Staff Committee was held on October 14, 1932. There were present: Messrs. P. W. Massey, (Chairman), B. D. F. Beith, W. Gockson, O. S. Lieu, and O. Okamoto.

SHANGHAI TELEPHONE COMPANY.

The Council published a statement in the "Municipal Gazette" of June 24, 1932, on the subject of the application made by the Shanghai Telephone Company for an increase in the tariff rates as from March 27, 1932. It was explained in the statement that the Council granted the Company's application for an increase in the tariff rates based on the percentage proposals recommended by Mr. B. O. Anson in his Report of November 1929, to which the Company was entitled, and provided that such charges should cover such items as were necessary to implement the Anson Report and render it workable.

The following letter has now been received from Mr. Anson referring to the published statement of the Council:—

General Post Office,
London, September 9, 1932.

DEAR MR. JONES,—"A copy of the "Municipal Gazette" for the 24th of June has just reached me and I am rather disturbed to note in Paragraph five the statement that 'it has been found that there are serious defects in the Anson recommendations inasmuch as the literal application of the references in his report would rob the Company of the benefits which Mr. Anson intended.'

"It will be seen from Paragraph 12 of my report that I said 'the rate increases mentioned are considered satisfactory only as an immediate temporary measure.' Obviously, the delay of three years has changed the circumstances and I should like to make it perfectly clear that the investigations I made at the time showed the necessity for an all-round temporary tariff increase of 25 per cent. If I were now called upon to consider the position, I imagine that I should suggest an arrangement which would give the Company rates equated to the present value of the proposals I made in 1929, that is to say, the deferment for a period of three years (which was presumably to be a test of the good faith of the Telephone Company) should not be converted into a penalty, but that the Company should now be accorded a tariff at some higher percentage than 25 which would give them the money they have lost in the intervening years.

"The foregoing, of course, ignores any changes in the economic conditions that may have taken place in Shanghai during the interval. At this distance, it is not possible to make any statement in regard to the effect such changes might have on telephone tariffs.

"Perhaps you would be kind enough to bring this letter before your Council."

With kind regards,
I am,
Yours sincerely,
B. O. ANSON.

DEATH OF DR. HOU-KI HU.

The following letter of condolence on the death of Dr. Hou-ki Hu, Commissioner of Public Health of the Municipality of Greater Shanghai, has been sent by the Chairman of Council to the Mayor of the Municipality of Greater Shanghai:—

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, October 18, 1932.

SIR,—On behalf of my colleagues on the Shanghai Municipal Council I desire to convey to you our deep regret at the news of the fatal accident which occurred to Dr. Hou-ki Hu.

We realise that by his death the City Government of Shanghai has been deprived of the services of a very zealous and able servant whose career was so eminently marked by his untiring efforts in the field of public health.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
A. D. BELL,
Chairman.

Mr. WU TEH-CHEN,
Mayor,
Municipality of Greater
Shanghai.

[A separate letter of condolence was addressed by the Secretary of Council to Mrs. Hou-ki Hu.]

OMNIBUS EXPRESS ROUTE "E."

The Council has approved the application of the China General Omnibus Company to deviate Express Route "E" so as to include Jessfield and Kinnear Roads. "E" Express buses will now operate from Brenan Piece along Jessfield Road, through Kinnear Road to Edinburgh Road, thence via Great Western Road, Avenues Haig, Foch and Edward VII to Garden Bridge instead of Brenan Road through Edinburgh Road, etc. The application for the diversion of buses on this route was made to the Council by the General Omnibus Co., on the suggestion of residents on Kinnear Road.

SQUATTERS' HUTS.

The Acting Commissioner of Public Works has reported that in accordance with the Council's decision one month's notice has been given that 800 squatters' huts will be demolished on October 24.

MILITARY BAND CONCERTS.

For members' information, the Acting Commissioner of Public Works reported to the Works Committee that through the efforts of the Superintendent of Parks military band concerts were given in Jessfield Park on Sunday afternoons during the past summer season and the Council has received $987, representing half the receipts accruing from these performances. The average attendance was 578 and the maximum 1,539, a record for the Park.

MAJESTIC HOTEL SITE. Road Names.

Further consideration has been given by the Works Committee to the naming of the road to run east to west through the former Majestic Hotel Property.

Members agreed that the name "McBain Road" was appropriate and, as it had been ascertained that Mr. W. R. McBain had no objection, it was unanimously recommended that the owners be informed that this new road would be designated "McBain Road." The Council has approved the Works Committee recommendation.

WEST TINGHING ROAD. Proposed Abandonment.

With a view to curtailing capital expenditure, the Acting Commissioner of Public Works has recommended that the scheduling of the section of West Tinghing Road between Chengtu and Tatung Roads be abandoned. At a meeting of the Works Committee he stated that this section was in no sense a through road but was scheduled primarily for the purpose of improving fire and police control of the small but densely populated blocks of property which it was scheduled to bisect. The cost of acquisition of this road section at current rates was approximately Tls. 100,000 exclusive of making up. An area of mow 0.409 had already been surrendered for this road extension which he was given to understand the owner would possibly be willing to repurchase. He therefore recommended sale of this area at the price paid by the Council plus 6 per cent. compound interest for seven years, making a sum of Tls. 3,683.

After discussion it was unanimously recommended that the scheduled extension of West Tinghing Road between Chengtu and Tatung Roads be removed from the 1933 official road plans and that negotiations be opened with the former owner for repurchase of the area of mow 0.409 on the basis recommended by the Acting Commissioner of Public Works.

The Council has endorsed the recommendation of the Works Committee.

ROAD EXTENSIONS AND WIDENINGS. Weihaiwei Road.

An area of mow 0.104 of unregistered land east of Cadastral Lot 1830 (opposite Chinhai Road) required for the scheduled widening of Weihaiwei Road has been surrendered without compensation by Mr. Woo Dong-sung, subject to the Council constructing a footpath fronting his property at its own expense.

MUNICIPAL PROPERTIES. Bubbling Well and Chengtu Road—Surplus Land.

An area of mow 2.943 of surplus land, Cadastral Lot 1965, has been sold to the Hop Yick Investment Company for a sum of Tls. 311,222.

VOLUNTEER CORPS. Nomenclature.

The following change in the name of the under-mentioned unit has been approved:—

Reserve Company to be known as "H" Company.

Field Company.

Lieutenant P. J. F. Eardley, transferred to Reserve of Officers, dated October 12, 1932.

Formation of new Unit.

The formation of the Air Defence Company is approved with effect from 18/10/32.

This Unit will absorb the personnel from the Machine Gun Troop of the Light Horse.

Air Defence Company.

W. E. Holland to be Lieutenant and to command, dated October 18, 1932.

PORTUGUESE COMPANY, S.V.C.

The Chairman of the Council at its meeting on October 12 stated that Mr. L. T. Yuan and he attended, as part of the celebrations held on Portugal's national day, the ceremony at which the Minister for Portugal presented the Portuguese Company, S.V.C., with the Order of Christ. He considered it most appropriate that the Portuguese Government should confer such high distinction on the Portuguese Company, having regard to the very valuable services rendered by the Company during the recent period of Emergency. Mobilization of this Company entailed personal sacrifice on the part of its members, since the majority resided in the area which was primarily affected by the hostilities and the defence of this area had to be left to other forces. He, therefore, proposed, and members unanimously concurred, that the Council in acknowledging its gratitude to the Portuguese Company should express its deep appreciation of the high honour conferred on the Company by its country of origin.

CHINESE PRIMARY SCHOOL FEES.

A report has been submitted to the Education Board by the Chinese Education Officer furnishing particulars as to the financial standing of the parents of pupils attending the district primary schools for Chinese. He recommended that the following scale of fees be adopted as from the commencement of the Spring Term of 1933:—

(1). In each primary school 10 per cent. of the pupils be admitted free.

(2). In the Eastern District and Ward Road Primary Schools the fee be increased from $3 to $5 per term, i.e., from $6 to $10 per annum.

(3). In the Western and Northern District primary schools the fee be increased from $3 to $8 per term i.e., from $6 to $16 per annum.

Replying to the Chairman of the Board, at a meeting on October 5, the Assistant Treasurer said it appeared that the type of education provided at these schools was somewhat superior to that contemplated when the schools were first instituted. In the upper forms particularly, the type of education approached that provided in the Council's secondary schools, and whilst undoubtedly it was not desired to debar the poorer classes of children from attending these schools, members might, he submitted, consider that the fees should more nearly approximate those in force at the secondary schools. If this proposal commended itself to members, he suggested that, in the interests of the poorer classes, a number of pupils could be admitted at half fees.

In respect to the Assistant Treasurer's observation on the curriculum of these schools, the Chinese Education Officer stated that they concentrated on the rudiments of education, and only in the higher grades were subjects approximating to secondary school education taught.

In view of the facilities provided at these schools, particularly with the erection of new and expensive buildings, a member was of opinion that the proposed increased scale of fees was definitely on the low side.

In concurring in this view, the Chairman alluded to the opinion previously expressed that public or semi-public schools should provide education at cheaper rates than those in force at schools which were privately administered. At the same time the fact remained that many of the pupils attending these schools were well able to pay higher fees than those now proposed, and it was not possible for the Council to restrict their admission in favour of the poorer classes.

In this connection, a member observed that, although the parents of pupils were called upon to pay only comparatively low school fees, it should not be overlooked that as ratepayers they were contributing indirectly to the maintenance of the schools by payment of municipal taxation.

After further discussion, it was recommended that as from the commencement of the Spring Term in 1933 the following scale of fees be adopted:

(1). In the Eastern District and Ward Road Primary Schools the fee be increased from $3 to $6 per term.

(2). In the Western and Northern District Primary Schools the fee be increased from $3 to $8 per term.

At its meeting on October 12, the Municipal Council adopted these recommendations.

PUBLIC HEALTH REPORT FOR SEPTEMBER.

The Commissioner of Public Health, in his report for September, states:—

Introductory Report.

The foreign death rate was 8.32 as compared with 18.14 for the same month last year, and the Chinese death rate was 10.44 as compared with 16.71 last year.

The month would appear to be a healthy one and was marked by the unexpected absence of dysenteric diseases which are usually so common at this time of the year.

It is probable that the absence of these conditions is due to the somewhat cooler weather.

An increasing number of anthrax cases are being discovered amongst the animals arriving at the cattle sheds. Since these are contracted outside the jurisdiction of this department it has not been possible to ascertain any reasons for the increase.

Total destruction of these animals has been carried out either at the Disposal Plant or in the new crematorium attached to the Muirhead Road incinerator.

The case rate of communicable diseases will be found in the tables attached to this report, and it is sufficient to state that the chief sources of morbidity amongst foreigners were tuberculosis and the dysenteries.

A number of cases of ill-defined diarrhoea were also notified which may possibly belong to one or other of the dysentery groups. Amongst the Chinese the same disease occurred more or less in the same ratio: cases of typhoid were rather more prevalent.

Of the other communicable diseases few appear in significant numbers, though scarlet fever has increased, mainly amongst the Chinese population, and it is of note that cerebro-spinal fever occurred to a small extent right throughout the year, the disease attacking almost entirely the Chinese population. Two cases of smallpox have been notified.

Five cases of schistosomiasis were notified amongst non-resident Chinese. Enquiries elicited the information that one was infected at Kaohing whilst another was infected whilst bathing in the creeks near Jeu-ka-jao (West of the railway line near Brenan Road).

The cholera inoculation campaign came to an end this month, the total number of inoculations being just under 200,000.

Pathological Laboratory.

The number of specimens examined shows a considerable decrease, compared with the three preceding months, on account of the close of the cholera season. Only 267 specimens for cholera were submitted compared with 1,331 for August.

Preparation of seed lymph for calf vaccination was commenced during the month. 136 cc of stock staphylococcus vaccine was manufactured, also a supply of dysentery agglutination sera was prepared.

26,315 doses of cholera vaccine were issued for the cholera campaign.

Routine diagnosis of infectious diseases included the dysenteries, diphtheria, cerebro-spinal meningitis, malaria, typhus fever and undulant fever.

Milk Examinations.—Four samples of raw milk were examined for tubercle bacilli.

Routine examinations were performed on 51 samples of milk from various dairies.

Anthrax. — 18 specimens from animals were submitted and six of these proved positive.

Identification of Larvae. — 23 bottles containing larvae were submitted from the western district for identification of species. Of these 22 contained anopheles larvae.

Pasteur Treatment.—50 persons called for advice, cauterization and/or treatment including seven from outports. No fatalities amongst treated cases were reported during the month.

Hospitals Division.

Both isolation hospitals remained comparatively empty though less so than last month owing to the incidence of scarlet fever and diphtheria.

The transfer of the police hospital to its new quarters took place during the month and the hospital is now settling down satisfactorily.

The Ward Road gaol still gives a good deal of work to the medical officers in charge, but the health of the prisoners has maintained a reasonably high standard.

The mental hospital is, as usual, overfull.

Veterinary Surgeon's Report.

Milk Supply.—The daily average milk production was 21,520 lbs. which is an increase of 15.94 per cent. over last month's figures.

Of the 36 samples submitted for bacteriological examination, 16 were unsatisfactory, and of the 91 samples submitted for chemical analysis only five were unsatisfactory.

Meat Supply.—There was a considerable increase in the kill of all the various animals. In the municipal abattoir the average daily number of animals killed was:—oxen 132, sheep 145, calves 44, pigs 1,713, buffaloes two.

Rejections for September.—Oxen 28, sheep eight, calves 16, and pigs 52.

There were six cases of anthrax at the cattlesheds, all of which have been disposed of. The majority of the animals were probably infected during transport as the cases occurred within 48 hours of their arrival at the cattlesheds. The sheds have been thoroughly disinfected.

Examination of 463 specimens for trichinosis gave negative results.

Observation Kennels.—26 animals were received for observation, 24 having bitten people. Two died of rabies.

The pig slaughterhouses have all exceeded their capacity, and the returns are the highest on record except for January, 1930.

Markets, Bakeries and other Food Shops.

Markets.—All the markets are doing well with the exception of the Pingliang Road which has still some empty stalls.

Careful attention has been given to the question of the congestion of market gangways.

Bakeries are regularly inspected and kept up to a good standard.

Prosecutions.

Breach of Market Regulations	15
Unstamped meat	4
Breach of Bakery Regulations	9
Breach of Licence Conditions	5

Sanitation Division.

With the lightening of the burden of the cholera epidemic, routine work of this division both in respect of inoculations, verifications of cases, and work in regard to fly prevention and mosquito reduction increased, and much was done also in supervising the small food shops. Several hundreds of these premises have now been brought under stricter control, which in time will produce some effect in checking communicable diseases.

During the month it was necessary to detach a Senior Inspector in order to check up on the reports of the sanitation of Chinese schools.

The Swimming Bath was closed this month and care was taken to have a thorough test of the water both bacteriologically and chemically. It may be of interest to such people who still believe in the "fill and empty" method of bath sanitation to note that after the most exhaustive tests this water was found, after two months use, to be quite as pure as when it was first put into use. Tests at the closed bath (which had no purification apparatus or circulatory system) would invariably at the end of the day show some thousands of organisms per cubic centimeter, and very definite evidence of chemical deterioration.

It may also be added that in certain of the more modern countries it is no longer considered permissible for a Health Authority to make use of "fill and empty" bath pools, thus indicating that the fallacious ideas which were held in regard to the purity of water which had been standing for a day or two in a bath, and used by hundreds of persons, are no longer retained.

Here follow Tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases, and of the work of the Food, Dairies and Markets Division, Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics, Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals, Slaughterhouse.

Free chlorine has varied from 0.02 to 0.08 parts per million in samples taken from the laboratory taps and from nil to 0.06 parts per million in samples taken at other points.

Bacteriological Examination.—26 samples were examined during the month, three from hydrants and 23 from taps in various parts of the Settlement. In one hydrant sample indeterminate organisms of the B. coli group were present ten per litre. In three tap samples organisms of the B.coli group were present, two contained B. coli communior ten per litre, and one contained organisms of B.coli group 100 per litre. The remaining hydrant and tap samples contained less than ten B. coli group per litre.

Report on Analysis. — Results showed satisfactory purification.

PUBLIC WORKS REPORT FOR SEPTEMBER.

The Acting Commissioner of Public Works, in his September report, states that favoured by good weather on all but five days during September, the Department made good progress on all public works in the Settlement. Considerable headway has been made on the Thorne Road Bridge, while the bunding in Fearon Road between Hanbury Road and Seward Road has been completed with the exception of finishing the railing, and north of Yalu Road a 200-ft. run of sheet piling has been driven. Chemulpo Wharf is rapidly developing, the anchor beams and tie rods having been completed, and now the ash fill to the back of the wall is in progress. This work is ready for further hydraulic filling operations.

The work on the Ferry Market began on September 19, and pile driving is now in progress.

In connection with the Gaol Extension, Ward Road, at the Administration Block, heating, sanitary and electrical works are in progress. The Indian Warders Quarters are nearing completion. The Police Hospital building, having been completed, has been handed over for occupation. At the Gaol Hospital, work on all floors from 1st to 7th and roof has been completed and the terrazzo and tiling works are in hand on the ground floor. The electrical, heating and sanitary installations are nearing completion. Progress is also being made with the Juvenile Cell Block, and in the Kitchen and Laundry Block the installation of new boilers is taking place. The contract has been let for the Gaol Foreign Quarters.

Material headway has been made at the Point Police Station and Barracks, while at the Wayside Police Barracks the whole structural work has been completed and the gas fittings are being installed. Pile driving is in progress at the South Police Station in the Western district.

All structural work has been completed at the new abattoir in Sawgin Road, and the fixing of the sundry machines and fittings is progressing satisfactorily. The sanitary and electrical installations are well advanced and the interior compound road works have been commenced.

The erection of internal partitions at the Victoria Nurses Home is practically completed and the first coat of plastering is being rendered. The external facing and brick work is being applied to the lower floors. Among other works reported upon by the Acting Commissioner are the Branch Health Office at the junction of Ferry and Robison Roads, the completion of a drinking fountain in Hongkew Park, and the advance of work at the Eastern District Primary School for Chinese, where the fixing of interior fixtures is proceeding.

The following figures relate to the lifts effected by the electric crane at Wayside Public Wharf during September: lifts, 292; weight, 324 tons; fees paid, Tls. 113.90.

Pingchiao Quarry.—911.34 fong of materials was received by the Department during the month.

Cleansing and Watering.—Road sweepings collected, 2,809 tons; gully deposit removed, 2,140; water used for street watering by mechanical water wagons, 1,420,800 gallons; water used for washing roads, 2,792,000 gallons.

House Refuse.—Eighty tons of house refuse were removed by motor trucks, and 5,325 tons by barrows, etc., to Western and Eastern Districts for land raising. 11,290 tons of house refuse were taken away by contractor's boats, 3,357 tons of house refuse and 626 tons of road sweepings were sent to Penang Road incinerator, 2,911 tons of house refuse and 599 tons of road sweepings were sent to Muirhead Road incinerator.

Labour.—The average number of labourers employed by highways, sewerage and parks was as follows: —Coolies 6,645; artisans, 550; foremen, 379.

Concreteware. — The following have been produced during the month:—Hand made 15,556 pieces; machine made 7,040 pieces.

Work Shelters.—There were 715 admissions during the month and 125 cubic feet of stone broken.

New Buildings.—There were 460 blocks of buildings under construction in August; 172 plans were submitted for approval and 87 approved; 75 valuations of blocks of buildings for assessment purposes were made; and 3,870 inspections were made by inspectors.

PARKS REPORT FOR SEPTEMBER.

The Superintendent of Parks and Open Spaces, in his report for September, states:—

Hongkew Park.

Summer Sports Season.—During the season which has recently terminated, lawn tennis courts were available for play on 106 days, adverse weather conditions necessitating the closing of playing spaces on 35 days. Thirty-nine courts were assigned to thirty-five clubs or associations during this period. Five hard tennis courts were also allocated to clubs and these have been in regular use. The season for lawn bowls commenced on May 15 and owing to better drainage facilities on these areas, play was possible on 140 days. The baseball ground was occupied on 78 occasions during the season and the golf course has been well patronized subsequent to the re-opening of the park on March 19, the number of golf permits issued to date being 187. The numbers of players during the period covered by this report were as follows:—

Hongkew Park.

Lawn and hard court tennis	11,438
Lawn bowls	5,590
Baseball	938
Golf	6,647

Wayside Park.

Lawn tennis	2,384
Lawn bowls	2,290

The Municipal Gazette

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1932. No. 1393

COMMITTEE MEETING.

A meeting of the Education Board was held on October 19, 1932. There were present:—Mr. A. D. Bell (Chairman), Dr. H. Gordon Thompson, Mr. K. Kuroda, Mrs. N. Leslie, Mr. K. H. Ling, Dr. H. C. E. Liu and Dr. Y. H. Ou.

OMNIBUS COMPANY.

Alteration in "B" Express Route.

An application was made to the Municipal Council by the Omnibus Company requesting permission for the "B" Express omnibuses to operate from Connaught Road to the Bund via Hart, Sinza, Medhurst, Bubbling Well and Nanking Roads.

Although the Commissioner of Police did not recommend approval of this application owing to the many narrow sections of roadway and difficult turnings en route, it was noted that only the smaller type of omnibus was utilized on this route and that the service was only operated during rush hours, primarily for the benefit of office employees.

At its meeting on October 26 the Council approved the application of the Omnibus Company to deviate "B" Express route as proposed.

TERMS OF SERVICE.

Medical Attendance.

In a report submitted to the Staff Committee, the Commissioner of Public Health recommended and the Acting Treasurer and Controller concurred, that an addition be made to the Terms of Service to include Isolation Hospital accommodation for Chinese employees of the Council serving under Class "L" Letters of Appointment.

Members agreed that this addition was necessary in order to complete this section of the Terms of Service. Accordingly it was unanimously recommended that the following additional clause be approved: "Second class accommodation at the Isolation Hospital for Chinese is provided free. When second class beds are not available employees and their families have the option of being accommodated in a free ward or of availing themselves of first class accommodation, in which case they must pay their own bills, but are entitled to an allowance of $2 per diem recoverable by departmental requisition accompanied by receipted bill."

The recommendation of the Staff Committee was approved by the Council on October 26.

TRAFFIC REGULATIONS.

"No Parking" Kerb Signs.

On account of the great difficulty experienced in keeping the red "no parking" kerb signs in reasonably good condition, although many different kinds of paint have been tried, the Council has authorized the substitution of black and white glazed tiles for red paint to mark the places where vehicles are not permitted to stop or park. Experiments have been made with glazed tiles, and it is considered that black and white will be a more conspicuous marking than any other combination of colours. Furthermore, the red colour required cannot be obtained in tiles. As a consequence of this decision, Traffic Regulations 28 and 48 will be amended to read that no vehicle shall stop or be ranked or parked at any time at places where black and white glazed tiles are placed.

Shanghai, October 21, 1932.

NORMAL SCHOOL.

The enrolment of students of the Council Normal School, which began the winter's work on October 17, is larger than usual, but there remains room for additional students. Classes have been formed as follows:—(a) theory and practice of teaching, 24 students; (b) psychology, 21 students; (c) teaching of mathematics (Saturdays), 16 students; (d) translation (Saturdays), 16 students; (e) spoken English, 39 students; (f) English literature, 35 students; (g) English composition, 36 students.

The total number of students enrolled is 40, consisting of seven S.M.C. students and 33 external students. Of the latter four are Germans, and four are Chinese ladies, three of whom are teachers. Fourteen of the external students have expressed the desire to take a three years' course and to sit for the Normal School Certificate. Two classes have been formed in spoken English and English literature, and it may be necessary to form two classes in English composition. The teachers are selected from the staffs of the S.M.C. schools, and it is of interest to note that this term Mr. Ensu C. H. Yu, M.A., one of the recently appointed Chinese masters, is in charge of the translation class.

Although organized primarily for the training of Chinese teachers for the municipal schools, the school is open to other students of suitable attainments on payment of the following fees:—one subject per term $10; two or more subjects per term $15. Further particulars and enrolment forms may be obtained from the master in charge of the Normal School, c/o Polytechnic Public School, 77 Pakhoi Road.

The classes are held on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, 5 to 7 p.m., and Saturdays 9 to 11 a.m.

POLICE REPORT FOR SEPTEMBER.

The Commissioner of Police, in his report for September, states:—

The total crime recorded for the month of September is contained in the following table:—

Nature of offence	Reported during the month	Reported during previous month	Reported during corresponding month last year
Murder	5	4	1
Attempted Murder	Nil	3	2
Manslaughter	4	5	—
Armed Kidnapping	1 (one attempted)	—	2

Snatching	94	49	45
Opium Offences	185	188	160
Gambling Offences	44	17	42
Other Crimes	260	269	349
Total	1,542	1,415	1,607

This shows a total of 1,542 cases of reported crime which is 127 more than the figure recorded for August and 65 less than the figure for the corresponding period of last year. An increase is shown in all the Divisions and is attributable to the release of a large number of habitual criminals under Chinese Government Amnesty and the advent of colder weather. The cases were distributed as follows:—

"A" Division (Central and Louza) 471 as against 422 in August.

"B" Division (Sinza, Bubbling Well, Gordon Road, Pootoo Road) 411 as against 375 in August.

"C" Division (Hongkew, West Hongkew and Dixwell Road) 312 as against 295 in August.

"D" Division (Kashing Road, Wayside, Yangtszepoo, Yulin Road) 348 as against 323 in August.

It is satisfactory to note that arrests for crime committed during the month again show an increase, 1,752 persons having been arrested as compared with 1,594 in August and 1,415 in July. In addition 99 persons were arrested for crimes committed in previous months. 73 persons were arrested on behalf of outside authorities.

Five cases of murder were recorded during the month. An unemployed Chinese was stabbed to death by a Chinese hawker for alleged extortion. A Chinese male was stabbed to death by another Chinese at the instigation of a third person for vengeance. A Chinese building contractor was shot and killed by armed kidnappers whilst attempting to escape capture. A Chinese wheelbarrow coolie was shot and killed by a gang of armed thugs who broke into his premises. A Chinese was hacked to death in a house off Ward Road through jealousy. There were four cases of manslaughter, one of a Chinese wheelbarrow coolie knocked down by a motor bus on Peking Road and fatally injured, the second of a Chinese workman killed as the result of a boiler explosion, the third of a Chinese female knocked down and killed by a motor bus and the fourth of a young Chinese girl knocked down by a motor truck through the negligent driving of the chauffeur. One case of armed kidnapping was recorded; a Chinese youth, the son of the proprietor of a silk hong at Shantung Road, was forcibly carried away from the shop by four men, two of whom were armed with pistols. There were eight cases of simple abduction against six in August.

In spite of special measures adopted three further reports were received during the month of throwing hand grenades at shops and hongs as a means of intimidating merchants. All three cases occurred in "A" Division. In the first and second instances the hand grenades were thrown into a watchmaker's shop and a piece goods store, the former on Fokien Road and the latter on Nanking Road, where they exploded and did some damage to glass show cases, but no persons were injured. In the third instance a Chinese entered a cotton hong on Ningpo Road on September 18, produced a hand grenade, withdrew the pin and threw the missile into the guest room. It, however, failed to explode. This was not reported to the Police. On September 27 another hand grenade was delivered at the same address.

At about 1.15 a.m. on September 27 a bomb of the Mills type was found by Hongkew detectives in a hotel on Haining Road.

All Divisions with the exception of "A" Division show an increase in the number of reported armed robberies, the total being 40 as against 23 in August. In the majority of these cases the amount stolen was insignificant The cases were distributed as follows:—

Division "A" 4 cases as against 6 in August.

Division "B" 15 cases as against 7 in August.

Division "C" 7 cases as against 3 in August.

Division "D" 14 cases as against 7 in August.

There were seven cases of other robberies as against two in August. The number of burglaries was 59 as against 31 in August. This type of crime is receiving special attention on account of the release of a number of professional thieves under the Government Amnesty. The cases were distributed as follows:—

Division "A" 9 cases as against 4 in August.

Division "B" 33 cases as against 16 in August.

Division "C" 9 cases as against 4 in August.

Division "D" 8 cases as against 7 in August.

Of the 33 cases reported in "B" Division eight occurred outside Settlement limits, and 20 arrests were made. In addition information was received that the French Police had arrested a burglar who was responsible for no less than eight cases of burglary in the Bubbling Well district.

The number of housebreakings was 28 as against 25 in August, the cases being distributed as follows:—

Division "A" 14 cases as against 9 in August.

Division "B" 5 cases as against 11 in August.

Division "C" 5 cases as against 4 in August.

Division "D" 4 cases as against 1 in August.

The 783 cases of simple theft were distributed as follows:—

Division "A" 266 cases as against 247 in August.

Division "B" 210 cases as against 213 in August.

Division "C" 162 cases as against 169 in August.

Division "D" 145 cases as against 158 in August.

The numerous cheap sales in the different stores in "A" Division and the release of a number of habitual criminals are responsible for the increase in this type of crime.

"A" Division recorded 44 cases of shoplifting and 43 arrests. Whilst a marked decrease in the number of pocket-picking cases is reported, cases of theft of bicycles were again on the increase in spite of the special measures adopted to deal with such offences.

24 cases of receiving stolen property were recorded during the month as against 14 in August. Cases of snatching increased from 49 in August to 94 in September. The cases were distributed as follows:—

Division "A" 46 cases as against 32 in August.

Division "B" 24 cases as against 7 in August.

Division "C" 10 cases as against 5 in August.

Division "D" 14 cases as against 5 in August.

The increase is also due to the release of a large number of prisoners convicted for such offences and to cases which had not previously been reported but came to light through arrests made. The districts mainly affected were Louza with 42 cases and Sinza with 17 cases. A total of 78 arrests were made in connection with this type of crime. There was a slight decrease in the number of opium offences. The Headquarters Narcotic Section carried out 18 raids and effected the arrest of 86 persons. 124 ozs. of opium, 65½ ozs. of red, white and black pills and 12 opium and 43 pill pipes together with the requisite paraphernalia were seized. The number of gambling offences increased from 17 to 44. Other forms of crime show little variation.

Notable work in "D" Division included (1) the arrest of three persons for illegal functioning and extortion, which led to the arrest of three others and the seizure of one pistol and 100 rounds of ammunition. They were all convicted and received heavy sentences. (2) The arrest of a man against whom eight charges of burglary were preferred and also the arrest of two of his accomplices. (3) The arrest of two men charged with and convicted of armed robberies.

The following cases which are included in the month's figures occurred in "B" Division outside Settlement limits in houses on or abutting on Council Roads:—

Armed Robbery	3
Found on enclosed premises	3
Pocketpicking	2
Miscellaneous	4
Burglary	8
Snatching	2
Theft	30

The Headquarters Special Detective Squad conducted investigations into 21 cases and effected the arrest of nine persons, in addition enquiries were continued in five cases previously reported. Notable work was done in (1) the arrest of six members of a gang of armed robbers and the seizure of two pistols and 20 rounds of ammunition. The accused were charged with being concerned in three armed robberies from dwelling houses and two from shops in various parts of the International Settlement. Four of the accused were convicted and received heavy sentences. (2) The arrest of a male Chinese for attempting to extort $2,000 from the father of the youth who was kidnapped from the Yue Fong Ziang Silk Hong on Shantung Road on September 2, 1932.

Property valued at $177,688.75 was alleged to have been stolen in cases reported during the month as against property valued at $145,-176.32 in August. The total value is made up as follows:—

Division	"A"	$97,504.20
"	"B"	$46,886.99
"	"C"	$21,803.25
"	"D"	$11,494.31

Property valued at $58,854.51 was recovered during the month.

Finger Print Bureau.—During the month of September the total number of records received by the Bureau from all sources was 2,468. This shows an increase of 185 as compared with last month and an increase of 38 by comparison with the corresponding period of last year.

3,026 Gaol Cards were received during ,the month for verification of prisoners' thumb prints.

Investigations were made into 39 reported cases of the following nature:—

1 Attempted Kidnapping.
11 Burglary.
8 Larceny.
1 Murder.
4 Shoplifting.
7 Armed Robbery.
2 Housebreaking.
2 Larceny of motor-car.
3 Office breaking.

Finger prints were secured in no fewer than 19 instances.

12 bodies of unknown Chinese who had met their deaths under various circumstances were photographed and/or finger-printed at the Public Mortuary with the object of establishing their identity. Successful result was secured in one instance only. During the month the Crime Branch Studio took 434 photographs and printed 861 copies.

On June 24, 1932, the Chinese Government promulgated a set of rules governing the release of prisoners under General Amnesty, and in appliance of such rules the first batch of prisoners was released from the Municipal Gaol with the sanction of the Shanghai Special Area No. 1 District Court on July 16, 1932. The following particulars show the number of prisoners released and their various offences since the Amnesty came into operation:—

Total number of prisoners released	1,427
Number of habitual criminals released	448
Number of prisoners released who have previous convictions but who are not habitual criminals	365
Number of First Offenders released	614

The above includes 12 foreigners.

The number of previous convictions against the prisoners released varies from 19 downwards, while no fewer than 80 have been re-arrested for offences committed since their release.

Anti-Japanese Propaganda.—The practice of using bombs and threatening letters to intimidate Chinese merchants suspected of dealing in Japanese goods was continued during the month. Six different cases of bomb throwing were recorded. The missiles exploded in four instances but did no harm beyond slightly injuring two Chinese and causing trifling damage to property. The bombs were undoubtedly thrown in order to emphasize threats made in intimidating letters which were sent to many traders including the persons whose property was attacked.

Other activities in support of the boycott included the dissemination of propaganda to Chinese shops and factories by the League Covenant Support Committee, the People's Self Salvation Society and the Citizens' Federation.

Attacks were made on four different occasions during the month on Japanese goods being transported through the streets. In three instances the police were entirely successful in frustrating the efforts of the attackers, and in the fourth case succeeded in recovering part of the goods which had been seized and arresting four of the persons responsible for the robbery.

The Chinese youth arrested during August for being concerned in the bomb throwing campaign was on September 22 condemned to three months' imprisonment. The execution of the sentence was, however, suspended pending the result of an appeal lodged by the prisoner who is at present at liberty on security.

Strikes.—Five strikes occurred in the Settlement during the month. These disputes affected 1,427 workers and resulted in the loss of 484 working days. The enterprises concerned were the China General Omnibus Company, the N.W.K. Mills Nos. 3, 6 and 7, a leather factory and a silk filature.

Approximate statistics of strikes for the month under review in the three areas were as follows:—

Area	No. of Strikes	No. of Hands	Working days lost.
Settlement	5	1,427	484
French Concession	1	44	132
Chinese Territory	1	340	3,380
Two Areas	1	200	1,400
Total	8	2,011	5,396
Total for the corresponding month of 1931	14	3,494	17,465

Apart from the disputes which culminated in stoppages of work, unrest was also manifested among employees of the Shanghai Power Company, Chinese Radio Administration, Nantao Tramway Co., Nantao Bus Company, French Tramway Company, Commercial Press, candle shops and Chinese distilleries.

Korean ex-Employees of the China General Omnibus Company.—About 40 Korean ex-inspectors of the China General Omnibus Company who were dismissed called at the offices of the Company on September 14 and demanded payment of a gratuity equivalent to two years' wages and a repatriation allowance, and expressed their determination to remain on the premises until their demands were conceded. They declined to leave after they had been called upon to do so and offered resistance when the police, in response to a request from the owners of the premises, started to eject them. The Police, however, succeeded in their efforts and took 31 of the ex-inspectors into custody on a charge of committing trespass and obstructing the police in the execution of their duty.

Lockouts in Silk Filatures.—The employees of two filatures in Chapei visited the Yi Chong Silk Filatures, 1 and 2 Wuchow Road, and the Jen Kee Filature, 1 Dixwell Road, and invaded the premises where they intimidated the workers and damaged machinery to the extent of Tls. 1,300. As a consequence of this behaviour the filatures of Chapei and seven similar concerns in the Settlement, which employ a total of 2,900 operatives, were obliged to declare lockouts. Of the filatures in the Settlement, five resumed work on September 26, but the remaining two were still closed at the end of the month.

Communism.—Owing to precautionary measures adopted by the Police of the Settlement, the French Concession and Chinese territory, no serious disturbance occurred on September 4, the anniversary of International Youth Movement Day, September 15, the date of the official recognition of Manchukuo by Japan, and September 18, the anniversary of the occupation of Mukden by Japanese troops. Small crowds collected at a few places in the Settlement on September 15 and 18 for the purpose of shouting slogans and distributing Communist handbills, but dispersed on the approach of the Police. In one instance the demonstrators escaped to the French Concession where five of their number were arrested.

The Municipal Police during the month seized 2,761 different kinds of Communist literature, included in which were 37 different kinds of leaflets which had not been seen previously. Most of the handbills dealt with the anniversary of the International Youth Movement Day, the occupation of Manchuria by Japan and the military campaign against the "Red" armies. Some also denounced "White" Russians for the assistance they rendered to employers by acting as strike-breakers from time to time in Shanghai.

Measures for Suppression of Communist Activities. — Three addresses were raided and 13 Chinese were arrested in the Settlement during September in connection with communist offences. The persons taken into custody were brought before the Court, but the cases against them had not concluded at the end of the month.

Agitation by Fire Insurance Claimants.—The agitation being conducted by the Chapei Devastated Area Fire Insurance Compensation Association, 1 Pakhoi Road, to compel insurance companies to make good losses suffered in Chapei during the recent conflict by persons insured against general risks was continued during September. Measures taken to further this agitation included visits in the early part of the month to some of the foreign insurance companies concerned of agitators in groups of about 10 persons.

Telephone Subscribers' Federation.—The Telephone Subscribers' Federation, which was formed in August to oppose the increase in telephone rates, continued the agitation during September, but failed to achieve any results.

Price of Rice.—The average price of rice for the month of September was as follows:—

Chinese Rice:
Best quality	$13.93	per picul
Good quality	13.00	„ „
Ordinary quality	12.03	„ „
Saigon Rice:
Best quality	11.90	„ „
Good quality	10.73	„ „
Ordinary quality	9.77	„ „

Film Censorship. — 43 feature films and 38 short introductory films were censored by the police during the month. Of the feature films 40 were passed without question and three were approved after they had been subject to cuts and revision. All the introductory films were passed without question, with the exception of one which was cut and revised.

Traffic.—Court proceedings were instituted in 968 (51 Foreigners and 917 Chinese) of 4,322 reports of traffic offences received during the month against owners and/or drivers of vehicles. The remainder were dealt with by letter of warning or entry of caution on their records.

Accidents. — Accidents coming under police notice during the months of September 1932 and September 1931:—

Bicycles.—Bicycles were involved in 202 accidents during the month and in 73 cases the cyclists were known to have been at fault.

Safety First.—During the month the professional story-teller visited various districts and gave 75 addresses in teashops and mills on safety first themes. His audience roughly totalled 2,610 persons.

Motor Horn Nuisance. — There were 44 prosecutions for this offence during the month and in addition two chauffeurs had their driving licences suspended for a repetition of the offence.

Traffic Signal Lights. — Traffic signal lights were installed and taken into use at Weihaiwei and Chengtu Roads crossing on the 21st of the month.

One-way traffic.—Owing to traffic congestion in the section of Yuen Ming Yuen Road, between Peking and Soochow Roads, one-way traffic in the south to north direction only was enforced from the 5th of the month for an experimental period of three months. The noise and obstruction has been eliminated to the satisfaction of occupants of premises in this vicinity and the new arrangement proves satisfactory.

Omnibus Service.—The terminus of Route 1A was changed from St. George's to Jessfield Park on the 12th of the month.

Rickshas. — 1,785 ricsha pullers were charged in the Central and Louza districts during the month for various breaches of traffic regulations, including 51 private ricsha pullers found plying for public hire.

Identification Office.—During the month, 2,029 prisoners' records passed through this office for identification prior to the prisoners going to Court for trial, out of which number 668 were identified as having a previous conviction or convictions. In addition to the above 132 records were received from the French Police out of which number 54 were identified in the records of this office, making the total for the month :—

Duty at places of amusement amounted to 9,409 hours.

The fires more particularly worthy of note during the month were:—

September 4 s.s. "Shin Ning Shao"; Ningpo-Shaoshing Wharf.—The fire was first discovered in the after-hold amongst a cargo of loosely-packed bales of native cotton at about 9.45 p.m. on the 3rd, shortly after the ship had left Ningpo for Shanghai and the ship's officers took prompt measures to prevent it from spreading by battening down the hatches and forcing steam into the affected hold. So effectively was this done, that the passengers were unaware of the outbreak of fire and when the boat arrived at Shanghai and tied up alongside the Ningpo-Shaoshing Wharf on the Chinese Nantao Bund shortly after 6 a.m. on the following morning the flames had made very little progress. The River Police, on receiving notification of the outbreak, called the Settlement Brigade and detachments from Central Station turned out on the fire float "Fire Dragon." As soon as the steamer had been made fast the passengers were disembarked and cargo in close proximity to the affected hold unloaded, while lines of hose were laid to the deck from the fire float and also from two pumps from the Chinese City Brigade stationed on the wharf. With the water turned on and necessary nozzles in position, the hatch covers were removed and a number of bales of cotton were found to be alight between the twin-propellor shaft tunnelling. The smoke and gas generated by the burning cotton were so dense and pungent that one officer and five firemen, including two from the Chinese City Brigade, were overcome in their efforts to reach the seat of the fire, and gas masks had to be resorted to. The fire was quickly brought under control, the actual damage by fire and water being confined to approximately twenty bales of cotton.

The rescue van, which had been called out when the members of the brigade became gassed, was returning to the station when it became involved in a serious collision with a tramcar on Rue du Consulat. The van was overturned and eight men received injuries, three being sufficiently serious to warrant their detention in hospital.

September 7, 16.35 hrs. s.s. "Suiyang" (1,594 tons); Butterfield and Swire's Watung Wharf, Pootung.—This ship was about to tie up at Kwang Wah Petroleum Co., Wharf, Woosung, for the purpose of loading kerosene prior to its departure for Tsingtao when an outbreak of fire was discovered in No. 3 hold. The steamer was immediately turned back towards Messrs. Butterfield and Swire's Watung Wharf, Pootung, and a wireless message informing the local agents of the fire was despatched. The Brigade was notified and detachments from Hongkew Station manned the Customs fire float, while sections from Central turned out on the Brigade float "Fire Dragon." Meanwhile the ship's officers had taken steps to check the spread of the fire by using two streams from the ship's pumps, turning on steam in the hold and battening done the hatches. As soon as the steamer tied up at the Watung Wharf, the fire floats went alongside and lines of hose were laid to the deck, the hatch covers being then removed. The fire had gained a very strong hold on cases of tea, resin and bales of paper in the lower section of No. 3 hold, the intense heat and smoke which was given off making it impossible for the firemen to remove the uppermost cargo in order to reach the burning material below with their nozzles. Streams were played into the hold and, with the aid of gas masks, men descended in an effort to tackle the outbreak at close range and direct streams on to the actual seat of the fire. In spite of repeated attempts, however, they were unsuccessful in this on account of the excessive heat, with the result that it was decided to flood the lower section of the hold.

After about four hours' work, the fire was extinguished, the damage being confined to the cargo in the section of No. 3 hold wherein the outbreak originated.

September 30, 14.47 hrs. 510 Nanking Road, Silversmith's Shop.—This proved to be the most serious and threatening fire that the Brigade has had to deal with in the Settlement for a considerable time, requiring the services of six pumps, two other machines and more than 80 officers and men before it was finally brought under control.

Central Division turned out to what was obviously a late call—received simultaneously by telephone and from the watchtower on Sassoon House—and found a large three-storied building near the junction of Nanking and Chekiang Roads well alight on all floors. A call for assistance was immediately turned in and pumps from Sinza and Hongkew, as well as a large capacity pump from Central, responded.

The interior of the building was constructed entirely of wood and, as is so often the custom in older Chinese buildings, light-wells—a large one in the centre and three smaller on the sides and front—ran through the premises from ground floor to roof and, while it is not definitely known where or how the fire started, it is obvious that the exceptionally rapid spread of the outbreak must be attributed to the inflammable construction of the interior and to the fact that these light-wells acted as flues for the flames.

Lines of hose were laid from pumps on all sides, while water towers were got to work from a turntable and other escapes to protect neighbouring property and to direct powerful streams into the heart of the fire, but for some considerable time it threatened to spread throughout the congested block of highly inflammable property in which the affected premises were situated. After a strenuous fight, however, the combined Divisions succeeded in mastering the situation and, with the exception of slight damage to the roof timbers of a building on the opposite side of a narrow alleyway on the west side, the fire was confined to the building in which it originated. The south-west and south-east corners of the silversmith's building were sub-let and used as a provision merchant's and fruiterer's respectively and these were involved, the former to a somewhat serious extent. The stock in the silversmith's suffered very severely, the interior of the building being almost entirely gutted.

BEING THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF
THE COUNCIL FOR THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1932. No. 1394

COUNCIL MEETING.

A meeting of the Council was held on October 26, 1932. There were present:—Messrs. A. D. Bell (Chairman), H. E. Arnhold (Vice-Chairman), Capt. J. J. Bahnson, Messrs. B. D. F. Beith, O. S. Lieu, P. W. Massey, O. Okamoto, F. J. Raven, H. Terai, T. D. Woo, L. T. Yuan and Yu Ya-ching.

COMMITTEE MEETING.

A meeting of the Finance Committee was held on October 28, 1932. There were present:—Messrs. A. D. Bell (Chairman), H. E. Arnhold and Tsuyee Pei.

JUNIOR SCHOOL FOR BOYS.

Cheaper Building Wanted.

The Council, on October 26, endorsed the Education Board's deferment of approval of plans submitted for the Junior School for Boys, Yu Yuen Road, pending consideration of the advisability of erecting a less expensive and elaborate type of building.

When the plans were before the Education Board, the Acting Commissioner of Public Works stated that the building had been designed to accommodate 350 pupils and that its estimated total cost, inclusive of furniture, was Tls. 250,000. If the plans submitted were approved, building would be commenced within a few weeks.

The Chairman stated that he had recently seen a photograph of the new Japanese Secondary School for Boys in Pingliang Road. This building would accomodate 600 pupils and he understood its cost, exclusive of furniture, was Tls. 130,000. He, therefore, queried the advisability during the existing period of financial stringency of erecting buildings of such expensive and elaborate types as had been the custom in the past when the Council's financial position was more favourable. Although he appreciated that the type of municipal buildings generally which were erected would last for very many years, he considered that the existing financial situation demanded structures of a cheaper type, particularly so as the Council had undertaken to provide a number of new schools. When the educational building programme was first under consideration he was of opinion that the buildings to accommodate Chinese schools should be of a simple and inexpensive type in order to enable education to be provided for as many children as possible. Two new expensive buildings had, however, been provided, and he considered that in the interests of economy a change in policy in respect to all new municipal buildings merited very careful consideration.

The Acting Commissioner of Public Works stated that the plans now submitted had been drawn to meet the requirements of the Education Department. He undertook, however, to compare these plans with those of the two recently erected Japanese Schools and to inspect these latter buildings, whereafter he would report as to the essential differences in the types of construction. He would also inspect the school extension mentioned by a member which was erected to accommodate 1,500 pupils at a cost of less than Tls. 100,000.

Having regard to the pressing demand for additional Chinese educational facilities, and in concurring with the Chairman that simple and less expensive buildings would meet present needs, members deferred approval of the plans submitted pending receipt of a further report by the Acting Commissioner of Public Works containing information on the lines above indicated.

NORMAL SCHOOL.

A comprehensive report by the Acting Superintendent of Education furnishing details concerning the work and the cost of the Municipal Normal School has been furnished for the information of members of the Education Board.

The Acting Superintendent stated that the enrolment figures for the current term which commenced on October 17 and which were now submitted might be increased.

Members expressed their gratification that as many as 33 external pupils had enrolled and they were of opinion that in order to encourage more external students to enrol, the facilities provided by this school should be given publicity through the medium of the "Municipal Gazette."

The Acting Superintendent undertook to submit a further statement giving particulars of additional enrolments and also as to additional staff which might be rendered necessary thereby.

EASEMENT.

The following easement was granted during September:

A permit was issued to the Asiatic Petroleum Company to instal a free air standard in the Municipal footpath fronting the premises 1153 Sinza Road.

CHINESE CADETS AND PUBLIC HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

In pursuance of its policy of appointing Chinese Cadets in Municipal departments whenever possible, the Council sanctioned the selection this year of four additional Chinese Cadets for service in the Public Health Department. Mr. Sung Ding-yee was selected from the reserve list of 1931 and took up his duties in September last, and now three others have been appointed and took up duty on November 1. There are eight cadets in the Health Department now in their second year.

These cadets serve on probation for one year, during which time they undergo a course of physical training, in addition to their training as Health Inspectors, the plan being to give them posts as junior Health Inspectors on the termination of their training, which extends over about six and a half years, although where a cadet displays exceptional keenness and ability the Commissioner of Public Health may accelerate his training. Examinations relating to public health and hygiene as applied locally are held annually, and future retention or promotion of the cadets in the service depends on the results at these examinations. On successful completion of the period of training, these cadets will be appointed Junior Health Inspectors with commencing pay at $250 per mensem for three years, after which they will become eligible to promotion to Health Inspectors in accordance with scales of pay authorized by the Council.

The three cadets now appointed, it is interesting to note, were all educated in Municipal Council public schools, two in the Ellis Kadoorie Public School and one in the Public School for Chinese Boys. All three took the Hongkong matriculation. The names of these cadets are Messrs. Cheng Hung, Mo Zoong Kou and Woo Kweuh-Jih. The cadet appointed in September was educated at the Chinese Y.M.C.A. High School, Shanghai.

LAND COMMISSION.

CASE No. 229.

Scheduled widening of Haining Road, Cadastral Lots 953 and 956, heard in the Council Chamber on Thursday, September 29, 1932.

Owners Claim ....Tls. 9,765
Council's Claim ..Free Surrender
Award .....Tls. 4,233

RECORD OF PROCEEDINGS.

Mr. M. B. Brown, of Messrs. Platt, White-Cooper & Co., assisted by Mr. J. T. W. Brooke as a technical adviser, appears for the registered owners. The Council is represented by Mr. Winter.

Mr. Winter commences the proceedings by announcing that the Council withdraws its offer of compensation in the sum of Tls. 2,987, and now asks for a free surrender of the scheduled area.

Opening his case, Mr. Brown refers to the plan of the locality and states that the two lots concerned, bearing numbers 953 and 956 are being developed as one project in conjunction with the two intervening lots, numbers 954 and 955. A cinema theatre is being constructed on this land. The total area required by the Council in connection with the road widening is 0.181 mow, the assessed value being Tls. 33,000 per mow. The owners had based their claim for compensation on the assessed value, without any deduction for betterment. He submits that it was a fair offer as the market value of the land is very much higher than the assessed value so that if the former value was taken as a basis the owners would probably be asking for twice the amount as the sum stated for compensation. However the Council had not accepted the claim but offered instead a sum of Tls. 2,987, which is based on the assessed value of the land less a deduction to the extent of 50 per cent. for betterment. As no agreement was reached the owners are putting in a different claim based on the market value of the land which, he says, is Tls. 65,000 a mow. Worked out on that basis the value of the land to be surrendered is Tls. 11,765. From that amount a deduction of Tls. 2,000, would be, in his submission, a fair sum for betterment. He contends that the assessed value of land is purely artificial and has little relation to the real value, that is the market value. He asks the Commissioners to note that betterment was being claimed not only because of the present proposed widening of the road but also because of improvements made many years ago before the present owners acquired the property. Formerly the property was bounded on the south side by a road running along the north bank of a creek and it is said that when this road was widened by filling in the creek no contribution of land was made from these lots, but he fails to see why that factor should be taken into consideration in assessing betterment at the present time. Improvements made many years ago were reflected in the enhanced price of the land which the present owners had to pay. He admits that some betterment will accrue from the widening of Haining Road but to nothing like the extent claimed by the Council. Concluding Mr. Brown asks Mr. Brooke to speak of the value of the lots under consideration and on the question of betterment.

Responding Mr. Brooke says that in his opinion, the mentioned sum of Tls. 65,000 per mow as the market value of the land is a conservative estimate. It is, however, difficult to prove the market value as there had not been many sales of land recently in the neighbourhood. Nevertheless there was no doubt whatever that the market value is very much in excess of the assessed value which is Tls. 33,000 per mow. Land along Szechuen Road about 150 yards distant from the lots in question was valued at about two lakhs per mow, and along Chapoo Road in the vicinity at from Tls. 80,000 to Tls. 90,000 per mow. The nearest place on which he could give actual figures concerned a lot, No. 912, on Quinsan Road. The area of the portion of the lot covered by the building is 0.841 mow on which an apartment house has been erected and the premises already rented. The cost of the building was Tls. 100,000, the net rentals, after a deduction of 20 per cent. for charges, amount to Tls. 12,480 per annum. Capitalizing this Tls. 12,480 at 7 per cent. would yield a sum of Tls. 178,285 as the value of the property. Deducting the cost of the building of Tls. 100,000 would leave a sum of Tls. 78,285 as the value of 0.841 mow of land or Tls. 93,200 per mow. Haining Road is, in his opinion, quite as important as Quinsan Road, but the owners in the present case were only claiming at the rate of Tls. 65,000 per mow as the property is not so advantageously placed as the Quinsan Road property. Most land had appreciated very materially during the past three years but although this year there had not been much appreciation, and indeed some depreciation may have taken place, he thought land in that particular locality had appreciated and would continue to appreciate as it was greatly in demand by the Japanese. As regards betterment, he wishes to mention that last June, some land was surrendered from Cadastral Lot 965, which is next door but one to the property under discussion and no claim for betterment was made.

Reading the three considerations described in paragraphs (a) (b) and (c) of the Council's letter dated July 26 to Messrs. Platt, White-Cooper & Co., Mr. Brooke remarks that while the statements contained therein may be perfectly true the Council is not justified in advancing arguments based on betterment effected many years ago. Mr. Winter objects to any criticism of the Council's action by Mr. Brooke whom he describes as an expert witness for the claimants. The Commissioners sustain this objection, the Chairman remarking that the Commission had on a previous occasion made a ruling in support of Mr. Winter's contention.

Continuing Mr. Brooke says he wishes to point out that the land under discussion was bought by the present owners but two years ago after the improvements referred to had been made. Accordingly the price they paid included the value of these improvements and no further levy for betterment should be made on the present owners. He believes that he has adduced sufficient reasons why compensation should be paid at the rate of Tls. 65,000 per mow and is of the opinion that not more than Tls. 2,000 should be deducted therefrom for betterment.

Referring to the comparison made by Mr. Brooke between the lots in Haining Road and Lot 912 in Quinsan Road, Mr. Winter enquires the basis of difference of approximately Tls. 30,000 per mow and whether such amount was not purely arbitrary. Mr. Brooke replies that it is what he considers to be a fair allowance for the difference in locality and adds that 20 per cent. of the rentals is a fair charge for services given the tenants as cost of operating the lift, heating and light was not included.

Continuing he states that the apartment house in Quinsan Road occupies the frontage of the entire lot thus rendering the property there much more valuable than if the average value of the lot is taken as a basis. However in the present Haining Road case the claim is made merely on the average value of the lot, the special value arising from road frontage not being emphasized.

Answering a query from Mr. Winter, Mr. Brooke admits that the market value of land in North Szechuen Road which was quoted by him was "somewhat vague" but he could bring some substantiation of his statement regarding market values of land in Chapoo Road. However he was content to leave the matter to the Commissioners. Mr. Winter enquires whether in the event the Council had not decided to widen Haining Road from its original width, Mr. Brooke would have advised the construction of this large theatre on the lots under discussion. Mr. Brooke replies "perhaps not" but adds that the construction of improved buildings has more influence in inspiring road widening than road widening has in inspiring improved buildings.

Mr. Winter remarks that the comparison between values in Haining Road and Quinsan Road is an arbitrary one not based on any specific reason. He therefore cannot accept the estimated value of the land in Haining Road which Mr. Brooke attempts to establish from the comparison.

Referring to Mr. Brooke's statement that compensation was paid for land surrendered from Cadastral Lot 965 on the assessed value without any deduction for betterment, Mr. Winter explains that no deduction was made for betterment because previous surrenders had been made from the lot. He says that the circumstances were published in the "Municipal Gazette" at the time and asks if Mr. Brooke had not read the report. Mr. Brooke replies that he had not seen the report and was not aware of all the particulars.

Mr. Winter quotes the award in Land Commission Case No. 190 which establishes the principle that betterment accruing over a number of years should be taken into consideration in assessing compensation. He remarks that if this principle is not admitted the Council would not derive any benefit from the expenditure of public money. Mr. Brooke replies that in his opinion the Council cannot reasonably claim for betterment made many years previously, as in that event buyers of land would never know where they stand. Mr. Winter rejoins that a would-be buyer could easily ascertain the status of his prospective purchase, as the plan attached to the title deed would show what surrenders, if any, had been made and also whether any portion of the land was scheduled.

Pursuant to a query from one of the Commissioners (Mr. Peek), Mr. Winter puts in a plan showing developments in Haining Road from 1901 to 1932 and revealing that the widening of the road opposite Cadastral lot 953 was effected entirely at the expense of acquisitions of land from the opposite side of the road. Mr. Winter adds that the owners of land on the south side not only made free surrenders but also contributed Tls. 3,000 towards the expense of the widening.

Continuing Mr. Winter says that the owners of Cadastral Lot 953 have thus enjoyed the improved amenities of the district without having contributed anything towards the improvements and the present owners of this lot and the ones behind have taken full advantage of the widened road and the further prospective widening by erecting a large cinema house over 300 feet in length. Mr. Winter cites, as a case analogous to the present one, Land Commission Case No. 216 relating to the surrender of part of cadastral lot No. 3609 situate at the junction of Liaoyang and Wayside Roads. Until 1907 creeks had surrounded that land which the Council had filled in and had acquired land from adjacent lots for the construction of roads. However Cadastral Lot 3609 had not contributed anything to these improvements, and accordingly the Commissioners had applied the principle, laid down in Land Commission Case No. 190 and had awarded a free surrender of the scheduled portion from that lot.

Concluding Mr. Winter says that in his submission the benefits which have accrued over a number of years to the property in question, which benefits the Council are entitled to take into consideration, easily outweigh any objections which might be advanced to the Council's demand for a free surrender of the scheduled portion. He reminds the Commissioners that the Council must take each lot "as it finds it" in attempting to assess compensation. Otherwise by a quick sale the Council will lose the value of the benefits which have accrued.

Mr. Brown remarks that it appears the land owners on the south side of the creek had no road abutting on their property before the creek was filled in during 1903. Therefore it was much more to their advantage to have this work done than was the case with the owners on the opposite side where there was a road. Mr. Winter reiterates that the owners on the south side had contributed Tls. 3,000 towards the cost of road construction in addition to surrenders of land for the purpose.

Mr. Brown states that it is, in his opinion, unfair and inequitable to make a claim for betterment effected some 25 years ago, on a land owner who had but recently bought the land in good faith. If it is a custom to make such claims it is, in his submission, a bad custom and one which should not be allowed to stand. He is confident that in no court of law would such a custom be looked upon with favour. If it is desired to preserve such claims from year to year the fact should be made public so that prospective purchasers would be warned. In this case not the slightest notice was given of the intention to claim for accrued benefits.

Mr. Winter replies that the matter mentioned by Mr. Brown is not a custom but a reasonable practice. He refers Mr. Brown to what he had said previously regarding the plan attached to the title deed showing surrenders and prospective surrenders.

One of the Commissioners (Mr. Peek) remarks he observes there are three other cinemas in the vicinity and enquires what the attitude of the Council would be towards an application for the erection of another cinema in Haining Road if the road was not to be widened, taking into consideration problems of traffic, fire risks and congestion. Mr. Winter replies that if there were police objections on account of a road being too narrow to take away the volume of traffic thus constituting a danger to the public a building permit would not be granted. The Council had authority to reject any application if it saw fit to do so.

The Commissioners then announce that the award will be given in due course.

AWARD.

That the registered owner be compensated in the sum of Tls. 4,233.00 for the scheduled area of 0.181 mow.

MUNICIPAL GAZETTE

Of the Council of the Foreign Settlement of Shanghai

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1932. No. 1396

GENERAL INVESTMENTS.

Gold Securities Held by Municipal Council.

The Secretary reported to the Finance Committee on October 28 that, on the advice of the London Office of the Hongkong & Shanghai Banking Corporation and with the concurrence of the Acting Treasurer and Controller, the Council's holding in the French 5 per cent War Loan, amounting to Frs. 320,000, had been converted into the new loan bearing interest at the rate of 4½ per cent per annum. As conversion had to be authorized hurriedly, he had no opportunity of referring this question to the Committee in advance.

The Finance Committee unanimously confirmed the action taken.

ROYAL ASIATIC SOCIETY.

Application to Council for Further Financial Aid.

Applications have been submitted to the Council by and on behalf of the Royal Asiatic Society for increased financial support by the Council and also for exemption from taxation on its new building except in the nominal amount of Tls. 37.80 per annum.

When these applications were considered by the Finance Committee, the Chairman recalled that during 1931 and 1932 the Council authorized a building grant of Tls. 50,000 to this Society. It would appear that prior to the new building being erected this Society failed to take steps to ensure that its funds for working expenses would be adequate. The Council at present made an annual grant to the Society of Tls. 1,000, and the Society now requested that this be increased to Tls. 12,000.

From information submitted by the Acting Treasurer and Controller, it was noted by the Committee that taxation on the full assessment of the new building would amount to Tls. 3,024 per annum. The amount of remission of taxation suggested was Tls. 2,872, and if to this figure was added the existing grant of Tls. 1,000 and also the sum of Tls. 3,000 (representing 6 per cent interest on the building grant) the total annual benefit would be Tls. 6,872.

While not inappreciative of the cultural value of the activities of this Society, members of the Committee concurred with the Acting Treasurer that, inasmuch as these amenities were available for all residents of Shanghai, this Society should endeavour to obtain financial support from the adjoining municipalities. An annual grant of Tls. 200 was made by the French Municipal Council. The Finance Committee, however, considered that, in consideration of the amenities provided by the Society, its application for exemption from taxation merited favourable consideration. In conformity with the Council's policy, and in order clearly to show the cost involved by subsidizing works of bienfaisance, members were of opinion that the Society should be called upon to pay municipal taxation on the full assessment and that a grant equivalent to that amount should be favourably considered. The Committee, therefore, recommended that in addition to the existing annual grant of Tls. 1,000, an additional grant equivalent to the amount of the General Municipal Rate which the Royal Asiatic Society would be required to pay on its new premises, be authorized.

At the Council meeting on November 10, in order to uphold the principle under which payment of full municipal taxation on buildings of this type is required, a member suggested that the additional grant recommended by the Committee should approximate the amount of the municipal rate rather than that it should be its precise equivalent. Upon members concurring in this view, it was resolved that, in addition to the existing grant of Tls. 1,000, an additional grant of Tls. 3,000 be authorized and that the Society be required to pay full municipal taxation on its new premises.

PLAN OF SHANGHAI AND ENVIRONS—1933.

On the recommendation of the Works Committee, the Council has approved the revised plan of Shanghai and Environs—1933, and decided to place the order for lithographing with Messrs. Kelly & Walsh, Ltd.

The Acting Commissioner of Public Works submitted to the Works Committee for its approval, two copies of the revised plan of Shanghai and Environs, the larger of which had been compiled on the lines of previous years but showed a considerable extension to the north and a slight extension to the east. He stated that approval had already been given for lithographing these plans locally at approximately half the cost of their reproduction in London.

He recommended that the order be placed with Messrs. Kelly & Walsh, Ltd. The approximate cost involved was $4,050, a considerable proportion of which would be recovered by the sale of these plans.

THE CHINESE RED CROSS GENERAL HOSPITAL.

Application for an Increase of Grant-in-Aid.

An application by the Chinese Red Cross General Hospital for an increase in the annual grant-in-aid of Tls. 2,000 made to it by the Council, was considered at a meeting of the Finance Committee. The application was based on the ground of the increase in the work undertaken by the hospital.

The Commissioner of Public Health, while expressing sympathy with the request, pointed out that the hospital was situated on the French Concession side of the Settlement border.

A report furnished by the Acting Treasurer and Controller showed that the financial position of this hospital was satisfactory, and he stated that its working account did not disclose any grant from the French Municipal Council.

In the circumstances, the Finance Committee found itself unable to support the application and recommended that the customary grant of Tls. 2,000 to this hospital be included in the Budget for 1933.

This recommendation was adopted by the Municipal Council on November 10.

HUCHOW ASSOCIATION'S BUILDING.

Appeal Against Assessment for General Municipal Rate.

The Finance Committee on October 28 considered a letter from the Huchow Association appealing against the Council's decision that General Municipal Rate be levied on the Association's new building on an assessment of Tls. 1,000 per mensem.

The Assistant Treasurer (Revenue) reported that the Memorial Hall, comprising one-third of the whole building, was reserved for meetings of a patriotic nature, and that the remainder of the building was utilized for club and guild purposes. A rental of Tls. 300 per mensem was charged for the Memorial Hall, and as this represented one-third of the building he suggested that if members of the Committee desired to give this application sympathetic consideration, he would not oppose a reduction in the assessment of the whole building to Tls. 900 per mensem.

The Committee agreed that this building did not fall within the category of those which were exempted by the Council from the payment of municipal taxation, and recommended that the Huchow Association be notified that it would be required to pay Municipal taxation on its building on an assessment of Tls. 900 per mensem.

The Council has endorsed this decision.

MODEL YACHT SAILING IN JESSFIELD PARK.

Provision of Special Pond Will Be Considered in 1933.

Relative to the correspondence which has recently appeared in the Press advocating the provision of a model yacht pond in Jessfield Park, the Works Committee reported to the Council on November 10 that in its view any attempt to adapt the pond at present being used for model yacht sailing was undesirable, but it proposed that the question of building a separate model yacht pond in the park should be considered when the estimates for the next financial year were considered.

The Acting Commissioner of Public Works reported to the Committee that the Superintendent of Parks had endeavoured so far as possible to accommodate those wishing to sail model yachts. In regard to the suggestion that had been made that the shrubs bordering the pond should be removed, he stated that the shrubs and rockeries were an essential landscape feature and their elimination would seriously impair the scenic beauty of the park. Moreover, these shrubs formed shelter against the north wind, and in any case the depth of the pond rendered it unsuitable for model yacht sailing. The Acting Commissioner considered that any alterations made to the pond to adapt it for model yacht sailing would be only in the interests of the minority of those who used the Park. He, therefore, opposed any proposal for the conversion of the pond.

The Works Committee in recording its unanimous view that any attempt to adapt the pond for model yacht sailing was undesirable, agreed that an appropriation should be included in the 1933 preliminary estimates to provide a separate model yacht pond in the Park, although they expressed doubt as to whether financial conditions would permit the provision of this amenity during that year.

The Council endorsed the decision of the Works Committee.

DISCHARGED PRISONERS' AID SOCIETY.

Grant in Aid of Salvation Army Department.

The Salvation Army in Shanghai recently submitted to the Council a report and financial statement of its Discharged Prisoners' Aid Department for the twelve months ended June 30, 1932. These documents were considered by the Finance Committee on October 28, when the Acting Treasurer reported that the Salvation Army assumed responsibility for this work as from July 1, 1931, and although the Council made a grant at the rate of $5,000 per annum to the Discharged Prisoners' Aid Society for the period ended March 31, 1931, the Salvation Army omitted to renew the application for such a grant. The financial statement revealed a deficit of $581.53 as on December 31, 1931, and the Acting Treasurer recommended that this sum be reimbursed to the Salvation Army by the Council and that a grant-in-aid of $5,000, be approved for 1932.

The Finance Committee, in view of the excellent work undertaken by this department of the Salvation Army, unanimously recommended that the deficit of $581.53 be made good by the Council and that a grant of $5,000, for the current year be authorized.

The Council has adopted the Committee's recommendation.

PUBLIC AND T. H. SCHOOL HEADMASTERSHIP.

Mr. Percy Crow, M.A. (Cantab), Assistant Master at the Public and Thomas Hanbury School for Boys, has been appointed by the Municipal Council to be Headmaster of that school from the commencement of the next Spring Term, vice Mr. R. Ross, B.A., (Oxon) retired.

Mr. Crow, who entered the service of the Municipal Council on March 29, 1927, is 42 years of age. He has had a distinguished scholastic career and rendered outstanding services to his country during the Great War, being promoted to the rank of Major and awarded the Distinguished Service Order, and the Military Cross.

After attending a private school, Mr. Crow was awarded an entrance scholarship at Tonbridge School. Four years later, he was editing a school magazine and was secretary of the Reading Society. In 1909 he was awarded a Leaving Exhibition by the school and won a Classical Scholarship at Pembroke College, Cambridge. In 1911 and 1912 he was President of Pembroke College Debating Society, and in the latter year he graduated in Classics with Honours, 1st Division, 2nd Class. Mr. Crow was then appointed sixth form Classical Master at Epsom College. In the following year he passed the Territorial Officers Captains' Examination and on the outbreak of the Great War he received a Commission in the Royal Field Artillery, in which he rose to the rank of Major in command of a six-gun battery. He was awarded the D.S.O. and M.C., was four times wounded and twice mentioned in despatches. After the Armistice, he was appointed Educational Officer, 161st Brigade. Discharged from the Army in 1919 with the rank of Major, he returned to Epsom College to resume his work there and at the same time took up the command of the School Cadet Corps. In 1923 Mr. Crow was appointed Senior Assistant Classical Master, King's School, Rochester, with command of the School Corps and was in charge of Day Boy House. Two years later he was appointed instructor of English at the Imperial Japanese Naval College, which post he relinquished to enter the service of the Shanghai Municipal Council, joining the staff of the Nieh Chih Kuei School, later being transferred to the Public and Thomas Hanbury School.

PLAYING SPACES FOR CHINESE SCHOOLS.

At a meeting of the Education Board, the Acting Superintendent of Education presented for consideration a proposal by the Chinese Education Officer that the Council should purchase an area of approximately mow 3.650 adjoining the New Eastern District Primary School, Kinchow and Wayside roads, for use as additional playing space. The estimated cost of this area was Tls. 57,000.

The Acting Commissioner of Public Works reported that the total area occupied by this school and by the adjoining Nieh Chih Kuei Public School for Chinese was mow 25.370. He did not consider it incumbent upon the Council to provide further space, particularly in view of the high cost of the land in the neighbourhood and the fact that these schools were day schools. With regard to the Chinese Education Officer's suggestion that additional space was necessary in order to avoid the dividing up of the playing field, the Acting Commissioner stated that apparently the Chinese Education Officer was under a misapprehension as to this, since it was not proposed to divide up this space; the existing fence was erected temporarily by the contractor and would be removed when his work was completed.

The Acting Superintendent was of opinion that the area of the existing playing field was sufficient to meet the needs of both schools; in addition to this there were two smaller areas which could be used by the respective schools for drill, etc. He, therefore, requested that the Board should definitely authorize the joint use of the playing field, whereafter he would notify the two Headmasters and satisfactory arrangements could be made for the playing field to be allocated for the use of the respective schools.

After brief discussion, the Acting Superintendent was authorized to make the necessary arrangement with the respective Headmasters.

The Council has endorsed this decision.

The Municipal Treasurer and Controller's offices, including the Loans and Banking Office, have been moved to the Kiangse Road frontage of the Administration Building (second floor), entrance No. 209 Kiangse Road.

EDUCATIONAL FILMS IN COUNCIL SCHOOLS.

In a report submitted to the Education Board, the Acting Superintendent of Education recommended that provision be made in the forthcoming Education Budget for a grant-in-aid of Tls. 2,000 to the International Educational Cinematographic Institute, which, in return, would lend films free of charge to the Council's schools.

Commenting on this proposal, the Acting Treasurer and Controller suggested that further particulars should be obtained of the Institute's finances, etc., and the anticipated benefit to the schools.

In concurring as to the desirability of securing educational films for use in the Council's schools, members of the Board agreed that the information given as to the facilities which would become available was too meagre to permit them to endorse this recommendation for the time being. Accordingly, consideration thereof was deferred until Mr. C. Bos, Honorary Delegate for China of this Institute, returned to Shanghai.

The Acting Superintendent stated that certain of the schools were in possession of cinematographic apparatus which was now out of date. He, therefore, suggested, and members approved that this apparatus be sold.

ENROLMENT AT COUNCIL'S NORMAL SCHOOL.

The Acting Superintendent of Education submitted to the Education Board at its recent meeting a further report on the Council's Normal School showing a total enrolment of 60 for the current term and stating that fees from 35 external students amounting to $520 had been received. The unusually large enrolment had necessitated the engagement of four additional lecturers. As it was now two weeks since the courses of study began, members endorsed his recommendation that no additional students be admitted.

A member suggested that so far as external students were concerned the comparatively low fees in force at this school should apply only to those who took the whole course, and that those who enrolled only for the purpose of improving their knowledge of English should be required to pay a higher fee.

In view of the opinion expressed by the Acting Superintendent that presumably the considerably higher enrolment this term was due to the publicity given to the activities of this school by the Press Information Officer, the Chairman's suggestion was adopted that no change be made in the fees until the demand for the facilities provided by the school was more firmly established. They agreed, however, as to the desirability of the facilities afforded by this school being brought to the notice of the Council's schools for foreign children.

PUBLIC SCHOOL FOR BOYS, YU YUEN ROAD.

Demand for Cheaper Type of School Buildings.

In view of the extensive building programme contemplated by the Education Board it has been decided to set up a small Committee to consider the requirements of school buildings for the future guidance of the Board. This resolution arose from consideration of the proposed plans for the Boys' School to be constructed on Yu Yuen Road. When these plans were submitted to the Board, the Chairman expressed the opinion that the existing financial situation demanded that school buildings of a cheaper type than hitherto constructed should be erected. The Board, after some discussion, recorded its concurrence in the Chairman's views and deferred approval of the plans submitted pending receipt of a further report by the Acting Commissioner of Public Works containing information as to other school structures recently completed in Shanghai. This report was presented to the Board at its meeting on November 2, when the Acting Commissioner was requested to arrange for plans to be drawn up whereunder the initial estimated cost of the new Boys' School in Yu Yuen Road would be reduced from Tls. 250,000 to Tls. 160,000. On November 10 the Council endorsed this decision and also that to form a special committee as mentioned above.

Amended Proposals.

In his comprehensive report to the Board, the Acting Commissioner of Public Works compared the type and quality of the Japanese Secondary School building with that of the proposed Public School for Boys, Yu Yuen Road. He adhered to his opinion that it was desirable for the Council to maintain a high standard of accommodation and quality of school buildings. In order, however, to meet the wishes of the Board to restrict capital expenditure so far as possible, he submitted alternative proposals whereunder, by eliminating certain provisions included in the plans, a building to accommodate 525 pupils could be erected at a cost of Tls. 158,000. Under this amended proposal provision for an Assembly Hall had been omitted, and the woodwork shop, which was regarded by the Acting Superintendent of Education as essential, would be accommodated in the first place in one of the existing huts on this site.

The Acting Commissioner of Public Works stated that since writing his report, and after further discussion with the Acting Superintendent, he found that the accommodation under his amended proposal could be increased from 525 to 550, the total cost being Tls. 160,000 against Tls. 158,000 quoted in his report. In respect to the omission of provision for an Assembly Hall, he stated that it was proposed under the amended plans to provide for four classrooms on the ground floor to be divided by moveable partitions which when opened up would provide a place of assembly for 150 scholars. Space could be left to permit of the erection of an Assembly Hall later, the cost of this provision being estimated at Tls. 40,000.

School Assembly Halls.

A member stated that he recently visited the newly erected Eastern District Primary School. The Assembly Hall in that building was, in his opinion, unnecessarily large and elaborate, particularly so having regard to the fact that it was in the near vicinity of the Nieh Chih Kuei Public School, which also was provided with a large Assembly Hall and which presumably could on special occasions have been placed at the disposal of the Primary School. He suggested it might be possible for arrangements to be made with the Headmistress of the Yu Yuen Road Public School for Girls whereunder for the time being the Assembly Hall at that school could on special occasions be made available for the pupils at the adjoining Boys' School. He, therefore, favoured the proposal put forward by the Acting Commissioner of Public Works that a place of assembly be provided by the opening up of a number of classrooms rather than that a large and expensive Assembly Hall should be provided as had been customary in the past. He was also of opinion, and members concurred, that the provision of verandahs in future school buildings was unnecessary, since these not only added considerably to the cost of a building, but in buildings of a modern type of construction served no useful purpose.

Replying to the Chairman, the Acting Superintendent stated that he did not consider as possible adoption of the proposal that the pupils at this school should make use of the Assembly Hall at the adjoining Girls' School. Whilst in the interest of economy he was prepared not to press for the provision of an Assembly Hall at this time, both the Headmaster and himself were of opinion that this provision was highly desirable and should be favourably considered when finances permitted. It might be anticipated that when the new school building was opened the enrolment would be in the neighbourhood of 350, and if ultimately this figure was increased to 550 the need for an Assembly Hall to accommodate a larger number of pupils than that now proposed, i.e. 150, was apparent.

Upon a member enquiring whether a still further economy could not be effected by reducing the proposed cloak room accommodation and utilizing the passages for this purpose as was done at the Japanese Secondary School, the Acting Commissioner of Public Works stated that owing to the restricted length of the frontage and the reduced width of the passages at this school as compared with that of the Japanese Secondary School, adoption of this proposal was not practicable.

Decision Reached.

After further discussion, and in order to conserve the Council's finances so far as possible during the existing financial stringency, the Acting Commissioner of Public Works was requested to arrange for plans to be drawn up in accordance with his latest proposal whereunder the initial estimated cost of this building will be reduced from Tls. 250,000 to Tls. 160,000.

The Chairman stated that, in view of the extensive building programme contemplated by the Board, the Acting Commissioner of Public Works had suggested that a small Committee might be appointed to consider the requirements of school buildings for the future guidance of the Board. He, therefore, proposed, and members concurred, that this Committee should be composed of Dr. Gordon Thompson, Dr. Ou, the Acting Superintendent of Education, and the Municipal Architect.

The Council confirmed the action of the Education Board.

PUBLIC WORKS REPORT FOR OCTOBER.

The Acting Commissioner of Public Works in his report to the Council for October records the completion of a number of public works. All foundation work at the Thorne Road Bridge has been completed as well as the bunding in Fearon Road between Hanbury and Seward roads. The bunding in Fearon Road north of Yalu Road has been considerably advanced. At the Chemulpo Wharf the ash fill and strengthening of the front bank has been finished, and the Whangpoo Conservancy Board has completed its preparations for the hydraulic fill. At the Chaoufoong Road Jetty, the placing of Messrs. Jardine's Rubble Jetty is in progress.

Trials at the Penang Road Incinerator were concluded early in the month and the plant taken over as from October 5. At the Muirhead Road Incinerator, tests were continued throughout the month by Messrs. Andersen, Meyer and Co.

Considerable progress was made on the works connected with the Ward Road Gaol Extension. The Wayside Police Barracks building was completed during the month and the surfacing of the compound is now in hand.

At Sawgin Road abattoir all trades are engaged in finishing work, and the installation of the first section of the machinery is proceeding.

At the Victoria Nurses Home the sanitary, heating and electrical installations are now being made.

Two drinking fountains were completed in Hongkew Park, and work is proceeding on the erection of fountains in the Public Gardens, and Jessfield Park.

The following figures relate to the lifts effected by the electric crane at Wayside Public Wharf during the month: lifts 1,292; weight 1,352 tons; fees paid Tls. 421.10.

Pingchiao Quarry.—The Public Works Department during the month received 916.75 fong of materials.

Cleansing and Watering.—Road sweepings collected 2,784 tons; gully deposit removed 2,274 tons; water used for street watering by mechanical water wagons, 1,633,600 gallons; water used for washing roads, 3,171,200 gallons.

House Refuse.—Seventy-eight tons of house refuse were removed by motor trucks and 4,396 tons of house refuse were removed by barrows, etc., to Western and Eastern Districts for land raising. 13,032 tons of house refuse were taken away by contractor's boats, 3,324 tons of house refuse and 1,120 tons of road sweepings were sent to Penang Road incinerator. 2,770 tons of house refuse and 382 tons of road sweepings were sent to Muirhead Road incinerator.

Labour.—The average number of labourers employed by highways, sewerage and parks was as follows:—coolies, 6,495; artisans, 563; foremen, 386.

Concreteware.—The following has been produced during the month:—hand made, 6,522 pieces; machine made, 3,410 pieces.

Work Shelters.—There were 717 admissions during the month and 100 cubic feet of stone broken.

New Buildings.—There were 461 blocks of buildings under construction during the month; 230 plans were submitted for approval and 117 approved; 90 valuations of blocks of buildings for assessment purposes were made; and 4,433 inspections were made by inspectors.

ROAD EXTENSIONS AND WIDENINGS.

Haiphong Road.

MUNICIPAL GAZETTE

Of the Council of the Foreign Settlement of Shanghai

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1932. No. 1397

LAND COMMISSION.

Chengtu Road Widening.

On December 13, 1930, the Council, being desirous of improving the approach to the new Sinza Market at the corner of Chengtu and Shanhaikwan roads, wrote to Mr. Vai Zien King stating that it wished to acquire an area of mow 1.100 of his unregistered land east of Cadastral Lot 1089, and in compensation therefor offered him a sum of Tls. 36,500. It was pointed out to Mr. Vai Zien King that certain of the existing houses projected over a portion of the road which was surrendered and paid for in 1916, though no arrangements had hitherto been made for the removal of the buildings. On February 5, 1931, Mr. Vei Zien King suggested that the area of mow 1.100 be exchanged with the Council for Cad. Lot 456. On October 3, 1932, the Deputy Secretary to the Council wrote to Mr. Vai Zien King:—

"With reference to your conversations with members of the staff of the Public Works Department, I have to inform you that further consideration has been given to the question of compensation for the surrender of an area of mow 1.100 required from your unregistered land east of Cadastral Lot 1089 for the scheduled widening of Chengtu Road.

"The Council is willing to increase its original offer of Tls. 36,500 to a sum of Tls. 42,000 calculated as follows:—

	Tls.	Tls.
Land
Mow 1.100 at Tls. 40,000 per mow	44,000
Less betterment of Tls. 5,000 per mow on the remaining area of mow 0.800	4,000	40,000
Buildings.
Estimated value as old material		2,000
	Tls.	42,000

"I have to add that if this offer is not accepted within a reasonable time, the case will be referred to the Land Commission for decision."

On October 13, Mr. Vai Zien King replied:—"I have for acknowledgment the receipt of your letter dated the 3rd instant, and, in reply, have the honour to inform you that, as I am a native of Shanghai and have only this property inherited from my ancestor, my family, consisting of 20 members, is living upon it. In case, therefore, your Council should take 1.100 out of 1.900 mow of my property, it would be extremely difficult for me to get another suitable land to build up my house again. Further, I would have to lose a large sum of rental upon which my whole family is living though you would compensate me. In addition, I shall point out that the remaining area of mow 0.800 would be no use to me for any other purpose.

"On account of the above, I would still prefer to have the exchange for the old Sinza Market set forth in my letter of the 5th August last. In my opinion, as these two lands have nearly the same area, the exchange seems to be just and fair. Therefore, I pray that your Council will kindly reconsider your decision and give me a favourable reply."

In reply, the Council wrote on October 25:—"As neither the Council's terms for the surrender of the scheduled area nor for an exchange of areas appear to be acceptable to you, it is considered that there is no alternative but to refer the matter of compensation for the scheduled area to the Land Commission for decision."

The matter has accordingly been referred to the Land Commission.

MUNICIPAL ADVOCATE'S REPORT FOR OCTOBER.

The Acting Municipal Advocate reports that 10,496 cases were prosecuted in the Shanghai First Special Area District Court and the Kiangsu High Court, Second Branch, during October. 7,924 persons failed to appear in petty bye-law cases and their bail was confiscated; 111 cases were private prosecutions, while 70 cases were withdrawn on the ground that there was insufficient evidence to convict. The total number of major and minor criminal cases prosecuted to completion was 2,502; 2,299 persons were convicted, and 203 acquitted. The percentage of convictions was 91.9.

Two appeals were filed by the Council during October. Fifty-three appeals by defendants were perfected during the month, eight to the Supreme Court, 33 to the High Court and 12 to the District Court of Appeals. Forty-eight appeals by defendants were concluded and dealt with as follows:—

Accused found not guilty	4
Appeals dismissed	27
Appeals withdrawn	3
Cases sent back for retrial	1
Sentence increased	1
Sentence reduced	12

There were 126 appeals filed by Council and defendants on October 31, as follows:—

In the Supreme Court	67
In the High Court	53
In the District Court of Appeals	6

During October, 93 remands, other than writs of detention, were requested by the Council. On these remands being granted, 54 further charges and seven further arrests were made, while 14 cases are still on remand.

Twenty-four applications for extradition, involving 41 persons, were made by the extra-Settlement authorities during the month. In 16 applications prima facie cases were proved, and 30 prisoners were handed over to the authorities concerned. The evidence produced in four cases was insufficient to prove prima facie cases and the applications were refused, one accused being released, two released on security, and one charged in this Court with another crime. Four applications which were remanded in September were completed this month, 13 accused being handed over and one released on security and ordered to surrender to the Chekiang Provincial Government. Two convicts released from gaol on amnesty during the month were handed over to extra-Settlement authorities who made applications at the time of their trial. Nineteen other accused were handed over for trial by outside authorities on condition that they be returned after trial to execute sentences imposed by this Court.

On October 31, there were pending in the High Court and District Court 72 cases, which, together with 126 cases on appeal, makes a total of 198 cases pending. In addition to the above, there were 23 cases pending in which the accused are detained on writs of detention.

Forty-eight sentences of imprisonment were suspended in new cases.

PARKS REPORT FOR OCTOBER.

The Superintendent of Parks and Open Spaces, in his report for October, states:—

Jessfield Park Zoological Garden.—Preparations were made for the transfer of the less hardy species of birds into winter quarters and additional buildings were constructed to provide shelter for ruminants.

A collection of birds and animals including tragopan, golden and blue eared pheasants and two lesser panda was shipped to zoological gardens in America, and one crested deer to the Regent Park Zoological Garden, London, during the month.

The above birds and animals had been exhibited, on deposit, in the zoological garden for a long period.

General.—Displays of dahlias in the various parks were above the average during the month under review, the floral effects in Jessfield Park and the Bund Garden being especially attractive.

The planting of chrysanthemums with a view to furnishing an autumnal display of bloom was carried out, a total of over 18,000 plants being transferred from nurseries for this purpose.

The collection of seed from summer flowering subjects was carried out and the pricking out of seedlings of hardy annuals was continued.

PUBLIC HEALTH REPORT FOR OCTOBER.

The Commissioner of Public Health, in his report for October, states:—

Introductory Report.

The foreign death rate was 11.23 as compared with 16.50 for the same month last year, and the Chinese death rate was 17 as compared with 16.7 last year.

Having due regard to the fallacies which have been noted on several occasions in regard to death rates, more particularly amongst the Chinese population in this town, it may be stated that the past month was a remarkably healthy one for the time of the year. This improvement may be accounted for by the absence of diseases such as typhoid fever and the dysenteries, and in addition the comparative absence of measles.

In regard to communicable diseases, the statistical figures will be found in the table annexed to this report. It may be noted that typhoid, dysentery, smallpox, measles and malaria figures are still below the normal rate. In regard to diphtheria and scarlet fever there is a decided influx over what is usually the case, but not an excessive one. Cerebrospinal fever has been prevalent during the year, but to a minor degree, and there would seem to be no reason at the present time to expect an exacerbation. Tuberculosis remains a steady menace in this town.

The cholera campaign, which ended during the month, resulted in 209,210 inoculations, to which must be added a certain number performed by general practitioners throughout the town. This figure, though perhaps a little disappointing, representing as it does one-fifth of the population, should however be considered in relation to the fact that the system is entirely voluntary, and an additional proof of the efficiency of this form of treatment is more difficult than in such a disease as smallpox.

It is clearly impossible to draw any wide deductions in regard to efficiency as the population treated represents a comparatively small factor, though, as has been pointed out previously by other authorities, if the inoculations are so far as possible confined to the population at risk, it will eventually be both possible and reasonable to make deductions.

Smallpox vaccination was started this month, 16,883 being performed by the mobile squad and 13,756 at the Branch Health Offices, a total of 30,639 which is quite a reasonable figure.

Pathological Laboratory.

The total number of specimens examined during October shows an increase compared with the previous month, and is the highest figure on record for the month of October in any other year.

The manufacturing section devoted its energies to the preparation of smallpox and sample vaccine. 47 grammes of raw calf lymph and 7 litres of semple vaccine were produced. 20 cc. of undilated Shiga agglutinating sera was also prepared.

Routine diagnoses of infectious diseases included cholera, the dysenteries, diphtheria, cerebrospinal meningitis, malaria, Weil felix and undulant fever.

Milk Examination. — Seven samples of raw milk were examined for tubercle bacilli, and in each case two guinea pigs were inoculated.

Anthrax.—Ten specimens from animals were submitted; of these eight were positive.

Anti-Rinderpest Serum.—Bacteriological investigation and animal experiments were carried out on anti-rinderpest serum.

Pasteur Treatment.—Fifty persons called for advice, cauterisation and/or treatment, including one from an outport. No fatalities amongst treated cases were reported during the month.

Hospitals Division.

The number of cases of infectious diseases this month is about the same as last, there being an increase amongst foreign cases, and a decrease amongst Chinese. The most marked feature is the very big drop in cases of intestinal diseases.

There was an increase in diphtheria. Scarlet fever is also on the increase. Cerebrospinal fever is still present in small numbers, and one foreign case (the first this season) was admitted to the Foreign Isolation Hospital.

Veterinary Surgeon's Report.

Milk Supply.—The average daily milk production was 23,400 lbs. an increase of 8.7 per cent over last month's figures, accounted for by the reopening of Park Dairy which has been reconstructed, and Wha Shing Dairy under entirely new management. Several animals have been imported from Japan by other licensed dairies.

Of the 46 samples submitted for bacteriological examination, 30 were satisfactory and 16 unsatisfactory, and of the 105 samples submitted for chemical analysis 98 were satisfactory and seven were unsatisfactory.

Rinderpest appeared for the first time in the season in one dairy in the Northern district.

The number of deaths due to contagious pleuro-pneumonia is still decreasing. Only one case of anthrax appeared among the dairies.

Observation Kennels. — Twenty animals were received for observation, 18 having bitten people; three died of rabies.

Meat Supply.—In the Municipal Abattoir, an increase was noted in the daily kill of oxen and sheep, whereas in the case of pigs and calves a decided drop occurred.

A certain amount of inspection of buffalo meat is now being undertaken with the result that approximately three buffaloes are slaughtered under supervision daily.

The main causes of rejections in oxen relate to contagious pleuro-pneumonia and tuberculosis. In pigs, swine fever appears to be the most prevalent disease.

392 specimens were examined for trichina, which gave uniformly negative results.

Markets, Bakeries and Other Food Shops.

In regard to this Division satisfactory progress is to be noted in most of the markets, and considerable attention continues to be paid to the various bakeries. During the month special attention was paid to Chinese Hotel kitchens with a view to improvement in their general condition.

Sanitation Division.

Routine work of the sanitation division continues unabated. There is, however, very little in regard to this routine but very necessary work which is of great public interest.

The necessary propaganda in regard to smallpox vaccination took up a good deal of time and the expansion of supervision over the smaller food shops is progressing satisfactorily. Some improvement is to be noted in these premises, though this division has a long and arduous task in front of it.

Owing to the approach of the winter season the weekly lectures for school children on health subjects have been recommenced. In addition arrangements have been made to extend the use of films in this respect.

Mosquito reduction work was carried out as far as funds permitted, and certain experimental work with various new compounds was performed. In addition a good deal of activity was evinced in regard to mosquito fish and large numbers of fish were given to various medical men and others engaged in similar work, in other parts of the country.

Here follows tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases, and of the work of the Food and Dairies, and Markets and Bakeries Divisions; Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics, Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouses.

Chlorine in chloride figures have varied between 2.0 and 2.8 parts per 100,000. Ammonia figures have been normal and nitrites generally absent. Free chlorine has varied from 0.03 to 0.16 parts per million in samples taken from the laboratory taps and from nil to 0.08 parts per million in samples taken at other points.

Bacteriological Examination:—

During the month 35 samples were examined, 32 from taps in various parts of the Settlement and three from hydrants. Of the 32 tap samples seven contained organisms of the B. coli group, two of these contained B. aerogenes 10 per litre each, one contained B. coli communis 49 per litre, one contained B. coli communior 35 per litre, two contained indeterminate organisms of the B. coli group 475 and 5890 per litre respectively and one contained B. aerogenes and indeterminate organisms of the B. coli group 10 per litre. The remaining tap samples and the three hydrant samples contained less than 10 B. coli group per litre.

Report on Analysis:—

On the whole examinations show proof of satisfactory purification, the main samples being of good purity.

MUNICIPAL GAZETTE

Of the Council of the Foreign Settlement of Shanghai

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1932. No. 1399

THE CHINESE RED CROSS GENERAL HOSPITAL.

The following is a translation of a letter, dated November 23, 1932, received from the French Municipal Administration:—

SIR,—In the "Municipal Gazette" of November 18, 1932, it is recorded under the heading "The Chinese Red Cross General Hospital—Application for an increase of Grant-in-aid" that an examination of the accounts of this Institution did not disclose any grant from the French Municipality.

We are directed to inform you that "The Chinese Red Cross General Hospital" receives a grant in the form of exemption from land and house tax, which for the year 1932 amounts to Tls. 1,345.85.

Having regard to the comments which might arise as a consequence of the publication in the "Municipal Gazette" of the Treasurer and Controller's statement, we would request you to be good enough to publish a correction.

We are, etc.,
(Sgd) M. VERDIER,
Director General.
E. FAURAZ,
Secretary.

The Secretary,
Shanghai Municipal Council.

To this the following reply was dispatched:—

Council Chamber,
Shanghai, Nov. 25, 1932.

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honour to acknowledge receipt of your letter of November 23, regarding a statement published in the "Municipal Gazette" of November 18, which might create the impression that the Chinese Red Cross General Hospital received no financial assistance from the French Municipal Administration.

Since the Council is, of course, concerned that this erroneous impression should not gain currency, I have to inform you that it will be pleased to give early publicity to your letter under reply, thereby furnishing the requisite correction.

I have the honour to be,
Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
(Sgd) J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

Translation of a letter from the French Municipal Administration dated November 26, 1932.

In continuation of our letter No. 1144 dated November 23, we would inform you that "The Chinese Red Cross General Hospital" received at the commencement of the year 1932, a grant of $1,000, which sum was paid out of the French Concession Fund for Social Welfare. (Caisse des Oeuvres d'Interet Public de la Concession Francaise).

We are, etc.,
(Sgd) M. VERDIER,
Director General.
E. FAURAZ,
Secretary.

The Secretary,
Shanghai Municipal Council.

CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUND TO BE CLOSED.

Construction of the Public School for Boys, Western District, will begin in the near future and it will be necessary to close the Children's Playground in Yu Yuen Road which now occupies the site.

TERRORIST ACTIVITIES.

The minutes of the Watch Committee confirmed by the Council on November 23 revealed that the authorities are doing everything in their power to curb anti-Japanese terrorist activities in the Settlement.

As the result of an inquiry made by a member, the Commissioner of Police submitted to the Committee a report on anti-Japanese terrorist activities here, and outlined the action taken by the police to cope therewith. The Commissioner emphasized the difficulty of obtaining assistance from members of the public in general or from individuals who had been threatened. The result of this reluctance to render assistance was that the police had to depend on their own sources of information. In cases where information of the receipt of threats was discovered, the terrorists had not carried out their avowed intentions. Special police precautions were taken in districts where bomb-throwing had previously occurred; likewise, if information was given by shopkeepers that they had received threatening letters that their premises might be subjected to this form of terrorism, similar measures were adopted.

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION
No. 4298.
MOTOR AMBULANCE AND INOCULATION TRUCK LICENCE.

NOTICE is hereby given that, with effect from January 1, 1933, Motor Ambulances and Inoculation Trucks will be subject to a new Licence, for which the following conditions have been approved:—

1.—That the licence be not transferable to any other person or persons and refers only to the vehicle in respect of which it is issued.

2.—That the vehicle in respect of which this licence is issued shall not be employed in carrying passengers, other than patients and the necessary attendants, but shall be used exclusively for the purposes as described in the application form; and that in the case of ambulances the following shall be observed:—

(a) Blankets, mattresses, linen, etc., used in the Ambulance shall be clean and in proper sanitary condition.

(b) The ambulance shall be disinfected daily with Cyllin, Izal or such disinfectant.

(c) Following the transport of any case of communicable disease the ambulance, with blankets, mattresses, linen, etc., shall be sent to the Municipal Disinfection Station, 3 Range Road, for disinfection. Disinfection is done free of charge.

(d) A correct record shall be kept of all cases transported in the ambulance, giving name and address of patient, to which hospital transferred and disease.

(e) Ambulance attendants shall wear overalls or uniform which must be disinfected immediately after the transportation of each case.

3.—That each wheel of the vehicle be fitted with pneumatic tyres approved by the Council.

4.—That the over-all length of the vehicle including the body be not more than 24 feet, and that the over-all width including the body be not more than seven feet six inches.

5.—That the number of this licence, in black figures on a white background prefixed by a Geneva cross on enamelled iron plates issued by the Council, be exhibited in conspicuous positions at the front and back of the vehicle; that the figures and cross thereon be maintained at all times easily legible, undefaced and unobscured by any portion of the vehicle or by any object attached thereto; and that no additional number plate be affixed nor any number painted on the front or back of the vehicle, other than licence plates or licence numbers issued by the local Chinese Authorities for the time being; and should the number plate be lost or damaged a duplicate may be obtained at the Gordon Road Vehicle Inspection Office on payment of $2.

6.—That an enamel disc, of a different colour for each half year, bearing the number of the licence, be fixed to the plate in front of the vehicle; and that the new disc be obtained at the Revenue Office by the licensee or his agent at the expiry of each half-yearly period.

7.—That the licence number plates issued with this licence remain the property of the Council and that the licensee be responsible for their safe keeping until such time as he ceases to be the licensee, when he will cause the said licence plates to be returned to the Gordon Road Vehicle Inspection Office.

8.—That between sunset and sunrise the vehicle carry two lighted lamps in front, one on each side, so constructed and placed as to exhibit a white light visible within a reasonable distance in front and a lighted tail lamp showing a red light behind and a white light to the left so placed as to render the number and cross of the licence clearly visible within a reasonable distance, such tail lamp to be kept free from mud, oil or other material which may tend to obscure the light therefrom; that where headlights only are carried in front, they be provided with a suitable means of reducing the power of the light; that within the area east of Avenue Haig at its junction with Bubbling Well Road, and west of Muirhead Road the use of the headlights be permitted only when their full power is suitably reduced, these and other lamps carried to be subject to approval by the Council.

9.—That after the issue of this licence the vehicle be presented before the expiry of each half-yearly period at the Gordon Road Vehicle Inspection Office for inspection while continuing in use, and be maintained in good repair at all times.

10.—That the vehicle carry an instrument, other than a bell or gong, capable of giving audible and sufficient warning of approach or position, and that such instrument be subject to approval by the Council.

11.—That the vehicle shall not be used for advertising or propaganda purposes without the Council's sanction previously obtained.

12.—That no steel or other armoured plate or protection shall be affixed to the vehicle in respect of which this licence is issued, either temporarily or permanently, without the written permission of the Council first had and obtained.

13.—That the licensee be responsible for any damage done through the negligence of the man in charge of the vehicle.

14.—That immediate notice be given to the Municipal Police of any death occurring on the vehicle.

15.—That no gratuity of any kind be offered or given to any employee of the Council.

16.—That immediate notice in writing be given to the Traffic Office and the Revenue Office of any change of address of the licensee.

17.—That on a breach of any of its conditions the licence be subject to withdrawal or suspension by the Council, and the whole or any part of the money deposited as security be liable to forfeiture at the option of the Council.

NOTE.

Licence is also available in the French Concession.

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary.

MEDICAL REGISTER.

The value of the Shanghai Municipal Council Register of Medical Practitioners, Dentists and Veterinary Surgeons having been demonstrated, it is proposed to issue a third edition early in January. In order to bring the register up-to-date and to make it complete, not only are those at present registered asked to send corrections to the Registrar, Room 286, Administration Building, but practitioners who have not yet applied for registration are requested to do so if they wish to have their names included in the new edition. In this connection it may be said that the register is prima facie evidence that the persons named therein are registered medical practitioners, dentists and veterinary surgeons, approved by the Shanghai Medical Board. Conversely, the absence of the name of any person from the register will be evidence that such person is not so registered.

The Board is sending out notices to practitioners already on the register asking for any alteration of address, and for the addition of qualifications since the issue of the second edition in July. In addition to the particulars already given, it is proposed in future to state the sex of each practitioner. Registered practitioners who do not receive a notice are requested to notify the Registrar.

SANITARY CONDITIONS IN AIDED CHINESE SCHOOLS.

Education Board Adheres to Definite Principle.

At the meeting of the Education Board on November 16, a further comprehensive report was submitted by the Commissioner of Public Health dealing with the inspection of Chinese Schools to which the issue of grants-in-aid had been approved and awarding them a definite percentage value on the basis of sanitary conditions and requirements. In respect to five schools alluded to in his report, the premises of which were manifestly unsuitable, the Commissioner was of opinion that the grants authorized thereto should be applied towards the occupation of new premises.

Although members appreciated that these schools might experience a certain amount of difficulty in securing satisfactory premises, they considered that adherence to the principle laid down by the Board relative to compliance with the requirements of the Public Health Department was in the interests of the schools concerned.

A member stated that the Sub-Committee charged with submitting recommendations for the issue of grants-in-aid realized that the sanitary conditions at a number of these schools were unsatisfactory, but that in some cases its recommendation was influenced by the fact that a particular school was the only one in a certain locality. He agreed, however, with the Commissioner of Public Health as to the desirability of persuading these schools to endeavour to obtain premises which conformed to his departmental requirements.

Grants Authorized.

After discussion, members authorized the issue of the grants for the September quarter to all approved schools with the exception of the five schools referred to in the report submitted by the Commissioner of Public Health, these latter schools to be notified that payment of the grant was contingent upon their removal to satisfactory premises.

In respect to the payment of building grants, the Acting Treasurer and Controller was authorized to make such payments from these grants as were necessary to defray the cost of improvements which, in the opinion of the Commissioner of Public Health, were essential. The Council confirmed this decision on November 23.

SCHOOL PLANS APPROVED.

The revised plans of the Junior School for Boys have been submitted to the Education Board by the Acting Commissioner of Public Works and formally approved. The Council has endorsed this action.

GIFT TO EDUCATIONAL LIBRARY.

The Municipal Council has received through Messrs. Edward Evans & Sons, Ltd., a further large consignment of books presented to the Central Educational Library by the following London publishers:—Messrs. Macmillan & Co., Ltd., A. & C. Black Ltd., Cambridge University Press, The Grant Educational Co., Ltd., E. J. Arnold & Son, Ltd., Basil Blackwell, J. M. Dent & Sons.

The Council and the Education Board have conveyed their thanks and appreciation to Messrs. Edward Evans & Sons, Ltd., and the donors of this generous gift.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Utilization of Flat Roofs For Recreation.

The Chairman of the Education Board, at the meeting on November 16, referred to the suggestion put forward by a member at the last Council meeting that in order to some extent to limit the demand for playing space, flat roofs which could be utilized for recreational purposes be provided on future school buildings. At the Chairman's request, members of the Sub-Committee undertook to give this suggestion full consideration when the question of school building requirements was under review.

PUBLIC SCHOOL FOR GIRLS, YU YUEN ROAD.

Proposed Additional Junior Class Next Term.

The Acting Superintendent of Education recommended for approval of the Education Board the suggestion of the Headmistress of the Public School for Girls, Yu Yuen Road, that a new junior class of about 30 pupils for children between the ages of eight and ten years be formed in January, 1933. He stated that the relinquishment of the space formerly occupied by the Headmistress as residential quarters had rendered available additional classroom and cloakroom accommodation and would enable the total enrolment of the school to be increased to 480. Formation of the proposed new class would necessitate the engagement of an additional teacher, but it was anticipated that the additional school fees would more than offset the cost of her engagement.

Before authorizing this proposal, members of the Board requested the Acting Superintendent of Education to consult with the Headmistress and submit a further report as to the effect of the institution of this new class on the existing forms, particularly insofar as the new class might ultimately affect the transfer of pupils to the higher classes.

COUNCIL SCHOOLS FOR CHINESE.

Winter Term ends: Fri. Jan. 20.

Summer Term begins: Mon. Feb. 6.

Spring Vacation: Mon. April 3 to Sat. April 8 inclusive.

CURRICULUM IN CHINESE SECONDARY SCHOOLS.

Education Board Calls For Report From Heads.

A member of the Education Board suggested to the meeting on November 16 that the Headmistresses of the Municipal Secondary Schools for Chinese Girls and the Headmasters of each of the Municipal Secondary Schools for Chinese Boys, in collaboration with the principal Chinese Assistant in schools where such an appointment had been made, be requested to supply to the Superintendent of Education for transmission to the Board particulars of the time per week devoted in each class to each of the subjects of the school curriculum; the details to show whether Chinese or English was the medium of instruction, the text books used, and also the nationality of the teacher in each subject.

Members unanimously endorsed this proposal, and the Acting Superintendent of Education undertook to notify the Heads of schools that they were particularly requested to seek the collaboration of the Senior Assistant Master in securing these particulars. Members also adopted the proposal that, later, information on similar lines should be obtained in respect to the District Primary Schools.

At the meeting of the Council held on November 23, these recommendations were adopted, the Chairman saying that the Board's desire was that instruction in Chinese subjects should as nearly as possible correspond with the curriculum in Chinese Government schools.

CHILDREN'S STORY HOUR.

Gambling offences	54	44	51
Other crimes	252	260	349
Total	1,589	1,542	1,671

There is a total of 1,589 cases of reported crime which is an increase of 47 over the figure for September and 82 less than for the corresponding period of last year. An increase is shown in the "B", "C" and "D" Divisions whilst there is a slight decrease in the "A" Division. The cases were distributed as follows:—

	October	September
"A" Division (Central and Louza)	462	471
"B" Division (Sinza, Bubbling Well, Gordon Road, Pootoo Road)	428	411
"C" Division (Hongkew, West Hongkew, Dixwell Road)	319	312
"D" Division (Kashing Road, Wayside, Yangtszepoo, Yulin Road)	380	348

Arrests for crime committed during the month again show an increase, 1,855 persons having been arrested in October as compared with 1,752 in September and 1,594 in August. In addition 107 persons were arrested for crimes committed in previous months. 45 persons were arrested on behalf of outside authorities.

Three cases of murder were recorded during the month. A Sikh police Havildar was fatally shot in the compound of Sinza Police Station. Four Chinese (two males and two females) were stabbed and killed in a dwelling house in the Hongkew District. A male Chinese was fatally shot and two others were seriously wounded by an armed criminal in a teashop in West Hongkew District. There were 10 cases of simple abduction as against eight in September.

Five further cases were reported in which shopkeepers were intimidated in connection with the sale of Japanese goods. In four instances bombs were thrown and in one an attempt was made to set fire to a piece goods hong. Four cases occurred in "A" Division and one in "B" Division, but very little damage was done, and in one instance only slight injuries were sustained by an inmate.

All Divisions show an increase in the number of armed robberies, the total being 65 against 40 in September. In one of these cases two foreign members of the Crime Branch were severely wounded; all members of the gang were either killed or captured. There were eight cases of other robberies as against seven in September. The number of burglaries was 47 as against 59 in September—a decrease of 12. The number of housebreakings was 42 as against 28 in September. There were 790 cases of simple theft.

"A" Division recorded 27 cases of shoplifting and 53 arrests. There was an increase of pocketpicking cases in all Divisions as compared with the previous month. Twenty-two cases of receiving stolen property were recorded as against 24 in September. Cases of snatching decreased from 94 in September to 75 in October, and 64 arrests were made in connection with this type of crime.

There was an increase of 35 cases in opium offences. The Headquarters Narcotic Section carried out 13 raids and effected the arrest of 85 persons. 372 ozs. of opium, 731 ozs. of pills, five hypodermic syringes and 4oz. of morphine were seized. Other forms of crime show little variation with the exception of one case of assault causing death in "C" Division in which a coolie died as a result of injuries received from his fellow workers during a quarrel.

Notable work in "A" Division included (1) the arrest of eight armed robbers for conspiracy and being in possession of five pistols and a quantity of ammunition, seven of whom were convicted and sentenced to various terms of imprisonment; (2) the arrest of seven members of a robber gang, three of whom were charged with murder and attempted murder and four with nine counts of armed robbery; (3) the arrest of a well organized gang of 23 armed criminals who were responsible for numerous crimes including three cases of attempted assassination of prominent Government officials. A loaded pistol and a Mills hand grenade were also seized.

Notable work in "B" Division included (1) the arrest of a man suspected of being in possession of firearms, which led to 17 further arrests and the seizure of four pistols. Notable work in "D" Division included (1) the arrest of seven armed robbers, four of whom were identified as escaped prisoners from the Tetsang Prison during the Sino-Japanese hostilities, and the seizure of one pistol; (2) the arrest of 24 robbers and the seizure of three pistols and 22 rounds of ammunition. All of them were subsequently sentenced to imprisonment; and (3) the arrest of four Chinese wanted in connection with two cases of murder.

The following cases which are included in the month's figures occurred in "B" Division outside Settlement limits in houses on or abutting on Council roads:—

Theft	27
Burglary	2
Housebreaking	2
Fraud or False Pretences	2
Miscellaneous	6

The Headquarters Special Detective Squad conducted investigations into 25 cases and effected the arrest of 30 persons. In addition enquiries were continued in five cases previously reported.

Property valued at $173,652.29 was alleged to have been stolen in cases reported during the month as against property valued at $177,688.75 in September. The total value is made up as follows:—

A Division	$94,575.21
B "	$45,407.13
C "	$13,402.60
D "	20,267.35

Property valued at $84,567.03 was recovered during the month.

Finger Print Bureau.—During the month of October the total number of records received by the Bureau from all sources was 2,614, an increase of 146 as compared with September and an increase of 43 by comparison with the corresponding period of last year. 3,169 Gaol Cards were received during the month for verification of prisoners' thumb prints.

Investigations were made into 22 reported cases of the following nature:—3 armed robbery; 8 burglary; 6 larceny; 1 murder; 1 office-breaking; 1 sacrilege; 2 shop breaking. Finger prints were secured in 10 instances.

Fourteen bodies of unknown Chinese who had met their deaths under various circumstances were photographed and/or finger printed at the Public Mortuary with a view to establishing their identity. Successful results were secured in two instances.

During the month the Crime Branch Studio took 425 photographs and printed 815 copies.

Released Under Amnesty.—The number of prisoners released under Government Amnesty during October was 280.

Number of habitual criminals released	63
Number of prisoners released having previous convictions but who are not habitual criminals	54

The above includes one foreigner.

The total number released since the commencement of the Amnesty is 1,707 of whom 136 have been re-arrested for offences committed since their release.

Anti-Japanese Movement.—Terrorist methods used to make the anti-Japanese boycott effective included one case of incendiarism and one of robbery in addition to intimidation by means of threatening letters and bombs. The fire was discovered and extinguished before serious damage had been done and the proceeds of the robbery, which consisted of paper of Japanese manufacture, were all recovered and restored to the owner. Five cases of bomb throwing occurred and in two instances the missiles exploded and slightly injured one Chinese. In the confusion which followed one bomb outrage a large party of hooligans and idlers entered the victim's shop where they damaged and pilfered property to the value of $2,000. Nine Chinese who participated in this offence were subsequently arrested and sentenced to two months' imprisonment each.

Several local organizations continue to give support to the Chinese volunteers who are opposing the new régime in Manchukuo. It is reported that during the month they raised about $210,000 for the support of these Forces and sent some 55 men to the North to reinforce the Medical Corps by which they are served.

Communism.—Measures taken during the month for the suppression of Communism included searches at 27 different addresses, of which no less than 23 were found to be bases for the dissemination of "Red" propaganda. These discoveries led to the arrest of 38 Chinese. Two of these were sentenced to 2½ years' imprisonment each, twelve were extradited to the Chinese Authorities, two were released on security and 22 were still awaiting trial at the end of the month. The accused handed over to the Chinese Authorities included the chief, Chen To Seu, and the principal leaders of a group of Chinese Communists known as the Leftist Opposition Clique of that party. Five of these had been previously convicted for offences connected with the propagation of Communism. The remaining prisoners included nine important members of the Chinese Communist Youth League who were engaged in the creation of "Red Cells" in mills and factories in the industrial sections of the Eastern and Western Districts and the promotion of secret organizations known as the "Soviet Friendly League" and "Red Army Friendly League". The functions of these societies included the engagement of recruits for the technical services of the Soviet districts in the interior and the raising of funds among local workers to purchase an aeroplane for the Red Army to be named "The Shanghai Worker."

Fifty-eight thousand copies of Communist pamphlets and books came into the hands of the Police during the month. Eighteen different kinds of pamphlets, which had not been seen previously, related to various anniversaries and the Report of the League of Nations Commission. Others urged workers to join the Communist Party and a number contained appeals to the members of the Foreign Forces in Shanghai to become adherents of the Soviet cause.

Strikes.—Two strikes occurred in the Settlement during the month of October and resulted in a loss of 630 working days. The strike affected 20 workers engaged in a silk filature and 300 tailors employed in 15 different establishments.

Approximate statistics of strikes in the Settlement, French Concession and Chinese territory for the month were as follows:—

Area	No. of strikes.	No. of hands.	No. of working days lost.
Settlement	2	320	630
Chinese controlled territory	2	120	240
French Concession	1	80	15
Total	5	520	885
Total for the corresponding month of 1931	12	2,192	6,093

Apart from the labour disputes resulting in strikes, unrest was evident during the month amongst the employees of several trades, but nothing worthy of special mention took place.

Agitation by Fire Insurance Claimants.—The members of the Chapei Devastated Area Fire Insurance Compensation Association paid further visits during the month to various insurance companies in the Settlement in order to press a demand for compensation in connection with losses suffered in Chapei during the recent Sino-Japanese conflict.

Agitation Against Chinese Customs Administration. — Chinese tradespeople conducted during the month an agitation which aims at inducing the Customs Administration to discontinue the practice of searching shops for goods which find their way ashore without passing through the Customs.

Price of Rice.—The average price of rice for the month of October was as follows:—

Chinese Rice:
Best quality	$12.73
Good quality	11.82
Ordinary quality	11.00
Saigon Rice:
Best quality	11.00
Good quality	9.73
Ordinary quality	9.27

As the yield of rice for this year's harvest is very abundant in various districts of Kiangsu and Chekiang, rice of the best quality could be obtained at the end of October for $11.40 per picul. The drop in price during that month was equivalent to 16.6 per cent.

Film Censorship.—73 feature films and 92 short introductory films were censored by the police during the month. Of the feature films censored, 70 were passed without question and three were approved after they had been subject to cuts and revision. Three introductory films were also cut and revised, but the remaining 89 were approved without being changed in any way.

Traffic.—Court proceedings were instituted in 552 (36 foreigners and 516 Chinese) of 4,943 reports of traffic offences received during the month against owners and/or drivers of vehicles. The remainder were dealt with by letter of warning or entry of caution on their records.

Accidents. — Accidents coming under police notice during the months of October 1932 and October 1931:—

Bicycles.—Bicycles were involved in 173 accidents during the month and in 48 cases the cyclists were known to have been at fault.

Safety First.—During the month the professional story-teller visited various districts and gave 75 addresses in teashops and mills, etc., on safety first themes. His audience roughly totalled 4,785 persons.

Motor Horn Nuisance. — There were 41 prosecutions for this offence during the month and in addition, two chauffeurs had their driving licences suspended for a repetition of the offence.

Traffic Signal Lights.—Traffic signal lights were installed at Great Western and Edinburgh roads crossing and taken into operation on the 31st of the month.

Rickshas.—2,473 ricsha pullers were charged in the Central and Louza districts during the month for various breaches of licence conditions and traffic regulations, including 59 private ricsha pullers found plying for public hire.

Motor Cycle Patrols.—These patrols continue to do excellent work in clearing obstructions and checking improper use of the roadways, particularly during rush hour periods.

The officers in charge report on the impossibility of speeding up traffic on certain sections of roadway, owing to the obstruction caused by tramcars and omnibuses following in close succession and thereby slowing down all other traffic to the speed of these vehicles, including time taken for taking up and setting down passengers at stopping places. This is specially noticeable in Nanking Road between the Bund and Honan Road, where during rush hours it is common to see as many as three tramcars and three omnibuses following each other with little or no space between them. In the opinion of the police the tram stopping place serving West bound trams at the junction of Nanking and Honan Road is the major cause of much of this obstruction and in the interests of the public should be removed to a point west of Shantung Road where the road has been considerably widened.

This matter is being taken up with the Shanghai Electric Construction Co., Ltd., with a view to making the necessary change.

Identification Office.—During the month 2,028 prisoners' records passed through this office for identification prior to the prisoners going to court for trial, out of which number 636 were identified as having a previous conviction or convictions. In addition to the above 251 records were received from the French Police out of which number 86 were identified in the records of this office, making the total for the month:—

Duty at places of amusement amounted to 10,933 hours.

The total number of calls received during the month—106—was a record in the history of the Brigade, the previous monthly record of 93 calls having been established in February this year.

The most serious outbreak occurred on the 29th, when, in response to a telephone call, sections of Central Division turned out to the junction of Avenue Edward VII and the Bund. Although there was a strong smell of smoke and fire in the vicinity, some short time elapsed before the outbreak was actually located, and it was then found to be in the upper section of a five-storied brick godown in rear of the Shanghai Club, owned by Messrs. Mackenzie & Co., from the upper windows and doors of which volumes of smoke were issuing.

The windows throughout the building were shuttered and the metal-protected doors securely padlocked and, when entry was forced on the second and third floors, it was found that the fire had gained a firm hold amongst a quantity of tea, rubber, etc., in the north-west corner of the second floor, from which point it had apparently spread to the floor above, as the flooring and ceiling between the second and third floors had already burnt through and collapsed. Lines of hose were laid and a call for assistance was promptly turned in, to which men and machines from Hongkew and large capacity pumps from Central and Sinza responded. The fire in the western extremity of the second floor was quickly checked, but the intensity of the heat and smoke on the third and fourth floors made work at close quarters with the fire impossible and officers and men were repeatedly driven back to the staircase landings in their efforts to work nozzles into the interior of the building. The flames, aided by the inflammable nature of the cargo and the interior construction of the godown, which was entirely of wood, spread rapidly, while the Brigade was handicapped by the fact that, while many of the windows were obstructed by cargo, there was only one doorway on each floor, and the third and fourth floors were soon completely involved. In a few places burning cargo fell, through openings which had been burnt in the flooring between second and first floors, amongst the contents of the first floor, but this was promptly extinguished before any serious damage was done.

The collapse of the galvanized iron roof of the godown, soon after the fourth floor became involved, considerably assisted the Brigade, in that the opening thus formed acted as a vent and greatly reduced the intensity of the heat and smoke against which the men were battling on the floors below.

A turntable and escape had been pitched in the surrounding alleyways, and, from these, nozzles were directed into the upper section of the burning building, whilst a deluge set, providing a large and powerful stream, was operated from the roof of an adjacent godown.

The Robert Dollar Building, which was separated from the actual fire by an alleyway approximately only 15 feet wide, was very seriously threatened and consequently a continuous curtain of water was played down the entire south side of the building from the roof. The windows of the building, in spite of this, were cracked with the heat and it was undoubtedly due to the early use of revolving nozzles and the fact that the wind was blowing from the north, that the upper floors of the Dollar premises were not also seriously affected. As a protection for the godowns on the south and west sides of the outbreak, which also were menaced while the blaze was at its height, cooling jets were used continuously.

After a strenuous fight of about four hours' duration, the combined Divisions succeeded in bringing the fire under control and confining it to the godown in which it originated, but the two top floors were almost completely gutted, while, in addition to the damage by fire, there was considerable unavoidable water damage on the first floor and, to a lesser degree, on the ground floor.

Of the Council of the Foreign Settlement of Shanghai

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1932. No. 1401

TRAFFIC MATTERS BEFORE THE COUNCIL.

Avoidance of Unnecessary Poles Upon Footpaths.

Minutes of the Traffic Committee meeting of November 25 were before the Council on December 7, when the recommendations of the Committee in regard to the following matters were endorsed.

A renewed application was submitted by the Modern Publicity Company for permission to instal illuminated bus stop indicators which would also be used for advertising purposes. In view of the adverse comment by the Police and Public Works Departments, on the ground that approval of this application would result in further obstruction of and congestion on the public footpaths, and having regard to the view expressed by the Traffic Commission that unnecessary poles on footways should be avoided, the Committee adhered to the decision recorded by circular that this application be not endorsed.

Replying to the question raised by a member as to whether these indicators might not serve a useful public purpose in the less congested districts, the Commissioner of Police stated that in the opinion of the Traffic Department, such areas were adequately served by the existing bus stop indicators.

Hire Car Park on Bund.

An application on behalf of the Johnson Garage Company for the exclusive right to use an allotted space on the Bund for hire cars operating primarily for the benefit of ship passenger traffic, and offering payment for this privilege, had recently been disapproved by circular.

The Chairman stated that his disapproval of this application was based on the fact that approval would confer a monopoly on the applicants. In the interests, however, of strangers arriving at the port, he was of opinion that hire car parking facilities should be provided on the Bund even though this were done at the expense of private car parking facilities. Although he appreciated that on certain sections of the Bund the existing space was insufficient to provide for the parking requirements of private motor vehicles, he considered that the interests of the public generally should be given priority. He, therefore, suggested that consideration be given to allotting a space to accommodate eight to ten hire cars, without however restricting its use to any one garage.

Replying to the Chairman, the Commissioner of Police stated that in his opinion adoption of this proposal might result in an increase of touting and possibly higher charges. Furthermore, the attempts of many more cars than could be accommodated in the area allotted to obtain parking space would serve to intensify the existing congestion. Visitors arriving in Shanghai who were familiar with local conditions, experienced little difficulty in securing a taxi either through a hotel runner or from one of the nearby garages; he agreed, however, that in this respect a stranger was placed somewhat at a disadvantage.

At the Chairman's suggestion, and before recording a definite recommendation on this subject, a further report was called for from the Commissioner of Police as to the feasibility or otherwise of the provision of an allotted parking space on the Bund for public cars, together with suggestions for its adequate control, both from a traffic point of view and insofar as concerned the tariff of charges. If adoption of this proposal proved to be practicable, it was considered that to ensure smooth working arrangements, consultation with the Association of Hire Car Owners would be advantageous.

Parking Kerb Signs.

Consequent upon the Committee's approval of the recommendation to substitute black and white glazed tiles for red paint to indicate the places where vehicles were not permitted to stop or park, the Commissioner of Police submitted proposed amendments to Traffic Regulations Nos. 28 and 48, by which the new rules might be rendered effective. The amendment to Regulation 28 further prohibited the stopping of vehicles within 30 feet of any street corner or thoroughfare and between a street island and the kerb in all cases in place of the limited prohibition now in force.

It was recommended that the amendments to Traffic Regulations Nos. 28 and 48 as submitted by the Commissioner of Police be adopted.

Passing on Bubbling Well Road.

A member of the Traffic Committee referred to the regulation which prohibited cars overtaking other motor vehicles east of Yates Road. This regulation was imposed prior to the widening of the section of Bubbling Well Road opposite the Embassy Theatre. As, in his opinion, this widening had rendered this traffic regulation unnecessary, he suggested that Mohawk Road be substituted for Yates Road.

Members of the Committee and the Commissioner of Police were inclined to support this proposal, and the latter undertook to refer it to the Traffic Branch for consideration, and to submit a report to the Committee.

Tram Stop Near Country Club.

The Chairman of the Traffic Committee stated that his attention had been drawn to the risk run by passengers alighting from tramcars at the stop for west bound tramcars opposite the Country Club.

The Commissioner of Police stated that there was no island stop at this point and the danger of alighting passengers was occasioned by the very narrow road space between the stationary tramcar and the motor vehicles in motion. He undertook to refer this question to the Traffic Branch with a view to the Tramway Company being requested to remove this stop either slightly to the west or to the east, and to report for members' information.

COUNCIL'S LETTER TO CAPT. HINCHCLIFFE.

Captain J. W. Hinchcliffe, former Corps Adjutant, S.V.C., received the following letter from Mr. J. R. Jones, Secretary to Council, prior to his departure from Shanghai to rejoin his regiment on the termination of his period of service with the Shanghai Volunteer Corps:—

"I am directed by the Council to convey to you its appreciation of the very capable way in which you have discharged your duties as Adjutant of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps during the three years for which you were seconded for the service by H.B.M. Government.

"In particular the Council wishes to thank you for your very valuable work in the period of intense strain involved by the operations of the Corps in the combined defence of the Settlement during the Sino-Japanese conflict in the early part of this year, and it especially appreciates your tact and ability which have been so essential having regard to the many nationalities comprised in the Corps and the international problems involved.

In releasing you at the request of the Army authorities the Council in bidding you farewell trusts that your success and popularity here may be an earnest of a very prosperous military career when you have joined your regiment."

NEW PREMISES FOR PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Move to Kelly and Walsh Building Next May.

The Public Works Department having been authorized to inquire as to the possibility of securing more suitable premises for the Public Library, the Acting Commissioner of Public Works reported to the Library Committee, on November 28, that several premises which might provide improved accommodation had been inspected.

In view of the restricted space available in the building of the Royal Asiatic Society and the fact that the accommodation available in the Yokohama Specie Bank building was scattered over several floors, members agreed that the accommodation in neither of these buildings was suitable.

The Acting Commissioner of Public Works reported that, from a structural point of view, the accommodation on the ground floor of Embankment House, North Soochow Road, which could be leased for a period of five years at a rental of Tls. 500 per mensem, was very suitable.

Members, however, were unanimously of opinion that the location of this building was unsuitable. The Chairman stated that particulars furnished by the Librarian showed that the majority of subscribers resided in the Western District and the French Concession. Since the Committee's primary aim in considering the leasing of more suitable library premises was to attract additional subscribers, he was of opinion, and members concurred, that the housing of the Public Library in the Northern District would not assist towards this end.

With regard to the accommodation available on the first floor of the Kelly and Walsh building, 22 Nanking Road, the Acting Commissioner of Public Works reported that this could be secured on a five years' lease at a rental of Tls. 500 per mensem, the owners reserving the right to increase the rental upon renewal of the lease by not exceeding 25 per cent. The lavatory accommodation would require to be enlarged at an approximate cost of Tls. 2,000 at the Council's expense, and it would also be responsible for partitioning off this space to meet the needs of the Library; towards this expenditure the owners were prepared to allow a sum of Tls. 750. In the event of additional space being required later, further accommodation could probably be secured on the second floor of this building. The lease of the existing premises, which were rented at Tls. 700 per month, expired on April 30 next, and he understood that the lease held in respect of the first floor of the Kelly and Walsh building terminated on May 14, 1933.

Members were unanimous in the view that the Kelly and Walsh building was ideally located for the accommodation of the Public Library, and that the space available was sufficient for its present needs. Moreover, as the rental thereof was considerably below that which was paid for the present library premises, they considered that this offer should be favourably entertained.

Accordingly it was recommended that the first floor of the Kelly and Walsh building be leased for a period of five years at a monthly rental of Tls. 500 and that the necessary expenditure involved by adapting this accommodation to the Library's requirements be authorized.

The Council, after discussion, adopted this recommendation at its meeting on December 7.

EASEMENT.

The following easement was granted during November:—

A permit was issued on November 29, to the Shanghai Japanese Residents' Corporation to erect a canopy over the Municipal footpath fronting their premises on Quinsan Road, Cadastral Lot 912, Northern District.

GRANT FOR EMPLOYMENT BUREAU REFUSED.

The Municipal Council recently received an application from the Employment Bureau of the International Branch of the Y.W.C.A. for a grant of Tls. 350 per month to defray its operation expenses, and primarily the salary of the Secretary and the cost of a telephone. When the application was considered by the Finance Committee on December 2, it was stated that the request was being forwarded owing to the withdrawal as from January 1, 1933, of the financial support of an interested person in the United States.

After discussion, the Finance Committee, in view of the fact that similar applications had previously been negatived by the Council on the ground that the financial support of such organizations should appropriately be forthcoming from private enterprise rather than from public funds, and as approval of this application would result in requests for financial assistance from other employment agencies, was unable to recommend for approval the application of the Employment Bureau.

The minutes of this meeting were before the Council on December 7, when the decision of the Finance Committee was endorsed.

THE CHINESE RED CROSS GENERAL HOSPITAL.

The Finance Committee of the Council at a meeting on December 2, considered a further letter from the Chinese Red Cross General Hospital, in which it was stated that, owing to an oversight, no application was made for a grant-in-aid for the current year. As provision of Tls. 2,000 was made in the current budget for this purpose, the Committee authorized payment thereof.

With regard to a renewed application for an increased grant-in-aid for 1933, members of the Finance Committee agreed with the Chairman that the further information forthcoming did not justify reconsideration of the recommendation reached at the last meeting. This recommendation was that the customary grant of Tls. 2,000 to this hospital be included in the budget for 1933.

The Council has confirmed this decision.

GRANTS-IN-AID TO CHINESE SCHOOLS.

Health Department Requirements Pressed by Board.

Upon the recommendation of the Commissioner of Public Health and the Acting Treasurer and Controller, the application of the Director of the Yangtszepoo Social Centre for the release of the building grant to meet the requirements of the Health Department was approved by the Education Board on November 30, and issue of the proportionate sum for the first three quarters of the current year was authorized.

In respect to the decision recorded at a meeting of the Education Board in November that the issue of grants to five schools enumerated by the Commissioner of Public Health should be withheld pending removal to satisfactory premises, the Chairman of the Board informed members at the recent meeting that his attention had been drawn to the fact that there were two further schools, i.e., the Bubbling Well Primary School and the Shanghai Primary and Kindergarten School, in a similar category. Accordingly, the issue of the grants to these two schools was also being temporarily withheld until an endeavour was made by them to comply with the requirements of the Public Health Department. In the meantime, a further report had been submitted by the Acting Treasurer and Controller enumerating six other Chinese schools to which the issue of ordinary grants had been approved, but which were reported by the Health Department as being as unsatisfactory as the two schools mentioned above. As, however, the Commissioner of Public Health had not recommended the withholding of the grants to these schools, the Chairman proposed that the past quarter's grant be issued with the definite intimation that unless improvements as required by the Public Health Department were put in hand, payment of the next quarterly grant would be withheld.

After discussion, the Board adopted this proposal and the Chinese Education Officer undertook to impress upon the Principals of the six schools concerned that the issue of the next quarterly payment was contingent upon steps being taken to meet the requirements of the Public Health Department.

These minutes were approved by the Council on December 7.

NON-RESIDENT PUPILS IN SETTLEMENT SCHOOLS.

Ratepayers' Children Have Preference of Admission.

The Acting Superintendent of Education reported to the Education Board, at its meeting on November 30, that there were in the Council's schools 33 foreign children and 32 Chinese children whose parents had left Shanghai subsequent to these pupils having been admitted.

Residents in places outside Shanghai may not send their children to Municipal schools in the Settlement, and under a recent ruling of the Council, with certain exceptions, parents resident in this port who are not Settlement ratepayers, are required to pay an additional fee of 25 per cent for their children when attending Council schools.

Members of the Education Board agreed with the Chairman that it should be definitely laid down that children in respect of whom an additional fee of 25 per cent was imposed, should only be admitted if accommodation existed after the demands of ratepayers' children had been met, and they requested that this procedure be observed in the future.

Regarding the 65 pupils whose parents had left Shanghai, members of the Board agreed that, in respect to certain foreign pupils, hardship might be inflicted if sudden notice were given for their removal from the schools, particularly so in the case of pupils who had entered upon their final school year. With respect to the Chinese pupils concerned since there were numerous Chinese boarding and day schools in the Settlement, it was considered that the degree of hardship in their case would be materially less.

In fairness to the Settlement ratepayers, who support the Municipal schools both by payment of school fees and general municipal rate, it was unanimously recommended:—

(1). That pupils in the Municipal schools whose parents have left Shanghai subsequent to the admission of such pupils be not readmitted after June, 1933, except in those exceptional cases which are reported to the Board for its special consideration.

(2). That, in future, parents upon leaving Shanghai be required to withdraw their children from the Municipal schools.

After consideration of this matter, the Council on December 7 adopted the above recommendations of the Education Board.

PUBLIC SCHOOL FOR GIRLS —YU YUEN ROAD.

Additional Junior Class Next Term Sanctioned.

On the recommendation of the Education Board, the Council has approved the proposal to institute at the Public School for Girls a new class for 30 pupils as from the beginning of the 1933 Spring Term.

At a meeting of the Education Board in November, the Acting Superintendent of Education recommended for approval the suggestion of the Headmistress of the School that a new junior class of 30 pupils for children between the ages of eight and ten years be formed in January next. Relinquishment of the space formerly occupied by the Headmistress as residential quarters had rendered available additional classroom and cloakroom accommodation, and made it possible to increase the total enrolment of the school to 480. Before authorizing this proposal, the Education Board requested submission of a further report as to the effect of the institution of this new class on the existing forms, particularly insofar as the new class might ultimately affect the transfer of pupils to the higher classes.

At the recent meeting of the Education Board it was stated the Headmistress was of opinion that the proposed new class would not cause subsequent congestion in the forms immediately above. Members thereupon unanimously approved the proposal to form a new junior class of 30 children.

TRAFFIC REGULATIONS.

AUTHORITY has been given for the replacement of red-painted kerb signs by black and white glazed tiles to indicate the places where vehicles are not permitted to stop or park.

The change will be made gradually, and during the transitional period drivers will be required to refrain from stopping their vehicles at points where the kerb is marked in either of these ways.

With effect from December 22, this rule, with other minor changes, will be enforced in terms of the following amendments to Traffic Regulations 28 and 48:—

"28.—No driver shall cause a vehicle to stop to take up or set down passengers or otherwise (except in obedience to police signals) to remain stationary at any point:—

(a) where the kerb is painted red or marked with black and white glazed tiles;

(b) parallel to a stopping place for tramcars;

(c) within 30 feet of any street corner on any main thoroughfare;

(d) between a street island and the kerb."

"48.—The ranking or parking of vehicles is prohibited in Nanking Road on the North side between the hours of (a) 8 a.m. and 9.30 a.m. and (b) 1.30 p.m. and 2.30 p.m. and on the South side between the hours of (a) 11.30 a.m. and 12.30 p.m. and (b) 4 p.m. and 6 p.m. (Sundays and Holidays excepted). At other periods between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. temporary ranking not exceeding 30 minutes will be permitted in Nanking Road at points where the kerb is painted white.

"Ranking or parking is strictly prohibited at any time or place where the kerb is painted red or marked by black and white glazed tiles."

RE-ASSESSMENT OF LAND VALUES IN SETTLEMENT.

To Become Effective as from July 1, 1933.

The Council on December 7 adopted the recommendation of the Finance Committee that steps be taken forthwith for a re-assessment of land values with a view to such re-assessment becoming effective as from July 1, next year.

In reports submitted to the Finance Committee on December 2, the Acting Commissioner of Public Works recommended, and the Acting Treasurer and Controller concurred, that steps should be taken at once for the re-assessment of land values.

The members of the Committee agreed that the market values of land generally were higher than the assessed values, and for this reason they were of opinion that it was equitable that land should be called upon to bear a greater share of taxation. Accordingly the Committee recommended that the necessary action be taken forthwith for re-assessment of land values with a view to such re-assessment becoming effective as from July 1, 1933.

The last land assessment was undertaken in the middle of 1930 and came into force from January 1, 1931. A re-assessment was authorized to be effected in 1932, but this was deferred owing to the State of Emergency in the early part of the year.

MUNICIPAL GAZETTE

Of the Council for the Foreign Settlement of Shanghai

Vol. XXV. SHANGHAI, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1932. No. 1402

COURT OF CONSULS.

A letter from Mr. Edwin S. Cunningham, American Consul-General and Senior Consul, has notified the Council that the following members of the Consular Body have been elected as Judges of the Court of Consuls for the year 1933:—

Edwin S. Cunningham, Esquire,
Sir John Brenan, K.C.M.G.,
I. Ishii, Esquire.

Mr. E. A. Long will continue as Secretary of the Court, his address remaining in care of the American Consulate-General.

TWO CHINESE LAND COMMISSIONERS.

Council's Decision As to Mode of Selection.

The Municipal Council has again considered the question of the manner in which two Chinese Land Commissioners should be chosen. At the annual meeting of ratepayers on April 13, 1932, the following resolution was passed:—

"That in the opinion of this meeting the addition of two Chinese members to the Land Commission is desirable; and that the Council be hereby authorized and instructed to make representations to the Powers concerned with a view to securing the addition of two Chinese members to the Land Commission."

Further, the meeting expressed the hope that when representations were made to the Powers in connection with this resolution, there should be adopted some method of ensuring that the interests of Chinese ratepayers who are not connected with the ownership of land should be safeguarded.

On July 20 a letter was addressed by the Council to the Senior Consul setting out these facts and asking him to transmit to the Diplomatic Body the resolution of the ratepayers, coupled with the Council's view that the interests of Chinese ratepayers could best be safeguarded by a specific provision in the Amendment to Land Regulation VIA as to the mode of selection of the two Chinese Land Commissioners.

Recently the Mayor of Greater Shanghai wrote to the Senior Consul expressing his opinion on the suggested manner of appointment of the new Commissioners. The Mayor's letter has been considered by the Council, and it has decided to waive a provision objected to involving the Council's approval of the Commissioners, but that in order to carry out the intention of the last annual meeting of ratepayers, one Commissioner should be appointed by the Chinese Ratepayers' Association and should not be a landowner or a representative of owners of land, and that the other should be appointed by the Chinese Property Owners' Association.

BUS ROUTE CHANGED.

In order to meet the requirements of the public in the Western district moving from north to south and vice versa the Council gave permission to the China General Omnibus Co., Ltd., to alter No. 7 Route so that it now runs from Hungjao Road-Avenue Haig corner to St. George's, and from that point follows Jessfield Road, Avenue Road, Kiaochow Road, Robison Road, Ferry Road to the corner of Ichang and Ferry Roads, Previously Route No. 7 was from Hungjao Road-Avenue Haig corner to St. George's, thence to Brenan Piece viâ Yu Yuen and Brenan Roads. Owing to these latter roads being amply served by Route No. 1A it became unnecessary to operate Route No. 7 on Yu Yuen Road.

TENDERS.

Attention is called to the amendment of clause 7 of the "Conditions Governing Tenders" whereby it is provided that in future tenders will be opened immediately after the closing hour, 11 a.m., on the day fixed for their receipt. Tenders must be delivered to "The Secretary, Municipal Council, Room 161, Administration Building, Kiangse Road." As at present, tenderers may attend the opening of tenders.

TRAFFIC REGULATIONS.

AUTHORITY has been given for the replacement of red-painted kerb signs by black and white glazed tiles to indicate the places where vehicles are not permitted to stop or park.

The change will be made gradually, and during the transitional period drivers will be required to refrain from stopping their vehicles at points where the kerb is marked in either of these ways.

With effect from December 22, this rule, with other minor changes, will be enforced in terms of the following amendments to Traffic Regulations 28 and 48:—

"28.—No driver shall cause a vehicle to stop to take up or set down passengers or otherwise (except in obedience to police signals) to remain stationary at any point:—

(a) where the kerb is painted red or marked with black and white glazed tiles;

(b) parallel to a stopping place for tramcars;

(c) within 30 feet of any street corner on any main thoroughfare;

(d) between a street island and the kerb."

"48.—The ranking or parking of vehicles is prohibited in Nanking Road on the North side between the hours of (a) 8 a.m. and 9.30 a.m. and (b) 1.30 p.m. and 2.30 p.m. and on the South side between the hours of (a) 11.30 a.m. and 12.30 p.m. and (b) 4 p.m. and 6 p.m. (Sundays and Holidays excepted). At other periods between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. temporary ranking not exceeding 30 minutes will be permitted in Nanking Road at points where the kerb is painted white.

"Ranking or parking is strictly prohibited at any time or place where the kerb is painted red or marked by black and white glazed tiles."

WORKS REPORT FOR NOVEMBER.

The Deputy Commissioner of Public Works, in his report to the Council upon the work of the Department during November, states that at the Thorne Road Bridge the abutments have been concreted and shuttering and steel erected for the deck. The piling of the wing bundings has been completed and tie rods placed. In connection with the bunding in Fearon Road, north of Yalu Road, the upper wall concrete and anchors have been completed. At the Chemulpo Wharf, the hydraulic fill has been completed and the wall capping is in progress.

Ward Road Gaol Extension.—At the Administration Block, the grille partitions and solid iron doors to the ground floor have been fixed. The terrazzo works to the floors and dadoes are in hand, and the hardware has been fixed.

At the Indian Warders' Quarters, the terrazzo work throughout the building has been completed. The fixing of hardware to all doors is nearing completion, and the staining and polishing of the woodwork is in hand. The gas service has been connected.

At the Gaol Hospital, the furniture for the building has been made and delivered to the site.

At the Juvenile Cell Block, the electrical, heating and sanitary installations are in hand. The pipe trenches under the ground floor have been laid and the steel to the ground floor slab laid in position. Work on the concreting of the ground floor slab has commenced. The excavations for the sewerage and the drainage systems have commenced. The dressing of the artificial stone to all elevations is in progress.

At the Cell Block R/S, the dressing of the concrete facing is in progress. The electrical, plumbing and sanitary installations are in hand. The joinery is now being fixed on floors, and the scaffolding to all elevations is being removed.

At the Kitchen and Laundry Block, the work on the foundation and the new staircase up to the first floor level have been completed. The new grilles to the windows are fixed in position on first and second floors. The heating boiler and the oil and water circulating pumps have been placed in position, and temporary oil fuel connection to this boiler has been made.

At the main entrance gates, garages, watchman's home, etc., the concrete roof to watchman's house and garages next to Police Hospital have been completed and the centring has been removed. The boundary wall on both sides of Police Hospital has been erected, and excavations to main gates and garages in new gaol compound is in hand.

At the Gaol Foreign Quarters, the piling of the foundations has been proceeding and is now practically complete.

Point Police Station and Barracks.—Concrete has been poured to the main staircases to the barracks, and this completes the whole of the structural concrete work. The artificial stonework has been hammer dressed, and the pointing of all external brickwork is finished and the steel windows have been fixed in position.

Wayside Police Barracks.—This building has been handed over for occupation.

South Police Station.—The foundation beams to the South Block and the ground floor columns in the North Block have been concreted. Additional piles have been driven on the site of an old pond, which was found to consist of made up ground, to a depth of approximately ten feet.

Victoria Nurses Home. — The erection of the external walls is very nearly completed. The steel windows are now in process of being installed. Concrete has been poured to the oil tanks and to the external main entrance steps. The internal fittings and wall plastering, building in of cupboards, plumbing and electric lighting installations are proceeding satisfactorily.

Public Drinking Fountains.—The majority of these fountains in the parks and public gardens are now completed.

Wayside Public Wharf.—The following figures relate to the lifts effected by the electric crane at Wayside Public Wharf during the month: lifts, 86; weight, 116 tons; fees paid, Tls. 46.60.

Pingchiao Quarry. — The Public Works Department received during the month 1,610 fong of materials.

Cleansing and Watering.—Road sweepings collected, 2,618 tons; gully deposit removed, 2,284 tons; water used for street watering by mechanical water wagons, 1,219,200 gallons; water used for washing roads, 3,116,000 gallons.

House refuse.—252 tons of house refuse were removed by motor trucks, and 4,109 tons of house refuse were removed by barrows, etc., to Western and Eastern Districts for land raising. 11,799 tons of house refuse were taken away by contractor's boats. 3,866 tons of house refuse and 313 tons of road sweepings were sent to the Muirhead Road incinerator. 2,577 tons of house refuse and 854 tons of road sweeping were sent to Penang Road incinerator.

Labour.—The average number of labourers employed by highways, sewerage and parks was as follows: —coolies, 6,355; artisans, 593; foremen, 396.

Concreteware. — The following were produced during the month:—hand-made, 1,249 pieces; machine-made, 875 pieces.

Work Shelters.—There were 719 admissions during the month and 80 cubic feet of stone broken and 30 bundles of wood chopped.

New Buildings.—There were 475 blocks of buildings under construction during the month; 277 plans were submitted for approval and 161 approved; 92 valuations of blocks of buildings for assessment purposes were made, and 4,470 inspections were carried out by inspectors.

PARKS REPORT FOR NOVEMBER.

The Superintendent of Parks and Open Spaces reports:—

Hongkew Park.—The laying of turf on the centre section of the area acquired for park extension was completed and operations connected with the layout of the south section were continued.

Revetment work on the banks of the large lake was continued as supplies of materials became available, deepening operations being carried out in the shallow section of the lake which was obstructing the free passage of water to the central pond.

A section of the rockery was remodelled and numerous trees and shrubs were removed from the vicinity of playing fields and replanted in the northern section of the park.

All football fields were in regular use during the month, play being possible daily, three matches taking place on each ground every Saturday and Sunday.

Bowling greens were repaired at the conclusion of the season and a top dressing of soil and fertilizer was applied.

Wayside Park.—The renovation of bowling greens was carried out, bare patches being re-turfed with fine grass especially cultivated for this purpose.

General.—Summer and autumn flowering subjects were removed from flower gardens in the various parks, and flower beds were dug and manured preparatory to the planting of spring flowering annuals and bulbs.

The pricking out of hardy annual seedlings was completed at the nurseries, a total of over 350,000 plants being transplanted during these operations.

PUBLIC HEALTH REPORT FOR NOVEMBER.

The Commissioner of Public Health reports:

The foreign death rate was 10.17 as compared with 18.34 for the same month last year, and the Chinese death rate was 13.23 as compared with 14.80 last year. It will thus be seen that the town still remains unusually healthy.

In regard to communicable diseases, as might be expected during so healthy a month, no particular disease is worthy of mention. The statistical tables shown at the end of this report give the incidence of the various diseases and show scarlet fever is somewhat on the increase, and the usual seasonal variation in other disease can be noted in the tables.

Tuberculosis and the Enteric group show their usual heavier incidence, and a peculiarity is to be noted in the case of diphtheria where though the incidence amongst the Chinese is extremely high, the foreign case incidence is less than is usual at this time of the year.

Though this year smallpox has not been particularly prevalent, the vaccination campaign was prosecuted successfully, and 23,068 smallpox vaccinations were performed during the month, the mobile squad attached to the Hospital Division performing 14,649 vaccinations during the month and the Branch Health Offices performing 8,419.

Pathological Laboratory.

Examinations for anthrax show that this disease is apparently prevalent amongst cattle coming to the slaughterhouse.

As is usual at this time of the year, the manufacturing section was busy and 161 grammes of raw calf lymph were produced; 34,560 doses of smallpox vaccine were issued, and 199 bacterial vaccines were issued, whilst 1,261 specimens were received for bacteriological examination, and 239 specimens for analysis.

Routine diagnosis of infectious diseases included diphtheria, cerebrospinal fever, malaria, Weil felix and undulant fever.

Anthrax.—16 specimens from animals were submitted of which two proved positive.

Pasteur Treatment.—52 persons called for advice, cauterization and or treatment, including three from an outport. No fatalities amongst treated cases were reported during the month.

Hospital Division.

There is little of interest to report in regard to the work of this Division, except that owing to the Mental Ward being overcrowded three acute cases had to be refused admittance.

Veterinary Surgeon's Report.

Milk Supply.—The average daily milk production was 24,425 lbs., an increase of 4.38 per cent. over last month's figure.

Of the 36 samples for bacteriological examination five of the genuine samples were found very dirty on filtration test; one of poor quality in respect of fat content. Five samples were non-genuine; one contained added water, one was deficient in fat (both from unlicensed dairies), and three were buffalo milk admixtures.

Of the 99 samples for chemical analysis 88 were satisfactory and 11 unsatisfactory. All the unsatisfactory samples were either from unlicensed or Grade "B" dairies, all Grade "A" dairies being up to standard.

Animal Diseases. — Rinderpest, which appeared in the Northern District during the previous month, has now occurred in the Western District, though only three deaths are reported.

Contagious pleuro-pneumonia caused the death of 15 animals, and tuberculosis six deaths.

Tuberculin testing of all herds has now been completed.

Meat Supply.—The kill of oxen is still increasing though the figures for other animals have decreased slightly as is generally the rule at this season. All figures are, however, above the average for the whole of 1931.

The main causes for rejection of meat were anthrax, contagious pleuro-pneumonia, tuberculosis and swine fever.

Markets, Bakeries and other Food Shops.

Business at all the markets is fairly good and a steady improvement has been noted, whilst even unpopular markets are beginning to fill up.

Sanitation Division.

With regard to bakeries and food shops, though considerable improvements have been wrought in various premises, this work, partaking as it does of a routine nature, contains little of public interest.

With the onset of cold weather, the vaccination campaign takes the place of the mosquito reduction and fly prevention work, which, needless to say, are no longer of such importance. It is of interest to note that mosquitoes have remained prevalent this year for a longer period than is usual, probably owing to the mild weather.

In addition to the normal routine work, a considerable amount of school inspection work has been carried out, necessitating the detachment of an inspector on full time duty. The sanitary results, however, are fully expected to warrant the full time employment of this employee.

Here follow tables of Vital Statistics, Communicable Diseases, and of the work of the Food and Dairies, and Markets and Bakeries Divisions; Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases Clinics, Municipal Laboratories, Hospitals and Slaughterhouse.

Saline ammonia	0.0016
Albuminoid ammonia	0.0132
Poisonous metals	Absent
Nitrites	Absent
Phosphates	Minute traces
Sulphates	Traces
Oxygen absorbed in 1 hour at 37° C.	0.0738

* Hardness determinations are by acid and alkali : not by soap method.

Chlorine in chloride figures have varied between 2.1 and 2.5 parts per 100,000. Ammonia figures have been normal and nitrites, absent. Free chlorine has varied from 0.02 to 0.12 parts per million in samples taken from the laboratory taps and from nil to 0.09 per million in samples taken at other points.

Bacteriological Examination:—

During the month 36 samples were examined, 31 from taps in various parts of the Settlement and five from hydrants. Of the 31 tap samples two contained 15 and 270 B. coli communis per litre respectively, one contained 34 B. aerogenes per litre and one 10 B. coli communior per litre. The remaining tap samples and the hydrant samples contained less than 10 organisms of the B. coli group per litre.

Report on Analysis:—

Analyses show satisfactory purification.

Duty at places of amusement totalled 11,465 hours.

The most serious fire attended by the Brigade during the month was that which occurred at Nos. 1 and 3 Minghong Road on the 11th.

The first report of the fire was received by telephone at 12.15 a.m. and sections from Hongkew Division responded. On arrival they found dense volumes of smoke issuing from the ground, first and second floors of a four-storeyed godown of brick construction at No. 1 Minghong Road and a call for assistance was immediately sent in, to which machines from the Central and Yangtszepoo Divisions, turntable escapes and the two fire floats responded. The windows throughout the building were shuttered and the doors heavily bolted and padlocked, but entry was forced, and it was found that the ground, first, and second floors were alight. After much difficulty on account of smoke, lines of hose were laid up the exterior staircase on the south side—the only means of entrance to the various floors—but the flames were aided by the interior construction of the premises, which was entirely of wood, and by the fact that stacks of cargo prevented the water reaching the seat of the fire, and very soon the third floor became involved.

The flat metal-lined roof, coupled with the fact that the shuttered windows permitted no outlet for the flames, caused the fire to "mushroom" and spread through the supposed Fire Wall between godowns Nos. 1 and 3 with the result that the second and third floors of No. 3 soon became also seriously involved; incidentally, after the fire, it was found that roof and floor-joists ran right through the wall.

On all sides the Divisions were severely handicapped by the terrific heat, which was so great that, even with the aid of gas masks to counteract the effects of the smoke, officers and men were repeatedly forced to retreat to the staircase landings. All available turntables were brought into use as water-towers from which strong jets were directed in an effort to reach the heart of the fire, whilst nozzles were placed in position to protect godowns and a number of dwellings on the west side, which were separated from the burning building by about three feet only and were consequently seriously threatened.

Although the roof held for a considerable time, a portion eventually collapsed and, as the opening thus formed acted as a vent for the heat and smoke, this greatly assisted the men working on the floors below, in that they were then able to work their lines and nozzles into the interior of the affected floors and tackle the outbreak at close range.

The combined Divisions succeeded in checking the outbreak, but it was only after more than three hours' very strenuous work that it was considered to be properly under control.

The godown at No. 1 Minghong Road suffered severe damage on first, second and third floors, whilst that at No. 3 was badly damaged on second and third floors.

When the fire was at its height it was feared that the turntable escapes at the disposal of the Brigade would be insufficient and consequently a call for assistance was sent to the French Fire Brigade to which they promptly responded and rendered very valuable assistance.

MUNICIPAL ADVOCATE'S REPORT FOR NOVEMBER.

The Acting Municipal Advocate, in his report to the Council for November, states that 10,051 cases were prosecuted in the Shanghai First Special Area District Court and the Kiangsu High Court, Second Branch, during the month. 7,206 persons failed to appear in petty bye-law cases and their bail was confiscated. One hundred and fifty of these cases were private prosecutions, while 68 cases were withdrawn on the ground that there was insufficient evidence to convict. The total number of major and minor criminal cases prosecuted to completion was 2,502, and in these 2,777 persons were convicted, and 207 acquitted, the percentage of convictions being 92.5.

Eight appeals were filed by the Council during November. Forty-one appeals by defendants were perfected during the month, seven to the Supreme Court, 28 to the High Court, and six to the District Court of Appeals. Forty-four appeals by defendants were concluded and dealt with as follows:

Accused found not guilty	2
Appeals dismissed	26
Appeals withdrawn	5
Cases sent back for retrial	1
Sentences reduced	10
	44

There were 127 appeals filed by Council and defendants pending on November 30, as follows:

In the Supreme Court	68
In the High Court	50
In the District Court of Appeals	9
	127

Extradition Cases.—Twenty-two applications involving 75 persons were made by the extra-Settlement authorities during the month. In 20 cases, involving 72 persons, prima facie cases were proved and the prisoners handed over. In one application, the Ningpo authorities failed to send their representative to Court and the prisoner was released. One application involving two persons was remanded for further evidence to be produced. Two cases involving three persons on remand from October were dealt with and the prisoners handed over, and one soldier who has been on remand since June, 1932, for dealing in opium, was handed over to the Military Authorities during the month.

Stamp Tax Cases.—There were thirteen new stamp tax cases filed during the month, one of which was withdrawn, while in the remainder, accused were sentenced to fines ranging from $18 to $200.

Tobacco Stamp Tax Cases.—The Special Squad still continues to function. The following statistics are of interest:

Number of search warrants applied for and executed	5
" of unsuccessful raids	1
" of summonses applied for	5
" of cases prosecuted	11
" of persons convicted	5
" of cases pending trial	6

Cases pending.—On November 30, there were pending in the High Court and District Court 71 cases, which together with 127 cases on appeal, makes a total of 198 cases pending. In addition to the above, there were 14 cases pending in which the accused were detained on writs of detention.

Suspended Sentences.—Seventy-three sentences of imprisonment were suspended in new cases.

Criminal Cases.—7,259 criminal processes were forwarded to the Shanghai Municipal Police for service. 393 criminal processes were dealt with by the Judicial Police.

Civil Processes. — 9,362 civil processes were dealt with by the process servers.

PLANS FOR NEW CENTRAL POLICE STATION.

Construction Work to Begin Early in New Year.

Plans for the new Central Police Station, which is to be constructed on the south side of Foochow Road west of Kiangse Road, were submitted to the Watch Committee by the Commissioner of Public Works and formally approved on December 9.

The Deputy Commissioner of Public Works informed the Committee that it was anticipated that the work of construction would be commenced early in 1933, and that an appropriation of Tls. 350,000 representing a portion of the cost, would be included in the Budget for that year. The total cost of the new station was estimated at Tls. 550,000. The Council has endorsed the action of the Watch Committee.

VICTORIA NURSES HOME.

Appointment of Home Sister Decided Upon.

The Council has decided, upon the recommendation of the Staff Committee, that a Home Sister for the Victoria Nurses Home be engaged as from April 1, 1933. The appointee will act in an advisory capacity in regard to interior furnishings, equipment, etc., pending the completion of the Home. Normally she will be in complete charge of the building accommodating 100 nurses, and answerable to an Administrative Committee for its proper management. The Council has decided that the status of the appointee shall be similar to that of Assistant Matron, Grade 2 N (b) although a knowledge of nursing is not an essential qualification. Grade 2 N (b) concerns the appointment of Assistant Matrons on the nursing staff.

In a minute of the Staff Committee meeting it was recorded that although it was not possible at this stage to forecast the precise date of the opening of the Victoria Nurses Home, members agreed as to the desirability of the recommended appointment being made as from April 1, in order that the advice and assistance of the Home Sister might be available in connection with the equipment, furnishing, etc., of the Nurses Home.

CLERKS OF WORKS.

In order to ensure the required standard of supervision and maintenance of cold and hot water, heating and sanitary installations and lifts in the various municipal buildings, the Acting Commissioner of Public Works recommended, and the Acting Treasurer agreed, to the appointment as from January 1, 1933, of two mechanical engineers to be graded as Assistant Clerk of Works, their pay to be Tls. 250 per mensem.

The Acting Commissioner of Public Works, replying to members of the Staff Committee, stated that the increase already affected in the above-mentioned installations and that contemplated in connection with the municipal building programme necessitated these appointments in the interests of efficiency and economy. The posts would be advertised locally and would be open to applicants irrespective of nationality.

After discussion, the Committee recommended that these appointments be made, and the Council on December 21 adopted this recommendation.

SHANGHAI'S MILK SUPPLY.

Pasteurization of Grade "B" Milk Would Minimize Dangers.

The Municipal Council and members of the Health Committee have recently again given considerable thought to the question of the milk supply in Shanghai. The supply of Grade "A" milk at certain periods of the year does not meet the demand. Furthermore, the Commissioner of Public Health has had under consideration measures to ensure the required standard of quality for all milk produced within the Settlement. Grade "B" milk has been a cause of considerable anxiety, and the Health officials recently submitted a proposal to the Council that it should erect a pasteurization plant of modern type. These officials are of opinion that such a plant would minimize dangers to the community from milk supplies.

Position Explained.

The Chairman of the Health Committee explained to the Council meeting on December 21 what had taken place and outlined the discussions of his Committee. It appeared that at a recent meeting of the Health Committee a report by the Commissioner of Public Health was submitted outlining the measures adopted to ensure the required standard of quality for milk produced within the Settlement. The Municipal Veterinary Surgeon expressed the view that, in spite of all gradings and other methods of checking Grade "B" milk, it still remained a source of disease. Whilst bovine tuberculosis appears to be less common in Shanghai than in some other large cities, the Commissioner of Health was inclined to the view that typhoid fever and dysentery might on occasions be milk borne. The Municipal Veterinary Surgeon accordingly suggested that a Municipal Pasteurization Plant of a modern type be established with a view to rendering Grade "B" milk less of a potential danger to consumers in the Settlement. The estimated cost of the necessary land, buildings and plant being approximately Tls. 250,000, he suggested that if a charge of, say, three cents were made for each pint of milk pasteurized, it might be anticipated that this undertaking would show a profit and thus constitute no charge on the rates. Dr. Jordan therefore, requested members' consideration of this proposal or any alternative proposal whereunder possibly the work of pasteurization could be undertaken by private enterprise.

Views Expressed in Committee.

In agreeing that the pasteurization of Grade "B" milk would tend to have a beneficial effect on the health of the community, the Acting Treasurer and Controller was of opinion that the existing financial stringency rendered it essential that the Extraordinary Budget be limited to such items of capital expenditure as were unquestionably necessary for the development of the Settlement and the welfare of the community. As a pasteurization plant, although desirable, could not, presumably, be described as essential, he was unable to endorse the proposal for the establishment of such an institution.

The Chairman of the Committee expressed the view that the institution by the Council of a pasteurization plant would be akin to municipal trading, in competition with and to the detriment of Grade "A" Dairies which already undertook the pasteurization of milk. Whilst appreciating the desirability, in the interests of the community, of the pasteurization of Grade "B" milk, he considered that this should more appropriately be undertaken by private enterprise than by the Council, possibly by the proprietors of Grade "B" dairies who might form a subsidiary company for the purpose.

Control Essential.

The Commissioner of Public Health was doubtful whether such proprietors were in a position to provide the necessary funds for the establishment of a modern pasteurization plant. Whilst some improvement might be effected in the quality of Grade "B" milk by tightening up the existing licence conditions so as to require the pasteurization of milk, the Commissioner was of opinion that, if these were made too onerous, Grade "B" dairies might remove from the Settlement, with the result that a quantity of milk might have to be imported from dairies over which the Council could exercise no control. Another aspect of this question which required careful consideration was that the additional cost to the consumer of pasteurized milk might inflict hardship on the poorer classes of the community. Moreover, the pasteurization of milk on the premises of each of the individual dairies would involve considerable expense to the Council for purposes of inspection, supervision, etc.

As the local demand for pasteurized milk was greater than the supply, and as, with the enlightenment of public opinion, such demand was increasing, a member favoured some means being devised whereunder the requirement that all Grade "B" milk be pasteurized could be enforced, particularly in respect of the milk which was drunk as a beverage as distinct from that used for cooking purposes.

Replying to members, the Commissioner of Public Health stated that this question was considered by the Milk Commission, which recorded the view that the pasteurization of all milk was desirable. The Commission, however, refrained from putting forward a definite recommendation since presumably it considered at that time that this requirement, in addition to other requirements it recommended be imposed on dairies, might be somewhat onerous.

Private Enterprise Desirable.

Members concurred with the Chairman of the Committee as to the desirability of some scheme being devised whereunder the pasteurization of all milk consumed in the Settlement would be effected. They considered that such pasteurization by private enterprise would, from a financial standpoint, prove lucrative. Accordingly, the view obtained that, if publicity were given to the Council's desire to ensure the pasteurization of all milk, it was possible that this project might be undertaken by private enterprise.

After further discussion, and in view of the importance of this question from a public health point of view, members favoured the suggestion put forward by the Commissioner of Public Health that a small Committee of three members be formed to consider all aspects thereof, and submit its recommendations. Prior to adopting this proposal, however, members undertook to give this question further consideration with a view to a definite recommendation being recorded at a later meeting; meanwhile the Commissioner of Public Health undertook to furnish a list of the Grade "B" dairies within the Settlement showing the nationality of their proprietors and also the quantity of milk produced in such dairies.

The Council endorsed this action.

COMMUNICABLE DISEASE NOTIFICATION.

Measures Taken to Ensure Accuracy of Statistics.

In a report submitted at a meeting of the Health Committee, S.M.C., the Commissioner of Public Health stated that the present system under which notifications of communicable disease were furnished to his Department was very unsatisfactory. In regard to cholera, he stated that, while in the main the figures were accurate until the recent epidemic reached its peak, the notifications received were far more numerous than were warranted and the checking and correction of them entailed very heavy work on the part of the staff and delay in the preparation of statistics. As these statistics were forwarded all over the world by the League of Nations, their accuracy was a matter of vital importance. To remedy the existing unsatisfactory system, the Commissioner recommended that, during an epidemic period, the Council should supply the four principal non-municipal establishments which admitted cases of cholera and summer diseases with clerks who would deal exclusively with the preparation of accurate statistics. This would entail the engagement of four or five clerks for a maximum period of six months each year at a salary of approximately $50-80 per mensem. Alternatively, he suggested that choleraic diarrhoea and gastro-enteritis be added to the list of notifiable diseases for which a notification fee was paid by the Council, since, in his opinion, these two diseases were most commonly mistaken for cholera and wrongly certified as such. This latter proposal was endorsed by the Acting Treasurer and Controller.

Replying to the Chairman, the Commissioner of Public Health stated that if his first proposal was adopted he did not anticipate very much difficulty in securing the temporary services of Chinese clerks as he would inform them that, if their services proved satisfactory, they would be given a preference for any vacancies which might occur on the permanent staff.

After discussion, and having regard to the vital importance of furnishing correct statistics which were regarded as highly essential in connection with the anti-cholera campaign, members considered that adoption of both proposals submitted by the Commissioner was warranted. Furthermore, they considered that, as the engagement temporarily of Chinese clerks would release members of the inspectorial staff for other departmental duties adoption of this proposal was in the interests of the efficiency of the Department. Accordingly, it was unanimously recommended: (I) that during the cholera season four or five Chinese clerks be engaged temporarily with pay at $50-80 per mensem for duty at the principal Chinese Summer Diseases Hospitals for a period up to six months each year; (II) that choleraic diarrhoea and gastro-enteritis be added to the list of notifiable diseases in respect of which the Council pays a notification fee.

The Council has endorsed this decision.

SACRED HEART HOSPITAL.

Application for Special Grant for Maternity Block.

An application by the Sacred Heart Hospital for financial assistance to permit the erection of a maternity block, operations on which have had to be suspended owing to a lack of funds, was submitted at a meeting of the Health Committee held on December 13.

As this hospital is at present the only one serving the far Eastern District and owing to its offer to receive the poorer classes of foreign, Chinese and Indian women free of charge or at a reduced rate, the Commissioner of Public Health was of opinion that its application for financial support merited sympathetic consideration.

In view of the emphasis laid by the Hospital Commission on the pressing need for further maternity hospital facilities, members concurred with the Chairman as to the desirability of some means being devised which would assist towards the erection of this Maternity Hospital. To effect this, the Chairman of the Committee suggested that the Council might be prepared to authorize the issue of an additional grant-in-aid equivalent to the interest charge on a bank overdraft of Tls. 50,000 (the amount required for the erection and equipment of the hospital being estimated at over Tls. 120,000) such additional grant to continue while the hospital functions to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of Public Health and subject to the usual examination by the Finance Department of its annual statement of accounts. The Chairman, therefore, suggested that an additional grant of Tls. 3,000 be recommended with the proviso that this sum be earmarked for payment of the interest charge on a bank overdraft of Tls. 50,000, and that the hospital be informed that the Council was prepared to recommend to its successors in office continuation of such grant.

After discussion, members of the Health Committee unanimously concurred in the above proposal and it was recommended that an additional annual grant of Tls. 3,000 to this hospital be authorized, this sum, which represents the equivalent of the interest charge on Tls. 50,000, to be specially earmarked for such payment.

The Council adopted this recommendation on December 21.

PUBLIC HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

Vacancy for Home Sister.

THE Council invites applications for the post of Home Sister of the Victoria Nurses' Home.

The appointment will be made not later than April 1, 1933, and the appointee will act in an advisory capacity in regard to interior furnishings, equipment, etc. pending the completion of the Home. Normally she will be in complete charge of the building accommodating 100 nurses, and answerable to an Administrative Committee for its proper management.

Candidates should have a knowledge of catering and household management and be between 35-45 years of age with a knowledge of nursing if possible. Previous experience in a similar post, and a knowledge of the Chinese language are additional qualifications.

The status will be as that of Assistant Matron in the Council's service, i.e. Class "A" Letter of Appointment with Pay of Tls. 200 rising to Tls. 260 by biennial increments of Tls. 20. Quarters, messing and uniform provided. Long leave on full pay with first class passage after 5 years' service. Superannuation, medical attendance, etc.

Applications to be made in candidate's own handwriting, stating nationality, age, etc., accompanied by copies of references and at least two recent testimonials covering abilities and character, to the Commissioner of Public Health, Shanghai Municipal Council, not later than January 31, 1933.

MEDICAL INSPECTION OF SCHOOLS PROPOSED.

Education Board Agreed as to Desirability of Scheme.

The Education Board at a meeting on December 14 considered a report submitted by the Commissioner of Public Health outlining a scheme for the medical inspection of pupils in the Council's schools. The estimated cost involved during 1933 by adoption of this scheme was Tls. 40,000.

In view of the relatively heavy expenditure involved and having regard to the existing financial stringency, a member suggested that the Council might be more disposed favourably to consider this scheme if it were commenced on a smaller scale and extended as opportunity offered. He considered that at the outset the scheme might be limited to the medical inspection of the Municipal Schools, with particular reference to the District Primary Schools, and thereafter be extended to those schools receiving a municipal grant-in-aid.

The Chairman of the Committee stated that while he fully appreciated the desirability of effecting a scheme for the medical inspection of schools, he was somewhat reluctant at this time to endorse a proposal involving considerable expenditure, since, in his view, unless increased revenue was forthcoming during 1933 and subsequent years, the Council would be confronted with difficulty in meeting its normal commitments.

The Commissioner of Public Health stated that if his scheme were adopted the cost thereof would be charged to the Health Department budget, this service being regarded by other municipalities as a normal function of a Public Health Department.

After general discussion, members agreed as to the desirability of a scheme as outlined by the Commissioner of Public Health being given effect, particularly in relation to the District Primary Schools. In noting that the question would be referred to the Health Committee for consideration, members expressed the hope that financial conditions next year would permit this scheme to be embarked upon, either on the lines proposed by the Commissioner of Public Health or alternatively in a modified form.

CURRICULUM IN CHINESE SECONDARY SCHOOLS.

Relative to the discussion by the Education Board of the curriculum in the Secondary Schools for Chinese, particulars from the Heads of the Municipal Secondary Schools for Chinese were furnished to members at the last meeting. As the form in which this information was supplied was not standardized, further consideration was deferred to a later meeting.

ZONING BUS ROUTE No. 10.

The Council has approved the China General Omnibus Co., Ld., zoning Route No. 10 as follows:—

Western: Brenan Piece to the Bund via Connaught, Sinza and Peking Roads; omnibuses to turn from the Bund in a loop into Peking Road via Soochow and Szechuen Roads.

Central: The junction of Thibet and Peking roads to Wayside only.

Eastern: The Bund to Linching Road via Seward and Ward roads; omnibuses to proceed along the Bund New Road (heavy traffic road) and to complete the loop opposite Kiukiang Road.

Permission to complete the loop opposite Kiukiang Road is provisional and dependent upon the opinion of the Police as to whether crossing the Bund at this point is dangerous or obstructs other traffic.

THE FILM CENSORSHIP COMMISSION'S REPORT.

Watch Committee Records Its Preliminary View.

Departmental comments upon the report presented by the Film Censorship Commission were discussed at a meeting of the Watch Committee on December 9.

The Committee agreed with the Commissioner of Police that the majority of the criticisms which had been levelled at the Board of Censors in the past emanated from persons who had in mind more the quality of the films shown than the standard of censorship. As to the recommendation of the Commission that the Board of Censors should assume final responsibility, having regard to the opinion expressed by the Secretary, the Committee agreed that, as the Council was not empowered to delegate this final responsibility, adoption of this proposal was not feasible.

As the Commission did not adversely criticize the present system of censorship, members of the Committee were inclined to the view that any drastic change in the system was not called for. Furthermore, as no difficulty had been experienced in the past in securing persons to serve on the Board without remuneration, the Committee was unable to support the proposal of the Commission that paid censors should be appointed.

In the interests of the Film Censors and Film Distributors, the Committee was favourably disposed towards the Commission's recommendation that a preview room for centralizing the work of censorship be provided. In this connection a letter from Mr. L. D. Britton was submitted in which he offered to provide a projection room for the Council's use. As, however, this letter did not clearly indicate the terms upon which this room would be placed at the Council's disposal, members requested further particulars as to the cost involved. The Committee also asked that a further report be forwarded as to the suitability and availability for censorship purposes of the Cinema Hall at the 1st Central Branch Health Office, which the Acting Treasurer suggested might possibly be utilized for this purpose.

Pending receipt of this information a definite recommendation upon the report was deferred, but the Committee recorded a preliminary view that the adoption of the Commission's report was desirable insofar as it was considered practicable by the Commissioner of Police.

The Watch Committee minutes were passed by the Council on December 21.

POLICE REPORT FOR NOVEMBER.

The Commissioner of Police reports:—

The total crime recorded for the month of November is contained in the following table:—

Nature of offence	Reported during the month	Reported during previous month	Reported during corresponding month last year
Murder	5	3	5
Attempted murder	3	—	2
Manslaughter	—	—	2
Armed kidnapping	1	—	2
Abduction	7	10	13
Armed robbery	52	65	50
Other robberies	8	8	12
Being member of Criminal gang.	6	1	2
House, office, shop-breaking, etc.	40	42	52
Burglary	40	47	57
Thefts	809	790	799
Receiving stolen property	19	22	3
Snatching	65	75	80
Opium offences	229	220	130
Gambling	141	54	76
Other crimes	261	252	289
Total	1,686	1,589	1,576

There is a total of 1,686 cases of reported crime, which is an increase of 97 over the figure for October and 110 more than for the corresponding period of last year. An increase is shown in "A" Division in the matter of offences against property, and in "D" Division in opium and gambling cases, the latter being mainly due to successful police activities, whilst there was a remarkable decrease in serious crime in "C" Division, the total crime, however, being only one less than last month.

	Nov.	Oct.
"A" Division (Central and Louza)	509	462
"B" Division (Sinza, Bubbling Well, Gordon Road, Pootoo Road)	423	428
"C" Division (Hongkew, West Hongkew, Dixwell Road)	318	319
"D" Division (Kashing Road, Wayside, Yangtszepoo, Yulin Road)	436	380

Arrests for crime committed during the month show a further increase, 2,150 persons having been arrested in November as compared with 1,855 in October and 1,752 in September. In addition 198 persons were arrested for crimes committed in previous months, 113 persons were arrested on behalf of other authorities.

Five cases of murder were recorded during the month. Two Chinese employees of a piece goods hong in the Central district were shot and wounded (one fatally) by armed criminals, who also threw two Chinese military hand grenades, which failed to explode. The manager of a Chinese piece goods shop in Sinza district was wounded by pistol shots fired from outside by two armed criminals who also threw two hand grenades, which did not explode. Five Chinese, including one female, were wounded by armed criminals who fired over ten shots in a dwelling house in Tatung Road. One of the male Chinese subsequently died in hospital. A Chinese accountant was shot in the head outside his home in Tatung Road and later died. A Chinese Detective Constable was fatally shot by an armed robber on Tungchow Road when attempting to arrest and disarm the criminal.

There were three cases of attempted murder. A male Chinese was wounded by pistol shots on the roof garden of Sincere's. A Chinese and his wife were fired at whilst walking along Sungpan Road, when the latter was slightly wounded in the head. A Chinese accountant of a cotton mill wounded another accountant in the Yulin Road district by stabbing him and then committed suicide by taking poison.

One case of armed kidnapping of a Cantonese boy occurred in the Yulin Road district. He was later rescued in Kiangwan Road by the Public Safety Bureau police. The chauffeur of the hired car used was shot dead by kidnappers. There were seven cases of simple abduction as against ten in October.

Six further cases were reported during the month in which shopkeepers and a private resident were intimidated and attacked in connection with the sale of Japanese goods, and one other case came to the notice of the Police in "B" Division when a bomb, accompanied by a threatening letter, was delivered in the form of a parcel to a private resident. Except in one instance, when the explosion of a bomb caused slight damage, no one being injured, none of the other bombs exploded. In two of the above six cases bomb throwing was accompanied by the firing of pistol shots by armed criminals resulting in the murder of two male Chinese—one an employee of a piece goods hong in Central district and the other the manager of a similar shop in the Sinza district. (Both cases reviewed under murder). Three of the cases occurred in "A" Division and four in "B" Division. In one of the latter a bomb was found in the garden of a private residence in Bubbling Well district, accompanied by a warning against assisting in the anti-Japanese goods boycott and alleged to emanate from "The Red Clothes Protection Party."

"B" and "C" Divisions show a decrease in the number of reported armed robberies with an increase of two in the "D" Division, the total being 52 against 65 in October. The cases were distributed as follows:—

Division "A" 11 cases as against 11 in October.
Division "B" 14 cases as against 22 in October.
Division "C" 5 cases as against 12 in October.
Division "D" 22 cases as against 20 in October.

There were eight cases of other robberies, the same as in October. The number of burglaries was 40 as against 47 in October. The cases were distributed as follows:—

Division "A" 4 cases as against 5 in October.
Division "B" 19 cases as against 19 in October.
Division "C" 6 cases as against 8 in October.
Division "D" 11 cases as against 15 October.

The number of housebreakings was 40 as against 42 in October, the cases being distributed as follows:—

Division "A" 7 cases as against 10 in October.
Division "B" 16 cases as against 10 in October.
Division "C" 6 cases as against 7 in October.
Division "D" 11 cases as against 15 in October.

The 809 cases of simple theft were distributed as follows:—

Division "A" 280 cases as against 256 in October.
Division "B" 240 cases as against 226 in October.
Division "C" 152 cases as against 148 in October.
Division "D" 137 cases as against 160 in October.

"A" Division recorded 37 cases of shoplifting and 58 arrests. There were 84 cases of pocketpicking in all Divisions. Out of 92 bicycles stolen in all Divisions as against 37 in October, 20 were recovered with 24 arrests. Two motor-cars, seven rickshas and a trolley and wheelbarrow were also stolen. Both cars, two of the rickshas and the trolley and wheelbarrow were recovered, resulting in eight arrests.

12 cases of receiving stolen property were recorded during the month as against 22 in October. Cases of snatching decreased from 75 in October to 65 in November. These cases were distributed as follows:—

Division "A" 38 cases as against 30 in October.
Division "B" 10 cases as against 20 in October.
Division "C" 11 cases as against 14 in October.
Division "D" 6 cases as against 11 in October.

A total of 50 arrests were made in connection with this type of crime. There was an increase of nine cases in opium offences. The Headquarters Narcotic Section carried out 16 raids and effected the arrest of 23 persons, of whom eight were females. 249 ozs. of opium, 45½ ozs. of pills and 10 opium pipes, etc. were seized. The number of gambling offences increased from 54 to 141, being mostly Hua Huei lottery. Other forms of crime show little variation.

Notable work in "A" Division included (1) the arrest and handing over for trial of six members of a Zaushing gang of armed kidnappers responsible for the murder of a brother of a local Chinese resident from whom they had planned to extort money; (2) the arrest of a gang of 24 armed robbers and kidnappers who were found to be concerned in several important crimes of kidnapping, murder and attempted murder and the seizure of a loaded pistol and a motor-car; (3) the shooting of an armed robber at the scene of crime and the arrest of another, when two loaded pistols were seized.

Notable work in "D" Division included (1) the arrest of four Chinese in Wayside District concerned in a burglary and one case of armed robbery, the accused being charged and convicted; (2) the arrest of 10 persons, three of whom were sentenced to various terms of imprisonment, and the seizure of one pistol; (3) the arrest of three persons concerned in the murder of a Chinese and of two of their accomplices for supplying the pistol; (4) the arrest of eleven persons connected with an armed robbery and rape in the Yangtszepoo district; (5) the arrest of six armed robbers in connection with a robbery in Chemulpo Road and the seizure of one pistol and part of the property recovered.

The following cases which are included in the month's figures in "B" Division occurred outside Settlement limits in houses on or abutting on Council roads:—Theft, 31; burglary, 7; embezzlement, 3; miscellaneous, 3.

The Headquarters Special Detective Squad conducted investigations into 26 cases and effected the arrest of 42 persons. In addition enquiries were continued in six cases previously reported.

Property valued at $187,120.32 was alleged to have been stolen in cases reported during the month as against property valued at $173,652,29 in October. The total value is made up as follows:—

Division "A"	$129,306.76
" "B"	$ 35,267.84
" "C"	$ 11,190.85
" "D"	$ 11,355.17

Property valued at $41,219.96 was recovered during the month.

Finger Print Bureau.—During the month of November the total number of records received by the Bureau from all sources was 2,858. This shows an increase of 244 as compared with last month and an increase of 730 by comparison with the corresponding period of last year. 3,407 Gaol cards were received during the month, 1,113 being for verification of prisoners' identity on admission to gaol, 65 for verification of appeal decisions, 1,068 for verification of identity on release from gaol and 1,151 for checking of sentences and completing of records according to execution orders issued by the Courts.

Investigations were made into 38 reported cases of the following nature:—Two armed robbery; 13 burglary; one godown breaking; one housebreaking; six larceny; ten larceny (motor-cars); one murder; one attempted murder; one office breaking; two shopbreaking. Finger prints were secured in nine instances.

With a view to establishing identity, the finger prints and photographs of 11 unknown persons, who had met their deaths under various circumstances, were taken at the Public Mortuary. Successful results were secured in three instances.

During the month the Crime Branch Studio took 410 photographs and printed 1,119 copies.

Released Under Amnesty.—The number of prisoners released under Government Amnesty during November was 151.

Number of habitual criminals released	44
Number of prisoners released having previous convictions, but who are not habitual criminals	35
Number of first offenders released	72

The above includes two foreigners.

The total number released since the commencement of Amnesty, is 1,858, of whom 201 have been re-arrested for offences committed since their release. Of the 201 re-arrested 74 were habitual criminals.

Classification of offences for which prisoners released during November were serving sentences.

Anti-Japanese Boycott.—A number of members of organizations connected with the anti-Japanese boycott made an inspection of the contents of shops on Nanking Road on November 12 and issued each store with a metal plate bearing the inscription "This shop has ceased to trade in inferior goods."

The members of the group styling themselves the "Blood and Soul Corps for the Extermination of Traitors," who also claim to be endeavouring to make the anti-Japanese boycott effective, threw bombs into Chinese shops on six occasions during the month. The bombs, of which only one exploded, did no material damage, but pistol shooting, to which resort was had in two instances, resulted in the death of the manager of one establishment and the death of one coolie and the wounding of a second coolie employed in another.

Towards the end of the month the Municipal Police arrested seven members of the gangs responsible for these offences and obtained information regarding the identity of a number of their confederates. Searches in connection with the arrests brought to light no less than five pistols and a large number of drafts of threatening letters and other documentary evidence.

Other means to further opposition to Japan included the raising of funds by special gala entertainments for the support of the Volunteer Armies fighting against the Japanese and Manchukuo forces in the North Eastern Provinces, and the formation of the following societies to continue to give effect to this movement:—

1. Liao-Ki-Je (Liaoning, Kirin, Heilungkiang and Jehol) Volunteer Armies Support Committee.
2. Women's North Eastern Volunteer Army Support Committee.
3. North Eastern Volunteer Army Communication Office.
4. North Eastern Volunteer Army Communication Corps.
5. Preparatory Committee of Shanghai Citizens' Volunteer Corps.

Strikes.—One strike involving 20 workers of a silk weaving factory occurred in the Settlement in November. During the same period one strike occurred in the French Concession and seven in Chinese controlled territory.

The statistics of strikes for the month are as follow:—

Area	No. of strikes.	No. of hands.	No. of working days lost.
Settlement	1	20	340
French Concession	1	300	28
Chinese controlled territory	7	3,030	12,085
Total	9	3,350	12,453
Total for the corresponding month of 1931	10	1,562	10,512

A cotton mill which had a complement of 600 workers closed down. A Japanese sugar refining factory, which formerly employed 210 men, recommenced operations in the Settlement during the month.

Agitation against National Government.—Two Chinese named Wong Oo-chi and Chao Tao-soong were arrested during the month at the instance of the Chinese Authorities, to whom they were subsequently handed over. Both the prisoners were connected with the publication of a newspaper entitled "The New Continental Daily News," which had acquired considerable notoriety by its outspoken criticism of some of the high officials of the Government. The two men were not permanent residents of the Settlement.

Communism. — The Municipal Police during the month of November arrested and prosecuted 49 persons for offences arising out of activities of a Communist character. Of this number, two were sentenced to five years' imprisonment each, eight were sentenced to two and a half years' imprisonment each, one was sentenced to two years' imprisonment, one of foreign nationality was repatriated, another was acquitted and 25 were handed over to the Chinese Authorities. The cases against the remaining 11 had not been concluded at the end of the month. In effecting these arrests, some 20 addresses were raided, and evidence was found that 16 of them had been used as bases for "Red" propaganda.

The persons sent to prison for communist offences included nine men who were apprehended while engaged in two demonstrations which were held in the Settlement on November 7, the 15th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution and the 1st anniversary of the establishment of the so-called Provisional Government of the Soviet Republic of China.

The persons handed over to the Chinese Authorities included nine important officials of the Chinese Communist Youth League, amongst them being the chief of the Labour Department and the Secretary of the Central Bureau of the National Headquarters of that section of the communist movement in China. The last mentioned was arrested at House No. 22, Lane No. 42 Kiaochow Road. This address had for three weeks previous to the raid served as the National Headquarters of the Chinese Communist Youth League and contained the archives of that group. The files comprised 300 reports by officials and inspecting officers of the Chinese Communist Youth League on the progress of the "Red" movement in districts in various parts of the country, including Manchuria, the provinces of Northern China, the provinces bordering on the Yangtze River and the provinces of Southern China, 200 papers on the subject of "Red" movements among workers in various trades and enterprises in Shanghai, 150 statements of expenses incurred by sections of the Communist Party in various parts of the country, some 500 files of correspondence between different members and branches of the Chinese Communist Party, 200 different sorts of mosquito newspapers, pamphlets and leaflets of the kind distributed as propaganda, 80 outlines of methods for conducting propaganda and other schemes for furthering the interests of the party in connection with "Red" anniversaries and other special occasions and a number of communist papers in Russian, French and English. The documents were enclosed in envelopes classified as "Hunan Documents," "Documents Relating to Labour Struggles," "The Resolutions of the Chinese Communist Youth League," "Documents from North Eastern Kiangsi," "Reports from White District," etc.

"Red" Propaganda.—4,419 copies of communist books and pamphlets in Chinese, English, Japanese, Russian and French were seized during the month. The literature included 32 different kinds of leaflets which had not been seen previously and amongst which were a few in English and one in Japanese. The leaflets in English were addressed to British and American soldiers and purported to emanate from the Revolutionary Soldiers Committee.

Criminal Activities.—On November 19 a Chinese named Chow Tsz Yuen was shot dead. Examination of bullets found at the scene showed that the pistol by which they were fired had been used in the commission during the past four years of five murders and attempted murders which there is good reason to believe were committed at the instance of the Chinese Communist Party. Enquiries failed to show that the victim had done anything to incur the enmity of the Chinese Communist Party, so it was concluded he had been shot by accident through having been mistaken for some police informer who lived in the same neighbourhood.

On November 25 a party of four or five men forced an entrance to No. 1040 Tatung Road, an address close to the scene of the first murder. They there shot and wounded a woman and four men, of whom one died later in the day. One of the persons alleged to be responsible for the shooting has been arrested and is at present on remand.

Price of Rice.—The average price of rice for November was as follows:—

Chinese Rice:
Best quality	$10.60
Good quality	9.40
Ordinary quality	8.55
Saigon Rice:
Best quality	$8.40
Good quality	7.90
Ordinary quality	7.60

Film Censorship. — 56 feature films and 71 short introductory films and newsreels were censored in theatres in the Settlement and French Concession during the month. 50 of the feature films were passed without question, five were approved after cuts and revisions had been made, while one, which was considered wholly unsuitable for exhibition locally, was not approved. The introductory films were passed without question, with the exception of one which was cut and revised, before approval was accorded.

Indecent Matter in Newspapers. —The editors of the "Shanghai People's Daily" and the "Shanghai Daily News," two mosquito newspapers, were fined $50 and $200 on November 17 and 29 respectively by the Special District Court for publishing indecent articles.

Traffic.—Court proceedings were instituted in 642 (35 Foreigners and 607 Chinese) of 5,300 reports of traffic offences received during the month against owners and/or drivers of vehicles. The remainder were dealt with by letter of warning or entry of caution on their records.

Accidents. — Accidents coming under police notice during the months of November, 1932, and November, 1931:—

	November, 1932.	November, 1931.
Total number of accidents	1,159	1,143

Persons killed or injured in accidents during November, 1932, and known to have been at fault:—Killed, 8; Injured, 97.

Improper riding on Tramcars during November 1932: Killed, 1.

Safety First.—During the month the professional story-teller visited various districts and gave 84 addresses in teashops and mills, etc., on "Safety First" themes. His audience roughly totalled 5,415 persons.

Motor Horn Nuisance. — There were 54 prosecutions for this offence during the month and in addition three chauffeurs had their driving licences suspended for a repetition of the offence. All public garages were re-issued with large posters drawing attention to the improper use of the horn and in particular the habit of chauffeurs sounding the horn to attract the attention of persons inside the buildings, instead of announcing their arrival in a proper manner.

Bicycles.—Bicycles were involved in 192 accidents during the month and in 63 cases the cyclists were known to have been at fault. 28 riders were charged with dangerous and improper riding in the Central and Louza districts.

Ricsas. — 2,152 ricsha pullers were charged in the Central and Louza districts during the month for various breaches of Traffic Regulations, including 28 private ricsha pullers found plying for public hire.

Traffic Signal Lights. — Traffic signal lights were installed and put into operation at the following crossings on the dates specified:—Bubbling Well—Hardoon Roads—November 12.

Gordon—Sinza Roads—November 12.

Weihaiwei—Moulmein Roads—November 17.

Identification Office. — During the month 2,243 prisoners' records passed through this office for identification prior to the prisoners going to Court for trial, out of which number 694 were identified as having a previous conviction or convictions. In addition to the above 218 records were received from the French Police out of which number 74 were identified in the records of this office, making the total for the months:—

For Identification	2,461

TRAFFIC REGULATIONS.

AUTHORITY has been given for the replacement of red-painted kerb signs by black and white glazed tiles to indicate the places where vehicles are not permitted to stop or park.

The change will be made gradually, and during the transitional period drivers will be required to refrain from stopping their vehicles at points where the kerb is marked in either of these ways.

With effect from December 22, this rule, with other minor changes, will be enforced in terms of the following amendments to Traffic Regulations 28 and 48:—

"28.—No driver shall cause a vehicle to stop to take up or set down passengers or otherwise (except in obedience to police signals) to remain stationary at any point:—

(a) where the kerb is painted red or marked with black and white glazed tiles;

(b) parallel to a stopping place for tramcars;

(c) within 30 feet of any street corner on any main thoroughfare;

(d) between a street island and the kerb."

"48.—The ranking or parking of vehicles is prohibited in Nanking Road on the North side between the hours of (a) 8 a.m. and 9.30 a.m. and (b) 1.30 p.m. and 2.30 p.m. and on the South side between the hours of (a) 11.30 a.m. and 12.30 p.m. and (b) 4 p.m. and 6 p.m. (Sundays and Holidays excepted). At other periods between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. temporary ranking not exceeding 30 minutes will be permitted in Nanking Road at points where the kerb is painted white.

"Ranking or parking is strictly prohibited at any time or place where the kerb is painted red or marked by black and white glazed tiles."

LICENCE CONDITIONS.

Motor Bicycle or Motor Tricycle.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Motor Bicycle or Motor Delivery Tricycle Licence will, with effect from January 1, 1933, be known as the Motor Bicycle or Motor Tricycle Licence.

From the same date the following amendments to the licence conditions will be enforced:—

Clause 3, section (a), is amended to require the use of enamel discs on the licence number plates of three-wheeled vehicles as follows:—

"3.—That the number of this licence, on enamelled iron plates issued by the Council, be exhibited in conspicuous positions:—

(a) in front of the machine showing to either side, on a number plate having duplicate faces affixed lengthways to the front mudguard; and that when the vehicle licensed is a motor tricycle or combination motor bicycle with side-car such plate shall carry an enamel disc bearing the same number, the disc to be obtained at the Revenue Office at the time of payment of the licence fee; and."

The following new Clauses are added:—

"5a.—That the vehicle, if used as a freight carrier or for the conveyance of passengers for hire, be presented at Gordon Road Vehicle Inspection Office for the purpose of Police inspection before licensing and thereafter be re-presented for inspection periodically at a time and date to be decided by the Police and of which due notice will be given in writing."

"7a.—That no more than one person in addition to the driver be carried on any two-wheeled motor cycle, and that any such one person to be so carried shall sit astride the cycle on a proper seat securely fixed to the cycle behind the driver's seat."

By order,
J. R. JONES,
Secretary.
